NASH engineers have created a group of three striking Coupes.

For business, the small family, or as a second car the Standard Six Coupé is easily the choice of the $1,000 field.

It is powered by a Nash-designed, high-compression, 7-bearing motor.

A particular asset of this Coupé is its riding ease achieved by alloy steel springs individually designed to its exact size and weight, plus Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers.

An outstanding feature of the Special and Advanced Six Coupes (both of which have big rumble seats in the rear deck) is the Twin-Ignition motor.

These larger models also have the famous Bijur centralized chassis lubrication, and hydraulic shock absorbers (Lovejoy and Houdaille).

All "400" models are fully factory equipped with front and rear humpers, hydraulic shock absorbers, spare tire lock and tire cover. In your delivered price there's not a dollar added to the factory price for these features.

Compare fully equipped, delivered prices on other cars and see how much is added to their factory prices to cover these same features.

Experienced Drivers Say
"it's the Only Tread that Really Holds the Road"

You bet there's a reason why old-timers behind the wheel tell you "The All-Weather is the only real non-skid tread."

And it's the reason why the All-Weather Tread has stood pat for a generation, while other tire makers have had to switch about, changing their treads, trying to find something half as good.

We can show you the three-fold reason. First, STOPPING AND STARTING TRACTION—due to the CENTER All-Weather diamonds. Second, CURVE TRACTION—due to EDGING the tread with All-Weather diamonds. Third, RUT TRACTION—due to the All-Weather diamonds going so far up the sidewalls.

You get MANY DOLLARS' WORTH MORE of safety against skidding or getting stuck in the mud with Goodyear All-Weathers—yet you don't pay a cent more!

7TH GRADE GAVE RECEPTION FOR PARENTS

Enjoyable Occasion at Gymnasium Saturday Evening.

Members of the seventh grade of Charlevoix Junior high school assumed the role of hosts at a very enjoyable reception given for their parents in the gymnasium last Saturday evening.

The program of amusements was made up of games, recitations and music and a play entitled, "Who's the Boss." The parts were very well played, so well in fact, that the play was presented again before the assembly.

All parents had a wonderful time and only regretted that only one such occasion is held each year. All those in charge deserve much credit for carrying out all details so fully.

WILL ORGANIZE BAND BEGINNERS' CLASSES

Parents Invited to Meeting for Purpose Thursday, June 6.

Plans have been announced relative to organization of a Beginners' class to replace graduates and add more members to the Charlevoix school band.

John TerWee, director, gave the following list of instruments that are necessary: three cornets, three trombones, two euphoniums or French horns, two flutes and two clarinets and two saxophones.

Parents who desire their boy or girl to join the band are invited to attend a meeting of organization to be held on the evening of Thursday, June 6, at 8:30, in the band room.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT METHODIST CHURCH

A gorgeous pageant with fanciful costumes is to be presented on Sunday morning at the Methodist Episcopal church by the children at 10:30. It is an entrancing story of "A Red Velvet Pocket Book Dog."

The program consists of several interesting numbers. Miss Elizabeth Edland, the author, is a specialist in writing children's programs. She has included her New York apartment parrot, as well as birds, flowers, trees, owl and weasel as members of the cast.

A special offering is used as part of a national loan fund to help students through college.

Second-hand Sale now on at Fountain City House.—Adv. 2211 pd.

SCHOOLS HEAR TALKS ON AUTOMOBILE LAWS

Corporal Roy L. Shields of Grand Haven, member of the Michigan State Police, addressed several groups at the public schools last Thursday forenoon and afternoon. His talks were along educational lines dealing with state vehicle laws and safety problems. He instructed the groups on traffic signs and signals and pointed out proper driving methods. Each year the Michigan State Police put across a similar educational campaign, meeting school children and groups of citizens throughout the entire state.

NEW PLUMBING SHOP IN SIMMONS BUILDING

Edward Heise and Sam Shantz, well known local men, have opened a new plumbing and sheet metal working shop in the Simmons building on Antrim street. Both men have been identified with the plumbing trade in Charlevoix for many years and are experienced in their line. They solicit the patronage of Charlevoix citizens and are deserving of such.

HAROLD MEGGISON LOCATES AT CENTRAL LAKE

Harold Meggison, formerly pharmacist at Fessenden's drug store and for the last several years employed by the West chain of drug stores in Grand Rapids, has purchased a store at Central Lake and entered business for himself. Mr. Meggison was in Charlevoix Tuesday and that day and on Wednesday was assisted in opening in his new location by F. J. Fessenden, of this city.

PYTHIAN SISTERS GO TO EAST JORDAN MEET

Fourteen members of Charlevoix Temple, Pythian Sisters, attended a meeting at Rathbone Temple, East Jordan, Tuesday evening. Following the close of the business session, bridge occupied the remainder of the evening. Mrs. Cliff Heller, this city, won high honors. Delightful refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

The automobile industry is said to support 10 per cent of the people, while the remaining 90 per cent are kept busy jumping out of the way of the product thereof.

Removing the litter from your back yard will do just as much to beautify your home place here in Charlevoix as putting up new curtains in the front windows.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mrs. Frank Jones and baby of Frankfort, are guests of Charlevoix relatives and friends this week.

Robert E. Rife, high priest of the Charlevoix Royal Arch chapter, is in Pontiac this week attending a meeting of the Grand Lodge, F. & A. M., convening there May 28th and 29th. Mr. and Mrs. Forest F. Fowler and children of Allegan, spent last week end in Charlevoix with Mr. Fowler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fowler of Antrim street. They returned to their home Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. B. G. Mattson returned Tuesday after a four weeks' auto trip in the interest of her camp for girls, Oshawa-of-the-Dunes. Mrs. Mattson has made many contacts in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky on her long trip.

George E. Lawton, brother-in-law of Dr. Bell Flewelling of this city, left Friday afternoon for his home in Chicago. He was called here by the death of his father-in-law, Simon Flewelling, who was buried at Bellaire on Thursday.

Mrs. Mildred Kennedy and small child, accompanied by her sister, Miss Dora Hepburn, left Monday afternoon for Bellaire to remain over Decoration day with relatives. Miss Hepburn had been visiting her sister at their home on the Waller farm.

Dr. and Mrs. L. V. Simmons and son were guests several days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gaskin on the Chicago Club. Mr. Simmons was formerly veterinarian at Loeb Farms and is now employed in the same capacity by the state.

James Linn, who has been seriously ill at Chicago, is now greatly improved and returned to Charlevoix Wednesday morning. S. O. Sorenson and Mrs. Charles Archer motored to Petoskey Wednesday to meet Mr. Linn and brought him home from there.

Mrs. Ayres Boal of Winnetka, Illinois, spent several days the latter part of last week at the Boal cottage on Lake Charlevoix. It is understood Mrs. Boal is contemplating a trip to England and it is possible she may not spend the summer here according to the usual custom.

Eighty Pythians representing lodges from East Jordan, Central Lake, Traverse City and Charlevoix, attended a get-together meeting at the K. of P. hall here Thursday evening. Three candidates were initiated in the third degree and the business session was followed by a luncheon.

The following Charlevoix ladies spent Tuesday evening at East Jordan in attendance at a Pythian Sister meeting: Mesdames O. D. Hammond, Oakley Hammond, Arthur Ranger, Raymond Nowland, Ray Hamilton, H. B. Jacobs, C. Heller, Harry Gebauer, Jess Smith, Gene Lewis, James Bogart, William Wallace, R. C. Korth and A. J. Usher.

AT THE MOVIES

Youth, as a motion picture theme, will always be served.

So says Harry Beaumont, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer director, who has become known as the screen's foremost glorifier of the American boy and girl.

Beaumont, who directed "Our Dancing Daughters," also directed "A Single Man," which will open at the Palace Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, as a co-starring vehicle for Lew Cody and Aileen Pringle.

"Screen plays with youth as the principal motivation always will be welcome," Beaumont said. "There is something in stories of youth that holds the interest of everyone. Somehow youth is very near and dear to all of us and pictures dealing with the young folks always have sustaining interest."

Horseanship of Actor Astounds Western Riders.

Western stars — look to your laurels!

Lars Hanson, Swedish stage star who recently scored as an American screen luminary, may steal the thunder of your horses' hoofs!

Hanson admitted that he could "ride a little" as the result of a bit of Swedish cavalry service. So when they cast him for the lead in Lillian Gish's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature, "The Wind," which comes Saturday to the Palace Theatre, and in which he plays a Western cowboy, they let him pick out a horse, which he christened "Olaf," and sent him with his steed to the Mojave desert on location.

FUNERAL FOR CHARLEVOIX PIONEER TUESDAY

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon by Rev. J. E. Lockyer for Maria Ackery Withers, age 85, who died at her home on W. Garfield avenue last Saturday. Mrs. Withers is a native of England and had resided at Charlevoix many years. Burial was at Brookside cemetery.

Years of service in MODEL T FORDS

THE Model T was so strongly and sturdily built that it is still rendering reliable, economical service to motorists in every section of the country. Millions of these cars can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of use at very small cost.

So that you may have this work done economically and satisfactorily, the Ford Motor Company is still devoting a considerable section of its plants to the manufacture of Model T parts. It will continue to do so as long as they are needed by Model T owners. The following list gives the approximate labor charges for reconditioning the Model T Ford:—

Engine
Tune motor (including replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary)	$1.00
Grind valves and clean carbon	$3.75 to 4.00
Overhaul carburetor	1.50
Refine detachable car transmission bands	1.50
Install new pistons or connecting rods	6.00
Tighten all main bearings	6.00
Overhaul motor and transmission	$20.00 to 25.00
Rear System
Replace rear axle assembly	2.50
Install universal joint	3.00
Refine brake shoes	1.50
Replace rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion, or drive gear	5.00
Overhaul complete rear axle assembly	$5.75 to 7.00
Rebush spring and perches	1.75
Oil and graphite springs	3.00
Front System
Overhaul front axle	$4.00 to 5.00
Rebush spindle bodies and arms (both sides)	2.50
Replace or straighten spindle connecting rod	.75
Tighten radius rod or steering ball cap	.60
Tighten all sockets and joints of front end	1.50
Replace front spring ile bolt or new leaf	2.50
Straighten front axle	3.00
Chassis
Replace rear fender	1.75
Overhaul steering gear	3.50
Repair muffler	1.00
Overhaul radiator	7.50
Repaint Coupe	25.00
Repaint Sedan	25.00
Repaint Touring Car	20.00
Reupholster Runabout	8.00
Reupholster Touring Car	15.00
Replace top deck (Coupe or Sedan)	4.00
Overhaul starting motor	3.00
Overhaul generator	2.60

These prices are approximate and are for labor only, because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The charge for these parts is low, however, because of the established Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

FLASH THE LEAD DOG

By George Marsh

Copyright by
The Fenn Publishing Co. W. N. U. SERVICE

In two days Brock's clouded brain had cleared from the effects of the glancing blow of the bullet across his skull and his strength returned. While Kona's shoulder was rapidly healing. Graphically Brock related the story of the ambush and the night in the forest with the revenge of the young Yellow-Eye, which Gaspard's bushcraft had already revealed to the curious halfbreed through the maze of the snow. Hearing the shots far upstream, while he still followed the dog team of the Cree, Gaspard had boldly rushed him from the shore, bearing to his surprise, that the boy had no intention of putting up a fight. According to the prisoner, who, strangely, seemed overjoyed at his capture, the two Indians who had ambushed Brock had come from Little Carcajou lake to the east and evidently had reached the river barely in time to discover the approaching team of the white boy. The three with whom the prisoner had camped had not heard the firing or they would have turned back downriver. When Brock learned how Gaspard had found him guarded by Flash, who, in his grief, refused to share his death, the eyes of the boy flicked hard as his hand sought the massive head that lifted with preternatural ears as Brock spoke his name.

Then, for Brock's benefit, the Cree repeated in his native tongue what he had already told the greatly excited Gaspard. "My name is Joe Nipissing. In the moon of the naming of the caribou, my brother and I hunted geese on the coast below Fort Severn. One day strange Indians came ashore to our camp from a large boat. With them was a bearded white man who offered us whisky and asked us to go south to trap on this river, the Carcajou. My brother and I did not wish to go, but they stole our guns in the night and forced us. Three-four sleeps north, at the mouth of this river, the big white man with the red beard winters with his boat. They have a house of logs where the hunters bring their fur. Three hunters were sent to look for you and did not return, so the others are afraid. They say that a Frenchman called 'Black Jack' is hunting them."

"But your father, Gaspard? Does he know what?"

"He knows—he knows!" Gaspard's dark features worked under the strain, his eyes glittered with excitement and hope. "He says a Frenchman, a prisoner, even at the deer camp. He has not spit to them, but not even my father! He sees alive, Brock! My father sees alive! You hear that?"

Thrilled, Brock swung his partner's hand. "Golly, that's wonderful news, Gaspard, old partner!" It might be true—this story, thought Brock. Who could tell?

"Who are those people—those white traders? Where are they from?" Brock demanded, in Cree, of Joe Nipissing.

"They came from the west coast. They are bad men and many of their hunters are hiding from the Red Coats. That is why they are here."

"How do you feel, Brock?" demanded Gaspard.

"Fine, my head's a bit sore but that won't keep me from traveling."

Gaspard smiled. "Tomorrow we start, eh?"

"You bet we do. I'll take Flash this morning and strike back into the timber to try my head and timber up my legs."

"Good! Joe and Gaspard got something to do now."

When Brock had left with Flash to stretch his legs, Gaspard and the Indian scraped the snow from between two boulders near the shore and putting the body of Yellow-Eye on a sled, drew it to the river. There, later, Brock found them covering the great husky with heavy sticks of spruce that he might rest, inviolate, safe from the profanation of prowling wolf or wolverine—from the teeth and claws of the vandals of the forest.

Then Brock's eyes widened as they rested on a neighboring spruce from which the lower branches had been lopped.

"A lopsided—for Yellow-Eye," he exclaimed. "Gaspard, I call this pretty fine of you!" Going to the lopsided spruce shorn of its lower branches in honor of the heroic husky, Brock read the Cree characters burned into the white blaze by his friend:

"The lopsided for Yellow-Eye. He never missed the trail or hung back in the traces. To dog or man he never lowered his eyes. For his friends he died."

A lopsided, the monument and tribute of the north, reserved for the celebration of the deeds of men, had been won by a dog.

CHAPTER XII.

The Trail to the Coast

With Joe Nipissing's team in the lead, carrying on the sled some of the caribou meat, fish and flour, from the heavier load of the boys' toboggan,

"Good-by, old king-dog!" choked Brock. "You were a king—every shaggy-luck of you! Good-by, Yellow-Eye!"

As if they sensed the significance of the rifle shots, Flash, Sny-Ear and Kona sat down in their traces, and lifted their noses in melancholy wails.

Flash, Sny-Ear and Kona Sat Down on Their Traces, and Lifted Their Noses in Melancholy Wails.

challenge! whose stout eyes would never again sweep wilderness takes nurturing the autumn ridges, was left in his grave in the snow.

Bold to the point of rashness, the boys traveled all day on the hard river trail, for they had barely ten days' food for themselves and dogs, and now, Joe Nipissing to feed on the way south, for Brock had promised the young Cree to take him to Hungry House and send him home to his people at Fort Severn, in the spring.

Spring and Hungry House! Brock wondered if there would be any spring and home for those who were headed north—for the den of the wolves.

The second day they passed around a great lake, not daring to hold to the beaten trail; then, with the rising of the late moon, kept on down the river. The country was flattening out, the timber thinning and the shores, gouged by the ice and the spring freshets, lifting into cutbanks and bare cliffs. They were nearing the bay.

Sleeping all the following day in a swamp, the next night found the dog teams following the scrub of the back country, for the Cree announced that they were nearing the winter camp of the free-trader, "Red" Macbeth.

At daylight, Nipissing announced that the boat and camp of the white men lay not two miles over the ridge, which separated them from the Carcajou. Leaving Brock to feed the dogs and make camp in the cover of the scrub, with Joe as guide, Gaspard started for the river to reconnoiter.

The heart of the halfbreed pounded in his chest as he followed the Cree. At last he was to know—to learn whether his father lived—was even now within a mile or two, in the camp of the man he so hated. But why, if he lived, had Pierre Leclair not escaped? According to the Cree the strange Frenchman was not continued—a prisoner. Nipissing had seen him but once, at a distance, and he was not bound; he was supposed to aid with the trading, the fur, and work around the camp.

If this was so—if this man was the father he sought, there was a mystery behind it, for Pierre Leclair would never have spent the summer on the Carcajou with these men, while his son mourned him at Hungry House. What was behind it all?

Then Gaspard's dark face knotted with pain. Could he be hurt—so wounded that he was helpless—unable to travel? But Nipissing assured Gaspard that this stranger was actively working around the camp.

the river. Nipissing, in the lead, suddenly stopped and beckoned with his mitten. Joining him, Gaspard followed with eager eyes the arm which pointed. On the opposite shore, high above the river ice, stood a schooner, blocked up with heavy spruce logs where it had been warped up from the river beyond the reach of the spring freshets. Some distance upstream, upon the white roof and the snow-banked log walls of the trader's camp.

"Ah-hah!" murmured the halfbreed. "There will be few men there now," said Nipissing.

"How many?" asked the other in Cree.

"Three—four."

"Any dogs?" asked Gaspard.

"No, they are away on the trap lines."

"Ah-hah!" And the eyes of the halfbreed glittered as he swiftly made his plans.

That night, through the mark under a thick sky, three shapes crossed the Carcajou above the camp and cut back from the shore. Approaching from the rear, three hooded figures stepped in the scrub, a hundred yards from where two yellow snows lit the wall of gloom. Then one of the men left the others and faded into the night. Shortly, Gaspard strained against the log walls of the cabin, beside a window. Slowly he moved his head until he gained a partial view of the interior.

His father! Was he to see the loved face of the man for whom he had come so far? The heart of the youth shook him with its beating. His breath, tortured his lungs. Was he in there—Pierre Leclair—or was it all a grim joke—this tale of Nipissing's?

To his straining ears came voices and laughter. He moved his head farther, and looked.

In a chair fashioned from spruce saplings, sat a hulk of a man with a red beard. Across a slab table, on which stood a bottle and glasses, a swart-faced halfbreed studied a hand of cards through closed, evil eyes.

Instinctively the one who watched through the frosty window, wiped the gun in his right hand, while his left mitten found the horn handle of his knife. Those men there, who sat at their cards, drinking, would pay to Gaspard looked. Pay for the father they had taken from him. There, where they sat, he could wipe them out, now, with but two grooves of his finger.

But—was his father there? Presently Gaspard's eyes widened, breathing checked, as another joined the table—but it was not the man he sought.

The man he sought was a servant—a prisoner. He would not sit with the others. The cabin would have one room only, but there was a loft above the large room, for Gaspard saw the ladder leading to the opening in the door. He moved to the opposite side of the window where the sheetrock stove would not obstruct his view.

Then his eyes were drawn to the top round of the ladder. A moccasined foot was thrust from the open trap door and rested on the round. Then a peaked spruce stick pressed the foot in the top round—a short spruce stick, followed by . . . the stump of—a log!

Breathless, the one flattened against the log wall in the freezing air, watched the body of the one descending the ladder, sliding, lowered hand under chair. Reaching the floor, the tall figure of the cripple turned, and the light from a lantern lit the bold features of—Pierre Leclair.

PETOSKEY VOTES

"YES" ON SCHOOL

Modern Grade Building and Gymnasium Approved.

Petoskey school district at a special election last week voted 724 to 122 to raise its central grade school building and replace it with a modern 13-room grade building.

The work will include a complete new modern gymnasium with seats for 2,000 persons. The work will cost $200,000. The present gymnasium will be turned into study rooms and part added to the manual training quarters which although large have long been overcrowded.

The new structure will be the largest and finest high school gymnasium in Michigan. Every business man's organization in the city together with the women's federation worked hard in the preliminary campaign for the issue.

Don't Let Your Community Make the Same Mistake

Within recent years many communities have made the mistake of paying their roads and streets at what they considered a "bargain price." The taxpayers thought they would save thousands of dollars. In many instances the maintenance has not only wiped out the hoped for saving, but has exceeded original cost. And in many cases also it has been necessary to build entirely new pavements—of permanent construction.

There are communities, however, which know the cheapest is not always the best. Many of these also built roads and streets several years ago. And they built for permanence with concrete.

These concrete pavements, built in accordance with approved standards of construction, are in as good condition today as when they were built.

Which of these communities will yours be?

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS By B. C. Mellencamp

Boys' City Potato Club.

The second potato club organized for this year is the one sponsored and supported by several business men of Boyne City cooperating with the Boyne City Progressive Club and the county agent. There are eight farm boys already enrolled with an equal number of business men who are acting as senior partners. Each boy will grow approximately one-half acre plot and will use good certified seed, fertilizer, approved seed treatment, as well as proper spraying of the crop throughout the growing season. In addition each member will keep accurate reports of all costs and expenses and will have a potato exhibit later in the summer.

The last meeting was held on May 14th and at which time the following subjects were discussed: Fertilizing the field, seed treatment, cutting of the seed, spacing distances, and depth of planting.

Following is the membership:

Junior members—Joseph West, Boyne City; Robert Tainter, Boyne City; George and Laura Jones, Boyne City; Ralph Leist, Boyne City; George Smeathen, Charlevoix; Olin Griffin, Boyne City; Charles Schroeder, Boyne City; Edd Copeland, Boyne City.

Senior partners—Alex Heller, Atwood Sheaffer, Leo Smith, Sam Arbuckle, F. W. Dilworth, C. Naylor, N. J. Rovick, E. A. Fisher.

Calf Club Work.

Plans were made at a meeting held at the Barnard grange on May 23rd to organize a calf club in that locality. A large attendance of interested boys were present and a complete outline of the calf club program was given by the county agent. Of the 11 boys present, eight stated they would be mighty glad to join and had already gotten permission from their parents to participate. Six other boys were anxious to join and would confer with their parents.

Another meeting will be held soon at which time the club will be organized.

Landscape Demonstrations.

Two splendid landscape demonstrations were conducted last week under the supervision of O. I. Grege, specialist of the Michigan State college.

The first was on the farm of W. K. Straw, Charlevoix, on Wednesday, May 22, and the second at the home of Ben Gardner, Boyne City, on Friday, May 24. At each demonstration a fine attendance saw the actual planting of the shrub, the kind that were used, and the manner of planting. Each farm home was landscaped by Mr. Grege at a previous visit, and the work carried out according to the plans left.

With the expenditure of a small sum of money, a great difference can be made in the attractiveness and natural beauty of the farm home. Nothing can be done that will add more to human happiness and enjoyment than to have an attractive home to live in and beautiful surroundings.

Guernseys.

During the last week three high quality pure bred Guernsey bulls have been secured by Charlevoix county farmers to improve their herds.

As a result of a cooperative agreement between the State Guernsey Breeders Association and the Charlevoix County Association two splendid well-bred bulls will be placed in communities where the farmers are desiring to use better sires than they have ever used before. One of the bulls will be kept by Clyde Smith, and the other by Robert Gregory & Son, both of Charlevoix.

The third bull has been purchased by Bert Lumley, of Boyne City. This bull has splendid production back of him, having the six nearest dams producing 700 pounds of butterfat. At the present there are 16 purebred Guernsey bulls being used in the county. Within a very few years wonderful improvement will take place.

East Jordan Potato Club.

The members of the East Jordan Potato Club had a very interesting and instructive meeting on May 22 with 12 members present in addition to several of the senior partners. Much useful information was given to the members pertaining to their project. The boys are working hard to get their fields in shape and preparing to get their seed in preparation for the seed treatment.

The most interesting feature of the meeting was the election of officers, which was conducted by the members themselves. It is highly gratifying that these young boys and girls actually carried the meeting through in a splendid manner. The following is the result:

President—Ralph Shepard, East Jordan.
Vice president—Gardelle Nice, East Jordan.
Secretary—Alma Dougherty, East Jordan.

ON DISPLAY SATURDAY JUNE 1ST

A NEW SIX AT A PRICE WITHIN THE REACH OF MILLIONS

On Saturday, Buick will present the new Marquette—designed by Buick engineers and built in Buick factories. Marketed as an additional member of the Buick family, it will in no way affect Buick itself. Buick will continue to express the policies that made it the leader of the fine car field for the past quarter-century. In the smart, comfortable bodies of the Marquette you will recognize the fine hand of Fisher design. In its balance and poise you will see experienced engineering. And in performance—that final standard by which all cars are judged—you will find the Marquette leading its price class by an impressive margin. Be on hand when this eventful new car is shown Saturday. See what a remarkable new automobile Buick has produced at a price within the reach of millions.

“I'd call my new Certain-teed roof a sound investment—”

—And, hundreds of homes are being modernized, made more valuable, given longer life... through the right choice of the right Certain-teed Shingle.

For instance, there are some types of homes which need the Certain-teed Hexagonal Shingle (as shown above). Others demand a square-butt Individual Shingle or a long straight shingle of diverse colors. The Certain-teed line fulfills most any requirement for color, design, coverage, or price.

Perhaps you are planning on building a new home... it will well repay you to look over our Shingle line first. Or, your old roof may be in such bad condition that a new roof is necessary.

Made of finest materials—known all over the world for value—Certain-teed Shingles are always a worthwhile buy. We have the types, colors and prices that will interest you.

You Can Rely Upon Our Knowledge of the Building Field

Our experience in taking care of home-owners and others in this community may be of value to you on your roofing, remodeling or repairing problems. Make use of it as freely as you want. The confidence and satisfaction of others we have dealt with are indications of the type of service we can render you.

Send for your copy of the new Certain-teed Shingle Circular: "Color, Color, Color".

Lest We Forget

Pause a moment, busy world, to think today of our soldier dead. Their ghostly army is at rest, wreaths on their breasts, peace in their hearts.

They laid down their lives for a cause—an ideal.

There are ideals in industry as well as on battle fields, and they can be carried on steadfastly in life as well as in death.

It is our privilege today to pledge ourselves to the maintenance of those things for which our forebears made the supreme sacrifice.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Quotation for the Week.
Come forth into the light of things. Let nature be your teacher.
—Wordsworth.

Junior English.

The Junior English students who have been studying Shakespeare's "Macbeth" are now dramatizing it under the supervision of Mrs. M. Kinley. With the talent in the class for acting, displayed in the play, we can imagine what a real thriller they are making of it, and wish they would decide to give it in assembly.

Junior Play.

The Junior play, "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy" was a huge success. Stanley Hammond and Dorothy Withers took their parts splendidly, supported by an all-star cast. It was a three-act comedy and proved the public immensely. We hope their play next year will be equally as good.

Typing Contest.

Angie Scott represented Charlevoix high school in the typing contest. Neith Smith in the shorthand II, and Beulah Heman in the shorthand I contest, which was held in Kalamazoo last week. The school is proud of these commercial students who reached the state contest. Mr. Orville drove them to Kalamazoo and Miss Thomas accompanied them.

Kindergarten News.

Miss Wilson presented Miss French and the Kindergarten pupils with the doll house which was formerly the property of the First Grade. The doll house is furnished with a bed, crib, dresser, alarm clock, a table and chairs to match, toy telephone with a stand, floor lamp, window seat, and wall pictures. There is also a set of dishes.

Miss French and her pupils are working industriously in order to have the play house in shape for exhibition day which is to be held in the schools Friday afternoon, May 24th.

Exhibit Day Friday.

Friday, the 24th of May, has been set for the school exhibit. Much excellent work has been prepared by the students with hopes of appreciative inspectors in their parents. Both teachers and students are hoping that the parents will show an interest in the school and set aside some part of the day, Friday, to visit it.

Arnold Goes to State Track Meet.

Charlevoix has been well represented in the track meets this year and Clarence Arnold, who won the mile race both at Petoskey and Cadillac, will go to the state meet in East Lansing Saturday. We wish him the best of luck and feel sure he will not disappoint us.

Junior Hop.

The annual J-Hop was given last Friday night by the Juniors in honor of the graduating class.

The present Junior class were the first to give this function in the gym. The decorations were very cleverly worked out with a false ceiling blended together in the colors of the upper classmen. Colored lamps were placed along the walls, casting a mellow glow over the flowers and booths. West-staff's orchestra furnished the music for the evening. The favors were colored horns and confetti was pleasantly and thickly scattered.

Punch and wafers were served and everyone enjoyed the evening.

Predictions of the Future for the Juniors.

Ray Kelderhouse, the only man who understands women—a professor on spiders.

Alice Partridge—a great musician. Anna Tuhy—a beauty specialist. Lee Shapton—a second Valentino.

Bill Brown—Lindbergh II. Neva Webster—author of a dictionary on modern slang.

Billy O'Neill—girls' dancing instructor. Dorothy Withers—a modern "Peg O' My Heart."

Joe Smith—physics instructor, Charlevoix high school.

Marge Gimble—an opera singer. Wilma See—a traveling sight-seer. Marion Bartlett—an artist.

Dorothy Beardsley—an Irish wash-crowman. Eleanor Tumath—Paderewski H. Marie Ellis—editor of Love talk column in the Love Story Magazine. Clara Kelderhouse—a basketball coach.

We pity the poor fish who thinks Charlevoix high school is a davenport. It's not that sort of a seat of learning.

The Class Treasurer's Lament.
Lives of students all remind me
Honest toil ain't got no chance;
Every day there grows behind me
Bigger patches on my pants.
On my jeans once new and glossy
Now are spots of many hues
All because my classmates finger
In the payment of their dues.
Come now, folks, be gentle with me,

Pay your taxes, one and all.
Or when winter winds are blowing,
I shall have no pants at all.

Did you ever know that girls make boys think, but they don't make them think twice.

The Twenty-third Psalm.

(Revised Edition with apologies to David).

Kipke (my teacher),
I shall not pass,
He maketh me expose my ignorance before my class.
He maketh me draw figures for my good sake.
Yes, though I study till midnight,
I shall gain no geometry.
His propositions bother me and his problems surely trouble me.
He proppeth puzzles before me in the presence of mine enemies.
He giveth me a low grade.
My work cannot be better.
Surely zero and condition will follow me all the days of my life!
And I will dwell in the class forever.
—Amey!

Activities of Senior Boys During the School Year.

The members of the Senior class have been much interested in athletics during their four years in high school. Several of the boys played on the football team last fall. Marshall Kirby, Max N. Vuk, Heber Swartz, and Bleda were their leaders. Marshall, Novak and Billy Supernaw were the Senior boys on the basketball team. Kirby, Swartz, Bleda, Arnold and Farmer played on the chess team at the school tournament. Kirby and Marshall were members of the hockey team. Arnold broke the state record for one mile at the state track meet at Lansing on Saturday.

Kirby, Swartz, Bleda and Marshall are the Senior male quartette.

Critchlow, Bleda, Swartz, Heber are members of the high school band. Several of the Senior boys took part in the operetta given in December.

Present: Hon. Servetus A. Correll, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of Margaret Gordon (Gordon), deceased.
Charles Gordon having filed in said court his petition praying that said court administer and determine who were at the time of her death entitled to take the real estate of which said deceased died seized.

It is ordered that the 24th day of June, A. D. 1929, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said probate office, be and is hereby appointed for hearing and a final decree for hearing and a final decree.

It is further ordered that public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

A true copy. Servetus A. Correll, Judge of Probate.

Probate Notice.

State of Michigan, The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix. At a session of said court, held at the Probate office in the City of Charlevoix, in said county, on the 22nd day of May, A. D. 1929.
Present: Servetus A. Correll, Probate Judge.

In the Matter of the Estate of Cornelius Fitting, deceased.
The above estate having been admitted to probate and Ernest Fitting appointed administrator with will annexed thereof.

It is ordered that four months from this date be allowed for creditors to present their claims against said estate, and that such claims will be heard by said court on Wednesday, the 25th day of September, A. D. 1929, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the Probate office in the City of Charlevoix.

It is further ordered that public notice thereof be given by publication of this order for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper printed and circulated in this county.

Servetus A. Correll, Judge of Probate.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Antoine Sharrow, Jr., a single man of Norwood township, Charlevoix county, Michigan, to William Benway of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, dated the 20th day of June, A. D. 1921, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Charlevoix, and State of Michigan, on the 20th day of June, A. D. 1921, in Liber 54 of Mortgages, on page 611, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice the sum of fifteen hundred forty-one dollars and forty-three cents, and an attorney's fee of twenty-five dollars, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

Now, Therefore, By virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such cases made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Saturday, the 15th day of June, A. D. 1929, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, I shall sell at Public Auction to the highest bidder, at the east front door of the Court House, in the City of Charlevoix, Mich. (that being the place where the Circuit Court for said County of Charlevoix is held) the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with seven per cent interest, and all legal costs, together with an attorney's fee of twenty-five dollars, as provided by law and as covenanted for therein the premises being described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit: The west half of the south-west quarter of Section five (5), township thirty-three (33) north, range eight (8) west, situated in the Township of Norwood, Charlevoix county, Michigan.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by John Whaling and wife, Emma, of South Arm township, Charlevoix county, Mich., to James F. Courier of East Jordan, Michigan, dated the 27th day of November, A. D. 1922, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the county of Charlevoix, and state of Michigan, on the 8th day of November, A. D. 1922, in Liber 40 of mortgages, on page 475, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice the sum of One Hundred Eighty-five dollars and ten cents, (also Seventy-six and 86-100 dollars for taxes paid with interest thereon to date), and an attorney's fee of fifteen dollars, provided for by statute, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

Now, Therefore, By virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such cases made and provided, notice is given that on Saturday, the 22nd day of June, A. D. 1929, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon, I shall sell at public auction to the highest bidder, at the east front door of the Court House, in the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for said county of Charlevoix is held), the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due on said mortgage, with seven per cent interest, and all legal costs, together with an attorney's fee of fifteen dollars, as provided by law, the premises being described in said mortgage as follows, to-wit: The South-east quarter of the North-west quarter of Section Six (6), Township thirty-two (32) north, Range seven (7) west, situated in South Arm township, Charlevoix County, Michigan.

Great Disaster in History Room.
Monday afternoon the eighth period Ancient History students were greatly shocked by the falling of a large lump of plaster from the ceiling. Ruby Supernaw must have thought it was an earthquake when she was hit on the head by some of the falling ruins although she was not seriously hurt.

Senior News.

The graduating class of '29 of Charlevoix high school will give a Senior Prom at the Mr. Knight Gardens, the evening of June 6th. A grand and glorious time is expected. Valera Ripley, Mollie Yettaw, Mary McNamee, Edwin Madill and Maxwell Novak constitute the committee who are in charge of the affair.

Jokes.

If the English teacher is a book-worm the Geometry teacher must be an angleworm!

Mr. Coleman—"How's your beef, streak today?"

Butcher—"Tender as a woman's heart!"

Mr. Coleman—"Gimme a pound of sausage."

Ralph Lemieux—"Is my face dirty or is it my imagination?"

Vic Smith—"I don't know about your imagination, but your face is clean."

Freshmen—A comedy of errors.

Sophomores—Much ado about nothing.

Juniors—As you like it.

Seniors—Ad's well that ends well.

General News.

Clarence Arnold, Senior member of Charlevoix high school, won first place in class C at the State Track Meet held last Saturday at East Lansing. Arnold broke all previous class C records with a time of 1:14.

We wish to congratulate Mr. Arnold on his good fortune of winning first place and hope there will be many more runners like him.

From now until the close of school everyone, Seniors included, will be busting around. Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday at eight o'clock. Examinations follow on June 4th, 5th and 6th. The Senior Prom will be on June 6th and Commencement on the 7th. All graduating exercises will be held in the gymnasium.

The Senior class is planning on leaving its surplus finances to the Athletic association. They are not sure yet exactly the amount which will be left.

Activities of the Senior Girls During the School Year.

A number of Senior girls took part in the operetta last fall. The Senior girls' basket ball team composed of Nellie Smith, Valera Ripley, Irene Rovert, Marguerite Sutton, Hilda Cook and Wilma Wells won the consolation at the class tournament.

Wilma Wells, Nellie Smith, Hilda Cook and Roberta Stafford took part in the Shorthand and Typing contest at East Jordan. Nellie Smith went to the state contest at Kalamazoo.

Crashing Catastrophe of Caricature Hymenoptera.

Monday afternoon being rather warm enticed the creatures of the animal kingdom, who have been hibernating all winter, to come forth and partake of the beautiful elements of Mother Nature.

The biology class was appropriately honored by the timely arrival of one of the most obnoxious creatures roaming the face of the earth. This creature has ugly features to say the least. His body was entirely covered with hair and one striking feature was the fact that he had three eyes. He had a long snout capable of protruding to immense depths in the human flesh, and he is always known to be poison. Mothers always warn the children to be on the look-out for such animals.

His capture was made by means of a net and skillful handling by Miss Keller and Lloyd Swartout. When finally captured and subdued the beast proved to our friend of the glove field, the humble bumble bee.

Bye-Bye, Seniors!

Students of Charlevoix high school are now approaching another eventful period. The "adieux" are being said to the learned seniors, while the haughty juniors are preparing themselves for their place in the school. The Sophomores are openly congratulating themselves at taking up the flag of the Juniors, and the little green freshmen are silently looking forward to their position as Sophomores.

Then Seniors will be greatly missed and best wishes and good luck is extended to them by the under-graduates!

STANDARD OIL CO. TO GIVE DEMONSTRATION

Public Invited to Meeting at Monte's Cafe Next Wednesday.

R. A. Milder, Standard Oil company salesman of this district, announces a Red Crown ethyl demonstration to be held in the dance hall at Monte's Cafe on Wednesday evening, June 5th, at 7:30 o'clock.

At this time B. E. Powell, Standard Oil company representative, will be present to conduct the meeting and, in addition to the regular Red Crown ethyl demonstration, the representative will run a distillation on gasoline showing how the Red Crown product compares with government specifications and also make a doctor test, showing the difference between sweet and sour gasoline and explaining how this difference in gasoline affects the use in automobiles.

The demonstration will be free to the public and everyone is invited to be present.

At the morning service hour, 10:30, the Children's day program will be presented by the Sunday school. Parents are urged to see that their children are present at the church hour, 10:30, instead of the usual Sunday school hour. All parents are cordially invited and urged to be present as well as the usual worshippers and all others interested.

A special offering will be taken, as a contribution to the student summer service in pioneer fields maintained by the Congregational Extension Society.

Miss Jane Catton, formerly an active worker in our church and now on the staff of the Michigan Council of Religious Education, is expected to be present and has been invited to speak.

The Endeavor meeting will change the hour to 6:30 p. m. and close in time to attend the baccalaureate service at the gymnasium.

The Ironton church will hold a morning service at 9:30 central time, or 10:30 first time, under the direction of the Sunday school officers. A fine attendance continues, 62 being present last Sunday.

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, May 26, 1929.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Behold, the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him, upon them that hope in his mercy; to deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine." (Ps. 33:18-19).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul is not compassed by finiteness. Principle is not to be found in fragmentary ideas. The material body and mind are temporal, but the real man is spiritual and eternal." (p. 302).

This "Common-Sense" Pickle Field was planted June 5th in rows 8 feet apart on rich, fertilized, mellow, loam soil. It was kept cultivated each week and vines were thinned out in each row. This permitted easy picking.

The field was an acre, grown by James Rayman, and gave $138.88 cash. His largest picking was $18.73 on August 28th. He picked 14 times, receiving an average of $9.92 cash for each picking made.

Contracts and free seed may still be had at the office of the Charlevoix Co-operative Ass'n. But only 3 1/2 acres are left before we reach our maximum 1929 quota and so we urge calling at Co-op. Office promptly. No contracts after quota is filled.

CITIZENS HAVE MADE PROTESTS

THEIR PROPERTY RIGHTS IN-FRINGED UPON REPEATEDLY.

Unguided Youth Bent Upon Destruction and Dogs Trample Gardens Throughout City.

From almost every quarter Charlevoix's citizenry is rising in righteous wrath to protest against the destruction of private property. Complaints during the past two weeks have been received from most every direction. Gardens are being trampled, flower beds destroyed—hours of patient labor turned to naught. The troubles come from two sources—children and dogs.

Out at the cemetery three large rainbow trout placed in the concrete pool on the flat by Stover Creek are dead, stoned and prodded with sticks by two youths whose guilt has been established. No reason can be given for the act outside of an impulse to destroy on the part of these boys. Terraces along the creek bank have been broken down by youngsters running and jumping across the stream. Monuments have been marked and nicked throughout the entire cemetery, defaced by youths throwing stones at them.

For the most part, these acts have been committed by youths who are old enough to know better. Regardless of this fact, however, one cannot help but believe there is a woeful lack of parental guidance in some instances. On behalf of the Cemetery Board we are asked to announce that the cemetery is not a playground and if children cannot be kept in their places it is best to leave them at home.

From another direction we hear complaints about dogs running at large. In some instances they have destroyed gardens and flower beds. Out in the country one can hear hounds running rabbits at all times of day and night. Sheep have been killed and other damage done. Charlevoix has always been notorious for its number of canine inhabitants. In fact, we believe if a census were taken, it would be a toss-up to decide whether dogs outnumbered children.

At the request of the management at Orchard Bay Farms we printed a notice last week warning that dogs would be killed on sight when seen on those premises in the future. We know scores of local residents whose attitude and intentions are in accord with those in charge of the above mentioned institution. The laws in regard to dogs running at large are stringent and were enacted to protect property owners. Dogs have no right running at large and if some of their number fail to show up for the evening meal in the near future, it will take no prolonged investigation to learn what has become of them.

WOODS RESIDENCE DESTROYED IN BAD FIRE

Small Amount of Household Goods Saved From First Floor.

The William A. Woods residence on the Charlevoix-Petoskey road was completely destroyed by fire which was discovered at noon last Sunday. Although the cause is not known, the blaze is thought to have started from sparks on the roof. The family were home at the time, but knew nothing of the fire until warned by passing motorists. Some few household goods were saved from the first floor.

The city department answered the alarm, but on account of the house being outside the city water mains, were unable to extinguish the blaze. Futile attempts were made to pump water from Lake Charlevoix and the chemical was of no avail. A small amount of insurance was carried on the house.

ORLOWSKI GROCERY OPENING SATURDAY

Fine Array of Bargains to Tempt Buyers for Opening Day.

In an advertisement on another page of this issue, Louis S. Orlovski, veteran Charlevoix merchant, announces the re-opening of his store on the south hill on Saturday of this week.

He has arranged a fine list of specials for Saturday, and invites all former customers as well as new ones to visit the store.

There will be a dance at Ironton Grange hall Friday evening, June 7. Everyone welcome.

SATURDAY WILL MARK GOLF CLUB OPENING

Charlevoix Club Course In Best Condition In Its History.

According to plans announced today, the Charlevoix Golf Club will open for the season on Saturday of this week. While many have been using the course up to the present time, the official opening will be on that day.

In an interview with the Courier representative, William Watson, who returned Saturday from San Francisco to act as professional at both the Charlevoix and Belvedere Golf Clubs, the former course is in the best condition it has been in history. Many improvements have been made over the entire 18 holes, but those most notable are on the first, where extra pits have been built on the fairway, and on the 5th and 17th, where new greens and new, modern trappings have been built. During the past two years an extensive program has been carried out with the result that the course is modern in every respect.

Mr. Watson will be assisted this year by Cleveland Roe as caddy master, Billy Supernaw, as assistant professional and Miss Lila Heise as bookkeeper. Others of the staff have not been selected as yet. The Belvedere course will open within two or three weeks.

FIFTY-ONE BIG AIRPLANES COMING

AT EMMET COUNTY'S NEW AIR-PORT JUNE 12-13.

Land in Late Afternoon of First Day and Take Off in Afternoon of Next. Each Plane Different.

Northern Michigan's greatest fleet of airplanes is to pass over this region on June 12th, enroute to the Emmet county air port, a few miles north of Petoskey, on the Petoskey-Harbor Springs road, and it is expected the coming of the largest fleet ever gathered in Michigan will attract large numbers of Charlevoix people. The fact that planes will land in the late afternoon (probably around 5:00 o'clock Eastern Standard Time) is expected to induce many from this city and region to motor over to Emmet county field for the event. The banquet for the visitors will be on the evening of June 12 at the Perry and is open to the public. The dedication of Emmet county's new airport will be held the next forenoon and this also is expected to draw large numbers from this city and section.

It will require at least 51 minutes for the machines to land and as long to take off again the next forenoon.

Definite word as to the number of machines was received today by wire from Pontiac. The tour starts from that city at 8 a. m. on Monday, June 10, and stops for the first night at Jackson, the second night at Muskegon, the third night at Petoskey and the fourth night at Bay City.

On 1,100-Mile Trip.

They will make a 1,100-mile journey, visiting thirty-two cities during a circle of the southern peninsula. They will also visit a few upper peninsula towns. The planes will fly five days on the tour, returning to Pontiac the Friday following their start.

This is the longest state tour ever undertaken in the country by air.

The planes come from thirty-two manufacturing concerns. They weigh from 319 to 6,000 pounds each and carry from one to thirteen passengers. Four or five more entries are expected. All entries must be at the Pontiac Municipal Airport by 4:00 p. m. Sunday ready for the start the following morning.

MRS. ROSA GENETT DIED HERE MONDAY

Was a Life-Long Resident of Charlevoix and Norwood Township.

Mrs. Rosa Genett, life-long resident of Norwood township, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Supernaw of this city at 7:00 o'clock Monday morning. She suffered a stroke of paralysis about a week ago and this hastened her death. Mrs. Genett was 75 years of age.

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock from St. Mary's church, with burial in the Catholic cemetery. Mrs. Genett is survived by two sons, Plenny Genett of this city and Reed Genett of Bellair.

NORMAL OBSERV- ED ANNIVERSARY

FIFTY-FIVE PRESENT AT MEET-ING SATURDAY EVENING.

Charlevoix County Alumni Association Formed With Lottie Webster As President.

The first annual meeting of the Charlevoix County Normal Alumni association, held Saturday evening, June 1, at the Congregational church, was a very decided success. The association had its organization at this gathering and, if the interest manifested is any criterion, will continue to grow and prosper.

The meeting was also in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the founding of the normal, this unit being one of six in Michigan with a record of 25 continuous years. Fifty-five were present at the affair and chose officers as follows:

President, Miss Lottie Webster, Charlevoix; vice president, Commissioner William C. Palmer, Charlevoix; secretary and treasurer, Merla Springstead, Ellsworth.

Those present and the year they represented were as follows: 1901, Mrs. Burr Sage, Mrs. Henry Bloek; 1905, Miss Sophia Manson; 1910, Mrs. Margaret Watson; 1911, Mrs. Bessie Denn; 1912, Mrs. Walter Smith; 1917, Mrs. Albert Rehfu; 1918, Mrs. Rena Edwards; 1922, Miss Alice Chew; 1923, Mrs. Glenn Rose; 1924, Mrs. Harold Hallett, Mrs. Harold Struick; 1925, Mrs. Earl Johnson, Miss Laura Dale Cole; 1926, Wesley Jolliffe, Mr. and Mrs. Elgie Dow, Miss Wilma Fairchild, Miss Lottie Webster, Harold Ikens; 1927, Miss Alta Harper, Miss Merla Springstead; 1928, Miss Iola Chew, Miss Margaret Matchett, Miss Vera Halverson, Vaughn Ogden, Miss Doris Stafford, Miss Clara Dougherty, and 11 members of the 1929 class.

Those not able to attend but who sent greetings and secured tickets were: Miss Isabelle Becker, county normal superintendent; Miss Grace Papineau, Fordson, 1904; Aired Cooper, West Point, 1925; Mrs. Ethel Larsen Murray, Miss Lucille Belding, Miss Marguerite Carter, Mrs. Lula Crites Sterling, Houston, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Palmer, Mrs. Herschel Miller, Miss Mary Lemieur, 1927; Miss Josephine Ellis, 1925; Mrs. Tony Novotney, Mrs. James Courier, Miss Mildred Howe, Mrs. Lela Cooper Simmons.

School board members, present and former: Mr. Bridge, Herschel Miller, Mr. Powers; superintendents and teachers, present and former: Mr. Otterbein, H. A. Craig, Miss Lois Bowman, principal 1920-21; Mrs. Edward Edwards, critic; Mrs. Gertrude Dick, Miss Pearl C. Bigge.

Charlevoix county normal was established in 1904. Since that time 298 have been graduated. There have been nine principals and eight training teachers.

Miss Chambers Visits Parents.

Miss Margaret Chambers, sister of Captain John Chambers, this city, was the guest last week at the Chambers home. She was accompanied by Miss Clara Naylor of Detroit. Miss Chambers recently returned from a winter sojourn in Florida, where she operates a tea room. Upon leaving Charlevoix the two young ladies go to Mackinac Island, where they will conduct a similar enterprise during the summer months.

MEMORIAL DAY WELL OBSERVED

CELEBRATION WAS ATTENDED BY LARGE CROWD.

Impressive Ceremonies at Brookside Cemetery; Judge Parm C.
Gilbert Gave Address.

Memorial day in this city was bright and clear and one of the hottest days we have had so far this season. This splendid cooperation from the weather man drew out a fine crowd to the ceremonies and the occasion was observed in a fitting manner.

The parade formed at the corner of Bridge and State streets at 9:30. The American Legion color bearers led the fine procession and were followed by the bugler. Next in line in order was the American Legion, school band in uniform, the Barnard Boys' band, a group of young lads on bicycles decorated with patriotic colors, four floats bearing the W. R. C. and G. A. R., the Toy Symphony orchestra and a host of smaller children. Several hundred school children carrying flags marched at the rear of the procession.

At Memorial park the parade paused while a floral tribute was cast into the waters of Round lake in memory of those who died on the sea and a short and impressive ceremony conducted. From there they proceeded to Brookside cemetery, where a large crowd of Charlevoix citizens met them to witness the ceremonies.

Rev. W. S. Rauch of the Baptist church opened the program with a beautiful and expressive prayer. Patriotic selections by the Toy Symphony orchestra and music by the bands followed. Stanley Hammond delivered the Gettysburg address in a commendable manner and the high school chorus rendered two musical numbers. Ritualistic work by the W. R. C. was impressive and this was followed by a musical selection given by the Legion quartette. In the address of the day, Judge Parm C. Gilbert of Traverse City based his talk on Americanism. He pointed out the need of law and order and of peace, but not at any cost. He voiced the opinion that the United States should always keep their army, navy and national defense units fit at all times. His talk was brief and pointed, leaving a deep impression upon his listeners. Following the floral tribute, salute to the dead and tape, Rev. John E. Lockyer of the Methodist church closed the day's exercises with prayer.

BASKETBALL PLAYERS RECEIVED THEIR C'S

Members of Charlevoix high school basketball team and Clarence Arnold, the school's lone track representative, were presented "C's" before the assembly Wednesday morning.

Coach Harry Kipke of M. S. C., famous brother of Ray Kipke, Charlevoix coach, made the presentation. Those receiving letters for basketball were Max and Billy Novak, Rex and Billy Supernaw, Dick Marshall, Ho Helms, George Bergman and Robert McCall.

L. H. Frimdig, assistant athletic director and eleven-letter man at M. S. C., addressed the assembly, lauding the team and the school band rendered several selections. Stanley Hammond acted as yell master and led the school in several good, rousing cheers.

CHILDREN'S DAY OB- SERVED LAST SUNDAY

Program of Songs, Recitations, Etc., at Congregational Church.

Children's Day was observed last Sunday morning at the Congregational church with a program consisting of recitations, songs and class exercises by the primary and junior departments.

Several children, viz: Rosie O'Neil, Stella Livingston, Betty Withers, Marjorie Radie, Teddy Mattson, Franklin Olmstead and Carol Webster were promoted from the primary to the junior department and presented with diplomas and bibles.

FESSENDEN CHOSEN 2ND WARD ALDERMAN

Horace R. Fowler Re-appointed as Justice of the Peace.

Through an appointment made by Mayor Bergen and confirmed by the city council, F. J. Fessenden now represents the second ward as alderman to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Horace R. Fowler.

Mr. Fowler was also re-appointed as justice of the peace. He previously held both offices, but was disqualified by a state decision ruling no person could hold two elective offices.

PROGRAM READY FOR GRADUATION

DR. M. S. RICE WILL ADDRESS
SENIOR AND NORMAL CLASSES

Class Day Exercises Were Wednesday; Commencement at Gymnasium Friday Evening.

Another year has rolled around and Charlevoix high school and Charlevoix county normal is once more about to open their doors for the graduating classes of 1929, whose members will stand for the first time upon the threshold of that life for which they have been preparing so assiduously for four or five long, happy and memorable years. They are fifty-two in number, thirty-seven seniors and fifteen members of the normal class.

The first of the closing events in that chapter about to be finished for this group of our young womanhood and manhood was the baccalaureate sermon, delivered at the gymnasium Sunday evening by Rev. John E. Lockyer of the Methodist church. He chose as his subject, "Laws of Life's Architecture" and in a forceful manner left a deep impression upon the graduating classes and large audience of their friends and relatives. Exercises Wednesday followed by the "Senior Prom" Thursday evening. The closing event will be the commencement exercises for both classes at the gymnasium Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock. The following program has been arranged:

Black and Gold Traverse Team Also Annexed Golf Championship
by Comfortable Margin.

Traverse City high school took the regional golf championship on the Traverse City Country club course Saturday when its four players completed the 18 holes with a total of 351, with 25 strokes to spare over Cadillac, in second place.

Ludington, arriving late, had completed only the first round when the others were finished but it didn't appear that Ludington would threaten the leaders. Without Ludington, the teams finished as follows: First, Traverse City; second, Cadillac; third, Manistee; fourth, Petoskey; fifth, Charlevoix.

Ludwigson of Manistee turned his last year's trick and came through the tournament with low medal score. His 40 and 43 made a total of 83, one stroke better than the 84 that earned second place for Ken Jiny, captain of the Traverse City team. No one else was within several strokes of them.

The scores:

Traverse City	out	in	total

Traverse Central also came through to win the tennis championship by a margin of 7 points over Charlevoix and St. Francis of Traverse City who tied for second place. Dick Marshall of the Charlevoix team, reached the semi-finals, but there fell before Joe Napieralski of St. Francis, who took the singles crown. Marshall won the title last year. Paired with Billy Novak in the doubles competition, Marshall reached the finals, but the local combination fell before Bain and Kauer of Traverse Central. Following is the final standing:

Traverse Central—12.
Charlevoix—6.
St. Francis—6.
Pellston—1½.

VISITORS HAVE WEEK OF GREAT ENJOYMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Alex Were Feted Guests Last Week.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Alex, had as their guests last week, Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Alex of Pontiac.

Among the occasions of the week were a dinner party Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jeffery, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Shearer, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Durance and William Cowan. A motor trip to Mackinaw Sunday was enjoyed by all. Tuesday night a dinner was given at the home of Charles Jeffery, and on Wednesday a beautiful fish dinner at the home of Archie Alex. In the meantime there were plenty of fishing trips with J. R. Cooper as chaparrone. The week was one round of pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex returned home with regrets that the days and nights were not longer.

FLASH THE LEAD DOG

"Father! . . . father!" With a sob Gaspard leaped toward the tall figure that loomed from the shore.

Then a wave of grief and rage swept the one outside the window. Stopping back, steel clenched on steel as he threw the rifle to his shoulder and covered the chest of the man who sat, on a stool, from the window. For a space the steel tube in the hand menaced the unsuspecting "Red" Macbeth, as reason fought with hate for mastery of the emotions of the half-crazed youth. Then, slowly, the gun was lowered and the watcher by the window faded into the darkness.

Shortly Brock was seized by a pair of arms like steel cables. Holding Brock in a bear hug, Gaspard poured out his story.

"He was here! He was here! I saw him!" cried the overjoyed boy. "He was hurt! He could not travel! So they do not watch him!"

In turn, Brock hugged Gaspard, in his delight at the news. "Your father! At last! Old partner, put it there! Gully, that's great!"

Then Gaspard stiffened. "You know what these people do to him? They take off his legs! On his face was a big scar! My father! And the chest of the son of Pierre Lecroix rose in a deep sob.

That night, at their hiding place back in the timber, three men sat long in a council of war.

CHAPTER XIV

The Vengeance of Gaspard Lecroix

The night following, in the blackness of the scrub behind the cabin of "Red" Macbeth, two men waited beside a dog team. That the dogs might not betray their masters, each was armed with a rifle. A half hour before, a third man had left the two who now waited impatiently for his coming, as they watched the yellow glow of the windows of the cabin. At last, the absent one returned.

"Any trouble, Gaspard?" asked Brock. "You've been away hours."

"Ah-hah! Little trouble; all right now!"

"What was it?"

"I met some one."

"Two men? What shall we do?"

"He went not far—now."

The grin significance of the answer closed Brock's mouth. He understood. Then, leaving Brock with the dogs, Gaspard and the Cree disappeared in the timber. With Flash's collar in his mitted hand, while he soothed the dog who resented the strapping of his jaws with rawhide, Brock strained anxious eyes toward the river shore. At last he saw it.

Gradually, beyond the cabin, the blackness of the night faded. Then, through the mist burst a yellow glow, throwing into relief the dark bulk of the schooner, as red flames flicked up over its bilges. The free-traders' boat was afire!

Shortly there rose a cry in the night, outside the cabin. "Iskutew! Fire!" And Joe Nipissing burst wild-eyed into the night.

"Iskutew! Do boat burn!" he cried to the startled Macbeth and the gray-faced men who reached for coats and muskets.

Rushing to the door, the red-headed leader stared in dismay at his blazing schooner. Then the three rushed out to the shore.

Turning at a sound, the excited Joe Nipissing saw a tall Cree slide down the ladder, upon the door of the great box stove, and seizing a half-burned stick, throw it on the bed of a bank. Laughing like a flash on the speechless boy, the steel fingers of Pierre Lecroix closed on his throat.

"The boat go—the shack go!" roared the Frenchman in Cree. "Where are your dogs?"

But the choking Cree could not explain.

"You understand?" fiercely demanded the other. "We'll load your sled with grub and blankets and make for Hungry House! Quick!" And Lecroix pushed the protesting Nipissing through the door, then turned back into the already burning room for blankets and food. Then to his startled ears came a familiar voice from the door.

"Father!" And Gaspard had the man he loved in his arms.

For a space, oblivious of the flicking flames slowly taking the room with smoke, father and son gripped each other in a fierce embrace. Then, recovering his senses, Gaspard turned with: "The dogs! call Brock! Quick!"

Brock and I are here with the team," Gaspard explained to the puzzled man who stared at his son in wonderment.

Then the Cree burst into the room, followed by Brock, who swung the hand of the lost Lecroix. The back, now, was burning in earnest. Seizing his rifle and notions, and carrying his rifle and some blankets, Pierre Lecroix followed his rescuers to the waiting sled.

"Macbeth! Flash!" called Brock to the lead dog, and they headed up the river shore.

As the galloping dog team swung through the snow down to the river trail, the flames of the burning schooner turned her misty fingers of fire thrust upright into the wall of blackness. Around her burning bulk dark shapes not helplessly to and fro. Then they left her to her fate as the flames, bursting through the windows of the cabin, drew their back to save their provisions and fur.

On went the dog team into the south, hauled for the big Yellow-Leg while the hearts of two boys beat high with pride and happiness. Since the freezing moon when the men of "Red" Macbeth had started to hunt them from the Yellow-Leg, they had traveled a long trail. And now they had won—found the father whom the loyal Gaspard could not put from his heart.

Before turning the first bend, the dog team stopped.

Lighting the river shore, schooner and cabin sent red flames high into the smother of mist. Seizing the hand of his partner, Gaspard said, as his eyes measured the completeness of his revenge on the men who had taken him from his father. "Wal, Brock, I 'thuk dat M'sien Macbeth ever" said his night dat he try to run two little boy out of de Yellow-Leg country."

"He'll be lucky not to starve this spring," laughed Brock.

"He not starve; he has been on the," added Pierre, "but he lose de fur and stuff in the shack."

When the team stopped, later, to hoot the kettle and rest the dogs, Pierre told them his story.

Amidst one day, the previous March he had received a shot shattering his ankle, and in the knife fight following the rush by three Indians, had been badly slashed across the face. Brought, half-dead, on a sled to Macbeth's quarters, Pierre had later amputated his own foot, and not until autumn had he regained his strength.

His knowledge of fur and ability to handle Indians had been put to valuable use by the free-traders, who had not treated him badly. For this reason, alone, he had not killed them in their sleep, but was waiting for spring, to steal a canoe and follow the coast home. But his boy, instead, had come for him. And the shattered Pierre Lecroix glanced proudly at the boy who stood by the fire with misty eyes.

It was May, called by the Cree the "Mating Moon" of the birds. To the south, in the land of the Yellow-Leg, it was the "Moon of Flowers." Long since, the black-tipped wings of the snowy geese had flashed overhead on the long flight to the arctic islands. Already the gray Canadas were nesting in the muskeg ponds back of Hungry House, and the little brothers of the air, duck and snipe and plover, guarding their eggs on lonely backwaters.

The grinding ice had plunged and churned past to the bay. River billows and abler were reddening and the young grass thrusting green from the post clearing where huskies sprang.

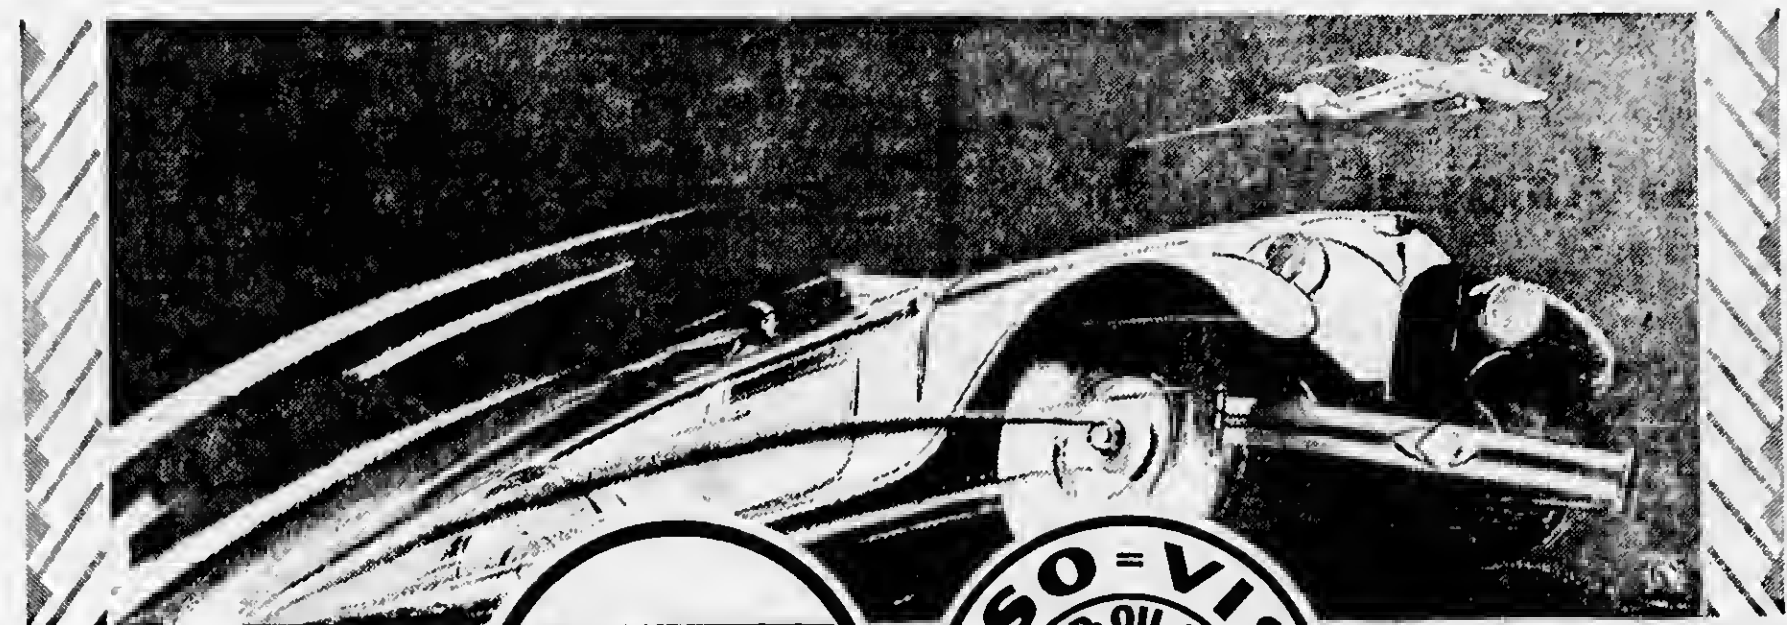

"The Boat Go—the Shack Go!" Rapped the Frenchman in Cree. "Where Are Your Dogs?"

In the warm sun. But there was an air of unrest at the house of Angus McCall. Dully, a mother, anxious of three, balked nervously at the grave factor and his head-man, of the absent Peterboro, which had, the August before, started for the unknown Yellow-Leg.

Ten days overdue, there was hardly a murmur of the lengthening days when some one at Hungry House was not searching the river where it forked at the delta islands for the black speck of mating canoe, and the flash of deluging paddles.

MOTOR OILS You can trust

Polarine

Iso-Vis

It's a hard life for the modern motor! Traffic is congested. Engines are built with higher compressions. Cars are driven faster. Motors run hotter. Correct lubrication is more important than ever before. Only the richest and sturdiest motor oil will stand up under the strain!

Polarine will do it! Polarine is rich—sturdy—steadfast! It covers every frictional surface of the engine with a protecting cushion of oil.

By draining the crankcase every 500 miles and refilling with fresh Polarine, you insure satisfactory lubrication of your car—at minimum cost.

Iso=Vis is an oil of unusual quality. It lubricates the engine faithfully—to stand up under the strain of today's driving. Like Polarine, Iso=Vis is rich and sturdy and steadfast.

No need to drain the crankcase so frequently if you use Iso=Vis. This new type, constant viscosity motor oil gives a new type of lubrication service. It will not thin out! It wears and wears and wears!

For smooth motor miles—and a long life to your engine—use Polarine or Iso=Vis. They are dependable products of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). They are the motor oils you can trust.

"I'm worried, Angus. I don't want Antoine to wait another day," said Mrs. McCall, one morning. "They may have been shut out in the rapids—lost their food. I wish you'd send him and Sam tomorrow."

"Yes, Mother," answered the sober Angus, picking up his telescope and strolling across the factor's plot, guarded by dog-stake, on his way to the high shore.

In a half hour he returned. "Nothing in sight?" demanded his wife.

"No," and McCall went to the trade-house to talk with his head-man. The two were getting together an outfit which would take the search through to the Yellow-Leg headwaters when a black boat thrust through the trade-house door.

"Canoe!—at de Island!" announced Sam.

"The boys!" cried Angus McCall and he hurried to his house to tell the worried mother of Brock; then joined Antoine and Sam on the high shore above the swollen river.

Where the river split into three channels at the delta islands, a black spot moved slowly upstream close to the main shore. Focusing his small telescope, for a space McCall then handed it to Antoine.

"I can't make it out yet, but there seem to be more than two in the boat."

"Ah-hah! Three—four paddles, I think," answered the halfbreed.

"It's the Peterboro!"

"Ah-hah! Ket oes no bark canoe."

Mrs. McCall joined the little group of men, women and children on the cliff shore, watching the approaching boat.

"You're sure, Angus—there's no mistake? It's not Indians?"

"It's the boys for sure, mother," and the relieved father patted the shoulder of the anxious mother.

"Four paddles, more," announced Antoine, handing the glass to his chief.

"There're no Indians whithering up the coast—who in thunder have they picked up?"

For an hour the canoe backed the drive of the current, hugging the shore for the easier going there. They were less than a mile distant when some one shouted: "There are the dogs!"

On the beach, three huskies kept abreast of the canoe.

"There's Brock in the bow!" cried Angus McCall as the craft approached the post. "I'd know his shoulders, anywhere; and Gaspard's steering her!"

Closer came the wanderers, and the little group of excited people on the high shore ran to the beach below to welcome those who had returned from the ruthless maw of the Yellow-Leg wilderness.

"Brock!" called his mother, waving her white apron, her eyes blinded with tears. "Brock! Brock!" yelled in chorus two young brothers and a sister, leaping like rabbits in their excitement and joy.

"Gaspard! Kekway, Gaspard!"

PETOSKEY LINEMAN
KILLED WEDNESDAYBody Came in Contact With Live Wire While at Work.

Harold Wyatt, member of the Petoskey city light and power plant line crew, met instant death shortly before 6:00 o'clock Wednesday evening as he was working on a pole near Mitchell street bridge. The man apparently leaned back while at work and his neck came in contact with the high tension wire carrying the death-dealing electricity. Fellow workers lowered the body to the ground from the top of the pole.

The young man was a resident of Conway, where he had spent his entire life. He was the son of Mrs. Nettie Wyatt of that village, was well liked by all who knew him and often mentioned as a young man who was unusually kind to his mother. He had worked on the city crew for some time but was thinking of going into some business for himself within a short time.

In Memoriam.

In loving memory of our darling daughter, Edna Marie Doyle, who died June 9, 1925:

In a vessel of earth it came,
A spirit with beauty adorne;
Her laughter, her song and her mirth.

All held in a vessel of earth,
A jar when was fragile, but oh,
We cherished and loved it so!

But our treasure was not of the clay,
For the vessel lies broken today,
And mute is the voice, and the eyes
Light not with delight and surprise,
And no mortal hand can replace
That spirit of beauty and grace.

There are numberless vessels of earth
Still holding life's music and mirth
Still aglow with the spirit, and yet
There was one we shall never forget,
One which held in its beautiful mold
Something never another could hold.

Others carry sweet music and mirth,
Others come with delights to the earth,
But we know now that fragrance we miss,
That sound of her voice, and her kiss;

That life which we loved, was her soul
And not the mere clay of the bowl.

And we know what we loved cannot die,
Though broken its vessel may lie;
And we know why the clay was so fair,
'Twas because she was nestled in there.

We have learned 'twas her beautiful soul

INLAND LAKES OPEN JUNE 16

NO NEW LAWS GO IN EFFECT
UNTIL NEXT YEAR.

All Trout Anglers Over 18 Years
Must Have License Then; Lakes
Open June 25 in 1930.

The next big event on the sportsman's calendar is the opening of the bass fishing season. This date, June 16, also marks the beginning of fishing in all inland lakes that have been closed since April 1 to allow the fish to spawn unmolested. This will be the last year for the June 16 date for our new inland fishing code, setting the opening date at June 25, will become effective in 1930.

Large and small-mouthed black bass must be 10 inches in length and the fisherman is allowed five in one day and not over 10 in possession. Walleyed pike call for a 10-inch limit, 10 in a day and 10 in possession. Bluegills and sunfish must measure six inches and the fisherman is allowed 25 of each in one day and the same number in possession. Calico and rock bass and crappies are kept at the seven-inch limit with 25 in all for one day and the same number in possession. White bass, which may be taken at any time of year in open waters, also has the same size and creel limits as the above. Perch should be seven inches long with a daily limit of 30 and 50 in possession except when taken in the Great Lakes, where anyone may possess an unlimited number of nine-inch perch if offered for sale. There is no limit on size or creel for pike and muskellunge this year.

What License Costs.

The only fishing license required, other than for trout fishermen, is the one calling for a payment of $5 for a general license and $2 for a special license for non-residents only. There is no resident angler's license law.

The Courier has been besieged with inquiries relative to the inland lakes open for pike fishing on May 1 and also the names of the lakes where it is permissible to troll from a motor boat. There is no fishing of any kind in any inland lakes of the state until June 16, except in the following where pike, both grass and wall-eyes, may be taken from May 1 on:

Hubbard lake, Alcona county; Au Train lake, Nevins lake, Sixteen Mile lake, Grimes lake, Wheelbarrow lake and Long lake, Alger county; Elk lake and Torch lake, Antrim county; Lake Charlevoix, Charlevoix county; Burt lake and Mullet lake, Cheboygan county; Black lake, Cheboygan and Presque Isle counties; Lake George, Little Lake George, Hay lake, Mud lake and Sheephead lake, Chippewa county; Hamilton lake, Big Badwater lake and Pickeral lake, Dickinson county; Crooked lake and French Farm lake, Emmet county; Gogebie lake, Gogebie and Ontonagon counties; Sunday lake and Cisco Chain, Gogebie county; Elk lake, Gladwin county.

Pike lake, Houghton county; Long lake, Leon lake, North Londo lake and South Londo lake, Iosco county; Chingoun, Haggertman, Pickeral, Sunset, Perch, Fortune, Cable, Porter, Cemetery, Winslow, Paint lakes and Lake 33, Iron county; Torch lake, Kalkaska county; Schlatter lake, Shilly-Upsun lake, Deer lake, Lac La Belle, Paddy lake and Thayers lake, Keweenaw county; North Manistique, Muscalonge lake, Pike lake, Wheelers lake and Long lakes, Luce county; Munistiquie lake, Whitefish lake, Pike lake (Milakoka), Millecouin lake, Brevort lake, Simmons lake, Hay lake and chain lake, Mackinac county; Bar lake, Manistee county.

Pickeral lake, Town 49-26, Pickeral lake, Town 47-23, Lake Michigan and Lake Independence, Marquette county; Lower Humlin lake and Crystal lake, Mason county; Lake Missaukee, Missaukee county; East Twin lake and Grass lake, Montmorency county; Pentwater lake, Oceana county; Sage lake, North Dease lake, South Dease lake, and Au Sable lake, Ogemaw county; Otsego lake, Otsego county; Houghton lake, St. Helen's lake and Higgins lake, Roscommon county; McDonald lake, Gulliver lake, Indian lake, North lake, Crooked lake, Thunder lake, Klondike lake, Mud lake, Big Island lake and Driggs lake, Schoolcraft county; Cadillac lake, Mitchell lake and Stoney Ledge lake, Wexford county.

Motor Boats Allowed.

The following named lakes are open to trolling from motor boats, all others are closed to this form of sport, and the fisherman must use oars or a sail.

Hubbard lake, Alcona county; Au Train lake, Alger county; Long lake, Alpena county; Elk and Torch lakes in Antrim and Grand Traverse counties; Gun lake, Barry county; Crystal lake, Benzie county; Charlevoix and Round lakes, Charlevoix county; Burt lake and Mullet lake, Cheboygan county; Black lake, Cheboygan and Presque Isle counties; Lake Gogebie, Gogebie and Ontonagon counties; Lac Vieux Desert, Gogebie county; Leelanau and Glen lakes, Leelanau county; Portage lake, Manistee county; White lake and Muskegon lake, Muskegon county; Black lake, Ottawa county; Grand lake, Presque Isle county; Higgins lake, Houghton lake and Lake St. Helen, Roscommon county; Indian lake, Schoolcraft county; Lake St. Clair.

There will be no other changes in the inland fishing regulations this year and fishermen may accept the above without fear of violating any law or regulation.

Sheldrick Now Secretary.

President W. J. McAnecy, of the Hudson Motor Car company, following the annual stockholders' meeting last week, announced the appointment of E. W. Sheldrick to be secretary and a director, and C. C. Winningham, to be a director.

Appointment of these two men to the directorate preserved the jealously guarded tradition of the company which almost makes it a necessity that the men who direct it must have come up through the ranks. Mr. Sheldrick qualified by reason of his 18 years' service with Hudson, manufacturers of Hudson and Essex cars, while C. C. Winningham's association with the company goes back 20 years. He is president of his own advertising agency, which has handled Hudson advertising since 1909. Prior to that he was Hudson's advertising manager and, later, director of sales.

Within recent years many communities have made the mistake of paving their roads and streets at what they considered a "bargain price." The taxpayers thought they would save thousands of dollars.

In many instances the maintenance has not only wiped out the hoped for saving, but has exceeded original cost. And in many cases also it has been necessary to build entirely new pavements—of permanent construction.

There are communities, however, which know the cheapest is not always the best. Many of these also built roads and streets several years ago. And they built for permanence with concrete.

These concrete pavements, built in accordance with approved standards of construction, are in as good condition today as when they were built.

Which of these communities will yours be?

Choice of Color at No extra cost

A Special Show of Motor Car Color Designs

The smartness and distinction of your chosen color design—at no extra cost. Come to our Special Color Show and see the great variety of color combinations from which you may choose.

An exclusive manufacturing achievement makes this wide selection, at no extra cost, absolutely exclusive to the Super-Sixes. And it caps the great array of values with which Essex the Challenger has swept the six-cylinder field.

Last month, for instance, more than 225 different color combinations on various models were supplied to Essex buyers. In this territory any Hudson-Essex dealer is prepared to show and to give you a wide choice. Your individual selection, from among the options, will be shipped from the factory within 48 hours of the receipt of your order, at no extra cost.

And color is but one point of Essex advantage. The conviction of greatest value which Essex gives on sight is borne out in performance of brilliant range and smoothness, and a wealth of fine car detail, never before associated with this price class.

Its smooth and dashing power; its large, roomy, fine bodies; its 76 outstanding new features; its Speed challenging up to 70 miles an hour; with Reliability that permits 60 miles an hour for hour after hour; and Economy of 18 to 20 miles per gallon and upward—all these make Essex a formidable challenger of any car the market offers.

AT THE MOVIES

$100,000 Dog Is Real Comedian.

The most valuable dog in the world makes his film debut as a comedian in "Honeydew" the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer farce-comedy which will open at the Palace Theatre Thursday.

The dog is Flash, a police trained German shepherd, valued at $100,000, the sum that his owner and trainer, William G. Steuer, carries as life insurance for him.

Harry Raff, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer producer, who "discovered" and first presented on the screen such canine stars as Peter the Great and Rin-Tin-Tin, also discovered Flash. The animal made his debut in a thrilling war picture, "Under the Black Eagle."

America Given Full Credit By Germany for Winning War.

America is given full credit by the German army for swinging the tide of battle from defeat to victory, according to the official German war pictures which will be shown at the Palace Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. The war film is entitled "Behind the German Lines" and gives the war as seen from the German viewpoint, from the opening date until the closing, four years later.

"Race to the Sea" Is Caught by Movie Camera.

The famous "race to the sea," or in other words, the race of the German army to outflank the British and French army in its attempt to gain a foothold on the English Channel, is one of the many highlights of "Behind the German Lines," the official German war pictures which have created such wide comment in this country. The film will be the feature attraction at the Palace Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Stewart Coleman, Mrs. V. W. Crandall and Miss Mary Lemieux, returned Sunday night from Lexington, Michigan, where they spent Decoration day at the home of Mrs. Coleman's parents.

Mrs. A. R. Hensel of Brunswick, Georgia, who has been spending the past month visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles Kahler of Battle Creek, Mich., arrived last Thursday to spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. Gilbert Ferris.

Prizes at bridge at the weekly card party at St. Mary's school hall Monday evening went to Mrs. Stewart Coleman and Fred E. Cartier.

Miss Venera Keller and Miss Betty Sullivan won the prizes for high score at pedro.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glossinger, former residents of this city who have been making their home in Lansing for several years, have returned to Charlevoix. Mr. Glossinger is employed by Robert F. Shann on the railroad job for the new cement plant.

Miss F. A. Franklin, manager of the Chicago Club of Charlevoix, arrived Saturday afternoon from her home in River Forest, Illinois, for the summer season. T. E. McLaughlin, bookkeeper, is also here for the season. Mr. McLaughlin spent the winter in the east.

Mrs. Sala Hansen and daughter, Maxine, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Priest. They arrived here Monday from Grand Rapids, where they spent the winter.

Mrs. Hansen is manager of the Hotel Alhambra and is now supervising preparations there for the summer season.

Word has been received in Charlevoix of the death of Col. John Keeler of Paducah, Ky., well known Charlevoix summer resort and cottage owner. Mr. Keeler had been ill for some time and his death came at Mayo Brothers' hospital, Rochester, Minn., where he had been taken for treatment.

The First Spiritualist church of Charlevoix held their meeting at the

I. O. O. F. hall Sunday evening with a fine attendance. Mrs. Barnett gave the lecture and messages. These services will be held each Sunday evening. Ladies' Aid meets with Mrs. Julia Ackerl Thursday afternoon at 2:30. The public is invited.

Archie and Edna Shearer of Pontiac, together with Miss Anna Wade of Detroit, were week end guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Shearer. They arrived here last Wednesday night and Saturday evening were guests at dinner of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Alex. They returned Sunday in company with Miss Nita Shearer, who will spend a week or more with relatives in both Pontiac and Detroit.

Warning to Dog Owners.

On account of so many dogs running loose on Orchard Bay Farm, with subsequent danger to sheep, I am issuing the warning that in the future all dogs will be shot on sight when they come upon the premises. Adv. 2242. E. J. Edwards, Mgr.

BELVEDERE IS ACTIVE PLACE

ROADS WIDENED AND MANY OTHER IMPROVEMENTS.

High Water Necessitating Work on Boat Houses and Bathing Pier; Several Cottagers Here.

Preparations for the summer season at the Belvedere Club have turned that place into a scene of great activity. W. H. Miller, warden, is supervising improvements about the grounds, while Mrs. Franklin C. Sears, manager of the Belvedere Hotel, has a large crew making ready for the opening of the hotel.

Woodworth avenue, the thoroughfare just west of the hotel, has been widened from Belvedere avenue to the south end of the resort, thus eliminating traffic congestion. The street will be finished with macadam. A curb and gutter is being built along the west side of Woodworth avenue between Whittier and Gray avenues and up the south side of Gray to the top of the hill. Henry Marshall is doing the work.

Considerable work has been done on the boat houses, where high water has made it necessary to raise platforms in several of the slips. A new rowboat dock built last fall 30 inches above the water level, is now completely submerged. Likewise is the cement sidewalk around the boat-houses, making it necessary to walk along the bank to gain entrance to the slips. Water has reached within several inches of the top of the bathing pier on Lake Charlevoix, and it is planned to replank the dock unless the water recedes.

Repairs are being made on the rustic bridge near the south end of the grounds to put it in good condition and the winding stairs in front of the Webb cottage have been rebuilt. Crews of carpenters and painters are busy on the cottages throughout the grounds, while others are working on the lawns, flower beds, etc.

Practically all cottagers are expected during the season, and many will arrive between the 24th and 28th of June. Included among those already here are the following: Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wilson, Detroit; Mrs. Elizabeth Warner and her niece, Dr. Caroline Smith of Chicago; Mrs. C. B. Gorby of Terre Haute, Indiana, who purchased the Boudeman cottage; John Grussell and family, Chicago, who arrived Wednesday to occupy the Fiedler cottage; Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Muhlbauer, Cincinnati, Ohio, and their guest, S. C. Adams, who are in the Moorehead cottage; George A. Schwab and family, Nashville, Tenn., who arrived Wednesday morning; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Cole, Glendale, Ohio, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, and Mrs. P. W. Rockwell, Chicago, who arrived Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Pingree, St. Louis, Mo., are expected Saturday to open their cottage.

OLD SETTLERS' PICNIC IS AT PETOSKEY

June 26 Is Date With Chase S. Osborn as Principal Speaker.

The Annual Old Settlers Pioneer Picnic for Northwestern Michigan is booked for Petoskey on Wednesday, June 26, with former Governor Chase S. Osborn as the speaker of the day.

The prominent Sault Ste. Marie statesman is expected to prove a great drawing magnet for the picnic, he having many friends all over the territory and being strongly identified with the progress and development of the district.

His acceptance of the invitation has been received by Probate Judge Edward E. Gilbert of Petoskey, who is president of the organization. A full program will be announced later. Rev. George A. Weaver is assisting Judge Gilbert in handling the picnic. The Old Settlers' Regional Pioneer Picnic gathering takes in all the northwest counties in the lower peninsula, and is usually widely attended by pioneers from this territory. The Arlington Park site will probably be used as a picnic grounds.

BOYNE CITY FARMER KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Struck by Neighbor's Automobile Late Saturday Night.

E. J. Kerschner, 55, Charlevoix county farmer for 26 years, was killed late Saturday night when struck by an automobile driven by a neighbor, Joseph Bowman, near their respective homes.

Kerschner, according to the story told the sheriff's department, was driving home in an unlighted wagon when the vehicle was struck from the rear by a truck driven by R. J. Peterson of Boyne City. One of the wheels was knocked from the wagon and when Kerschner stepped into the road in search of it he was struck by the Bowman car, coming from the opposite direction. Bowman took the injured man to a Petoskey hospital but he lived only a few minutes.

Kerschner is survived by a widow, two sons, Clare, at home, and Ray of Flint, and four grandchildren.

Local Boy Wed in Iowa.
An announcement has been received by Mrs. Charles Bacon of this city of the marriage of her son, George to Miss Louise E. Pierce at Madrid, Iowa, on Sunday, June 2. George is well and favorably known in Charlevoix, where he has a large circle of friends who will extend him their congratulations.

STORM CAUSED LOCAL DAMAGE

LIGHT POLES, TREES AND CHIMNEYS BLOWN DOWN.

Northern Michigan Region Hit by Tail End of Western Twister Which Caused Loss of Life.

The tail end of tornado which swept central Minnesota and northern Wisconsin Monday night killing at least five persons, injuring an undetermined number and causing extensive property damage, made Charlevoix and the Northern Michigan region a visit that same night.

First local damage occurred during the electric storm Monday afternoon when the power line between here and Bellaire went out of commission. The auxiliary steam plant was put into use and the city was without power but a short time. Unless the damage has been repaired today, Charlevoix is still getting current from the local plant.

Electric light poles, shade trees and chimneys suffered most from the evening storm, which was accompanied by a gale said to have reached a velocity of 50 miles per hour. Several poles were broken on Dixon avenue and were repaired Tuesday. A large maple shade tree in front of the residence of Mrs. J. M. Clarke on the north side was split, the broken portion crashing onto the roof. Another large maple in front of the L. P. Adams home on Bridge street was broken. Reports have been received of several chimneys being blown down and from the rural district widespread damage to buildings and trees has been reported.

Present indications are that this region will experience warm and unsettled weather for at least the next 24 hours. The disturbance is followed by fair and cooler weather in the Rocky Mountain region and the indications are for fair and cool weather here late in the week.

A check-up from Beaver Island and the coast guard station has failed to reveal any mishaps on the lakes as a result of the severe storm.

AIR TRANSPORT LINE FOR SUMMER SEASON

Group from St. Louis, Mo., to Inaugurate Service Soon.

Plans for airplane passenger service at Charlevoix during the summer season were completed Monday. J. E. Patterson and E. M. Crosby, St. Louis, Mo., met local officials and were given permission to use the city landing field. They outlined their program and were promised every cooperation possible.

A. P. Stock, a third member of the group, will arrive here later with the plane, a Barling N. B. 3 open-cockpit monoplane. Passenger service to Chicago, Detroit or any other point desired is planned, also short flights for local patrons. Week end resort visitors should find this service much to their convenience and the project will undoubtedly prove a success.

ASPIRATIONS OF CLASS OF 1928-29

WHAT THE SENIORS OF C. H. S. INTEND DOING NEXT.

Many Already Laying Their Plans for Their Life Work or Further Education.

With the close of commencement exercises at the gymnasium last Friday evening, the senior and normal classes of 1928-29 made their debut from the educational shell and now appear full-fledged before a critical, though admiring world. A capacity house heard the program presented and listened with undivided interest to the wonderful address delivered by Rev. M. S. Rice, Detroit. Miss Dorothy Smith and Harter Kirby further justified their positions as head of the senior class with fine valedictory and salutatory addresses.

With the close of school, it will, perhaps, be of interest to learn what the members of the class intend to pursue as his or her next step along the highway of knowledge. So far as their intentions have been communicated to the superintendent of schools, in more or less definite fashion, their prospects are as follows:

Dorothy Smith, valedictorian, will attend county normal.

Charles Bleha, Edwin Madill, Dick Marshall and Lloyd Swartout are undecided.

Eleven of the class have made no decision or have definitely decided on no further schooling.

Clarence Arnold will attend Ferris Institute, taking a civil service course.

Jaunita Baker goes to Davenport Institute to follow commercial studies, as will also Hilda Cook and Roberta Stanford.

Hilda Brady will take a commercial course in Detroit.

Edna Brown will continue on to college, but is undecided where she will go or the course she will follow.

John Critchlow intends to take a literary course at either the U. of M. or Case Tech.

Maude Hardy and Valera Ripley will take commercial courses at Ferris Institute.

Lucille Hendrickson, Edna Himebaugh and Pearl Smith will attend Cleary College, taking a commercial course.

Mary McCann and Myrtle O'Neil will enter Harper hospital, Detroit, as student nurses.

Faith Ogden and Helen Richardson will attend county normal.

Nellie Smith, Doris Trimble, Wilma Wells and Madlyn Yettaw will attend college, but so far are undecided where they will go.

BIBLE SCHOOL HAS LARGE ENROLLMENT

Forty-five Present for Classes on Second Day.

The daily vacation bible school opened Monday morning at the Baptist church with an enrollment of 35. On the following day, Tuesday, the enrollment had jumped to 45 and indications are that many more will join.

The school gives a better opportunity for bible study than the usual short Sunday school hour and all those who have missed the opening days are invited to join for the balance of the school term.

OFFICERS CLEAN UP LIQUOR RING

TWO ARRESTS MADE TUESDAY—CONFESSIONS OBTAINED.

Information Furnished by Ohio Negro Led to Discovery of Vender and Maker of Supply.

Working on information furnished by Malroy Dudley, Lima, Ohio, negro arrested Monday on a charge of drunkenness, prosecuting attorney R. L. Lewis and Sheriff Dave Vaughan and deputies cleaned up another source of liquor supply in this vicinity Tuesday afternoon.

Dudley started work Monday morning at the Belvedere Hotel, where he was employed as houseman. It was later noticed that he was intoxicated and, when trouble was experienced in persuading him to leave, officers were called and he was placed under arrest. After leaving the hotel, Dudley and his wife had gone to a residence on Stover road and were found there by officers.

Dudley at first was not communicative regarding the source of his liquor supply, but Tuesday opened up and gave officers his story. It seems that he first put in his appearance at Ellsworth, where he sought employment at Big Fish Inn. It was at Ellsworth that he made the acquaintance of Claude Fairman, farmer living on Charlevoix Route 1 in Antrim county. He related how he and his wife lived at Fairman's place for a period of between two and three weeks, and during that time accompanied him on several trips when he obtained liquor and delivered it to customers at various places.

It was upon this information that Fairman was arrested Tuesday afternoon. He has since confessed to officers his guilt. Fairman implicated Norman Jensen, farmer living in the Miles school vicinity, as the person who furnished the liquor, and Jensen was arrested and brought to jail. Previous to his arrest, Jensen's place was searched and no liquor found. He at first denied all charges made by Fairman and Dudley, who related how they met Jensen on the road and transferred liquor from one car to another. Mrs. Dudley was also present and added her statements to those made by her husband and Fairman. Wednesday morning, however, Jensen came through with a complete confession.

Further information is not available as we go to press other than that officers have gone with Jensen to his place to locate the still and equipment.

DINING ROOM ADDITION AT HOTEL NOBLE

Fine Improvement Started This Week by Local Contractor.

Work was started this week by John Curtis, local contractor, on an addition to the dining room at the Hotel Noble on Antrim street. Plans call for an extension west nearly to the sidewalk dividing the two lots. The dining room will be glass enclosed with windows dropping nearly to the floor level. Mrs. Noble has worked out a very attractive decoration scheme and expects this enlargement of the dining room will meet a pressing demand for larger quarters. The improvement will be completed as soon as possible.

There will be a dance at Maple Grove Grange hall Friday evening, June 14. Everybody welcome. 251f

ANGLERS SHOULD OBSERVE REFUGE SIGNS

Placed to Protect Adult Bass While Guarding Spawning Beds.

With the opening of inland lake fishing on June 16th, but a few days off, fishermen are reminded that it is neither good sportsmanship or good sense to ignore the fish refuge signs placed on the spawning beds of the bass and blue gills. These signs have been placed on these areas to protect the adult fish over that period of time when the schools of young fish require parental care. No good sportsman needs to be reminded of this fact as the benefits to be derived are obvious.

This season the refuge plan is being tried out in an experimental manner. Another season it may be a different story as the new fish law which goes into effect on August 28 of this year reads in Section 2, "The Director of Conservation is hereby authorized to extend the closed season on any spawning bed when it shall appear that spawning or guarding is delayed beyond the time of the closed season provided by law. Notices defining the closed areas must be posted not less than five days prior to taking effect. For the purpose of this act a spawning bed shall be defined as any section of a lake, river, pond or other body of water where fish are known to congregate for the purpose of spawning."

MRS. OWEN GREEN DIED IN CHICAGO

FUNERAL HELD AT ST. MARY'S CHURCH HERE WEDNESDAY.

Remains Brought to Charlevoix by Family for Burial in Catholic Cemetery.

Funeral services were held at St. Mary's church Wednesday morning at 10:30 for Mrs. Owen Green, aged pioneer of Charlevoix and Beaver Island, who died Sunday, June 9, at the home of her daughter in Chicago. Interment was at the Catholic cemetery.

Mary Boyle was born at Arenmore, Ireland, January 1, 1836, and would have been 93 years of age her next birthday. She was married there to Owen Green, and, with their four children, the couple came to this country about 56 years ago, settling on a farm on Beaver Island. They later moved to Charlevoix where Mr. Green was engaged in commercial fishing. His death occurred some 19 years ago. Mrs. Green resided from that time on with her daughter, Mrs. Ava Smith, and lived at Charlevoix up until five years ago when the Smith family moved to Chicago.

Mrs. Green is survived by a son and three daughters, viz: Mike Green, Mrs. Ava Smith, Mrs. John McCabe and Mrs. John Kelley, all of Chicago. There are also fourteen grandchildren, several great-grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends. Six grandsons, Stanley and Gerald McCafferty, Hugh Kelley, Roland McCabe, J. C. Mooreland and Roy Stanger, acted as pall-bearers at the funeral.

Those from out of town present at the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Ava Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mooreland, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McCafferty, Stanley McCafferty, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. McCabe and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John McCabe, Mrs. John Kelley, Hugh Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stanger and Miss Dorothy McCabe, all of Chicago; Mrs. Peter Olson, Battle Creek; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Mueller and four children, Park Ridge, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Nels LaFreniere, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gallagher, W. J. Gallagher, Jr., and Capt. Owen Gallagher, all of Beaver Island. A large number of local friends and relatives were also present.

GAYLORD FATHER AND HIS SON MEET DEATH

Last Wednesday, just shortly after noon, Frank A. Duchoski, with his four-year old son and eight-year old daughter were fishing in Otsego Lake, just off Point Sunset. The little boy, Alex, fell out of the boat and the father went in after him. They both became entangled in fish lines and were drowned. The little girl stayed in the boat, and the wind blew it to shore, where she told of the accident.

TROUT REARING PONDS ATTRACT

255,000 FINGERLINGS SHELTERED AT JORDAN RIVER SITE.

Many Make Trip Above White's Headquarters to See Project Sponsored by Conservation Dept.

One of the interesting spots in the region at the present time may be found near the headwaters of the Jordan river in Antrim county, where the state department of conservation has recently completed the construction of a series of trout rearing ponds.

Two hundred and fifty-five thousand and trout is a lot of fish, but that is the number that has been placed in the ponds. James Pratt, Oden, who has been stationed there by the state conservation department, has permanent quarters near the ponds and will remain there until fall when the fingerlings are planted.

Those familiar with that part of the Jordan river will recognize the site. Control gates for the two ponds are located just below where the river goes through a large tile beneath the old railroad grade. There the stream has been split. Earth has been scraped out along the left side of the river bed for the ponds. At their head and on the main branch of the river, control gates have been built to regulate the flow of water. The upper pond is 150 feet long and contains 105,000 brook trout. The lower pond has 150,000 and is 300 feet long. At intervals sun protectors have been built in the pond for the fish to hide under. They resemble a with long legs.

Six times daily Mr. Pratt feeds the little trout ground river. They have now become used to his part of the daily program, and when he puts in his appearance with a pail of food, the little fellows congregate at the head of the pond for their meal. Off to the side of the ponds a large covered box has been built to keep the meat fresh.

Work will be started this week on still another pond to be 100 feet long for rainbows. It will be located below the other two. A crew of three men have been placed on the location now.

Local sportsmen look with rejoicing upon such a project as this. It is estimated when trout are put in rearing ponds and kept there until they reach the fingerling stage, 90 per cent survive for planting. When planted as fry there is a heavy loss. Mr. Pratt stated that he believed the Jordan river site to be an ideal one. The upper part of the river is spring fed and the water temperature consistently low. That state conservation department officials move fry clear from the Oden hatchery to this location is another proof that the site is a good one. It is the fond hope of every true sportsman that the whole Northern Michigan region will be filled with rearing ponds in the near future. When this time arrives our trout fishing will come back.

103 LB. MACKINAW TOPS LIST IN CONTEST

Jake Lindeman Landed This Prize Sunday in Lake Charlevoix.

Jake Lindeman set a high mark for local anglers to shoot at with his entry Monday morning of a 103 lb. pound mackinaw trout in Staley Brothers' fish contest. The trout was on display in the window Monday and certainly was a nice specimen. He made the catch Sunday in Lake Charlevoix. This is the largest fish entered in the contest to date.

Kenneth Usher started the ball rolling in Wood Brothers' Shakespear contest last week with the entry of a brook trout 12 inches long and weighing 12 ounces. Much larger trout have been brought in so far this season, but for some reason local anglers have been backward about entering their fish. The contests are open from now until September and some mighty nice prizes are being offered. Both stores invite sportsmen to enter their catches.

Library Hours Change.

Beginning Monday, June 17th, hours at the Charlevoix public library will change to the summer schedule as follows: 10:00 to 12:00 and 2:00 to 6:00 p. m. Saturday evening hours 7:00 to 8:30.

Lynn Mayne, accompanied by a friend from Grand Rapids, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mayne.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Voegeli of Chicago, are expected to arrive here this week, where they will occupy their cottage for the summer.

Mrs. Floyd Wagner gave a party at her home in Norwood last Saturday afternoon, in honor of her son, Forest, it being his seventh birthday. The afternoon was enjoyed playing games after which the hostess served delightful refreshments including a beautiful birthday cake with candles.

ATWOOD.

No price is set on the lavish summer, June may be had by the poorest corner.

The Clark school ended its school session for this term Friday, June 7.

We notice that George Parsons is very busy these days getting his camping grounds, etc., ready for the outdoor sportsmen.

Many of the pupils who wrote on the eighth grade examination from this vicinity, report being very successful in passing. Let's all go to high school now.

Those who attended the commencement exercises at Charlevoix last Friday night report it one of the best ever had by Charlevoix high school and county normal.

Mrs. Harry Cooper of Ellsworth, is at the home of her father, E. Vande Streek, this week taking care of Mrs. Stoddard, who is reported very ill at this writing. We wish for her speedy recovery.

The Young Peoples' I. H. S. Club of Atwood, will give a "variety" program in the Atwood town hall Wednesday evening, June 19. If laughing hurts you don't attend, but if it doesn't be sure and be there with the rest.

BARNARD.

Our high school girls and boys are home again after their years work.

Nearly all of Barnard attended the commencement exercises on Friday evening and enjoyed the excellent address by Dr. Rice and the other features of the evening's program.

Mrs. A. B. Clarke is in the neighborhood visiting old friends this week.

The Children's Day program will be given next Sunday at the usual church hour, 2:30 standard time.

Margaret Gornell came from Central Lake on Sunday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gornell.

Equip your car with tires of Good-year make. Low in price and long in wearing quality. Benj. Brown has them.—Adv. 10tf.

AUTO NEWS.

Under conditions more difficult than those which confronted Joffre's immortal "taxicab army" in its frantic dash to the Marne in 1914, Model A Fords swept to victory in a specially arranged contest based on war emergencies staged by the military first aid section of the General Finnish Automobile association.

Competing against 14 different makes of automobile manufactured in the United States and one Italian-made car, the sturdy Fords captured 18 out of 29 prizes. Ten of the 11 "honor prizes" went to the Fords. Every Ford which entered the contest finished the 400 kilometer route. One was driven by a woman.

The purpose of the Finnish Automobile association is to promote all-around driving training of its members in order that they may be able to take an active part in war maneuvers in a sudden emergency. Drivers received instructions regarding the route, parking places, and average speed required two minutes before the start of the race. No restrictions were placed on the size of the car or cylinder volume, which brought the Fords into competition with the more expensive and larger cars.

The race started from Helsinki, and the cars started at intervals of a few minutes in different directions. "Control Stations" were located at various points along the course to check the speed and other requirements. Reports of the outcome of the competition have just been received in this country.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Rose Genett, a pioneer resident of Norwood township, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Superinaw on State street Tuesday morning, June 4, her death being due to paralysis by which she was stricken five days previous.

Rose May was born in Sciota, Clinton county, New York, October 20, 1852, being a member of a family of seven, all of whom have preceded her in death.

In August of 1869 she was married to Maxim Genett and came with him to Michigan to the farm home in Norwood township which he had been cutting out of the wilderness for some years before. Being among the early settlers she had known many of the hardships and sacrifices that accompany the building of such a home.

She was the mother of five children, Miss Louise Genett, Mrs. Wm. Seymour and an infant son preceded her in death. Two sons, Plenny Genett of Norwood township, Reed Genett of Bellaire, three grand children, Ward Genett of Flint, Mrs. L. L. Hallett of St. Joseph, and Versil Seymour of Charlevoix; and two great-grandsons, Buddy and Dicky Hallett of St. Joseph, besides a large circle of more distant relatives and friends survive her.

Funeral services were held from St. Mary's church Thursday morning, June 6, with the Rev. Fr. Fitzpatrick officiating. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery.

ANTRIM CITY.

Mrs. Stott is on the sick list at this writing.

Alfred Brooks left for Detroit Tuesday.

Mrs. Will Denison was a visitor at the Slato home Thursday.

The Ben Mason family have moved on the Bolton place, near Charlevoix.

Joe Stott and Charley Lord attended the show at Charlevoix last Sunday.

Grace Houbtloff spent Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Will Denison.

Arthur Hall of Gaylord, spent the past week at the home of his son, C. Stott and family.

Grace Brooks, who has been teaching school at Rogers City, is home for the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks and family, Capt. Brant, Mrs. Slato and family were Sunday guests at the Milford Tyrrell home.

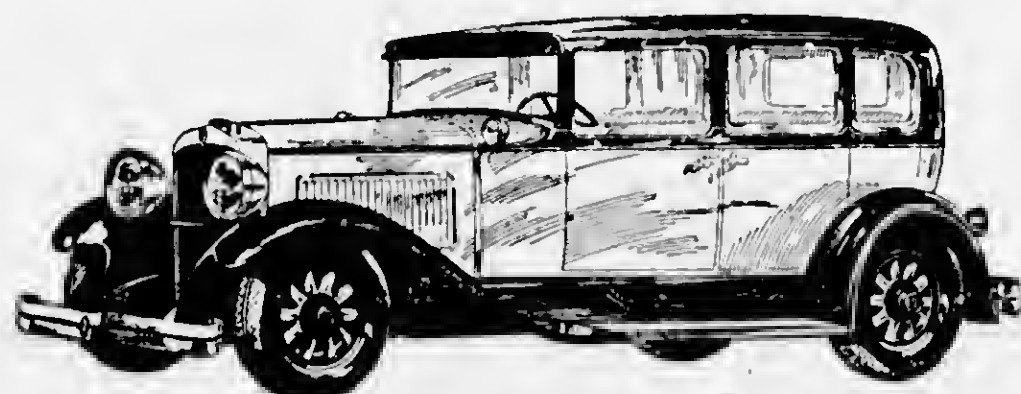

ENLAREGD CAR FERRY READY FOR SERVICE

The state car ferry Straits of Mackinac has been completely overhauled and a new deck added and is now ready for service. The ship has been taken to St. Ignace where stability tests will be made. She will go into regular service on May 29, augmenting the present one-boat service. A steam operated elevator lifts the cars from the maindeck to the new upper deck of the ship, the improvement costing the state something over $25,000. The work was handled at the Lund company ship yard at Cheboygan. The new deck will care for 25 cars. During most of the winter 25 men were employed on the ship.

NASH '400'

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

The Greatest Car in the $900 Field

COMPARISON PROVES IT!

NASH engineers have created the greatest motor car ever built in the $900 field.

Its features prove it. Just examine all the outstanding costly-car attractions this car offers.

Its performance proves it. Drive it and experience the great flow of smooth power from its big, high-compression, 7-bearing motor, the lightning-like get-away, the world's easiest steering.

Its size proves it. Big, comfortable, and with extra head and leg room for all 5 passengers. Finished with the luxury and tastefulness usually exclusive to expensive cars.

Its beauty proves it. For the "400" body design is the style leader—beautiful beyond comparison in its field.

Its equipment proves it. There's no extra charge for front and rear bumpers, Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, outboard mounted, spare tire lock and tire cover.

And its value proves it. Just compare the delivered, fully equipped prices of other cars with the low Nash delivered, fully equipped prices.

Price Range (f.o.b. factory) of 23 Nash "400" Models, $885 to $2190 including Touring, Roadster, Coupe, Cabriolet, Victoria and Sedan Models

"Why Should I Buy Tires from You?"

he said. Read my answer!

By Benjamin Brown

"In the first place," I replied, "have you ever made a study of tires?"

"No," he admitted.

"Well, do you know that any one of ten different sizes and types of Goodyear tires—at ten different prices—would fit your rims?"

He was surprised.

"It takes a man like myself, right here in town, who can see your car and find out the way you drive, to prescribe the proper TYPE and SIZE of tire that will FIT YOUR NEEDS at lowest cost. Otherwise, if you send off for tires or go to somebody who only wants to get as much money from you as he can, you're apt to pay a lot more and get the wrong kind of tire besides."

"Next, I sell only Goodyears. If there were any better tires made, however, I'd sell them instead."

But Goodyear leads the field—in all price classes. Reason? Goodyear makes millions more tires than anybody else and can therefore afford to put a quality into them that the others can't match and come out even.

"Lastly, I put on your tires the right way. We clean, straighten and graphite your rims, check your wheel alignment, and carefully mount the new tubes and casings. We watch your tires and after that—look them over—keep them properly inflated—whenever you drive in. And we're always here to see that you get a square deal, no matter what happens."

Then I gave him a demonstration of Superwrist Cord (Goodyear's patent) and the superior features of the Goodyear tread.

He said, "You've answered my question, Brother. Put 'em right on."

GOODYEAR

CUCUMBERS PROVE TO BE A GOOD PAYING CASH CROP FOR FARMERS

Of the 16 agricultural projects fostered by the agricultural department of Alma, Michigan, high school last year, the highest score was made in growing cucumbers. James Shimunek was the high school boy who won, and who secured the loving cup put up last summer by the Alma Chamber of Commerce.

A minimum of 12 agricultural projects are required at any one school to insure that school federal and state aid for the work. Alma had 16 projects last year. They were: Five bean, three corn, three potato, two cucumber, one beet, one bee, and one kidney bean project.

The report of James Shimunek, the winner, is taken from the Lansing Journal of May 22, 1929, as follows:

	Charges	Credits
Seed furnished by Company	$900.00
Manure bought and used	11.00
Commercial fertilizer (one bag)	2.90
Spray and Dust materials	1.40
By use of acre of land having value $115 at 6%	6.90
By use of equipment (machinery hours)	1.65
Self hours, 40 at 25c	10.00
Man hours, 129 at 25c	32.25
Horse hours, 28 1/2 at 20c	5.70
Sale of Cucumbers at Pickle Station at prices of $3.00, $1.25 and 50c		$211.17
NET PROFIT (Acres)	$139.87	$211.17

This high school lad has demonstrated clearly the actual net cash return that cucumber crops will give when well taken care of. Figuring all his expenses and his time, as well as the time of an extra man whom he hired 129 hours, he made a NET PROFIT of $139.87 from his acre. His cucumber project did better than any of the other 15 crops. His labor return per hour was $22.11. And he won the Loviag Cup.

The cucumber crop at Charlevoix and vicinity gives equally good results when the crop is given rich land and when well taken care of. Many growers get big returns year after year, serving as undisputed evidence that everyone can do well if equally good chances are provided for the crop.

Records show many growers who have had pickles contracted in this vicinity the past five years and who have made fine cash yields EVERY ONE OF THOSE FIVE YEARS. If your neighbor makes a success of his crops, surely you can too.

This is planting time for pickles. Ground should be well prepared the same as for beans. In fact, many growers use a portion of their bean field for an acre of pickles. Planting should be completed by June 12th or 15th to insure a full crop. The earlier the better.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellescamp

Turkey Meeting.
During the last few years considerable interest has been manifested in the raising of turkeys in this county. It is surprising to note the number of turkeys that are sold every year for the Thanksgiving holidays and Christmas.

In order to assist the many turkey raisers with the many problems that are common with turkeys a meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon, June 18, at the farm of Lyle Wilson, located on the Iron-ton road about two and one-half miles east of Iron-ton Ferry, beginning promptly at 2:00 fast time. A. J. Hannah, poultry specialist from Michigan State college will be present and be glad to discuss any problems you may have.

Contrary to popular opinion the feeding of turkeys is no more difficult than that of baby chicks. Also turkeys can be raised in confined quarters as well as in the open.

The production of turkeys is on the increase in this county and are making a fine cash crop for many farmers.

This spring many requests have come to the county agent for assistance on feeding and caring for turkeys and on many other subjects. Tell your neighbors about this meeting and plan right now on being present Tuesday afternoon, June 18, at the farm of Lyle Wilson.

Bull Pen—Breeding Chute Demonstration.

A safe and inexpensive way of keeping the herd sire when he begins to show his independence will be demonstrated at the farm of R. V. Liskum, located across from the Ranney school about three miles west of East Jordan on Thursday, June 20, beginning at 2:00 fast time in the afternoon.

Dairy herd sires which would have been worth thousands of dollars in building up Michigan dairy herds have been sold to the butchers because their owners became afraid to handle the animals. After these bulls were slaughtered, it has been found that their daughters showed marked increases in production over their dams.

The dairy department of the Michigan State college has developed a safety bull pen in which herd sires can be kept and used for breeding purposes without it being necessary for the owner to handle the bull at all. In connection with the pen a breeding chute is erected, which enables the owner to always be on the other side of the fence.

Figures from the Bureau of Dairying, Washington, D. C., state that 38 sires were proved in Michigan during 1928. Only four of these bulls are alive today, 22 are dead and 12 unknown.

In connection with the demonstration a dairy meeting will be held along the lines of the need of such pens in the saving of good sires. Comment will also be made about record keeping and pedigrees. E. N. Hansen, dairy specialist, will be present to lead the discussion.

Every owner of a herd sire in Charlevoix county should be present on June 20th at R. V. Liskum's and see the simple construction of this

MICHIGAN STATE TO CERTIFY POTATOES

Michigan Potato Producers Assn. Discontinues Project.

The Michigan Potato Producers Association, by action of the board of directors last Tuesday, decided to discontinue the inspection and certification of seed. The certification will hereafter be done by the Michigan Crop Improvement association with the Michigan State College looking after the inspection work.

This action came as the result of the sales organizations demanding a single certifying service in the state.

The Michigan Potato Producers Association was the originator of certified seed potatoes in Michigan. Originally the organization had members in the southern part of the state, but much of the south state seed did not have the stamina and freedom from disease of the hardy northern grown potatoes, and the organization was called upon to almost apologize for some of the seed that had its tag on it. Ere long southern members were allowed to drop out.

The powers-that-be at the college later declined to inspect and certify any potatoes except for an organization formed under its auspices and covering the whole state. The producers association members joined the Crop Improvement association, but found themselves handicapped by being classed with raisers of other than northern grown seed, and pulled out of the organization. They have been doing their own inspecting and certifying since that time.

But a later handicap developed. In other states, where state colleges have high reputations in their potato departments, potato raisers could not understand the Michigan situation and were inclined to look askance at seed that was not certified for or by a state college. The sales departments had difficulties because of this.

The sales departments feel that with this one handicap removed, they can confine their arguments to the sale of "Northern Grown Seed," and more rapidly boost the use and sale of seed potatoes from Northern Michigan.

The Producers will continue their organization and their work for the best and most disease-free seed potatoes possible, and make their organization's name a synonym for the best in certified seed.

FROSTING does not make the cake

The best frosting won't make a poor cake good. But it will make a good cake better. . . . Ethyl fluid can't make a poor gasoline good. It takes the best crude and proper refining to make a good gasoline . . . Ethyl added to proved dependable Red Crown makes the best gasoline you can buy!

there is only ONE RED CROWN ETHYL

You have known Red Crown gasoline for many years. You have proved Red Crown Ethyl gasoline for five years. They are known quantities with the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) back of every drop.

You have no way to test gasoline! You can hear the knocks but you can't see what causes them.

Poor gasoline may look like the best. You can't see the gums and the sulphur in it—but if they are present they are sure to damage your car.

Gums clog the pipes—form on valves—and valve heads do not seat properly. Sulphur causes acid—acid eats wrist pins and cylinders—and you pay for repairs.

To clear up gasoline, to take out sulphur, to eliminate gums, to make it sweet and clean are expensive processes. To insure this being done is why there is a minimum price you can afford to pay for gasoline. Red Crown is sold at that minimum price. You cannot afford to pay less!

If you'd like to know what your car can do, use Red Crown Ethyl. Try it on the longest run, in the heaviest traffic, up the steepest hill. At the wheel you can feel the difference Red Crown Ethyl makes.

You can get Red Crown Ethyl anywhere in the Middle West and the price is only 3c above Red Crown—which in turn is sold at as low a price as you can afford to pay.

THE PUBLIC MUST HELP.

The success of the present accident-prevention campaign, which will continue until June 30, will depend entirely upon the cooperation given the movement by the motoring public.

Official garages have been designated in every community, traffic and all other officials will assist, nothing has been left undone to help in making the highways of the state safe places on which to journey.

It is a sad commentary on the carelessness of those operating motor cars on the highways that a campaign of this nature and magnitude should be necessary.

Why should a motorist be requested and even compelled to do the very thing he should do to provide for the safety of himself and of others?

The motorist who fails to give whole-hearted support to the campaign is entitled to little consideration. Highway travel has grown to proportions too large to have it constantly endangered by the thoughtless and oftentimes criminally negligent few who persist in ignoring the few simple rules of safety first.

We should make short shift of this class of drivers. They are a constant menace to themselves and the traveling public. We have no place for them in the midst of our present day transportation problems.

THE SPY SYSTEM

When our national nerves become a bit frayed and we feel like getting hysterical on a large scale, we begin hunting for bogies masquerading under the banner of radicalism.

"Radicalism must go!" we shout in chorus, but after giving off a few shouts we settle back satisfied that the country is safe for a while longer. In this respect we act like children whenever a stranger invades the neighborhood. We seem to forget that as long as this country remains prosperous there it little to fear from radicalism.

The fact is, we are in more danger from the present government spy system, with its framing of innocent citizens, than we ever were from radicals giving vent to soap box orations.

When the government, as is now being charged, turns thousands of spies loose over this country, invading the rights of citizens, violating every established constitutional guarantee of freedom, there is always the danger that in the end free government and free institutions will suffer most.

Any government spy system on a big scale during peace times is vicious, untenable with American institutions and should be stamped out.

PROTECT OUR FORESTS.

Michigan was one of the few states to observe "Forest Week" this year. We have come to recognize that as an attraction to summer visitors, nothing is more valuable than the sight of growing timber. Not only is timberland attractive to everybody, but it adds tremendously to our material wealth and prosperity.

Therefore it not only is important that we encourage the planting of new forest, but that we guard and protect our present wooded areas. Today we lead all other states in forest protection, and with summer and dry weather on the way we should familiarize ourselves with a few simple rules for preventing fires in forests. Here they are:

1. Matches.—Be sure your match is out. Break it in two before you throw it away.

2. Tobacco.—Be sure that pipe ashes and cigar stubs are dead before throwing them away. Never throw them into brush, leaves, or needles.

3. Making Camp.—Before building a fire scrape away all inflammable material from a spot five feet in diameter. Dig a hole in the center and in it build your camp fire. Keep your fire small. Never build it against trees or logs or near brush.

4. Breaking Camp.—Never break camp until your fire is out—dead out.

5. Brush Burning.—Never burn slash or brush in windy weather or while there is the slightest danger that the fire will get away.

6. How to put out a camp fire.—Stir the coals while soaking them with water. Turn small sticks and drench both sides. Wet the ground around the fire. If you can't get water stir in dirt and tread it down until packed tight over and around the fire. Be sure the last spark is dead.

COMMUNITY SERVICE.

I am of the opinion that my life belongs to the whole community, and as long as I live it is my privilege to do for it whatever I can. I want to be thoroughly used up when I die, for the harder I work, the more I live. I rejoice in life for its own sake. Life is no "brief candle" for me. It is a sort of splendid torch which I have got hold of for a moment, and I want to make it burn as brightly as possible before handing it on to future generations.—George Bernard Shaw.

RESORT TRAINS

OPEN SEASON

First One Over P. M. Reached Here Saturday.

Summer service on the Pere Marquette railroad commenced Saturday. The train brought the first consignment of tourists over this line from St. Louis, Chicago, Grand Rapids and other cities to Northern Michigan.

The pre-season schedule calls for trains to arrive here on June 8, 12, 15, 18, 20 and 22nd. The regular summer daily runs begin June 23 and continue through the summer. The special trains on their return trips leave here on June 9, 12, 16, 18, 20 and 23rd.

The early runs of the through cars from Cincinnati, Toledo and Detroit will be made on June 20 and a through train on June 22.

This through train returns south the night of June 23. There will be no through trains out the night of June 24.

CHERRY FESTIVAL JULY 18-19

TRAVERSE CITY'S BIG TIME

The 1929 Michigan Cherry Festival will be Thursday and Friday, July 18 and 19, at Traverse City, it has been announced.

Governor and Mrs. Fred W. Green will take part in the program of both days. Again the governor will crown the queen of the Festival, and will be the chief figure of the picturesque celebration from the morning of the first day through the evening of the second.

Plans for the Festival are already well advanced. The two-day event will be divided between the city and the region. The first day it will cover the Grand Traverse region; the second it will be concentrated in Traverse City. A committee is mapping tours to all points in the cherry country, and it is hoped that several thousand tourists will spend a day among the orchards.

COMMANDER McDONALD

PAID CHARLEVOIX CALL

Commander Eugene McDonald, Chicago, president of the Zenith Radio Corporation, paid Charlevoix one of his numerous summer visits Tuesday evening. He was on his way from Miami, Florida, to Chicago with his new yacht, the Mizpa, which he brought up the Atlantic, through the St. Lawrence river and up the Great Lakes. The new craft is 185 feet long, has 27 foot beam and 10 foot draft. She is powered with two 800 h. p. Diesel motors and cruises at 17 knots. The boat is probably the largest private-owned yacht on the Great Lakes. Several local friends of Commander McDonald were taken aboard the ship and they proclaimed it a marvel.

CHARLEVOIX QUOTA IS NOT FILLED

NO APPLICATIONS FOR C. M. T. C. ARE IN YET.

Charlevoix County Committee Issues Appeal to Youth; Time to Apply Is Growing Short.

From time to time, articles have appeared in this paper, regarding the Citizens' Military Training Camps. These camps, scattered over different parts of the country are among the most potent forces for good citizenship, patriotism and the basis of national defense, that has ever been devised. The improved mental, moral, physical and spiritual condition of each young man who has attended one of these 30-day training periods, is beyond question.

Charlevoix county's quota is eight. Last year, ten young men signed up for the course and every one who went, reported having had the time of his life and came back enthusiastic over the work and the treatment he had received at the camp. To date, our county is one of the very few that has sent in no applications. The time is rapidly drawing to a close when applications will be received.

Other sections of the state are eagerly filling their quotas and after July 1st, Charlevoix county's quota will be filled by some of the other counties. We want Charlevoix to be represented. Our county has always done her share in every activity of a civic and patriotic nature and we don't want to see her lag behind in this. Every young man between the ages of 17 and 24, who is in good physical condition and is possessed of good morals and who does not feel that he must get out and strike a job the first thing after leaving high school, should send in his application. He will be in better physical condition for entering college or taking a position in the business and industrial world, later in the summer.

Remember, there is no expense attached to taking the work. Uncle Sam pays for everything except your time. Transportation, board and lodging, uniforms and equipment are furnished. The boys from this section of the state will go to Fort Brady, at the Soc. The date for opening the camp is July 19, continuing until August 17. Application blanks may be procured from any members of the local committee, R. F. Sloan, O. P. North, Ira Adams, Richard Paddock or F. H. Wilkinson.

There will be a dance at Ironton Grange hall, Friday evening, June 21. Everyone welcome.—Adv. 241f.

LOCAL YOUNG MAN IS HONORED AT DETROIT

Allen Arnold Writes Home of Success Attained There Recently.

We are quoting in part a letter from Allen Arnold, former local boy now located at Birmingham, Mich., to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arnold, this city, in which he tells of the success he is making in his chosen profession, photography. Before going further we extend our congratulations to Allen. A part of his letter follows:

"A short time ago the Detroit Portrait Photographers Association hired a model and sent her around to the studios of all the members to be photographed. Although she was a rather pretty girl, she was picked because she was a hard subject to photograph. Each member had the privilege of photographing her in as many and varied poses as he wished. From these he picked the one he considered the best and made one print, this to be in a specified size and finish, so that all would be uniform. At our May meeting, held last Monday night, the prints were brought in and displayed in competition. No name was allowed to appear on the face of any print, so the judge had no idea to whom the photograph might belong. Prof. Leon A. Makiel-ski of the Art Department of the University of Michigan judged them from an artist's viewpoint, and I won the first prize. I feel pretty good about it, when some of the big bugs of Detroit had portraits in the competition. Also I have felt honored by being elected secretary and treasurer of the Association, considering the fact that I am the only member whose studio is outside of Detroit, and I am one of the youngest members."

TODAY—you can pay a Low Price and not Sacrifice your pride

When you familiarize yourself with low-priced cars in general, simple logic tells you the newly-refined Plymouth is the car for your money.

JUDGMENT calmly says, "Plymouth is the only low-priced car which has the modern style of Chrysler designing or the thrilling performance of Chrysler engineering."

PRIDE says, "Plymouth is the roomiest and most comfortable of all low-priced cars—a car you can invite your friends to ride in without having to make any excuses."

CAUTION says, "Plymouth is a safer car to drive. It has full-size ruggedness and stability. It is the only low-priced car possessing weatherproof internal-expanding four-wheel hydraulic brakes."

THRIFT says, "Plymouth costs so phenomenally little to maintain and operate."

WISDOM, summing it all up, says, "Buy a Plymouth. It is the greatest value in its field."

See body styles, priced from $655 to $995. All prices $200.00. Plymouth dealers extend the convenience of time payments.

Within Arm's Reach

In the most modern homes you will find a telephone conveniently near you wherever you may be. The old time reception hall telephone is retained, but, in addition, extension telephones are placed in the bedroom, library, guest room, kitchen and basement, and even the bathroom.

A telephone makes any room more livable. You may use it not only to talk to near neighbors and distant friends, but the installation can be made so that it will be possible to telephone from one room to another within your home.

Extension telephones are inexpensive conveniences which are becoming more and more popular. There are portable telephones, too, that can be moved from room to room.

We will be glad to have a representative explain to you just how these modern telephone facilities can be applied to your own home, at moderate cost. Call the Telephone Manager.

Do You Want Gas For Cooking?

If a gas company was to install gas mains in the streets of Charlevoix, there would be a grand rush for service. Why not install a Taylor Plant, which is 20 per cent more efficient and cheaper to use? This is not a bottled gas, neither is it a manufactured gas, but rather a natural gas. A Taylor plant large enough for any home for $125.00. Hotels, Clubs and Restaurants from $225.00 up. If you are interested drop us a line or call

SOME NEW GAME LAWS IN EFFECT

OTHERS WILL BECOME LAW ON AUGUST FIRST.

Gov. Green Signs New Codification
Recommended by Department and Passed by Legislature.

The legislative measures effecting conservation matters passed by the recent session and now signed by the Governor to become laws on August 28th, and those that were given an immediate effect clause, and have already become law, are listed below:

Game.

An act authorizing and providing for the propagation, release, shooting, possession, etc., of upland game birds.

An act to provide for the protection of game animals, birds, etc. This is the general game bill which consolidated previous game laws. Effective in August.

An act to change the name of the Montmorency Game Refuge.

An act to provide for the establishment of wild life sanctuaries.

An act to license and regulate the possession, propagation, purchase, etc., of wild birds and animals.

An act to provide for better protection and preservation of game, fish, and furbearing animals by authorizing the conservation commission to establish refuges for water fowl on submerged lands of the Great Lakes.

Fish.

An act to confer power and authority upon the conservation commission to provide for the erection and maintenance of proper means for the free passage of fish through or over dams. Effective in August.

An act to regulate the setting of nets in the waters of that portion of Saginaw Bay known as White Stone Point, effective in August.

An act to protect fish in the inland waters of the state, codifying previous measures, repealing many, and changing the open season for inland lake fishing blue gills, bass, etc., from June 16th to June 25th. Also changing the trout license law as to make it mandatory for every person over 18 years of age to acquire a license. Effective in August.

An act to create a harbor refuge at Harbor Beach. Effective in August.

An act to protect and preserve the commercial fisheries of the state. Immediate effect.

An act to change the name of Carp Lake, Emmet county. Effective in August.

Lands.

An act to remove the previous limitation of 240 acres per person in sales or exchanges of state lands. Effective in August.

Forest Fire Control.

An act to authorize the conservation department to enter, construct, and maintain fire lines on any unimproved lands. To increase the rate of pay for impressed forest fire suppression services from 20c to 50c per hour. This act also contains a penal clause regarding the careless setting of fires. Effective in August.

Parks.

An amendment to Public Act No. 218 of 1919, allowing the conservation commission to lease public service businesses in state parks. Effective in August.

Pollution.

An act authorizing cities and villages to provide sanitary means of disposal of sewage, etc. Immediate effect.

An act to create a stream control commission. Effective in August.

An act to provide for the incorporation of any two or more cities, villages, or townships, or any combination of parts of the same, for the purpose of owning, acquiring, and operating among other things, sewage disposal facilities. Effective in August.

Law Enforcement.

An act to license and regulate the business of buying and selling furs, hides, and pelts. Effective in August.

An act to provide for the condemnation of property seized for violation of game and fish laws. Effective in August.

Conservation Department Administration.

An act placing the terms of service of the seven conservation commissions at six years, increasing the salary of the director and putting his appointment in the hands of the commission. Immediate effect.

Geology.

An act to provide for a supervisor of oil and gas wells. Immediate effect.

An act to regulate the business of carrying or transporting, etc., crude oil or petroleum. Immediate effect.

An act levying a specific tax to be known as the severance tax upon corporations, etc., engaged in the business of severing oil and gas from the soil. Immediate effect.

An act relating to the record, forfeiture, and selection of oil, gas, and other mineral leases. Effective in August.

An act authorizing the conservation commission to lease the mineral rights on state lands for exploration and development. Immediate effect.

An act making the reservation of mineral rights on state lands optional rather than mandatory on the conservation commissioners, and also authorizing the commission to sell all reserved rights with priority rights to purchase given to the record holder of the title. Immediate effect.

An act providing for the cooperative airplane photographic mapping between the U. S. geological survey and state departments. Immediate effect.

AUTOMOBILE SAFETY CAMPAIGN IS NOW ON

All Motorists Should Cooperate and Have Cars Gono Over.

Charlevoix automobiles will be among the safest on the highways if Chief of Police W. J. Weikel and his safety campaign committee have the cooperation of the motorists in the annual auto tests just beginning. All of the downtown garages are test stations. Every motorist should drive his car in at his earliest convenience to have it put through the tests. There is no expense to this. All over the state free tests are being made under the direction of the Michigan Safety Council.

The work began last week and ends June 30, when, it is hoped, every automobile and truck owned in Charlevoix will have been inspected and will be carrying the O. K. sticker on its windshield. Brakes and steering gear are the principal parts that are inspected. It is strictly a safety inspection and the safety requirements are strict. The car that passes the tests will have a "clean bill of health" anywhere in Michigan and the owner will know that it can be driven in any traffic with assurance of safety.

Last year most of the local motorists cooperated in the safety campaign and the committee believes that they will again. It is urged, however, that they cooperate early.

LITTLE CRIPPLES GIVEN CLINIC AID

Fifty-one Examined at Affair Conducted by Petoskey Rotary.

A highly successful crippled children's clinic conducted by the Rotarians closed last Tuesday afternoon, 51 children coming under the skilled observation of Dr. Carl Badgley.

The clinic was the third one held in Petoskey, the figures greater than the two former ones, being swelled by children brought in by both Charlevoix and Cheboygan counties.

Chalmers Curtis, Sr., was chairman in charge, being ably assisted by county nurse, Miss Katherine Warner, school nurse Miss Inez Barton, Mrs. Charles J. Gray who heads the baby clinic and others, all of whom gladly gave their time and energy to the helpful undertaking.

Dr. Badgley, who is a gifted orthopedic of wide reputation, appeared to read the underlying causes without difficulty, his suggestions being taken down stenographically and copies being furnished later to the parents and local physicians.

CHEBOYGAN PLANS BIG CELEBRATION

Three Day Affair To Include Homecoming and Fourth of July.

The Boosters Club of Cheboygan is planning a big three day celebration to be held on July 4, 5 and 6. A homecoming feature will be included and the usual Fourth of July entertainment. A parade of floats will be a feature.

A letter to the Graphic invites Harbor Springs to come over and participate in the celebration and to enter a float in the parade to represent Harbor Springs. Other neighboring cities have been extended the same invitation.

BUYS BIGGER AIRPLANE

Standard Oil Co. (Ind.) Replaces the Famous Stanolind with Finer, Faster Stanolind II, to Be Used for Company Transportation and as Flying Laboratory.

A plant new airplane, all metal, tri-motored, and carrying nine passengers, has just been delivered by the Stout Division of the Ford Motor Company to the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), according to an announcement by Allan Jackson, Vice President, speaking for the Directors of the latter company, from its offices at 610 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago. It has been christened "Stanolind II."

The original STANOLIND was the first giant passenger plane to be purchased by an industrial organization for use in its business. Although originally ordered in June, 1925, it arrived in Chicago from Detroit on the same day, and almost at the identical moment that Lindbergh landed in Paris, May 21st, 1927. During the twenty months of service before it was sold for the larger, finer, and speedier STANOLIND II, it traveled upwards of 81,000 miles, carrying nearly 6,200 passengers, the great majority of whom had never before flown in an airplane. That the Directors of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believe in the safety and advantages of this form of transportation is shown by the statement that the joint mileage of the Directors totaled 87,436.

STANOLIND II is equipped with three Pratt & Whitney "Wasp" motors, each of 410 horse power, a total of 1,230 horse power, giving it a high speed of 140 miles, and a cruising speed of 115 miles per hour. It can go to a 20,000 foot ceiling, and with its gasoline capacity of 355 gallons stored in three tanks in the wings, fly 630 miles without refueling.

It has an overall length of 40 feet 10 inches, and an overall span of 77 feet 10 inches, giving it a wing area of 835 square feet and a gross load capacity of 13,250 pounds. As the weight of the plane and three motors is 7,594 pounds, it leaves 5,656 pounds available for carrying of crew, fuel, and passengers. The actual passenger and baggage capacity is 2,611 pounds, but as the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) officials believe in excess safety factors, the plane will not be permitted to carry a greater load than 2,025 pounds, which represents nine 200 pound passengers and 25 pounds of baggage for each. Seating capacity is provided by adjustable reclining chairs in the 16-foot cabin, which is 4 1/2 feet wide and 6 feet high.

Provision is made for amply heating the plane during cold weather. It is electric lighted, has adjustable windows, and is equipped with two ladders for emergency landing in case night flying is done, while in the cabin of the two pilots will be found both magnetic and earth inductor compasses, turn and bank and drift indicators, altimeter, speed indicators, and the usual navigation instruments for both day and night flying. At the rear of the passenger cabin is located the lavatory and toilet, the baggage being carried in compartments in the wings.

The STANOLIND II will remain in Chicago for a week or ten days before going into active service.

May 24th, 25th and 26th, it is to act as the flagship of the St. Paul Association of Commerce's "Good Will Tour" from St. Paul to Winnipeg, carrying as passengers the famous flying St. Paul City Council. June 3rd it will leave Wichita, Kansas, as the flagship of the Second Kansas Air Tour, on its two weeks' trip around that state.

EDITORIALS

RUMORS.

No industry in the history of the world has been more subject to the wagging tongues of rumor carriers than has the automobile manufacturing business. Much of this circulating of downright falsehoods has been by individuals but, unfortunately, there are occasional publications whose uncontrollable desire for a " scoop " has led them to publish untrue or unproven assertions as fact.

There probably is no manufacturer of automobiles that has maintained from the first a more rigid policy of sane conservatism than that of the Reo Motor Car company. That company has operated a manufacturing institution of the highest order, taking pride in its product, never subjecting the public to the seasonal changes of models that obsoleted the products of the previous few months. The company never has used its plant as a financial football with which to buck the line on Wall street. It has never made exaggerated claims for its products or its financial position but has been ever ready to issue any desired information on any phase of its business to any individual or publication that has had a legitimate right to ask for such information.

In spite of these facts The Reo Motor Car company, like all other auto manufacturers, has been subjected at times to the groundless babble of the rumor passers. The company now has filed suit for a million dollars against the Automotive Daily News as the result of publication of a story in its May issue stating that the Reo company has under production, in its plant at Lansing, a new eight-cylinder model soon to be announced.

The Reo company, through its president, Richard H. Scott, this week is issuing a statement in the press throughout the country, denying the assertion of the Automotive News in no uncertain terms. In the statement Mr. Scott says in part: "The stockholders of the Reo Motor Car company have a property worth more than $30,000,000 in net assets. The distributors and dealers of the Reo Motor Car company have at least $20,000,000 more invested in the business of merchandising Reo cars and Speed Wagons. We feel that we owe not only to those stockholders and dealers, an obligation to protect them to the fullest extent possible against such an inexcusably reckless and unwarranted attack upon their property rights."

The Reo company does owe this debt to the stockholders and dealers and it seems to be paying the debt. It is, however, doing an even greater service to the automotive industry in general since its court action certainly will halt circulation in the future of stories based on the "I heard from a high official" type of information.

We are not trying this damage suit out of court but we do believe, if the facts are as stated by The Reo Motor Car company, that here is a case where "setting an example" may be for the ultimate good of the industry and of publications that are more anxious to have the facts than to "beat another publication to a hot story."

CLASSES OF MEN.

A business man was recently talking about different kinds of men.

One was the kind who visioned things to be done and then, without orders, did them.

Another was the kind who did not see the things to be done but when told to do something will do it well.

The third classification includes those who have to be told two or more times that something needs to be done.

The last group does not get very far and wonders why.

The middle fellows are respected and valued but the great prizes of life are not theirs.

The first group is small. All those within it stand out. They get the success and the great pleasures of life. They are the rare men in professional and business life.

Which group do you belong to?—Grand Rapids Minn. Herald-Review.

THE GOVERNOR'S VETO.

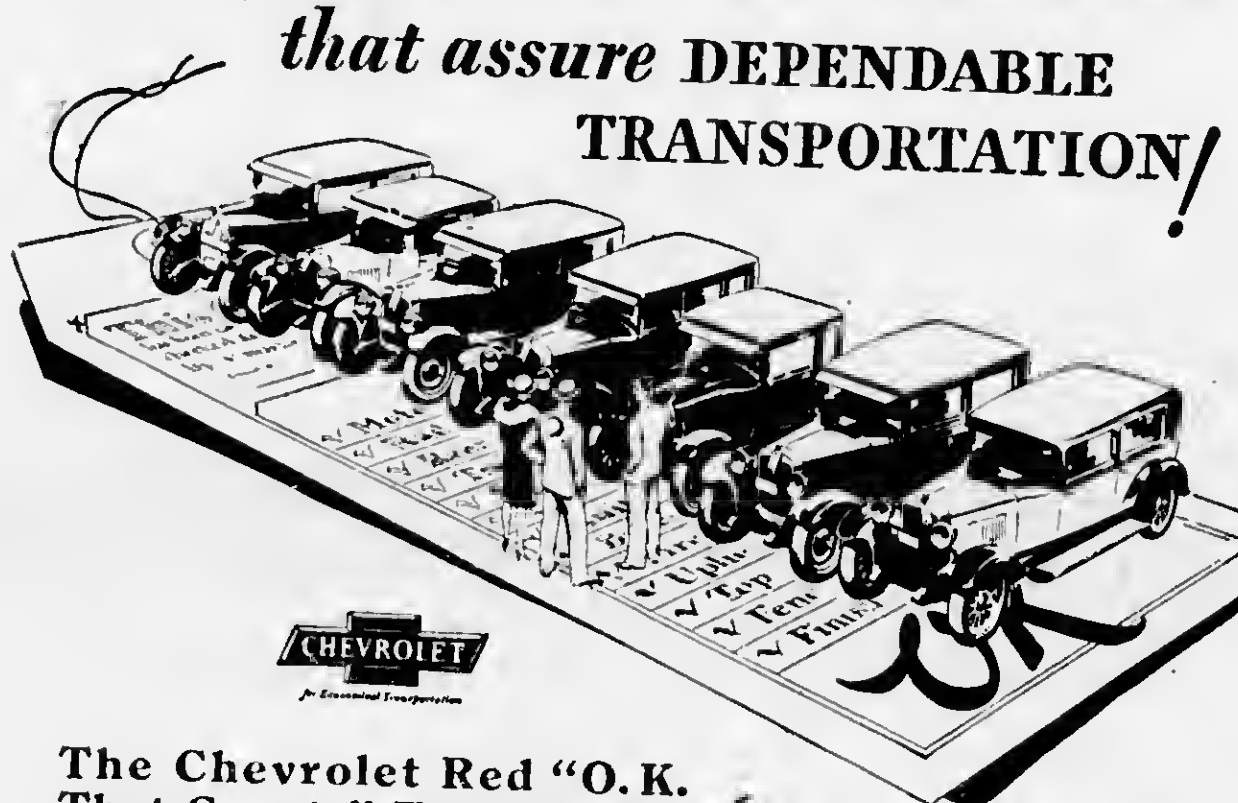

The expression of editorial opinion following Governor Green's veto of the capital punishment bill was not so sharp, nor was it as evenly divided as one might expect, following the wide discussion given this subject previous to the time that it made its appearance on the chief executive's desk in statute form.

The exceptions to the governor's action were remarkably few, and these were not so much in the nature of a dignified or intelligent discussion of this important piece of legislation as they were in expressing personal disappointment because of his refusal to permit Michigan to re-enter the list of states where legalized taking of human life is recognized.

We have no desire, nor is there any necessity for prolonging the controversy by continuing this discussion.

The Chevrolet Red "O. K. That Counts" Tag Protects Your Used Car Purchase.

Every reconditioned car we offer for sale is identified by means of the Chevrolet red "O. K. that Counts" tag. This tag is the purchaser's assurance that the car to which it is attached has been gone over carefully by expert mechanics—that it has been thoroughly reconditioned—and that the price is based on the car's actual ability to render service.

Due to the overwhelming popularity of the new Chevrolet Six, we have on hand at this time an unusually large group of these "O. K." cars. Come in! You are certain to find the car you want—at a price that will save you money. Make a small down payment and drive your car away!

Within recent years many communities have made the mistake of paving their roads and streets at what they considered a "bargain price." The taxpayers thought they would save thousands of dollars.

In many instances the maintenance has not only wiped out the hoped for saving, but has exceeded original cost. And in many cases also it has been necessary to build entirely new pavements—of permanent construction.

There are communities, however, which know the cheapest is not always the best. Many of these also built roads and streets several years ago. And they built for permanence with concrete.

These concrete pavements, built in accordance with approved standards of construction, are in as good condition today as when they were built.

Which of these communities will yours be?

Chief Potatoes Spuds Make Appearance in City Size Container.

Keeping in step with the changing trend of consumer demand, the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange, of Cadillac, has gone into the big cities with potatoes of guaranteed quality and has begun selling them in 15-pound cloth sacks.

Buffalo was the first city where this new sales method was undertaken this season and the first carload of northern Michigan potatoes offered in these convenient sized containers drew 10 or 12 cents more per sack than the prevailing market price of just plain spuds.

This was an experiment and followed a recent retail survey in Chicago which showed that the average consumer purchase of potatoes is about seven pounds at a time. Lack of storage facilities makes it necessary for the city housewife to purchase in smaller quantities than was the custom a generation ago, it is found.

The Buffalo experiment with potatoes put up in the small, convenient sized containers brought orders for 2,000 bags within a few hours. The bulk of these orders from the higher-class residential sections.

The potatoes in the first shipment were graded and packed by the Boyne City Farmers' Marketing Association. The sacks used were branded with the "Chief Potatoes" trade-mark of the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange. Thus, the trade name could be placed in the homes where demand for specific brands originates. This was the chief purpose of the experiment this winter.

Potatoes are just potatoes to the city buyer as long as he sees them taken out of hundred pound bags or bushel crates or barrels but when he notes a trade-mark on a convenient sized bag and learns that a commodity of extra good quality is packed therein, a demand for this product is set up. This was found to be the case on the Buffalo market and the Exchange aims to supply that demand for select potatoes in 1929.

AT THE MOVIES

Arthur Is Again Seen in Skirts.

George K. Arthur's host of fans liked his female impersonation in "Detectives" so well that when "All at Sea," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy, in which he appears with his famous co-star, Karl Dane, went into production, Alf Goulding, the director, had a special sequence written in which Arthur could again don skirts and false hair. The resulting comedy is some of the funniest in the entire picture, which is a series of amusing gags from start to finish.

"All at Sea" will be at the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday.

Douglas MacLean in Novel Picture.

Variety of entertainment has always been a feature of the moving pictures in which Douglas MacLean is the star, and so it is not surprising to find Doug pulling something else new in his latest picture "The Carnation Kid" which is the feature production at the Palace Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

MICHIGAN CROPS BELOW AVERAGE

JUNE 1 REPORT FINDS CROPS BELOW STANDARD.

Cool Weather of Spring Months Has Greatly Retarded Growth; Frost Damages Fruits.

Michigan's winter and spring seven grain crops were all below average in condition on June 1st this year according to the crop report issued today by Herbert E. Powell, commissioner of agriculture and Verne H. Church, agricultural statistician for Michigan. On this date winter wheat was really in the best condition of any of the grain crops despite the fact that its condition declined three per cent during May to 79 per cent of normal, which compares with 80.6 per cent for the ten-year average condition on June 1. On the basis of this condition the Michigan winter crop forecast is now 14,896,000 bushels, or slightly more than the final estimate last year.

Michigan rye had a condition of 81 per cent of normal on June 1, and the production forecast was 2,138,000 bushels which is less than the final 1928 crop.

Oat seeding was seriously delayed by heavy successive rains, and cool weather prevented normal growth of seeded oats. It seems likely that the Michigan oat acreage will be much less than intended; and with the June 1 condition of only 70 per cent of normal, a low total production is anticipated although no production forecast will be made until in July after the acreage is estimated. Michigan barley suffered from the same weather as did oats, and as a result the condition on June 1 was 72 per cent of normal compared with the ten-year average of 84 per cent.

The condition of hay in Michigan is above average with the exception of alfalfa which was retarded by the cool weather and which is spotted from slight winter killing in some sections. All tame hay had a condition of 84 per cent of normal compared with the ten-year average of 80.5 per cent. Pastures are also good.

Frost damage in Michigan accounts for a widely different condition for various fruits as well as a wide range in the condition of each fruit in adjoining sections. Pears in the southwestern part of the state suffered most, but early apples, plums, peaches, and cherries were also damaged considerably in this same section. Frost did less damage further north in the fruit belt as the bloom was later, and consequently from Allegan county north the prospects are mostly good. The condition of Michigan fruit crops on June 1 was: Apples 78 per cent, peaches 65 per cent, pears 50 per cent, cherries 67 per cent, plums 54 per cent, grapes 69 per cent, blackberries and raspberries 73 per cent, and strawberries 70 per cent of normal. Apples, peaches, and cherries are above the ten-year average, and the others are below average.

The June 1 United States winter wheat forecast was 622,148,000 bushels, an increase of four per cent over the crop indicated on May 1 this year.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m. Subject: "God the Preserver of Man."

Wednesday evening service, 7:45 p. m., first Wednesday in the month only.

"God the Only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, June 9.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God." (Romans 8:16).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Every concept which seems to begin with the brain begins falsely. Divine Mind is the only cause or Principle of existence. Cause does not exist in matter, in mortal mind, or in physical forms." (p. 262).

OVER 200,000 VIEW EXHIBIT OF MICHIGAN WILD LIFE

The exhibits of game fish, game and predatory animals, and other conservation subjects at the Chicago Sportsman's Show were seen by over 200,000 people. These exhibits and those of the Resort and Tourist associations contributed largely toward selling Michigan to the summer vacationist from Illinois and adjoining states.

The Michigan Tourist and Resort associations has rented a ground floor office located at 107 West Jackson Boulevard, (second door off corner Clark street) Chicago. This office will be open for operation, starting Monday, May 20, and will continue until September 30, inclusive.

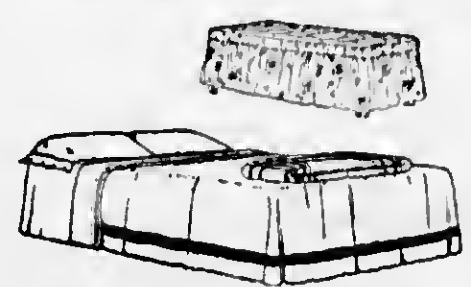

Competent help, knowing Western Michigan thoroughly, will be in charge, the office there to disseminate impartial information regarding Western Michigan and its resort.

Warning to Dog Owners.

BANKERS COMING FOR CONVENTION

CONVENE JUNE 24 TO 28 AT THE INN HOTEL.

Business Sessions, Golf Tournament and Other Entertainment Features Are On Program.

The Inn opens for the 1929 summer season on Saturday of this week. On Monday, June 24th, the Forty-third Annual Convention of the Michigan Bankers' Association will officially open there. This convention will be the largest to visit Charlevoix for some time. Five hundred members and guests are expected. Many will arrive here by auto on Saturday and a Pere Marquette special run will bring in a large number Sunday.

A big entertainment feature will be the annual golf tournament, to be played Tuesday and Wednesday. The tourney will be of 36 holes, one round played on each course. The players will be divided Tuesday afternoon, some on one course and the balance on the other. The following afternoon they will reverse, playing the other course, thus completing 36 holes on different courses. The tourney is divided into three divisions, members, guests and open to all, with 17 trophies posted as awards.

Robert Bridge and Archie Livingston, this city, are members of the entertainment committee with B. VanderMeulen, Grand Rapids, and Charles McMahon, Detroit. This committee have arranged a fine program and have spared no time or expense to make it the best ever featured. Among the entertainers are the famous W. G. N. male quartette, Finzel's orchestra, Detroit, will furnish music for dancing. An evening of movies is planned, also a boat trip on the Str. Puritan to Harbor Springs and return. Outside of business sessions, each day is to be filled with delightful entertainment.

Mrs. Robert Bridge and Mrs. A. L. Livingston are members of the ladies' entertainment committee. Among the features on their program is a drive around Lake Charlevoix on Wednesday, stopping at the Belvedere Hotel for tea on their return. A bridge party has been arranged at the Beach Hotel on Tuesday and ladies attending the convention will find no dull moments. Henry Melching, Harbor Springs, is bringing four speed boats to Charlevoix for use of guests. Geo. Beeman and Gerald Richardson are local members of the committee in charge of reservations and accommodations.

Following is the convention program exclusive of entertainment features:

Business Sessions: Monday, June 24th, 1929, 1:00 A. M.

CHARLEVOIX HAS FIRST DROWNING

RICHARD LEWIS SHORES VIC-TIM SATURDAY MORNING.

Two Lads Waiting to Go On Boat Trip Capsized in Canoe; Herschel Brown Had Narrow Escape.

Charlevoix's first drowning accident in two years or more occurred in Round Lake Saturday morning. Richard Lewis Shores, son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Shores, was the victim.

From information we have been able to gather, the accident occurred shortly before 5:00 o'clock Saturday morning. With his companion, Herschel Brown, Richard was intending to go out on Lake Michigan on Charles Hendrickson's fish tug, the Charles Frank. While waiting for the boat to leave, the two lads went out in a canoe, which, in some manner, capsized and threw them into the water. They were within a few feet of the city yacht slips. It is thought the canoe struck Richard on the forehead as it overturned and stunned him. The lad was a good swimmer, but he sank immediately. His body was recovered by Charles Hendrickson, Sr., within a short time after the mishap. Coast guards were called and they worked in an attempt to resuscitate him for nearly two hours without avail.

Brown was taken from the water by Albert Clark, a fisherman, as he was going down the third time. Although he was in a serious condition then, he was taken to his home and soon recovered.

Richard was a student in Charlevoix junior high school and was very popular and well liked. He would have been 11 years old in August. His death was a terrible shock to the entire city. Surviving besides his parents are one brother and four sisters.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Joseph Shores residence with Rev. John E. Lockyer of the Methodist church officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery. A large crowd attended the funeral to pay their last respects and an entire car load of flowers showed the esteem in which the lad was held.

POPULAR LOCAL COUPLE WED WEDNESDAY

Now at Home Here Following Honeymoon to Chidago.

Miss Edith Struthers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Struthers, and Lloyd Curtis were married at noon Wednesday in Big Rapids. Their marriage was a complete surprise to local friends upon whom they cleverly stole the march.

Both are very well and favorably known here. For the past year Miss Struthers was an instructor in the junior high school, while Mr. Curtis has been employed at Fessenden's drug store for several years.

The happy couple returned Sunday from a honeymoon trip to Chicago, and are now at home to their many friends.

CHEBOYGAN ED. SOUNDS ALARM

WANTS TAMPERING WITH CIGARETTE TAX LAW CRUSHED.

Points Out Benefit to His Own County—Charlevoix Likewise Effected by Measure.

In the following article we are quoting Editor Al. H. Weber of the Cheboygan Observer, who, in his usual forceful manner, is enlightening his readers on a topic of vital interest to all northern Michigan. The subject he has under discussion pertains to the efforts of certain interests to put through a referendum on the cigarette tax law passed by the last legislature. This measure provides many thousands of dollars for the poorer school districts, of which Charlevoix is no exception, and any effort to hinder the measure should be turned down cold in no uncertain manner. His article follows:

"In many business places of the city can be found copies of a petition urging a referendum on the cigarette tax law passed by the last legislature, and a perusal of these papers will prove to one that many prominent people of the city have signed the same.

"We wonder if the signers of those petitions really mean what they have put their names to in this instance. We wonder if they are more concerned with their supply of cigarettes than they are about the welfare of our city and country schools and if they really approve of depriving some of our young school children of an education for the sake of saving a few cents on their yearly supply of cigarettes?

"We wonder if they really do not know that this cigarette tax they have allowed themselves to become opposed to is the means that has been devised by the legislators to provide the two million dollars that has been voted through the Turner Bill to help pay the expenses of maintaining schools in the poorer districts, and if this cigarette tax is killed off there is little likelihood of the schools being provided with any extra money. If this referendum the signers of those petitions ask for is successful and the public votes against the tax on cigarettes, whether there will be a two million dollars saddled upon the tax payers to pay this sum or there won't be any school relief. It is strange there are people in our midst who will sign this petition and urge its adoption when in reality it means the taking away from our city and county school a total of about $45,000 in real hard cash that we won't get otherwise. We cannot conceive that these people who have signed the petition know what they are signing. They have done it just because it is a habit to sign petitions, and they do not count the cost. If we believed the people who have signed these petitions really had their heart in the matter and fully knew their mind and were exercising it in this manner, we would not hesitate to show up in print those who stood in the way of our county and its young people, and voted and worked to deprive the young children of the advantages the children in richer communities have. It would

STORES WILL OPEN WEDNESDAY NIGHTS

SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT PLANNED FOR THE PUBLIC.

Thursday Evening Band Concerts Changed to Wednesday and Other Features of Entertainment.

At a meeting called at the council rooms last Thursday evening by Charles Gale, chairman of the Merchants' Association, plans were completed for a trade booster campaign which will have its inauguration next Wednesday evening, June 26th.

Starting that evening and each Wednesday evening following throughout the summer, Charlevoix business places will, we understand, be open. The regular Thursday evening concert given by the Charlevoix city band, will be changed to Wednesday. George Beeman, Dr. Verard Miller and Harry Hooker were appointed a committee to arrange for additional entertainment such as street dancing and other special features, also to procure the Charlevoix school band for concerts Saturday evenings.

Although 74 invitation cards were sent out stating the purpose of the gathering, there was a poor representation of the business street present. Grumblings from various quarters following the decision reached at the meeting would indicate that Charlevoix merchants were co-operating on this matter in about the same manner as they usually do. However, the plans as adopted Thursday night will be carried out and it appears that whether all stores are to open is entirely optional with the management.

However, we feel that those sponsoring the meeting are on the right track and that Charlevoix really does lack the attractions as a business center. A mighty good suggestion brought out was that of giving more attention to the lighting of store fronts. Someone dropped the remark that our business street looked like an alley at night. Plans were seriously discussed of installing store front lighting in the various business houses with time-clock control. Some have already fallen in line with the suggestion and it is probable others will follow.

It is a certainty that if good entertainment features are provided, crowds will be attracted to the city and business will benefit.

CHARLEVOIX BEACH HOTEL OPENS TODAY

First Guests Here and Heavy Booking for Balance of Season.

The Charlevoix Beach Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur VonDoleck, proprietors, opened today (Thursday) with the arrival of their first guest. Advance booking indicates an exceptionally good season and no efforts have been spared by the management in preparations for the comfort of their guests.

A large force of workmen have been engaged for several weeks getting the hotel in shape for the opening. Rooms have been newly decorated and many other conveniences for the guests added. The Charlevoix Beach Hotel has always held a position of popularity with Charlevoix summer visitors, and this year promises to be no exception to the rule. A very efficient staff has been engaged to assist in the management, the complete personnel of which will be announced next week.

BELVEDERE HOTEL OPENS NEXT MONDAY

Many Improvements; Management Has Many Early Bookings.

The Belvedere Hotel, under the management of Mrs. Franklin C. Sears, opens for the 1929 summer season on Monday, June 24th.

Preparations have been under way for some time past. Guests this year will find the rooms, dining room and other parts of the hotel newly decorated and in many instances with new furniture. In many rooms twin beds have been installed and the hotel is now nearly completely equipped with this type of sleeping accommodations. A large new linen room has been installed on the first floor, which improvement will be a great convenience.

It is quite probable that the Belvedere Hotel will be called upon to take care of many attending the Michigan State Bankers' convention which convenes at The Inn, and in addition to this early patronage, the management announces an extraordinarily large number of early season bookings. The Belvedere Hotel has proven very popular with transients during the past several years and every indication points to a very successful season.

TOURIST CAMP IS OPEN FOR SEASON

MANY MOTORISTS HAVE USED SITE UP TO PRESENT TIME.

Equipment Is Undergoing Annual Overhauling Under Direction of Hugh Brady, Caretaker.

Charlevoix's city tourist camp opened June 1 for the summer season and up to the present time has been enjoying a good patronage. In fact, it is surprising the number of tourists on the highways for so early in the season.

Although preparations at the camp have been held up considerably this season on account of the illness of the caretaker, Hugh (Dad) Brady, the work is now progressing rapidly under his direction. Equipment has been placed and is undergoing its annual overhauling. The playground equipment, which has proven so popular with visitors at the camp has been set up and repainted. Cook houses, tables and benches are receiving a coat of paint and the camp being put in its usual neat order.

With the removal of brush at the west end of the grounds, Charlevoix's camp has a capacity of several hundred cars. It is recognized as one of the best kept and appointed camps in the state and during the past few years has enjoyed the patronage of a large number of regular visitors who come annually for a stay of from a week to even a month or more. Mr. Brady has already received letters from many who are coming to Charlevoix for their annual vacation.

Monday evening of this week saw the largest number of cars at the camp. Five parties spent the night, some of which are remaining over for several days to fish. Another week will likely see the camp crowded each night and likewise throughout the summer.

PALACE THEATRE TO HAVE TALKING MOVIES

Management Announces Plans to Install New Equipment at Once.

The Palace Theatre, Charlevoix, under the management of Elizabeth Moon, has announced plans to install talking pictures within the very near future. Arrangements for the addition have been completed and all that remains is installation of the equipment.

Announcement of the first production to be shown is contingent upon arrival of the machine. However, the management plans bringing the latest hits of the season to Charlevoix this summer.

LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS RELEASED UNDER BONDS

Clude Fairman and Norman Jensen, taken last Tuesday for violation of the liquor laws, were released Thursday under bond to appear at the August term of circuit court. Both have signed written confessions of guilt. Further developments took place Wednesday in the case when Elmer Poole, Charles Alexander and Ed. Stafford, all local men, were also taken on liquor charges. They also have been released under bond following arraignment in justice court.

CHARLEVOIX TO CELEBRATE 4TH

THIS CITY'S TURN UNDER COUNTY TRI-CITY AGREEMENT.

Mammoth Parade, Bands, Street Contests, Boat Races, etc., Are Features of Program Planned.

Plans are in the making for a grand and glorious observance of the Fourth of July at Charlevoix. Under the tri-city agreement which has been in force for several years, this city will put on the celebration for the county, with East Jordan and Boyne City co-operating.

A committee composed of S. M. Rose, chairman, S. O. Sorenson and Leo Powers has been appointed by Mayor Bergeon to work out the program, partial details of which have been planned and were announced Tuesday.

A mammoth parade with bands, floats and other accessories to such a feature will open the day's activities at 10:00 in the forenoon. First and second cash prizes will be awarded the best floats and if the parade warrants a third prize will be given. Merchants are asked to make preparation for their entries in the parade at once and report to S. O. Sorenson.

Ray Kipke, recently appointed city recreational director, will have charge of the street sports. Included in this part of the program will be running races for old and young, fat or lean, with suitable prizes to the winners. A program of swimming races, greasy pole contest, boat races and other water contests are also promised. The drills of the U. S. coast guards promises to be another interesting feature.

Leo Powers is making arrangements for a program of amateur boxing contests to be held in the gravel pit opposite the Argo Milling company. This feature was one of the most interesting parts of the celebration held here three years ago and will be equally as popular this year. Several four-round bouts will be staged and a call is herewith broadcast for amateur leather-pushers of the region to get in touch with Mr. Powers.

Two bands will entertain throughout the day. It is probable there will be concerts both afternoon and evening, and a fireworks display will wind up the day's activities.

A full and detailed program of entertainment features will be available for next week's issue of the Courier.

NEW TENNIS COURTS AT THE CHICAGO CLUB

Two En-tout-Cas Double Courts Are Under Construction.

The increasing popularity of tennis among Charlevoix summer visitors is most apparent at the Chicago Club of Charlevoix, where two new double courts 108x120 feet are under construction at the present time on the terrace below the club house.

Work on the new courts is under the supervision of F. Faircloth, London, England, a representative of the En-tout-Cas Co. of Syston, near Leicester, England. Material used in the first layer is coarse cinders with a covering of fine cinders. The top dressing is of En-tout-Cas, a material imported from England, where it is mined at the company's large plant at Syston. The French meaning of the word En-tout-Cas is "good in all weather." Rain does not delay play on courts built of this material. They dry immediately after being drenched with water and play may be resumed within ten minutes after a storm.

The En-tout-Cas Co. is internationally known as builders of some of the most famous courts in the world, and, as far as is known, these are the first courts of this type in Michigan. According to James Gaskin, caretaker at the Club, and under whose general supervision the work is being done, the courts will be completed for use during the summer season.

Fountain City House Open.

The Fountain City House, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Bedford, managers, opened for the summer season on June 15. Work of preparing the hotel for the season has been completed and everything has been placed in readiness for guests.

There will be a dance at Ironton Grange hall, Friday evening, June 21. Everyone welcome.—Adv. 2412 pd.

"MIRACULOUS IS WHAT I SAY OF MODERN KONJOLA"

Stubborn Case Of Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble Ended By New Medicine — All Else Had Failed.

MRS. JULIA RICE

"I know of but one word that describes Konjola, and that word is 'Miraculous,'" said Mrs. Julia Rice, 214 West End street, Alma, Mich. "As a result of stomach trouble and rheumatism I was in a terrible condition. I lost weight and strength. Gas and bloating followed my meals, and the pains were almost unbearable. I couldn't sleep on account of the rheumatic pains.

"I didn't think it possible for one medicine to do what Konjola did for me. Within a week I was immeasurably better, and in four weeks I felt like a different person. My stomach has been corrected, and my food nourishes me. All the rheumatic pains have been driven from my body. O' that all the world could know of this master medicine!"

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.

Subject: "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" "God the Preserver of Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, June 16.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Is it not a species of infidelity to believe that so great a work as the Messiah's was done for himself or for God, who needed no help from Jesus' example to preserve the eternal harmony? But mortals did need this help, and Jesus pointed the way for them. Divine love always has met and always will meet every human need." (p. 494).

Hudson Roomy Town Sedan.

One of the most important additions to the Greater Hudson line is this distinguished Town Sedan. Outstanding among the features of this model are unusual roominess, luxurious upholstery and fittings and the ultra-modish lines. Choice of color, at no extra cost, is another feature, as in all Hudson and Essex models.

In order to attain the extra amount of room which this model affords, Hudson engineers have tilted the seats slightly, built the body as long as practicable on the 139 inch chassis on which the car is mounted, and made the upholstery on the seats much deeper and more comfortable than is common practice.

Rugged—fine appearing—generously over-sized! that's the NEW Goodyear Pathfinder, and it wears as well as it looks.

Every bit of material used in those big, sturdy tires is carefully selected and thoroughly tested. The rubber is blended to obtain the standard uniform toughness of Goodyear treads and sidewalls. All materials must meet Goodyear's rigid standards. Goodyear experts measure for fine quality every bale of cotton used in Goodyear mills. Again when the cotton leaves the mill as Goodyear Supertwist Cord, it is tested. All through its building each tire is tested—inspected—watched to assure high quality.

No wonder Goodyear Pathfinders are GOOD.

STATE FAIR IS SEPTEMBER 1 TO 7

FEATURES BEGINNING OF 20 YEAR PROGRAM.

Will Offer Most Extensive List of Premiums Ever Offered by the Fair.

The 80th annual exposition of the Michigan State Fair, to be held September 1 to 7, will be featured by the beginning of a 20-year program that is expected to make the Fair the most famous of its kind in the world long before the centennial is observed in 1949, according to State Fair officials.

The first phase of the program will be the most extensive list of prizes ever offered by the Fair, $126,100. This compares with $120,000 last year, and $107,000 in 1927, the first time it had ever exceeded the $100,000 mark.

A second is the inauguration of a new display program. Wandering exhibitors of livestock and poultry who travel from fair to fair with exhibits, which they display only when certain of winning, will be barred. The purpose is to confine exhibits and prizes exclusively to established livestock and poultry breeders who heretofore have been discouraged by such "gypsy" competition, and encourage them to display their stock and to breed better strains. As a consequence a 10 per cent increase in the number of exhibitors and exhibits is looked for. However, some of this increase is expected to result from the greater co-operation between fair officials and exhibitors which has characterized the management during the last two years.

The largest individual group of awards will be for the livestock, pet stock and poultry groups and total $55,038, emphasizing the management's determination to encourage displays by individual agriculturists of these important branches of husbandry. The biggest prizes in this group are $12,745 for dairy cattle and $10,813 for beef breeds. Poultry and pet stock are given $9,621, swine $9,875 and sheep $8,417, the largest totals ever offered in each division. The prizes in these groups total 25 per cent more than they did in 1928. Some of this total was taken from that for horse racing, though awards here still amount to $13,400. Horse show, horse racing and draft and standard bred horse prizes total $26,950. Prizes for draft and standard bred horses have been increased to $6,415.

Prizes in the cattle department total $33,000, as against only $26,000 last year, and form the largest amount ever given in the fair's history. Thirteen separate classes will receive awards in this department.

More than $3,700 has been set aside for prizes for fruits and vegetables of which 200 classes, half of them market varieties of fruits, are expected to be shown. The dairy and apian department has been given $1,285, the largest total ever to be awarded in this section.

The Woman's Work department this year is given $1,000. The prizes in the art department, totaling $574, are expected to bring out an exhibition of paintings, etc., equal to that of 1928 when more than $250,000 worth was exhibited.

That the work of the Boys' and Girls' Clubs and of the Boys' State Fair school shall not lag, prizes totaling $8,000 have been allotted to the former and $2,000 to the latter, with the possibility that both sums will be increased before fair time.

Prizes in the Better Baby contest have been raised this year to a total of $280. In an effort to make it the most comprehensive ever held the whole state will be combed for the most perfect baby between one and three years old. The contest will again be under the direction of Dr. Guy L. Kelfer, state health commissioner.

Five afternoons of horse racing and the horse show, with their fine prizes, are expected to bring together the fastest horseflesh and drivers in the section and the finest society horses in the state. Additional features for which prizes have been set aside will be the hog and husband contests.

The fair management is now negotiating for what it expects to be the finest midway show ever seen at the fair and for two unusual grandstand features never before seen at the fair. Prospective exhibitors are advised to write to the state fair management for programs of the show.

AT THE MOVIES

Sunken Fireplace Feature of This Futuristic Interior.

One of the most modern interiors that has been employed in a motion picture for some time is used in "Seven Footprints of Satan" the first National mystery picture coming to the Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday. It represents the home of Eve, the heroine, played by Thelma Todd.

The room, spacious and high ceilinged, has circular rugs of vivid hues upon the polished floor. The lamps are all futuristic, the furniture of the modern "low" type, and of exotic and even fantastic pattern and design.

William Powell Is Pursued This Time!

William Powell, the suave villain of many Paramount productions, for the first time in his film life does not have to pursue a young lady for a kiss. Rather, Powell is himself pursued by no less person than Evelyn Brent for his affections!

The reason for Powell's having the tables turned in his latest appearance before the camera is because he is one of the four central characters making up the cast of the all-talking picture "Interference," which opens at the Palace Theatre Wednesday and Thursday. It's a Paramount picture.

Powell portrays the role of Philip Voaze, a rouse who is a veteran of many love affairs. Among these is Evelyn Brent who enacts the role of Deborah Kane. She discovers Powell after he has been reported killed in the war, and it seems that she is the only one who really loves him. Powell, however, desires to be forgotten by her, hence his being pursued by the beautiful Miss Brent.

One of the most complicated electrical installations used in modern business is that for the annunciator boards and telephone call systems of the New York Stock Exchange, Broad, New and Wall streets, New York.

This system requires more than 8,000 individual wires with a total length of 1,300,000 feet, or nearly 250 miles. The boards and the call system are used in recording each sales transaction as made, the rise and fall of price quotations and to keep in touch with board members as they or their agents trade upon the floor. Each member has a personal number and when an incoming phone call requires attention this number is flashed instantaneously upon the annunciator boards on each side of the floor.

BAPTIST CHURCH

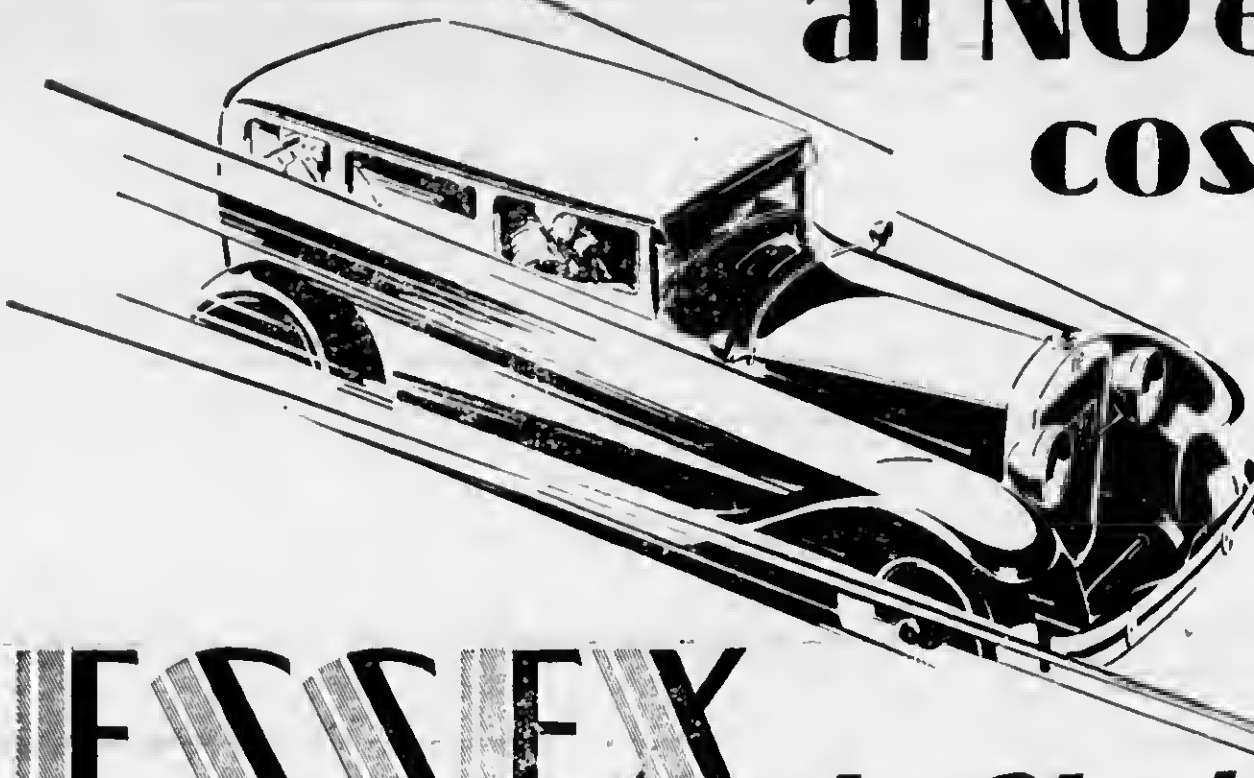

Morning worship at 10:30 a. m. Special music by chorus choir. Sermon topic: "The Greatest Miracle."

At the evening service an open forum will be conducted by the pastor. This is being done that the service may more fully meet the needs of those attending and be of the most benefit to all. Questions to be discussed at this service should be handed in not later than Sunday morning.

The D. V. B. S. has been progressing with increasing interest. At the beginning of the second week there was an enrollment of 54. In order that all who are interested in the school may know just what is being done, the teachers and pupils are preparing a public demonstration of the work to be given Friday evening at 7:30, at which time a portion of a day's program with some added features of interest will be presented. Everybody is invited to this service.

ESSEX the Challenger

VISIT our showrooms and see a remarkable display in motor car color design—a variety so wide as to give almost individual distinction, at no extra cost. It is a new industrial achievement!

More than 225 different color combinations on various models were delivered last month by the Hudson Motor Car Co. That is why, although nearly 200,000 Essex the Challengers are in service, there is a sparkling variety and individuality about each car, instead of the monotonous sameness expected in big production.

The tremendous buying swing to Essex the Challenger—with nearly 200,000 in service in five months—is the popular answer to how it upholds its sweeping challenge to motorroom.

Hydraulic shock absorbers and new type double-action 4-wheel brakes are standard—they do not cost one cent extra. The same with radiator shutters, air cleaner, windshield wiper, safety lock, chromium-plated bright parts. All valuable features—all features you want. Add up for yourself the extras Essex offers at no added cost and you will see above $100 in extra value in those items alone.

Your present car will probably cover the entire first payment. The H. M. C. Purchase Plan offers the lowest terms available on the balance.

seem the sensible, the real home town and home community interest would prompt the business men and others who are allowing these petitions to be circulated in their places of business to gather them up and tear them up and decisively put their heel onto a movement that means so much for our county at least. If they feel that our county don't need this extra $15,000 of school money then their course is proper. Ask Representative Ming to tell you the details about this bill and the other matters it effects. We can expect Detroit and some of the great metropolitan centers to be opposed to it. They have lots of school money and are building great school buildings and hiring the best of teachers while many school districts of upper Michigan are broke and the people are impoverished paying the school taxes."

While the above article and figures quoted deal with Cheboygan, they can likewise be applied to Charlevoix, and the subject is one our constituents might give deep thought.

WHAT IS A BAD BOY?

Alpena has learned how to deal with the boy problem. Once upon a time Alpena, like many other towns of its size, worried a good deal about its boy gangs, its tough "hangouts" and its petty infractions of law and order by juvenile offenders. But some sensible people in Alpena studied the boy and determined his needs. Now they have their boys so busy learning crafts, enjoying sports and hobbies that they have no time for mischief. A boys' club turned the trick.

Judge Fred F. Smith, who has had a lot of experience with juvenile cases, made a speech the other day in which he told how they had turned the attention of the boys from mischief to employments worth while. He said, "Juvenile delinquency is almost nil in Alpena. Few boys now are brought into juvenile court. Our police have very little trouble with the youngsters, and skipping school and the petty troubles formerly engaging the attention of the truant officers have about ceased. The chief factor in bringing about the change is the Alpena Boys' Club.

Alpena has learned a truth which also has been discovered in some communities, that a bad boy usually is a potential good boy looking for something interesting to do.—Detroit News.

OLD TIME CO-OPERATION.

There seems to be very few labor disputes, strikes and walkouts.

We read about strikes in schools, where children and young people walk out in protest to something they do not like.

That has been quite common during the past year. There has been an epidemic of it. One case leads to another.

It is a bad time for the entire school system. It is a wrong, rather than a good lesson, to young people.

The old time philosophy of a certain kind of co-operation between school and home was quite sound. If a youngster received a licking at school he got another when he came home. That was effective. It was about the highest type of co-operation that could be given.

Nowadays if management is not satisfactory the parents sue the teachers and the children walk out. Of course, there is not much of either thing, but too much.

ALWAYS PLAY SAFE.

Vacation time is here. We have it in our power to make it one of health and pleasure, or one of tragedy and sorrow.

Read the papers on Monday and you will see how many met death while seeking pleasure on the week end.

The capsized sail boat, the bather who ventured too far out and couldn't swim, the driver who tried to beat the train to the crossing, the reckless motorist who takes chances on crowded highways, the trusting individual who believes everything he reads on a label, all of these contribute to the dark side of the story.

Never take a chance. You cannot be too careful when you work. You cannot be too careful when you play.

Carelessness demands too high a dividend in sorrow—the happy ones are those who refuse to indulge in such dangerous pastimes.

Don't Let Your Community Make the Same Mistake

Within recent years many communities have made the mistake of paving their roads and streets at what they considered a "bargain price." The taxpayers thought they would save thousands of dollars.

In many instances the maintenance has not only wiped out the hoped for saving, but has exceeded original cost. And in many cases also it has been necessary to build entirely new pavements—of permanent construction.

There are communities, however, which know the cheapest is not always the best. Many of these also built roads and streets several years ago. And they built for permanence with concrete.

These concrete pavements, built in accordance with approved standards of construction, are in as good condition today as when they were built.

Which of these communities will yours be?

The Last Day of School

—is a great day for millions of youngsters—the last day of the school grind and the first of glorious freedom, but we older folks know, and those youngsters will learn, that freedom will depend on the use they make of their education, their time and their earnings. As a suggestion, may we strongly recommend the opening of a savings account with their first earnings.

A Sweeping Success because it offers Big Car Qualities for only $745

The New Pontiac Big Six is a sweeping success—an even more pronounced success than its famous predecessors. And it owes its success largely to the fact that it offers big car qualities at low prices. Oakland produced this car to enable progressive people to step up in motor car quality without leaving the low-priced field. And the very people for whom it was created have made it an impressive sales success.

Pontiac Big Six, $745 to $895, f.o.b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Bumpers, spring covers and Lovejoy shock absorbers regular equipment at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values. . . . Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only reasonable charges for handling and for financing when the Time Payment Plan is used.

Do You Want Gas For Cooking?

If a gas company was to install gas mains in the streets of Charlevoix, there would be a grand rush for service. Why not install a Taylor Plant, which is 20 per cent more efficient and cheaper to use? This is not a bottled gas, neither is it a manufactured gas, but rather a natural gas. A Taylor plant large enough for any home for $125.00. Hotels, Clubs and Restaurants from $225.00 up. If you are interested drop us a line or call

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS By B. C. Mellenkamp

Cherry Meeting.
One of the most important cherry meetings ever held in the county was conducted in East Jordan last Thursday night with an attendance of 35 growers present.

The cherry growers are faced with the knowledge that in a short time there will be a surplus produced, as last year Michigan produced 40,000,000 pounds of sour cherries out of a total of 69,000,000 pounds produced in the entire United States. Then it is estimated that 37 per cent of our cherry trees are under five years of age. What will happen when they bear fruit?

In order to stabilize the distribution of cherries and to open up new markets, plans are being made for an organization to be known as the Michigan Cherry Growers. The membership is open to all cherry growers and only by a strong membership can constructive efforts be made.

A. J. Rogers, Buhla, president of the Michigan Cherry Growers and A. B. Graham, Elberta, vice president, were present and explained in detail the situation. Gifford Patch, Economics Specialist of M. S. C., talked on the necessity of doing something soon and plans of organization.

The cherry growers of this county were much in favor of this organization and elected seven growers as directors, who will organize Charlevoix county and secure memberships. The following were named:

A. L. Darbee, East Jordan, president.
George Hanson, East Jordan, secretary.

Douglas Tibbitts, East Jordan, director.

Howard Stephens, Boyne City, director.

George Meggison, Charlevoix, director.

Lawrence Jensen, Ellsworth, director.

John Porter, East Jordan, director.

Canning Clubs Organized.

Miss Sylvia Wixon, assistant state club leader, spent Thursday and Friday of last week in visiting and organizing canning clubs. Seven communities were visited and many prospective clubs will be organized as the result.

It is gratifying to see the increase in clubs, as last year we had only five in the county. From present indications an enrollment of approximately 50 girls will be engaged in canning fruits, vegetables, jams, jellies, meats and vegetable mixtures. This makes a very pleasing and pleasant project for the girls to carry on during the summer months.

The following communities will have clubs this year.

Advance, Mrs. Wm. Franks, leader.

Deer Lake, Miss Sidney Lumley and Mrs. Lucy Hardy, leaders.

Boyne Falls, Miss Florence Nash, leader.

Ironton, Mrs. Marion Jackson, leader.

Marion Center, Mrs. Wm. Withers, leader.

Peninsula, Miss Katherine Wangerman, leader.

Wildwood, Mrs. Robert Love, leader.

Guernsey Meeting.

The Charlevoix County Guernsey Breeders' association held a meeting of their membership last Wednesday in East Jordan, to make final plans for the second Annual Guernsey Summer show and picnic.

The date for this event has been set for Thursday, July 11, and will be held in East Jordan as was the previous show. Plans are being made for an exhibit of at least 30 of the leading Guernseys in the county. Ribbons will be awarded the different class leaders.

Picnic dinner will be enjoyed at noon in the East Jordan tourist park. Coffee, cream and sugar will be furnished by the association.

The following committee was appointed by President Charles Murphy, to work with the East Jordan Business Men's Club in making final preparations: Carl Grutsche, East Jordan; Archie Murphy, East Jordan; James Nice, East Jordan.

An interesting Guernsey booth will be erected which will sell the merits of the Guernsey milk to the public. Watch the paper for further announcements.

Potato Fertilizer Experiment.

Farmers raising potatoes will be interested in a fertilizer experiment that has been placed on the farm of Murphy Bros., East Jordan. This experiment was supervised and set out by John Sims, soil specialist, and C. M. McCrary, potato specialist of the Michigan State College, co-operating with County Agent Mellenkamp. One-tenth acre plots were used, each having different analysis of commercial fertilizer, ranging from an 0-16-0 formula to one as high as 4-16-18 and 4-16-16.

In addition to comparing the yields with the different fertilizers, different spacing distances were used on each plot, so that when the crop is harvested, we can ascertain which analysis was superior and also which spacing distance gave the best results.

GEN. HARBORD SPEAKS OUT.

Declaring that the prevailing tendency to regulate the lives of citizens by Federal commissions is unconstitutional, Major General James
G. Harbord, president of the Radio Corporation of America, in a recent address stressed the intolerable growth of bureaucracy and official meddling on the part of government agencies.He pointed out that 34 independent commissions for the regulation of this and that have been set up by Congress at a cost of more than $550,000,000 a year. "These bodies are neither legislative, executive nor judicial, but exercise functions partaking of the character of all three.
Once established, these commissions continually seek and arrogate to themselves more and more power to harass and oppress the public. Following the example of the Federal government, each state has set up its own quota of similar bodies, to further burden the taxpayers."As an indication of the futility, as well as the manifest injustice, of these inquisitorial agencies, General
Harbord cites the Federal Trade Commission, declaring that 40 per cent of its complaints are finally dismissed by the commission itself as unfounded, while in the remaining cases more than 60 per cent of its decisions have been thrown out by the courts.

THE SIX PER CENT.

Whenever a Boulder dam, a Mississippi waterway, or any other great Federal appropriation for a regional project comes along, it will be well for Michigan to remember that more than 6 per cent of the income tax price of that improvement will be paid by Michigan taxpayers. There are 48 states, but Michigan pays more income taxes than any except
New York, Illinois and Pennsylvania.
It pays three times the average, judging by the figures just released by the internal revenue bureau for the first nine months of this fiscal year.Boulder dam, for instance, is to be a great California bonanza. Of the Federal income tax money risked in this local project, Michigan actually will supply more than California itself, if payments continue at the rate indicated by these figures. California's income tax payments in this nine month period were approximately $93,000,000, as against $104,000,000 for Michigan.If Michigan, Illinois, New York and Pennsylvania people would appreciate that more than half the income tax cost of every improvement, is coming out of their pockets, a pretty solid economy block might be formed at Washington to investigate local tax grabbing projects. As it is, congressmen from these states appear to be as "easy" as congressmen from states for which everything is coming in and comparatively little going out.—Grand Rapids Press.

FARM CHILDREN'S RIGHTS.

Children born on a farm ought to have the same opportunities to secure an education as those born in the cities, but they are not getting it.
They will never have it until parents realize more fully how necessary it is for them.During a period of ten years enrollment of farmers' children at the University of Illinois increased only 70 per cent, while those of skilledlaborers increased 247 per cent. The highest percentage of increase was shown in the children of carpenters, more than 500 per cent.It is true that the farmer has had hard times, while the skilled workman has had comparatively good times, but even this could hardly account for the poor showing among young people from the farms.One trouble is that parents do not take the importance of education seriously enough. They do not make the sacrifices necessary to give the youngsters a fair start. Unless they want their children to continue to do the drudgery of the world in larger share than is fair, they must give more attention to the education.If the boy or girl must remain on the farm to work, there are many opportunities for self-improvement, especially in winter, and there are many inexpensive correspondence courses which would be most beneficial in preparing them for the battle of life.In these days anyone who really desires to become reasonably well educated can do so, through determination and conscientious effort.
Parents should encourage such effort.—Darnell Service.

A GOOD THING TODAY.

The Irish are rather a contentious people.Yet at one time they had a custom which should have been perpetuated and adopted by all other nations.If Irishmen did not agree and one thought of bringing suit against another, he went to the home of the man whom he was about to sue. He placed himself upon the door step and there he stayed from early morning until the sun had set. After this day of fasting and prayer he returned home.The purpose was a double one.
Such a step was to bring the plaintiff the full seriousness of his actions. It also made the other party to the action contemplative of a friendly settlement.We are not seating ourselves before the hearthstone of those with whom we contemplate legal action, but the people of the United States have a different attitude towards litigation than they once had. The public is beginning to realize that most litigation is useless, a loss to winner or loser. While the courts are still too busy, yet the number of disputes which they adjust is very small in proportion to the transaction of business.That is why legal business is poor.

BASS FISHERMEN MAKE FEW HAULS

OPENING DAY DISAPPOINTMENT TO LOCAL ANGLERS.

Bernie Ward Entered 16-Pound
Mackinaw in Contest—Milo Todd Has Largest Brook Trout.

Scenes of May 1st were repeated Sunday as an army of sportsmen descended upon the many lakes of this region on the opening day of the bass season.

From what information we have been able to gather, however, the wily bass were quite successful in evading the barrage of plugs, spinners and other lures local Waltonites had to offer them. Catches were extremely light and only a scattering few fish were brought in. The lakes are now undergoing their annual spring cleaning and fishing will be better when this period is past. Refuge from the lake bottoms is coming in the surface in large quantities and the lakes are covered with it. Dame Nature will have her way, though.

It looks like Bernie Ward was out to capture another prize this year for the largest mackinaw trout. He entered one Monday in the Shakespeare national and local contest at Wood Brothers' hardware weighing 16 pounds and one ounce. Bernie seems to have a habit of catching 16-pounders, for last year he won the prize offered by Staley Brothers' hardware with a fish the same size. The catch was made Sunday in Lake Michigan near South Point.

Other line catches are being made both in Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix. In fact, the fish taken this year have out-numbered those in previous years by far and the season has been considerably longer. The big fellows have just started hitting good in Lake Michigan and there will be a week or more of good fishing yet.

Milo Todd has the edge on the largest brook trout at Wood Brothers so far. He entered a catch of six one day last week; the largest being 12 inches long and weighing 14 ounces. Ye, Ed, is out on his trail, however, and Milo will have to bring in a larger one than that.

ST. JAMES MOTHER DIED LAST THURSDAY

Taken Ill On Mail Boat and Died
After Return to Island.

Consuela, the beloved wife of Carl Left, passed away on the 13th after an illness of only two weeks.

The immediate cause of her death was due to certain complications that developed following the birth of a son. A few days prior to her death, Dr. Palmer decided that in order to save her, blood transfusion was necessary.

Accordingly she was gotten ready and put on board the mail boat, enroute to Charlevoix, but after the boat was out a few miles her condition underwent a decided change for the worse, therefore making it necessary for the boat to put back into port. She was removed to her home, but lived only a few hours thereafter.

"Concie," as she was familiarly known by her numerous friends and relations was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gillespie of Beaver Island. She was born October 14, 1905, graduated from St. James high in 1923. In 1924 she was united in marriage with Carl Left and from this union three children were born.

Besides the three small children she left a husband, father, mother, four sisters, four brothers and a host of friends, who will long remember her smiling countenance and sunny disposition.

Interment was held at Holy Cross cemetery.

Those from out of town who were present at the funeral were: Her sister and family, Mrs. LeRoy Osborne, of Plymouth, Ind.; John Gillespie, brother; Leona, Francis and Mrs. Frank Skapp, Mrs. Eddie Logerman and family, Mrs. Russell Rink, Franklyn and Gerald Left, Mrs. Al Schwartz, all of Chicago; Mrs. Earl Miller and daughter, Jane, of Charlevoix.—By Violet McCafferty.

Mrs. Ethel Barnett will give psychic readings and character analysis at 214 W. Lincoln avenue, phone 708.—Adv. 19tf.

NEW BRIDGE FOR LAKE CHARLEVOIX

Connects Isle of Pines, Formerly Owned by Curtis, To Shore.

The Isle of Pines, a 15-acre island located in the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix, is to have a new bridge. It will be built of steel and timbers, will be 120 feet long and 20 feet wide and high enough so that ordinary boats can pass under it.

Work will start as soon as a pile driver can be secured to drive piles for the foundations.

Charlevoix residents may remember that this is the island formerly owned by the late William L. Curtis, Petoskey, and was known at that time as "Holy Island." Mr. Curtis sold it in 1912 to I. B. McLean, of Boyne City, who later moved to Lansing.

A remarkable artesian well supplies the attractive stone cottage owned by Mr. and Mrs. McLean and is being piped to supply running water to some other cottages that are to be built in the near future.

The name was changed by Mr. McLean to the "Isle of Pines" because of the many beautiful large white pines on the island.

The island got its first name of "Holy Island" from "King James" Strang, leader of the Mormon colony on Beaver Island about 75 years ago. At that time the Mormons often came to "Holy Island" to hold camp meetings and attract the early settlers of the community.

SUNDAY HERALD SERVICE STARTS SUNDAY

Arrangements Made to Handle Edition in Local Stands.

Starting Sunday, June 23rd, the Sunday Grand Rapids Herald will be available at Charlevoix. Arrangements have been made with Myers Cigar Store, L. P. Adams and Central Drug Store as distributors and Fowler's bus will bring the papers from the early morning Pennsylvania train at Petoskey.

The Sunday Herald is a 4:00 o'clock morning edition, carrying the latest stock, bond and curb market reports, sports, society and latest news of the world. The Herald publishes one of the popular Sunday editions in the state and this service will be appreciated by the reading public.

MRS. E. J. EDWARDS HEADS WOMEN'S CLUBS

Chosen President at Boyne City
Monday—Next Meeting Here.

Charlevoix County Federation of Women's Clubs held their eighth annual meeting Monday at the Wolverine Hotel, Boyne City, with luncheon at noon and business session following. The meeting was one of great interest with a large attendance from the entire county.

Mrs. R. B. Armstrong, newly-elected district president, gave the address of the afternoon. Officers elected were: president, Mrs. E. J. Edwards, Charlevoix; 1st vice-pres., Mrs. L. H. White, Boyne City; 2nd vice-pres., Mrs. R. J. Empey, East Jordan; treasurer, Mrs. Wm. Beechold, East Jordan; secretary, Mrs. Vena Wiles, Boyne City; corresponding secretary, Phila Armstrong, Charlevoix.

Members from Charlevoix who attended were Mrs. R. B. Armstrong, Mrs. Ira Adams, Mrs. Frederick Sass, Mrs. Gerald Richardson, Mrs. E. J. Hiller, Mrs. E. J. Edwards, Mrs. Adah Beeman and Phila Armstrong, of the Shakespeare Study Club. Charlevoix guests were Mrs. Cornelia Bailey and guest, Mrs. Julia Campbell and Mrs. F. J. Fessenden of the Charles Dickens Club.

The next annual meeting will be at Charlevoix, combining with the district convention, which follows the president.

BRADY SPECIAL WINS TWO FIRSTS SUNDAY

Took B and C Classes at Fisherman's Paradise Opening.

A Charlevoix entry brought home the lion's share of awards from out-board motor boat races held at the opening of Fisherman's Paradise last Sunday.

Driving a Brady Special, M. Ray Brady of this city, took the B class event with a Caille motor and topped the C class with an Evenrude. Brady was running a close second using a C class motor in the D class event when engine trouble put him out of the running.

The opening at Fisherman's Paradise is one of the popular events of the Northern Michigan summer season and Charlevoix was well represented among the many who attended.

FLOOR ENLARGED AT MOONLIGHT GARDENS

Lunch Counter and Checking Room
Moved to Relieve Congestion.

Pressed by a patronage which exceeded all early expectations and made enlargement an immediate necessity, work of adding 600 feet additional floor space at Jeffery's Moonlight Gardens is being rushed to completion this week.

The lunch counter has been moved to the northeast corner of the building and an annex built on for this purpose. Likewise, the checking room has been moved to the southwest corner and the space vacated as a promenade. The addition gives eight feet more floor space on the south side of the hall. The improvement has eliminated all congestion around the entrance.

The Moonlight Gardens has enjoyed a wonderful patronage so far and promises being one of the most popular entertainment places of the region this summer.

BAY SHORE PLACE IS RAIDED BY OFFICERS

State troopers under Sergeant George Aldrich, Cheboygan, raided a dance hall and refreshment place operated at Bay Shore by Mrs. Gertrude Ross Wednesday night, obtaining 8 quarts of whiskey and 5 pints of home brew, together with two slot machines. Mrs. Ross and her daughter, Clara, were both taken on a charge of possessing liquor. They waived examination when arraigned before Justice Robert Withers Thursday afternoon and were released under joint bond of $1,000 to appear at the August term of circuit court.

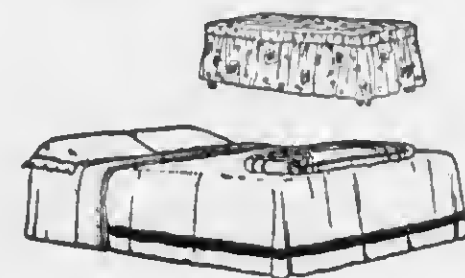

FIRE DESTROYED MEILKE MILL AT BEAVER ISLAND

Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the saw mill and work shop on Beaver Island owned and operated by Gus Meilke. A new forty-foot boat, just recently completed in the workshop burned. It is said Mr. Meilke was at the mill around 11:30 Wednesday night and left everything safe. The fire was discovered early Thursday morning. It is thought the damage will run well over ten thousand dollars.

BANKERS HAVING ANNUAL MEETING

REGISTRATION REACHED OVER FIVE HUNDRED TUESDAY.

Business Sessions, Recreational and Entertainment Features Have Filled Each Day.

Five hundred thirty-two bankers, representing many states, are in attendance at the 43rd annual convention of the Michigan Bankers' association at The Inn this week.

First arrivals came Saturday. Another large contingent arrived on a Pere Marquette special Sunday morning and by Monday evening accommodations at The Inn were taxed to the limit. Other hotels have been called upon to accommodate the visitors and, from all appearances, they are being well taken care of and having a wonderful time.

Sunday's activities for the early arrivals were of a social nature, with golf, motor tours, bridge, etc., in equal favor.

The convention actually opened Monday morning at 11:30 in The Inn casino with the annual meeting of the executive council, continuing with the first business session and concluding for the day with committee reports. Monday afternoon saw the visitors on the golf links or following such entertainment as suited their pleasure.

Addresses by George D. Bailey, resident manager of Ernst & Ernst, Detroit, and S. L. Wing, Coldwater, Michigan, chairman of the association protective committee were heard Tuesday forenoon. Tuesday afternoon saw the opening of the golf tournament, one of the features of the convention entertainment. Seventeen prizes are posted for winners. Results of the tournament are based on two days of play and are not available as we go to press. Entries were divided, part playing one day on each of Charlevoix's two splendid golf courses, which, by the way, have been the subject of many flattering compliments.

Ladies attending the convention were guests Tuesday afternoon of the Charlevoix Beach Hotel at a bridge party. Heading the ladies' entertainment committee as chairman is Miss Myra Biddlecome, Jackson, Michigan, assisted by Mrs. Robert Bridge and Mrs. A. L. Livingston, local members of the committee. Twenty-one tables were in play. Prize presented by the State Bank of East Jordan, was won by Mrs. Ralph Nixon, Detroit. Mrs. John Bamford, Mt. Pleasant, won the trophy presented by the First National bank, Boyne City; Mrs. A. J. Stelter, Charlevoix, the Traverse City People's Savings bank trophy, and Mrs. Lee Earl, Lake Orion, the Petoskey First State bank prize. Winner of high score had her choice of the four prizes. Mrs. Virginia Tibbels, bridge instructor at The Inn, gave a very interesting talk on bridge.

The Charlevoix Association of Commerce is providing a motor tour around Lake Charlevoix for the ladies Wednesday afternoon and upon their return they will be guests of the Belvedere Hotel for tea. Another bridge party at The Inn Thursday afternoon concludes their social activities. Four prizes will be awarded and a grand prize for the high score of the two-day play.

During the evening dinner hour, special entertainment features arranged by the entertainment committee composed of V. VanderMeulen, Grand Rapids, chairman; Chas. McMahon, Detroit, and Robert Bridge and Archie L. Livingston, this city, have made a great hit. Finzel's orchestra from Detroit, have furnished music, and numbers by the W. G. N. radio quartette, Chicago, have been extremely popular. With Finzel's providing dance music, The Inn casino has been taxed to capacity each evening.

A boat trip to Harbor Springs and return on the Str. Puritan has been arranged for Thursday evening, the final day of the convention. B. VanderMeulen, entertainment chairman, has expressed his satisfaction of the wonderful co-operation given him by the management of The Inn. The gathering this year is the first land convention held for some time and no local effort has been spared to make the bankers' stay here one of enjoyment.

MATTSON-REYNOLDS NUPTIALS JUNE 15

Son of Rev. and Mrs. B. G. Mattson Wed Near Frankfort.

The marriage of Harold Frazier Mattson to Miss Jane A. Reynolds was solemnized in a beautiful outdoor service at Camp Osoha-of-the-Dunes, Frankfort, Michigan, Saturday, June 15, at 12:30 noon.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. B. G. Mattson, father of the groom, in the presence of about 40 guests, including friends and relatives from Chicago, Milwaukee and Frankfort and the three parishes in Michigan where Dr. Mattson has served as pastor, Owosso, Manistee and Charlevoix. Mrs. R. F. Sloan and Paul Sloan were present from Charlevoix.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. R. E. Reynolds late of Frankfort and a former school mate of the groom at Hillsdale College. The groom has just been graduated in the honor group of the class of 1929 of the college of medicine at the University of Michigan. Dr. and Mrs. Mattson will reside for the summer in Ann Arbor, where Dr. Mattson takes up his duties July first as surgical interne in the General hospital.

PIONEER BURIED HERE ON TUESDAY

BENJAMIN HARRISON CAMPBELL DIED AT AGE 88 YEARS.

At Time of Death Was Oldest Ship Builder of Region — Funeral Tuesday With Masonic Rites.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the Philo Campbell residence on Park avenue for his father, Benjamin Harrison Campbell, age 88 years, who died Saturday, June 22, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. R. Dewey of Harbor Springs.

Deceased was born January 24, 1841 at Detroit. When a young lad he accompanied his family to Beaver Island, where he resided for many years, following the occupation of ship carpenter. He later moved to Chicago where he worked as a railroad employee and was in that city at the time of the great Chicago fire.

He was also identified with the ship building business throughout all Northern Michigan and at the time of his death was the oldest man of the profession in this region. He operated large shipyards at Cheboygan, Harbor Springs and Charlevoix, and while here built many boats, among them being the largest ever launched from this port. He employed as high as 30 men at the industry while at Charlevoix. For several years Mr. and Mrs. Campbell had resided with their daughter at Harbor Springs.

In 1879 he was married at Cheboygan to Lennie M. Ingalls, who survives. There are also four children, Mrs. A. F. Wentz, Alpena; Mrs. A. R. DeWitt and Mrs. A. R. Dewey, Harbor Springs; Philo Campbell, Charlevoix; also two granddaughters, Erma and Magdalene DeWitt, Harbor Springs.

Rev. John E. Lockyer of the Methodist church officiated at the funeral, which was under auspices of the Masonic order, of which the deceased had been a member 40 years or more. Burial was at Brookside cemetery.

Among those from out of town here for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Beers and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wageman and family, Boyne City; Mrs. E. H. VanNocker, Mrs. E. J. LaLonde and Mrs. Charles Morley, Alpena; Mrs. Irving Wooley, Harbor Springs.

BAND CONCERT PROGRAM FOR THURSDAY EVENING

Splendid Selection to Be Played at Bridge Street Stand.

The regular weekly band concert will be given Thursday evening, June 27, at 8:00 o'clock at the Bridge street stand. Following is the program:

March, "The Little Giant."
Overture, "Scenes of Opeland."
Waltz, "Carolina Moon."
March, "The 18th Regiment."
Cornet Solo, "Gaiety Polka."
Overture, "Gala Night."
March, "Gloria."
Medley of Patriotic Songs.
Finale.

The ladies of the Church of God will hold a bake goods sale at Wood Brother's Hardware on Saturday, June 29.

PLANS FOR JULY FOURTH COMPLETE

PROGRAM OPENS WITH PARADE AT 10:00 O'CLOCK.

Street Sports, Boxing Matches, Coast Guard Drill, Etc., Other Features of Entertainment.

Plans for Charlevoix's 4th of July celebration have been completed by the committee in charge. With this city the only one in the region staging a program for the Fourth, a large crowd is expected to attend from all over Northern Michigan, and everything is being put in readiness to handle the visitors.

The day's activities get under way at 10:00 a. m. with a mammoth street parade of floats, etc. Cash prizes of $10 and $5 will be awarded to the first and second best decorated entry. All cities in the country are invited to participate, and entries to date indicate the parade will be a feature of the day.

Another prize of $5 in cash will be awarded the most comical float entered. The parade will assemble at the corner of State and Mason streets.

At 11:00 a. m. there will be public speaking in the Charlevoix city park on Lake Michigan. A list of speakers is not available at this time. Following this part of the program visitors will disperse for luncheon.

The afternoon program opens at 1:00 o'clock with drills of the U. S. coast guards, which are always interesting and never fail to draw a large audience. At 2:00 o'clock the program calls for street sports. First, second and third prizes of $3, $2 and $1 have been provided for the race for boys under 15 years. Similar prizes will be given winners of a race for girls under 15 years. A box of cigars go to the winning team in the tug-of-war and prizes of $3, $2 and $1 for winners in the men's race and sack race.

At 3:00 o'clock there will be band concerts at the city band stand, and at 4:00 o'clock boxing matches in the gravel pit opposite the Charlevoix Lumber Co. office. Four 4-round bouts have been arranged.

From 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock in the evening there will be band concerts, followed with a beautiful fireworks display to be shown from the Chicago Club grounds on the north side of Round lake.

The above program is subject to possible changes in time and place, but printed programs will be issued among visitors on the Fourth.

NEW STONE COTTAGE FOR BOULDER PARK

Work In Progress Now and Will Be Completed In Short Time.

Construction has been started on another second row cottage at Boulder Park for Robert Berman, Cleveland, Ohio, an official of the Burlington Railroad.

This new cottage promises to be as unusual and beautiful in design as the others before it. Plans call for six rooms and built-in garage of split boulder construction. The living room will be of studio type with large stone fireplace. Although not large, the cottage architecture is beautifully planned and will make it one of the most attractive in the subdivision.

Work is progressing rapidly and the cottage will be ready for occupancy later this season.

BELVEDERE STAFF IS NOW COMPLETE

MANAGEMENT PREPARING FOR ANNUAL OPENING JULY 1.

Little Change In Personnel of Staff; New Features Added for Convenience of Hotel Guests.

The Belvedere Hotel is preparing for the regular annual opening July 1. Some members of the staff are already on the grounds and the first guests were registered Monday evening.

Few changes are being made in the personnel of the staff. Carl C. Steiner and James J. Reynolds will have charge of the front office desk service. Mr. Steiner is beginning his third season at the Belvedere. Mr. Reynolds comes well equipped with some years of successful service at such high-class hotels as the Arlington at Hot Springs, Ark., and the Ponce de Leon at St. Augustine, Fla. He is also familiar with the popular demands of the tourists and summer guests of northern summer resorts, having served with E. J. Lettance at the Grand Hotel for several seasons.

Mrs. Carl C. Steiner is again with Mrs. Sears as private secretary and also has charge of the bookkeeping and private office service. Mr. and Mrs. Steiner were connected with Hotel Coquina, Ormond Beach, Fla., during the past winter season. Mrs. Jeanne Darguin is again in charge of the housekeeping department.

Chief Ed. Yates and his usual efficient crew are already on the ground and Fred Severa, the popular baker, who delighted everyone with his unusual pastries and great variety of hot rolls several seasons ago, has been again secured to ply his arts in the Belvedere bake shop this season.

Miss Mary Julian, Mrs. Sears' well-known stewardess, who has served with her during her entire hotel career, is in charge of the storeroom and proves the advantage of a woman's judgment in securing the best possible materials to provide the splendid food service which is making the Belvedere dining room so acceptable a part of the service of this hotel.

The fresh fruit and vegetable salads and other dainty dishes from the pantry are still being prepared by Miss Lucy Hogan, who is as well known by the guests through her splendid service as are those of the front office with whom they come in daily contact.

The dining room, which has been newly decorated this season, is again in charge of Harry Wilkins, of Boston, whose ever increasing popularity among Belvedere guests is proving one of the greatest assets of service in this hotel.

An unusually interesting improvement is the equipping of a children's and nurse's dining room which opens directly off the hotel lounge and not only provides an attractive dining room with its frieze of child life and touches of nursery decoration in slipper chair covers, cozy corners, cushioned chairs, etc.

CITY INFORMATION BUREAU HAS OPENED

Temporary Location In Benjamin Brown Garage Building.

The Association of Commerce information bureau opened last week temporarily in quarters at the Benjamin Brown garage, with Frederick V. Tyler in charge. A change will be made to the new location which has been furnished by enclosing the upper portion of the city band stand as soon as the work is completed.

Inquiries for cottages, rooms for tourists and other information will be received at this office, which, in past years, has proven an indispensable part of the city's summer facilities. Those having rooms to rent are now asked to list them with Mr. Tyler. City booklets, road maps and other literature is available there for distribution.

Spiritualist Church Picnic July 7

The First Spiritualist Church of Charlevoix will hold a community picnic at Snowflake camp, Sunday, July 7. Lectures and messages will be given by Dr. Ethel Barnett of Detroit, and Rev. Marie Wells of Anderson, Indiana. Take along your baskets and friends and have a pot-luck dinner.

BEACH HOTEL HAS HEAVY BOOKINGS

STAFF FOR SUMMER SEASON HAS BEEN COMPLETED.

Overflow of Bankers and Guests from The Inn and Regular Guests Have Filled Hotel.

One hundred fifty members and guests of the Michigan Bankers' association, together with quite a large number of regular guests, are at the Charlevoix Beach Hotel this week. The hotel opened for the 1929 summer season last Thursday and since that time has been enjoying a fine patronage.

Arthur VonDolcke, manager of the hotel, has engaged a very efficient staff to assist him in the management of the hotel this season.

John Jones, Chicago, has returned as chef. Mr. Jones has been with the Beach Hotel over 20 years and his efficient attention to the wants of guests has won him great favor.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Bondi, Chicago, returned again this season to take charge of the dining room and tea room. The past winter Mr. Bondi has been with the Green Mill Grange, Chicago, where he was extremely popular and added to his reputation as a caterer to the wants of guests.

Mrs. Samuel Beaubien, Detroit, formerly of Charlevoix, is housekeeper. Mrs. Beaubien has served in a like capacity for several years at the Statler Hotel, Detroit, also in the larger Florida hotels. Her addition to the staff at the Beach hotel promises to be a popular one.

Mrs. Beth Burmaster of Montague, Michigan, has returned for her 12th year. She is assistant manager of the hotel.

Miss M. P. McLaughlin, Detroit, is private secretary to Mr. VonDolcke, this being her first season at Charlevoix. Herbert Hurley, of Decatur, Ill., who has been at the Beach Hotel for many years, has returned as porter, while the bellmen are all back for their third or fourth year.

Bookings at the Beach Hotel are practically full for the summer season.

MOONLIGHT GARDENS ON SUMMER SCHEDULE

Dancing Each Night Except Sunday; Monday Carnival Night.

Jeff's popular dance palace will open the summer dance season on Wednesday night, June 26, with the program of dancing every night except Sunday.

This popular dance palace is opening one week earlier than programmed, due to the demand for dance entertainment at the Gardens.

Mr. Jeffery has made special arrangements with his band to appear at the Moonlight Gardens nightly commencing June 26. On Monday nights of each week a Big Carnival Dance will be held with many novelties, favors, and special dances during the evening for all dance fans old and young.

"Fuller's Six Red Jackets," (the boys with the pep) will appear nightly at the gardens featuring the latest song dance hits of the year.

The board assured the Northern Michigan Apple and Potato show at Gaylord an appropriation of $125. Sheriff Dave Vaughan was instructed to trade in his county car at the best figures obtainable.

The committee on equalization reported a decrease in the county valuation of $423,323. The slump hitting East Jordan is reason given for the drop.

Mayor Arthur Bergeon of Charlevoix, presented a proposition to establish a county airport at some central location, stressing the urgent need of airport facilities. A committee of four including H. A. Craig, Wm. F. Bashaw, Clarence C. Schaub and W. J. Pearson, was appointed to select a desirable site and report at the October session of the board.

W. J. Pearson was chosen delegate and H. A. Craig alternate to the meeting of the state board of equalization at Lansing.

Authorization was granted for the payment of a tuberculosis test of cattle owned by Frank Mason, Marion township farmer, who appeared personally before the board with the request.

PALACE THEATRE HAS INSTALLED TALKIES

First Showing With New Machine Made Monday Evening.

Representatives from Detroit completed the installation of a new movie-talking picture machine at the Palace Theatre over last week and the first production with the new machine was shown Monday evening before a large audience.

Mrs. Monn was disappointed in not having the picture booked for the opening night. However, the balance of her bookings for the summer season are the latest releases and some will come here for the first showing in Michigan.

FEELING BETTER THAN IN YEARS; PRAISES KONJOLA

Man Feared There Was Nothing to Help Him—Then Konjola Triumphed.

MR. ERNEST GUENTHER

Indorsements without number prove that Konjola, the new and different medicine, conquers the obstinate cases; those that have held on for years with bulldog-like tenacity. Read what Mr. Ernest Guenther, R. F. D. No. 5, Ann Arbor, says of this master medicine.

"I cannot find words to express my gratitude and surprise for what Konjola did in relieving me from the agonies of kidney and stomach trouble and neuritis. I was nervous, irritable and despondent. Not one of the many medicines and treatments I tried did me a particle of good. And then I heard of Konjola, the master medicine of them all. Konjola went to work at once, and improvement began in a few days. In two weeks I was a well man again, thanks to this glorious medicine."

Thus Konjola works, quickly and thoroughly, bringing lasting relief, no matter what else has failed.

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Many were surprised to hear of the death last week of Walter Carpenter, prominent business man here and owner, with his son, of a hardware store here. AT THE MOVIES

Nine Elements Given for Sensational Film Success.

Nine different elements make for the success of Paramount's production of "Abie's Irish Rose," declares Anne Nichols, author and producer of this comedy drama of love and tolerance, which comes to the Palace Theatre on Saturday and Sunday.

"Before I reveal these nine characteristics," Miss Nichols says, "I would like to explain still another reason why 'Abie' is such a success.

"It is human. Its characters are taken from those we see every day. It is American, purely and simply. It has therefore a great appeal to American audiences.

"You will see a Patrick Joseph Murphy, a Solomon Levy — all the others, on the streets of any city any day of the year. They are so human that they appeal to all, rich and poor, no matter the race, no matter the creed."

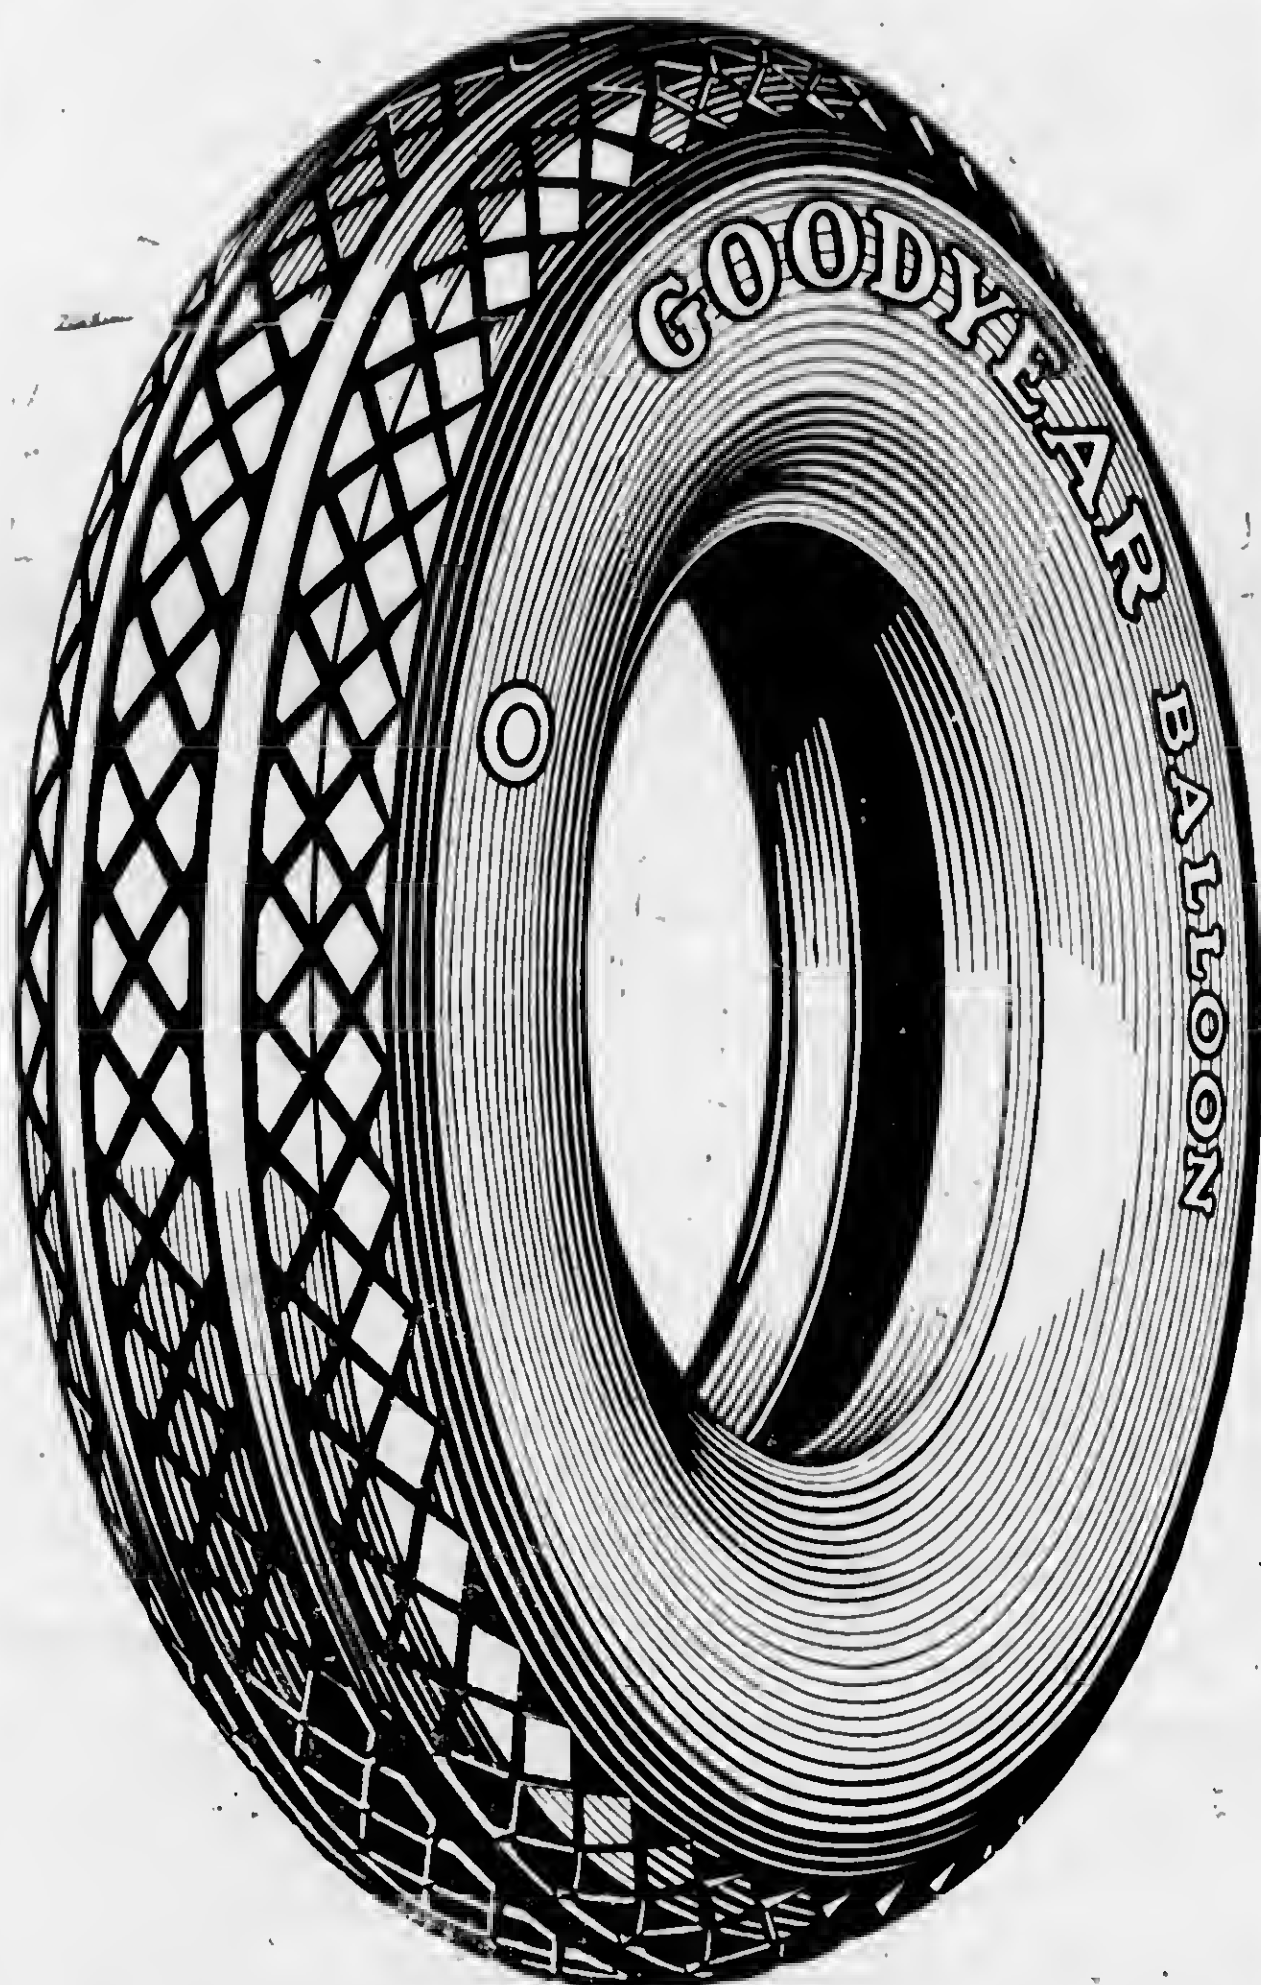

"The Broadway Melody" Scores Smashing Hit.

As its first all-talking film, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer took a specially written story with a theatrical Broadway back ground by Edmund Goulding; gave it to Harry Beaumont to direct with a cast headed by Charles King, Anita Page and Bessie Love; got James Gleason, author of "Is Zat So?" and "The Shannons of Broadway" and Norman Houston to write the sophisticated dialogue; secured lyrics by Arthur Freed and music by Nacio Herb Brown; dashed in a bit of Technicolor in order not to lose the beauty of sets and costumes and called the result "The Broadway Melody."

This picture, which enthusiastic advance information insists is easy on the eye and not at all hard on the ear, will be presented for the first time in Charlevoix at the Palace Theatre July 2, 3 and 4, guaranteeing some of the greatest screen entertainment this city has ever seen.

A stooping posture is said to be unhealthy, though that kind of a posture over Father's knee in the woodshed used to be called wholesome.

30x3 1/2 Clincher Tires for only $4.45 at Benj. Brown's Tire Shop.—

It's a GREAT Tire --priced low!

Rugged—fine appearing—generously over-sized! that's the NEW Goodyear Pathfinder, and it wears as well as it looks.

Every bit of material used in those big, sturdy tires is carefully selected and thoroughly tested. The rubber is blended to obtain the standard uniform toughness of Goodyear treads and sidewalls. All materials must meet Goodyear's rigid standards. Goodyear experts measure for fine quality every bale of cotton used in Goodyear mills. Again when the cotton leaves the mill as Goodyear Supertwist Cord, it is tested. All through its building each tire is tested—inspected—watched to assure high quality.

No wonder Goodyear Pathfinders are GOOD.

We'd like you to see these tires. You'll appreciate their value. You'll appreciate their low cost. Just glance at the price for your size.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

Dodge Car, 1914 Model, Exceeds 300,000 Miles in 15 Years' Service.

How long is "long life" in a motor car? The characteristic dependability of Dodge Brothers cars has been given additional prestige by the discovery of a 1914 model whose mileage has been lost somewhere above the 300,000 mile mark. The motor number is 166, and for 15 years, this veteran car has been the proudest possession of Bill McCordle, a copper prospector who lives in a tar covered shack, isolated in the high mountains of northeastern Nevada.

McCordle's house and garden are surrounded by peaks nearly 10,000 feet high. There is nothing like a boulevard in this country. Over rocky hills, across gulches, and up difficult dugways, McCordle patrols his domain in his faithful car, which, he declares, still "runs like a top." Bill bought it second hand in 1916, and since that time, the car has taken him wherever he wished to go. Yet the repair bills in this period have totaled only $91. In 1921, he spent $70, and this spring he invested $21 more for the welfare of this old car and Bill's business.

Since the last repair, Bill makes some steep grades on high gear where much younger cars are forced into low gear to surmount the rugged roads that were once only prospector's trails over the Nevada mountains. The top of his car has long since vanished, but the rain and sun never hurt Bill as long as the engine is in good order.

National Showing Celebrates Plymouth's First Birthday.

Observing the first birthday of the Plymouth motor car, which coincides with the birthday of the nation, Plymouth dealers threw open their showrooms last night on some of the most unusual and attractive displays of automobiles seen for some time. These displays are being conducted by dealers throughout the country from June 29 to July 13 inclusive.

The improved Plymouth cars, in a variety of new color combinations, feature the displays. They are being shown in a patriotic setting of red, white and blue decorations. An unusual amount of interest was evident among the thousands who thronged the show rooms during the opening evening, and from the offices of the corporation at Detroit indicate.

"Inauguration of the policy of offering the Plymouth in more than one standard color combination, while involving considerable expense, is a further indication of our desire to give to the public a product that is outstanding in appearance as well as in inherent quality and performance," remarked A. vanDerZee, general sales manager, in commenting upon the opening of this national display. "In addition to these new color combinations, the improved Plymouth now possesses a number of engineering refinements in both the body and the chassis. Body engineers have been working consistently with the thought in mind of making the Plymouth bodies the ultimate in strength, roominess and comfort.

"Those who have visited the show rooms and inspected and driven one or more of the models, were particularly impressed with the roominess and the comfort of the full size bodies that this car possesses. Women who drove the cars were enthusiastic concerning the Plymouth's ease of operation and handling."

Although this is only the first birthday of the Plymouth, production at the factory at Detroit has already reached enormous proportions, according to company officials. In less than 10 months from the time the first car was produced, production figures reached 1,000 units a day—a record for the entire automobile industry.

OLD SETTLERS' PICNIC TO BE JUNE 26

Dr. A. W. Johnstone Is To Be the Main Speaker of the Day.

The Old Settlers of the Grand Traverse region will hold their annual picnic at Petoskey, Wednesday, June 26, 1929. This association includes the counties of Antrim, Benzie, Charlevoix, Emmet, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, and Leelanau and all the people of these counties are cordially invited to attend this picnic which will be held on the old Arlington Park campus.

A big day has been planned by the committee in charge, and there will be a general picnic dinner at noon. The local people will furnish coffee, tea, etc., free to everyone, but everyone is asked to bring his own dishes.

A very interesting program has been planned for the afternoon. After dinner, there will be a brief message from each of the counties, there is also a very real treat in store for the afternoon program as Dr. A. W. Johnstone of Cadillac will be there and has agreed to address the people. Dr. Johnstone is very well known and no one can afford to miss the opportunity to hear him as he is a world-wide traveler, a keen observer, a close thinker, and one of the best informed men of his time. Then the rest of the day will be spent in visiting, in renewing old friendships and making new friends and a general getting acquainted again with the best people of Northern Michigan, for most of them will probably be there.

The officers of this organization are: Edward E. Gilbert, Petoskey, president; Mrs. Susan Greensky, Bay Shore, secretary; Elmer E. White, Traverse City, treasurer; Mrs. Elmer White, Traverse City, historian. Each county has a vice-president and they are: Antrim county, Frank Martineck, Elk Rapids; Benzie, John Herren, Beulah; Charlevoix, Mrs. R. B. Armstrong, Charlevoix; Emmet, N. J. Stone, Petoskey; Kalkaska, John Gilles, Rapid City; Leelanau, Ernest Voice, Empire; Grand Traverse, J. A. Montague, Traverse City.

A great deal of effort has been put forth by the officers and their committees and they anticipate a large gathering.

The DAIRY

COMPLEX FEEDS FOR DAIRY COW

When an animal is well it does not need medicine, and when it is sick it needs specific treatment for its disease. For this reason, dairymen who buy complex mineral mixtures to feed to their animals are not only wasting their money but may be harming their cattle as well, according to Prof. L. A. Maynard at the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y.

Aside from common salt, the only minerals that are needed as supplement to ordinary farm rations are calcium, phosphorus, and sometimes iodine. Mixtures containing such substances as glauber's salts, epsom salts, copperas, potassium chloride, sulphur, iron oxide, and other compounds have no justification from the standpoint of nutrition, and the continued feeding of them may be positively harmful.

Magnesium, iron, potassium and sulphur, which are included in most mineral mixtures, are valueless ingredients because common rations are sufficiently rich in them. Laxatives, copperas, sodium bicarbonate, and sulphur are drugs rather than feeds and should not be fed to a well animal.

Some companies argue that epsom salts and glauber's salts are needed in the feed for farm animals because of their laxative action. In answer to this it should be recognized that the best way to make a ration laxative is to select properly the feeds included in it. Furthermore, the small amount of these purgatives in the mineral mixture cannot possibly have the desired effect when an animal is constipated.

Cod liver oil, which is sometimes included in mineral mixtures, helps calcium assimilation in growing pigs, but it has been proved ineffective for dairy cows. Also, when cod liver oil is fed in all, it should be purchased unadulterated with other materials, since it gradually loses its value as an aid in calcium assimilation when mixed.

Compounds of calcium and phosphorus which are suitable for feeding may be purchased at from one to three cents a pound. Complex mixtures always sell at much higher prices than this, and the manufacturers try to justify their price by exaggerated and untruthful claims about their value. The complex products are actually worth less than the mixture containing calcium and phosphorus alone because the percentage of the needed minerals is lowered by including the other substances which serve only as a filler.

STANCHIONS ARE NEEDED FOR CALF

Turned Loose Too Soon, They Get Bad Habits.

If young calves are not given good attention during the first few months of their lives they will become undernourished, lack in size, and often become practically worthless for breeding animals. When fall and winter calves are given good attention they will generally grow into better cows than spring-dropped calves, as they will be old enough to go onto pasture in the spring and make satisfactory gains.

Milk is the food provided by nature for calves and man has never found a substitute that equals it. Whole milk is needed for the first month, or at least during the greater portion of it. After that time skim milk may be gradually substituted as the calves will commence eating grain and hay. The maximum amount of whole milk to feed is twelve pounds daily and sixteen pounds should be the maximum amount of skim milk used.

Individual stanchions are needed in feeding calves by hand. In this way each calf will get its own allowance of milk. Grain can be put in the pails after the milk is consumed and the calves will gradually learn to eat. If the calves are turned loose too soon after they are through drinking they will often acquire the habit of sucking ears, etc., which will result in poor gains. After two or three weeks the whole milk may be gradually substituted with part skim milk and the proportion of skim milk gradually increased as the calves gain in size and age. The milk from the calf's mother should be fed for the first few days as it is laxative in character and will help get the bowels properly cleaned.

Cleanliness in the calf stables and feed buckets is essential in preventing scours and other similar troubles. Sunlight is necessary if the calves make the best gains. Fresh water should also be supplied as the calves will drink a considerable amount. A sunny, protected lot, where the calves may roo during warm days will not only give them exercise but will help to keep their stables in better condition and furnish them sunshine.

Calves Need Some Whole Milk to Get Good Start

Calves which are only one week old need some whole milk if they are to get the best start. However, some people follow the practice of buying calves from dairymen and raising them on substitute rations.

Don't Let Your Community Make the Same Mistake

Within recent years many communities have made the mistake of paving their roads and streets at what they considered a "bargain price." The taxpayers thought they would save thousands of dollars.

In many instances the maintenance has not only wiped out the hoped for saving, but has exceeded original cost. And in many cases also it has been necessary to build entirely new pavements—of permanent construction.

There are communities, however, which know the cheapest is not always the best. Many of these also built roads and streets several years ago. And they built for permanence with concrete.

These concrete pavements, built in accordance with approved standards of construction, are in as good condition today as when they were built.

Which of these communities will yours be?

GREAT FOOD SHIP INDEPENDENCE COMING

Will Land at Emmet County Airport Next Thursday.

Manned by a crew of notable aviators, the great Food Ship "Independence," is scheduled to arrive at Emmet county airport, Petoskey, at 10:00 Thursday morning.

The "Independence" is the first airship to be flown across the United States in the interests of the independent grocers of the country. It is the first ship of the air built and devoted exclusively to demonstrating the practical application of modern air transportation methods to a trade expansion program of nation-wide importance. It is owned by Reid Murdoch & Co., of Chicago, and, as the flying representative of Monarch Food Products, it is scheduled during 1929 to visit practically every important city in the United States which provides adequate landing field facilities for so huge a ship.

Parents, teachers and students are extended a cordial invitation to inspect the "Independence" during its visit here. The ship and the entire exhibit will be open to the public. No tickets will be required. No admission fee will be charged. Its visit here is solely in the interests of the independent grocers of this community and Reid Murdoch & Co. will be hosts. Come and bring the youngsters. All children accompanied by an adult will receive a booklet telling the story of aviation development. According to latest dispatches, the "Independence" will land at Emmet county airport at Petoskey about 10:00 a. m. after circling town.

URGE VOTERS SHUN TAX REFERENDUM

All Counties Should Unite Against Move to Block Measure.

The state papers have contained little about the referendum petitions that have been in circulation on the cigarette and malt tax proposals of late, but we presume they are circulating and no doubt finding lots of signers among those who do not know what it's all about.

We hope that no petitions will go in from this city or county, and that other counties and cities of the north follow our example. We do not want to be accused of being more concerned about how cheap we can buy cigarettes than we are in the education of our boys and girls, and certainly if we sign and encourage the adoption of these petitions we are lending our support to that end. We cannot expect to receive any help or encouragement from the rich metropolitan districts that have more school monies than they can well spend.

It is not a matter of cigarettes or education with them, it is just downright selfishness that prompts them to oppose that which if it is not adopted will cost Charlevoix county alone nearly a half hundred thousand dollars in new school money.

Dance at Maple Grove Grange hall, Friday evening, June 28. Everyone welcome.—Adv. 2611.

Jersey Show June 29.

The Jersey Parish Show of the Antrim-Charlevoix Jersey Breeders Association will be held at Ellsworth, Saturday, June 29th. This year it is the plan to hold a small disposal sale of bulls and heifers along with the show.

J. E. Burnett, director of Bureau of Animal Industry, state department of agriculture, will judge the show. He is recognized as the foremost judge of dairy animals in Michigan. Mark this as a red letter date on your calendar.

FORTY-FOURTH YEAR IN BUSINESS
THE OLDEST BANK IN CHARLEVOIX COUNTY

In 1776 America was a string of rebellious settlements along the Atlantic—embattled and poverty-stricken, hardly yet a nation—but steadfastly holding the ideal of freedom before the world.

1929 finds us large, prosperous, and strong, but still cherishing that ideal and setting aside a day in each busy year to do honor to those who first proclaimed liberty to the peoples of the earth.

Cherry Meeting.

At the cherry meeting recently held in East Jordan, the true situation confronting the cherry raisers was pointed out. At that time one of the greatest problems, namely, the indications of a surplus production was discussed and efforts made for an organization to remedy the situation.

The next problem, that of better quality cherries and what can be done to produce better cherries, was not considered to any great degree.

In order to receive the latest information on grading, spraying and other matters having to do with higher quality cherries, another important meeting will be held this week.

The meeting will be held in the K. of P. hall (just over the theatre) in East Jordan on Friday night, June 28, beginning promptly at 7:30 standard time.

E. C. Mandenberg, head of the State Nursery Inspection Service, will be the main speaker. Efforts are being made to secure a specialist from the entomology department of M. S. C. to also appear on the program and discuss the cherry fruit fly and other insects and pests.

Barnard Calf Club.

A fine club of 10 boys have recently organized a calf club in the vicinity of Barnard. Each of the boys are going to care for a young calf, keep records of the expenses, make a final report, write a story on their experiences and finally exhibit them at a calf club show to be held later. This type of work has been carried on for several years and is very popular as well as instructive.

The club will meet every two weeks and conduct regular business meetings and fully expect to have a real lively club.

It is gratifying to state that a boy who has had four years experience in dairy club work has been selected as the leader of the club and will continue his club-work as a leader. Dickie Straw, son of Sam Straw, is the first boy in Charlevoix county to have this honor conferred on him and we congratulate him on his splendid record already made in club work.

Enthusiastic Turkey Meeting.

The recent turkey meeting held at the farm of Lyle Wilson brought out a fine attendance of 55 interested turkey raisers, with the women folks predominating as would be expected. J. A. Hannah, specialist of M. S. C., discussed fully all the factors that enter into successful turkey raising.

Approximately 2,000 young turkeys are being raised on the farms that were represented at this meeting so no doubt at least 5,000 would be the total in the county.

Mr. Hannah stated that young turkeys could be raised just as easy as baby chickens if not easier. He gave out a recommended starting ration, scratch feed, laying mash and finishing rations but space will not permit a detailed account at this time.

Turkeys if incubated should have about two degrees less temperature than with baby chicks, also they should not be fed for 48 hours after hatching. The first feed can consist of starting mash plus sour milk. The fourth and fifth days should include grit and greens, such as fine alfalfa leaves. Then from the sixth day to six weeks use the same feed. After six weeks of age use scratch, equal parts of whole corn and wheat and same as above.

A starting ration good for baby chicks will be fine for turkeys as well. About ten days before selling feed the following finishing ration: 40 pounds yellow corn meal, 40 pounds finely ground oats, 20 pounds dried milk. Moisten with water to pouring consistency. Feed six times daily and leave only 20 minutes per feeding then by all means sell as they may even lose weight after that. More detailed information will be gladly sent upon request to County Agent Mellenkamp, Boyne City.

FREE CAMP SITE IS PLAN IN BOYNE CITY

Upon investigation it has been found that a camp site for tourists could be provided without very much expense on the city proper just north of the river. A good road leads back to a well sodded, level space suitable for tents. The Electric company has offered to light the same, the current used being the only expense. City officials are considering the plan for water-pipe. Most of the work in preparing the site could be done with donated labor, leaving the actual cash requirements very low. Several have already offered their support.—Boyne Citizen.

NEW PAPER MONEY ISSUE TO BEGIN ON JULY 10.

Secretary of Treasury Mellon has announced that the distribution of the small-size currency will begin on July 10. The first issues will include all kinds except national bank notes and denominations from one dollar to twenty dollars. Small-size gold certificates and Federal Reserve notes in denominations above twenty dollars will be issued at a later date. Small-size national bank notes will be printed and issued in order of charter numbers beginning about July 15. "The size for the new paper currency is 6 1/4 by 12 1/2 inches," the Secretary said. "The principle of denominational designs has been strictly followed. The back designs are uniform for each denomination irrespective of kind. The face designs, likewise, are characteristic for each denomination as regards the important protective features, with only sufficient variation in detail to indicate the kind."

THE WOMEN NOW.

An organization of women, including among its leadership, many prominent in society, has been created to fight the prohibition amendment.

Those folks do not know very much about liquor.

Prohibition was not created for men as much as for women and children.

The old man went to the saloon. He visited with his friends. He became drunk with his pleasures and exhilarations and with the headache the next morning.

Very few men needed much sympathy because of the saloon. But their families needed it. The mother did not have many clothes. Too often she worked out to help support the family. The father had whiskey but the children did not have milk. In every community there was poverty, disgrace, sorrow that was directly attributed to the liquor business.

That is why agitation for its removal struck home to the hearts and sentiments of the people of the nation.

Whatever may be the weaknesses of prohibition, there are very few families which bear the general curse of a drunken father. Many homes that had nothing years ago, have food, comfort and an automobile today.

The women most active against prohibition are doubtless those with whom the law presents some interference in purely personal desires to drink.

They do not represent those wives and mothers who have memories of the liquor days.

No one knows how far this propaganda work against prohibition is to continue.

The first thing we know the grade children will be organized.

FACING THE FUTURE.

The supremacy of the railroads in the field of commercial transportation is being challenged today as never before. Barge lines are competing for the freight traffic of the railroads, and so are motor truck lines. Bus lines and airways are bidding for their passenger traffic. What will be the outcome?

The railroads are giving their answer to that question. They spent last year approximately $680,000,000 for improvements in facilities and will probably spend more this year. In the last eight years their expenditures for improvements amounted to around six and one-half billion dollars.

The present good quality of rail-

"It is unnecessary for me to argue the fact that the very essence of freedom is obedience to law; that liberty itself has but one foundation, and that is in the law."

"A surprising number of our people, otherwise of responsibility in the community, have drifted into the extraordinary notion that laws are made for those who choose to obey them."

"Twenty times as many people in proportion to population are lawlessly killed in the United States as in Great Britain."

"The duty to enforce the law rests upon every public official and the duty to obey it rests upon every citizen."

MR. LINCOLN'S TROUSERS.

Some people judge others too much by their clothes.

Many awkward, ungainly, poorly dressed country boys is to grow into a future leader in government and business.

We all ought to get inspiration from the life of Abraham Lincoln. Someone accused the Whig party, with which he was connected, of being well dressed, plutocratic and aristocratic. So Lincoln told how he dressed as a young man:

"I was a poor boy, hired on a flat boat at $8.00 a month and had only one pair of breeches to my back and they were buckskin. Now if you know the nature of buckskin when wet and dried in the sun, it will shrink and my breeches kept shrinking until they left several inches of my legs between the top of my socks and the lower part of the breeches and when I was growing taller they were growing shorter and so much tighter that they left a blue streak around my legs which can be seen to this day."

It has been estimated that 45,000,000 persons are going motor touring in the United States during the summer and fall months.

There is one thing that will be in the mind of each individual as he sets forth on his journey; namely, that he will expect courtesy of those with whom he comes in contact in the strange towns, cities, and villages through which he will pass. Expecting hospitality, thoughtfulness and kindness has been proved to the average man to be entirely reasonable.

Yet it is pointed out by those who have watched the mighty growth of motor touring, there is one type of traveler who cannot expect courtesy; namely, the stranger who refuses to show a similar spirit toward others.

There clearly is such a type of motor tourist. He is the one who violates the local traffic regulations counting upon his foreign tag to win him leniency, or complete forgiveness. He cuts corners, races recklessly through small towns, ignores caution and warning signs, sneaks by traffic signal lights, parks where parking often is wisely forbidden and generally acts as the bull in the china shop of local traffic.

When he gets the punishment, the contempt and contumely his conduct deserves, this driver is among the first to proclaim vociferously the "discourtesy" he is shown.

He forgets the precept born under the aura of the great motor touring movement that:

"Only courtesy begets courtesy."

DON'T KILL A CHILD.

Vacation days are here.

Children suddenly released from the confining walls of the schoolroom will be full of the spirit of play.

There is not always the opportunity to keep them on supervised playgrounds.

Many of them will be forced to play in the street.

We do not want to deny them this small measure of sunshine and recreation.

Motorists should be doubly careful during the vacation period.

Children have a habit of running in front of automobiles. That is to be expected. Do not drive on city or village streets at an excessive rate of speed.

And keep a close watch for children. Many lives will thus be saved. Nobody wants to kill a child.

NO LIMITS WHEN SAFE.

It is now thought that it is possible to eliminate the flying hazards that are due to fog. Dense fog has heretofore made safe landing hazardous.

Experimenta concern a radio beacon on landing fields through which the flyer may know his exact location.

A very delicately constructed altimeter will enable the operator to know, to a few feet, his distance from the earth.

An airplane may be made to stay in the air for a week.

It is the landing that counts.

Make airplane travel safe and there are no limits to its possibilities. —Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Review.

P. M. TRAINS ON SUMMER SCHEDULE

CHICAGO AND DETROIT DIVISIONS ARRIVE DAILY.

Station Force Augmented to Handle Heavy Summer Business—Locals Change Time Also.

Pere Marquette train service to Charlevoix and the Northern Michigan resort region went on summer schedule on Monday morning of this week. There are two southbound and two northbound trains.

Train No. 9, Chicago division, arrives here at 7:36 and train No. 15, Detroit division, at 6:58, standard time, the service being daily except Monday. Southbound No. 10, Chicago division, leaves Charlevoix at 7:30; No. 14, Detroit division, at 8:12; with trains daily except Sunday. The schedule of local trains has also changed. The local southbound No. 6 leaves Charlevoix at 8:41; northbound No. 1 arriving at 4:24. This service is daily except Sunday.

The force at the Charlevoix station has been augmented to handle the heavy summer business. Assisting Agent B. Nickerson are A. J. Goetz of LaCrosse, Ind., and Mr. Tracy of Bridgman, Michigan, telegraph operators. Mr. and Mrs. Oral Lewis have been placed in charge of the Belvedere station for the summer months. Stanley Gibbs of Manacelona, is baggage man at the Charlevoix depot.

Pere Marquette Railway company workmen are still engaged making repairs and improvements on the property here. The bridge job has been completed and other work is going forward rapidly. The Inn bathing pier is receiving repairs from damage caused by ice in Lake Charlevoix last winter. A new platform has been completed at the Belvedere station and buildings repainted generally.

TOO LATE.

A New Jersey man was arrested recently for murdering a woman whom he had bigamously married. He confessed, and said that he had killed her because he realized that it would be impossible for him to keep up the deception that he practiced on her and his other wife any longer.

"Right after I married her I realized I had done wrong," he explained.

This gentleman is like most of the rest of us. Right after we do something we realize it was wrong—and we'd give our eye teeth to undo it. If more of us could realize before we do a thing that it is wrong the world would be a lot better off.

A Buying Guide

Before you order dinner at a restaurant, you consult the bill-of-fare. Before you take a long trip by motorcar, you pore over road maps. Before you start out on a shopping trip, you should consult the advertisements in this paper. For the same reasons!

The advertising columns are a buying guide to you in the purchase of anything you need—including amusements! A guide that saves your time and conserves your energy; that saves useless steps and guards against false ones; that puts the s-t-r-e-t-c-h in family budgets.

The advertisements in this paper are so interesting, it is difficult to see how anyone could overlook them... fail to profit by them. Just check with yourself and be sure that you are reading the advertisements regularly—the big ones and the little ones. It is time well spent... always.

Avoid time-wasting, money-wasting detours on the road to merchandising value.

YOUTH IS FOUND DEAD UNDER CAR

IRVING AINSLEE, BOYNE CITY, VICTIM OF TRAGEDY.

Evidence Revealed Liquor Involved In Accident and Three Others Implicated Are In Jail.

Irving Ainsbury, age 19 years, of Boyne City, was found dead beneath his overturned car a short distance off the Wildwood harbor road near Walloon lake at 5:00 o'clock Monday morning. Nearby farmers discovered the tragedy and notified Sheriff David Vaughan of Charlevoix, who went to the scene.

The body showed signs of being badly bruised in several places, although no bones were broken. Death is thought to have been from choking caused by a seat of the car which was found lying heavily across the victim's neck. Findings of a coroner are not available at this time, the inquest having been adjourned to meet later. Finding of a jury, thought to have contained liquor, led to the belief Ainslee was intoxicated when the accident occurred.

Ole Erickson and Iren Major, both of Boyne City, who were Ainslee's companions earlier in the evening before the accident, are being held in county jail here for transporting liquor. James Evans, also of Boyne City, is said to have furnished liquor to the three above mentioned, and he is being held in jail. Another man, known to have been implicated, is being sought.

Further developments were expected from a hearing held Tuesday afternoon, details of which are not available as we go to press.

BUILD NEW DOCKS AT SEARS' BOAT LIVERY

High Water In Round Lake Made Improvements Necessary.

Sears' garage and boat livery has opened for the summer season with William Pickle, East Jordan, in charge.

All new docks have been constructed. This work was necessary on account of high water, which completely covered the old docks. Sheet piling has been driven along the embankment, the office and storage building raised and new piling placed beneath. A new rowboat dock, another used by Irving Cline and the main wharf for gassing boats have been built.

Franklin C. Sears made the improvements with his pile-driving outfit, which just recently returned from a job at Northport.

PENNSYLVANIA LINES CHANGE TIME SCHEDULE

Shift To Summer Runs; Midnight Train Eliminated.

The summer schedule of the Pennsylvania Lines went into effect last week and is quite a radical one from former years. Trains from the south will arrive at 6:20 and 6:55 a. m. and 3:20 p. m. daily. Will leave for the south at 8:15 a. m. and 2:40 and 7:10 p. m. daily. In addition there will be a Sunday night train south leaving at 10:50.

The 5:20 a. m. and 7:10 p. m. are through trains to and from Chicago, carrying sleepers from that point and St. Louis, also a sleeper for Grand Rapids. The 6:55 and 2:40 p. m. trains carry the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Louisville sleepers.

On the Harbor Springs branch trains will leave Petoskey at 7:05 a. m. daily and at 8:30 a. m. daily except Sunday. Will leave Harbor Springs daily except Sunday at 9:20 a. m. and daily at 1:55 and 6:30 p. m.

Probate Notice.

State of Michigan—The Probate Court for the County of Charlevoix. At a session of said Court, held at the Probate office in the City of Charlevoix in said county, on the 25th day of June, A. D. 1929.

INN ADDS NEW GOLF FEATURE

MINIATURE 18-HOLE COURSE NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION.

Michigan Riviera Tennis Championships On The Inn Courts First Week of August.

Means for an entertainment feature which promises to be very popular with guests at the hotel is now under construction at The Inn grounds in the form of a miniature 18-hole golf course.

This fine new improvement is nearing completion under the supervision of John R. Bowker, Pinehurst, N. C., noted golf course architect and southern correspondent for the Metropolitan Golfer. The course is being built outside the enclosure around The Inn tennis courts. In every detail it conforms with a regulation golf links, with the exception of size, of course. It has fairway trappings of modern construction, hazards, greens, etc.

Mr. Bowker is nationally recognized as a golf course architect. He recently completed two miniature courses for Fisher Brothers at Detroit, one at Battle Creek, another at the steel pier at Atlantic City, and the first indoor course at the 49th St. armory, New York City. Golf played on miniature courses is extremely popular with older people who find play on the regular courses too strenuous, and it is also helpful to the golfer for his putting and mashie shots. The new course will undoubtedly be extremely popular with guests at The Inn.

Recreational activities at The Inn will be under the direction of Gerald "Jerry" Ash again this season. Mr. Ash has returned with his family from a winter spent in the Bahamas and Washington, D. C., and has already assumed his duties.

Mr. Ash has been very popular with The Inn guests in previous seasons he has been here. He has charge of the tennis courts, giving lessons and instruction, and also is in charge of swimming activities, contests, instruction, etc. Organized groups of younger boys come under his direction for games, athletic supervision and the like.

The big tennis feature this season, of course, will be the Michigan Riviera championships, to be played on The Inn battery of five clay courts the first week in August. Mr. Ash will have charge of the tournament for the Charlevoix Tennis Club and The Inn. The tournament this year promises to eclipse those of previous seasons.

The first actual entry was that of John Hennessey, Davis cup star and fourth ranking player of the United States, who will make his first appearance in the United States at Charlevoix following the Davis cup matches in France. He will come direct from Paris to Charlevoix. Entries have been received by Archie Livingston of the Charlevoix Tennis Club from three players in Los Angeles, California. Others who will probably enter the local event are Emmet Fare, first ranking player in the Middle Atlantic and third ranking in the Western under Lott and Hennessey. Negotiations are also under way with Tamis Abe and Sakuzu Onda, New York City, members of the Japanese Davis cup team. George O'Connell, Ellis Klingeman, Jack Harris, Walter Hayes and others from Chicago, will be here also.

It is probable that a city tournament will be held, also an Inter-Boys' camp tourney.

POPULAR DANCING IN-STRUCTOR AT THE INN

Miss Harriette Blood Returns for 1929 Summer Season.

Miss Harriette Blood, of Grand Rapids, popular social hostess at The Inn for several seasons past, has returned to Charlevoix to act in a similar capacity for the summer season.

Miss Blood plans to hold dancing classes Tuesday and Friday mornings at The Inn casino and has announced Friday, July 5, as the day for student registration. Miss Blood makes children's work a specialty, conducting classes in rhythmic dancing and story games for younger children and clogging and tap dancing and athletic dancing for junior classes.

Miss Blood completed a course last winter in children's work at the Vestoff-Serova Dancing School, New York City, and is a graduate of the Miss Travis Dancing School, Grand Rapids.

START WORK ON SUMMER PAGEANT

Executive Committee Is Named To Get Movement Under Way.

Emory O. Nyman, Wilson J. McDonald and Henry Boehm have been named as the executive committee for the Petoskey 1929 summer pageant. At an early meeting they will name their other committee members, draft plans and regulations and call a session of all Petoskey people at which it will be presented. It is expected the pageant will be given some time in August, possibly close to the 20th of the month, and that it will be a mid-week affair, lasting all day and with plenty of special features to attract thousands of visitors from all over the region.

Just what plans will be worked out no one knows but suggestions for features will be given careful consideration. The hope of the committee is that many new things will be added and that the drawing power of the event will be strengthened. Last year the affair drew people from all over northern Michigan, and the parade was said to have rivaled anything ever attempted anywhere in the United States.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX OPEN FOR SUMMER

TUESDAY WAS OFFICIAL OPENING DAY AT BOYS' CAMP.

Registration Eighty-five for First Four Weeks—Others Are Coming Later in Season.

Camp Charlevoix at Ironton opened for the 1929 summer season on Tuesday of this week with a registration of 85 boys from many localities in Michigan as well as other states. The camp presented a busy appearance with constant arrival of campers, many of whom motored there with their parents. They certainly were a happy looking lot and, if appearances are any indication, the boys are to enjoy a great season at this fast-growing and popular summer camp.

The large dining room at the camp has been prepared to seat 110, including boys and the staff. The staff includes members of the University faculty, and the student body, as well as graduates. A complete program of character-building and recreation will consist of all land and aquatic sports, horsemanship, handicraft, dramatics, woodcraft, scouting, music, over-night hikes, nature lore, archery, forestry, tutoring, a Canadian camping trip, "Pirate Ship," and "Dude Ranch" horseback trips.

Fifteen men on the staff are college graduates and all are college trained. The staff consists of Prof. J. Raleigh Nelson, M. A., director of the Hiawatha pageant; LeRoy W. Dahlberg, A. B., University of Chicago, director of activities; Walter P. North, A. B., head-counselor; Joseph Gerald White, LL B., head-counselor; Middles, and woodcraft and scouting; Earl S. Oldham, swimming and head-counselor. Robert Van Sickle, B. S., handicraft; Ira Hirschy, A. B., Jamestown college. N. D., nature lore; Alfred Nussdorfer, A. B., Michigan State college, horsemanship; Prof. Clarence Beckwith, M. A., University of South Dakota, campfire programs and story telling; John Heldman, A. B., Oberlin college, and an eight-letter athlete, athletics; Reed Dingman, A. B., boxing and wrestling; Edward Dubernell, A. B., business; Mrs. Reimann, "camp mother;" A. L. McDonald, archery and archery golf. Dr. S. Hultskuler, University of Michigan hospital is camp physician.

The following will be counselors and have special activities on the camp program: Fred Morris, University of Illinois, music and Sunday services; Max Veech, University of Michigan, track; Robert Folsom, Miami university, canoeing and over-night hikes; Jack Hogan, football; Geo. Wall, A. B., Park college, Mo., tutoring; Wendell Mahaffy, University of Michigan, camp clerk; George Wahl, A. B., Park college, master at Wayland academy, tutoring; Tim Neal, Robert Allen, Clayton Smith and Robert Dean, assistant counselors.

Merrill Hamburg, A. B., secretary of the Airplane Model League of America, will teach rustic and cedar craft at the camp.

Smelser knows how to save you money and give you service on clock and watch repairing. Over Central Drug Store.—Adv. 2711 pd.

NEW ENTRIES MADE IN FISH CONTESTS

Fine Catch Brook Trout and One Bass Displayed Monday.

Competition in the fish contests sponsored by local hardware stores stepped up a notch over the week end. A couple of fine entries, one the first in its class, and other bettering the brook trout mark were brought in.

Frank Zeiter opened competition at Stanley Brothers' contest in the bass division with his entry of a two-pound, nine-ounce large-mouth taken from West Twin lake. Although not a large specimen, it will likely start something and bring in better ones.

Kenneth Usher now holds the lead in the brook trout division of Wood Brothers' local and national Shakespear contest. He entered a limit catch of 15 Monday morning, the largest being 14½ inches in length and weighing 18 ounces. Another 14-inch trout in the catch tipped the scales at a pound even.

Has Storm Information.

The information bureau of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce now has a supply of small craft, storm and hurricane warnings, issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, weather bureau, showing what the storm signals displayed at the coast guard station mean.

ASK TOURISTS TO MICHIGAN

Official Invitation Is Issued by Conservation Department Chief.

An official invitation to tourists in every nook and corner in the United States to make Michigan their 1929 playground was issued last week by Conservation Director George R. Hogarth through the United Press.

"Michigan is looking forward to its most successful vacation season," the director said. "Our parks and camp sites are in the most inviting condition they have ever been and they can be reached by travelling over good highways."

"July, August and September are our ideal months. Michigan is inviting her neighbors to drop in and spend an enjoyable two or three weeks with us."

At the same time Hogarth asked campers and tourists to take special care during the summer months against destruction of forests by fires. He asked also that precautions be taken to see that all camp fires are extinguished before being deserted and that malicious and wanton destruction of trees, shrubbery and birds be avoided.

GIRLS' CAMP IS OPEN FOR SEASON

PROGRAM AT KAMP KAIRPHREE STARTED JUNE 25.

Popular Summer Place Has Large Registry—College Trained Staff Directing Activities.

Kamp Kairphree, directed by Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Swain, opened Tuesday, June 25, for the second season on the north shore of Lake Charlevoix.

Miss Odina Olson, head of the department of music in the University high school, Ann Arbor, is head counsellor, holding the same position as last summer. The athletic counsellors are Miss Jeanette Brauns from Evansville, Ind., and Miss Beatrice Winsans from Piqua, Ohio. Both Miss Brauns and Miss Winsans received their training at the Kellogg School of Physical Education, Battle Creek, Michigan; they are assisted in athletics by Miss Dorothy Malcolm of the University of Michigan. Miss Cleo Hartwig of Western State Teachers' college, Kalamazoo, is in charge of the handicraft work. The dramatic counsellor is Miss Camilla Boone, teacher in the Grand Rapids School of Expression. The nature work is in the hands of Miss Edith Randall, a teacher from Clinton, Ind., assisted by Miss Helen Rankin from the University of Minnesota, and also by Miss Mary Haskell, a camper who has become proficient in this work through several summers experience at Kamp Kairphree. Rifle is taught by Miss Miriam Carcy and archery by Miss Ruth Hollister, both of the University of Michigan. Dancing is taught by the Misses Innis Hushour and Jane Slier, graduates of Miss Travis' Grand Rapids studio of dancing. David Nelson, son of Professor and Mrs. Raleigh Nelson of the University of Michigan, has charge of the horse-back riding. Mrs. Buell, graduate of the University of Michigan, is the camp nurse. Miss Isabelle Shunkland, also of the U. of M., is camp accompanist, and Miss Miriam Hightley of the U. of M. is the editor of the Kamp paper, the Kairphree Kchatter. Mrs. Lois K. Bowen of Ypsilanti, Mich., is camp dietitian. On the staff are two young men, Edwin L. Swain and Maxwell Miles, who are guards for swimming and canoeing.

In the camp, there are 31 girls, including the above mentioned, who are from different towns in Michigan; Detroit, Ann Arbor, Hastings, Lansing, and one or two from Indiana, etc.

Although but one week of camp has passed, there have been two or three evenings in the assembly hall devoted to dramatics for the entertainment of the campers and one evening several groups of girls did some very acceptable dancing.

A number of girls have already taken swimming tests for classification in water sports. Up on the athletic field there have already been interesting games in tennis between individuals and group baseball games between two camp teams known as blues and whites.

All classes in camp activities have been organized and the girls are not only enthusiastic over what they are (Continued on page 8).

GILBERT L. DAANE, GRAND RAPIDS, Elected President.

Record Attendance at Charlevoix Convention—J. C. Bishop, Grand Rapids, Won Golf Tourney.

Gilbert L. Daane, president of the Grand Rapids Savings bank, was elected president of the Michigan Bankers' association for 1929-30 at the closing session last Thursday, of the association's 43rd annual convention at The Inn. He succeeds Walter L. Dunham, president of the Detroit Savings bank.

In a short address, Mr. Daane thanked the members for honoring him and expressed confidence that he would receive the same splendid cooperation that his predecessors have enjoyed.

Names Other Officers.

Other officers elected for the ensuing year are:

Grant J. Brown, of Flint, first vice president; John W. Haarer, of Lansing, second vice president; Frank J. Stevens, of Chesaning; treasurer; Mrs. Helen M. Brown, of Detroit, executive secretary; Ial H. Smith, of Detroit, general counsel, and Kenneth M. Burns, of Detroit, field secretary.

Seven new members of the executive council were elected for a two-year period.

They are: Frank E. Gorman, of Lansing; William H. Browne, of Greenville; Paul R. Baldwin, of Manistiquie; Stephen A. Graham, of Port Huron; W. A. Rosenkranz, of Owosso; and F. Howard Russ and Ralph Stone, both of Detroit.

Invited to Grand Rapids.

A suggestion that next year's convention be held in Grand Rapids was made by A. D. Crimmins, of the Grand Rapids National bank and heartily endorsed by Mr. Daane. This question however, will not be decided until next January.

A boat trip to Harbor Springs and return, the closing entertainment feature of the convention, was cancelled on account of a large number of delegates leaving Thursday afternoon. The convention attendance reached well over 500 and is believed to have set a record.

Wins Golf Trophy.

J. C. Bishop, Grand Rapids, went home Thursday with the Michigan Bankers' association trophy awarded for loss gross score of the two-day golf tournament, an entertainment feature of the 43rd annual convention of the Michigan Bankers' association, which convened at The Inn last week. Mr. Bishop also won the trophy presented by the banks of Charlevoix for the greatest number of pars.

One hundred thirty-seven players, the largest number to take part in any tournament sponsored by the association, were entered. Entries were divided in two groups, one division playing on the Belvedere club in the afternoon and the other on the Charlevoix club course. The order was changed the second, completing 36 holes of golf.

Other winners in the tourney for members were:

Low net score: L. J. O'Brien, Detroit; second low gross score: C. B. Kelsey, Grand Rapids; second low net, tied by Robert Bridge, Charlevoix, and A. J. Maynard, Detroit; lowest putts: J. H. Robson, Ovid, Mich.; kicker's handicap, tied by H. O. Mohrmann, Detroit, and R. C. Lassin.

Winners of the guests' tourney were:

Low gross score: C. L. Crame, Milwaukee; low net score, H. E. Tylor, Windsor, Ont.; second low gross score, Charles Ball, Jr., Plymouth; second low net score, V. J. Hufman, Grand Rapids; lowest putts, R. K. O'Hara, Chicago; kicker's handicap, Todd Sloan, Detroit.

Winners of tourney open to all were:

Longest drive on No. 1 hole, Charlevoix course; Ralph-Nixon, Detroit, 265 yards; nearest to pin on No. 14, Belvedere club course, Joe Frost, Ssginaw; low gross on Charlevoix club course, A. V. Albertson, Grand Rapids; low gross on Belvedere club course, L. G. Tolhurst, Detroit, and Frank G. Coleman, Grand Rapids.

Charlevoix, and especially The Inn management, received due praise for their efforts in making the convention of Michigan state bankers and their guests one of enjoyment.

Mrs. Ethel Barnett will give psychic readings and character analysis at 214 W. Lincoln avenue, phone 708.—Adv. 191f.

"KONJOLA BEST MEDICINE EVER GIVEN MANKIND"

Former Sufferer, Long a Victim of Rheumatism, Finds First and Only Relief In Modern Medicine.

MR. J. R. FEIGHTNER

"I was crippled with rheumatism," said Mr. James R. Feightner, Cottage Grove, Highland Park, Michigan. "I could not walk up stairs; it seemed that every joint in my body was afe with pain. I got scarcely any sleep and had to be so careful of what I ate that I was undernourished."

"I took three bottles of Konjola and then a change came over me that I shall never forget. The swelling in my joints subsided, the pains became fainter and fainter, my appetite improved, indigestion disappeared and today I am feeling like a man completely made over. I think the world should know that there is a medicine like Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout the entire section.

Norton Pearl, athletic director in the Detroit schools, is again spending his summer vacation on the banks of beautiful Torch lake. His father once owned the first and only store in Eastport, some 50 years ago. The building is now owned by Frank Hooper, who runs a restaurant there.

Rev. Garret Rosenboom, one of the best ministers that we ever had in this part of the country, preached his farewell sermon at the north Holland church last Sunday to a congregation of about 400 people. Mr. Rosenboom goes to First Christian Reformed church, Garfield avenue, Grand Rapids. He had a class here of 60 families; there he will have 115. He gets an increase of $1,000 in his salary, or $3,000 a year. We certainly are sorry to lose Rev. Rosenboom.

There was a gathering of about 180 people at the Old Settlers' picnic at Petoskey last week Wednesday. Rev. G. A. Weaver had charge of the affair, and certainly was a busy man. He had to look after the most of the registration, as well as placing of delegates. One speaker from Beulah said he had no dinner, and Mr. Weaver hustled around in the midst of the program to provide something for him. In the absence of the secretary, Mr. Weaver read the minutes of the meeting of last year, held at Benzonia. E. E. Gilbert, of Petoskey, president, ably conducted the meeting. He said they had searched around the Grand Traverse region for the oldest settler, and had found her at Kewadin. She was an Indian lady, 140 years of age. By asking her different events in history, they found that her age was correctly given. Mrs. Greensky and class of children gave an excellent exercise and sang "America." The Greensky Indian choir also sang a fine song and was encored for the second. Mrs. A. R. Clark, historian, of Petoskey, gave an excellent talk in which she said she had searched for someone of the region who was greatly loved, to write about. The old settlers came back at her by voting her as one who was thought a great deal of. Benzie and Emmet were the only counties responding to roll call. The crowning feature of the meeting was the talk by Dr. Johnstone, of Cadillac. He rehearsed the benefits of a meeting of this kind, introducing it with some hits of wit. His talk was much of the spiritual nature, explaining how the old settlers have been, and can be of benefit to their fellow men. He told how one might be born, live, and die, and but few people would scarcely know that they had existed, while, on the other hand a person who had the gift for helping others would be remembered after death by the kind things they had done. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: president, Elmer E. White, Traverse City; secretary, Mrs. Elmer White; treasurer, George E. Weaver, Petoskey; historian, Mrs. A. R. Clark, Petoskey; delegate from Antrim county, Frank Lesh; historian from Antrim county, Jesse Morse.

30x3 1/2 Clincher Tires for only $4.45 at Benj. Brown's Tire Shop.—Adv. 10tf.

It's a GREAT Tire --priced low!

Rugged—fine appearing—generously over-sized! that's the NEW Goodyear Pathfinder, and it wears as well as it looks.

Every bit of material used in those big, sturdy tires is carefully selected and thoroughly tested. The rubber is blended to obtain the standard uniform toughness of Goodyear treads and sidewalls. All materials must meet Goodyear's rigid standards. Goodyear experts measure for fine quality every bale of cotton used in Goodyear mills. Again when the cotton leaves the mill as Goodyear Supertwist Cord, it is tested. All through its building each tire is tested—inspected—watched to assure high quality.

No wonder Goodyear Pathfinders are GOOD.

We'd like you to see these tires. You'll appreciate their value. You'll appreciate their low cost. Just glance at the price for your size.

FARM POULTRY

HATCH TURKEYS IN INCUBATORS

Eggs Given Same Treatment as the Ordinary Hen.

It takes 28 days but turkey eggs can be hatched in incubators just the same as hens' eggs. Turkey raisers in several parts of Colorado are saving hours and days of hard labor that way and in the eastern part of Wyoming it is almost the universal practice.

The big job is to get enough eggs together at one time for a full-sized setting. They should not be held for more than ten days, according to Charles N. Keen of the Colorado agricultural college, should be kept at a temperature of from 50 to 60 degrees Fahrenheit, and turned daily. The incubator should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected then warmed to the correct temperature.

The temperature of hatching turkeys' eggs in the case of small machines, where the heat is at the top, may be one-half degree to one degree lower average than for hens' eggs. As a guide for those who do not have the instructions for their machine, the average temperature starts at about 103 degrees and increases to about 105 or 106 degrees the last week. If the eggs carry good fertility, the body heat from the developing poult will gradually bring up the temperature of the machine.

Additional moisture is needed as with hens' eggs. (A tray of sand kept wet will supply it.) Turkey poult should not be taken from the incubator until they are thoroughly dried off and appear strong on their legs.

When the eggs are set under hens or turkey hens, steps should be taken to insure freedom from lice or mites as these parasites cause very serious losses among the young poult. The nest boxes should be sprayed before the eggs are set. The setting hen should be dusted thoroughly with sprays of sodium fluoride or some other good lice powder at least three times during the latter part of the setting period, but prior to the twenty-fifth day.

Define Good Litter for Brooder House

There is no best litter to use in the brooder house, but there are certain requirements a litter must meet to be satisfactory. It should be light in weight, thus allowing the droppings and dirt to work to the floor so the chicks are less likely to come in contact with contaminated material; it should be absorbent, and therefore capable of keeping the floor of the brooder house dry; clean, so one can afford to replace it every five days.

be clean, white, free from mold, mustiness and dust.

Shavings, cut straw and cut hay meet these requirements. These are not the only materials that one can use, but they are among the best. Straw or hay used for litter, should always be cut. If the straw or hay is not cut it becomes matted and covered with droppings, and is therefore of no value for litter.

Bacterial white diarrhea, coccidiosis, and intestinal worms are spread to a large extent by dirty litter, the Cornell experiment station warns. One rule in brooding chicks that should be followed, if all others are forgotten, is "clean the brooder house every five days." This means removing the litter, sweeping the floor of the brooder house, and putting in clean litter.

BROOD CHICKS BY ELECTRICITY

Easier to Run Than Those Heated by Coal or Oil.

"Electric brooders are excellent for brooding chicks when the weather is mild. In New York state they may usually be used satisfactorily after April 15, or at any time in a room that does not depend entirely on the brooder for its heat," says Prof. L. E. Weaver of the poultry department at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y.

In answer to the question—can chicks be satisfactorily and economically brooded with electricity?—Professor Weaver says, "the answer is yes, but with reservations."

"Electric brooders are far more simple to run than are coal or oil brooders. When once regulated there is almost no more work or worry with them. But they must be in a room that is at least moderately warm, for the electric brooder confines the heat almost entirely to the space under it. It does not warm the room as is the case with coal or oil brooders. The chicks will not do well if the room is cold, and the cost of heating just the brooder alone gets too high even with a low rate for the current under such conditions.

"In purchasing an electric brooder one should be sure that it is provided with a positive heat regulator, that it is well insulated to prevent unnecessary loss of heat, and that provision is made for ample ventilation.

"Electric brooders are of two types, those with a curtain and those without. The curtain type requires less current but is apt to be poorly ventilated or not ventilated at all. The curtainless type with a good ventilating arrangement is probably the most desirable," says Professor Weaver.

When to Market Ducks to Make Most Money

Green ducks at eight weeks of age should weigh 11 pounds to the pair, and at ten weeks ought to reach 10 to 11 pounds. They command best prices about the first of May, and from then on until July the price gradually drops. From July 1 to September prices remain unchanged, but by September to November they are up again.

The general laying season starts about February and continues until the last of August. The first eggs of the season are purely fertile. Fertility and vitality are the keys to success in duck culture.

One way to make money out of ducks is to be ready with a good supply at the opening of the season, writes Michael K. Boyer in the Farm and Ranch. Another important item is the value of the mature, that of duck ranking second to hog for growing vegetables.

The trade for ducks is largely found in the restaurants and mountain and shore resorts, where they are served in quarters the carcass being cut into four pieces. Consequently, a duck weighing 4 or 5 pounds served in that way, will command just as much money as one weighing 2 pounds more.

In all large cities, where there is a large Jewish population, live ducks are in demand. In Chinese sections there is also a heavy call for this favorite food.

Poultry Hints

Do not condemn the late molting old hens, for they are very often our best and most continuous layers.

If the poultry house is not provided with ample window space so that the entire floor may be well lighted even during the winter days, additional windows should be put in.

The use of cod liver oil in rations for baby chicks that are hatched in early spring has been well established.

Egg-shell formation necessitates the use of large amounts of lime. Poor egg-shell texture is due to faulty supply or utilization of lime for the purpose.

Fewer chicks on new ground with good management will bring better returns than many chicks hatched and but few saved, by raising them with the flock on old ground.

Keep pullets away from the old hens so that they can be fed and handled differently.

Feed for Set. It should consist mostly of whole grains, such as corn and wheat, green feeds and meat tend to make them desire to quit setting and begin laying.

Community Building

Home Site Situation of Prime Importance

In considering a site for your own home it is quite necessary that your home lot be at least 40 feet wide. A lot narrower than this does not permit a proper distance between buildings, and cuts off the necessary amount of air and light.

A reasonable space is also necessary in order to guard against spread of fire from one building to another. A lot that is too narrow necessitates a certain type of house—one that is long and narrow, and this is not usually the most attractive style. On the other hand, a lot that is too wide is a source of unnecessary labor and expense. There will be more terrace or curb lawn to care for and a longer expanse of sidewalk to build and keep clean. The assessment for street improvements is also estimated from the number of feet frontage.

A lot should not be selected that is too shallow for a few outbuildings, a clothes yard and a small space for vegetables or flowers. The buyer of a lot should always bear in mind the possibility of some day selling, and should select a site which will appear attractive to others. If possible, choose a lot with some shade trees on it. If there be none, set some out at once, but do not make the mistake of buying quick-growing trees, which will afterward prove a nuisance.

Be careful to select a lot on the most favorable side of the street. Notice whether the morning or the afternoon sun will shine into the rooms where you most desire it, or vice versa. Will your front porch be cool in the afternoon? Will your sleeping rooms have a good sweep of air?

Beauty and Coloring in Brick Treatment

For those who desire to brighten the landscape in the building of their homes there are the certain effects to be obtained by either painting or whitewashing the common brick walls. Here, too, economy can be indulged, for any well-burned, run-of-the-kiln brick will give as good results as the highest priced. If a stucco effect is desired it may be had, or the sharp contrast of white against the green of the background.

"Clinker bricks, English architecture with fluted treatments and stuccoed gables, stone trim with inset irregular borders to lend to the mass variety, all are emphasized in these latter-day eastern Pennsylvania homes of common brick which are adding so much to the beauty, the permanence, the fire safety and the real value of their communities. And both home owners and architects are coming to appreciate all this.—Building Economy.

Work to Preserve Beauty

An organized movement toward preserving the scenic beauty of Delaware county, Pennsylvania, has been launched through the co-operation of the Chester (Pa.) Real Estate board and business and civic organizations of the county.

The Delaware County Parks and Boulevard association, a citizens' organization, has been incorporated to make possible the acquisition by the county of waste land along the scenic creeks and to conserve such land in its natural state.

Because of the rapid increase in values of the land every year of delay in starting such a scheme has cost the county $1,000,000. It has been estimated, Stream valley land, which sold for $700 an acre only a few years ago, has been discovered to have development advantages and is now bringing as high as $8,000 an acre, park engineers state.

Traffic in Large Cities

Several leading cities in the country are adopting the policy of separating the crosswise motor traffic from the main thoroughfare at busy intersections by elevating or depressing the crosswise thoroughfare. In some cases the grade separation is effected by raising the level of one street slightly and depressing the level of the other so that there is a minimum change of grade at either thoroughfare. Among the cities which have adopted such improvements are New York, Chicago, Detroit, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and San Francisco.

Trees Spell Town's Name

The villagers of Hion, N. Y., in the historic Mohawk valley, are setting out 5,000 pine trees in groups so as to spell the word "Hion." Each letter will be outlined by low white birches along the outer edge of dark evergreens. The foliage sign will occupy a 1,000-acre field on the peak of Oak hill. Every letter will be ten yards wide to make this aircraft signboard visible from a great height.

Sunlight and Health

Studies by physicians and scientists in England reported at the congress of the Royal Institute of Public Health, held at Brighton, indicate that sunlight, "either natural or artificial, when properly administered, may have a definitely beneficial effect on mental activity." It was found that children handicapped in school work by illness, when cured with the aid of sunlight, caught up with or outdistanced their classmates.

HOTEL NOBLE HAS ADDED DINING ROOM

Enlarged Kitchen Is Also Among Many Other Improvements.

The new dining room at the Hotel Noble, opposite the court house on U. S. 31 has just recently been completed and is a decided improvement at this popular hostelry.

A large extension built on the west side of the building has been utilized for this purpose. On three sides the dining room has large French windows covered with screen and may be thrown open to make an outdoor room. Interior furnishings are neat and tasty and the walls have been left natural finish for the summer at least.

Another fine addition has been made to the kitchen by an extension on the west side. It was planned to relieve congestion and give added space in this department.

TRAVERSE GETS SETTLERS' PICNIC

NEXT YEAR'S MEETING OF PIONEERS GOES THERE.

Elmer White of That City Is Named President—Fine Time Had At Petoskey.

Last Wednesday's annual picnic and meeting of the Old Settlers association of Northwestern Michigan was the largest held in years, about 180 pioneers registering. Some had been in Michigan more than three-quarters of a century, while many had been in this region 60 or more years. Several from Petoskey registered as being residents there since 1875.

Traverse City will entertain the 1930 picnic and meeting and Elmer White of that city will serve as president for the next year. Judge of Probate E. E. Gilbert, who served as president the last year, was named Emmet county vice president.

Other officers named included Rev. George A. Weaver, Petoskey, as treasurer; Mrs. Agnes Love, Traverse City, historian; Mrs. George Robinson, Traverse City, secretary. Other county vice presidents include: Antrim, Frank Leshner, Mancelona; Benzie, H. B. Woodward, Beulah; Charlevoix, Mrs. R. B. Armstrong; Charlevoix, Grand Traverse, Mrs. Fannie Sherman, Traverse City; Kalkaska, John Gillet, Rapid City; Leelanau, Ernest Voice, Empire.

Rev. A. W. Johnston, pioneer Presbyterian pastor at Cadillac, gave the address of the day in Pioneering in Michigan.

During the afternoon the Petoskey city band played several concerts and there was singing by the Green-ski quartet, and by Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Burkholder, Mancelona. Judge Gilbert conducted the business session which concluded at 5:30 when good-byes were said with promises to meet again next year.

The picnic was held at Arlington park where a platform had been set up and tables and seats provided for the visitors.

TEA GARDENS NOW OPEN FOR SEASON

Popular Clinton Street Place Has Unit at Belvedere Golf Club.

The Tea Garden at 203 Clinton street, west of the Charlevoix public library, has opened for the 1929 summer season.

This popular rendezvous of our summer visitors has made extraordinary plans for the pleasure of its patrons this year. A southern cook, who operated "The Hitching Post," tea room on the government reservation at Chickamauga, Tenn., is in charge of the culinary department and southern women have charge of the tea room. Their cook comes here with an enviable reputation from the south.

An added feature this season is the opening of a lunch room at the Belvedere Golf Club. The lunch room is in charge of an efficient, experienced staff.

The Tea Room is noted for its choice of beautiful imported goods, and this year promises an innovation in this respect.

BEGINNERS BAND HAS BEEN STARTED

New Class Holding Two Practice Sessions Each Week.

A beginners school band has been organized by Director John TerWer with an enrollment of 15 members. Practice sessions are being held each Tuesday and Friday evening and will continue throughout the summer.

The following are members of the new organization:
Cornets: Archie Swarlow, Jimmy Black; clarinets: Esther Case, Clair Ghason, Carol Webster; alto: Junior Hardy, Laurence Hull; saxophone: Harry Goldstick, Dick Straw; trombone: Harold Matthew; drums: Robt. Neff, Ted Pearl, Esther Brady. Two more cornets and two more trombones are needed and may enter if they report at once.

The regular school band is practicing each Friday evening during the summer, and Saturday night will give a concert on Bridge street.

FREIGHT ASSOCIATION MEMBERS COME MONDAY

Convention at The Inn Will Call Around 300 Visitors.

Charlevoix's second convention of the summer season opens Monday, July 8th, with the arrival of members of the Central Freight association at The Inn for their annual meeting.

Business sessions of the convention deal with freight movements on railroads throughout the middle western states. Members will be accompanied by their families and it is expected around 300 will be in attendance. E. T. Reynolds, general freight agent of the Pere Marquette railroad, is president of the association.

Preparations are being made for the entertainment of those attending the convention while in the city. A golf tournament which was an entertainment feature of the convention last year, will probably be held.

SUMMER GROUP PLAN TO ORGANIZE POLO

Mrs. H. S. Lyons and Others Working On Project Now.

Mrs. H. S. Lyons, Cincinnati, Ohio, resort summering at Charlevoix, together with others of the resort colony, are active this week on plans to organize polo at Charlevoix. Permission has been granted by A. L. Creamer, manager of The Inn, for use of ground near the hotel garage for a field. While nothing definite is available as yet, it is understood the project is meeting with considerable favor among summer people, and holds a possibility of permanent organization and competition between Northern Michigan resort colonies.

CHRYSLER MOTORS PRODUCT

This new and modern manufacturing plant is devoted exclusively to the production of Plymouth motor cars. It is the largest plant of its kind.

Marking the First Anniversary of a notable Success

PLYMOUTH—One year old this week—is already a giant in fact and favor

One year ago, Plymouth was a brand-new name to the motor world. In the brief span of twelve months, Plymouth, now newly refined and improved, has become everywhere a commanding figure in the low-priced field.

Only a year—and Plymouth finds itself in the biggest and most modern plant of its kind in the world. Only a year—and Plymouth production now exceeds the rate of 1000 cars a day.

Quality—that's the story of Plymouth success—quality that reflects itself in both appearance and performance—quality that says to the automobile buyer, "No longer does a small investment restrict you to a car of small dimensions."

See it, drive it—and learn what Plymouth quality means.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellemcamp

Alfalfa Seed.

For some time it has been hoped that several farmers in this county would become interested in the production of high quality alfalfa seed.

The counties of Cheboygan, Oscoda, Emmet, Antrim and Alpena already have entered the game and have thus far made good. They are using certified seed of the Hardigan and Grimm varieties which have shown the most promise as seed producers. They are securing yields of from one to three bushels of cleaned seed per acre, which gives them a nice profit per acre, and most important of all they are not robbing the fertility from the soil in so doing.

Arrangements have been made with Roy Decker, of the farm crops department, to spend Wednesday, July 10, in this county in visiting the farmers who are raising alfalfa for seed, or who are interested in starting. It is felt that better results might be accomplished by personal visits than by having meetings.

Therefore please let me know immediately if you wish to have us call on you and explain the merits of alfalfa seed production. We will be glad to talk the matter over with you.

Second Annual Guernsey Show and Picnic.

Plans are being rapidly completed for the Second Annual Guernsey Summer Show and Picnic which will be held at East Jordan on Thursday, July 11th. This event is the red letter day for farmers who are interested in Guernseys and is sponsored by the Charlevoix County Guernsey Breeder's Association which is now in its second year of existence. This association is made up of 25 of the leading Guernsey breeders in the county.

They cordially invite and urge all interested children to spend the day, to be their guests and to see the best Guernseys in the county which will be on exhibit.

Last year 29 head of Guernseys were shown and this year you are assured of an even better exhibit. Ribbons will be awarded the winners of the various age classes. Mr. W. D. Barrington, State Guernsey fieldman, will be present and will judge the show. This is your opportunity of finding out just what type Guernseys you want to work for.

A picnic dinner in the East Jordan city park will be enjoyed at the noon hour with coffee furnished by the association. Promptly at 1:00 a splendid program will be offered on the picnic grounds. Mr. W. D. Barrington will be the principal speaker. Local speakers from East Jordan and the Guernsey association will also have interesting talks. At 2:30 the judging will take place.

A Guernsey booth will be on the grounds to pass out information concerning Guernseys and to give out considerable material that you will be interested in reading.

The association is greatly appreciative of the splendid co-operation so gladly extended by the East Jordan Business Men's Club in assisting with the finances of the show.

Space does not permit giving you any more of the interesting features that will be on hand, but by all means come and enjoy the day with us and see the great progress of the Guernsey breeders in this county. Come early and spend the entire day at the east of East Jordan.

Equip your car with tires of Good-year make. Low in price and long in wearing quality. Benj. Brown has them—Adv. 101f.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

Weather proof side curtains, affording adequate protection to the cargo, are a feature of the canopy express model of the Dover Commercial car recently announced by Hudson. The car has a three-quarter ton capacity and is of rugged construction, possessing ample strength throughout for the full rated load.

Dodge Color Charts Typical of Rain-bow Shades On Motor Cars.

The well dressed automobile this summer has smart exterior color combinations that harmonize with luxuriously fitted interiors. So color conscious has America become that only artistic tints of body and fender lacquer, blending perfectly with the proper shade of upholstery will satisfy the demand for dash and brightness in the new car.

Color charts for Dodge Brothers are typical of the wide choice available in colors, striping and upholstery. On the New Six models, now being received by dealers, a range of color and upholstery shades insures prompt delivery of practically any combination desired, according to Benjamin Brown, local Dodge Brothers dealer.

Bolling green, Moss acute green, Riviera green, Ambate green, Lorenda green and Ladoga green run the scale of shades of that color on certain of the eight body styles available in the New Six line.

In the blues: Marquise blue, Twilight blue, Japanese blue and Moonstone blue are found.

Maroon shades include Toga maroon, Thorn maroon and Light Fast maroon.

Grays are featured by Thorn gray, Gopher gray, Fleetwood gray and gray Feldspar.

Browns include Brazil Nut brown, Crockett brown, Thorn brown and Varguene brown.

Pastel cream is also available in the deluxe coupe.

In addition, there are various combinations utilizing black lacquers. Stripping colors include ivory, vermilion, green, lake white and orange.

Similar wide selections are available in the color and material of the upholstery. Mohair is furnished in blue, tan or green shades to harmonize with exterior finish. Glenside broadcloth includes tan, gray or blue. Other upholstery listed includes Maroon Bedford cord and Tan Bedford cord. Tan and green leather are offered on many models.

"Every effort has been made to appeal to the most discriminating motorist," said Mr. Brown. "These options in colors and upholstery, together with choice of wheels and equipment afford practically a custom car, without the custom price, and in most cases the stock of cars on hand enables the buyer to see just how the colors he has in mind will look on the completed car."

Protect New Pastures by Eradicating All Weeds

Cows do not like weeds, and newly planted pastures, particularly where the stand of grass and clover is poor, should be mowed to destroy these pasture pests.

"Weeds do considerable harm to pastures," says S. J. Kirby, extension agronomist at the North Carolina State college and student of pastures. "As a rule, we find more weeds in those pastures where there is a poor stand of grass and clover, but even where there is a good stand in one and two-year-old pastures, it is not uncommon for weeds to give much trouble. Where the weeds are mowed once or twice after seeding the pastures, the soil gets under and the weeds die little or no trouble thereafter."

Mr. Kirby points out that probably the greatest injury to pastures from weeds comes from the chocking and shading done by the grasses. However, the weeds also use up the moisture and plant food and if all of these influences are not checked by mowing, the weeds take the pasture and little grazing is obtained.

Midsommer is the time to get rid of the weeds. These grasses and clovers which were retarded by the late spring and subsequent drought will quickly come from their own if the weeds are clipped. Where the pastures are properly protected from those two enemies, weeds and bushes they will give heavy production of pasture for many years.

WASHINGTON NEWS
LETTER

4-H Clubs Invade the Capital City.

There are at least 653,001 boys and girls in the United States who are looking to something besides Congress for the ultimate betterment of farm conditions. Last week their delegates came to the capital, pitched their tents in the shadow of the Washington Monument and stayed for four days, while the youngsters looked around the city, held conferences and heard learned opinions on farming and club work. The 4-H club, "Heart, Hands, Head, and Health," is composed of farm boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 12 who "learn by doing" the vocations of farm and home work.

Club work is carried on in a definite, systematic way. Farm and home projects are determined upon at a mass meeting early in the year; then club leaders working under the supervision of a county agent, home demonstration agent, or state club leader, supervise the carrying out of the work. Each member agrees to complete a definite project involving the farm or home during the year. It may be anything from planting an acre of some crop or, as is usually the case with the girls, accomplishing a stiff piece of home-entail work in the way of canning and preserving or sewing. Unusual ability is well rewarded by prizes generously offered by farm organizations, individual companies, and bankers.

"Make the best better" declares the organization through its motto. That is an optimistic in striking contrast to the sad tales that have been woven around the existing farm situation. Furthermore, it is an optimism buoyed up by actual achievements, as any community which houses a 4-H club can testify. Their emblem, a four-leaf clover with an "H" inscribed on each leaf, signifies conservation rather than good luck, but the latter quality somehow Atmosphere Listless But Storm Portends.

Ever since last week, when hundreds of Congressmen sped out of Washington to unburden their minds of farm relief problems for the far pleasanter and easier solution of the problem of relief from heat, the city has worn a distinctly deserted air. There are plenty of people left, of course. But the atmosphere is, generally speaking, listless. Congress, however full it may have seemed at some times or actually unnecessary at others, at least provided a show that proved during its highest points almost as entertaining as the musical comedies and plays that cease to visit Washington when the winter season is over. Even when there was nothing really exciting happening "up on the Hill," the expectation that something would happen at almost any moment in this most complicated of all sessions kept interest and hope alive.

Anyway, who would ask for excitement when the mercury creeps up day by day? The Senate Finance committee, the only legislative body left functioning, mops perspiring brows and wearily receives figures and arguments for and against protection of almost every industry in the United States. But who will brave the humidity sufficiently to toss his arm about and declaim on behalf of the oppressed consumer or the trampled farmer? High blood pressure and weak hearts take precedence in consideration over righteous wrath regarding exorbitant taxations—but only until September. And then! There will probably issue the greatest battle of oratory and wit ever waged in the country. Right now the stage is merely being set. The curtain goes up in the fall.

Death from Lightning Found Insignificant.

Persons who are accustomed to shudder and turn pale at the first distant peal of thunder may now take heart at this latest word from the Bureau of Standards at Washington. The number of people killed by lightning is shown to be 500 annually for the entire United States, an encouraging figure when the population of the country is taken into consideration. In comparison with 50,341 death from other accidents the lightning fatality is also insignificant.

"The actual danger from lightning," says the Bureau, "is in general very small, except under certain circumstances."

These certain circumstances consist almost entirely of exposure. The Bureau issues a warning to people who would avoid being struck by lightning that the outdoors is no place in which to witness a thunderstorm. Also, isolated schoolhouses and churches, where people often collect during an electric outburst may prove decidedly hazardous. Within buildings of considerable size and of modern structure, the danger of thunderbolts is materially lessened.

350 Miles of Books in Nation's Library.

If all the books in the Congressional library at Washington were placed end to end they would reach—There is no answer to this favorite statistical riddle, but it is definitely known that all the books simply placed side by side extend well over 350 miles. And they are still coming in at the rate of one every four minutes, day and night.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928, 169,535 books and pamphlets had been received at the library; 27,731 of these were purchased by the library, and were for the most part foreign books which did not fall under the international copyright law; 18,921 of the remainder were gifts, from individuals and non-official institutions, from city and state governments, or exchanges with other libraries. The others came in the usual way, according to law.

It would be interesting to know the miles of education, entertainment and information that will be lodged on the shelves of a single building at the end of the next ten years or so. Here is an exciting problem on which some lover of facts and figures can exercise his brain.

Manufacture of Sugar Is Not Farming Industry.

When is an industry farming, and when is it manufacturing? That sounds like a foolish question, but considered in the light of some individual industries it has possibilities.

Take, for instance, the case of sugar. That commodity was one of the first to bob up for immediate attention when an extra session for farm relief purposes was called. It rode into the tariff bill passed by the House much inflated through the efforts of the beet sugar people who offered it for consideration as the prime agricultural industry of infant proportions which should be protected until it had achieved maturity. The support given it by various farm organizations seemed to support their contention that this was genuine "farm relief."

It was a happy situation, so far as the domestic sugar producers were concerned—but it didn't last so well. First of all, there was the matter of an indictment against the Great Western Sugar company which had been hanging fire for some time. It was dismissed recently but the dismissal was made on a technicality; the court decided that the beet sugar industry was manufacturing and not farming, and that the Sherman Anti-Trust Act did not apply to manufacturing. People recalled right then that when Senator Borah's resolution to limit tariff revision to agricultural products only was brought up, there was some discussion as to whether sugar should be included in the event that the bill went through.

A political writer of Washington recently pointed out that the sugar tariff was likely to prove the undoing of the farmers, or at least their chief embarrassment. How can a farmer assume a holy indignation over the exorbitant tariffs granted for years to manufacturing industries, if he supports a tax as extravagant as that on sugar and cannot even prove that it is levied in the interest of legitimate farming?

"Avenue of the States" Planned for Capital.

There is in Washington a movement on foot which has a peculiar interest for United States citizens from all parts of the country. It is a proposal to create an "Avenue of the States" as part of the beautification of the Capital to be accomplished in the near future. The project is being sponsored under the leadership of Colonel Robert N. Harper, of the District National Bank, and Claude W. Owen, chairman of the Board of Trade's committee on the Roosevelt memorial.

Such an avenue would be lined with 48 buildings, each named for a particular state, in which exhibits of the products and natural life of the states would be on display. The idea is to carry out to the last detail the representation of each particular state, even to the building materials used. For instance, yellow and white pine would be the proper material for most of the southern state buildings, while the pride of California, its native redwood, would be used in the interior of her Washington home. Some things that might be included as part of the exhibits are: Fruits and vegetables, animal and bird life, historical chronicles and tablets, and colorful portrayals of the development of each state's outstanding industry.

Colonel Harper, in a recent radio address on the subject, said: "Our National museum deals with our civilization from the standpoint of the archeologist as a dead thing. These state buildings would be a demonstration that our civilization is a live and going affair, something to work for, to live for, something to develop and strive to perfect. No such museums now exist, and they would be of incalculable value to all our citizens in showing to the world at one central place the achievements of the American people and would be an inspiration to each succeeding generation."

ALBA PRIVATE BANK FORCED TO CLOSE

Frozen Assets Given As Cause of Action—Has Plenty of Assets.

The Alba bank of Noble and Bennett, a private institution, closed last week, steps now being under way for a receivership.

Comparatively heavy loans on certified seed potatoes last year were followed by a low price for that famed Alba product, with the result that the private bank was saddled with an over load of "frozen" assets.

According to the well-informed persons in banking circles, the bank possesses sufficient book assets to protect the depositors, provided they turn out to be worth par.

The bank was owned by Charles Noble, of Detroit, and R. C. Bennett, the latter living in Alba and being in active charge. Bennett is held in high esteem all over Northern Michigan, every indication being that his honesty and integrity are unquestioned, regardless of the closing of the private bank. —Petoskey Evening News.

A Buying Guide

Before you order dinner at a restaurant, you consult the bill-of-fare. Before you take a long trip by motor-car, you pore over road maps. Before you start out on a shopping trip, you should consult the advertisements in this paper. For the same reasons!

The advertising columns are a buying guide to you in the purchase of anything you need—including amusements! A guide that saves your time and conserves your energy; that saves useless steps and guards against false ones; that puts the s-t-r-e-t-c-h in family budgets.

The advertisements in this paper are so interesting, it is difficult to see how anyone could overlook them... fail to profit by them. Just check with yourself and be sure that you are reading the advertisements regularly—the big ones and the little ones. It is time well spent... always.

Avoid time-wasting, money-wasting detours on the road to merchandise value.

doing, but are doing some creditable work. The first of the season's issues of the Kamp Khatler to which a large number of girls contributed, was issued Sunday night and now girls and counsellors are all enthusiastic over presenting a program on the evening of July 5, to which anyone interested is cordially invited. This will be given about 8:00 o'clock last time.

To the general equipment of camp has been added a small building known as the Craftship, where all handicraft work is carried on and where later the combined work in the subjects of nature and art will be displayed.

In the first few days, many parents came to the camp, accompanying their daughters. Mr. Marlin of Ann Arbor accompanied his sister, Jean Frances Woodruff from State college, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Arthur L. Rose and Mrs. H. W. Noble of Detroit accompanied Althea Rose, and with Mary Jane Todd came Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Todd with their son and daughter from Kalamazoo. Accompanying Mary Phillips from Kalamazoo were Dr. Keene B. Phillips and Dr. Betty Phillips. With Marion Fead were Judge Louis Fead and Mrs. Fead of Lansing. From Kalamazoo were the Misses Edna and Maudie White with Barbara White, and from Webster Groves, Missouri, came Mrs. C. B. Comfort and son with Viola Comfort. Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Newcomb of Ann Arbor, accompanied their daughter Mary, and Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Whitman of Ann Arbor accompanied their daughter, Charlotte. Louis Reiman, director of Camp Charlevoix, with Mrs. Reiman, brought Jenn Reiman to camp.

Later visitors were Mrs. R. G. Stoddard of Minnook, Ill., accompanying her daughter, Mary Lita; Mrs. A. E. Johnson and her sister, Mrs. Whoman from Hastings, Mich., accompanying Barbara Johnson; and Mr. and Mrs. F. George Hechler and daughters, accompanying Mary Katherine Hechler.

Since Sunday Judge and Mrs. Fead with Mr. and Mrs. MacPherson and other members of the family, have visited the camp and, among the guests at the Belvedere are Mrs. E. C. Farr and daughter, Juanita who have come to Charlevoix for a week to visit with Bernice Farr, who is a member of Kamp Kairphree.

Representatives of Leading Railroad
Throughout County Enjoying The Inn Hospitality.

The Central Freight association with headquarters in Chicago, Ill., is holding its 116th meeting this week at The Inn, Charlevoix, Mich. This meeting is to be followed by a joint conference of representatives of the leading carriers serving New England, Eastern Trunk Line, Southern, Southwestern, Illinois, Western Trunk Line and Central Freight Association territories.

There is a large attendance of approximately 200 railroad representatives and their wives, enjoying the hospitality of The Inn.

The Central Freight association is an organization composed of representatives of all the principal railroads in what is known as central territory. Its meetings are held monthly and it is one of the oldest organizations of its kind in the country. Prior to last summer this organization had never held a meeting away from its headquarters, Chicago, Ill. The inducements of Charlevoix were such that this long adhered to rule was departed from and last summer their 105th meeting was held at The Inn. Charlevoix, the beautiful, and its wonderful climate offered so many attractions, and the hospitality of The Inn was such that at the adjournment of their meeting held in July 1928 it was unanimously concluded to hold the July 1929 meeting likewise at Charlevoix and their expectations of another enjoyable time have been more than realized.

This year the Central Freight association is augmented by representatives of Southern, Southwestern, Eastern Trunk Line, and New England Freight Association committees, who are holding their individual meetings, and at the conclusion of the Central Freight Association General Committee meeting there is to be a general joint conference of representatives of the railroads serving various sections of the country, to discuss subjects of interest pertaining to rates and freight rules and regulations applicable to, from and between Southern Freight and Southwestern Freight Bureau territories.

While these railroad representatives work hard and start their sessions at the early hour of 8:30 in the morning, nevertheless they find time for some pleasure. It is demonstrated by the golf course attendance.

No regular program of entertainment has been arranged, each one being permitted to choose his or her pleasure. It is a most congenial gathering, all are having a pleasant time, and everyone will leave Charlevoix with many kind remembrances and with the hope that they will again have the opportunity of visiting this most charming resort.

E. T. Reynolds, general freight agent of the Pere Marquette railroad, Detroit, Mich., is devoting much of his time to the personal comfort and enjoyment of each member and his family, and every one attests to the success of his efforts. The Inn is contributing to the enjoyment of the occasion by its hospitality and the courtesy of every attendee of the hotel. A. I. Creamer, manager of The Inn is personally taking much interest in the welfare of the visitors and is doing much in the direction of making their stay here a pleasant one.

L. E. Oliphant, vice chairman of the Central Freight association, Chicago, Ill., is presiding over the Central Freight association meeting and will also preside at the joint conferences which will follow later in the week.

ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING MONDAY EVENING

Two New Members Elected to Board of Education.

Mrs. Brynton Saltonstall and Mrs. Harley Ochs were elected members of the board of education at the annual meeting of Charlevoix school district No. 1, city and township, held at the school auditorium Monday evening. The retiring members were Olaf Nordrum and Alonzo Powers. An attendance of between 60 and 70 were present.

It was voted by electors present to provide transportation to and from school for students living in outlying districts of the city.

ANNUAL GRANGE PICNIC IS AT PETOSKEY

Grangers From Six Counties Meet There Wednesday.

Petoskey is to be the scene of the annual Six County Grange picnic and rally on Wednesday of this week. Grangers and their families and friends from Emmet, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Antrim and Otsego counties go there for the day, about 1,500 being expected. The picnic dinner will be served at noon, eastern standard time, at Magnus state park, where tables will be in readiness.

The picnic is to be a pot-luck affair with the Emmet county grangers furnishing the coffee, cream and sugar. Following the meal there will be an open program of talks, songs, etc., to which everyone is invited. The evening program will be for grange members only and will be at the high school.

Among those who will attend are State Master Roxbury, Reed City, the state lecturer, Mrs. D. Stockman, Lansing, and several other state and national officers.

CHARLEVOIX TENNIS CLUB ELECTS

MET WITH CLUB PRESIDENT TUESDAY FORENOON.

Plans for Michigan Riviera Tournament Discussed—The Inn Court Fees Go to Charlevoix Club.

Preliminary plans for the Michigan Riviera Tennis championships, to be played August 5-11 on The Inn clay courts, Charlevoix, were discussed at a meeting of the Charlevoix Tennis Club, held Tuesday forenoon with A. I. Creamer, club president, at the Vassar cottage on The Inn grounds. With but one exception, 1928 officers of the club were re-elected for the ensuing year. A. I. Creamer continues as president; Archie L. Livingston as vice president; Edward Edwards as treasurer, while Harold Hallett, one of the original organizers of tennis at Charlevoix, was elected secretary. A tournament committee, composed of the following, was appointed: Andrew I. Creamer, Archie L. Livingston, Edward Edwards, Gerald Richardson, Harry A. Craig, Robert Miles, Fred E. Cartier, A. J. Usher, Kenneth Usher, George Beaman, Gerald Ash, C. Y. Marshall, Charlevoix; Charles Fox, St. Louis, Mo.; John Knight, Kalamazoo; Ted Joslyn, Grand Rapids; Frank T. O'Brien, Grand Rapids; Chester, Petoskey; Mrs. H. S. Lyons, Cincinnati, Ohio; Jacob M. Plaut, Cincinnati. Other necessary tournament committees will be appointed by the executive committee, consisting of club officers.

Mr. Creamer's generosity in every movement pertaining to the benefit of Charlevoix generally, cropped out anew at the meeting with the announcement of a plan to charge court fees during the present season and turn the money over to the Charlevoix Tennis Club treasury. Two courts will be reserved for The Inn guests and when these are not in use they will be available to the general public. The other three are for public use. A court fee of 50c per hour will be charged. Those desiring to play must make reservations in advance.

Tennis club members look upon the plan with considerable optimism. With a substantial revenue available future tournaments promise to be self-sustaining, not to mention improvements which will be made possible on the courts. It may be truly said the club's "Ship Has Arrived," and members of the organization cannot be too grateful for Mr. Creamer's generosity.

Gerald Ash, who is directing the Riviera tournament for the tennis club and The Inn, announced many entries for the event, which promises to be the best ever held here. The meeting had all the old time "pop" and optimism of previous years and following adjournment, those present were Mr. Creamer's guests at luncheon at The Inn.

Annual Guest Day.
The annual Guest Day meeting of the Congregational Women's Missionary Society will be held at the church next Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. George Thompson, a summer visitor at Sequanota, will be the speaker.

FINE PATRIOTIC PROGRAM ON JULY FOURTH

Misunderstanding As to Time and Place Kept Crowd Down.

The patriotic program held in the city park as a part of the Independence celebration was worthy of a larger attendance.

A misunderstanding, both as to the hour and the place, no doubt accounted in part for so few being present.

The program consisted of several numbers by the Boyne City band, the singing of "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "America the Beautiful" by all; recitations by Herman Meyers, Virginia Block and Dorothy Taylor.

A declamation by Stanley Hammond and a fine presentation of a portion of the Declaration of Independence by Dr. F. F. McMillan, prefaced by the history of that famous document.

GREAT GOLF TOURNEY IS PROMISED

TWO LOCAL CLUBS ARRANGING $3,000 PURSE FOR MEET.

Event Will Attract Foremost Golfers of the Country and Be Banner Event of Michigan.

With a proposed $3,000 purse to shoot at, Charlevoix is extending an invitation to the country's foremost golfers to compete in what is to be known as the first annual Northern Michigan Open Golf tournament.

Plans for the tourney were announced Monday through William Watson, professional at the Charlevoix and Belvedere Golf clubs, who, together with club officials, is working on preliminary plans for the event. Charlevoix hotel interests, resort managements and club members are co-operating on the financial end of the project and present indications are that there will be no difficulty in raising the necessary money. A tentative date for the meet has been set for the last week in August. Play will be conducted the same as the national open—72 holes of medal play, with 36 holes on each of the two courses.

Heinie Martin, sporting editor of the Grand Rapids Herald, says the following about the proposed tourney:

"What should attract the majority of the paid of the profession in Michigan golfing circles is a new $3,000 Open golf tournament, announced by the Charlevoix and Belvedere Golf clubs, backed by the hotel interests of Charlevoix.

"With $3,000 in prize money up, it is quite likely that virtually all the leading professionals of the state will compete, as tournaments for the pros are too few as it is. The Northern Michigan Open should rank as one of the banner events of the Michigan golfing season."

Officials of the clubs now have negotiations under way with Johnny Farrell, 1928 national open, and Walter Hagen, British open champion, to have the two famous stars among the entrants. Emmett French, Southern Pines professional and one of the nation's foremost golfers, is another almost positive entry.

The tournament without a doubt will be the banner event of the Michigan golfing season, and the most brilliant affair ever staged at Charlevoix.

ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING MONDAY EVENING

Two New Members Elected to Board of Education.

The women had their inning at the annual school meeting Monday evening and elected Mrs. Harley Ochs and Mrs. Brayton Saltonstall for three year terms to take the place of two retiring members of the Board of Education.

The annual reports of the treasurer and librarian were read and will be published elsewhere in full.

The board was directed to provide bus service for the children living on the outskirts of the district.

The board now consists of the following members whose terms expire in the years named: H. A. Craig and E. L. Dawson, 1930; C. F. Wood, 1931; Mrs. Ochs and Mrs. Saltonstall, 1932.

Burns, Detroit, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Chatter, E. J. Chatter, Jr., Kenneth Chatter, Miss Rosemary Chatter, Mt. Clemens, Michigan.

The week's outing closes next Sunday. According to information gathered, the visitors are having a wonderful time and are enjoying the charms of Charlevoix and the splendid hospitality of the Belvedere Hotel.

CITY PARK BUSY PLACE ON FOURTH

Scene of Endless Picnic Parties Throughout the Day.

The city park on the shore of Lake Michigan was the scene of numerous picnic dinners on the Fourth and the tables and swings in the vicinity of the pavilion were in use many times during the day.

The park commissioners are to be commended for the fine appearance of the grounds.

We wish this beauty spot might be given a more distinctive name as people often confuse the present name with Memorial park on Bridge street.

BAND CONCERT PROGRAM FOR THURSDAY EVENING

Splendid Selections to be Played at Bridge Street Stand.

The regular weekly band concert will be given Thursday evening July 11, at 8:00 o'clock at the Bridge street stand. Following is the program:

March, "The National Emblem," Dance of the crickets, "Caprice," Overture, "Gems of the Opera,"
March, "Gloria,"
"Gayety Polka," Cornet Solo.
"Fornawanda," Indian Dance.
Overture, "The Bondman," March, "Our Director,"
"Gala Night," Overture.

CENTRAL LAKE.

Bad haying weather. Rain is good for strawberries, but poor for haying.

H. C. Sowers of Indianapolis, is visiting this week at the home of Rev. Wall.

S. B. Anway was re-elected for treasurer at the school meeting at Bay View Monday evening.

Dan Haddock of Detroit, came up last week and will spend the summer here with relatives and friends.

There are 29 people at the Bay View Sunday school last Sunday even though the weather was inclement.

Forest Dewey of the Benton barber shop, Charlevoix, came down Sunday and visited with relatives here.

Ira Springstead and family were called here Saturday from Ellsworth on account of the accident to their father.

About 35 were present at the M. E. Sunday school last Sunday. The Aid gives a supper Saturday evening at 5:30.

Moses King was elected president of Antrim County Sunday School association last week, and E. S. Carroll secretary-treasurer.

G. A. and Clifford Morse are in Traverse City and vicinity looking after the contract crops for J. B. Rice Seed company.

Paul Sutton, who is attending Mt. Pleasant Normal, drove up from there Saturday. He will return this week to help with the college play.

Guy McPherson and wife from Arizona are visiting at the home of his wife's mother, Mrs. Euler. Mrs. McPherson's health has improved since going to Arizona.

At the Antrim County Sunday School convention last week, Moses King was elected president to succeed E. S. Carroll, who now holds the office of secretary-treasurer.

Ira Springstead and family were called here Sunday evening by the accident to her father. Mrs. Fern Smalley, also from Ellsworth, accompanied Dr. Duffie with Mr. Edson to Petoskey.

Rev. G. A. Weaver called at the home of Lambert DeVries last Friday. He announced the revival meetings being held at Twin Bridges, near Mancelona. A special service was to be held Sunday.

Otto Salechow was re-elected for director at Grand View Monday evening. J. W. Morse will teach there next year. It is the school that he taught for four years, ten years ago. Mr. Salechow was the director at that time.

E. H. Sowers of Indianapolis, Ind., is visiting at the A. A. Wall home. He and Rev. Wall attended Baptist church at Eastport last Sunday afternoon. The plastering and ceiling have been finished and the church will soon be completed.

Dr. Dan Duffie gave an inspiring address at the Sunday School convention, in which he admonished all to cling to the Bible as it is according to the King James version and not to be led astray by "sciences" and those who want to abbreviate or change it.

Bay View Sunday school had an attendance last Sunday of 25, although the inclemency of the weather kept some at home. The M. E. Sunday school had 35 people present. Next Saturday at 5:30 p. m., the Methodist Aid gives a supper at the town hall. Proceeds for benefit of the church.

Of the three men injured in the truck accident out near the Morrow place a week ago Sunday, two have recovered and one is still at Ann Arbor. The gentleman and colored chauffeur who turned their car over on Larabee's corners last week Wednesday, were but slightly injured, although all car windows were broken.

Everybody was shocked Tuesday morning to hear of the sudden death of William H. Knowles who owned the Central Meat Market. He is an old resident of this place. He died after an illness of only about an hour, at 3:00 Tuesday morning. He had been president of the village at one time, and held other minor offices.

A gentleman and colored chauffeur turned over at Larabee's Corners four miles northwest of here last week Wednesday. The white man was quite badly cut up, but the negro was uninjured. All the windows of the car were broken as the car went over the embankment. It is a very dangerous corner and ought to be better marked.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Farrel, who run a creamery, are supplying the Y. M. C. A. Boy's camp this summer, also the Camp Wananda, girl's camp on Torch lake. Both camps have started with large crowds for the season. Lloyd Morse, who supplies Mrs. Mattison's Crystal Lake Girl's camp, with 12 horses for riding, has begun operations this week.

One of the worst accidents since Mr. Clark and Mrs. Graffmiller were killed on the Pere Marquette railway trucks here a few years ago, occurred near here last Saturday evening. Mr. Dudley Edson of Ellsworth, his wife and her daughter, were coming home from a fishing trip at Bellaire at about 10:00 in the evening. When near the Southern cemetery, south of town, it is thought the car must have struck a rut in the road, swerved, struck a tree, and turned over. Mr. Edson fell part way out of his car, with his head under the car. One ear was severed from his head, and his skull crushed. His wife was badly cut and bruised, but the daughter was uninjured. Dr. Duffie was immediately called by passing motorists who righted the car. Mr. Edson was immediately rushed to Petoskey hospital. Mr. James Drake and his wife, Floyd Boice and wife were up to Petoskey Monday, but say little hopes are entertained for his recovery. An X-ray picture was taken of the skull. One doctor thinks there is no fracture, but Dr. Duffie and another doctor thinks there is.

Mrs. R. T. Edwards and daughter, Margaret, of Ann Arbor, and her son, Tom Edwards and wife, of Detroit, came up last week and are resorting out at her farm at Bay View. She recently ran a rooming house for college students, but the million dollar dormitory being erected by the state has spoiled the business of many who were caring for students in this way.

ANTRIM CITY.

Milow Smith, the cow tester, was at the Stott home Tuesday.

Stanley and Glen Lord were visitors at the Stott home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stott and family were visitors at the Stott home Sunday.

Earl Myers of Rogers City, is a visitor at the Brooks home for a few days.

Mr. Stott has been cutting hay on the Maurice Henry place the past week.

F. Brooks and son, Lester and George Post were also in Charlevoix Wednesday night.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS By B. C. Mellencamp

On Wednesday of last week the alfalfa fertilizer demonstration plot at the farm of David Smith, just west of Horton's Bay, was harvested by I. J. Matthews and Ward Andrews both of the American Export Potash Corporation, who furnished the fertilizer.

This is the first cutting of hay from the five different lots, each having a different analysis of fertilizer used, but the same rate of application. The alfalfa was seeded last May with oats as a nurse crop. An excellent stand was secured in this manner.

The following results were obtained from the experiment, each plot having 425 pounds applied per acre:

First plot, 0-16-0 analysis, 4,060 pounds hay per acre.

Second plot, 0-16-8 analysis, 5,060 pounds hay per acre.

Third plot, 0-16-16 analysis, 5,620 pounds hay per acre.

Fourth plot, 0-16-24 analysis, 5,930 pounds hay per acre.

Fifth plot, 0-16-30 analysis, 6,180 pounds hay per acre.

Sixth plot, no fertilizer analysis, 2,930 pounds per acre.

Seventh plot, no fertilizer analysis, 2,170 pounds hay per acre.

The important results from the experiment are that where phosphate was used alone, approximately twice as much hay was secured as where none was used, and where 0-16-30 was used approximately three times as much forage was cut. In all cases weeds such as thistles and dock were removed which gives us the actual weight of the hay itself.

This experiment will be continued for several years and no doubt some very valuable information will be secured on the proper fertilizer for alfalfa.

Five other plots are located in Michigan in different counties, so that accurate information will soon be available.

Calf Club Meeting.

A very instructive calf club meeting was held at the farm of Clyde Smith, Charlevoix, on July 1st. All the members of dairy club work were present with the exception of one, in the entire county.

Nevels Pearson, state dairy club leader, was present and conducted a demonstration on fitting and showing for the fair. He showed them how to trim off the scraggy hair about the head, shoulders and tail which many times spoils the appearance of the animal, how to polish the horns and to trim the feet.

Secondly he explained the matter of keeping accurate records and of finishing up the project in the most approved manner.

Thirdly, a judging demonstration was conducted. The many points that indicate dairy type and production were carefully stressed by Mr. Pearson and last of all two dairy cows were judged and placed by the members themselves.

Many of the members are planning on attending the Northern Michigan Club Encampment at Gaylord on the week of August 6th.

All the members are taking a very active interest in the work and the most successful year is in prospect.

AT THE MOVIES

Star Plays Student and Fighter.

William Haines, gravitating between a college campus, as the son of a millionaire, and the prize ring, as middleweight champion, plays an exciting and romantic dual role in "The Duke Steps Out," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's filmization, with dialogue, of Lucian Cary's famous Saturday Evening Post novel, which comes Wednesday and Thursday to the Palace Theatre.

Jazz Orchestra Plays in Peppy Musical Film.

With the casting of Jess Stafford's jazz orchestra in "Close Harmony," a Paramount all-dialogue and singing production, Charles (Buddy) Rogers renewed acquaintance with three of the young musicians in the organization.

Rogers plays the leading male role in "Close Harmony" which comes to the Palace Theatre for two days on Monday and Tuesday, and the musicians who appear with him are Lucan Lukas, Clyde Lukas and Art Winters. They attended the University of Kansas with Rogers and played in the same college orchestra with him.

Colorful Scenes in "Love and the Devil."

Many striking scenes of an unusual nature, largely of an exotic character, enhance the charm of the romantic drama, "Love and the Devil" which comes to the Palace Theatre next Friday with Milton Sills in the stellar role, and Maria Corda as leading woman.

Desert Terrors Furnish Vivid Film Background.

Portraying vividly the terrors of the sun-baked sands of the desert, John Gilbert's latest Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature, "Desert Nights," with synchronized score and sound effects, will be at the Palace Theatre Saturday and Sunday. Mary Nolan and Ernest Torrence appear in prominent supporting roles.

The story, which opens in the grim and death-infested regions of South Africa is based on the sensational and daring robbery of a diamond mine. How the manager is tricked into displaying a fortune in uncut stones, only to be made a prisoner and forced to accompany his captors into the heart of the desert country in an effort to escape with a priceless loot, is one of the dramatic highlights of the production.

EDITORIALS

HE SELLS YOU FOOD.

We are very much in sympathy with the grocery man today.

We have been reading about him in a bulletin put out of the United States Department of Commerce. This department looks into the facts of business, co-operates with the various trade associations, tells what it sees.

If you do not think your grocery man has any problems, read the bulletin.

Take the matter of stocks in trade. Investigation of some larger stores was made. One store had 102 items in the coffee line. Yet 65 per cent of the business was done in ten items. Another had 77 different items in tea, yet 81 per cent of its tea business was in three staples.

Some people wish this and some wish that. The accommodating grocer does all that he can to supply those particular individual requirements, in most cases at a loss to himself.

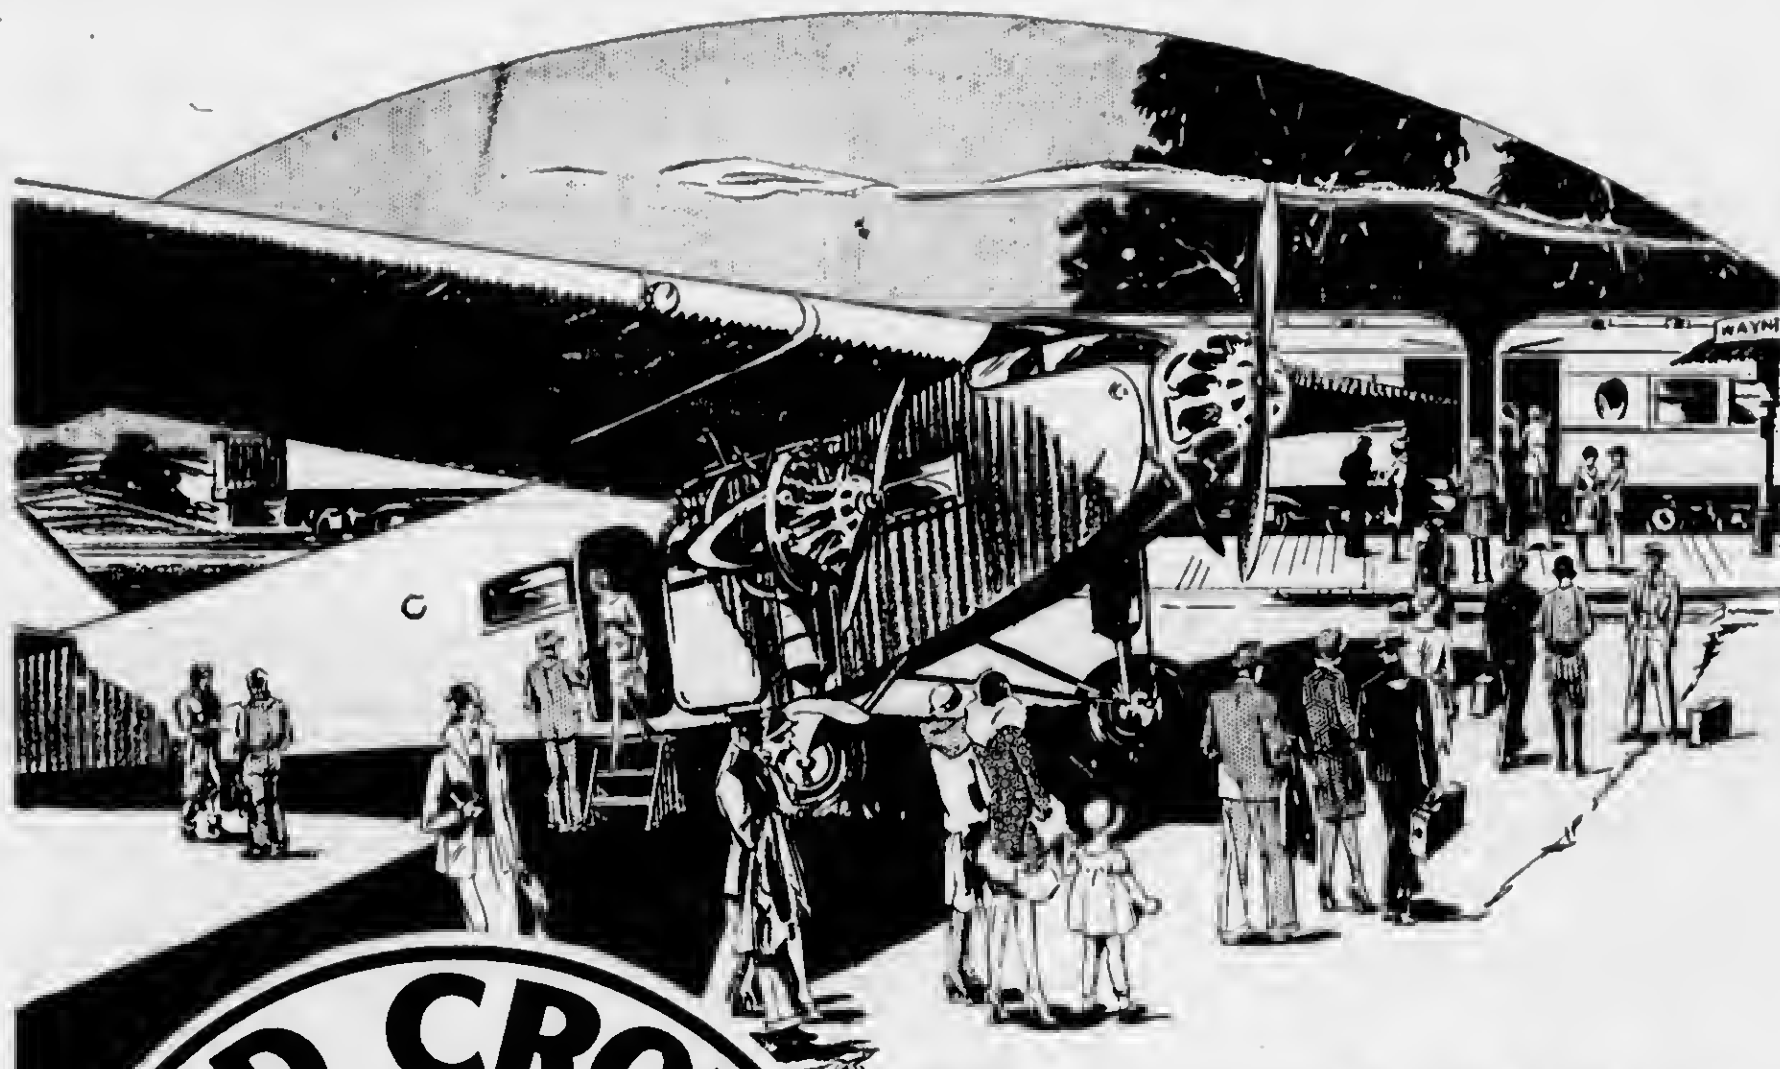

Half of the grocery business is selling a few staple articles, bread, butter, coffee, eggs and sugar. In these items the merchant gets what is termed a good turnover. That is, the sales are many, many times the volume of the stock carried on hand. One could sit down on paper and figure where reasonable profits and a large turnover will leave something for the merchant.

That is hardly true. The prices of many staple articles, sugar, as an example, has been cut down so low that there is nothing left for the merchant. That is rather discouraging, particularly where the balance of the stock is of the slow moving kind that eats itself up in carrying charges as it lies on the shelves.

Did you ever stop to think about the accommodation of delivery of your food orders?

That is another problem to your grocery man. You call up and he brings the order. You know what it

We have heard a great deal about other.

Dependability and Brilliant Performance

Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc. selects Stanolind Aviation Gasoline over its Eastern Division to insure the faithful operation of its new 48 hour plane-train schedule from New York to Los Angeles. Schedules must be maintained.

In the air, as on land, gasoline of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is famous for brilliant, unflinching performance.

Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline

has won its popularity by performance. Proved Dependability was the influencing factor. Motorists boast about what it will do. Friends "try it once"—and continue to use it. For Red Crown Ethyl improves performance in a way that you can notice immediately.

At the wheel you can feel the difference Red Crown Ethyl makes. New life—new power—new speed at your command! Your car is easier to drive—quicker to pick up—smoother in low gear and swifter in high. Climbs hills with power to spare! Red Crown Ethyl "knocks out that knock".

Red Crown Ethyl is Red Crown, the famous premium gasoline, with Ethyl fluid added to give it all the advantages of high compression. High compression fuel that will improve the performance of any engine. A tonic for any car. See what it will do for yours!

MICHIGAN NOT SLOW.

We respectfully beg to advise our fellow-citizens that Michigan is not slow. The state is already reaping dividends upon an improvement on its livestock for which the movement was begun less than a quarter of a century ago. Then Michigan was complaining of the low quality of its live stock. The predominant features of the herd were the "grades" and cross-bred cattle. The country was getting a large part of its high-grade beef supply from Texas ranges then. Since that time the Texas cattle have been depreciating in quality, and herdsman, bankers and good folks generally who have been interested in the betterment of their state have been bringing the quality of their cattle up. As a part of that process we learn that shipments of Michigan and Wisconsin cows are coming into that state weekly for this purpose. With better cows come better barns and dairy equipment, of the latter of which Michigan is also a producer. All of which goes to prove anew the truth of the adage that God helps them who help themselves.—Michigan Manufacturer and Financial Record.

SEVEN MISTAKES OF LIFE.

An Exchange lists the following seven mistakes of life:

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others down.
2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.
3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we ourselves cannot accomplish it.
4. Attempting to compel other persons to believe and live as we do.
5. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind by not acquiring the habit of reading fine literature.
6. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences in order that important things may be accomplished.
7. The failure to establish the habit of saving money.

THIS IS WORTHY OF PASSING DOWN THE LINE

"We feel like getting out of the office and putting an 'age' on it every time that we hear the statement that the roads between Elk Rapids and Charlevoix are blocked for traffic. We don't know exactly who is the guilty party but we assure our many readers that when we do find the guilty parties we most certainly will print their names in great big type, large enough for a blind man to read it. Persons wanting to find out the correct 'dope' on any road or roads in this vicinity should drop a line to the Elk Rapids Resort and Industrial Association (which is owned by the Township of Elk Rapids) to give information free and has nothing in the way of real estate to sell. We have often, very often, contradicted the canard, so, once and for all we want to say that the detour via Alden and Bellaire, and Central Lake village offers a very pretty conglomeration of scenery to the tourist, and that our future attention will be devoted to ferreting out the son of Anninas who is masquerading under some other name.—Elk Rapids Progress.

COUNTY CLERK UNDER ARREST

FACES CHARGE OF EMBEZZLING STATE FUNDS.

Shortages in County Funds Have Been Uncovered—Hearing of Case Set for July 16.

George A. Roderick, Charlevoix county clerk, is under arrest on a charge of embezzlement preferred by the state department of conservation, following an audit of his books. He is specifically charged with taking $2,040 of game and fish license monies.

Mr. Roderick has been practically confined to his bed for several weeks on account of illness. Upon a physician's written statement of his condition, Roderick was released on his own recognizance until July 16, when he is to appear before Judge Parm C. Gilbert for hearing.

While a complete audit of the books of the office has not been made, it is known there are shortages in other departments other than the one above mentioned. Fees of the office since January 1 have not been turned over to the county treasurer, as well as a portion of fines and costs assessed by the circuit court. What other shortages may result from an audit are still problematical. It is understood the shortages cover a period of two years or more, and that the total will be between three and four thousand dollars.

We understand that Mr. Roderick has taken steps to repay all funds misappropriated, but what other disposition of the case will be made is unknown.

The Courier has been in touch with the situation for some time, but had entered sort of a gentleman's agreement with other publications to withhold information until definite facts were available. Unfortunately the above mentioned agreement was broken last week by one of our local newspapers, forcing us to publish a story before facts of the case have been fully determined.

New CHEVROLET Sixes on the road since Jan. 1st!

Today's Chevrolet is scoring a huge nationwide success because it represents one of the most sensational achievements in automotive history—a Six in the price range of the four.

The Chevrolet six-cylinder engine delivers its power—freely, quietly, and easily throughout the entire speed range—delightfully free from annoying vibration and rumble. Combined with this remarkable six-cylinder smoothness are equally remarkable speed, power and acceleration—and an economy of better than twenty miles to the gallon.

In addition to such sensational performance the Chevrolet Six offers the outstanding advantages of Bodles by Fisher. And no car ever provided a more impressive array of modern convenience features—adjustable driver's seat and VV one-piece windshield in closed models, easy action clutch and gear-shift, ball bearing steering, and instrument panel complete even to theft-proof Electrolock and electric motor temperature indicator!

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Civilian Army Is Vast and Varied.

Practically everybody in this country, no matter how far he may be removed from Washington, receives daily some benefit of government service. If asked whether this were true or not, he would probably ponder a moment and then say, "Oh, yes—the postal service." Undoubtedly, the postman makes the most direct and frequent contacts with the persons he serves, but he does not nearly represent the vast number in Uncle Sam's employment, although he is well in the majority. The remainder of the government army totals 257,780, embracing nine major departments and many independent commissions and bureaus.

The personnel of the Civil Service is highly varied. It includes scientists, engineers, highly specialized technicians, government clerks and stenographers, and a horde of persons in the shops and laboratories of the government all over the country as well as in the army and navy factories. Their investigations cover practically every phase of human welfare and the information they compile is either applied directly or made readily available in printed form.

The growth of the Civil Service has been great but not disproportionate to our increase in population and activity. It will be remembered that under the old Spoils System, it was a case of "The more job holders, the better—for politicians." There were numerous instances of rewards being given for political support in the shape of government positions. Often the appointees employed somebody else to do the work for them and paid them half of the attractive salaries. Not only has this objectionable feature of government work been abolished, but statistics show that in every other way the Civil Service is more efficient than the old spoils system. The Civil Service commission, for instance, has been investigated five times by congressional committees—and it has come out of the investigation every time with a clean bill of health.

Politics This Week.

Perhaps nothing more refreshing has come out of the political welter during past months than the decided stand which the Democratic National Committee has recently adopted in opposition to the Hawley Tariff Bill now being considered by the Senate Finance committee. It cannot be said that the position of the democratic party as a whole toward the bill has been very clear since the beginning of the extra session. The old unyielding opposition to high protectionists with their greedy demands upon the consumers' purse seemed to waver and, in some directions, to give way altogether. There were Democratic congressmen, of course, willing to vote for the bill as a whole with its long list of unnecessary and usually indefensible rates in order to retain the good will of constituents who desired high tariffs on their own products, and their influence greatly weakened the once-united front of Democratic ranks.

From its new headquarters in Washington, however, the Democratic National Committee has delivered in rapid succession a number of broadsides against high tariffs which leave no doubt as to the national party's stand on Mr. Hawley's little masterpiece of "farm relief." It is that very phrase which seems to have irked most of the Democratic Senators, whose opinions the committee quotes. They refuse to swallow the Republic's positive statement that the bill is farm relief and, what is more, they take special pains to point out that the farmers are being relieved of nothing but their money in order to help manufacturing industries. Senator George of Georgia attacked the bill as a whole, as did Senator Connally of Texas. Senator Harrison showed up the absurdities of the domestic sugar producers' claims. All these men are members of the Senate Finance committee.

So the consumer who looks with fearful anticipation upon the proceedings of Congress can take heart now. And in answer to those who object that the Democratic party is a minority one and relatively powerless, we answer, "What of the Progressive faction among the Republicans?" Those two elements of opposition, with possibly Mr. Hoover, might make quite a crowd.

Cooling System Installed for Congressional Comfort.

During the last few days before Congress adjourned, there was a notable difference between the ability of Senators and Congressmen to "keep cool," while the city became hotter and hotter. Representatives retained their poise, while Senators wilted. This fact was not due to the widely reported discrepancies which some imagined to exist between the two houses, but to a natural and physical condition, that of the actual temperature in the separate wings of the Capitol. The reason? A cooling system has been installed in the House of Representatives but not in the Senate. It is being put into the latter now and will be ready when Congress convenes in August.

The system by which our Senators will be cooled off is an interesting one. Outside air is taken through a ventilation tower in Capital Park. It is then drawn through a tunnel to the basement of the Senate wing where it will pass over an air filter for the elimination of dust, and fans will drive it through water sprays having a temperature of about 42 degrees. The sudden chilling of the air forces it to drop its moisture, thereby doing away with the humidity. After leaving the water sprays the air is warmed somewhat (to about seventy-eight degrees in the summer time) while in process of transit to the ceiling of the Senate chamber from which it is circulated down to the floor.

It is an intriguing process which works both ways. In the winter time, the air will go through exactly the reverse procedure, resulting in more warmth and higher humidity. At the beginning of the extra session, there were some pointed remarks made as to the quality of the legislation likely to be produced in midsummer discomfort. Now, whatever happens, no one will be able to "blame it on the weather."

Cuba's Comic Paper Is Tragic About Tariff.

Cuba's predicament where American tariffs are concerned is again portrayed in the Republic's clever weekly paper, "Politica Comica," which plays up in cartoon and story the comic side of national situations. The sprightly little publication, however, is more tragic than its custom when it deals with sugar tariff. A recent issue shows the beautiful Cuba, a woman clad in her lone star flag, lying across a railroad track tightly bound to the trestles, while a locomotive representing the proposed 2.10 duties comes dashing around the curve toward the victim's destruction.

"Politica Comica" offers a touch of hope, nevertheless, in the form of a huge boulder standing on the track which bids likely to stop the infernal machine's onslaught. The boulder is labeled "Hoover."

American Cosmetics Find Large Markets Abroad.

The National Geographic Society in Washington has issued an interesting bulletin regarding the exports in cosmetics from the United States to foreign countries. These exports have risen in value 1,000 per cent since 1916 and represent the sum of $8,850,000 per year.

Europe, of course, is our best customer. Next comes Asia. The Philippines also take large quantities of toilet soap, perfume and powders. It is recalled by the Society that Chinese women have been familiar since time immemorial with secrets of makeup and they made abundant use of lipstick, eyebrow pencils, rouge and all modern aids to the complexion in centuries past. They have, however, relinquished the ancient tools of beauty helps for more modern devices.

While French perfumes take first place in sales, it is interesting to note that America commands the highest position in the market for dentifrices. Its powder compacts are also popular.

Wax Fruits, Vegetables Make Enticing Display.

"Why, they're made of wax!" Miss Amanda Newton is accustomed to that surprised remark of visitors who view her handiwork at the Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Industry in Washington. Fruit, berries, and vegetables of all kinds are spread enticingly behind long rows of glass enclosed cabinets. The observer wonders, doubtless, how the Bureau accumulated so many species of fresh plants for the few days that they last. He looks more closely. Then follows the explanation of discovery.

Miss Newton's models come from all parts of the country. For each new specimen as it arrives at the Department of Agriculture, she makes an exact replica in color and size which is carefully marked and placed in its proper place with the collection. Luscious fruits, shiny berries, miraculously fresh appearing vegetables so like their originals that they make one's mouth water, are the products of this worker's skillful hands. The models, it is explained, are for purposes of exhibition only and since they are never removed the accumulation grows daily.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:15 a. m. Subject: "The Sacrament." Reading room: Tuesday- and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"God" was the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 7.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-lesson was the following from the Bible: "And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord Our God is one Lord." (Mark 12:29).

The lesson-lesson also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "If the term of personality, as applied to God, means infinite personality, the God is infinite Person, in the sense of infinite personality, but not in the lower sense. An infinite Mind in a finite form is an absolute impossibility." (p. 116).

REO PLANS DAWN TO DUSK DISTANCE RUN

COUNTY TO GET MORE ROAD CASH

Charlevoix County's Share Is Reported at $2,988.36.

Checks totalling $2,000,000, the second installment of the counties' share of the weight tax, have been mailed out by the state highway department, Frank Fitzgerald, business manager, announced last Wednesday.

The first portion was mailed out in April and another will be sent out in August. This will be followed with a fourth payment which will bring the total to one-half the gas tax receipts which the counties, by law, receive.

An increase of about $1,000,000 to be divided among the counties is predicted for this year over the $9,000,000 in 1928.

Payments to the counties include: Alcona, $1,435.77; Allegan, $17,488.72; Alpena, $4,897.53; Barry, $9,280.21; Berrien, $37,449.66; Branch, $12,116.88; Calhoun, $40,762.17; Cass, $8,824.05; Charlevoix, $2,988.36; Cheboygan, $2,334.17; Clare, $2,027.19; Crawford, $996.70; Emmet, $3,845.56; Genesee, $82,702.13; Grand Traverse, $6,347.95; Gratiot, $14,053.28; Isosco, $2,416.80; Isabella, $8,235.75; Jackson, $40,862.04; Kalamazoo, $40,728.79; Kalkaska, $759.30; Kent, $114,893.11; Macomb, $34,765.18; Manistee, $5,542.95; Mecosta, $6,286.05; Midland, $7,243.14; Missaukee, $1,951.68; Montcalm, $13,806.30; Montmorency, $629.53; Oakland, $91,128.79; Ogemaw, $1,954.61; Osceola, $4,267.82; Oscoda, $373.99; Otsego, $1,192.82; Presque Isle, $2,580.57; Roscommon, $832.12; St. Joseph, $15,044.29; Vanburen, $15,035; Washtenaw, $37,316.60; Wayne, $813,889.14; Wexford, $5,339.41.

HIGHWAY WORKER IS ELECTROCUTED

Archie Brown, of Conway, was killed, and Clayton Brown of the same village was badly burned at about noon June 25 while working on the highway improvement near Conway. The men were employed in what is termed "ground setting" operations for the Goldberg Construction company, road contractors.

It is believed that something went wrong with the dynamite explosion battery and electrical equipment and that Mr. Brown came in contact with the heavily charged wires and was electrocuted. One of the wires is said to have fallen onto Clayton Brown, badly burning one foot. He was brought to Petoskey hospital for treatment. It is believed there that he will recover.

THOUSANDS CELEBRATE 4TH HERE

ENTIRE REGION REPRESENTED
IN THROG THURSDAY.Successfully Executed Program Kept Visitors in Amiable Mood
Throughout the Day.

Last Thursday's Fourth of July celebration, held in Charlevoix under the tri-city agreement which has been in effect in the county for several years, drew probably the largest crowd ever to witness a similar event staged in this city. With the nearest Independence Day observance at Cheboygan, people from the entire region flocked here to witness the program put on for their entertainment. Ideal weather conditions played no small part in bringing out a record-breaking attendance.

The program started as scheduled at 10:00 a. m., with a street parade. While there were no great number of entries, many were original and worthy of mention. First prize of $10. was awarded to the Charlevoix Auto Sales. The second cash prize of $5 went to the Troy Laundry entry and third prize to the System

Auto Station. Following the street parade the crowds gathered in the city park for a patriotic program, and from there dispersed during the noon hour.

Street sports starting at 2:00 o'clock entertained the visiting throng until 4:00 o'clock, when four 4-round boxing bouts were staged in the gravel pit opposite the Charlevoix Lumber company. The leather-pushing events were no tame affairs and proved one of the outstanding entertainment features of the day. Leo "Cy" Powers filled in at a dull moment in the program and proved his contention of being the champion wrestler of Northern Michigan. He took on all-comers as long as they lasted.

During the early evening the Charlevoix city and East Jordan bands played concerts on Bridge street, also throughout the day. Activities closed with a beautiful fireworks display fired over Round lake from the Chicago Club grounds.

As far as can be learned there were no accidents to mar the day's enjoyment. Thousands of cars were here from every town in the region, but in spite of considerable traffic congestion, no mishaps were reported.

LANSING TO LANSING RUN IS ON

REO FLYING CLOUD PASSED THROUGH HERE TUES. A. M.

Covered 343 Miles Between Charlevoix and Lansing in 4 Hours, 27 Minutes—Mooreland Driving.

A Reo Flying Cloud—sedan model—passed through Charlevoix this morning on a dawn to dusk record run from Lansing to Lansing. The route covers approximately 700 miles and takes the car through the following cities: Lansing, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Kent City, Casnovia, Ludington, Manistee, Beulah, Traverse City, Elk Rapids, Alden, Bellaire, Eastport, Charlevoix, Petoskey, Alanson, Wolverine, Vanderbilt, Gaylord, Grayling, Roscommon, West Branch, Standish, Bay City, Saginaw, Owosso, St. Johns, Lansing. Considering the detours which this car will have to traverse and the fact that traffic around Grayling is heavy on account of the encampment, the driver of this Flying Cloud will severely test the stamina of the car in order to accomplish the run on time.

The car checked in at the local Western Union office at 8:27 this morning, having covered the 343 miles including the bad detours, in four hours and 27 minutes. The start from Lansing was made at 4:00 this morning from the Lansing Western Union office where official record was made of the starting time and the speedometer reading.

The driver of the car is "Bill" Mooreland of Lansing, an employee of the Reo Motor Car company. He is the driver of the Master Flying Cloud which a year ago created a record between Miami, Florida, and Chicago, Illinois. The average speed on this run was a trifle better than 52 miles per hour for the entire distance of 1,601 miles. Mooreland hopes to better this average although the roads over which he must run are more congested with traffic at this time of the year. Accompanying Mooreland is Lieut. Rolland Patterson of the Michigan State Police, who is serving as official observer.

The car is a standard factory model and when it left Lansing this morning was on its own. No mechanics were waiting to tune it up at strategic points along the line. It must either make the run on speed and stamina or fail in the attempt. Everything was well this morning and Mooreland was certain that success would crown his efforts before nightfall.

KELLY STOCK COMPANY OPENS SOON

First Performance Monday Evening, July 15, at County Lots.

The Kelly Stock company opens in Charlevoix under canvas, starting Monday, July 15, and will show for one week closing on Saturday night. The new enlarged tent will be located on the county lots, corner State street and Hurlbut avenue.

Mr. Kelly states that this year the repertoire of plays, the company and scenic and electrical effects are the best that has ever been brought to any city by a traveling organization of this kind.

The plays to be presented are: "What Anne Brought Home," "Valley Center," "She Walked in Her Sleep," "Butterfly Ranch," "The Ghost Train," "Huckleberry Finn," "Sainted Hypocrites and Honest Sinners," and "Bulldog Mason."

The personnel of the Kelly company this season, beside Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kelly and family, include such well known stock actors as Miss Peggy Wilson, leading woman, who played in stock all last winter at Hammond, Ind.; Roy Lewis, director and stage manager, "Ike" and Mary Norman, juvenile and ingenue who hail from the Sunny South; Courtland Ferguson, leading man, "Toby" Nevius, comedian, Mrs. Laura Nevius plays the character roles and Justin Hull, character and henvies.

An added feature of the Kelly organization this season is a real jazz orchestra and Dick and Ruby Wren, vaudeville entertainers.

FREE ADMISSION FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

Hundred Thousand Coupons Now Ready for Distribution.

One hundred thousand coupons, each entitling a school child to free admittance on Tuesday, September 3, to the Michigan State Fair, to all major attractions and all exhibits, will be published during the summer in the State Fair's advertisements in Michigan state papers.

Four hundred thousand tickets, similar in purpose, have been distributed to public and parochial school children, newsboys and children in orphanages in the Detroit area, where acceptance of the invitation as guests of the Fair management is expected to be greatest. The coupons for children outside the Detroit district were selected to permit of the widest, easiest distribution. Coupons or tickets also entitle the holders to pay only a nickel admission too each "Midway" show and ride or for ice cream, soft drinks and sandwiches.

The State Fair, the eightieth annual exposition, will be held from September 1 to 7, Sunday, the opening day, has been designated "Patriotic and Fraternal day." Monday, as usual, "Labor Day." Tuesday, "Young Michigan's Day." Wednesday, "Governor's Day." Thursday, "Farmer's Day." Friday, "Detroit Day" and Saturday, "Automobile Race Day." Copies of the official program are now in the hands of the fair officials and are available to any prospective exhibitor.

12,000 ENTITLED TO MICHIGAN SOLDIERS' BONUS

The Michigan Soldiers' Bonus Division reports approximately 12,000 records against which no claim has been filed. This shows a high percentage of men who died in, or subsequent to, service, or disappeared, whose relatives are apparently not aware that they are entitled to the bonus.

Up to June 30, 1928, the bonus fund for Michigan totaled $25,914,000.00, which was distributed among 130,738 claimants. This might be compared with the $4,719,585.00 paid to the 19,615 claimants throughout the other states of the Union.

From the United States possessions, comprised of Alaska, the Canal Zone, Guam, Hawaii, the Philippines, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands, 399 claims, representing a total of $127,875.00, were filed.

Three hundred fourteen of the 130,738 Michigan claims were presented by Antrim county soldiers or their relatives and $60,975.00 of the state's fund was paid to them.

CAMP BOYS HEAR THOMAS McCURE

ADDRESSED GROUP AT CAMP
CHARLEVOIX FRIDAY.

Saturday Evening Is Camp "Stunt Night" with Program by Various Groups and Leaders.

Starting with the items published below and each week throughout the camp season, the Courier will publish a column of activities from Camp Charlevoix. Ralph Thomas of Pontiac, Michigan, is the camp correspondent, and the articles used this week and in subsequent issues will be from his pen. Realizing that Camp Charlevoix is a very important link in the summer activities of this region, and that happenings there are of great interest to the public generally, we feel we are indeed fortunate in making so fine a connection and take this opportunity to express our appreciation to Mr. Thomas and Louis C. Reiman, director, who have made the column possible.

Campers Hear Noted Naturalist.

Thomas McCure, one of Michigan's leading naturalists, on last Friday evening addressed the boys of the camp in the dining hall. Mr. McCure's home is in Detroit. He is retained by the state as an expert in nature study. His specialty is looking over property with regard to its animal life, bird life, stand and species of timber, and its general suitability for a state park or game preserve. With his fellow members of the Department of Conservation he is intensely interested in game protection, reforestation, fire control, and in restoring to Michigan her former woodland grandeur.

Beaver Island was the main topic of the talk. He considers this wooded isle one of the state's finest beauty spots. The fire danger there is very great. Mr. McCure explained to the boys the various steps that he had taken to interest the residents in preserving their property. One of the most interesting things told by the naturalist was his description of a climb that he had recently made to the top of a ninety-six foot pine tree for the purpose of seeing an eagle's nest.

When Mr. McCure brought his discourse to a close he stood by to answer questions. Apparently every boy in camp had one or two to ask him. The questions ranged from: "How big is an eagle's nest?" to "What Michigan snakes are poisonous?" The queries were all answered well and cheerfully. The speaker and his family then set out for Gladwin. Their ultimate destination was Detroit.

Saturday Evening Stunt Night.

Saturday evening is "Stunt Night" in the camp. At that time amateur theatricals are done by various groups, original skits and dialogues are carried out, and various singing acts are presented. All of these things are carried out by the boys under the direction of members of the staff. These performances take place in the entertainment room. Saturday evening was chosen because it is the one evening that visitors are allowed in the camp and because it was thought that this type of program would appeal to them the most.

This last Saturday evening the entertainment took the form of a minstrel show. The production, entitled "The Darktown Minstrels," was directed by Walter North of the dramatic department and Fred Morris, who is in charge of the camp's music.

Edward Dubpernell, the business manager, preceded the actual minstrel show. He took the lead in a dialogue called "Casey Taking the Census." In this he was assisted by Wendell Mahaffy, camp clerk. Mr. Dubpernell next rendered the negro song, "All In, Down and Out." He closed with a monologue equally as funny and as well done as his first piece.

"I'm Alabamy Bound" is the song that greeted the audience when the curtain went up. John Wilson and Walter Hoyt of Akron, Ohio, and Merritt Stone of Battle Creek, as Sambo, Slabfoot, and Mushmouth, respectively, then sang "That's a Lot of Bunk" in a very creditable manner. Fred Morris, as Mr. Hohen-gaybehn, accompanied them on the ukelele. Mr. Morris then made a big hit by the way he sang "About a Mile." The show came to a close with the entire chorus singing "Follow Me, I'm Going Back to Dear Old Dixie Land." Throughout the evening a running fire of witty conversation was kept up between the end men and the interlocutor.

Like all minstrel shows, the company was composed of an interlocutor, six end men and the chorus. The group was arranged in the conventional manner with the interlocutor in the center and the end men holding down the position that is suggested by their name. The chorus was made up of both corked and white-faced boys. The interlocutor was allowed to keep his natural color but the end men were converted into likely looking negroes.

The majority of the senior section took part in the production. Ralph Thomas of Birmingham, was the interlocutor. The end men were: John Browne, Walter Hoyt, and John Wilson of Akron, Ohio; Morris Winborn of Birmingham; Merritt Stone of Battle Creek; and Fred Morris of the staff. The chorus was composed of William Van Every, Gahn Kinnison, Robert Utter and William Pratt of Birmingham; Jerome Fayram, Pat Browne and Paul Steensma of Jackson; Kenyon Brighant of Ann Arbor; Theodore Friedlander of Milwaukee; Howard Olson of Flint; Bert Reedy of Battle Creek; Ernest Evans of Oak Park, Ill.; Dwight Currie of St. Louis, Mo.; and Willis Boyd of Calif.

F. R. BULOW AP- POINTED CLERK

ASSUMED DUTIES OF OFFICE ON MONDAY OF THIS WEEK.

Several Non-Jury Cases to Be Heard at Special Session of Court on Friday.

F. R. "Pete" Bulow, well-known East Jordan business man, was appointed last Saturday by Judge Parm C. Gilbert of Traverse City, to fill the unexpired term of George A. Roderick, former clerk of Charlevoix county, who was removed from office when shortages were found in his accounts.

From all angles, Mr. Bulow's appointment to the office is a popular one. At the present time he is an officer of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society, heads the county organization of the American Legion, and is president of the East Jordan city band. Mr. Bulow is active in Pythian fraternal circles and has a large following of friends throughout the county.

Mr. Bulow assumed the duties of his office on Monday of this week and has retained Fay Bradley as deputy. It is his intention to make his permanent home in Charlevoix early this fall, when, it is rumored, he will bring the future Mrs. Bulow to Charlevoix with him.

With auditors at work on books in the county clerk's office this week, the extent of shortages will be positively known within a short time. Mr. Roderick's hearing at a special term of court set for July 16th, has been postponed until Friday, July 19th. Inability of attorney's having cases on the special docket to be here on the day set occasioned the postponement.

Quite an extensive docket of non-jury cases are set for hearing Friday, including, it is understood, several liquor law violators taken in raids several weeks ago by county officers and state police.

Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Levis and Judge Parm C. Gilbert are to be commended on the expedient manner in which they are bringing law violators to justice through special terms to dispense of non-jury cases, thus saving considerable court expense to the county.

COUNTY S. S. PICNIC DATE SET AS AUG. 8TH

Basket Dinner and Program of Sports
Being Arranged.

The annual Charlevoix county Sunday school picnic is to be held this year on Thursday, August 8th, at Whiting Park.

There will be a basket dinner at 12 o'clock central standard time, also a program of games, stunts and races in charge of a competent committee. Every school in the county is invited to participate.

Board of Education Elects Officers. The following officers have been elected by the Board of Education to serve for the ensuing year: President, E. L. Dawson; vice-president, C. F. Wood; secretary, H. A. Craig; treasurer, Mrs. Saltonstall.

AGED BELLAIRE MAN KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Run Down While Riding Horseback
Last Tuesday Night.

Charles Canfield of Bellaire, 75 years of age, was killed last Tuesday night at 8:30 while riding a horse on M-88, just south of the county infirmary. The horse was dismembered and practically split in two. Thomas Morrison of Columbus, Ohio, youth of 16 years, was running with his Ford A sedan headlights depressed — otherwise, dimmed — and carried the horse 50 feet and then threw it another 40 feet after the car brought up against the fence. The aged rider was thrown back over the car by the impact and was picked up in the road. He was dead, from injuries to his head.

The young man, whose people occupy a cottage west of Bellaire, was driving to Fisherman's Paradise and had another youth, Charles Tracy, with him.

WORK ON NEW CAMP PROGRESSING FAST

Clubhouse and Three Log Cabins
Have Been Completed.

Building operations at "The Lincolnbloss," new home of Camp Charlevoix on the north shore of Lake Charlevoix near Oyster Bay, are progressing rapidly. Four buildings, the clubhouse and three log cabins, have been completed. Twelve more cabins are to be constructed.

The new camp will be a model one, with rustic furniture, sanitary toilet system, docks, barns and athletic field. A large handicraft shop is included in the lay-out. The camp is located on Oyster Bay, opposite Oldswood. The site comprises 180 acres, with 100 acres of woods and a mile of shore line. It has been made a part of the state game reserve system and this year many pheasants have been released. The camp will have accommodations for 130 boys and 40 staff members.

Visitors are welcome to inspect the site at any time. The camp may be reached by taking US-31 to intersection of Charlevoix-Boyer City road. Take right turn and go past Susan lake, turning off main highway at Robert Struthers farm. Camp is located three-fourths of a mile from highway.

ANNUAL CARNIVAL CAMP CHARLEVOIX

EVENT TO BE STAGED ON SAT-URDAY OF THIS WEEK.

Big Parade In Morning—Boxing Matches, Fencing, Rough-Riding and Side Show Attractions.

The first big event along the line of special features at Camp Charlevoix, character camp for boys located at Ironston, is the annual carnival. Saturday of this week is the day set, and from what can be gathered from the entertainment features planned, it is going to be just one grand afternoon of enjoyment for the boys and visitors alike.

The program this year will be somewhat of a departure from former seasons. Previously the events have largely depicted camp activities and have been more of a serious endeavor as far as preparation was concerned. Saturday's events, however, are for entertainment of the boys and guests, with a view of getting as much fun as possible out of the affair.

The carnival starts at 2:30 standard time and will be held in and in front of the entertainment buildings. There will be a number of side shows to which a small admission will be charged. Aside from these features, the entertainment will be free. Boxing matches, fencing matches, rough-riding, selections by the Negro quartette, etc., are scheduled.

Another feature of entertainment will be furnished by girls from Camp Kairphree, located on the north side of Lake Charlevoix, who will put on a program of songs and dances during the carnival.

The usual parade will take place Saturday morning. Camp officials extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend the carnival and enjoy the fun with the boys.

CHARLEVOIX NURSE WED AT CADILLAC

Mildred Best Becomes Wife of Peter Peterson, This City.

Miss Mildred Best, daughter of R. C. Best of Cadillac, was wed at the Methodist parsonage in Cadillac last Saturday evening by Rev. H. V. Wade, to Peter Peterson of this city.

The bride wore a blue and yellow ensemble and a hat to match. She carried a bridal bouquet of yellow sweetpeas. Her only attendant was Miss Bernice Rosevear of Detroit, who was dressed in navy and carried a bouquet of pink sweetpeas. Delvan Best of Detroit, a brother of the bride, attended the groom.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served to the members of the immediate families at the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Stanley on South Mitchell street, Cadillac.

The former Miss Best was a member of the Charlevoix hospital staff for the past year and she and her husband are well and favorably known locally.

AUGUST 2-3-4 ARE REGATTA DATES

TIME SET AT BOAT CLUB MEET-ING SATURDAY.

Events Listed, Committees Appointed and Preliminary Work Under-Way—Election Deferred.

Preliminary steps in preparation for Charlevoix's 4th annual Missal-ssippi Valley Power Boat Association sanctioned regatta were taken at a meeting of the Charlevoix Boat Club, held last Friday forenoon at the Charlevoix County bank.

The gathering was primarily intended as the annual meeting of the club, but election of officers was deferred to a later date because of the absence of Julius Gilbert, Detroit, present club commodore, who was on a cruise and unable to be present.

The dates of Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 2, 3 and 4 were definitely set for the regatta. This is the week end prior to the Michigan Riviera Tennis championships and the opening event of a program to be carried out through the month of August. Following the Riviera tourney are the Charlevoix Open tennis meet and the proposed Open Golf tournament. August has promise of being a great month of activity here.

As in former years, the Charlevoix Boat Club and Pine Lake Yacht Club, the latter with a membership largely made up of Chicago Club of Charlevoix summer visitors, will cooperate in putting over the regatta. Sailing entries, for the most part, are from the Chicago Club. A tentative program has been arranged for the time being, with events for R class, 6 meter, Manchester 17 and Prune class sailing craft; 100, 150 and 200 h. p., free-for-all and special Chris-Craft races for displacement type boats; B, C and free-for-all events for outboards. First, second and third cash prizes of $75, $50 and $25 have been posted for the free-for-all outboard race.

Committees appointed to handle the regatta program were: Finance—Hamilton Moses, Joseph Block, Chas. Fox and Ray Johnson; Program—Ray Kipke, Clabe Webster and Vane Smith; Publicity—Kenneth Usher and F. E. Cartier; Trophy—Robert Bridge, Chas. Gale and John Knight; Race committee—Ray Kipke, Chas. Fox, Hamilton Moses, Vane Smith, Val Seraglio and Ray P. Johnson. First named will act as chairman of the various committees.

More definite information will be available following the next meeting of the Club which is called for Friday morning of this week.

CEMENT WORK BEGUN WEST OF PETOSKEY

August 15 Expected to See New Road Completed.

Pouring cement started the first of the week, on US-31 at the west Petoskey limits, the distance to be covered under the job being two and one-half miles.

Observers estimate that the present detour will have to be used until at least August 15, as it will take from three to four weeks to complete the 12,200-foot strip contract held by the Rogers Construction company.

Their present equipment if worked to capacity would lay a maximum of 800 feet per day, providing everything worked perfectly. Past experience has shown, however, that bad weather and other causes of delay, have cut down the 800-foot maximum.

Considerable complaint has been registered with the highway authorities over the seeming lack of activity during the latter part of June and the first week of July, necessitating much longer use of the detour than was first anticipated.

NORWOOD.

Miss Lottie Teboe is spending a few days with her parents until Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wright return from Chicago.

Mrs. E. W. Cox and other members of the family of Chicago, are occupying their cottage in Norwood for the summer season.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bailey and son of Detroit, who are on a camping trip, visited Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sarsin one day last week. Mrs. Bailey is a sister of Mr. Sarsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Santos and son, also Jerry Santos, of Detroit, who have been north on a camping trip, spent the week end at the Santos' farm and then returned to Detroit.

Dr. Randall, superintendent of the Grand Traverse district of the M. E. church, will conduct the Sunday services at Norwood next Sunday, in the absence of Rev. Stanford, who is away attending summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reingold of Petoskey, and Mr. and Mrs. Rhoder of Alanson, called on Mr. and Mrs. Irving Lord Sunday and were accompanied by Mr. Lord's father, who had been visiting them for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Plenny Genett and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Richardson attended church services at Bellaire Sunday morning at the Catholic church, which at one time stood in Atwood, where they attended regularly. These services were greatly enjoyed by the visiting party as it brought back thoughts of by-gone days as the old time hymns were sung. The party was then joined by Marion See and Sam Alward and drove to Cedar River, where they enjoyed a picnic luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Ypmu entertained several friends and relatives at a six o'clock dinner at their cottage last Tuesday evening, honoring Mr. and Mrs. John Alward of South Bend, Ind., and their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Peterson of Detroit. The home was prettily decorated with garden flowers, and the dinner was served from the buffet in the dining room and a real visit was enjoyed. The visiting party left for their homes Wednesday morning. On March 1st, 1930, Mr. Alward will have completed 30 years' employment at the South Bend post office, and is now president of the money order department. On retiring, Mr. Alward has expressed the desire to at least make Norwood his summer home.

One Disease Held Sway for 15 Years and Other for 25; Former Sufferer Back On the Job.

MR. JOE LAZARUS.

"I can hardly believe I am the well man I am today," said Mr. Joe Lazarus, of Assyria Center, near Battle Creek, Michigan. "I suffered 25 years with catarrh and 15 years with rheumatism. My limbs, arms and shoulders were practically paralyzed. I was nearly deaf from the catarrh; my head roared and buzzed, and vomiting spells, because of mucus dropping into my throat, were frequent.

"Four bottles of Konjola drove the rheumatism away, and now the catarrhal condition has totally disappeared. I am feeling fine for the first time in 25 years. Konjola put me back on the job again."

Mrs. Lynn Mathewson of Mancelona, was in town Saturday in the interest of the Antrim County Sunday School association. She is getting the work lined up for the Teacher Training class to be held at Bellaire the first week of August.

A large Hudson car went into the ditch at Lumber's Corners last week Wednesday. Luckily no one was badly injured. This is a very bad turn and should be marked with a danger sign. Since the detouring from US-31 has been sent this way, there has been an unusually large amount of traffic sent on M-88.

When coming down the hill in the road last Friday, just east of his house, with a load of hay, the wagon axle broke, throwing George Telgenhoff to the ground. A passing motorist brought him home, but he never regained consciousness. He died on his way to the hospital. It is thought his back may have been broken. Funeral services were held Monday at the North Holland church. Mr. Telgenhoff leaves a wife, three daughters, and a son, to mourn their loss.

James McKinney, keeper of the County Home at Bellaire, fell from a load of hay Friday and broke his leg. It was just a little way south of the home where Charles Canfield, familiarly known as "Reddy," met his death Thursday evening when struck by a car driven by a 16-year-old resorter boy from west of Bellaire.

Mr. Canfield, who was riding a horse, was struck from behind and thrown clear over the car, and died shortly afterwards. The horse, nearly cut in two, was instantly killed.

Duiley Edson, who was injured last week in an automobile accident, died Thursday evening about 10:00 at the Petoskey hospital. Funeral services were held Saturday at the M. E. church at Ellsworth. Rev. D. G. Leitch of East Jordan preached the sermon. Remains were interred in Southern cemetery, Central Lake. Mr. Edson leaves six daughters and three sons to mourn his passing. There were about 75 relatives present at the funeral from Grand Rapids, this place and Ellsworth.

TRANSPORTATION NEEDS.

American railroads have accomplished results during recent years in meeting the transportation needs of the country. There has been an increase in the volume of business and a corresponding betterment in operation, the result being increased speed and certainty, and freight now is moved and delivered on schedule time. That betterment came at a time when methods of distribution among nation-wide distributors were being changed, and brought substantial advantages to all lines of business.

'SHORT SALES' OF FUEL FOR MOTORS

Only Eight States Have Taken Action to Protect Car Owners.

"Although motorists spent $2,350,000,000 for gasoline and oil in 1927, only eight states have taken action to protect car owners from short measures," Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club announces. "A recent survey by the American Automobile association revealed that the motoring public is deceived of approximately $20,000,000 a year through 'short sales' of motor fuels," Mr. Hayes pointed out. "It is deplorable that so few states have made provision for checking the sales of 317,000 gas stations and 604,000 pumps that were in operation last year."

States Check Sales. "The eight states that check these sales are California, Indiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, New York and Ohio. Illinois is one of twenty-five commonwealths which have passed protective legislation but are without sufficient appropriations with which to enforce those laws. "The states in need of such legislation are: Arkansas, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico and North Dakota. Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile association, urged in a bulletin addressed to 1,665 motor clubs affiliated with the A. A. PICKING APPLES TO KEEP STORED

"Our apples do not keep well in ordinary storage," write a number of apple growers to the horticultural department of the North Carolina State college and they want information on how this may best be corrected. The main trouble, according to W. A. Radsplanner, assistant horticulturist, is that the fruit is not picked at the right time. Apples picked green will scald quickly and those picked too ripe will break down quickly. But those picked when the green under-color begins to turn yellow will keep fine if conditions are right in the storage house and the fruit is not bruised in handling.

"The early fall varieties are more difficult to store because outside temperatures are not low enough for storage," says Mr. Radsplanner. "Late varieties such as the Winesap and Stayman will keep better in common farm storage. The early ripening varieties should be kept out of doors protected from rain and sun until the low temperatures begin. The length of time fruit can be kept depends on how soon after picking the temperature of the storage house can be reduced to 32 to 40 degrees. Then it is a matter of the storage house. Temperature, humidity and air circulation in the storage house all affect good results."

Mr. Radsplanner states that low temperature may be secured by opening the ventilators when the air is cooler outside than inside and closing them when the air is warmer outside than inside. Humidity in the air will prevent the apple from shriveling and may be secured by evaporating water in the house. Air circulation is necessary to carry off the gases coming from the fruit and may be secured by wrapping the apples in the special oil paper, or storing in slatted crates. These things done, the apples will keep, states Mr. Radsplanner.

Make Preparations to Gas Peach Tree Borer

All peach growers should be making preparations to gas the peach-tree borer, since the best time to kill him is the first week in October. Control of the borer is especially important. Almost perfect control is secured by using paradichlorobenzene which is far superior to digging the borer out by hand. As high as 93 per cent of the borers are killed by this chemical.

On trees six years of age or older one ounce of the material is distributed in a continuous narrow band about the trunk two inches from the tree and covered with several shovelfuls of finely divided soil. The dirt is then packed with the back of the shovel, making a cone about the tree. For trees three to five years of age, one-half ounce of the crystals will be sufficient. Care should be used in keeping the material away from the bark of the tree, as contact with the tree will injure it severely.

For orchard trees one and two years of age one-fourth ounce may be used, but this is not advised where absolute confidence in putting the material on correctly cannot be had, as injury may occur. It should be remembered that the moths lay their eggs as late as the last of September; therefore, the application of paradichlorobenzene should be made the first week in October for the best results.

MULCHING HELPS STRAWBERRY BED

Fruit Specialists Recommend Wheat or Rye Straw.

Mulching the strawberry bed, preferably with clean wheat straw, not only gives protection against alternate freezing and thawing in the winter, but tends to keep the plants from starting growth during unreasonable warm spring weather. It also keeps down weeds and conserves moisture, thus taking the place of cultivation, and helps to keep the fruit clean during the fruiting season. It is pointed out by Frank H. Beach and Clyde S. Holland, fruit specialists in the extension service of the Ohio State university. Serving all these purposes, mulching thoroughly justifies itself as a strawberry producing practice, in the opinion of the specialists.

Wheat or rye straw, clean, are perhaps the most satisfactory materials for mulching. Oat straw packs tightly and sometimes contains unthreshed grains. Manure, mixed with straw, while sometimes used, is likely to harbor weed seeds and insect pests, and is not always good for the soil upon which the strawberries are grown. In small home beds, rakings from the lawn will serve.

The mulch may be applied either before or after the ground is well frozen, since its purpose is to prevent freezing, thawing, and freezing again.

Pruning Currant Bushes by Removing Old Canes

The difficulty in pruning currants is greatly increased by neglect. Systematic annual pruning from planting should be followed. The finest currants are produced at the base of one-year-old shoots and on one-year-old spurs on older wood produce fruit but it is much less in amount and smaller than that produced on younger wood. Canes, therefore, are usually past their best fruiting after their third crop.

The chief item in currant pruning is to remove canes which have passed their best fruiting and to replace them with new canes. A good plan is to remove a definite number of old canes each year and leave an equivalent number of new canes to replace them. When a three-year system is followed, nine canes to a plant makes it easy to keep the balance.

The three-year plan can be operated as follows: At the beginning of the second season leave six strong canes. At the beginning of the third season remove two of these canes and leave five strong new canes. At the beginning of the fourth season, remove one two-year cane, two one-year canes and leave three new canes. Thereafter the oldest canes, those in their fourth year, should be removed and three new canes left to take their place. This will give a plant, at the beginning of the growing season, composed of three canes in their second season, three in their third season and three in their fourth season.

Dwarf Fruit Trees Are Becoming Very Popular

Of recent years the dwarf fruit trees have come into great favor because of their early fruiting qualities. It is claimed the dwarf varieties fruit in at least half the time it takes the standard tree to reach the fruiting point.

Now the dwarf fruit trees are being made to serve an ornamental purpose, as well as a useful one. They can be planted as specimen subjects the same as the ornamental trees, and at blooming time are as beautiful as any flowering shrub or tree.

When grown for their fruit they are economical, as they take up less ground, and therefore more trees can be planted to the same area. Dwarf trees are also much more easily cared for; spraying and pruning are simplified.

Spraying for Scale Is Job for Winter Season

San Jose and other scale insects, including oyster-shell scale, hose scale and scurfy scale make up a group of formidable plant pests. Often their presence is unknown until the plant has succumbed to their attack. They are tiny scale-like insects of varying shapes, which settle themselves on the bark, leaves and fruit of plants to obtain their subsistence by sucking the sap of the plant.

All sucking insects must be controlled by spraying them with a poison which will kill by entering the breathing pores, or with a substance which will smother them.

Blackberry Shoots

The new shoots of blackberries come up from the roots, and in time will form a rather dense clump. The best way to handle this is to take up the thrifty plants, dividing them from the main root underground, and set them where desired. Along a wire fence would be very good, because you could then tie them up to the fence and keep them in convenient shape for handling. This work can be done either in the fall after the leaves drop or very early in the spring.

HARK: FROM THE TOMBS.

We don't hear very much from the militant Rev. Holsaple these days—and if we did it would be a mournful roundelay.

When the legislature adjourned the reverend gentleman departed for Detroit vowing to split up the state's attempt to garner a few shekels through the malt tax.

Before that happened, however, the annual meeting of the Michigan Anti-Saloon league was held. In his annual report Governor Green because the chief executive had refused to swallow all the piffle dished up by the rotund gentleman from Wayne who thinks that the whole responsibility for prohibition enforcement rests on his broad shoulders.

Since the convention there is a well-defined rumor that all is not well between Rev. Holsaple and some of his devout followers. Many of the delegates believed he was doing the cause of temperance more harm than good in his silly attempts to force his own pet legislation through at Lansing. They gave him many anxious moments during their stay in Detroit.

The most sincere friend prohibition has had is the so-called rural press of this country. Without this aid sentiment for prohibition would have been dissipated long ago. Lately there has been a disinclination to follow longer the Holsaple rule of rule or ruin policy, which seems to be out of step with the rest of the "dry" procession. That would be a bad thing for the cause of temperance. It is time that the real friends of prohibition insisted on more intelligent leadership for their cause in Michigan.

EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

Michigan's second accident-prevention campaign is a closed incident. The secretary for the Michigan Safety Council reports more than 600,000 automobiles and commercial vehicles checked in the state as to brakes, lights, horns, etc., during the campaign which lasted for a total of 51 days.

Although the number checked represents less than one-half of the total registration in the state, much good has been accomplished. Thousands who did not go to the trouble of taking their cars to an official garage, nevertheless saw to it that their cars were in safe driving condition.

If it can be said of accident-prevention campaigns, that they promote a tendency on the part of car owners to observe safety first methods, then they have more than justified the time, trouble and cost of promotion. Michigan produces more automobiles each year than all the other states of the union combined. It is necessary that we set an example of careful conduct on the highways. Accident-prevention campaigns, to be effective, should be continued every day throughout the year.

AT THE CROSSROADS.

The Michigan Safety Council has begun a statewide campaign to reduce the number of accidents at crossroads. Such a movement should have been started a long time ago. Altogether too many motorists are careless while driving onto state trunk lines and federal highways. The loss of life through accidents of this nature during recent years has been appalling.

Traffic on all through highways has the right of way. Motorists know this, and with speed laws eliminated are prone to drive their fastest driving while out on the country lanes. It is an act of criminal carelessness to pull onto a highway without first ascertaining if the road is clear. You may find yourself directly in front of a speeding machine, too late to avoid an accident.

It is almost impossible to put "Stop" signs at all intersections. In some of the more dangerous places this can be done where immovable obstructions hide a clear view of the road in either direction.

Education is needed in helping to reduce the number of accidents at the crossroads of Michigan—education by traffic officials, newspapers, and by the motor public itself. See that the road is clear before driving onto a highway, no matter how isolated the country through which it passes. If you'll use just ordinary common sense and precaution it will increase your chances for a longer and happier life. It never pays to be a fool.

CARELESS DRIVING.

More than 40 per cent of the accidents involving motor vehicles in three states during a period of eight months were due to reckless or careless driving.

This fact is gleaned from statistics compiled from newspaper accounts of accidents by the bureau of public roads of the United States department of agriculture.

It is severe indictment against the drivers of automobiles. The increase in the number of accidents due to thoughtless operation of automobiles means but one thing—that more stringent requirements for drivers of automobiles will have to be enforced. When it becomes necessary to restrict the operation of motor vehicles and burdensome and expensive examinations are required, the careful driver will suffer equally with the reckless and careless.

Thoughtlessness that jeopardizes the lives of others is inexcusable. Why persons driving automobiles without giving consideration to the rights of others is past understanding.

Their selfishness in refusing to recognize the rules of the road and use good judgment to prevent accidents deserves the severest condemnation.

They may risk their own necks if they wish—that is their business—but it is not their right to increase the hazard of motoring for the careful driver.

Public sentiment will have to outlaw the reckless driver because the toll he takes is entirely too large.

THE BATTLE IS ON.

Airplane transportation is receiving a set back through its unfortunate accident experience.

People are injured. The news is sensational because it must be quite a sensation to be going down with nothing but the earth ahead.

Some of the news comes from those who are engaged in stunt flying. Some try to span the ocean and fail. From these things the whole scheme of air travel gets a bad repute.

There is but one thing that air travel needs to do to make for its great and complete success—demonstrate its safety.

The contest is one between the skill, ingenuity and ability of man to cope with that everlasting, unrelenting force of gravity.

It is a great battle. It is not yet determined which will win.—Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Review.

R. R. CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

We used to hear much about fatal accidents at railroad crossings. That was mostly during the pioneer days of automobile driving. Hardly a day passed then during the driving season when such a tragic story was not told.

Today it is different. Due to repeated campaigns warning travelers to use every precaution when approaching railroad intersections, death has almost ceased to linger at the places where the iron horse sweeps across traffic lanes.

Most drivers now stop, look and listen. They know the moment of time offends pays big dividends. As long as grades crossings remain there will always be danger—but you can almost wholly eliminate that by being careful.

OPPORTUNITY.

The life of Americans who have contributed to industry is wonderfully interesting.

Here is one man, for instance, who worked out a way to get more gasoline out of crude oil. He had to break up the molecules—but he did it. What a wonderful contribution!

Another man invented a way to freeze fish quickly. It used to take a day to freeze fish and much of their goodness was frozen out. This new method takes 40 minutes and allows shipment with wonderful ease.

And so one could go on with hundreds of examples of the contributions of brains to business.

There is plenty of opportunity.

HOLLEY GIFT SHOP HAS TOY DEPARTMENT

Miss Adey, Holley, owner and operator of the Holley Gift Shop, has added a toy department in the building adjoining her place on Bridge street. The new department is exceptionally well stocked with all latest notions in the toy line and should prove a popular addition to her trade.

BOAT CLUB ELECTED NEW OFFICERS

HAMILTON MOSES CHOSEN COM-MODORE WEDNESDAY.

Enthusiastic Gathering Discussed Regatta Plans—Ray Kipke Resigns Recreational Duties.

The real serious business of staging Charlevoix's 4th annual Mississippi Valley Power Boat association sanctioned regatta got under way at a second meeting of the Charlevoix Boat Club, held at the Charlevoix County bank.

The annual election of officers, deferred last week because of the absence of Julius Gilbert, Detroit, commodore of the club, was the first business in order and was dispensed with to the satisfaction of all members present. Hamilton Moses of Chicago, succeeds Mr. Gilbert as commodore. Others elected were: 1st rear commodore, Charles Fox, Jr., St. Louis, Mo.; 2nd rear commodore, Ray Johnson, Jr., Muncie, Ind.; treasurer, Robert Bridge, Charlevoix; secretary, Vane Smith, Charlevoix.

A membership committee with Ray Johnson as chairman was appointed. Other members to be representatives of the Belvedere Club, Chicago Club, North Side resort colony and Charlevoix city. Dates were set for committee meetings, at which time reports will be given and activities discussed. The gathering was an enthusiastic one, which promises well for the success of the regatta.

Ray Kipke, city employed recreational director, announced his resignation at the meeting, thus disorganizing to some extent, previous plans. Much of the work of the regatta hinged on his services, inasmuch as the purpose of a recreational director is that of staging Charlevoix's summer attractions when business men and others are too busy to give their time.

METHODIST CHURCH.

John E. Lockyer, Minister.

It was a Jewish friend who suggested to me a few days ago that we should go to churches to worship, not to hear interesting addresses. He is right. Churches should not depend on the personality of the preacher, but on their provision for united worship of God.

You are very cordially invited to share these privileges with us at both the 10:30 and 7:30 services.

A church school meets at 9:30 for religious instruction. Begin the Sabbath with this essential for the growing life.

At 8:30 a service is maintained for young people who are occupied for the remainder of the day. It is an "Epworth" hour of helpful fellowship.

Mid-week devotions at 7:30 on Wednesday.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

B. G. Matteson, Pastor.

Sunday school session at 9:30. Morning worship at 10:30. Sermon by the pastor on the subject: "The Christian Enterprise Facing Challenging Forces."

The Endeavor Society meets at 6:30.

The church mid-week meeting at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

Jewish services are held on Friday evenings at 7:30 under direction of the committee of Jewish summer residents.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

Morning worship at 10:30. Special music. Sermon topic: "Adorning the Doctrine."

Sunday school at 11:30. Evening service at 7:30.

Special music and congregational singing directed by Mr. Kirby. Baptismal service. Sermon topic: "How to Get Rich."

Ladies' Aid meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Mid-week meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

Choir practice Friday at 7:00 p. m.

POLLY KAYE SHOPPE OPENS FOR SEASON

Miss Catherine Fitch, who operates feminine apparel shops with headquarters at Miami Beach, Florida, in the winter and Charlevoix during the summer, has opened her Charlevoix branch in the former Redpath store on Bridge street. Miss Fitch has a very complete line of the latest styles and modes in feminine apparel and her present shop promises to be even more popular with both local and summering people of the region.

BOYNE CITY PAIR IN TOILS OF LAW

One Gets 10 Days in Jail—Other Awaiting Court Hearing.

Frank Painter, Boyne City, age 70 years, is being held in jail here awaiting hearing Friday before Judge Farm C. Gilbert on a charge of violation of the liquor law. Painter's bond was set at $2,000 by Justice Hammond.

Archie Adams, also of Boyne City, was arrested Saturday on a charge of drunkenness. He was sentenced to serve 10 days in the county jail and implicated Painter as the person furnishing the wet goods.

"Rat Killing Week" Is Suggested by Specialist

So far as known no one has yet suggested a Rat Killing week, although it is common knowledge that the rats of this country destroy food-stuffs worth many millions every year. Rat colonies in barnyard refuse, around straw stacks and under and adjacent to small buildings can be quickly cleaned out by pumping calcium cyanide dust into their burrows, says M. S. Johnson, associate professor of zoology, University of Minnesota.

Soon after fumigating a rat colony on a farm in Cottonwood county, Mr. Johnson and the farmer collected 23 dead rats which were near enough to the surface to be easily found. The rodents had succumbed to the cyanide gas. This demonstration by the university man was witnessed by many farmers and made a very favorable impression.

But the most generally useful method of getting rid of rats, especially when they are not held in narrow confines, is to poison their food with barium carbonate. This should be used in the proportion of one part to four parts of any food that is not otherwise available to the rodents. Barium carbonate is a deadly poison and must be handled carefully.

Repainting Farm Tools Greatly Increases Life

The life and value of farm implements can be greatly increased if they be kept well painted. First clean them well, using a scraper and wire brush to remove rust. If dirty, wash with water and, after drying, clean all metal parts with gasoline to remove grease.

Use any good metal paint, which the local hardware man can supply, for metal parts, and a special prepared paint for the wood surfaces. If one coat isn't enough, apply two, letting 24 hours elapse between coats. Wagons, racks, plows, disks and similar implements profit by such treatment.

Poultry Facts

Linneus is one of the first symptoms of tuberculosis in poultry.

Plan on sufficient brooding space and equipment, and you have room for. Figure how many chicks you can brood and then write several hatcheries and decide where you want to order, and then order early.

There are six steps in raising healthy chicks from hatching to maturity. They are clean chicks, clean houses, clean litter, clean feed, clean management and clean ground or close confinement.

It is necessary to have the brooder large enough—and it is better to have it too large than to have chances on overcrowding.

Milk has been found to be the best single source of natural protein for laying hens. It being easily digested and rich in protein and minerals.

If you're sending away for baby chicks have the brooder all ready for them, warm and comfortable, and clean. They get chilled if they have to wait while you "milk up the hen."

Duck eggs are successfully hatched in incubators, but goose eggs are not. Geese will lay about three dozen eggs per year.

The highest egg production has been secured by using milk with some form of meat, such as fresh meat, tangle, or meat scraps.

Some farmers feel that the birds will gather sufficient insects while on the range to make up for the lack of protein in the ration, but tests do not bear out this belief.

The automobile industry ranks first among all United States manufacturers, rated according to wholesale value of production.

"Well," said the motorist, as he parked the car at the home place, "I haven't killed anybody today—that is, not that I know of."

The reckless auto speeders are more careful now at the railroad crossings. They've transferred the most of the tragedies to the city streets.

Honey can be used in the auto radiator as an anti-freeze mixture. Mix with an equal volume of water, boil half an hour, and skim. It is safe down to 25 below zero.

Wheat farmers haven't experienced much relief from the special session of Congress.

It's Delicious!

AGRICULTURAL HAPPENINGS By B. C. Mellenkamp

Charlevoix county is one of the few counties in Michigan to have one-fourth of its cultivated crop acres into alfalfa or other legumes. Probably this is the chief reason why Charlevoix county stands well towards the head of the list in production of quality potatoes and other crops.

Although the alfalfa crop is so important, most of it is now seeded without commercial fertilizer. As reported in these columns last year, a demonstration was started on May 11th, 1928, on the David Smith farm to learn the answer to several questions, among them, will fertilizer help alfalfa and if so, what combinations of phosphoric acid and potash help it most?

Through County Agent Mellenkamp's office, the demonstration was located on the David Smith farm. Five fertilizer analyses were used: 0-16-0, 0-16-8, 0-16-16, 0-16-24, 0-16-30.

These were furnished by the N. V. Potash Export My, of Amsterdam, Holland, and were applied by David S. Smith, County Agent Mellenkamp, and Irvin J. Matthews, representing the firm.

As the 1928 summer wore on, it was more and more apparent that the fertilizer was getting the alfalfa off to a better start and this spring, the plots that got commercial fertilizer stood out even plainer.

Last Wednesday, all those who helped to start the demonstration, together with C. W. Andrews, who now represents the firm in this territory, took the weights of green hay produced by each combination.

The green weights are 2,550 pounds per acre where no fertilizer was put on, the 0-16-0 produced 4,060 pounds per acre, the 0-16-8 grew 5,060 pounds per acre, the 0-16-16 produced 5,620 pounds per acre, the 0-16-24 made 5,930 pounds green hay, while the 0-16-30 caused 6,180 pounds of green hay per acre to grow.

In the formula, the first figure refers to per cent of nitrogen, the second to phosphorus, while the third refers to per cent of potash.

It will be observed that there was no nitrogen in these analyses, that each contained 16 per cent superphosphate and that the potash content was varied.

The green hay weights show that potash and phosphorus are about equally necessary on this type of soil to grow alfalfa, although more potash than 16 per cent did increase the yield.

After helping to cut the plots and take the green weights, Mr. Smith said:

"It certainly paid me to fertilize the alfalfa. My time taking care of alfalfa fertilized with 0-16-16 would be worth almost two and a half times as much as when taking care of alfalfa planted without fertilizer."

More Farmers Raising Certified Seed.

A wonderful increase in acreage devoted to the production of high quality certified seed in this county has been noted from the compilation of data as received from the Michigan Crop Improvement association, the organization carrying on the inspection.

The greatest number are producing certified seed potatoes. This looks good to us when we stop to consider that last year was a poor year in regard to price, but in spite of it the good farmers are facing this year with confidence and faith.

Not only in potatoes, but the same holds true in the production of high quality grain. The largest number are raising Spartan barley. The latest variety developed and the one that holds the most promise from the yield standpoint. Seven growers are in this game all of whom secured their seed from Jay Adams, Charlevoix, who was the first to raise it in this county.

To make a well balanced program we have one farmer raising certified seed corn and one producing seed oats.

With this array of high quality producers and production no farmer needs to go outside of Charlevoix county to secure the best obtainable.

Following are the certified growers, address, and acreage per the year 1929:

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.

Subject: "Life."

Reading room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Sacrament" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 14.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them, and said, Verily I say unto you, except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." (Matt. 18:2-3).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "As aforesaid, the spirit of the Christ, which taketh away the ceremonies and doctrines of men, is not accepted until the hearts of men are made ready for it." (p. 131).

EVERY JOB POLITICAL.

If it were possible to stop all economic competition, as is sometimes proposed, by universal public ownership and operation, we should not lessen the combative instinct, nor the rule of self-interest. We should merely concentrate it in the political field. Everyone would, in other words, become a candidate for some political office for there would be no other way to make a living.—Thomas Nixon Carver, Professor of Political Economy, Harvard University.

Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver oil, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. F. J. Fessenden, Druggist.

CORRESPONDENCE

ATWOOD.

The Ladies' Aid, met with Mrs. Ethan Jolliffe last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Austin Jolliffe of Chicago, were guests at the Jolliffe home last Wednesday and Thursday. Mr. Jolliffe is traffic manager of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway.

George Teltinghof of Bay View, while in the act of hauling in a load of hay last Friday, lost his balance and fell off the load, landing on his head. He died soon afterwards. Funeral services were held last Monday afternoon. George, as we called him, was quite favorably known in this vicinity. He leaves a wife and children.

Dudley Edson of Ellsworth, who was severely injured in a car accident as announced last week, died in the Petoskey hospital last Thursday morning. The funeral was held from the M. E. church last Saturday afternoon. Rev. Letch of East Jordan having charge of the services. Nine children, 30 grandchildren and one brother from Grand Rapids survive. We extend sympathy to all.

EDITORIALS

AN EDITOR'S OBLIGATIONS.

As an editor we have assumed certain obligations and responsibilities which we are faithfully striving to discharge. We are in perfect accord with the code given below, which another editor penned to his readers.

"The first obligation, as I conceive it," said the editor, "is to give the news of the legitimate territory in which the newspaper is circulated."

"The second obligation is that of cleanliness. It should be morally clean, suited and appealing to the young as well as the old."

"The third obligation is that of courage. It should be fearless in the expression of righteousness, in the espousal of justice, in the defense of the weak."

"The fourth obligation is the obligation of consistency. Knowing the position of a newspaper today, one ought to be able to tell its position of yesterday and where it will stand tomorrow."

"The fifth obligation is to furnish intelligent comment on the items of news which have an important bearing on public opinion or public morals."

"The sixth obligation is to help protect the community from imposition, from fraud, from danger."

"The seventh obligation is service. It serves as a community advisor, the source of first aid, the civic booster, the big brother of the neighborhood."

As the eighth obligation, it would place ideals above all things.

We are striving to give this community a home paper, which will measure up to high standard when subjected to the test of these obligations.—Baldwinville (N. Y.) Messenger.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS SOUND.

Reports concerning business are encouraging. Those in a position to be conversant with existing conditions say business is sound and that the prospects for the future are bright. Eugene Meyer, Jr., head of the Federal Farm Loan board, says that demand for farm loans, long dormant, is reviving. Farm debts, figures show, are decreasing in a substantial way. Foreign trade is reported to be in a satisfactory condition. Each month so far this year has brought marked increase in exports. Employment figures indicate improvement. In fact, a survey of conditions throughout the country show no cause for discouragement.

Many of our business men need encouragement. There is nothing radically wrong at this time except a number of people have become discouraged, and this negative state of mind has had a more or less depressing effect. Brighter views, for which there is ample justification, will help in a big way to live up to business. We need to arouse ourselves and pull ourselves out of the slough of despondency. We are on the threshold of an era of prosperity. True, we cannot enjoy any benefits from such conditions unless we do our part. We must exert ourselves if we hope to win any sizeable reward. Success is never the reward of inactivity. He who would win must work. But the individual who is willing at this time to work strenuously has plenty of reason to feel encouraged over conditions.

Your business reflects your attitude toward business. What is your business like?

PHILOSOPHY.

Here is an outline of some spiritual calisthenics, written by Victor Hugo: "Share your bread with little children, see that no one goes about with naked feet, look kindly upon mothers nursing their children on the doorsteps of humble cottages, walk through the world with malice, do not knowingly crush the humblest flower, respect the nests of birds, bow to the purple from afar and to the poor at close range. Rise to labor, go to rest with prayer, go to sleep in the unknown, having for your pillow the infinite; love, believe, hope, live, he like him who has a watering pot in his hand, only let your watering pot be filled with good deeds and good words; never be discouraged, be magi and be father, and if you have lands cultivate them, if you have sons rear them, and if you have enemies bless them—all with that sweet and unobtrusive authority that comes to the soul in patient expectation of the eternal dawn."

TUBERCULOSIS COSTLY.

Estimates made by tuberculosis workers after the examinations of large numbers of working men and women indicate that about two in every hundred have active tuberculosis.

There are, approximately, forty million to forty-two million industrially employed men and women in this country. This would indicate that there are about eight hundred thousand active tuberculosis cases among American working men and women.

What the cost of this disease is to industry can barely be guessed at, but it no doubt mounts into millions of dollars when one considers that practically all tuberculosis individuals are driven from one job to another, seeking always an easy job on which they might support their families and regain their health.

Estimating the turnover in industry caused by tuberculosis on conservative figures furnished by large manufacturers, officials of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association have shown that nearly twenty million dollars a year is sacrificed by American manufacturers through this insidious disease.

Tuberculosis is even more costly to the working man or woman, however, than this money loss to employers.

Y.; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pierce, South Bend, Ind.; Thomas Putman, Chicago.

To the workers it means their very lives. No working family can bear the cost of a tuberculosis illness without losing much of its independence.

Estimates show that the average duration of the disease is something like three years and with a breadwinner ill it is not surprising to find that otherwise independent people are made to appeal to friends, relatives and county officials for aid when this disease strikes.

Tuberculosis still is the most deadly thing on earth to working men and women in the age period from 15 to 45. The Michigan Tuberculosis Association very wisely suggests that employers as well as employees in industry will do well to devise means for maintaining the health of the worker and for guarding against the deadly white plague.

The occasional physical examination of working men and women is probably the best safe guard against this disease since early discovery of tuberculosis is essential to recovery.

A QUIET FOURTH.

Folks say it was a quiet Fourth. Probably the quietest in the history of the nation. In many communities not even the explosion of a penny cracker was heard.

What a different Fourth than the one we knew in the old days, when the old-fashioned Fourth began before daylight and lasted until long after midnight. It was not until the next day that toll was taken. The music and the noise had died away, the speeches forgotten, but from hundreds of cities, hamlets and villages came stories of little children dead and dying, some named for life, but all sacrificed because of the belief that it took unusual measures to express our love of country on the nation's birthday.

If Governor Fred W. Green deserves praise for one single act, it is because he set himself resolutely against the use of fireworks, unless under competent supervision, in this state. He has earned the gratitude of thousands of parents whose children will be saved from such a fate in the years to come. It took courage to stem the tide against the pressure brought to bear by the manufacturers and dealers—but Fred Green has that kind of courage.

DOCTORS BY THE MONTH.

Sickness is now being sold on the installment plan. That is, you may buy an operation on the part payment method. A finance company in Chicago is offering its services to physicians and those patients who cannot pay all, may pay some at a time.

We imagine that many an operation is given without anything down or anything after. The doctors are more interested in relief than in money. People will pay for cars and forget their sickness. They will buy pleasure and let the physician go. If the new plan should work out to bring in more money for the doctors we are for it.

Sickness represents a tremendous cost—not only to individuals and families, but to the nation as well. It has been computed that the average doctor's bill for each person in the cities is $25 a year. Investigation shows that the cost is the same in the country.

The cost of sickness is also to be measured in lost time and wages. There is another element that is very large.

Sickness also takes its toll of misery and suffering—a toll that cannot be computed by any material standard. The cause of public health is a great—a worthy cause.

RAILROAD MEN
CLOSE MEETINGSESSIONS WERE CONCLUDED
HERE LAST SATURDAY.Convention Attendance Was Over
Two Hundred—Golf Tournament
Popular Entertainment Feature.

The Central Freight association, whose headquarters are in Chicago, closed their 116th meeting at The Inn on Saturday of last week. This was the association's second visit to Charlevoix and the second time in its history that a meeting has been held away from headquarters in the Transportation Building, Chicago.

The association this year augmented by representatives of Southern, Southwestern, Eastern Trunk Line and New England Freight Association committees, who held their individual meetings and before the close of the convention joined a general joint conference of representatives of railroads serving various sections of the country to discuss subjects of interest pertaining to rates and freight rules and regulations applicable to, from and between Southern, Bureau territories. Members of the Alkali Traffic association were also in attendance for their business sessions. Many members were accompanied by their families, and the total assemblage at The Inn numbered well over two hundred.

While no regular program of entertainment was arranged, each individual found that Charlevoix offered no end of pleasurable moments to visitors. For the men, a golf tournament held on the Charlevoix Golf Club course Thursday afternoon was a popular feature.

E. T. Reynolds of Detroit, general freight agent of the Pere Marquette Railway company, won the Central Freight Association trophy awarded for low gross score of the tournament. Following Thursday's play, Mr. Reynolds and C. J. Sayles, St. Louis, Mo., general freight agent of the Wabash, were tied for low gross score. Mr. Reynolds won the play-off Friday afternoon. The tournament had 40 entries. Nine four-omes took part in that division of play, with the following announced as flight winners: E. T. Reynolds, Detroit; A. J. Witt, Akron, O.; Frank Koch, St. Louis, Mo.; Frank Mommerson, Boston, Mass.; H. M. Mabey, New York, N. Y.; Wm. J. Lahr, Chicago; H. H. Stephens, Chicago; J. H. Day, Cleveland, O.; James Cameron, Chicago.

The convention visitors, before closing their sessions here, voted their stay in Charlevoix a very pleasant one, and voiced the desire that they might again have the opportunity of visiting this most charming resort and enjoy the hospitality of The Inn.

A delightful affair for wives of convention members was a bridge party in The Inn foyer Thursday afternoon. Miss Harriett Blood, popular social hostess at the hotel, arranged the party. Mrs. C. H. Owen of New Orleans, won a lamp as first prize for high score. Mrs. C. J. Sayles of St. Louis, Mo., won the second award of a flower bowl and Mrs. Hudson Day of Cleveland, Ohio, an ice box set with ramekins as third prize.

mum July 29 to August 3, and the Hiawatha pageant August 18th.

Last week end were visiting days at Camp Charlevoix and a large number of people from scattered points throughout the state came to visit their sons at the camp. Included among the visitors were the following: Mr. and Mrs. William VanEvery and two daughters, Margaret and Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Parker, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Noerkin, Mr. and Mrs. William Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Owens, all of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Anton Olson of Flint; Joseph Haller, Mr. and Mrs. Max Renee, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Hinckley and Howard McGregg, all of Detroit; Prof. and Mrs. McLaughlin of Chicago; Mrs. S. W. Mower of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Harley Warner of Farmington; Mrs. C. E. Jelm of Akron, Ohio; Mr. Wickens of Walloon Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson of Ypsilanti; Mr. and Mrs. Fead of Lansing.

CHICAGO CLUB BRIEFS

Week-enders at the Chicago Club of Charlevoix were Harold C. Smith and W. Scott Linn. The former has returned to Chicago, while Mr. Linn went on to Detroit before returning to the Windy City.

Miss Pauline Perry of Chicago, has joined her parents at the clubhouse for a few days' stay.

Bryan S. Reed has joined his family at their cottage and will remain for a few days.

Mrs. Edward N. Wiley, her daughter, Mrs. Robert G. Warfield, and granddaughter, Patricia Wiley Warfield, all of Chicago, are guests at the club for an indefinite stay.

Mrs. O. W. Johnson and Mrs. Harold C. Smith left the colony for a few days and are in Chicago. They expect to return soon.

Mrs. Daniel R. Wood and daughter, Miss Deane R. Wood of Berkeley, Calif., are visiting friends among the Chicago colony and are guests at the clubhouse during their stay.

Mrs. Ralph E. Ellis, with her son, Ralph E. Jr., and Rudy Montgelas, all of Grand Rapids, are at the clubhouse for the remainder of the summer season.

FAMOUS YACHT
VISITS HARBORVENETIA LARGEST PLEASURE
CRAFT ON FRESH WATER.Won Distinction for Part In World War—Yacht Party Guests of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Webb.

No little interest was manifest locally over the week end by the presence in the harbor here of the yacht Venetia flying the flagship pennant of the Canadian Yacht Club.

Through inquiry it has been learned that the owner, Commodore James C. Playfair and Mrs. Playfair, together with guests, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Wickham, Mr. and Mrs. Bottomly and Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell of New London, Conn., Dwight Harding of Chicago, Mrs. Featherhaw and Dr. Pinchin of Midland, Ont., were the guests Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Webb, Chicagoans summering at their cottage on the Belvedere Club, at dinner at the Belvedere hotel and luncheon at the Belvedere Golf club house.

The Venetia is the largest pleasure yacht on fresh water. She was built by Hawthorn ship yards at Leith, Scotland, for C. Spreckles, wealthy Californian, and was purchased from the Spreckles estate by Commodore Playfair. The yacht is 240 feet long and has a 27-foot beam. She is powered by steam from oil burners.

Then Venetia was taken over by the Canadian government during the world war and was pressed into service. Two gold stars, one on each side of her stack, are mementoes of distinction for sinking the submarines that torpedoes the Lusitania and Baltic, trans-Atlantic liners.

The yacht is captained by W. B. Kitchen. Other officers are Capt. Burke, pilot, and E. Carpenter, chief engineer. Commodore Playfair and party left here Monday to continue their cruise.

AT THE MOVIES

Wife Kidnaps Husband from His Own Mother.

There is a thrilling kidnapping in the beautiful love story, "Kitty," the popular novel of Warwick Deeping, from which the imported World Wide talking picture has been made, and which will be shown at the Palace Theatre on Saturday and Sunday, July 20-21.

"The Rainbow Man."

"The Rainbow Man" is the type of picture in which a star of Dowling's abilities can be best presented to the English-speaking world. Heretofore, when the celluloid was nauter, a Broadway star found his success in pictures handicapped by many barriers.

"The Rainbow Man" opened at the Selwyn Theatre in New York last April and was given great ovations by the thousands who were thus privileged to see their idol for the first time on the audible screen. It comes to the Palace Theatre for three days as the feature picture beginning Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Men Who Helped Create Empire
Seen in Picture.

Echoes of great names that have come down in the history of the West are revived in the graphic representations of famous characters which make up the cast of "Tide of Empire." Peter B. Kyne's vivid story of the California gold rush, which will be at the Palace Theatre Monday and Tuesday. It is a Cosmopolitan production with synchronized score and sound effects and is presented by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Not only are Wells, Fargo and other celebrated characters of the "Days of '49" reproduced, by actors so startlingly like the originals that it seems those historical characters have actually come to life, but many descendants of those pioneers are among the actors playing their roles.

Monta Bell Assembled Great Cast for Powerful Murder Trial Film.

One of the largest and most talented casts ever assembled at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio was brought together when Monta Bell filmed "The Bellamy Trial," which opens Wednesday at the Palace Theatre. LIVE
STOCKALFALFA HAY IS FINE FOR SWINEBecoming Generally Used as Protein Supplement.

During the last few years alfalfa hay is becoming quite generally used as a protein supplement for feeding hogs. In some instances alfalfa meal has been used for this purpose and to determine the relative value of alfalfa in the form of alfalfa meal or alfalfa hay as compared with oilmeal when fed with a ration of shelled corn, tankage and minerals to hogs, the Michigan experiment station conducted a test in 1927 with live lots of plus weighing 55 pounds each at the beginning of the test.

This experiment indicated that alfalfa hay produced greater gains with less feed than did either alfalfa meal or oilmeal when fed with the ration of tankage, shelled corn and minerals. That alfalfa meal required a greater amount of feed with a ration of tankage, shelled corn and minerals.

That the addition of oilmeal to a mixture of tankage and alfalfa meal reduced the gains. The addition of alfalfa hay to tankage and oilmeal produced larger gains and required less feed for the gains produced than did the addition of alfalfa meal with tankage and oilmeal when fed with a ration of tankage, shelled corn and minerals.

The conclusions that must be reached from this experiment are that alfalfa hay is more profitable for feeding hogs than alfalfa meal; that it produces greater gains with less feed than does alfalfa meal; also that alfalfa hay when fed to swine together with oilmeal produces greater gains with less feed than does alfalfa meal with tankage and oilmeal.

Many swine producers in those sections where alfalfa hay is produced have adopted this as a general practice in their swine herd with very satisfactory results. It is a practice that will no doubt continue to grow from year to year.—Dr. George W. Conn., Stephenson county, Ill.

John's Disease of Cattle Increasing

Most stockmen have become aware that chronic bacterial dysentery of cattle, more commonly called John's disease or paratuberculosis, has gradually been increasing in prevalence. Possibly it always has been as prevalent, but was not regarded as a specific disease, or it was thought to be tuberculosis in an advanced stage, or a form of scouring induced by damaged feed.

Anyhow, it has been taking its toll of life and as a remedy has been found for the malady and destruction of affected animals has come to be the adopted course of procedure by the state authorities, stockmen have been concerned over the outlook. However, there will be some satisfaction in knowing that the federal government now grants indemnities for animals found affected.

It is probable that various states, especially those where dairy cattle are numerous, will also offer indemnities for animals slaughtered on account of John's disease. Wisconsin has already taken that step and owners will now feel more inclined to have the test applied to cows that suffer from a chronic form of dysentery.

In some of the European countries John's disease has become seriously prevalent. The disease is contagious, the germs being voided in the feces. The disease may, for a time, be dormant, but when it shows up it always proves fatal.

Live Stock Hints

hogging down crops is a way to grow pork with less labor.

Sell your feed-stuffs to your own live stock and cut out the middleman's profits.

It is a pretty well settled fact that it doesn't pay to grind corn for fattening steers.

Ames has demonstrated several times that grinding corn for steers does not pay.

Hulled oats make an excellent feed for hogs, more valuable pound for pound than corn.

Home butchering gives the family a meat supply that is much cheaper than that purchased each day from the meat market.

Where cattle and hogs run together in a pasture or barnyard and it is known that the hogs have tuberculosis it is almost positive evidence that the cattle have the disease also.

The education of the foal should not be postponed until it is desired to "break" him as a three-year-old. The foal needs to be taught obedience from the start and not allowed to become willful or headstrong. Break to the halter early; be kind and patient. A foal responds quickly to the treatment received.

COURIER, CHARLEVOIX, MICH., WEDNESDAY, JULY 24, 1929

PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

REGATTA INTEREST IS GROWING

ADVANCE ENTRIES PROMISE BEST EVENT EVER STAGED.

Regatta Opens With First Sailing Races on Saturday, August 2—Motor Races on Sunday.

With the time but a week away before the opening day of Charlevoix's 4th annual regatta, staged jointly by the Charlevoix Boat Club and Pine Lake Yacht Club, and sanctioned by the Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association, committees in charge of the affair have plans well in hand and their activity alone is an indication of success for the regatta.

Sailing races on Lake Charlevoix will open the three-day event on Friday, August 2nd, at 2:00 o'clock. Keenest competition in this division, will, as in former years, be between Charlevoix's famous fleet of seven 6-meter boats, which is the largest on fresh water. Sailing is a favorite pastime among Chicagoans summering at the Chicago Club of Charlevoix and they enter the regatta with great enthusiasm. Winners will be decided on a point basis, and points made during the regatta will count in the annual summer racing series which is held throughout the month of August. Boats entered are: "Question," Oscar W. Johnson; "Sandpiper," Mrs. Adele Whitling; "Dauphin," John P. Wilson; "Firefly," Jack King; "Grebe," Miss Ellen Stuart; "Oslo," Frederick H. Scott, and "Betty," John and Francis Titus of the Belvedere. Of the Manchester 17 entries are: "Binx," Cynthia Wilson; "Bubbles," William B. McIlvaine; "Kumalong," Alice Babst.

Jack King, one of the most active sailing enthusiasts at the club, has won the event two years in succession and another victory will give him permanent possession of the trophy. Jack is also handling the sailing events of the regatta for the Pine Lake Yacht Club, which is co-operating with the Charlevoix Boat Club in staging the event. The second series of races will be held at 2:00 o'clock, with finals Sunday morning. In case of a tie, the winner will be decided Monday.

First and second trophy cups are posted for winners of the R class, 6 meter, Manchester 17, and three trophy cups for winners in the handicap sailing race.

All motor boat events will be staged on Sunday, August 4th, the concluding day of the regatta. Advance entries are coming in so sufficiently large numbers to assure that the 4th annual regatta of the Charlevoix Boat Club will be the largest event in Northern Michigan this year.

A handsome list of trophies are posted for winners in the various events. In the 150 h. p. runabout class, first prize is the Alvin D. Goldman trophy, which goes to the winner. For second place is a $50 trophy shaker, and for third a $30 Beverage shaker.

First in the 100 h. p. class receives the John Koch cup, which must be won three times for permanent possession. Second prize is a $30 waiter tray; 3rd prize a $20 cigarette case.

The S. S. Pingree trophy goes to first place in the 200 h. p. class. Second is a pair of $35 prism binoculars; 3rd prize a surf board.

First place in the free-for-all run-three times. To second place winabout receives the Charlevoix Boat Club trophy, which must also be won a $55 ship bell clock will be awarded and to third place a $50 trophy shaker.

Prizes in the outboard classes will be awarded as follows:

Class B—1st, $50 in cash; 2nd, $25 Waltham wrist watch; 3rd, Kapoc jacket.

Class C—1st, trophy cup; 2nd, $30 Elgin watch; 3rd, Kapoc mattress.

Free-for-all Outboards—1st, $75 in cash; 2nd, trophy cup; 3rd, Michigan steering wheel.

The trophies listed above are the most elaborate ever offered at a Charlevoix regatta and, with this incentive, together with the chance of breaking a world's record during a sanctioned race, is proving a drawing magnet to racing fans.

Financial arrangements for the regatta are working out very satisfactorily. Heading the list, the city council has voted $250. Donations from members include $50 from A. D. Goldman, $25 from S. S. Pingree and $30 from Charles M. Rice, all of St. Louis, Mo., and $50 from S. J. T.

Straus of Chicago. With membership dues still to be collected and receipts from ticket sales, the regatta will be self-financing and put a neat sum away in the treasury.

Vane Smith, newly-elected secretary of the boat club, is handling the work of entries and other details in connection with the regatta in fine shape. Commodore Hamilton Moses is also hard at work, as are also other members of the committees named to carry on the work. Every indication points to the most successful regatta ever staged at Charlevoix.

CHURCH OF GOD SET CAMP MEETING DATE

To Be Held This Year From August 2nd to 12th, Inclusive.

The 22nd annual Camp Meeting of the Church of God will be held this year from August 2nd to 12th inclusive, at their camp grounds located 2 1-2 miles south of the Belvedere depot.

Evangelist of note will speak at each of the meetings, to which the public is cordially invited to attend. The annual camp meeting has always drawn crowds from over the entire Northern Michigan region, and this year will be no exception.

The meeting will be conducted on the free-will offering plan with the exception of Sundays. Further information may be had by addressing C. B. Sheldon, Charlevoix.

LEGION TO STAGE BOXING MATCHES

OPENING BILL THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST 1.

Sammy Caruso and Doty Turner in Main Go—Shows to Be Held at High School Gymnasium.

What promises to be an outstanding feature of Charlevoix's summer entertainment program for vacationists and tourists of the Northern Michigan resort region, is a series of three boxing shows to be staged here under the auspices of Leslie T. Shapton Post, American Legion.

The opening show has been announced for Thursday evening, August 1. The Legion has been granted the privilege of using the high school gymnasium, which gives an indoor arena with a seating capacity of well over 2,000 and standing room for at least a thousand more. With the gymnasium available, the threat of stormy weather, which marred both shows staged a year ago, will be completely eliminated.

For the opening exhibition next Thursday night, some of the best leather-pushers in the state have been matched to do their stuff. The main go brings together Sammy Caruso of Bay City and Doty Turner of Detroit, two fighters known throughout the state for their willingness to mix things. They will go ten rounds at 140 pounds.

Ted Mermda, popular Grand Rapids fistic artist and Battling Genaro of Bay City, are slated to trade socks for six rounds at 135 pounds in one of two semi-final exhibitions, while Kirk Hintz of Flint, and Sailor Desh-one of Saginaw, appear for another six-rounder at 145 pounds. None of the above mentioned lads are recruits in the game, having headlined many shows in the southern part of the state. Two other 4's round out the bill and will bring together some of the best talent of this region.

Two other shows are scheduled for August 15th and 29th, according to present plans. Efforts are being made to line up a bout with Frankie Young, Jimmy Brady's state fly-weight champion and some other aspirant for the belt. Young won a flock of admirers during his two fights here a year ago, and since that time has topped off the fly-weight crown. He is a clever boxer, a willing mixer and will always get a big hand from Northern Michigan fistic fans.

B. B. Stout of Mt. Pleasant is promoting the matches, with Leo "Cy" Powers and other Legion men handling the local arrangements.

THREE TO IONIA ON WET CHARGES

FOUR OTHERS FINED AND PUT OUT ON PROBATION.

Grist of Non-Jury Cases Disposed of by Judge Parm C. Gilbert at Special Court Session.

Quite a number of non-jury cases were disposed of at a special session of circuit court held before Judge Parm C. Gilbert last Friday and Saturday. Three of seven liquor law violators received sentences at Ionia, while the others paid stiff fines and were placed on probation under bond.

In the case of the People vs. Erving Major and Ole Erickson of Boyne City, violation of the liquor law, both pleaded guilty when arraigned in court. The former was released under bond of $1,000 to appear August 12 for sentence, and the latter under bond of $500 to appear at the same time.

Amos Johns, charged with statutory rape, pleaded not guilty and was bound over for trial at the August term of court under bond of $2,000. George A. Roderick, former Charlevoix county clerk, pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzling $2,040 of state conservation department game and fish license funds. He was released under $1,000 bond to appear August 12 for sentence.

In the case of the people vs. James Evans and (Ted) Theodore Perry, both of Boyne City, both pleaded guilty Friday, and the following day Evans was sentenced to serve from 6 to 12 months at Ionia, with a recommendation of eight months. Perry received a like sentence with a recommendation of six months.

Frank Painter, 70-year-old Boyne City resident, pleaded guilty to violation of the liquor law in circuit court Friday. Saturday he was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 at once and costs in the same amount by September 10. He was released under $300 bond to appear October 28. Juna McSautha and Eugene Tillotson, arrested for non-support, were placed on probation. The former was released under $300 bond until October 28, and Tillotson will appear August 28 for sentence. Tillotson's bond was in the sum of $300, and he must pay $20 a week for the support of his family.

The cases of Charles Beach vs. Frank Hyek and Pat Holland vs. Frank Hyek, were dismissed.

In the case of Michael Wasylewski, violation of the liquor law, respondent, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay fine of $100 and costs of $100 at once. He complied with the court order and was placed on probation until October 28.

Percy Fuller, Detroit, pleaded guilty to violation of the liquor law. He was sentenced to serve from 6 to 13 months at Ionia, with recommendation of the full term.

COUNTY OFFICES TO CLOSE HOUR EARLIER

Starting last week and continuing indefinitely, offices in the court house will be closed at 4:00 o'clock each afternoon instead of 5:00 o'clock as formerly.

This procedure has been adopted at the request of state auditors checking over county books, to give county officers an opportunity to make a balance each day before closing time. While offices will be closed, officers will remain on duty until 5:00 o'clock.

MICHIGAN RIVIERA TOURNEY AUG. 5

LIST OF STARS ENTERING IS GROWING EACH DAY.

Many of Country's Outstanding Players Coming for Event Here August 5 to 11.

Entries for the Michigan Riviera Championships, Charlevoix's annual tennis event, which opens at The Inn clay courts on Monday, August 5th, are growing daily in number and importance, according to Gerald Ash, who is handling the event this year for The Inn.

Every indication points to the best tournament ever held at Charlevoix. The first entry was that of John Hennessey, winner at Charlevoix three previous years, who comes direct from the Davis cup matches in Paris, France, to defend his title here. Hennessey is now ranked fourth in America and has many victories to his credit over those ranked above him. He will undoubtedly be the outstanding star in the local event, and his appearance here will be a great drawing magnet.

Other entries include Ellis Klingeman, Chicago. He ranks seventh at the Windy City and tenth in the Western, and was a member of the inter-city doubles championship team a year ago. Jack Harris, ranking eighth in Chicago and 11th in the Western, is also coming. Paired with Klingeman, Harris won the national inter-city doubles champion last summer.

George O'Connell, who has reached the finals at Charlevoix for five consecutive years, is another entry. George ranks fourth in Chicago, sixth in the Western and paired with Fred Royer won the 1929 national inter-city doubles championship. He has played in several major tournaments in Europe during the past winter, and is always a threat at any tournament. His doubles partner, Fred Royer, who ranks third in the Missouri Valley, is also coming to Charlevoix.

Walter T. Hayes of Chicago, former first ranking player in the United States, is tournament referee and will also play. Hayes reached the semifinals here a year ago.

Another outstanding player coming for further laurels at Charlevoix, is Emmett Pare, Georgetown University star, whose home is in Chicago. Pare stands fifth in inter-collegiate ranking, first in the Middle Atlantic states, third in the Western below George Lott, Jr., and John Hennessey, and is second ranking in Chicago, below George Lott. He just recently won the National Clay Court championship, and his appearance at Charlevoix will assure some fine matches in the semi-final and possibly the final round.

In the women's singles division, entries so far include Miss McAlle, first ranking in the Texas association, and Ruth Bailey, Western champion and first ranking in the Missouri Valley association.

Tournament series tickets are being placed on sale at $3.00. Daily admission for Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday is set at 50 cents, while Saturday and Sunday admission will be $1.00.

Mrs. James Gaskin left Tuesday for Detroit, for an indefinite stay with her daughter, Mrs. Russell Blakeslee.

Irv Stein's Ambassadors, famous 17-piece orchestra from Chicago, have opened the season at the Charlevoix Beach Hotel, playing concert entertainments and for dancing.

PLANS FOR S. S. PICNIC GOING FORWARD

Committees Are Named to Handle Event August 8th.

Plans for the county Sunday school picnic, which takes place on Thursday, August 8th, at Whiting Park, are going forward. Rev. W. H. Helrigel, of Boyne City, will direct the games and sports, the program for which will be furnished through the press next week.

The committees in charge are as follows: General—Mrs. Saltonstall and other Charlevoix members of the executive board.

Publicity and Information—Mrs. James Secord, East Jordan. Games and Sports—Rev. W. H. Helrigel, et al., Boyne City. Table Arrangements—Earl Clark, et al., East Jordan. Band Music—Rev. C. W. Sidebottom, East Jordan.

Lemonade—Mrs. Allan Campbell, Mrs. Rena Edwards, et al., Charlevoix.

Ice cream will be sold by a class from the Charlevoix Baptist church Sunday school for the convenience of the picnickers.

The picnic is under the auspices of the Charlevoix County Council of Religious Education and members of all Sunday schools with reach are cordially invited to attend and bring their relatives and friends.

FISH HATCHERY INTEREST SPOT

AQUARIUM THERE GREAT ATTRACTION TO TOURISTS.

Many Species of Local Fish Life On Display—Lake Michigan Bathing Beach Popular Place.

One of the most interesting spots to tourists visiting Charlevoix and the Northern Michigan region this summer, is the U. S. Fish hatchery on Lake Michigan. Vieing closely for popularity honors is the city maintained bathing beach, where playground equipment has been installed for entertainment of visitors.

Supt. Hoofnagle of the government hatchery has gathered an interesting group of fish for the hatchery aquarium, which has been opened for public inspection for several weeks. Each of the several tanks contains some specimen of fish life native of this region. In one is a rainbow trout. In another are several rock bass and bull-heads. When not disturbed, these fish lay in the water upside-down, creating great interest. Other tanks contain specimens of German brown trout, goldfish and albino brook trout. A small sturgeon in a tank containing several small mackinaw trout about six inches in length, is a great attraction.

In the main tanks of the hatchery are two troughs of fish, one containing rainbow fingerlings, and the other mackinaw trout fingerlings. The rainbows were obtained from spawn gathered in Boyne river early this spring, and it is estimated there are between 35,000 and 40,000 very healthy specimens. They have reached the fingerling stage and now demand their daily ration of ground liver. Mr. Hoofnagle is raising the mackinaw trout as an experiment, aiming to study their habits and peculiarities.

Visitors are invited to the hatchery at any time, and it is well worth a person's time to look over the exhibit.

Playground equipment, which includes slides, swings, teeter boards, etc., are proving extremely popular with local and summer people alike at the Lake Michigan bathing beach. The city park commission has kept this equipment in good shape and their efforts are being well repaid.

GAME LAW VIOLATORS PAY FINES AND COSTS

Warden Henry Fike Reports Five Arrests in Past Week.

Earl Snell of Vandervilt; J. W. Clarke of Detroit; Roland Peters of Petoskey; Cal and Albert Watkins of Mt. Clemens, were arrested on Thumb lake during the past week for possession of undersized fish.

The first two paid a fine of $5.00 and costs of $6.00 and the other three fines of $5.00 and costs of $5.75. Stella Peaco of Toledo, O., was assessed costs for fishing without a license. County Game Warden Henry Fike made the arrests.

BIG GOLF EVENT AUGUST 29 AND 30

DATE ANNOUNCED MONDAY MORNING OF THIS WEEK.

Event to Be Known As Great Lakes Open Championship—Galaxy of Stars Will Compete.

Dates for Charlevoix's 1st annual golf tournament, to be known as the Great Lakes Open Championship, were announced Monday as Thursday and Friday, August 29 and 30.

With this announcement John R. Bowker of Southern Pines and Pinehurst, N. C., who is acting as tournament secretary with headquarters at The Inn, left for Montreal, Canada, to line up stars playing in the Canadian Open for the local event. Word that preliminary arrangements had been sufficiently completed to assure the tournament, promises Charlevoix its first opportunity to break into the golfing limelight with an event that is bound to attract the foremost golfers of the country, and one that will bring several thousand people here to watch these celebrities compete.

While financial arrangements have not been fully completed, nearly $2,500 has been pledged, which amount is sufficient to guarantee prize money, and there undoubtedly will be no difficulty in raising necessary additional funds before the tournament. Prizes for the event have been announced as follows: 1st, $750.00; 2nd, $500.00; 3rd, $300.00; 4th, $200.00; 5th, $100.00 and four $50 prizes to the professionals making the lowest medal round for 72 holes. In addition two prizes are posted for the two amateurs making the lowest scores, and several other prizes to be named later.

The tournament will be played on the Belvedere and Charlevoix Golf Club courses, 36 holes on each. Play will be the same as the national open—72 holes of medal play, with 36 holes on each of the two courses. There will be no entrance fee, and entries are to be made with John R. Bowker at The Inn, Charlevoix. Inquiries for accommodations are to be directed there also.

This tournament comes four days after the Western Open at Milwaukee, Wis., and it is expected that all of the stars playing there will compete in the local event together with such well known golfers as Walter Hagen, Johnny Farrell, Horton Smith, Al Espinoza, "Wild" Bill Melhorn, Gene Sarazen, Jack Hutchinson, McDonald Smith, Al Watrous, Henry Cuick, and many members of the Ryder cup team which invaded England. All pros and amateurs are invited to the tournament.

Charlevoix is the only resort center in Northern Michigan with two 18-hole courses, and this city has a wonderful setting for a championship tournament. The courses are both in the pink of condition and low scores may be expected. In fact, it would not be surprising if a new record for low scoring for 72 holes will be made, as the fairways are in excellent shape and the greens cannot be improved upon.

The Pere Marquette Railway company is co-operating with local officials and are offering special summer rates over their lines from Detroit, Grand Rapids, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis and other points south.

While in Montreal, Mr. Bowker will keep in touch with local officials, and within another week more definite information will be available concerning the coming event.

TOURISTS COME FROM NEARLY EVERY STATE

Check-up of License Plates Show Popularity of This Region.

An observant Charlevoix citizen, while passing down Bridge st. Monday forenoon, reports seeing automobile licenses on cars parked along the street representing the states of Florida, Tennessee, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, North Carolina, Ohio, Georgia, Texas and Wisconsin, and another from Cuba.

A check-up of guest registers in Charlevoix's summer hostels will give the same result. Practically every state in the union is represented among the thousands who visit this Northern Michigan region during the summer months.

SICK TEN YEARS;
KONJOLA BRINGS
SPEEDY RELIEF

"I Am Just Beginning To Enjoy Life Again," Says Lady Made Well and Happy by New Medicine.

MRS. L. PLUMPTRE

"For more than ten years I was sick with stomach, liver and kidney troubles, and in all that time I found absolutely no relief," said Mrs. L. Plumptre, 1111 Forest avenue, Ann Arbor, Michigan. "My food did not digest. My liver was very inactive. Weak kidneys got me up many times at night, and my entire system was run down."

"What a fortunate thing it was that I heard of Konjola. My search for ten years has been rewarded, and I am beginning to enjoy life again. My appetite is fine and digestion perfect. I feel just wonderful and sleep the night through. I shall never cease to marvel at what Konjola did in my desperate case."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Saloon League will preach next Sunday.

A BIG, HUSKY

—combining OUTSTANDING quality and LOW price, and backed by The Greatest Name in Rubber!

Millions of Pathfinders have been built by Goodyear, and they have served satisfactorily and well.

Now Goodyear offers a vastly improved Pathfinder.

Literally a great step ahead in tire-making, because it successfully combines outstanding quality at surprisingly low cost.

It's a big, husky tire—handsome and rugged.

Its wide and heavy tread, designed for slow and even wear, delivers exceptional traction.

Beneath that stout tread is a tough and sinewy carcass made of Genuine Super-twist cord.

Big, strong, good-looking, dependable — high in value and low in price—a genuine Goodyear product through and through!

BOAT IS NEEDED FOR DAILY LAKE CRUISES
Information Bureau Has Flood of Inquiries for Such Entertainment.

The Information Bureau of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, located in the city band house, reports many inquiries regarding short boat trips on Lakes Round and Charlevoix.

The interest of even the passing tourist in the water is immense and it would seem that more attention might profitably be paid to serving this interest. The boat owner could display his advertising at the information bureau, offering to make, say, two trips daily, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. This service could be especially stressed by the attendant at the information bureau and the names of those desiring to make the trip at the hour designated and the expense of the boat load summing among the passengers, assuming that the boat was rented at so much per hour. At present, the expense of a boat ride for one or two people, at a price that affords an adequate return to the boat owner, is almost prohibitive.

Iso-Vis

THE new type motor oil, Iso-Vis, is the sensation of the motoring world. This superb motor oil has the remarkable property of constant viscosity. It will not thin out! It will not wear out. It maintains its body under all normal driving conditions.

When you fill up your crankcase with Iso-Vis you can motor with an easy mind—knowing that you'll have no trouble from dilution in the crankcase—sure that your engine will be protected with proper lubrication every mile.

Iso-Vis avoids the necessity of frequent crankcase changes. Many motorists drive for 1000 miles or more without changing oil. Iso-Vis maintains its viscosity. It wears and wears and WEARS!

Polarine

THE engine in your car needs a rich sturdy oil to protect its bearings. Driving conditions are harder—you drive faster—you drive farther—and traffic congestion puts a strain on the engine.

Polarine meets the engine needs of today. Polarine is sturdy! Polarine is rich! Polarine is dependable.

When you have Polarine in the crankcase you may be sure that the engine is properly lubricated—that every bearing surface is covered with a protecting cushion of oil.

Use the grade made for your car. Drain and refill with fresh Polarine every 500 miles. You'll save your car—and you'll motor untroubled miles!

Polarine and Iso-Vis are money-saving, driver-saving, car-saving motor oils. Buy the grade made for your car.

How About Yours?

Often persons will open a Savings Account, make a few deposits—and then neglect it. Sometimes he will make neither deposits nor withdrawals for years. True, compound interest keeps the account growing, but such growth is naturally slow unless stimulated by additional deposits.

And so, if you have an inactive Savings Account, why not make it show a steady growth this year by making regular weekly or monthly deposits?

And why not come in and make a deposit today?

SELL MICHIGAN TO VACATIONISTS

MICHIGAN BELL ADVERTISING TELLS OF STATE'S BEAUTY.

Campaign Inaugurated in 250 Newspapers and Magazines in Michigan—First in This Issue.

Attention is being directed to Michigan as a vacation land, in a series of advertisements of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, published in 250 newspapers and magazines of the state, according to Mr. C. L. Johnson, the company's manager in this area. The first advertisement of the series, carrying an illustration of Detroit's skyline, appears in today's issue of this paper.

A great part of Michigan's annual tourist business is derived from visitors from other states, hundreds of Michigan residents being inclined to spend their vacations elsewhere. The purpose of the telephone company's vacation series of advertisements is to acquaint Michigan people with the beauty spots of their own state, and to induce them to take advantage of the vacationing opportunities close to home. It is the belief of the officials of the Michigan Bell Company, Mr. C. L. Johnson says, that this state has recreational possibilities far beyond those of any other region readily accessible to Michigan residents with the average two weeks' holiday period.

series will be devoted to picturesque and historic Mackinac Island and vicinity, the mecca of thousands of visitors annually. Others of the six advertisements will feature other sections that abound in scenic interest and that add to Michigan's fame as a natural playground. A series of similar advertisements was sponsored by the company last year and was the subject of much favorable comment. Over a period of about two years, the Michigan Bell Company has directed attention to more than 40 of the principal cities of the state, in a series of "Know Michigan" window displays shown on Washington boulevard, Detroit, where the exhibits have been viewed by many thousands of people. Each display described the subject city, its natural advantages, industries, products and schools, churches and other institutions.

Manager C. L. Johnson states that to accommodate the increasing numbers of tourists in Michigan, the telephone company has augmented its forces and has installed additional facilities at many points, part of a continuing program of expansion.

CHEBOYGAN TO HAVE HOSPITAL

Forty Citizens Backing Effort to Organize Memorial Hospital

Forty Cheboygan business men are back of a movement to build a modern hospital for their city and at a recent meeting they formed the Community Memorial Hospital corporation and elected 20 trustees. They plan to build, equip and operate a hospital starting work as quickly as possible.

It is said, a well planned building of plain architecture will be erected, with a capacity of 25 or 30 beds. It will contain modern operating room and other facilities needed for such an institution. The institution would be a hospital serving the needs of the entire county.

Plans have been formulated for the raising of a fund of $100,000 for the erection and equipment of the building. The fund will be raised through popular volunteer subscription. A campaign for such subscriptions will be launched during the ten days between August 14 and 23. Every citizen of the county will be called upon to make such contribution as his means and inclination will permit. Cash will not be sought. Subscribers will be asked rather to make pledges payable at quarterly intervals over a period of nearly three years. Considered in this light, the citizens of the county will be asked to give only about $33,000 a year.

EDITORIALS

THE DANGEROUS SEASON.

This is the dangerous time of the year.

There are twice as many accidents in July as in the other months of the year.

The children are not in school but out on the streets.

Everyone who has a car is exercising it.

The highways are full of possibilities for serious injury.

Be very, very careful.

If you wish to get rambunctious wait until a snowy day next January.

PROSPERITY BUILT ON AUTOS.

The average reader, no doubt, is getting rather tired of those ever-recurring statistics that show the constant rise in American automobile production. We take our pre-eminence in the automobile field for granted, now; there is no longer any thrill in learning how many thousand more cars were turned out this month than last.

Nevertheless, these figures are important. They touch the lives of all of us, in one way or another. More and more, the general prosperity of the whole country is becoming tied up with the prosperity of the automobile manufacturers. If business slumps in the Detroit factories, it will slump in the rest of the country a little later on.

A set of figures recently compiled by the Central National Bank of Cleveland in its organ, The Outline of Business, illustrates the close tie-up between the automotive world and general business.

Manufacturers of rubber products, for example, sell 855 per cent of their total product to the automobile industry.

Sixty-three per cent of the plate glass made in this country is made for automobiles.

Eighty per cent of the gasoline produced in America is used in automobiles.

Twenty-six per cent of all the aluminum the country produces, 21 per cent of its nickel, 14 per cent of its steel and 12 per cent of its copper are used by the automobile industry. In addition, the rubber industry, which depends directly on autos, uses 299,500,000 pounds of American cotton fabric each year.

With those facts in mind, ask yourself what would happen to the general level of American business if the auto industry should suddenly fall on bad times.

You're right! We'd have a very bad coast-to-coast slump.

That being the case, you'll be relieved to know that the present year's production is breaking all records and shows no signs of slackening.

FROM LOGS TO LUMBER.

Think back a few years and you will recall that many of the rural school houses were made of logs. Now as you travel throughout the country you find the rural schools to be modern, comfortable, inspiring structures. Many of them, of the consolidated variety, are large.

The log school house was not built as a matter of choice, but necessity. In the earlier days there was no lumber available and it is to the credit of communities that they did not await lumber, brick and cement, to start an educational system. The log school house is an outstanding evidence of the desire of the American people for education.

But despite the fact that it is symbolic of educational ideas—we are glad to see the new standards of equipment and instruction.

One of the most inspired things in Michigan is the wonderful new system of rural education. No where in the nation are better ideals of service and training. The conditions are a splendid recommendation to every citizen of the state.

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

EDITED BY R. B. THOMAS

Camp Charlevoix's Third Annual Carnival was a huge success. It was held at the camp last Saturday afternoon. The production had been well advertised and there was a large crowd. Camp Kaiphree was there in its entirety and helped with the show in several ways. Friends and parents predominated, but the Charlevoix summer colony was also well represented. The carnival atmosphere was enhanced by an outdoor refreshment booth, several killingly funny clowns, and a general spirit of gaiety.

The carnival proper was held in the entertainment room. It opened with a group of short boxing bouts by boys of varying ages. These boys had been coached by Reed Dugman, who also acted as referee. Thomas, Neal and Ralph Thomas, both of Birmingham, next put on a short demonstration fencing bout. A quartet composed of Earl Oldham, Fred Morris, Clayton Smith, and George Wahl, all members of the staff, next sang two numbers in a very praiseworthy manner. This was followed by two charming dances done by some of the Camp Kaiphree girls. Then came Fred Morris, the counselor in charge of music. He gave one of his inimitable skits, entitled "The Sheriff." The audience then adjourned to the porch in order to witness the closing numbers, some mounted maneuvers executed by Alfred Nussdorfer, the instructor, and a group of nine boys. In addition there was excellent jumping and rough-riding done by Robert Dean, Fred Harlow, Carlyle Coons, and Jesse Olson.

No carnival is complete without side-shows. This carnival was complete. The side-shows were held in the recreation hall, which adjoins the entertainment room. There are six cabins in the camp. In each cabin there are two groups, called "cottages." The two "cottages" lodged under the same roof combined in the producing of an attraction. The shows were: "Hit the Nigger Baby," "The House of Fun," a ring-the-pin game, a fish pond, a collection of freaks, an archery shooting gallery and a magician.

Profits were good. "The House of Fun" was the most complete financial success. The amount of money taken in by the entire camp was $93.00 and the profit made was $55.00. The money was spent last night in taking the entire camp to Charlevoix to see the movies.

"House-Warming" Planned.

August 9 is the date camp officials have set for the house-warming of "The Limberlost." This is to be the new home of Camp Charlevoix, beginning next year. It is already far on the road to completion and it is to be finished for the opening of camp next year. The buildings and equipment are all to be done in the rustic manner. The new location is an improvement over the present site, in that it will bring the boys much nearer to nature and the real forest.

Canadian Trip a Feature.

One of the big features of the season is the Canadian trip. This trek, into the backwoods of America, is for the 20 boys who enrolled before January first. Mr. Reimann, the director, has charge of the group on this trip. A great deal of trout fishing is planned. The boys will be away from camp from July 29 until August 3.

Camp Neatness Merits Reward.

Cleanliness and neatness of person and cottage are stressed at the camp. Inspection of both is made daily and the cottages are graded accordingly. The three cottages, one from each section (there are junior, intermediate and senior sections), having the highest inspection average are also to go on a trip. This trip will take them to Beaver Island, one of Michigan's most interesting spots both because of history and opportunities for nature study.

SEA HAWK TAKEN WITH BEER LOAD

NABBED LAST THURSDAY BY CHICAGO AUTHORITIES.

Alpena Man One of Two Captured Aboard—Captain Escaped—Boat Was Built at Charlevoix.

Three hundred cases of Canadian beer, one-fourth of a $300,000 cargo destined to cool the burning tonsils of thirsty Chicagoans these sultry July days, were seized when customs officials at Chicago bagged their first liquor smuggling boat last Thursday. The 65-foot motor freight launch, Sea Hawk, was discharging the last of its load when coast guardsmen Captain John Anderson came alongside her at navy pier.

Three truck loads of its brew, all labeled Carling's black label, already had been hauled away.

Two men, Harry Marshall, of Alpena, a member of the Sea Hawk's crew of five, and William Loepke, a truck driver, were arrested. The launch's captain and the rest of the crew escaped.

Marshall declared he had shipped on the Sea Hawk out of Shobogan, Wis., only Tuesday, as a wheelsman. Loepke said he was driving for the Chicago Mail Order company whose officials Customs Collector Anthony Czarneski plans to question.

The boat was originally built for the fishing trade, by Ulysses McCann of this city and was later used two seasons in transporting fruit from South Haven to Chicago.

Last Spring, the Sea Hawk was sold at a United States marshal's sale here. Its buyer gave his name and address as W. H. Wheeler, of St. Joseph. Police there declared they knew of no such man.

Efforts are being made to trace the cargo's source. Marshall, the wheelsman, said the beer was aboard when he "joined up" at Cheboygan. He contended he did not know where it was taken on.

Although the Sea Hawk is the first boat to be captured bringing liquor into Chicago, prohibition authorities believe it is by no means the first to dock there with a hold full of Volsteadian contraband.

SUMMER RESORT LAD DIED FROM INJURIES

Victim of Automobile Accident Last Saturday Afternoon.

Richard Lazarus, age nine years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lazarus of Columbus, Ohio, died Saturday afternoon at about 5:00 o'clock from injuries received when he was run into by a car on Dixon avenue several hours previous.

Witnesses who saw this regrettable accident, say the lad ran into the street while at play, dodging out from between two parked cars directly into a machine driven by Emmett Shearer of Pontiac, who was visiting his parents in this city. It is understood Shearer was not driving at excessive speed, had his car completely under control, and has been exonerated of any blame.

Mr. Lazarus was notified at Columbus and came directly here by airplane, but too late to see his son alive. The remains were taken to Columbus for burial Sunday night.

ARRANGE SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT FEATURES

The Inn and P. M. R. R. Cooperating On Two Projects.

What promises to be one of the most popular entertainment features for guests at The Inn during the present summer season is a motor tour around Lake Charlevoix, plans for which were completed Tuesday.

F. Arthur Young, general agent of the Pere Marquette Railway company, in conference with A. I. Creamer, William E. Flynn and Edward O'Neil Tuesday morning, arranged details in connection with the project, also with Frank Welsh of the Charlevoix Riding Academy to furnish horses for those desiring. These special features are available to those holding all-expense tickets on the Pere Marquette for outings at The Inn.

Mr. O'Neil will furnish automobiles at $1.50 per person for parties of not less than three, while Mr. Welsh has agreed to make a special rate of $2.50 per person for riding parties of two or more going with a riding master.

The Inn and Pere Marquette Railway company are not overlooking any opportunity to make the stay of their guests in Charlevoix a pleasant one, and this tour around Lake Charlevoix, one of the most beautiful drives in the region, should be popular.

REGATTA DANCE WILL BE BRILLIANT EVENT

To Be Given at Thorman Club Evening of Sunday, August 4.

A special feature in connection with Charlevoix's 4th annual regatta and one that promises to be an outstanding social event of the summer season, is the first annual Charlevoix Boat Club Regatta dance, to be given Sunday evening, August 4th, at Thorman Country Club.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the event and one thing certain is that it will not lack color. Members of the boat club are active in arranging the affair and three hundred invitations will be extended local and summer people.

While aimed as a special entertainment feature of the regatta, it will also provide funds for the club. Tickets will be placed on sale this week at $2.20 per couple, and a hearty response is anticipated.

"GUEST DAY" EVENT OF LAST WEDNESDAY

Many Hear Fine Program Given at Congregational Church.

Last Wednesday was guest day with the Congregational Woman's Missionary Society and a goodly company assembled at the church for an unusually fine program followed by a social hour during which the South Side Circle, with Mrs. A. Webster as chairman, served delicious refreshments.

The program consisted of a beautiful solo by Miss Edith Thompson, of Sequenota, and a travel talk by Mrs. George Thompson also of Sequenota. The talk was descriptive of distant lands and the strange customs of the people and was exceedingly interesting.

NEW ROAD SIGNS WILL BE USED SOON

To Augment Regular Markers and Show Mileage.

The state park division's road signs directing travelers to the parks will soon be augmented by auxiliary signs giving the mileage. The new signs are of somewhat smaller size and have black figures against a white background.

The recent legislative enactment authorizing the construction of roads to and through state parks will insure a much wider popularity for some of these parks, which may soon be approached over good roads where in previous years they have been reached with difficulty. The state now has parks on four of the five great lakes and Saginaw Bay and another is to be established on Lake St. Clair.

METHODIST CHURCH.

John E. Lockyer, Minister.

So great value did that great merchant prince John Wanamaker place upon the church that he travelled several hundred thousand miles to be at his own church services every Sunday save for illness. The same values remain yet in the church and we invite you to share them at 10:30 on Sunday morning. The sermon will be on "Providence and a Dry Brook." Church school is at 9:30. See that your children are present.

The evening service is at 7:30 and will be followed by a town camp fire meeting for all Epworth Leaguers and visiting friends. Miss Grace Meggison leads the topic, "Religion and the Out-of-Doors." Mid-week service is Wednesday at 7:30.

CHARLEVOIX ANNUAL REGATTA OPENS MONTH OF SPORTS

FOURTH ANNUAL EVENT STARTS FRIDAY AFTERNOON WITH SAILING RACES ON LAKE CHARLEVOIX.

Motor Boat Races Starting Sunday Afternoon at 1:00 O'clock Standard Time—M. V. P. B. A. Sanctioned Races Bringing Entries from Over Entire State.

Friday, August 2, will mark the opening day of Charlevoix's 4th annual regatta, banner water event of the summer resort season. Indications are that the list of entries will be the largest competing in Northern Michigan this year.

The event is sanctioned by the Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association, making any records established recognized the world over, and is staged jointly by the Charlevoix Boat Club and Pine Lake Yacht Club. Sailing races will be held Friday and Saturday, August 2 and 3, with finals Sunday. All motor races will be held Sunday afternoon on the measured Lake Charlevoix course, starting at 1:00 o'clock central standard time.

Arrangements have been made by the racing committee with the U. S. coast guards to patrol the course. Boat owner are asked to keep off the course during the regatta to avoid any possible mishaps. The request is made especially to owners of runabouts. Swells made by these boats always present a dangerous element to the small outboards and in past years have been the cause of numerous spills. Runabout owners participating in the races who run across the course will be penalized.

As in the past, an admission will be charged. Seats have been reserved at the end of The Inn pier at $1.00 each. Bleacher seats in The Inn park may be had at 50c and general admission is 25c. We are asked to call attention to the fact that benches are reserved and are not to be used only by those holding 50c tickets. Last year many of our home people crowded these benches and when asked to move they refused, saying they paid for the benches in tax money and could not see why they should be charged to use them. It is hard to conceive that our home people could assume such an attitude.

It's mighty small and is certainly no credit to Charlevoix. We would suggest that those not wishing to pay the small admission price charged for this great event stay at home and leave room for those more public spirited.

Trophies Are Beautiful.
The group of beautiful trophies posted for winners of regatta events, have been on display this week at the Charlevoix County bank and may now be seen in the display window of the Charlevoix Hardware Co. They certainly are wonderful and well worth trying to win.

A special entertainment feature during the afternoon of Sunday will be an Akwa-Skeeing exhibition by Ruth and Harry Richmond, ages 12 and 14, respectively, who are coming from Traverse City for the regatta. The children are resorting there with their parents, who come from Huntington, Long Island, New York. The girl has won several races and the skees she will use were won at Rye, New York, and are on display with the regatta trophies, together with pictures of herself and others of Clara Bow and Dorothy Matthews, well known actresses, and Mrs. Corson, channel swimmer, who are ardent followers of Akwa-Skeeing.

Officials have been designated to conduct the races. Ben Samuelson of Traverse City, and Harry Richards of Chicago, M. V. P. B. A. officials, are the referees. Dr. Sledak and Dr. Kenyon of Traverse City, Warren Shields and Robert Bridge of Charlevoix, are the timers, and C. R. Garrison of Wequetonsing, will act as starter.

While no choice of a judge's boat has been made as yet, it is hoped and expected that Captain George D. Daw of Chicago, will be here with the P. D. Q. Envelope, and in such case this boat will be used.

FIGHTERS SET FOR LEGION GO

TOP-NOTCH CARD ARRANGED FOR THURSDAY NIGHT.

Principals Had Work-Outs in Gym Wednesday and Thursday—Are in Pink of Condition.

With the rough edges all smoothed out, the fighters in trimmest condition, a good advance sale, everything seems rosy for the American Legion mitt show at the high school gymnasium Thursday evening.

Most recent of the developments concerning this program of leather-pushing, is the announcement that John Blacken, Traverse City chief of police, has been chosen to officiate at Thursday night's contests. Blacken needs no introductions to the ringworms of Northern Michigan, having refereed the shows staged here a year ago.

Fighters All Set.
And the mittsters who will make the party a real one Thursday night are in the best of condition. Doty Turner, Detroit negro, and Sammy Caruso, Bay City battler, principals in the ten-round main event, arrived in town Tuesday night and Wednesday and Thursday went through short workouts at the gym.

Turner is one of the outstanding welters of the state. He has met and defeated such boys as Benny McArthur, Johnny Bangart, ex-welterweight champion of Michigan, Butch Otto and all the good men of his class in Michigan. Caruso is no recruit, either. In a recent bout at Flint, he handed Frankie Nelson a neat pasting and in his career in the cauliflower profession has met some of the best material in the game. Turner and Caruso will go ten 3's at 144 pounds. This is one of the series of bouts being conducted throughout the state to find a logical contender for the welter-weight crown now resting on the head of Morris Sherman of Detroit. Sherman recently won an unpopular decision over Turner in a Bay City ring. The Bay City Daily Times of Tuesday, June 11, remarked as follows concerning the bout: "Officially, Morris won the scrap, but it was a good draw in anybody's ring. It was one of those hairline decisions, where giving the fight to either boy was robbing it from the other."

Teddy Meranda, popularly known as "Pride of Grand Rapids," fights his 62nd battle when he meets Battling Delgado, the tough little Mexican from Mexico City in the semi-final six-round go.

In Meranda's career, he has met such fighters as Pete Firpo, Midket Mike and O'Dowd, Billy Cooper, Wilbur Chevalier, Eddy Connors, Benny Ray, Clare Morgan, Eddy Myers, Sammy Reid and so on through the list of feather and bantam weights doing business in this part of the universe.

In the other six-rounder, Snlor Deshone, Saginaw, meets Sailor Ritchie, "Pride of the Navy," who hails from New York. Deshone recently fought Benny Dukes, who was given a newspaper draw in a Grand Rapids ring with Sammy Mandell, world's light-weight champion. Deshone has met every light-weight in Michigan of any importance and will fight anybody his weight, bar none.

Two other 4's round out this excellent bill. The show starts promptly at 8:00 o'clock central standard time. Reserved seats are on sale at Adams' Cigar Store, Charlevoix, and Recreation, Petoskey.

Plan Outdoor Meeting.
The August meeting of the Congregational Ladies' Aid Society will be held at 3:00 p. m. next Wednesday in the park at the west end of Mason street, or with Miss Brown, 404 Mason street, if the weather is unsuitable for an outdoor meeting.

SWIMMING AND NOVELTY RACES

EVENTS ARRANGED FOR ALL CLASSES OF BOATS.

Outboard Race to Be Crowning Feature of Three Day Festivities August 9, 10 and 11.

The Third Annual Harbor Springs Water Carnival plans are rapidly being perfected. The carnival will be held on August 9, 10 and 11.

A good program of swimming and novelty races have been arranged; a larger number of cups and prizes will be offered for these races this year. These events will be staged on Friday morning, August 9th. The event for the afternoon will be the prize sail boat race.

Saturday will see a very lively series of races for drivers, sixteen years and under. There will be a race in each A, B and C Classes and a Free-for-All. With several new boats and motors, the competition in these events will be very keen. Much time and effort will be put in between now and the day of the races in getting these motors in perfect running order.

On Saturday afternoon the race of R boats and six meter boats will be run. The R boats are mostly owned in Harbor Springs and the six meter boats in Charlevoix. The local R boats will come to Charlevoix to participate in our regatta on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th, and the six meter boats will go there for the Harbor regatta the following week.

In the speed boat classes there will be four races with boats classified as to horse power regardless of make of hull. There will be 100, 150 and 200 h. p. The winners of each event (Continued on page 8).

Ironton Ladies' Aid will give their annual chicken dinner and bazaar of hand-made quilted quilts, aprons, etc., also home baked goods and home-made candy, Wednesday, August 14, 11:30 standard time. Ironton church.—Adv. 31tf.

NATIONAL FIGURES ENTER GOLF MEET

GREAT LAKES OPEN WILL HAVE A BRILLIANT FIELD.

Hagen, Mehlhorn, French, Horton, and McDonald Smith Among Golf Celebrities Coming Here.

Early entries promise that a brilliant field will compete in the first annual Great Lakes Open championship to be played on the Charlevoix and Belvedere Country Club courses August 29 and 30.

In an interview this morning, John R. (Jock) Bowker, who went to Montreal, Canada, last week to line up the professionals for the local event, stated that he found the players in an receptive mood and, after looking over the list of prizes, many of the leading stars of the United States signified their intention of being at Charlevoix for the great event. Listed among them are Walter Hagen, Horton Smith, McDonald Smith, "Wild" Bill Mehlhorn, Al and Abe Espinoza, Tom Kerrigan, John Golden, Henry Cuiel, Al Watrous, Emmett French, Dave Spittall, Wilfred Reid, and, in fact, all the stars with the possible exception of Jim Barnes and Leo Diegel will be here. Leo will come to Charlevoix if he does not have to go to Mexico or the Pacific coast before that date.

Walter Hagen will be on a fishing trip to Georgian Bay on Larry Fisher's new yacht from August 15th to 25th, and on that date Larry's new 12-passenger airplane will meet them there and bring Walter and party to Charlevoix. The Hagen expects to put in several days of practice and training before the tournament here and hopes to win this event, which will be the third important championship in the United States and Canada this year.

Mr. Bowker is going to the Western Open at Milwaukee, which is four days before the Great Lakes Open, and expects to sign up Jack Hutchin-

MICHIGAN RIVIERA TOURNEY AT INN COURTS MONDAY

AT LEAST THREE OF COUNTRY'S FIRST TEN RANKING PLAYERS HEAD LIST OF MANY PROMINENT STARS.

Event Promises to Be Best Held Here in History of Charlevoix Tennis—Well Balanced Entry List Promises Some Fine Matches on Closing Days.

The Michigan Riviera Championship, banner event of Michigan's tennis season, gets under way at The Inn elay courts on Monday of next week with an entry list of many of the country's outstanding tennis stars. The tournament marks the second entertainment feature of Charlevoix's summer program and concludes with the finals on Sunday, August 11.

Heading the list of racket notables to appear on The Inn courts is John Hennessey, member of the United States Davis cup team and fourth ranking player in this country. "Smiling John" has topped the title at Charlevoix for three consecutive years and his presence in the local meet is one of its greatest features. Hennessey comes directly from the Davis cup matches in Paris, France, for the local tournament, which is the only small tourney he enters in the United States.

Chicago's contingent of tennis stars are Emmett Pare, National Clay Court champion, and second ranking in the Windy City; George O'Connell, Ellis Klingeman and Jack Harris, fourth, seventh and eighth ranking, respectively, in their home city. Fred Royer, fourth ranking in the Missouri Valley and holder of the 1929 inter-city doubles championship with George O'Connell, is another entry.

Gerald Ash, who is conducting the Riviera tournament for The Inn this year, announced Wednesday morning there was an excellent possibility that Fritz Murer and Frank Shields, ninth and tenth ranking players in the United States, would be at Charlevoix. They are now playing at Pontiac, and word of their acceptance is expected momentarily. With such players as Emmett Pare, Murer and Shields competing, the semi-final and final matches of the tournament will produce some of the best tennis in Michigan this year.

Walter T. Hayes, Referee.
Walter T. Hayes of Chicago, secretary of the Western Lawn Tennis association, will be the official referee at Charlevoix, and will take part in the tournament.

The five clay courts at The Inn, are being groomed for the event by C. Y. Marshall, and will be in their usual excellent condition. The Charlevoix Golf Club has again extended the use of their course to tournament players and The Inn is offering special rates to players. Charlevoix will witness the greatest array of tennis notables ever assembled here.

GRAND RAPIDS GROUP AT CAMP

ON WEEK'S OUTING AT TYRRELL'S GROVE NEAR ATWOOD.

Prominent Grand Rapids Speakers Addressing Group Meetings Each Evening—Enjoying Outing.

About 40 young men were registered last week at the Young Men's League Summer camp at Tyrrell's Grove in Lake Michigan, near Atwood. Many left Saturday and Monday but new arrivals have taken their places. The camp will continue until August 5th.

Many activities have taken place since the camp opened. The young men have enjoyed the various sports offered in the vicinity and the camp fires proved very interesting. Quite a number of Ellsworth and Atwood people also attended these talks.

Last week Tuesday Peter Leetsma of the Grand Rapids Savings bank, spoke on "The Three Choices or Decisions of a Young Man." He named choices of vocation, domestic partner and religion as highly important. Thursday night Henry Heikman of the Heikman Furniture Co., spoke on "Keeping Balance." He advised balance between work and play, and between material and religious life.

The camp fire of this week Tuesday was addressed by Rev. W. P. Van Wyk of Eastern Avenue church, Grand Rapids.

The camp fire of Thursday will be open to all men of the vicinity. Dr. C. J. Ganan will speak on "Personal Cleanliness."

The young men accepted a challenge from the Ellsworth baseball team but were defeated last Friday evening. This week Thursday there will be a mission festival at Atwood and Ellsworth churches at Peble's Grove. The camp team may arrange another game at that time with the Ellsworth team.

It is quite certain that this camp will again be held next year at the same location, as the Tyrrell's property directly west of Atwood offers a splendid Lake Michigan frontage and is within a few minutes motoring to good inland lake fishing. The camp authorities wish to locate near Christian Reform churches and the site at Tyrrell's Grove is especially suitable on that account.

POMONA GRANGE TO MEET WITH BARNARD

Afternoon and Evening Sessions Planned for August 3rd.

Pomona Grange will meet with Barnard Grange on August 3. Afternoon and evening sessions will be held.

Barnard Grange is preparing for a good time, so every Granger should be there to enjoy it. Mesdames Hilton and Gregory and Al Warda will appear on the program. Enough said!

Every Grange in the county expects to be well represented.

The Congregational Ladies' Aid will hold an out-door Bazaar on Saturday, August 17.—Adv. 31tf.

WELL MAN CALLS KONJOLA FINEST MEDICINE BY FAR

"It was the Remedy I Should Have Had in the First Place," He Says.

MR. WILSON AMON

"For quite some time I suffered from stomach and kidney troubles of the worst form," said Mr. Wilson Amon, 40 Barrett street, Niles, Michigan. It was hard to eat a meal without suffering afterward. Sound, refreshing sleep was out of the question because of irregular bladder actions. I always felt tired and worn out.

"I completed the treatment of six bottles of Konjola and found that every trace of stomach and kidney trouble had disappeared. I can sleep and eat just like any other normal, healthy person. It's a wonderful thing to have my health again and all the credit goes to Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

ATWOOD.

Miss Rosie Mae Henry of Belaire, was home over Sunday.

George Parson and family made a visit with friends and relatives in Alba one day last week.

Rev. Rood of Chicago, representing the Anti Saloon League, gave a fine talk at the M. E. church last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders and their son and wife of Charlevoix, were callers at the Ethan Joliffe home last Sunday evening.

Mrs. DeBaib of Grand Rapids, better known as Mrs. Tice Coeling, formerly of this vicinity, was a visitor here last week. She returned home on Monday last.

Glehn Lapeer and two daughters of Columbus, Wis., are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Joliffe this week. Mr. Lapeer represents the Leonard Seed company of Chicago.

We hear that another car accident occurred last Saturday when two of Mr. Marshall's boys were driving too fast, with the result that they went into the ditch and broke one of the boy's legs in two places.

Phenomena of the season. Baby Cyclone hits town by special request. The Detroit Players tent show on August 5.—Adv. 311f.

CENTRAL LAKE.

All aboard for Twin Bridge picnic Wednesday next.

The funeral of Mrs. John DeYoung, aged 91, was held Monday.

Central Lake band gave a concert at Mancelona home coming Thursday evening.

The Congregational people took in about $35 at their resorter supper Saturday evening.

There was an attendance of 37 at Bay View Sunday school Sunday.

Rev. Faunce of Petoskey gave a short talk.

Everybody was glad to hear the canning factory whistle blow last week again, when they began canning cherries.

Another bad auto accident occurred last Friday. This time north of town. Arthur and Garrel Nicolier of Eastport, 18 and 9 years of age, were trying to make the corner at Lake View school house, two miles north of here, when their car was wrecked by running into a tree. The younger boy had his left leg broken above and below the knee.

Mrs. Ethel Barnett will give psychic readings and character analysis at 214 W. Lincoln avenue, phone 708.—Adv. 191f.

WONDERFUL FIREWORKS AT THE STATE FAIR

Along With Rodeo and Vaudeville Shows Near Grandstand.

An entirely new type of fireworks display will be shown each evening except Sunday of the 18th annual exposition of the Michigan State Fair, September 1 to 7, according to state officials. The fireworks will be in connection with the dully rodeo and vaudeville shows in front of the grand stand, which with other features will make up, fair officials assert, the finest grandstand show in the fair's history.

Many of the finest outdoor vaudeville acts now touring the country have already been engaged for the grandstand show. One troupe, the DeStays, have just reached America and are regarded as the finest ever produced in Europe. They are high-wire artists, specializing in hair-raising acrobatics and difficult balancing, and considered the most daring aerial sextet ever brought to the Michigan Fair.

The Hungarian troupe are wonderfully costumed men and women acrobats and tumblers, presenting an entirely new repertoire of acts and tricks, exceptional not only because of their novelty but because of the remarkable precision required in their performance.

John R. Agee, world-famous horse trainer, with a group of educated horses that have been exhibited in the great hippodromes of the country, is another. As a feature of this act three horses jump through barrels lying on a moving wagon.

Fink's Comedy Mules are said to have played at more shows and exhibitions than any act in the whole show business. This laugh-producing act is headed by "Missouri Jim Dumps," the unridentable mule, and includes two pedigreed wall-scaling German police dogs whose jumping has never been equaled by any other dogs.

A mammoth Wild West stampede also has been arranged for.—Details of this will be announced later.

A "city under canvas" moves into town on August 5. See the unusual sleeping tents, pumping station, electrical equipment, hotel trucks, 10,000 sq. feet "big top" near The Inn, August 5, 6 and 7. The Detroit Players.—Adv. 311f.

ELECTRIC COMPANY MAKES EXTENSION

Michigan Public Service Company Extends Electric Power Line.

Walloon Lake property is desirable and is being fast taken up by those who want secluded sites and still be able to have electric service and other comforts.

Our local electric company, which serves us, along with other cities in Michigan is now extending its main transmission line around Walloon Lake to serve the Walloon Lake Country Club and five cottages north of the Club. This will aid materially in developing sale of resort property in this section, and will also enable these people to use the same kind of appliances as are used in their city homes, electric ranges, refrigerators, in fact, anything they may want to use. Gone are the days when our summer people had to get along without those comforts. —Boyne Citizen.

BARNARD.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dimick are entertaining friends from Chicago this week.

Our Barnard junior dairymen are making preparations to attend the 4-H Club Camp at Gaylord next week.

The young people had an enjoyable time at the church on Friday night when their club met for a social time and pot-luck lunch.

The Misses Clara Dougherty and Anna Cornell, who have been attending summer school at Kalamazoo, will return the latter part of this week.

County Agent Mellencamp, accompanied the Barnard Calf Club on a judging tour last Friday. They visited the farms of Laurence Boss and Fred Paltling and judged their dairy herds.

We were very sorry to learn of the terrible accident which befell Geo. Ball of Levering, recently. He fell from a hay mow and broke his back and is in Ann Arbor now undergoing treatment. We hope to hear of an improvement in his condition.

Equip your car with three of Good-year make. Low in price and long in wearing quality. Benj. Brown has them.—Adv. 104f.

ANTRIM CITY.

Joe Stott and some Atwood friends had a picnic last Sunday.

Fred Brooks, who has been working at Charlevoix, is home now.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Tyrell left Monday for their home in Detroit.

Joe Stott and Charley Lord attended a show given at Charlevoix Saturday.

Several girls from a camp near Alden stopped over night at Tyrell's grove.

BOOST SHEPHERD FOR HIGH COURT

Friends of Northern Jurist Place Name Before Gov. Green.

Northern Michigan Republicans in increasing numbers are urging Governor Green to appoint Circuit Judge Frank Shepherd, of Cheboygan, a member of the state supreme court, succeeding the late Judge Grant Fellows, whose death occurred last week at Lansing.

Judge Shepherd, who has headed the 33rd circuit for 30 consecutive years, and who is backed by years of experience and a keen judicial mind, is considered excellent timber for the high honor left open by the eminent Judge Fellows.

Governor Green has given no indication of whom he will name, although several names have been suggested to him, including the strong endorsement behind Northern Michigan's candidate, Judge Frank Shepherd.

Judge Shepherd completes his 30th year on the bench with the calendar year of 1929, and was not a candidate for re-election. He is succeeded January 1, 1930, by Major Victor D. Sprague, of Cheboygan, who was elected for a 6-year term last April.

AUTO NEWS.

For the first time in the history of the automobile industry, six cylinder cars promise to lead the field in production this year, according to a survey by the Chevrolet Motor company completed today. Up until this year four cylinder cars ranked first in annual production volume.

Comparative production figures for the first six months of this year are offered in support of the forecast. During this period there were produced approximately 1,900,000 sixes as compared with approximately 1,265,000 fours, an indication of what the total for the year is apt to be.

How the change comes about is illustrated in the survey. Chevrolet's manufacturing goal for the year is 1,350,000 cars. Chevrolet's change-over from a four to a six means a deduction of this enormous total from the four cylinder field and adds it to the six cylinder field.

How the automobile picture has changed almost overnight will be noted in an inspection of the 1928 showing. Last year when Chevrolet was producing a four cylinder car, four cylinder manufacturers built approximately 2,098,000 cars, with one large manufacturer of four cylinder cars on limited production due to model change, while six cylinder manufacturers were making 1,617,000 cars.

Great volume production, coupled with expert direction in the engineering, manufacturing and selling branches of the business are given as reasons that are making it possible for the automobile industry to fend off others in giving the public the utmost for its money.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

White House Laundry Requires Much Care.

The Presidential laundry seems to be one phase of the White House regime that super-modern methods have not changed so far. Not only is it carefully done by hand, but the flattery is still used in preference to electrical equipment, and the basement laundry has been little changed during more than five administrations.

Although the government pays for upkeep on the White House table and bed linen, the wearing apparel of the President and his family must be laundered at the President's personal expense. When one considers the amount of entertaining carried on at the White House, it is easy to appreciate the number of wash days necessary to keep dressed up for company. The table in the state dining room, for instance, seats from 84 to 100 persons, and the very cleanest and best of linen, of course, is always in use. The intricate embroidery and exquisite texture of this linen requires very special handling.

The number of servants at the White House add something to the laundry bill in the way of towels and bed linen. President Coolidge had paper towels in the servants' lavatories, and this custom has been partially continued under the Hoover regime.

The Bloom Is Off the Beet.
(From St. Louis Post-Dispatch.)
That blushing beauty, the sugar beet, has long been recognized as the tenderly guarded ward of Senator Reed Smoot. What California's plaintive prune has been to Senator Hiram Johnson, or the fleece of Mary's little lamb to Senator Warren of Wyoming, or milady's glove to the dashing Mr. Littauer of New York, or the whole scripture of protection to Mr. Grundy of Pennsylvania—well, the sugar beet has been the apple of Reed Smoot's eye. That Mr. Smoot has fondly believed the sugar beet ought to be our national flower may be recorded not in terms of censure but as one of those radiant dreams which inspire devotion, loyalty and love's tireless labor.

Manuscript of "Home Sweet Home" Comes Home to Congressional Library.

It is not our custom to think of the ballad "Home Sweet Home" as a popular hit, even though a raggy version has been known to wind up many a modern dance. Yet the presentation of the manuscript copy of the song in the handwriting of the author to the Congressional Library by Leander McCormick-Goodhart, commercial secretary of the British embassy, has brought the entire history of this old ballad to light. From it we learn that "Home Sweet Home" became the song-hit of the day over a century ago, when it was given as part of the opera "Clari" by John Howard Payne. The Convent Garden Theatre in London was the scene of the presentation, and all of London hummed the melody afterwards, even though the other songs that composed the opera were soon forgotten.

The music was composed by Henry Bishop, director of music at the Convent Garden Theatre, and Payne tells that he first heard it in unadapted form from a Sicilian peasant girl and that he called it to Bishop's attention when the opera was being discussed. The manuscript given to the Library is dated September 18, 1829. It will be exhibited in a prominent place in the library. Herbert Putnam, librarian, has called attention to the fact that the author himself was buried in Oak Hill cemetery, Washington, at the end of long, homeless wanderings, and that his grave is well known to tourists.

Politics This Week.
We wish Republican members of the Senate Finance committee well, but personally we do not envy one of them right now. The task of holding hearings is over, of course—but that was a simple prelude to the masterpiece now engaging them. A tariff bill must be rigged for the Senate when it reconvenes next month.

When even the "hardest working man on the Hill," Chairman Smoot, weakens to the point of admitting that the bill probably won't be ready by August 19, we can look for the worst. Maybe Senator Smoot recalls that the Fordney-McCumber bill emerged from the Senate Finance committee with more than 4,000 changes. More probably he is oppressed by the necessity of doing something or other to Mr. Hawley's document that will appease an aroused country and knows that he can do it in any one of a thousand ways that will merely serve to appease one small portion and infuriate the remainder.

Altogether, it's a thankless task. The picture of a Republican committeeman sweltering through July and August while special privilege shrieks in his ear, "Higher!" and the voice of the consumer with growing vociferousness cries, "Justice!" is not one to make the Democrats weep over their exclusion from the sacred workroom.

President Loans Possum to High School for Mascot.

It isn't every high school baseball team that has for a mascot a possum loaned by President Hoover himself. The high school athletic association of Hyattsville, Maryland, has just returned "Billy Opossum" to Mr. Hoover with profuse thanks for his use to complete a successful baseball season.

"Billy" strayed into White House grounds one night about two months ago and was adopted by the President and his wife. At the same time, the Hyattsville team lost their possum mascot that had carried them to so many victories in the past that they had become to feel dependent upon it for success. The young athletes, apprehensive of losing the baseball season, seized upon this coincidence in hope and forthwith presented themselves at the White House to identify the stray visitor. It was not their possum, however, and things looked dark for the youngsters, until one of them, made hold by his enthusiasm for Hyattsville glory, suggested that "Billy" might do for the remainder of the season, anyway. So the team left with their substitute mascot who proved his worth by inspiring them to victory after victory over other athletic teams of the country.

President Hoover answered the letter of thanks from the athletic association, promising that "Billy" would be given the best of care while he remained at the White House.

U. S. May Lose Cuban Market for Potatoes.

A gesture that will have deep significance for American firms exporting to Cuba is seen in the recent increase in Cuba's import duty on potatoes from 90.7 cents to $2.268 per 100 pounds if imported from November 1 to June 30 and from 45.4 cents to 68 cents per 100 pounds if imported from July 1 to October 31.

This increase is obviously intended to make the Republic more self-sustaining. Cuba is practically a one-crop country, and that crop, sugar, is threatened with destruction through high tariff barriers on the part of the United States. As a means of self-preservation, the Cubans seem to be inaugurating a program of agricultural diversification with a view to greater self-reliance. It is a natural proceeding, but the consequences in this country will likely prove serious.

United States exports of potatoes to Cuba amounted to 111,113,760 pounds in 1922. That year the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Act with its increase in sugar tariff was passed, and potato exports have fallen off since until they reached a level of 74,565,540 pounds in 1928. With the stimulation of Cuban potato production that will inevitably follow the new duty on potatoes, a fact that makes the Cuban market especially valuable to us. Only last month a financial journal reported that Norfolk, Virginia, would handle approximately 200,000 barrels of potatoes for export to Cuba during the following 60 days, and that the Cuban demand was eating far part of the troublesome crop surplus.

Nurses From All Over World Visit Washington.

The largest professional women's organization in the world is the International Council of Nurses, composed of national associations from 24 countries. Washington, well accustomed to distinguished guests, nevertheless cordially welcomed nurses from France, England, Holland, Finland, Roumania, South Africa, New Zealand, Greece, London and Paris this week. They stopped for a brief visit in America on their way home from the council meeting in Montreal held this month, and units of the American Nurses' Association acted as hostesses to their sisters from abroad.

JUILLERET BUYS THORMAN CLUB

Place Between Petoskey and Charlevoix Now Under His Management.

L. E. Juilleret, who some time ago bought the old Blackstone ice cream parlor and candy store at Petoskey and changed it to a paying, progressive business, has again branched out and Monday closed a deal for the Thorman Country Club, located on the Charlevoix-Petoskey road, about four miles east of Charlevoix. The club is already opened and Mr. Juilleret has taken over the active management, giving his personal attention to getting it started to a profitable season.

This club has been devoted to dinners, dances, afternoon and evening parties of various kinds. The entire place will be considerably improved and be conducted under the same efficient, wide awake business methods as used by the new owner in his business in Petoskey and at Harbors Springs.

CHICAGO GIRL RUSHED TO HOSPITAL SUNDAY

Brought by Boat From Beaver Island With Ruptured Appendix.

McDonough Brothers' gas boat Rambler made a special trip to Charlevoix from St. James, Beaver Island, late Sunday afternoon with Joan Colburn, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Colburn, Chicago, after she was suddenly stricken with ruptured appendix.

Local physicians performed an immediate operation at the Charlevoix hospital in the evening, and late reports are that the girl's condition has improved and is very satisfactory.

The Colburn family are resorting at St. James.

Where Are Your Earnings?

Think of all the money you have earned since you started to work. How much of it have you today? Of course, no man can save all his income; but suppose you had put 10 per cent of yours regularly in a Savings Account. What would it amount to now at 4 per cent compound interest?

It is still not too late to start, if you haven't already. The next ten years are ahead. If you should save a certain portion of your earnings regularly during that period, wouldn't you be comfortably fixed at the end of it?

Then why not come in and open your Savings Account now?

80TH ANNIVERSARY MICHIGAN

STATE FAIR

September 1 to 7

Detroit

SEVEN DAYS—SEVEN NIGHTS

TENT SHOW HERE

AUGUST 5, 6, 7

Will Present "The Baby Cyclone," "The Monster," and "The Bad Man."

Next Monday the 46 trucks and trailers, which comprise the orange and black caravan of The Detroit Players on their second annual tour of Michigan under the personal supervision of Adams T. Rice, will arrive in Charlevoix to fill a three-day engagement, August 5, 6 and 7. This unique organization, offspring of The Detroit Civic Theatre, pleased large audiences here last summer, and returns with greatly increased facilities for presenting the best things of the legitimate theatre in those towns of Michigan which cannot enjoy the theatre facilities of the larger cities.

Next Monday night at 8:30 they present as their opening attraction a tremendous comedy success, "The Baby Cyclone," which is from the pen of the justly famous playwright, George M. Cohan.

On Tuesday evening The Detroit Players promise many thrills, and more laughter with "The Monster." This newest and best of mystery plays, in which screams and laughs alternate with rapidity, was written by Crane Wilbur.

On Wednesday evening The Detroit Players present their concluding attraction, "The Bad Man," a gay international romance. The scene of this fast-moving melodrama is laid on a ranch in Arizona, close to the Mexican border.

All of the three plays are under the direction of Walter Young, who has been associated with Miss Bonstelle in her widely known theatre activities for the past 15 years. Mr. Young, whose exceptional talents have made him one of the most popular members of Miss Bonstelle's company, and who will be remembered for his excellent work here last summer, will be seen in prominent roles in each of the three plays. Miss Helen Morrow, a talented and popular young actress who has been enjoyed at The Detroit Civic Theatre for the past several seasons, will be seen again in Charlevoix this summer in leading female roles. Douglas Rowland, who will be enjoyed by Charlevoix audiences for the first time in leading roles, comes to The Detroit Players after a successful season with Miss Blanche Yurka on Broadway. Dorothy Richey, who is the state manager of the troupe, will also be seen in interesting roles in two of the plays. Joseph Lighthill, who pleased audiences here last year, is also one of the prominent members of the company again this season. A new comer to The Detroit Players, William Sharon, brings a great deal of native ability and charm which has been admirably shaped by a varied and interesting theatre career.

HELEN MORROW
"The Baby Cyclone"

AT THE MOVIES

Clothes Proclaim Woman Fashion Experts Assert.

"By their clothes you shall know them." This paraphrase may not apply to all the stars of Hollywood but, according to Travis Banton, head fashion designer for Paramount, the personality of many players depends largely on the costumes they wear.

An instance of this is seen in Paramount's latest all-talking picture "The Man I Love," which will show at the Palace Theatre soon and in which both Mary Brian, demure and sweet, and Baealanova, exotic beauty, have featured roles. Miss Brian's almost saintly beauty requires simple clothes with light, duffy trimmings, says Banton. Baealanova, on the other hand, wears svelte, slinky gowns that accentuate her figure.

Lanky Trumpets Blare in Film. Two trumpets eight feet long, capable of a wonderful musical resonance, were specially made for one of the sequences in Richard Dix's newest all-talking picture for Paramount, "The Wheel of Life," which comes to the Palace Theatre for two days beginning on Wednesday of next week.

Baneroft Probes Public Reaction To Screen Voice.

A dramatic phase of Hollywood's critical attention to talking pictures was uncovered shortly after the completion of George Baneroft's new all-talking picture, "Thunderbolt," at the Palace Theatre for next week Saturday and Sunday, when that star announced the dissolution of a national body of investigators, formed by himself, to report on opinions reflecting on his first appearance in dialog films, "The Wolf of Wall Street."

Noted Composer Technic Expert On Menjou Film.

Victor Schertzinger acted as technical expert as well as director for Adolphe Menjou's first all-talking picture, "Fashions in Love," which will show at the Palace Theatre for two days, starting next Friday. Menjou, as the star, is presented as a world-famous pianist. Although Menjou can play the piano, he has never played on the concert stage and, in this role, Schertzinger brought his unique experience to the actor's aid.

STATE POLICE WILL MAKE ARRESTS NOW

HAVE QUIT ADVISING AUTO DRIVERS AS TO LAWS.

Stop Signs Mean to Stop Where They Appear—Road Laws All Should Know.

The Michigan state troopers who have infested this region for the past several weeks have informed the public through the press, that hereafter they are not to advise motorists of the laws but the motorists are to make it a point to inform themselves on the requirements of the State motor laws.

The stop signs, uniform in 47 of the 48 states of the union, requires that all motor vehicles come to a dead stop before proceeding, and not merely slowing down.

All of the laws are going to be strictly enforced against both resident and the resorter and also the tourist because it is the determination of the State to make driving safe for everyone.

Trucks from one-half ton up must have a windshield wiper and a rear mirror.

All motor vehicles must have a rear vision mirror.

"To quote the statutes: 'Every commercial vehicle of one-half ton capacity or more shall be equipped with a mirror so adjusted that the operator shall have a clear view of the highway behind such vehicle.'"

"Every windshield on a motor vehicle must be equipped with a device for cleaning rain, snow or other moisture and so constructed as to be operated by the driver of the vehicle."

Cutouts, snort pipes and other noise making apparatus are forbidden to be on any vehicle or used on any vehicle."

Projecting loads of over three feet from a vehicle must have a red flag attached in daytime; a red light at night.

In making a left hand turn keep to the center of the road as much as possible and also use arm signal to inform the driver behind you; in turning to the right keep as near to the curb as is safe and also use the arm signals.

All persons operating a motor vehicle for hire, or as the employee of the owner thereof, are required to have a chauffeur's license. Persons under 18 are exempt from chauffeur's license, we are informed. We are also informed that a youngster under 18 is not permitted to operate for hire.

Any person operating a motor vehicle is required to obtain an operator's license.

All operators must carry both operator's license card and registration card for plates when operating. (These are different. The operator's permit you get from Lansing; the registration card you get at the time you purchase your license plates).

So-called "one-eyed" cars will receive the officer's special attention (bless the Lord!) and the State is of the opinion that if you can carry a spare tire you can carry a spare headlight bulb.

All persons participating in any accident are required to stop and render reasonable aid and assistance. They must furnish both operator's license number and registration number when asked for same.

It is unlawful to pass cars going up a hill or on a curve. When a car is passing another car the car ahead must not increase speed to make the passing more difficult and dangerous. Motorists intending passing a car overtaken should signal the car to be overtaken by the sounding of a horn. Pedestrians should walk on the left hand side of the road facing traffic.

Lime Legume Truck.

All farmers are not only invited but urged to attend one of four demonstrations that will be conducted in Charlevoix county when the famous Lime-Legume Truck makes its appearance on Monday and Tuesday, August 5th and 6th.

This truck is a completely equipped soil fertility laboratory on wheels, illustrating by charts, placards, and actual samples the more important factors that influence soil fertility and plant food.

Soil fertility embraces a large number of factors. Lime alone is not sufficient. In most cases it takes a combination of lime, organic matter and fertilizer to put the soil in the best condition for crop production. Green manuring is very profitable if properly handled. The crops to be used, the manner of handling and their value will be discussed. What is barnyard manure worth? How much value is lost by leaching? How should manure be reinforced? The many benefits derived from organic matter will be graphically shown.

The following meetings will be held, starting on fast time:

Monday forenoon at 10:00; Frank A. W. Behling, German settlement, five miles southwest of Boyne City.

Monday afternoon at 2:00; George Nelson, Waterman farm, two and one-half miles southwest of East Jordan.

Tuesday forenoon at 10:00; Wm. Withers, Marion Center, four miles south of Charlevoix.

Tuesday afternoon at 2:00; Wm. Burns, Barnard, six miles south of Charlevoix.

Don't forget the dates. Plan on securing this useful information.

Equip your car with tires of Good-year make. Low in price and long in wearing quality. Best. Brown has them.—Adv. 10tf.

* CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY *

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.

Subject: "Love."

Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Truth" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 28.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus to these Jews which believed on him, if ye continue in my word, then ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." (John 8:31-32).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth brings the elements of liberty. On its banner is the soul-inspired motto, 'Slavery is Abolished.' The power of God brings deliverance to the captive. No power can withstand divine Love." (p. 224).

EDITED BY R. B. THOMAS

CAMP CHARLEVOIX ENTERTAINS DADS

ANNUAL AFFAIR WAS FEATURE LAST SATURDAY.

Fathers Went Through Daily Camp Routine With Boys—Prove Better Ball Players.

Dad's day was the big event of the past week at Camp Charlevoix. This annual affair took place on Saturday. It is for the purpose of demonstrating to the dads just what an interesting type of life their boys lead during the two summer months they are in camp. Throughout the entire day up until the time for the banquet the fathers were subjected to the same routine as their sons.

Morning dip started the day. Several fathers were in camp for this.

More arrived by breakfast time. After breakfast came morning duties and cottage clean-up. The "governors" entered into these activities with a hearty spirit and were contending with their offspring in a worthy manner as to who was the better worker.

There are five branches of activity in the camp; athletics, art (dramatics and music), woodcraft, and handicraft. The boys, divided into four groups, spend all their mornings for a week at a time at one of the above departments. The fathers were assigned to the same divisions as their sons. This was very enjoyable to all and the parents showed some remarkable ability.

Morning swim was the next thing on the program. Both generations demonstrated aquatic skill and there was many an impromptu contest both in swimming and diving. This was followed by a light lunch on the lawn adjoining the club house.

In the afternoon there were three father and son ball games; a junior, a senior, and an intermediate. The contests proved themselves the better ball players in all instances.

Another swim and then all the Dads took the road to Camp Charlevoix's new home, The Limberlost. Mr. Reimann, the director, was in charge of the party and pointed out to the group the various improvements under way and the natural advantages of the new location. The party then returned to camp.

At seven o'clock came a real "Father and Son" banquet. The dining hall had been decorated in the rustic manner by a committee of which John Browne of Akron was the chairman. The waiting was done by a group of the boys. The food was delicious and well served.

Creature comforts were by far the least important things at the dinner. LeRoy Dahlberg as toastmaster kept things bowling along at a great rate. L. C. Reimann, director and founder of the camp, gave an address of welcome to the fathers. Dr. Ray C. Stone of Battle Creek, elected during the day as president of the fathers, responded to Mr. Reimann's welcome and emphasized the importance of camp training. There were a number of short talks by members of the staff and by some of the boys. Fred Morris led several songs which were supplemented by group singing.

The camp was fortunate in its principal speaker. Charles S. Kinnison, staff poet of the Detroit Times and father of Gahm Kinnison, gave a very interesting talk on "Playing the Game Together." He stressed the importance of practicing what you preach and endeavoring to remain a hero to your boy. As helps in getting across his points Mr. Kinnison read a few of his poems.

The banquet broke up about 8:30. The fathers were unanimous in calling the day a success. It was. The staff was delighted at the Dads' co-operation and were all sure that Dad's Day 1929 will go down in the annals of Camp Charlevoix as a red-letter day.

The fathers in camp for the occasion were: Dhillie D. Langlois, Rowland H. Starr, C. S. Stillwell, Max Aamm, George E. Slack, H. G. Patton, H. L. McGregor, and P. E. Hinckley of Detroit; Charles S. Kinnison, S. T. Neal, Francis C. Bagby, A. J. Neerken, Guy E. Parker, Mr. Brandt, Walter M. Pratt, and William Vnn Every of Birmingham; Robert G. Warfield, Roy L. Wolfe and A. C. McLaughlin of Chicago; Joseph Thompson, H. A. Bibee, A. R. McAndrews and John B. Shepherd of Ypsilanti; J. Hearty, C. E. Jelm and R. S. Wilson of Akron; Harley S. Warner of Farmington; Maurice Nicholls, Forest Hills, N. Y.; Stowe Neal of Ann Arbor; A. Todd and Felix Pagenstecher of Kalamazoo; John R. Woodfield and Robert Allen of Jackson; E. Bruce of Dowagiac; Fred I. Griswold, A. J. Reedy and Dr. Ray C. Stone of Battle Creek; Mr. Friedlander of Milwaukee; and Anton L. Olson of Flint.

Campers Attend Church.

Sunday morning the camp were the guests of the First Congregational church of this city. The boys took part in the conducting of the service. Fred Morris of the University of Illinois preached the sermon "Rough-necks' Religion." It is hoped that this service will be an annual one.

Honor Campers Go to Beaver Island.

Yesterday morning the cottages that won inspection for the first four weeks of camp took ship for St. James. The cottages that won inspection for the month of July were those presided over by John Heldman, Clarence Beckwith and Robert Fulson.

Twenty Go On Canadian Trek.

Twenty boys who enroll before January first each year are given the privilege of a week's fishing trip in the Canadian woods. This group set out Monday morning in the camp truck with Sault Ste. Marie as their objective. The personnel of this group is Louis C. Reimann, Earl Oldham, and Walter North.

STATE PATROL BOAT LAUNCHED THIS WEEK

Conservation Department Craft Most Efficient of Its Kind.

Patrol boat No. 1, Michigan Department of Conservation, one of the most efficient crafts of its kind, will be launched at Bay City this week where it will embark on its duty of guarding the commercial fish industry in Michigan waters.

According to Captain Charles Allers of St. James, commander of the vessel, the gross tonnage is 80 with a length of 74 feet, and a beam of 17 feet. An oil engine of the latest type burning inexpensive fuel will swing a five-foot propeller with sufficient speed to drive the boat 18 miles an hour, fast enough to over-haul any would-be violators. Probably the greatest single factor tending to make this boat suitable for the work is the net lifting device which will make it possible to lift for examination any nets set in lake waters. The old manner of lifting nets by hand from small boats was extremely hazardous at all times, and nearly impossible during heavy weather.

The hull of white oak and fir solidly banded with steel for protection against ice will be able to withstand the roughest weather. Another advantage possessed by the boat is the possibility of handling it with a small crew of the captain, engineer, and seamen. In case of necessity the arrangement of controls in the pilot house permits of its being managed by one man.

Scientists say that flies carry germs of typhoid fever, infantile paralysis, summer disorders and over thirty other diseases. Flies should be killed. FLY-TOX is harmless to people but sure death to mosquitoes, roaches, moths and bedbugs as well as flies. FLY-TOX was developed at the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research Fellowship. Insist on FLY-TOX with its perfume-like fragrance.—Adv. 31tl.

* CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH *
* B. G. Mattson, Pastor. *

The church announces the usual August series of sermons by eminent visiting preachers at the morning services at 10:30 o'clock.

For next Sunday, August 4, the preacher will be the Rev. Doctor David Hugh Jones of Evanston, Ill. Dr. Jones is widely known and greatly beloved and will be heard again as in former years with deep interest and delight by a large congregation.

The young peoples' meeting will be at 6:30.

The mid-week service has been changed to Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., during the month of August.

The Ironton church and Sunday school begins promptly at 9:00 a. m.

The special service last Sunday at the Congregational church brought the attendance of the entire personnel of Camp Charlevoix, accompanied by many parents of the camp boys. An audience which taxed the entire capacity of floor and gallery, enjoyed the inspiring occasion and the interesting features of the service furnished by the boys and their counselors.

A Buying Guide

Before you order dinner at a restaurant, you consult the bill-of-fare. Before you take a long trip by motor-car, you pore over road maps. Before you start out on a shopping trip, you should consult the advertisements in this paper. For the same reasons!

The advertising columns are a buying guide to you in the purchase of anything you need—including amusements! A guide that saves your time and conserves your energy; that saves useless steps and guards against false ones; that puts the s-t-r-e-t-c-h in family budgets.

The advertisements in this paper are so interesting, it is difficult to see how anyone could overlook them . . . fail to profit by them. Just check with yourself and be sure that you are reading the advertisements regularly—the big ones and the little ones. It is time well spent . . . always.

Avoid time-wasting, money-wasting detours on the road to merchandise value.

COUNTY S. S. PICNIC EVENT NEXT THURSDAY

Fine Program of Sports and Entertainment Arranged.

The county Sunday school picnic scheduled for Thursday, August 8th, at Whiting Park beginning at 10:00 a. m. central standard time, promises to be an outstanding event.

The committee on games and sports, with W. H. Helrigel of Boyne City as chairman, will be on the ground and ready to begin activities at the hour named. Dinner will be at noon on the co-operative plan and Earl Clark of East Jordan is chairman of the committee on table arrangements.

Everyone should bring sandwiches, a dish of food to pass, lemons and sugar for lemonade, also plate, cup, spoon, etc. There will be ice cream on the grounds for sale to those desiring it.

In the morning such games as pom-pom-pull-away, prison goal and last couple out will be played. Horse shoes will be ready for the men. In the afternoon a track meet is planned for the boys and girls between the different districts of the county. The ages for boys' groups and girls' groups will be 8 to 11, 12 to 15 and 16 up. There will be play ground ball for the girls, flag capture for the boys and a treasure hunt for everybody. Something doing every minute. Members of all Sunday schools within reach with their relatives and friends are invited to participate.

FISH REGULATIONS
ANGLERS SHOULD KNOW ALL ABOUT

It will be well for those who take advantage of the fishing facilities of Michigan waters to remember that the laws governing the taking of fish in the inland waters differ somewhat from those regulating the sport on the Great Lakes. In all of the inland lakes and rivers it is permissible to catch 30 perch in one day but they must be at least seven inches long. In the Great Lakes an unlimited number can be taken but they all must be seven inches long. Wall-eyed pike are restricted to 10 in one day, each at least 10 inches long, in inland waters. The Great Lakes regulations allow an unlimited number of the same length.

Orders filled for sweet and sour cherries at Eveline Orchards.—Adv. 3011.

SWIMMING AND NOVELTY RACES

will receive a beautiful silver cup. A fourth speed boat race Free-for-All boats of any power will be an event in which the 225 h. p. boats can enter. There are several of these in Charlevoix, Crooked Lake, Indian River, and Harbor Springs. Two beautiful silver cups will be given as first and second prizes, the first prize cup being donated by Commodore C. R. Garrison.

The real thrills of the carnival will be furnished by the outboard boats. In these events there will be a class B race and a class C race, the winners of which will receive first and second cups. Any driver may enter in these races. The last race and the feature race of the entire carnival will be the Free-for-All outboard race which may be entered by any driver with any combination of outboard motor and hull. With a decided improvement in both motors and hulls during the past year it is anticipated that a speed record will be set in this race. The first prize of $200 will attract many semi-professional drivers. Hub Meyers of Petoskey is tuning his Cyclone Hull and a fine motor for this event in which he expects to set a world's record. Any record set in these races will be officially recognized since the races are sanctioned by the Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association.

IN POWER POND

Boys Falls Power Plant Draws Water Down—Many Die.

Immediate action was promised by Director of Conservation George R. Hogarth to prevent a recurrence of what happened last week at Boys Falls, when the water above the power dam was drawn down so low that thousands of fish were found dead or dying in little pools toward the south end of the pond. The incident was reported by John L. A. Galster, of Petoskey and John Devere, Oden summer resident, who went with a guide to fish above the pond.

The low water had left, they estimate, from 5,000 to 6,000 fish either dead or unable to get into deeper water, and instead of enjoying their fishing trip the men went at once to the task of dipping up the struggling trout and carrying them nearer to the dam, where the water was deeper. In this way a portion of the fish were saved, but the loss of the remainder led Mr. Galster to report the matter over long distance telephone to the conservation department at Lansing.

Pointing out that for years the pond had been a favorite fishing grounds for residents and summer visitors throughout the region and that 75,000 fingerlings were planted there this year, assurance was given by Mr. Hogarth that orders would be issued at once requiring owners and operators of the dam to leave water in all parts of the pond deep enough to protect the fish.—Petoskey Evening News.

METHODIST CHURCH.
John E. Lockyer, Minister.

We are to have Dr. Royal G. Hall, professor of history at Albion College, as our preacher next Sunday morning at 10:30. Dr. Hall is giving the daily Bible lectures at Bay View this summer. He is a well trained scholar, an extensive traveller and a capable speaker.

The church school meets at 9:30 and parents are urged to keep it on the Sunday program.

A praise hour is led by the pastor at 7:30 and employed guests of the city may wish to worship with us at this hour.

An Epworth League meeting is held at 8:30 to accommodate all the young people who may be employed until that hour.

Wednesday at 7:30 is the mid-week service hour in charge of the pastor.

CHICAGO GIRL WAS DROWNING VICTIM

Met Death in Lake Michigan Sunday Near Fisherman's Island.

Lillian Albrecht, 15 1-2 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Albrecht of 8746 South Paulina St., Chicago, was drowned at about 3:30 Sunday afternoon in Lake Michigan near Fisherman's Island, six miles south of Charlevoix.

Lillian, who, with her parents, was visiting at the Joe Vratovina home south of this city on US-31, had gone with a party of young people to swim. Shortly after entering the water, her friends were attracted by her cries for help, but she sank before help could reach her. The girl was an excellent swimmer and is thought to have either been taken with cramps or was caught in the undertow.

Charlevoix coast guards worked three hours Sunday and all day Monday to recover the body, but without avail. Their search Tuesday, however, was successful, after the lake had calmed following two days of high seas. The remains were taken to Chicago for burial.

Married in Chicago.

Announcements have been received locally of the marriage June 23rd, at the Central Lutheran church, Chicago, of Roy Mascho of Phelps and Miss Signe Fant. The young couple are both graduates of Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, and Mr. Mascho was a student in Charlevoix schools.

The best field of outboard motor boats ever to appear in a Charlevoix water event furnished the major entertainment for thousands of spectators who witnessed speed boat races of Charlevoix's 4th annual M. V. P. B. A. sanctioned regatta, staged jointly by the Charlevoix Boat Club and Pine Lake Yacht Club on Lake Charlevoix Sunday afternoon. The outboards were fast and competition keen in every event.

A three-day nor'wester, acclaimed one of the most severe summer blows in years, made it impossible for runabouts from Harbor Springs and other northern resorts to make the trip down Lake Michigan to Charlevoix, and entries in this division were light and competition not so exciting.

Julius Gilbert, Detroit summer resortor, made practically a clean sweep of the displacement type races. He drove his Hacker-Danphin boat Jay-Gee II, to win the 150 and 200 h. p. events, and also the free-for-all. In the 150 h. p. class, Paul Moses' A. & P. gave him little trouble. The 200 h. p. race was fairly close in the first heat, but Charles Fox, Jr., Belvedere summer resortor of St. Louis, withdrew the Marion in the 2nd heat because of engine trouble. The free-for-all marked Gilbert's third win. Fox's Marion won second place and the A. & P., driven by Paul Moses, Chicago, was third.

The Dart, entered by Ray Hamilton, and the Maywin, John Knight's Chris-Craft, each won a heat in the 100 h. p. class. The first heat was called when Knight was changing a blown motorheadasket following a run with the 150 h. p. boats. John came back and won the second heat, and the race was called off there by officials handling the regatta. What further will be done to settle the outcome of this race is not known.

A field of nine started in the class C outboard race and five finished. "Bill" Frey, veteran Madison, Wis., driver had a runaway in this race with the Frolic II, owned by J. Bursonette, Chicago. He outstripped the field by half a lap. Little America, owned by Hub Meyers, Petoskey, and driven by Robert Graham, son of the Detroit motor car manufacturer, was second, and Hot Seat V, owned by D. B. Downing, Detroit, and driven by L. Collins, same city, was third. Frey's average was 33.395 miles per hour, which is not so slow for B class boats.

Nine boats got away to a beautiful start in the C class race for outboards. Hub Meyers, Petoskey, driving Little America, led the field in by a wide margin in the first heat. In the second heat, Meyers sheared a pinion of his motor and was forced out near the end of the first lap. He was well out in front and most likely would have won the race. The final positions, based on points, were: first, Windin' Fool, J. E. Leslie, Manistee; second, Little America, Hub Meyers, Petoskey; third, Miss Harbor Springs, Henry Meyer, Harbor Springs.

Prettiest Race of Afternoon.

The prettiest race of the afternoon was the free-for-all outboard event, which wound up the program. Robert Graham, driving the Hel-Mar, got away ahead of the field for a good start. J. Bursonette, Chicago, driving the Frolic II, was well back in the line-up. After the first lap, however, the race was a nip-and-tuck affair between these two boats. Bursonette got a break when most of the entries, including Graham, nearly missed the first flag and had to cut back to round the buoy. Bursonette made up a lot of lost distance at this time. Graham hung to his early lead throughout three laps and up until nearly within a hundred yards of the finish. Roaring behind came the Frolic II, and just before they crossed the line, the Chicago boat squeezed in ahead to win by half a length. It certainly was a pretty finish and a spectacular wind-up for the regatta.

While weather played havoc with the regatta entry list and gave the drivers a choppy sea to run in, the event was in every way a fine success. Coast guards under Captain Oscar Smith did fine work in keeping the course clear of boats and there was no complaint from that quarter. All officers of the Charlevoix Boat Club were active in staging the affair, working with untiring efforts. In their behalf, we are asked to express appreciation to Captain Geo. G. G. of Chicago, who gave the use of his yacht P. D. Q. Envelope as judge's boat, and to Ben. Samuelson and all other officials of the race.

Following are results of the races:

Runabout Events.
150 h. p. class—first, Jay-Gee II; Julius Gilbert, Detroit; 2nd, A. & P., Paul Moses, Chicago.

200 h. p. class—first, Jay-Gee II; Julius Gilbert, Detroit; 2nd, Marion, Charles Fox, Jr., St. Louis, Mo.

Free-for-All class—Jay-Gee II; Julius Gilbert, Detroit; 2nd, Marion, Charles Fox, Jr., St. Louis, Mo.; 3rd, A. & P., Paul Moses, Chicago.

Outboard Events.

Class B—first, Windin' Fool, J. E. Leslie, Manistee; 2nd, Little America, Hub Meyers, Petoskey; 3rd, Hot Seat V, D. B. Downing, Detroit; Harbor Springs.

Free-for-All—first, Frolic II, "Bill" Frey, Madison, Wis.; 2nd, Hel-Cat, Robert Graham, Detroit; 3rd, Windin' Fool, J. E. Leslie, Manistee.

Means to Our Boys, Glenn L. Robinson, manager Miller-Storm Co., Detroit.

3:10—"Conserving Our Greatest Resource—Our Boys," E. A. Hyer, director of education, state department of conservation, Lansing.

3:30—Lighting of first fire in the new fireplace.

The balance of the afternoon will be spent in inspecting the new camp buildings and grounds. A complete equipment of log cabins, clubhouse, athletic field, handicraft shop, stables, dispensary, rifle range, sailing, motor and canoe equipment, docks, etc., will be in readiness for 120 boys next year.

Visitors are directed to take Petoskey road, US-31 to bottom Green-sky hill, turn right on Boyne City road for a mile and a half and take first right hand road. Signs will direct those unfamiliar with the road.

Invitations have been extended to a large number of Northern Michigan citizens and it is expected a large crowd will be present for the opening at the new Camp Charlevoix site.

COAST GUARDS ARE KEPT BUSY

NEAR-DROWNINGS OVER WEEK END NUMBERED SIX.

Members of Inn Orchestra Upset in Canoe Saturday—Two Detroiters Saved Monday Afternoon.

Six persons were saved from watery graves from Saturday last until Monday of this week, which period marked three days of unusual activity and watchfulness for the Charlevoix Coast Guard unit.

A severe nor'west blow, acclaimed the worst summer storm in many years, made navigation on Lake Michigan dangerous for any but larger craft, and a strong undertow presented a constant threat to those bathing in Lake Michigan.

The first mishap Saturday afternoon nearly cost the life of George Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith. The lad was one of a party including his brother, Marcus, and Don Cameron, who went into Lake Michigan in their small outboard cruiser to get a "kick" out of the high seas. They cleared the pier and swung into the breakers south of the lighthouse. The high wind drove them into shallow water, where a big breaker turned the light craft end for end. George's head was caught under the railing of the boat as it went over, and only the quick work of his brother saved his life.

While this incident was being enacted, two others, also seeking a "kick" from the high seas, started into Lake Michigan with a canoe. They were J. D. Ludecan-Grevineck and O. Fritzsche, members of The Inn orchestra. They got but a short distance from the pier heads when their frail craft capsized. Realizing the ultimate result of such an adventure, Captain Oscar Smith had a boat ready to go after them. He was none to soon, either, for both men were at the point of exhaustion when taken aboard the coast guard boat.

The pair both hung to one side of the canoe as it turned over and over. Each big breaker completely buried them and a few more minutes would have been the end. It might have been a tragic experience for both parties, and hardly worth the thrill they sought.

Two bathers, giving their names as Robert Adams and Helen Ingalls, were rescued by coast guards after heavy undertow had carried them from near the beach out nearly to the end of the piers. We have not been able to identify the names and Captain Smith believes they are fictitious.

Sunday evening the coast guard boat was called to help a fishing craft thought to have grounded somewhere below Norwood. They braved the mountainous seas after dark to go to the scene, only to find that the craft had made port at Old Mission.

Arthur Desner and Louis Chanke, Detroit school teachers, narrowly escaped drowning in Round Lake shortly after noon Monday when their canoe capsized off Wilbur's dock. They owe their lives to the fact that the coast guard boat had been called to Round Lake to tow a sail boat into Lake Michigan, and was at the scene of the mishap within a few minutes after it happened. William Barnhart, member of the coast guard (Continued on page 8).

James G. Rowell, C. S., of Kansas City, Mo., will give a free lecture on Christian Science, at the Palace Theatre, Sunday afternoon, August 11, at 3:00 p. m. standard time. The public is cordially invited.—Adv. 321f

ATTRACTIONS AT FAIR BEST EVER

PREMIUM LIST OUT FOR 45TH ANNUAL EXHIBIT.

Dates This Year Are August 27, 28, 29 and 30—Many Special Features Have Been Added.

Premium lists for the 45th annual exhibit of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society, to be held at the county fair grounds in East Jordan, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 27, 28, 29 and 30, are now being distributed by Kit Carson, secretary.

To the former very liberal list of premiums offered to winners in the livestock, poultry, fruit, grain, vegetable and other departments, several new features have been added this year.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the fair, $2,000 in prizes will be given away to holders of lucky tickets. Wednesday's and Thursday's prizes are four head of registered live stock, four each day. On Friday, the lucky person gets a Plymouth coach. Four drawings will be made each day, at 1:00, 2:00, 3:00 and 4:00 o'clock. Drawing for the Plymouth coach will be at 3:00 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The racing card will occupy three days, with a total of $1,100.00 in purses. On Wednesday are the 2:17 trot or pace, class No. 28 trot or pace, class No. 12 trot or pace and one-half mile run (county horses) with first three prizes of $200 and the last $25. Thursday's card calls for class No. 22 trot or pace, class No. 10 trot or pace and one-half mile run with prizes of $200 each for the first two and $50 for the last.

Friday afternoon's program is bound to be a drawing card. Races are listed for 4-cylinder and 6-cylinder automobiles, over a 5-mile course with prizes of $100 for each class. Fair officials plan to put chairs on the track Friday and fair-goers may see these races without the clouds of dust of a year ago.

High school bands from East Jordan, Charlevoix and Boyne City will each furnish music one day of the fair. The Lippa Amusement Co., with seven shows and four rides will furnish the midway attractions.

Other announcements concerning the fair program will be found in these columns each week from now on until the event opens. Watch for special announcements and set aside a couple of days now to attend the fair.

WINDER-RATCLIFF NUPTIALS AUGUST 1

College Romance Culminated in Marriage at Lansing Last Week.

A marriage of interest to Charlevoix people is that of Paul J. Winder, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Winder, this city, to Miss Louise Ratcliff of Shreveport, La., which was solemnized Thursday, August 1, at the Lansing Episcopal church.

Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Davidson, brother-in-law and sister of the groom attended the couple. Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Winder spent several days in Detroit, and are now in Charlevoix with the groom's parents. They will remain here until September 7th, when they go to Ann Arbor to attend the University of Michigan, where Paul is studying medicine.

The marriage of Paul and Miss Ratcliff is the culmination of a college romance. Both attended Albion college and later the University of

MICHIGAN RIVIERA TOURNEY IN PLAY THE INN COURTS

FIELD IS STRONGEST EVER TO PARTICIPATE IN A LOCAL TOURNAMENT; ALL DIVISIONS HAVE BRILLIANT FIELD

Finals Friday, Saturday and Sunday Will Produce Best Tennis Charlevoix Has Ever Witnessed—Matches Have Reached Third Round in Men's Singles.

Preliminary, first and second round matches of the men's singles in the Michigan Riviera tennis championships, which opened Monday at The Inn courts under the auspices of the Charlevoix Tennis Club and sanction of the Western Lawn Tennis association, have been completed as we go to press Wednesday noon.

The field is the strongest ever to participate in a local tournament and the quarter-final, semi-final and final matches Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week should produce the best tennis Charlevoix has had an opportunity to witness.

Hennessey Heads Seed.

Heading the seed of the men's singles is John Hennessey, Indianapolis, 4th ranking in the United States. Others in their order are: Keith Gledhill, Santa Barbara, Calif., 2nd ranking national junior and Western Michigan champion; George O'Connell, George Jennings, Fred Royer, Jack Harris, all ranking players in Chicago; Warren Byrum, Kalamazoo, Michigan, closed champion; and "Bill" Irwin, Grand Rapids, former Michigan junior champion.

Draw for the women's singles was made Tuesday evening and play started Wednesday morning. The field in this division is the best ever to appear here. Heading the seed is Caroline Swartz of San Francisco, 15th national ranking and Western Michigan champion; Mrs. Barbara Duffy, Cleveland, Ohio, and Ruth Oaxman, Cincinnati, third and fourth ranking women in the Western Association, and Miss Virginia Watson of Milwaukee, defending champion. The remainder of the entry is an exceptionally good one.

The junior entry is small but good. Chas. Hume, New Orleans, southern doubles champ, heads the seed. Others are George Begely, Chicago; Carl Devlatz, Chicago, and Edward Sutter, New Orleans. Play in this division is in the second round.

BRIDGE ACROSS WALLOON ASKED

WOULD CONNECT EAST AND WEST SIDE OF ARM

Tarvia Dinner Was Special Event Last Week at Walloon Lake Country Club.

The Walloon Lake Country Club entertained last week at a "Tarvia Dinner" for the members of the high way commissioners from Emmet and Charlevoix counties who made it possible for the county line road from the club east to the Pennsylvania Lines railroad to be completed. This road is tarvia bound and makes a nice drive for the club members coming up from the foot of the lake to the golf course.

Attending from Emmet county were George McCabe of the board and A. B. Backus, who was a board members when the work was undertaken. Charlmers Curtis introduced the Emmet county men while J. M. Harris of Boyne City, introduced the Charlevoix members. Mr. McQuinn of the club was in charge of the program. Rev. Harry M. Alburt had charge of the singing. Many of the Petoskey members of the club were present.

George McCabe in his talk before the dinner crowd stressed the importance of bridging the narrows of the north arm of the lake connecting the resort section leading to other parts of the lake. He stated that the Emmet county commission was ready to stand its half of the expense. He suggested that road then be constructed along the shore of the lake opening for resort purposes the large tract of land to the south and east.

The new road suggested by Mr. McCabe would bring the people on the west side of the north arm about an hour nearer the club and shorten the distance about 12 miles. Emmet county this year will complete the grading for the road to connect at the point where the bridge is suggested.

Secretary Weter of the club reported that business during July had set a new high record there, and predicted that the season would be one of the busiest and most enjoyable the club had ever experienced. Mr. Weter, whose winter home is at Mancelona, is taking active part in the campaign to make the club one of the most popular in the north.—Petoskey Evening News.

ANOTHER EVOLUTION.

Back in 1889 the "doctor" used to say: "Now ladies and gents, kindly gather in close around the wagon. Small boys please keep back so that older people wishing to make purchases may get in where they can hear. The boys are going to play on the banjos in just a few minutes—ho, this way, everybody! Now, ladies and gents we are introducing in this locality Doctor Bokakiaks Famous Pain Eradicator for Man or Beast at a price so low as to be amazing. I am not going to ask a dollar for this large, home size bottle. I am not going to ask even 75, 50, 40 or 30 cents. For the breath-taking pittance of 25c, a quarter of a dollar, you get the full oversized bottle with complete directions for taking with a rust-proof corkscrew thrown in ABSOLUTELY FREE. Now, as the boys play on the banjos my assistants will pass among you: Remember, this great medicine will cure coughs, rheumatism, headache, goiter, spavin, ringworm, soreness, epilepsy, etc."

Now in 1929 the story goes like this: "Good evening ladies and gentlemen. The following program is being brought to you by the courtesy of the Choo Choo Chewing Gum Co., makers of chewing gum for engineers—the chew with the personality. We trust you will apply at your nearest dealer for a sample of this meritorious product. Remember it does not stick to the teeth, enmesh the gums or lose its flavor on the bedpost over night. Remember the name—Choo Choo Chew. We will now take a ride on the Choo Choo train, with the famous Choo Choo orchestra as the engineer. There will be a brief pause for station announcements."

A QUARTER ARE MARRIED.

Nearly two million married women are employed as wage earners in the United States. That is not very far from a quarter of all those employed.

During the past 35 years the total number of women employed has increased 21 per cent while the proportion of married women employed has increased 100 per cent.

The reasons generally given are that costs of living are high and that the salaries of young men are low.

Both of which are very, very true.

ESSEX THE CHALLENGER

the reliability Car of the year!

"Reliability" is dominantly associated with all that Essex the Challenger stands for. The experience of more than 200,000 owners, with the lowest record of service cost and requirements, has established it outstandingly as "the Reliability Car of the Year."

Wide choice of color at no extra cost

4 Hydraulic shock absorbers—Starter and electric gauge for fuel and oil on dash—Radiator shutters for heat control—All bright parts chromium-plated—windshield wiper—glare-proof rear view mirror—New type double-action 4-wheel brakes uniformly effective in all weather.

The winning of the Tour de France reliability classic, in which two Essex Challengers were the only cars to make perfect scores, in a field of high-priced American and European entries, is but dramatic evidence of the kind of reliability every Essex owner knows.

Essex records are country-wide. No matter where you live, you will probably find the outstanding reliability event of your locality is held by Essex the Challenger.

by counselor Franklin Q. Doyle are very interesting as well as entertaining and instructive and the book that it features, "The Zodiac and its Mysteries," is well worth the dollar that one pays for it even if we don't read it until the winter months. There is also a very clever Psychle Palm Reader who is attracting especial patronage of many resorters who know her from her recent triumphs in Chicago, Washington, Toronto, etc. She is none other than our Madame Springett, who in the past two years has developed into an adept in the arcane and occult sciences through her studies in the above mentioned cities.

A visit to the Astrology book store on Bridge street is time profitably spent. Especially, if one secures one of the astrology books.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Miss Julia Glados entertained 20 of her young girl friends last Wednesday, July 31, to a Bunco party at the W. H. Supernaw home. Miss Marjorie Partridge won first prize and Miss Wilma Bellinger won the consolation.

Last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. R. C. Korth entertained with a bridge luncheon for her sister, Mrs. Leo Kornfeldt of Chicago. Honors at bridge were won by the guest of honor while Mrs. M. Roy Brady received the consolation.

Rev. Edward S. Doan of Petoskey will take charge of the services in Christ Episcopal church, Sunday morning, August 11, during the absence of Rev. John K. Coolidge. The public is cordially invited to attend.

One of the pleasantest of the many affairs being given for Mrs. Leo Kornfeldt of Chicago, was that given by Mrs. W. C. Wallace Tuesday evening of this week at her home on Antrim street. The evening was spent in playing bridge followed by a delightful lunch. Honors went to Mrs. Clarence Heise and Mrs. R. C. Korth received the consolation.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunn of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. George Stickney and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Strobel of Kalamazoo, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bedford of Grand Rapids. Last week end the Bedfords entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ulrich, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Munshaw and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hathaway, all of Grand Rapids.

Lieut. Commander and Mrs. H. E. Paddock and daughter, Mildred Elizabeth, will arrive Thursday to spend the month of August with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Paddock at their summer home in East Jordan. Commander Paddock has just finished his command of rebuilding the battleship Oklahoma at the Philadelphia Navy Yard and upon his return to duty will be gunnery officer on the new cruiser Pensacola with head quarters at New York.

CADILLAC CAR TURNS OVER NEAR BOYNE CITY

Last Sunday forenoon a Cadillac went into the ditch just east of the State Park on the Charlevoix road near Boyne City. The two passengers who were on their way from Detroit to Charlevoix and the driver crawled out through a window they kicked out. The passengers went to their destination in another car. The driver explained that a car ahead was holding the middle of the road and started to switch to the right hand side and immediately ambled back toward the left leaving insufficient room for the Cadillac to pass and it was either run into the car or the ditch and he chose the ditch. The occupants of the car were shaken up and scratched. The offending car drove into the park.—Boyle Citizen.

HOSPITAL SUPERINTENDENT IS MARRIED

Became Bride Saturday Evening of Louis Monteith of Petoskey.

A quiet wedding took place Saturday evening at Petoskey when Miss Emma Frame of Charlevoix, became the bride of Louis Monteith of Petoskey. The wedding was performed by Rev. C. J. Kruse at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Monteith.

The bride was attired in pale chiffon with a bridal veil of white chiffon. Her ornaments were a necklace of seed pearls with a bracelet to match. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and baby breath. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton A. Walker of Yale, Mich. The bridal party marched in to the strains of Lohegrin and the marriage vows were taken in the presence of the immediate family. Mrs. Monteith is the daughter of William J. Frame of Benton Harbor. She was graduated from the Detroit Northwestern high school and later was graduated from the Benton Harbor Mercy hospital. After doing special work at the Lockwood hospital, Petoskey, she was made superintendent of nurses at the Charlevoix hospital, which office she has held for the past two years.

Mr. Monteith is a graduate of Petoskey high school and is local testman for the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

After a tour of Northern Michigan Mr. and Mrs. Monteith will make their home in Petoskey.

BERT NUTTING DROPPED DEAD WEDNESDAY

Was Three Years Secretary of Petoskey A. of C.

Bert Nutting, secretary of the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce, dropped dead at 3:00 o'clock last Wednesday afternoon while attending to Chamber of Commerce banking business at the First State Bank, Petoskey. Mr. Nutting had been ill for a week or two from an attack of indigestion and it is believed that this may have led to heart attack which physicians say caused his death.

The Chamber of Commerce official also had been serving as secretary of the Emmet county fair committee of the Board of Supervisors. He had been active in promoting the proposed Summer Pageant and in all other work of the Chamber of Commerce. His death threw a pall over the entire city as word of his unexpected passing was passed from person to person on the streets and throughout the city.

Surviving him besides the wife, who was Miss Mae McRae, of Petoskey, he leaves one daughter, Miss Elizabeth Nutting of Lansing.

Your help will be appreciated on Saturday, August 10, Charlevoix Hospital Tag Day.

ANNUAL HOSPITAL TAG DAY SATURDAY

Annual Drive for Funds in Charge of Mrs. A. L. Livingston.

The annual tag day drive for the benefit of the Charlevoix hospital, will be held this coming Saturday, August 10th.

Mrs. Archie Livingston is chairman in charge of the drive, with headquarters at the Charlevoix Hardware company. Prizes will be awarded again this year to those taking in the largest amount of money. The boy's and girl's first prizes are $5 in gold. Second prize for boys is a casting rod and reel, and second for girls a croquet set. Two cameras are posted as third prizes and there are also fourth and fifth awards.

This annual drive is put on to raise funds for the Charlevoix hospital, which has established itself as one of the indispensable institutions of the community. The hospital is partially dependent upon outside help to defray its running expenses and the generous response of our home and summer people in previous years has made up the deficit nicely.

We do not believe it will be necessary to urge this continued support.

AFTERNOON AND EVENING

FREE EXHIBIT

You are invited to visit this house FREE

Cut from Douglas fir log out of which nine more logs were cut besides the one used by Mr. Wade. Each log 22 feet long, in all making some 50,000 board feet of lumber, about two carloads, or enough to build six 4-room cottages.

Cut in 1926, then 434 years old, and therefore born in the year Columbus discovered America. Visited by more than a million people in 26 states.

We brought this marvelous house on wheels—hewn out of one log—to Charlevoix, and invite you to visit and make a trip through the house FREE!

We also will be glad to have you call any time for building material information or building materials. We will be glad to help you plan your new home or the remodeling of your old one.

We carry complete stock of west coast lumber made from big Douglas Fir trees like this. Douglas Fir lumber lays straight—does not twist or warp, holds paint and easy to saw and nail.

but the Furniture City scrapper assures the public that there will be no such outcome in their next encounter. The two boys will go the ten-round route at 126 pounds and this fight alone will be worth a long ride to see. With four pounds of excess flesh off these fighters, the scrap will be the fastest seen in these parts for many a moon.

In the semi-final of eight rounds, Sailor DeShone, Saginaw, veteran of 265 fights, takes on a tough opponent in the person of Vern Rogers, Pontiac, at 135 pounds.

In the six-round prelim, Kid Adams of San Antonio, Texas, who polished off Ted Gravelin in the Legion go last week, meets Young Doby, Bay City, one of the top-notch fly-weights of the state. Adams will have no cause to ask Doby to fight, as this boy from Bay City is a willing mixer and is always out to win.

Cecil Yettaw, local lad, and Midget Mike O'Farrell, Bay City, two lads who drew such a big hand a week ago in their curtain-opener, will go four 2's in one of the prelims. Another four may be added to the bill.

George McMullen of Midland, Michigan, well known throughout the state, will referee.

The bill last Thursday evening was a "wow." With but one exception, the four round preliminary between Sailor Woods and Conny Gatliff, there was not a dull spot in the program. While a success from an entertainment standpoint, the financial returns were not so good. The Legionnaires cannot put on these entertainments without public backing and, considering the quality of the bill, they should have a packed house Thursday evening.

Leo Powers, who is assisting in the management of the mitt program next Thursday night, issued a challenge today to wrestle any man of his weight in Charlevoix. He promised that if he was thrown, he would give the man who turns the trick a ticket to the next American Legion boxing show. Here is a chance for glory for someone. Get your applications in early.

Where Are Your Earnings?

Think of all the money you have earned since you started to work. How much of it have you today? Of course, no man can save all his income; but suppose you had put 10 per cent of yours regularly in a Savings Account. What would it amount to now at 4 per cent compound interest?

It is still not too late to start, if you haven't already. The next ten years are ahead. If you should save a certain portion of your earnings regularly during that period, wouldn't you be comfortably fixed at the end of it?

Then why not come in and open your Savings Account now?

THE FULL-SIZE PLYMOUTH TWO-DOOR SEDAN, $675

Another FINE FEATURE.. Plymouth has Oversize Tires

YOU will find on Plymouth the largest tires of any car in the low-priced field. Real oversize balloons—4.75—more than ample for this full-size car.

That is why the improved Plymouth, with so much else to talk about, devotes an entire advertisement to oversize tires.

Larger tires mean riding on more air, which in turn means greater buoyancy and comfort. Then, too, larger tires wear longer, add much to appearance and, most important of all, give the car greater traction, a firmer grip on the road which means safety.

From tires to roof, from radiator to gasoline tank, Chrysler engineers have endowed the improved Plymouth with qualities and abilities never before available in a car of low price. Make your own comparisons in your own way.

Coupe, $655; Roadster (with rumble seat), $675; 2-Door Sedan, $675; Touring, $695; De Luxe Coupe (with rumble seat), $695; 4-Door Sedan, $695. All prices f. o. b. factory. Plymouth dealers extend the convenience of time payments, if desired.

WILD WEST ROUND- UP AT STATE FAIR

Performances Afternoon and Evening September 1 to 7.

The first wild west round-up ever seen in the middle west has been engaged to appear at the 18th annual exposition of the Michigan State Fair, September 1 to 7. A performance will be given each afternoon and evening in front of the fair grandstand. Several hundred cowboys, cowgirls and Indians will participate.

The rodeo is of the type and size of the famous annual affairs at Pendleton, Ore., Cheyenne, Wyo., and Calgary, Alberta, attended by thousands of spectators. All the features of those events, chuck-wagon races, the wooliest sport ever devised on the western plains; broncho-busting, trick and fancy riding; wild-cow milking contests; relay races, steer bull-dogging, wild horse races, roping and Indian squaw and Indian tepee races will be offered.

The rodeo is in no sense a circus, but more nearly approaches the great automobile races in character. The participants receive only expense money, thereby being forced to extend themselves in the competition for the cash prizes to make their efforts profitable. All the cowboys and veterans of the western ranges and winners of the great western stampedes. Many of the cowgirls are world champions in their own right. The rodeo is being brought to Michigan by a famous character of the western frontier, Col. C. F. Haffley, a noted law enforcement officer in the California cattle country years ago and a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

Fifteen vaudeville acts, aerial fireworks, to be seen here for the first time, and the 91st Highlanders, "Kiltie" band of Hamilton, Ont., will be part of the grandstand show each evening of the fair.

Insects are raised in incubators at the FLY-TOX factory. When they are fully grown and especially strong and lively they are turned loose in a test cabinet, "The Fly-Tox Chamber of Death." Less than a teaspoonful of FLY-TOX is sprayed inside. Within five minutes all are dead. But, the test isn't finished yet. The dead insects are carefully taken from the "Chamber of Death" and put gently into incubators. They remain there 24 hours in an effort to revive them. If even a wing flutters, the FLY-TOX tested does not come up to the high standard of quality, and never leaves the factory. This is the quick acting insect spray you want. It is FLY-TOX. Accept no substitutes. There is nothing just as good. There is no other FLY-TOX. Developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research Fellowship. Every bottle guaranteed.—Adv.

ELK RAPIDS ANNUAL REGATTA THIS WEEK

Races for Outboard and Displacement Type Boats.

The Elk Rapids Regatta is the 6th annual event this year and will be bigger and better than ever before if indications bear fruit. Friday, of this week is the date set and most of the merchants plan to keep their several shops open to accommodate a gigantic throng that will be in our midst.

In the morning, Rev. Fr. K. E. McGinn, well known sportsman, will have charge of the water and the street sports in the downtown section while in the afternoon on and after 1:30 eastern standard time, the boat races may be viewed from Bryn Mawr.

There will be three heats of the displacement boats stock models, for the solid silver cup; two heats for the outboard class B and two heats for the outboard class C, also two heats for the free-for-all. The judges will not allow representatives of boat manufacturers to compete, thus keeping the races above board and cleaner. It is unfair to permit experts to man boat when amateurs are racing.

Unless other arrangements are made, the class B outboard race will start promptly at 1:30 o'clock, eastern standard time.

Parking of cars will be done under the direction of officers to insure against possible occurrence of fire and to accelerate traffic in a quick and orderly manner. This is a free regatta.—Elk Rapids Progress.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Model Buildings Truck.
All farmers of Charlevoix county are cordially invited and urged to attend a series of demonstrations to be conducted on August 15 and 16, when the model buildings truck makes its maiden appearance.

For many years agricultural engineers throughout the country have tried to find some means of telling and showing the farm public how to remodel and build new farm buildings, realizing their inability of personally visiting the many farms. The model buildings truck has been devised for this purpose and is accomplishing splendid results throughout Michigan.

On this truck you can see 15 farm buildings, models covering barn frames, poultry and hog houses, self-feeders, insulation, storage, lime spreading, bull pens and machine sheds.

If you are planning on remodeling any of your farm buildings, or on building new structures you cannot afford to miss one of the following meetings.

Thursday, August 15, at 10:00 fast time, farm of Lee Sneathen, three miles south of Burgess.

Thursday, August 15, at 2:00 fast time, farm of Alfred Williams, one and one-fourth miles west and south of Ironton.

Friday, August 16, at 10:00 fast time, farm of Fred Larson, two miles south of East Jordan.

Friday, August 16, at 2:00 fast time, farm of Frank Russell, one mile south of Pine Lake golf links.

Plans will be gladly given on all farm buildings. If you have a personal problem, bring it with you. In any case come.

Culling Poultry.

This is the time of year that all poultrymen should be thinking of weeding out their unprofitable layers. August and September are the two months during the year that the most accurate culling can be done.

In order to show farmers how to properly cull their flocks two culling demonstrations will be held on Tuesday, August 13, with J. A. Hannah of the Michigan State college present.

The first will be at the farm of Hiram Potter, located one-half miles east of Barnard on Tuesday forenoon, August 13, beginning at 10:00 fast time and the second at the Breezy Point farm, Ironton, on Tuesday afternoon, August 13, beginning at 2:00 fast time.

Do you cull around 60 or 70 per cent of your flock every year and replace them with pullets in order to maintain profitable production? If you are not you are keeping too many unprofitable hens during the heavy feeding months. It is perfectly easy to cull your flock after seeing this demonstration.

You will be surprised and amazed to discover that the hen tells all she knows about herself, if you only know the points to look for.

We are hoping to see you on Tuesday, August 13, at one of the demonstrations.

Dairymen's Picnic.

The Annual Dairy picnic will be held at Whiting Park on Wednesday, August 14. This is the one day in the entire year that the dairymen of Charlevoix county can meet, play and learn together.

This event is sponsored and arranged by the Charlevoix County Cow Testing association, an organization that has operated for six consecutive years and assisted more than any other agency, the dairy progress, and development that we are glad to note from year to year.

We want you to enjoy the day, so the program will be short and snappy, but full of meat.

It will be featured by the presence of a dairy extension specialist from Michigan State college, who will give the main talk. Then you will be interested in the report of last year's cow testing association summary. Hear what the 300 cows have been doing. Archie Besell, tester, will give the interesting results that the dairymen have derived. Several others will also appear.

Get your arm warmed up for there will be a real bull game. Games and sports will be indulged in to satisfy your fun loving disposition.

And sly don't forget to bring that well-filled lunch basket and enjoy it at noon. Whiting Park is well equipped to take care of picnickers, so come early. This is your day to enjoy. Come, play and learn.

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX
NEWS COLUMN

EDITED BY R. B. THOMAS

CAMPERS HAVE
WEEK OF TRIPSONE GROUP TOOK LONG JAUNT
TO CANADIAN WILDS.Others Go to Beaver Island and Tracks Up Jordan River and Along South Arm.

Trips and hikes occupied all of Camp Charlevoix for the past week. It is similar each year. The fifth week of camp is set aside for various expeditions. By this time it is thought that the boys are sufficiently hardened to endure camping out of doors.

Boys fortunate enough to enroll before January 1st were privileged to go on a long trip into Canada. This group was led by Lewis C. Reimann, the director. He was assisted by Walter North and Earl Oldham. Mr.

leave they did and returned to camp in time for dinner and a good night's rest on a man-made mattress.

Wednesday morning a group under the leadership of George Miller, Max Veach, Jack Hogan, Alfred Nussdorfer and Robert Allen, set out towards East Jordan, half mounted and the other on foot. There were 17 boys. They got about half way up the small arm of Pine lake and pitched camp at a site they dubbed "Camp Razzberry." After a hearty meal and a cheerful camp fire, bed was welcome. Throughout the night watches were established to keep the fire going and their eyes on the horses.

After a breakfast of which flapjacks were the main item the column took the road. The ones who had ridden the previous afternoon now walked. Lunching on the south side of East Jordan they then continued up the east side of the lake. At four o'clock all were to be found in Camp Itenake, a mysterious name, which has not yet been fathomed by the campers.

Friday was spent at Itenake. The boys rested, swam, and went for a few short rides. In the afternoon there was a game of Hare and Hounds with woodsmen's signs marking the trail.

Rain forced the group to leave their camp early and they returned to camp Saturday noon after a 21-mile hike, successful in all but its close.

Another group also left camp on Wednesday. Reed Dingman, Tim Neal, Robert Slater, Fred Harlow, and George Wahl set out with a crew to go southward along Pine lake and the Jordan river. They split the party in two. Some walked. The baggage was paddled in the canoes. They pitched camp slightly north of East Jordan on the east bank at Lone Pine Point.

Thursday, Reed Dingman took a group up the Jordan river about five miles in the canoes. George Wahl took another group on a long hike. The following day the program was reversed but Dingman's outfit preferred to stay in camp and have a ball game. They, also, were forced to return early Saturday because of rain.

The above trips were taken largely by intermediates and seniors. The juniors were not inactive. They went on a series of overnight hikes. On Wednesday Robert Van Sickle took his cabin to Nowland lake for fishing; Ira Hirschy's hiked down Pine lake with a short stop-over on the Isle of Pines; and Clayton Smith's cottage rowed against a heavy sea to Hemingway's Point. On Friday, Van Sickle and Smith took their boys along the Boyne City road to Whitling Park; Hirschy went along the shore a ways and pitched camp on the beach, and both groups were forced to return early Saturday because of rain.

Start Work on Pageant.

Professor J. Raleigh Nelson began work Monday on the Hiawatha Pageant which is to be presented August 17th. He is assisted by Walter North. The entire camp is taking a part in the production. All energies are being turned towards equalling or surpassing the successes of previous years.

Morning Program Optional.

Monday morning the camp program was changed to an optional one. The first four weeks are devoted to athletics, art, woodcraft, and handicraft. The remainder of the season the boy may spend his time in whatever departments interests him the most.

Baseball vs. Algonquian.

Arriving home from their various outing trips the local campers met defeat at the hands of the invading baseballers, Camp Algonquian. The results show that the locals were surpassed in experience, ability, and size but never outfought.

The "Varsity" was beaten 32-6 and the Yankees 30-19.

An effort will be made to avenge these defeats next Saturday when the locals play at Camp Algonquian.

DETROIT PLAYERS
ENJOYED STAY HEREAre Looking Forward to Returned Engagement Next Year.

As the orange and black caravan, composed of 46 trucks and trailers, of The Detroit Players, left Charlevoix Thursday morning, all of the 40 members of this unique organization joined Adams T. Rice in expressing their appreciation of the splendid hospitality which they enjoyed here again this year. After their enthusiastic reception here last year, they had been looking forward to their return engagement here this summer. Comments heard on the "lot" indicate that their fine opinion of Charlevoix, firmly established last season has been materially increased during their recent stay. This attitude on the part of this troupe of artists certainly makes the good feeling mutual. We think, however, that their eagerness to return to Charlevoix was not as great as ours to have them play for us again.

It may seem odd to some that a group of players should want to spend their entire summer vacation vagabonding all over Michigan. Particularly is this true when one knows that the actors, and the actresses too, have to help in driving the trucks, and in "setting up" and "taking down." But one who really knows actors knows that they are never so happy as when they are giving their best efforts on the other side of the footlights. Such enthusiastic appreciation as they enjoyed here again this summer convinces them that a summer could not be spent in a better way than in bringing the better things of the theatre to these places in Michigan which cannot enjoy the theatre opportunities of the larger cities.

It is certain that we of Charlevoix will await their coming next year, and wish all good fortune throughout their summer season.

Marathon Swim Entries Made

Three Already Signed Up for Race Across Little Traverse Bay.

The proposed marathon swim across Little Traverse Bay to be made on August 14th under the auspices of and sponsored by the Bowman jewelry store of Petoskey, has already drawn three entries from among visiting swimmers. Before the time set for the dive off it is expected this will grow to 25 or 30. Handsome trophies are offered and in addition the time set will be listed as the official record for the event, both men and women titles being listed.

Entries to date are two young men and one young woman, Francis Gomez, Jamaica, N. Y., Kenneth DeLong, of Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, and Miss Sara Strauss of Chicago. Miss Strauss made the swim last year but no record was made of her time. The start will be from the Harbor Springs wharf and the finish at the Petoskey wharf.

LOG HOUSE IS COMING HERE NEXT THURSDAY

Two-Room Dwelling Cut from Douglas Fir Tree Covering Country.

A comfortable two-room apartment hollowed out of a section of a Douglas fir tree 16 feet long and nine feet in diameter, mounted on a ton and a half truck, will be in Charlevoix next Thursday, August 15, afternoon and evening.

The truck is driven by E. A. Wade, formerly an Oklahoma farmer, but in recent years a resident of Washington state, and his wife, who occupy the house on a tour of the United States.

The log cabin is being brought to Charlevoix at request of the Charlevoix Lumber Co. and W. E. Parmelee, local lumber dealers, and will be on display at the Charlevoix Lumber company yards.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade have traveled nearly 20,000 miles since leaving their home October 1926, and they are going through northern Indiana and then back to Washington by the way of Chicago. They expect to spend the winter months in Texas, Mr. Wade says.

"Ever since I went to the Pacific northwest and saw the big trees, I wanted to show them to my farmer friends. I knew they would not believe that the Douglas fir trees grow 350 feet tall," Wade states, "so when I was coming back I decided to bring one along. When I drive up to their front yards now they can't call me a liar. Some of them, though, want to bore a hole through the bark to see if it really is all one log. I brought a cross section of the wood we took out for them to look at; that satisfies anybody."

TOURIST DRIVER TO FACE THE COURT

Ohio Youth is Held for Killing Man With Car at Bellaire.

Thomas Morrison of Columbus, Ohio, youthful resorter of Bellaire, who killed Charles Confield, 75, and the horse he was riding the evening of July 9 near the county infirmary, is out on bail under $1,000 bonds. He is under arrest on two counts. They are manslaughter and negligent homicide.

His case has been placed in the probate court by Prosecuting Attorney Wellman, with a request that he be returned to the circuit court to stand trial. His age, 16 years, makes this course necessary.

Probate Judge Fred H. Pratt of Grand Traverse county will hear the case in probate court August 12. Probate Judge Bailey, who is in poor health, asking Judge Pratt to serve for him.

INCREASE PULLING POWER OF HORSES

Method Suggested by Secretary of Charlevoix County Fair.

A plan for training teams to pull with maximum effort is suggested by Kit Carson, secretary of the Charlevoix Agricultural Society. It has been tried successfully by a number of men before entering teams in pulling contests with the dynamometer. Mr. Carson said. The directions follow.

Load a stone boat with a thousand pounds of stone, sand, or other heavy substance, hitching the horses to this when they are first brought out in the morning and are fresh. They should be required to pull it for a distance of 30 feet; then rest; then pull again for 30 feet. They may then be unhitched and put to their regular work.

This can be repeated every morning, the load being gradually increased either by adding to the weight or by lengthening the chain from the stone boat to the team. If the chain is lengthened the angle of pull changes, and the stone boat tends to dig into the ground more as draw chain length increases. The team may be hitched direct with an ordinary pair of doubletrees, or, if preferred, the front wheels of a wagon may be used so the team will be hitched just as would be the case if they were drawing a wagon, the draw chain running underneath the front wheels from the double trees to the load.

Eventually, when the stone boat is loaded with 2,000 pounds and a draw chain or cable 50 feet in length is used, it will be found that the team gets down and exerts a real pull. This plan of slowly teaching horses to exert a maximum effort is the only plan that will make a real pulling team, the final load and length of cable used varying according to the individuality of the team, Mr. Carson suggested.

It is pointed out, however, that many teams will pile up amazing records in pulling on the dynamometer without any special training for it, and Kit Carson is urging team owners to enter their horses and mules in the pulling contest on August 29-30 at Charlevoix County Fair. The dynamometer is the only machine ever invented to show in actual figures the pulling capacity of draft animals, and the Charlevoix County Fair will give men an opportunity to discover who owns the best team in the county.

HOUSE WARMING FOR NEW CAMP

Lewis Reimann's Fine Lake Charlevoix Place is Ready.

Camp Charlevoix, the fine summer camp for boys operated on Lake Charlevoix by Lewis C. Reimann of Ann Arbor, is to have a house warming for its new camp. "The Limberlost," on Friday afternoon, August 9th, starting at 2:30 o'clock. The program, which includes inspection of the new buildings, will conclude at 5:00 p. m.

The camp buildings include a new rustic lodge built entirely of logs and containing a large fire place of native stone. People from Charlevoix and Petoskey will speak and there will be orchestra music.

The camp will not be ready for the boys until next season. It has 150 acres of land, 100 acres of it wooded, and owns a mile of lake front.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.

Subject: "Spirit."

Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Love" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, August 4.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth; therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty." (John 5:17).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "He that touches the hem of Christ's robe and masters his mortal beliefs, animality, and hate, rejoices in the proof of healing—in a sweet and certain sense that God is Love." (p. 569).

James G. Rowell, C. S., will give a free lecture on Christian Science, Sunday, August 11, at 3:00 p. m. standard time, at the Palace Theatre. The public is cordially invited.—Adv. 32tf.

HENNESSEY WINS RIVIERA FINALS

WOMEN'S TITLE GOES TO CAROLINE SWARTZ OF CALIF.

New Champions Crowned in Men's Doubles, Junior Doubles and Singles—Event Best Ever.

East and West broke even in their conquest for tennis laurels in the Michigan Riviera champions at Charlevoix Sunday. Upon the unruly red hatch on smiling John Hennessey's head rests the men's singles crown, while to the Golden State goes the women's title with Miss Caroline Swartz of San Francisco.

Both earned their honors. The crowded gallery sat in awe as the youthful Keith Gledhill, invader from Santa Barbara, Calif., took the first set from Hennessey at 6-4. He was playing superb tennis and outsmarted his more experienced opponent throughout the set. Hennessey was the master from the on, however, with the exception of the fourth set, which Gledhill forced to duce before going down to defeat. Hennessey walked through the second set 6-3, and the third 6-2. Every advance of the youthful Californian was smothered under a withering fire of cross-court shots and deadly baseline placements. It may be said that Gledhill's downfall was partially due to his many errors, for he missed countless easy ones. The final score was 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, 7-5. Hennessey won his second Michigan Riviera title and his fourth in a Charlevoix tournament.

The finals match between Miss Caroline Swartz of San Francisco, Calif., and Ruth Oexman, of Cincinnati, Ohio, was one of the closest in the tournament. Court generalship was the deciding factor in favor of the California star, who is fifteenth in the national ranking. She came from behind in both sets to win. In the first set, Miss Oexman led 5-2 and twice missed set point. In the second she led at 5-1 and then dropped three straight games before running out 7-5. Again in the third frame the Cincinnati girl had the advantage of a 3-1 lead, but dropped two that evened the count. From then on it was a see-saw battle until the western star broke through and won her own service and then the next game for the match at 7-5. It was a wonderful match and a fitting climax to the tournament.

Upsets marked the final day's play in the men's doubles. Carl Hodge, of St. Louis, Mo., and C. Brody, of Des Moines, Ia., a dark horse team, defeated the Hennessey-Harris combination, defending champions and seeded first, by scores of 2-6, 7-5, 6-3. In the other semi-final, Keith Gledhill and Ellis Klingeman eliminated George Jennings and Fred Royer, of Chicago, by scores of 3-6, 8-6, 6-1, 4-6, 6-1, and then later in the afternoon copped the title from Hodge and Brody in straight sets, 7-5, 6-3, 6-3.

Charles Hume and Edward Sutter of New Orleans, southern junior doubles champions, carried the Michigan Riviera title home with them. They defeated C. Hawn of Pontiac, and I. R. Burgess of Flint in the finals Friday afternoon in straight sets. The score was 6-3, 6-0.

The following day Sutter annexed the Michigan Riviera junior singles title by defeating his fellow-townsmen and doubles partner, Charles Hume, in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2. These two young southerners were the class of their division throughout the tournament.

STAGE SET FOR LEGION BOXING SHOW

Twenty-Eight Rounds on Card at Gymnasium Thursday Night.

The stage is all set for the second of a series of boxing shows to be staged by the Charlevoix American Legion Post at the high school gymnasium tonight.

Headlining the bill of 28 rounds are Teddy Maranda of Grand Rapids, and Battling Shaw of San Antonio, Texas, who will go ten 3-minute rounds at 126 pounds. A substitution early this week brings Ken Reitzel, promising Traverse City fighter, into the ring with Sailor Deshone of Saginaw. This bout will be eight rounds at 135 pounds. Kid Adams of San Antonio, and Young Duby of Bay City, are scheduled for six rounds at 118 pounds, while Midget Mike O'Farrell of Bay City, and Cecil Yet-taw of Charlevoix, appear in the curtain-opener.

CHARMING WEDDING MONDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Delia Ellis and Charles Pynchon Wed at Douglas Cabin.

At a very informal but charming wedding solemnized at the Mrs. Geo. B. Douglas' log cabin on Oyster Bay, Lake Charlevoix, Monday afternoon at 4:00, Mrs. Delia Ellis of Grand Rapids, and Charles Pynchon of Chicago, were united in marriage before a large assemblage of relatives and invited guests.

Rt. Rev. John N. McCormick of Grand Rapids, performed the ceremony, using the ring service. The bride and groom were unattended and simplicity marked the entire affair. Following the wedding, refreshments were served by the hostess beneath the trees surrounding the cabin on a platform covered by a jade green awning. Mr. and Mrs. Pynchon left later in the afternoon by motor on a wedding trip to Mackinaw City and points in the upper peninsula.

About sixty guests were present at the wedding, among them being most of the Chicago colony at the Chicago Club, together with a large number of out-of-town guests.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT TO OPEN MONDAY

CHARLEVOIX 3RD ANNUAL MEET ATTRACTS ATTENTION.

Advance Entries Include Last Year's Champions and Many Prominent Players of Region.

The next event in Charlevoix's summer program is the third annual Charlevoix Open tennis tournament, which opens Monday, August 19th, at the Inn lake courts, scene last week of the Michigan Riviera championships, banner event of Michigan's tennis year. The tournament is sponsored by the Charlevoix Tennis Club and The Inn, and will be under the supervision of Gerald (Jerry) Ash, recreational director there.

The Charlevoix Open has attracted great interest among members of the summer colony since its inception three years ago, and the present season will be no exception, judging from the large number who have expressed their intention to enter. Two years ago the meet drew an entry of 120 players, from the entire region, and last year almost as large.

There will be events in the men's singles and doubles, junior boys' and girls' singles, women's singles and girls' singles. This tournament will decide the champions of Charlevoix and vicinity for 1929 and is open to all players. Suitable loving cups will be awarded the winners.

The last year's Charlevoix Open champions were: Dick Dietrick, St. Louis, Mo., men's singles; Mrs. H. S. Lion, Cincinnati, Ohio, women's singles; Esther Chichester, Petoskey, girl's singles; N. E. Steenrod, Dayton, Ohio, junior singles, and Tim Gibson, Cincinnati, Ohio, boy's singles.

Those wishing to enter the tournament are asked to make entries with Gerald Ash at The Inn courts, Archie L. Livingston at the Charlevoix State Savings bank.

It is very probable that all of last year's champions will be here to defend their titles at the coming meet.

LOCAL BOATS WIN AT HARBOR RACES

John Knight Cops 100 H. P. Events—Chas. Fox Second in Two.

Charlevoix boat owners came home Sunday with some of the prizes awarded at the Harbor Springs regatta, which was the big water event of Northern Michigan over last week end.

The 100 h. p. speed boat event went to John Knight's "Maywin," while Charles Fox, Jr., took second place with the "Marion" in the 200 h. p. and the free-for-all displacement races.

According to reports received here, at least one and possibly two new records were hung up at Harbor Springs regatta, which was a M. V. P. B. A. sanctioned event. Bill Fry made 36.29 miles per hour in the B class with the Uniplex, establishing a new record.

Commodore Hamilton Moses of the Charlevoix Boat Club assisted in conducting the regatta.

August Meeting Wednesday
The August meeting of the Congregational Women's Missionary Society will be held next Wednesday in the city park at the west end of Mason street, following a 1:00 o'clock picnic dinner.

INTEREST GROWING IN CO. FAIR

LIST OF FINE PREMIUMS DRAWING MANY ENTRIES.

Event This Year August 27-29 Will Be Banner Event in History—Many Fine Attractions.

Unusual interest is being shown in the draft horse and mule pulling contest, which will be a new feature at the Charlevoix county fair to be held at East Jordan on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 27, 28, 29 and 30.

The contest is divided in two divisions—light class, which includes teams weighing under 3,000 pounds; and heavy class, for teams 3,000 pounds or over. First, second, third and fourth prizes of $40, $30, $20 and $10 are posted for winners in each class.

Prizes totalling $62 are being offered for winners in the boys' and girls' dairy club exhibit. This division covers Jerseys, Guernseys, Holsteins, any other dairy breed showing and a prize of $5 for the grand champion of the exhibit. The contest is open to only dairy club members and both grades and pure-breds may compete in the same classes. Club members must have their record books and stories filed with County Agent Mellencamp on or before October 15 to receive premiums awarded at the fair.

In the girls' canning club division, which is also sponsored by County Agent Mellencamp, a total of $44 in prizes are posted. Awards will be made on the best club of 40 jars of fruits and vegetables representing budget for family of five members for four weeks; best individual collection of six jars of fruits and vegetables in each club; best individual collection of six glasses of jellies and jams in entire county; best individual collection of three jars of canned meats in entire county and best individual collection in exhibit.

Fair-goers are asked to keep in mind the $2,000 in prizes to be given away on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the fair. Ask your merchants for coupons whenever you make purchases and be on hand for the drawings.

INDIAN POW-WOW AT CROSS VILLAGE

Sunday, Aug. 18—Natives Will Don War Paint and Old Time Costumes.

Three hundred and sixty-four days a year the Indian population of Cross Village is highly civilized. The native Ottawas, whose ancestors resided in this vicinity since before the coming of the white man, go about their business in the same manner as anyone else. On the three hundred and sixty-fifth day all is changed. They become Indians in spirit as well as name.

They smear their faces with paint and bedeck themselves with feathers. They dress in buckskins instead of "store clothes" doff their shoes for moccasins, and in place of the regulation collar, wear beads around their neck. Then while the tom-toms throb, they execute a war dance as savage as that indulged in by the red cohorts of Pontiac when they besieged Detroit.

This year the pow-wow and war dance will be held August 18. Together with the pow-wow a picnic and dinner are connected. All who wish may come and partake in the doings of the Indians.

TAG DAY FOR GIRLS' HOME NEXT SATURDAY

Local Women Assisting in Drive for Sunnycrest Home.

Arrangements are being made for the annual campaign for funds in Charlevoix for Summercrest School and Home for Girls, which is located in Holland.

This year a Flower-Tag sale will be held next Saturday, August 17th. The flowers are artificial rose buds with a streamer attached bearing the name of the society and the slogan, "Have a Heart" and help homeless girls in Michigan.

Sunnycrest is a home and school of opportunity for homeless girls in Michigan. Vocational training is taught while giving the regular academic work. The school is beautifully located on Macatawa Bay two miles west of Holland and occupies 18 acres of land, all under cultivation. The work is state-wide nonsectarian supported by voluntary gifts.

The committee sponsoring the flower sale Saturday include Mrs. C. N. Bridge, Mrs. Frank M. Sears, Mrs. C. E. Bailey and Mrs. Mary Boam. Headquarters Saturday will be in the Charlevoix Hardware company store.

KAMP KAIRPHREE PAGEANT FRIDAY

ONE OF CLOSING EVENTS OF THE CAMP SEASON.

Water and Canoe Sports to Be Held Saturday and Final Banquet Monday Evening.

Kamp Kairphree, the summer camp for girls on Lake Charlevoix directed by Mr. and Mrs. George Swain of Ann Arbor, is preparing for the final festivities of the season.

On Friday afternoon at 3:00 eastern standard time, their pageant, which is an annual affair, will be presented in the camp's beautiful natural amphitheatre on the lake front, this occasion marking the first time it has been used for such a purpose.

The play, entitled "A Dream Come True," is being directed by the author, Miss Camilla Boone, dramatic instructor at the camp, who has had a great deal of experience in both the acting and directing phase of dramatics. The dancing is under the direction of the Misses Hushour and Sliter, pupils in the Grand Rapids School of Dancing under Miss Calla Travis.

Saturday morning, there are to be swimming matches and a canoe carnival, directed by the Misses Wians and Brauns of the Kellogg Battle Creek School of Health, and Miss Malcolm of the University of Michigan. Kamp Kairphree extends a cordial invitation to all interested to attend this water meet as well as the pageant.

The camp is also preparing for the final banquet of the year, which takes place on Monday night. At this time the honor awards will be given and the pin awarded to the best all-around Kairphree girl. Many parents are expected to arrive during the week end to observe these functions and take their girls home, thus culminating a most successful camping season.

WM. DUBY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Received Scalp Wounds and Other Injuries Monday Morning.

William Duby, local man employed by D. J. Eckerling, received severe scalp wounds and other injuries Monday forenoon, when his truck was rammed by a large sedan driven by Mrs. Ted Joslyn of Grand Rapids.

The accident occurred at the corner of Bridge and Antrim streets, where, according to witnesses, Duby cut the dummy and swung in front of Mrs. Joslyn's machine. Duby's machine was badly wrecked. His wounds were dressed at the Charlevoix hospital and he was taken to his home.

WILSON MAC DONALD NEW PETOSKEY C. OF C. SECY.

Wilson MacDonald, who has been for several years office manager at the Homer Sly Auto Co., Petoskey, has resigned his position to take effect September 1st, at which time he will assume the duties of secretary of the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce, to succeed the late Bert Nutting, whose untimely death occurred last week.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX HOUSE WARMING

BOYS' PLACE ON LAKE CHARLEVOIX VISITED BY MANY.

Will Be in Use Next Summer By Large Party of Youths With Louis Reimann in Charge.

Many townspeople, a large number of summer resorters and others from various points in Northern Michigan, were present Friday afternoon for the "house warming" at the "Limberlost," new home of Camp Charlevoix on Oyster Bay, opposite Oldwood Point on Lake Charlevoix.

The Belvedere Hotel orchestra under the leadership of Murray Horton, played two excellent numbers to open the short and appropriate program. Louis C. Reimann, camp director, followed with an explanation of the policies, routine and results accomplished from the daily activities at the present camp near Ironton. His remarks left no doubt in the minds of his audience as to the benefits any youth would derive from a summer's outing under the carefully selected leadership of the Camp Charlevoix counselors, whom Mr. Reimann pointed out, were the choice of the country's college talent.

Dr. Bernard G. Mattson of the Charlevoix Congregational church, gave the invocation, and, in the absence of Dr. C. J. Winder, president of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, spoke in his behalf on the topic: "What Camp Charlevoix Means to Charlevoix." He discussed the scope of the nationwide boys' camp movement and congratulated Charlevoix on its good fortune in having such an institution as Camp Charlevoix located here.

Glen L. Robinson, manager of Miller-Storm Co., Detroit, spoke on the topic: "What Camp Charlevoix Means to Our Boys." Mr. Robinson was in a position to speak from experience, having had his own son enrolled at Camp Charlevoix for two years. He lauded the camp leadership and ended his remarks by saying that "He could not have picked a more suitable place than Camp Charlevoix to send his boy."

Other words of praise for "The Limberlost" came from remarks by Harry A. Baeders, president of American University School for boys, who happened to be at the camp on a trip of inspection.

E. A. Hyer, director of education, state department of conservation, was the last speaker on the program. He explained the policies of his department and from a conservationist's viewpoint, lauded the site chosen for "The Limberlost" from an angle of outdoor advantages. The entire tract, comprising 180 acres, has been made a state game preserve and is being stocked with small game.

Fred Morris, University of Illinois, led the assemblage in several songs. (Continued on page 10).

BOYNE CITY'S HOME-COMING

Entire Week of Fun and Visiting Announced for August 12 to 17.

Boyne City is to have a home-coming and has announced the dates as August 12 to 17. Not only will there be the usual visiting and entertaining of guests but special "days," parades, contests, etc., are announced. A home-coming queen will be elected, the winner to be announced August 16. She will take part in the parades and other events of the kind.

To help along with the good time a big street carnival has been secured, with ferris wheel, merry-go-round, hi-dive, snake-ship and numerous other attractions. Bands will play, bathing beauty contests will be held, a masked ball on the street and pavement dancing are among the special attractions. A boxing show is being arranged and there will be a cake-walk contests, bowery dancing, water sports.

The committee is endeavoring to arrange for a public wedding and has asked those desiring to be wed to report to the committee. One couple will be selected and to them will go the numerous gifts offered by merchants along with the purse to start up housekeeping.

Boyne City residents are asked by the committee to invite back for the week former residents of the city, relatives and friends who might be interested.

A special invitation has been extended to members of the Northern Michigan summer colony and to the neighboring cities and towns to take part in the home-coming program.

CORRESPONDENCE

NORWOOD.

Miss Mary Clark of Muskegon, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson this week.

Ruben Hull of Lansing, while on his way to Petoskey, called on relatives here Sunday evening.

Several of our citizens expect to attend the Gleener's annual picnic to be held at Eastport Thursday of this week.

The Misses Agnes and Bertha Dyon of St. Louis, Mo., visited at the Frank Richardson home one evening last week.

Albert Hull and his daughter, Daisy, of Grand Rapids, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hull and family last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Goodell and family, of Chelsea, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Dice, Sunday and Monday. This was their first trip to Charlevoix and they were delighted.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Publow, who occupied their cottage for the past two weeks, returned to their home in Lansing, Sunday. Mr. Publow caught a one pound speckled trout, which is at Wood Bros' hardware store waiting for some one to catch one better.

Mrs. J. O. McEwan, who is stopping with her son, Mont Harvey and family, in Orange, Calif., writes that she has been ill in bed since the 12th day of July. She says she does not seem to recover from her last treatment.

Gerald DeForest and wife returned from Ypsilanti last week, where they have been attending summer school. If Jordan River school is not consolidated, Mr. DeForest intends to teach there again next year, and his wife will teach at Rockery, the next school east of there.

Tuesday morning of 20 ears of the Ohio potato growers came up to the Milo Greenmah farm to inspect his certified seed crop, and then went north to Baaks township. It was quite an interesting sight and quite an interesting lot of farmers to come all the way from Ohio to see our crops. Some of the finest potatoes we have

"KONJOLA IS JUST WHAT I ALWAYS NEEDED"

Tells How Six Bottles of New Medicine Solved All Her Health Problems.

MRS. MARY PEREZ

"I was sick all over, tired out and rundown with long suffering from indigestion and kidney trouble," said Mrs. Mary Perez, 2008 Chene street, Detroit, Mich. "My back ached so that every day was made up of hours of pain. I could not sleep well at night, and to eat caused no end of pain."

"Konjola went right to the source of my troubles. I took six bottles in six weeks—the digestion has improved and the kidney condition has cleared up, and the headache has faded from me. Konjola is the medicine that I always needed. I am better generally than in years; eat three meals a day and sleep just like a child."

seen this year is just west of Ellsworth on the Essex road.

Versile Dawson had what might have been a fatal accident last Friday evening, if both drivers had not been going at moderate speed. When near Savages corners, he and another autoist met head on. Versile's car had a broken fender, one front wheel taken off, axle broken, and wind shield smashed. The other man's car was badly damaged, but each agreed to pay their own damages, although Mr. Dawson could have collected, as he was on the right side of the road.

His father, John Dawson, was with him, but neither one was injured.

The Big Twin Bridges Sunday school picnic was well attended this year, there being about 500 people present. Rev. G. A. Weaver, as has been his custom heretofore, had plenty of toys in the river on land, and swings and merry-go-rounds to amuse the children. Two hundred and thirteen people under 12 and over 70 were given free ice cream cones. A fine program was given by the several Sunday schools. Addresses were given by Rev. W. P. Mosher of Bellaire, and Rev. Booth of Petoskey M. E. church and by Probate Judge E. E. Gilbert of Petoskey. Next year Rev. Weaver says he will give the boys of the several Sunday schools a chance to show their progress at Manual Training work, and he will take a rest.

BARNARD.

We neglected to report last week that Margaret Matchett had returned home from Mt. Pleasant, where she had attended summer school for six weeks.

Paul and Wayne Conkila spent the week end as guest of their friend, Lee Shapton.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Petter and son, Herman, of Battle Creek, were visiting old friends in Barnard last week, also motoring to the Soo to visit his sister, Gertrude, who returned to Charlevoix with them for a short visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Oberlin and son of Lansing, spent a few days with their uncle, Howard Gornell and family.

The Misses Clara Dougherty and Lottie Webster, also Dicky Stray, spent last week in Gaylord as leaders of Charlevoix county's 4-H clubs at the camp there.

Barnard's junior dairymen report a very enjoyable as well as instructive time at the club camps at Gaylord last week.

ANTRIM CITY.

Mrs. H. Slate was a visitor at the Brooks' home Friday.

Milford Tyrrell spent a few days of last week in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Slate and family took ice cream at the Stott home Thursday evening.

Our Y. M. C. B. boys have left. We all hope they enjoyed their visit and will come again next year.

Mrs. Ethel Barnett will give psychic readings and character analysis at 214 W. Lincoln avenue, phone 708.—Adv. 191f.

NEW FISH LAWS GO IN EFFECT AUG. 28

Repeal More Than 130 Separate Laws and Change Others.

A resume of the inland fishing law, effective August 28, has been sent out to various sportsmen and to Izaak Walton League members.

The new law repeals 134 separate laws, relative to fishing, passed at various times between 1873 and 1927, codifies regulations, and includes the following important provisions on fishing seasons:

Season on large and small mouth black bass, on "pike" lakes, is from June 25 to December 31; on all other lakes from June 25 to December 31; in trout streams June 25 to September 1; and in non-trout streams from June 25 to December 31.

Calico, rock, strawberry, white and Warmouth bass, crappies, bluegills and sunfish can be taken from "pike" lakes from June 25 to March 31, in all other lakes between the same dates. These fish can be caught in trout streams between June 25 and September 1, and in non-trout streams from June 25 to March 31.

Pike (great northern, grass pike and pickerel), perch-pike, (wall-eyed pike) muskellunge, perch, lake or Mackinaw trout may, under the new regulations, be taken in "pike" lakes between May 1 and March 31, and in all other lakes between June 25 and March 31. In trout streams these fish may be taken from May 1 to September 1, in non-trout streams from May to March 31.

The season on brook, brown and rainbow trout in "pike" lakes may be taken from May 1 to September 1, on all other lakes not so classified between June 25 and September 1. These trout may be taken in trout streams from May 1 to September 1, and in non-trout streams between the same dates.

Catfish, bullheads, cisco, whitefish, smelt, suckers, mullet, redhorse, carp, garfish, dogfish and sheepshead can be legally caught in "pike" lakes between May 1 and March 31. On trout streams these fish may be taken from May 1 to September 1, and on non-trout streams the season on them is open all year.

AT THE MOVIES

Scotch Jokers Better Than the Scotch Jokes.

The Scotch are the innocent victims of a vast number of jokes, many of which are of doubtful humorous quality, but two Scotchmen provide humor of undoubtedly rare gusto in the Paramount-Christie all-talking picture, "Divorce Made Easy" which comes to the Palace Theatre for two days beginning on Saturday next.

Douglas MacLean as the leading man and star of the production, and Jack Duffy, as the intruding old uncle who mixes everything up, furnish more laughs with their clever acting than 100 after-dinner speakers can provide with all their Scotch-joke repertoires.

"Queen of It" Shy, Retiring in Real Life.

Believe it or not, Clara Bow is shy.

Also, believe it or not, she is far from being the harum scarum, mighty individual she portrays on the screen.

"Sometimes I am very discontented," she said in a recent interview, "and often there are moments of deep gloom."

But in spite of her shyness in private life, she shows a wonderful exuberance and vitality in working before the camera and microphone. The most difficult scene cannot tire her.

This was particularly noticeable when she was preparing for the work on "Dangerous Curves" which comes to the Palace Theatre for two days beginning on Wednesday next. She was fairly bubbling with enthusiasm.

"I am not a flapper queen in this one," she explained. "It is the type of role I always have wanted to do. I am a circus performer. A gay little youngster, but full of pep and ambition and a real purpose in life. There is color and joy in this circus picture, and there is human drama. No wonder I am happy."

ATWOOD.

Harvest time.

Wedding bells August 21st.

Flowing well on US-31 just west of the Joliffe farm.

The Farrells had a family gathering last Sunday.

Wesley Joliffe will teach school near Boyne Falls.

Some more resorters from Fort Wayne, Ind., are being entertained at the George Parsons hotel.

A Miss Beush of Chicago, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beush.

Ethan Joliffe was in Central Lake and Ellsworth last Thursday and Friday tuning pinnos.

Glenn LaPere of Columbus, Wis., who has been estimating the radish and pea crops for the Leonard Seed Co., returned home last Wednesday.

CHEVROLET

Another Record!

a Million

SIX CYLINDER CHEVROLETS

on the road in less than eight months!

Less than eight months have elapsed since the first Chevrolet Six was delivered into the hands of an owner—and already there are more than a million six-cylinder Chevrolets on the road! And the reasons for this overwhelming success are easy to understand.

Into a price field that had hitherto been occupied exclusively by four-cylinder cars—Chevrolet has introduced a six-cylinder car of amazing quality and value. Not only does it offer the smooth, quiet, velvety performance of a great six-cylinder valve-in-head motor—but, from every standpoint, it is a finer automobile than was ever before thought possible at such low prices! Its beautiful new bodies—which are available in a variety of colors—represent one of Fisher's greatest style triumphs. And its safety and handling ease are so outstanding that it's a sheer delight to sit at the wheel and drive. In fact, the new Chevrolet Six has completely changed every previous idea as to what the buyer of a low-priced car now has a right to expect for his money.

You owe it to yourself, as a careful buyer, to see and drive this car. For it gives you every advantage of a fine six-cylinder automobile—in the price range of the four and with economy of better than 20 miles to the gallon! Come in today!

The lowly house fly is a menace. Disease, sickness, suffering and misery follow in their wake. When you "swat" a fly you are observing a very important rule of health and cleanliness.

A number of years ago "swat-the-fly" campaigns were begun. At first folks did not take these campaigns seriously. There were so many flies and other insects that the job of exterminating was thought impossible. Now we know we are winning the battle. The fly family is on the decrease despite its fecundity. Join this campaign of extermination. We must not allow them to multiply their kind upon the earth. Good sense tells us to "swat 'em now."

SLOW DOWN — LEST YOU BE THAT DRIVER.

A wave of the hand, a kiss on the breeze, from the sweetest pal in the world—I stood for some moments watching her, a chubby figure in blue and white, an extremely important little person on her way to school. It must have been about four o'clock—my mind has been deadened since—when the boss sent for me. "Bob," he said, laying his hand on my shoulder, "there's been an accident and you'd better hurry up to your house." That little pal of mine—she wasn't at the window watching for me as usual. For an instant I faltered, it just seemed as though something went dead within me, and I had to fight for breath. In a little while I went to the gate, just as I had that very morning. And looked down the street as best I could. Right over there, a short block away, was where she turned the corner and passed forever out of my life. Today, it will be some other little girl, quite as dear. And so on, and on, until the conscience of men shall cry a halt to the passion for fast driving in localities where danger stares drivers plumb in the eye.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

DON'T KILL A CHILD.

This is the vacation period of the year. Motorists do not have to exercise the usual care and precaution when approaching "School Zone" signs along city streets and country highways. Plenty of time for that when school opens again in September.

Children are now at play. They are not confined to school rooms where much of their activities can be supervised. When back-yards are small children will insist on playing in the streets. It is impossible for mothers to watch them all the time.

It is impossible to impress upon young minds the necessity of being careful. Childish minds at play forget in the excitement of the game and the little ones may dash across the street right into the path of an oncoming machine. It is up to the motorist to exercise great care and caution while driving where children may be playing. It only takes a second for a tragedy to happen—but it takes a lifetime to forget. Drive carefully—nobody wants to kill a child.

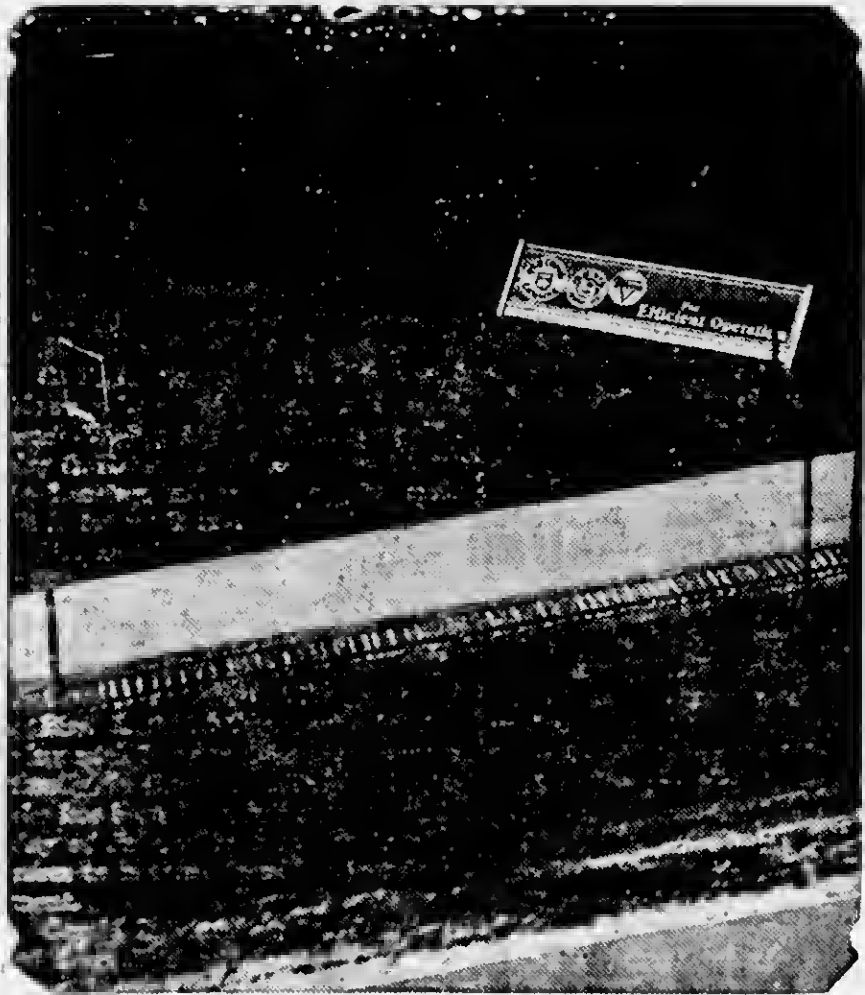

In one of the nation's large cities some men recently killed two policemen. They plead self defense, thinking the police were rival gangsters and they shot in self defense. The jury did not convict.

That is America.
Now let us tell you about England. In London there were 18 murders in 1928. That number compares with the record of any small city in the United States.

The 18 murderers were all apprehended. Eleven of them were convicted and punished for their crimes. Seven committed suicide.

It makes a great difference as to whether crime is encouraged or punished.—Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Review.

W. E. Parmelee makes screen windows and doors.—Adv. 131f.

On the outskirts of Detroit, near the Ford airport, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has erected a large painted bulletin board advertising its products to those who travel by air. This board is over fifty feet long by fifteen feet high and is set at an angle of forty-five degrees to make it easily read by those who fly over the area and also clearly visible to the motorists who drive along the highway nearby.

This is an advertising innovation. It is the first purely commercial bulletin board ever built, the primary purpose of which is to catch the attention of that rapidly expanding public who have become air-minded. The decision of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to utilize this unique form of advertising is an eloquent expression of their belief that aviation is on the eve of tremendous expansion, and that transportation by air soon will be a commonplace means of getting from one part of the country to another. The location of this bulletin board is such that a large number of the airplanes that come and go from the Ford field pass near enough to it to enable those who ride to see and read the message.

INDIANS TO LEAD PAGEANT PARADE

Event Big Summer Feature at Potoskey on August 19.

Led by a native-garbed Indian whose grandfather was a trusty hawke in the tribe of Chief Petoskey before the days of the white man in Northern Michigan, the mammoth parade which comprises the main feature of the Northern Michigan Summer Pageant at Petoskey will start promptly at 11:00 eastern standard time next Monday, August 19. The same Indian, Frank Greenleaf, led last year's parade which drew nation-wide attention and was pictured on the front pages of newspapers in the large cities of the middle west and also in news reels shown throughout the country.

Spurred by the incentive of $400 in cash prizes as well as the natural desire to out-do last year's parade, Petoskey business men and others from surrounding resorts and cities have promised their support to the project, assuring a spectacle worth going many miles to see. Various features planned for the afternoon include a program by Sid Trucker and his Ramona Park Casino orchestra.

In the evening, the Indian Pow Wow which was staged so successfully last year will be repeated, with added features which more than 40 Indians have been rehearsing for several weeks. Among these numbers will be the war dance as it was danced before the days of the white man, the war drums, peace meetings, treaty trees and wig-wags. The Indian dogs, children and camp fires will be just as real as they were in the days when Father Marquette visited the tribes along the shores of Little Traverse Bay.

FAMOUS TENT SHOW IN NEIGHBORING CITY

Sparks Circus to Be in Petoskey on Monday, August 26.

Monday, August 26, afternoon and night, under huge masses of canvas, the finest circus ever made by the ingenuity and courage of men, will parade and show in Petoskey on Monday, August 26, to make the young folks happy and the old folks young. The great street parade is on Monday morning at 11:00. First of all, a real wild animal circus is a 1929 acquisition, having been imported from the world's greatest wild animal training quarters at Stellingen, Germany. Included in these displays will be found lions, leopards, polar and grizzly bears, trained ostriches and zebras, the Sparks' group of "Rotation" horses, three elephant herds, fancy gaited and posing horses trained under the guiding hand of Carlos Carreon. Then there is the Bibb County Pig Circus.

AUGUST COURT IS IN SESSION

JUDGE JAMES S. PARKER OF FLINT, PRESIDING.

Grist of Probation Cases Heard by Judge Gilbert Monday—Some Fined, Others Continued.

Judge Parm C. Gilbert of Traverse City opened the August term of circuit court here Monday morning and disposed of a grist of probation cases on the docket. He left Tuesday to preside over the court term at Bellaire, turning the Charlevoix court over to Judge James S. Parker of Flint, who will preside during the remainder of the session.

Monroe VanCamp failed to appear for sentence on a charge of statutory rape. His case has been continued until the October term.

The case of Mike Seganek, violation of prohibition law, was continued.

Joe Saults failed to appear on a similar count. He will be apprehended by officers and must pay fine of $300 at once.

Jacob Bendik paid $275, the balance of his fine on a wet count.

The probations of Sam Pavalik, Paul Carrow, Guy Pearl, Hilton Marshall, Louis James, Isaac Young, James Earl, Edwin Ewing and Harry Roof, liquor law violators, were continued.

In other liquor cases Joe Genzle was dismissed; Henry Einwachter's probation was continued and he was ordered to pay $25 at once; George Santos was ordered to pay $30 within 30 days and he will be dismissed; William Boak was ordered to pay his fine at once.

William Anthony, on probation for assault and battery, failed to appear and was ordered to report this week.

Raymond Yell must pay $25 and costs within 60 days on larceny count. His case was continued to the May term.

The cases of Lynn Evans, William Thorpe, Forrest Eggers, Edward Joe, Grant Helbig, Roy Brown, Kenneth Christenson and Lloyd Hoag, with charges ranging from non-support to breaking and entering, were continued.

A jury found Adam Pawlak not guilty on a charge of assault with intent to rape. This case was heard Tuesday and is the only jury case completed as we go to press.

Sparks' seals, and hosts of others of a novel nature. The circus will also introduce the elaborately staged spectacle, "Lily of the Nile," in which all of the animals, performers, premier dancers, and a large chorus participate. Sparks' circus today is the largest in the world still offering a daily street parade and has been tripled in size since its former visit to this section. Excursion rates on all railroads. Don't forget the date, Monday, August 26, at Petoskey.

HOSPITAL TAG DAY WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Nearly One Thousand Dollars Returned After Day's Drive.

Last Saturday marked another very successful tag day for the Charlevoix hospital. Through the usual very generous response of local and summer people, the sum of $886.20 was raised to help defray the annual deficit of that institution.

Prize winners among the tag sellers and the amounts they collected were as follows: Girls' first prize, Janet Livingston, collected $216.32; second prize, Kate Sulzburger, $59; third prize, Alice Moch, $39.36; fourth prize, Katherine Carrier, $28.15; fifth prize, Dorothy Partidge, $21.99. Boys' first prize, Jefferson Miller, $107.92; second, Chas. Levinson, $64; third, Albert McMillan, $39.99; fourth, Louis Grossman, $33.99; fifth, Robert Livingston, $9.20.

The merchants who gave money toward prizes were H. B. Jacobs, Robt. Bonthron, Martin Block, E. Van Allsburg, Milton Block, A. & P. store, Argo Milling Co., R. C. Korth, Alonzo Powers. The merchants from whom prizes were purchased gave very liberal discounts.

The Charlevoix hospital board of directors and the woman's auxiliary wish to thank everyone for their splendid co-operation in making the tag day drive a success.

A LECTURE

Entitled

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The Way of Salvation
Through Christ

by

James R. Rowell, C. S. of Kansas City, Missouri

Member of The Christian Science

Board of Lectureship of

The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston,

Massachusetts.

The lecturer was introduced by Dr. F. H. Wilkinson, who said in part: "Jesus said 'Come unto me all ye who labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest.' Today after a lapse of nearly 2000 years, Christian Science is repeating the invitation, and weary and heavy laden humanity is accepting it, and finding relief from their burdens of sickness, sin and death, and is enjoying a fuller and freer outlook on life.

"Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come to him, and will sup with him, and he with me." These, my friends, are the words of the Christ, the "Spirit of truth," as recorded by John, the beloved disciple. And these words were the inspiration for the artist's conception of the famous picture, "The Light of the World." He depicts, you remember, the Christ as the man, Jesus, standing before a closed door with a lantern in his hand. The light from this lantern casts a bright but yellow glow over all revealing that the door in front of him is covered with a net-work of vines, the parent stem of which is very strong and heavy. Within all is darkness. It is said that the artist was once criticized because there is no knock or handle on the outside with which to open the door. He quickly replied, "Ah! but this door can be opened only from within."

Friends, this door is the door of human consciousness. No one can open your door for you. You must open your own door to the precious light of Truth. The inspiration comes from the Christ, Truth, ever calling, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Would you break the tangled vines of fear, ignorance and sin? Would you open your door to this messenger of God? Then there must be conscious effort on your part. Your very presence here today is evidence to the fact that you are endeavoring to hear his voice, to open your mental door to the light of Truth, and, perhaps, when you have gained a clearer view of Christian Science, you will step forth to follow the Christ, Truth.

Discoverer and Founder

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, and the author of its textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, has been called the "still small voice," the Christ, Truth, calling to her as it calls to everyone.

At her mother's knee little Mary Baker had learned to love God and to believe that He could heal the sick. But how the healing was accomplished and why it came, she did not know. Her fervent prayer was not clear. She grew up a faithful, earnest student of the Bible. Added years brought trials, losses, and lingering invalidism. These experiences taught her the utter emptiness of human means and means, the impossibility of satisfying even human needs by human means. Her spiritual longings led her at last to a glimpse of the Christ, Truth. In the beautiful language of the Bible, she supplanted with him and he with her. In the light of Truth, her heart was transformed and she was healed. Like the patriarch of old, she clung to her "angel visitor" until her "name was changed." (Science and Health, pp. 224, 205.) Her nature transformed, and she was enabled to give to the world the result of her communion with God, Christian Science. Could it have been over this revelation that she was yearning when she wrote (Hymnal, p. 240):

"O gentle presence, peace and joy and power;
O life divine, that owns each waiting hour.

Thou Love that guards the nestling's fall from flight;
Kiss Thou my child on upward wing to-night."

In sweet assurance of God's presence and protection she penned the second stanza as if in answer to her prayer:

"Love is our refuge; only with mine eye
Can I behold the snare, the pit, the fall;
His habitation high is here, and nigh,
His arm encircles me, and mine, and all."

Blessed indeed is he who recognizes the ever-present and available Christ, the truth about God and His infinite creation, and opens wide the door of human consciousness to let in the light of the Christ, Truth. This is the beginning of wisdom, the unfolding of "life, without beginning and without end" (Science and Health, p. 253). This is coming to God in the way of His appointing, for Christ Jesus said, "Ye may cometh unto the Father, but by me."

Christ

It may be asked, "What is this Christ, Truth?" On page 583 of the Christian Science textbook, Mrs. Eddy defines Christ as "the divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error." It has been mistakenly said that Christian Science does not teach the divinity of Christ. "Divine manifestation of God," this definition alone makes it plain that Christian Science does teach the divine nature of Christ. But if by "the divinity of the Christ" (Science and Health, p. 25) is meant that the corporeal Jesus, born of Mary, is God, or is the eternal Christ, and is divine, then Christian Science does teach a different concept of the divinity of Christ. Christian Science reveals the fact that nothing finite or material is ever has been divine. Jesus had a material body not unlike those around him. It is true that he was the son of a virgin. On page 20 of Science and Health Mrs. Eddy explains his extraordinary birth as follows: "The illumination of Mary's spiritual sense put to silence material law and its order of generation, and brought forth her child by the revelation of Truth, demonstrating God as the Father of men." There is, however, a vital distinction between the bodily Jesus and the divine, ever-present, ever available, eternal, spiritual Christ. Jesus was the most Godlike man that ever walked the earth, while the Christ which he revealed is "the divine manifestation of God."

Christ, God's idea, spiritual, perfect and eternal, was always present before and after Jesus' time, and was just as available to all prepared to accept it before and after Jesus' earthly span of existence as it was during that time.

Christ, Scientists do not fail to appreciate Jesus' complete renunciation of a human sense of selfhood apart from God and the sacrifices that were required of him to maintain his true spiritual selfhood.

Later he became known to the world as Jesus the Christ, with one through Christ, Truth. His absorption in the things of God, of Spirit, is shown when he was but twelve years old. His family departed from Jerusalem without him. Returning two days later to seek him, they found him in the temple, "sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions." It is recorded that "all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers." He replied, "How is it that ye sought me? Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"

Through his tireless striving for more of the Christ understanding, and his faithful practice of that which he had already gained, Jesus was enabled to so live and so demonstrate Christ, the ideal man, that the title "the Christ" was conferred upon him by those who knew him best.

Jesus detected the worship of his personality in the thought of those about him. He saw that human thought was attributing the healing power to his personal power, and he accomplished, to his human personality, Jesus knew that God was the "healer of all thy disease," as the Bible declares. The Christ, his spiritual, selfhood, had revealed God as the healer of all disease, and he, Jesus, as the power and preserver of all that really exists.

A certain woman who had suffered for twelve years, entertained the belief that true Christianity is a selfish thing. She would be healed, she put her thought into action, she touched his clothes, and she was instantly healed. Jesus read the woman's thought and saw in the occurrence an opportunity to rebuke the erroneous theory that the power to heal sin and sickness was inherent in his material personality, and even in his clothing.

He saw that this theory ignored the presence and power of God, divine Principle, and that it was the ability of His Christ, which Jesus came to demonstrate. Knowing that healing was a spiritually mental phenomenon and not a material one, and that the only power to heal truly and permanently was the divine Mind, Spirit, and not in matter, Jesus brought home a helpful lesson to all those in the throng when he said, compassionately, "Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole."

Jesus healing by his own divine Principle was looking to, and depending upon, his personality instead of upon divine Mind, which he was striving so faithfully to get them to understand. He knew that the understanding of God, which is the divine Mind, was vital to their progress and to the practical proof of what he taught. Of his human personality Jesus said: "It is expedient for you that I go away: for I go not away, the Comforter will come unto you, but if I depart, I will send him unto you."

Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth." Thus Jesus revealed to all those interested in Christian progress, the abundant and the unmistakable way to gain the Comforter, the Christ, the "Spirit of truth," who, as Jesus said, "will guide you into all truth." To look beyond human personality to the spiritual, which is the Christ, who is to strive to understand his divine Principle, God; this is the way.

In one who addressed him as "Good Master," Jesus detected an attempt to exalt human personality instead of God, the divine Principle, and nature was but a reflection. He grasped the opportunity to teach another lesson in real values when he replied, "Why callest thou me good? There is none good but one, that is, God."

Jesus was aware of the significance and value of his daily life to all mankind. He knew that he was living the Christ, the "Spirit of truth," without measure, and that what he had grasped of the truth of his life, he had fixed and demonstrated among men, would remain a convincing example for all mankind. He knew that his example would inspire men to live and to demonstrate in their own lives the same Christ, the same "Spirit of truth."

Mistaking the human personality of Jesus for the Christ, "the way, the truth, and the life," is the exact opposite of what Jesus himself taught; and the responsibility for the prevalent ignorance of God, Spirit, and for the inability of professing Christians to heal by spiritual means. Entertaining a mistaken or false sense of Christ, God's divine manifestation, man has neither a true sense of God nor of His creation, and therefore shuts himself out from God's ever-present goodness and power through his own blindness and ignorance.

For more than fifty years the textbook of Christian Science, has been in general circulation informing those who are ready how to find the Christ, and how through him to combat the forces of evil, and to have taken advantage of Mrs. Eddy's discovery, and are proving by healing all manner of sickness, and by overcoming sin, that Christ, Truth, is present and operative here and now. Thus through and death, evil, sickness, and death, which are excluded (Science and Health, p. 186) of Christ, Truth, human consciousness will finally be instructed out of belief in itself, out of its beliefs in chance and chance, into the understanding that there is no God, and that God who forever maintains His eternal, infinite, harmonious creation, the spiritual universe, including spiritual man.

God

Everyone believes in some cause or creator of the universe of which he finds himself a part. Christians, those who trust Christ Jesus as their way-shower, receive Scriptural authority for thinking of the first great cause or creator as God, as Spirit, Life, Truth, and Love. As the fruit of years of consecrated study of the Bible in its spiritual import, Mrs. Eddy expressed the idea of Science and Health, "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love." A few lines farther on she tells us that these are synonymous terms and are "intended to express the nature of God; and wholeness of Deity."

We note in this definition that God is incorporeal. Jesus defined God thus when he said, "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." In the year 1530 there was written by "the gentle Malmesham" and approved by Luther what is known as the Augsburg Confession of Faith. In it God was expressly defined as incorporeal. This same truth was later re-stated in the Westminster Confession of 1647, which clearly set forth the views of John Calvin, the great reformer. The Westminster confession reads in part, "There is but one living and true God, who is infinite in being and perfection, a most pure spirit, invisible, without body, parts or passions."

Where but in the mist of falsity could have originated the belief that God is a physical personality; that He is a glorified mortal creature in a far-off place called heaven? It sounds like mythology, doesn't it? In truth, it is just that.

Before Christ, Truth, appears to a mortal, he lives in a world of myth and of mystery. He sees, as the Bible says, "through a glass, darkly." The clouded lens of material sense, with its many angles, leads mortals to see and to believe in countless inverted images, grotesque counterfeits of the one perfect God and His perfect creation. One believes in the first great cause or creator to be a super-mortal governed by passions like those entertained by his fellows.

Another accepts as first great cause an unintelligent, material force which begins in the lowest forms of matter and rises from non-intelligence to intelligence. One worships blindly a graven image, another the sun, another an imaginary power or influence exerted by the stellar universe upon the earth, and so on. The result is not until the truth about God and His creation is found out and accepted can one render intelligent obedience to the first commandment: Thou shalt have no other gods before me. Christ, the true revelation of God as Spirit, divine Mind, and reveal His spiritual universe, including spiritual man. Through the clear lens of spiritual sense, the awakened mortal sees that the only true God has been, and always will be, the divine, all-loving Mind. Then he catches a glimpse of his own true immortal selfhood, the image and likeness of one perfect Father-Mother, God.

For right reason, Mrs. Eddy says (Science and Health, p. 192) "there should be but one fact before the thought, namely, spiritual existence."

Man

Christian Science teaches that the nature, quality, and attributes of God are expressed and that the name or designation for all that expresses God, for the full and complete reflection of God, is man. Man is predestined to express in infinite variety the good, which is God, to be love, just, and affectionate; to be honest, truthful, and pure; to be intelligent and active. Each individual must sooner or later fulfill God's ideal of man. Christian Science reveals that the real man, spiritual, harmonious and eternal, the reflection of his Father-Mother God, who is Spirit, is the only man there is. Material sense or the so-called mortal or carnal mind pictures another man, a dishonest, fearful, sick, and hateful mortal man, or perhaps a so-called exemplary mortal, who believes fully in the substantiality of matter and accepts sin and sickness as if they were God-provided agencies for producing good. Neither of these is the man God made, and neither is the mortal man.

Christian Science teaches us to correct our false beliefs about God's man, for it shows us logically that man is God-like, therefore spiritual, harmonious, and eternal. This man is not just a nebulous idea to be realized far off in the distant future. It is the true nature of your neighbor, your child, your enemy, yourself, right now.

No one has ever understood the real man more fully or more clearly than did Jesus. That he did not depend upon the testimony of the material sense for his concept of the real man is shown when he healed the withered hand, when he raised Lazarus from the grave. When he was trying to make clear to his disciples his own true selfhood, he said, "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing." Christian Science points out that Jesus' healed men have been fully awakened. He had learned that it is only the false material sense of things that needs to be changed in order to bring out health, harmony, and dominion. In Jesus' experience this false sense of things had yielded to reason and revelation, and the true sense of God and His perfect universe had been enthroned in his thought. Mrs. Eddy spoke of Jesus' advanced spiritual understanding as follows: "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick" (Science and Health, pp. 476 and 477). Every effort to see the perfect man helps one's self and all mankind.

John said, "now are we the sons of God." Fellow Christians, there is no power on earth that can keep us from realizing this fact right here and now, and proving it. The arousing words of Paul are full of meaning for you and for me: "Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light."

Until one does behold in Science the perfect man and the perfect universe, one seems to be lost in the dream-world of material sense, where such opposites as good and evil, life and death, love and hate, spirit and matter are supposed to unite and to cooperate, and where chance and change hold sway.

To-day is truly the harvest time spoken of by Jesus in one of his parables, and the reapers must follow their instructions: "Gather ye together that the tares (false beliefs) and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat (right ideas) into my barn." Christian Science bids us behold the perfect man and be at peace. To do so, one must open one's door, let in the Christ, and sup with him. The change is to take place wholly within one's own individual consciousness. The real man will be found to have been forever the unchanging expression of God, of Life, Truth, and Love.

Mortals and Immortals

Christian Science makes a very clear distinction between mortals and immortals. It reveals a mortal to be a falsely mental concept, the objectification of a supposititious mortal mind; an immortal to be a divinely mental idea, an individual reflection or expression of the one divine Mind, God. A mortal is mortal mind's perverted image of the immortal or real man. An immortal, from the very nature of his being, has a beginning. Mortality, therefore, is not the prior state of an immortal. The unreal counterfeit nature of a mortal must be detected before the real man begins to dawn upon human thought.

Let us examine, in the light of Truth, one of the experiences of mortals. Take for illustration the experience called suffering. Christian Science reveals the fact that mortals suffer pain by reason of a conscious or unconscious belief in or fear of pain and not on account of the condition of their material bodies. Christian Science shows that the way in which suffering is destroyed is mental, not physical. It is through changing one's understanding, the slowness of the belief in or fear of suffering, and not through doing anything to the body. Christian Science reveals that every healing that mortal man experiences outside of the material universe. One believes the wrong what means are employed, is a faith healing and is brought about mentally, not physically. Apparent physical healing may result from blind faith in a drug, in a person, in air, in exercise, in diet, etc. The change takes place first in thought, quickly or slowly, and is followed by a corresponding change in the body. But unless the healing is brought about through faith in God, advanced to spiritual understanding, the healing of that man is worse than the first, because he is still the servant of blind belief, a belief more powerful in his thought than the one which he has given up.

Mortal mind is ignorant of the control it exercises over the material body. It believes that the mortal, material body is changed through some law of matter and that afterward this change becomes apparent to mortal consciousness. This belief ignores the fact that the material body, with every one of the changes for ease or disease which takes place in it, is the explicit expression of mortal mind itself. Nonintelligent matter is neither a law maker nor a law enforcer, and it is clear that the so-called law to which the body responds has its origin and operation wholly within this same mortal mind. In Science it is learned that the mortal material body is but a subordinate of mortal mind, and is the obedient objectification of this mind, whether it expresses disease or so-called health and dominion. Disease is an effect, which has its origin in this mind, and it is never really healed unless the mortal mind is corrected scientifically by God, divine Mind. The practice of Christian Science goes to the root of the difficulty, and eradicates the trouble at the point of cause and not that of effect.

Christian Science shows that cause is never in matter. Those who think that they find the cause either of disease or of pleasure in matter are being deceived. Neither sensation nor its cause is to be found in matter. Matter is plainly a false belief about substantial matter, a so-called material, mortal or carnal mind. In truth and in fact, God, divine Mind, is the only cause, and all that results from this one great cause is, like Him, wholly spiritual, wholly good. When healing is accomplished by divine Mind, the mortal mind, the mortal man's false beliefs are displaced and supplanted by a scientific, spiritual understanding of the real, which is always harmonious, and never subject to chance or change. This healing activity operates again and again as individual consciousness until the mortal concept is finally dropped for the immortal and the spiritual man of God's creating stands revealed—the only man.

Prayer

"Desire is prayer," Mrs. Eddy tells us (Science and Health, p. 1). But not every desire is righteous prayer. The desire to forsake evil of every kind is righteous prayer. To reach the goal of realization of spiritual existence is the goal of all true prayer. The earnest desire to prove yourself to be the man God created you to be; the willingness to do what He intended you to do; this is prayer. In this true sense of prayer, all nature is found. The tree lifts up its limbs and leaves to the sun for strength to be a perfect specimen of its kind, the spring bulbs brave the snow and cold of March to praise unending Life.

Sustained by faith in the infinite power of God, good, man crowned with the joy of spiritual understanding, prayer will "heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils." True prayer means to see and to experience the perfect will of God, good, as the only will, and to refuse belief in any will apart from that of God.

To improve the quality of our prayers, our desires, should enlist the honest endeavor of every one of us. We must stop praying "my will be done" and learn to desire God's will. The will of God for us surpasses, beyond all human comprehension, every possible wish or hope or plan which we may be entertaining for ourselves. We must learn to lay down our worldliness, our fleshliness, and to desire God's will done, the reign of Spirit supreme.

It is not the purpose of true prayer to inform the infinite Mind, or to petition divine Love to pardon sins or to forgive mistakes. The real purpose of prayer is to spiritualize consciousness by letting in the Christ, Truth. This destroys sin and heals sickness as it leads one into realization of his real selfhood as a child of God. Christian Science recognizes many kinds of prayer; the prayer of spiritual aspiration or desire, the prayer of praise and rejoicing, the prayer of faith and of holy unselfed purpose, the prayer of gratitude, and finally, the prayer of spiritual understanding expressed in affirmation. "Deen and conscientious protests of Truth" (Science and Health, p. 12) correct our false views of life and establish in thought the truth of being, the realization that the universe, including man, is not material, but spiritual, and that, in God's universe, everything from the least to the greatest, is just as God intended it to be and does exactly what He created it to do.

Mrs. Eddy has given back to the world and established in the Christian Science Church the form of prayer that Jesus commended to his followers in these words: "But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly." Only through silent prayer can the deceiving material senses be shut out and communion with God be established through spiritual sense.

If you really desire to progress, let nothing keep you from praying to God. Let nothing keep you from enjoying today more of God's goodness, purity, freedom from fear, sickness, and sorrow. The argument may come to you that you do not know how to pray aright; that you will do so when you learn how. Perhaps it will tell you that you should be better before praying to God; that you will pray as soon as you become better. Perhaps you confess that you believe fully in prayer, but that you are too busy now and that when you are not so busy you will pray. These arguments, my friends, with many others, are impervious to the cunningly devised and disguised shackles with which to bind mortal man in slavery to the material senses. Remember that whenever you do not pray to God, divine Love, you are the complacent slave of mortal sense, not lifting a protesting hand in your own defense. We must learn to turn naturally to God for divine direction. This will bring more of health, harmony, and dominion into our daily lives, and will speed our journey "from sense to Soul" (Science and Health, p. 566).

Truth Applied.

All about us are those who are learning to apply through prayer, this revealed knowledge of God and His Christ to their daily affairs. A simple case in point is that of a young man who testified in a Wednesday evening meeting which I attended. Things had been going from bad to worse for him in his business for some time. After running about in great deal and working very hard, he arrived at length at a place where he had had no sales or collections for two weeks. Then he sought a Christian Science practitioner. When he had stated his case, she asked him what his real business was. He said he knew enough about Christian Science to know what answer was expected. He said, "My real business is to reflect God." Then the practitioner continued: "Are you attending closely to that business; are you loving your customer, your competitor, your fellow worker? Are you absolutely honest and truthful in regard to everything which you are selling? Are you just to yourself as well as to your customer? Are you alert to opportunity; keen to detect unfairness and to know its powerlessness? Are you rejoicing in the fact that God supplies your every need through His perfect law of reflection? And that the man who reflects God has no need?" "Fortunately," he said, "she asked the questions so fast that I was spared the humiliation of reply." These questions, however, set him to thinking, to praying, to reflecting with God; with the result that that month's business exceeded what he had done in any previous month, although he had lost fully ten days of right activity at its beginning. When the month's sales were tallied that God is divine Mind and not a thing to be desired intelligence instead of dashing around as fear had suggested; when he acknowledges divine Mind to be Principle, and Principle to be the source of all right activity, he prayed that Principle to be Love, for his every need was met.

Atonement.

Jesus taught and demonstrated the atonement of Christ, and thus began "the way, the truth, and the life" to all those seeking the Father and the Father's house. Christian Science teaches that individual salvation rests upon no other basis than the atonement of Christ, as exemplified in the life of Christ Jesus. Christ does not reconcile God, divine Mind, to mortals, alias mortal mind. The purpose of the Christ is to present to human consciousness the allness, the completeness, the ability of divine Mind, so winningly, so convincingly, that human consciousness will abandon its claim to being mind and will yield to Spirit, God, the only Mind. This is the reconciliation which took place in Jesus' thought; this is the atonement of Christ which all of us must sooner or later demonstrate; this is also God's forgiveness of sin—the destruction of sin.

Salvation.

Through Jesus' right thinking, his sacrifices, and his suffering, he gave up all belief in material life, all its false pleasures and pains—and gained the consciousness of life eternal, ever peaceful and harmonious. Thus Jesus worked out his own salvation. His human consciousness was exchanged for the divine. This experience, however, does not change the individual thinking of others and therefore does not of itself provide salvation to those who simply believe in the name of Jesus. Our salvation depends upon a change in our own consciousness from a material to a spiritual basis. In the way Jesus worked out his own salvation, we are shown how to work ours. Each one of us, to be saved, must overcome evil with good, hatred with love, ignorance with intelligence, belief in matter with the understanding of true substance—until he demonstrates that he is conscious of but one Mind, one God, creating, governing, and directing all.

Salvation is individual. We are (Continued on page 8) is often an art, but when it is a savings pass-book you are "making," it becomes a science. For if you consistently deposit a part of your income, the progress of the book becomes a scientific, exact matter of addition and subtraction.

Of course, a savings passbook will not ornament a library table. But it is a creation that makes a valuable ornament to anyone's pride, comfort, and sense of security.

Why not take the first step toward "making" such a book by opening your Savings Account now?

August 22, 23, 24—One Thousand Dollars in Prizes Will Be Given.

The Carl O. Weaver Post of the American Legion, Petoskey, has undertaken a new project, and that is the building of an American Legion home.

In order to further their ambition, the Petoskey Legion is planning a fair which will take place August 22, 23 and 24. The fair will be held on what is known as the City Market Grounds, on the corner of Howard and Michigan streets.

There will be various attractions at the fair, various articles will be sold on the wheel. On the night of the 24th the Grand Prizes will be drawn and the winners announced. There will be one thousand dollars worth of prizes given away.

The Baptist Ladies will hold a bake goods sale and bazaar at Staley's hardware, August 24.

ALIVE

with spirit and the will to go

Once you drive a new Dodge Six, you'll never cease to marvel at its dash, its vim, its sparkling alacrity. It is so much more than just a piece of machinery. It is fairly surcharged with life and animation—alive with spirit and the will to go. It typifies the finest, most modern design and construction. In the quality of its materials and the precision with which it is manufactured it is unsurpassed. Scores of other refinements give the new Dodge Six a zest, a smoothness and a flexibility unapproached by any other car comparable in price. It is, indeed, an unmatched value.

AGRICULTURAL HAPPENINGS

Cow-test Association Reorganizes.
Charlevoix county can be justly proud of the results of its cow-test association in that for seven consecutive years the testing work has been going on and not a single test has been missed between years. Each year from 25 to 27 of the leading dairymen have placed their herds on test, thereby placing their dairy business on a real paying basis and securing the actual production and net profits from each cow.

The new year started the first of August with a membership of 26 members and under the supervision of a new tester by the name of Eddie Mortimer, who has previously successfully supervised a cow-test association in Montcalm county. All the members anticipate a very profitable year under his guidance and prospects point to one of the best years ever experienced in this county.

The following is the membership for the new year: James Nice, Walter Heileman, Charles Murphy, Roscoe Smith, R. V. Liskum, James Murray, Irving Crawford, Murphy Brothers, Dan Swanson, Earl Danforth, John Seiler, Orvie Gunsolus, Joel Bennett & Son, East Jordan; Floyd Black, Wm. Withers, George Meggison, Bert Elliott, Ecklund Brothers, Louis Shapton, Edd Potter, Hiram Brock, Breezy Point Farm, Charlevoix; Harry Behling, Frank A.

W. Behling, Clyde Clute, Boyne City; Nickols farm, Ellsworth.

Certified Potato Inspection.

Again our certified potato growers are enjoying a brief breathing spell, as is always the case between inspections. Many sleepless nights are spent wondering what the darned inspector will do the next day with the potato field. Well anyway the first inspection has been completed and only a small percentage of the acreage was turned down. This year the requirements are much more rigid and it takes a much better field to pass the inspection.

Dry weather has somewhat hindered the growth and development of potatoes, but nevertheless they are standing the weather conditions fine and are giving promise of good yields. As this goes to press, a nice rain has fallen so we are more optimistic over the prospects. Some farmers are saying that if the county agent is retained another year he must, in addition to his other duties, control weather conditions. This will be done.

July Report of the Charlevoix Co. Dairy Herd Improvement Ass'n.
Two hundred and forty-two cows were tested in July with an average production of 720 pounds of milk and 29.8 pounds of butterfat. Fifteen separators were tested and found to be satisfactory.

The high herds were as follows: small herds, first, R. V. Liskum, six grade Guernseys, 961 pounds of milk and 37.63 pounds of butterfat; second, Charles Murphy, five grade Guernseys, 722 pounds of milk and 32 pounds of butterfat. Medium sized herd: first, Hiram Potter, seven Grade Guernseys, 960 pounds of milk and 37.86 pounds of butterfat; second, Edd Potter, ten Grade Holsteins, 1,090 pounds of milk and 37.14 pounds of butterfat. Large herd: first, Fred Larson, 16 mixed cows, 754 pounds of milk and 32.42 pounds of butterfat; second, William Withers, 33 Holstein and Jersey, 773 pounds of milk and 27.66 pounds of butterfat.

High cows were as follows: two-year-old class, first, George Meggison, pure bred Jersey, 868 pounds of milk and 47.8 pounds of butterfat; second, Bert Elliott's Grade Guernsey, 1,075 pounds of milk and 44.1 pounds of butterfat; third, Hiram Potter, Grade Guernsey, 1,045 pounds of milk and 43.9 pounds of butterfat.

Three-year-old class: first, George Meggison, pure bred Jersey, 961 pounds of milk and 52.9 pounds of butterfat; second, George Meggison, pure bred Jersey, 1,092 pounds of milk and 48.2 pounds of butterfat; third, Clinton Blanchard, Grade Holstein, 924 pounds of milk and 42.5 pounds of butterfat.

Four-year-old class: first, Edd Potter, Grade Holstein, 1,550 pounds of milk and 55.8 pounds of butterfat; second, William Withers, Grade Holstein, 1,035 pounds of milk and 47.6 pounds of butterfat; third, Bert Elliott, Grade Guernsey, 1,079 pounds of milk and 47.5 pounds of butterfat.

Cows five years and older: first, Breezy Point Farm, pure bred Holstein, 2,009 pounds of milk and 74.3 pounds of butterfat; second and third, Grade Holstein, 1,674 pounds of milk and 56.9 pounds of butterfat, 1,519 pounds of milk and 53.2 pounds of butterfat, respectively.

This is the last month in the association year and the new year is well started with enough members to make a successful association.

The annual report will be given at the Dairymen's picnic at Whiting park.

Potato Club Meetings.

The members of the Boyne City and East Jordan Potato clubs had two very instructive and profitable meetings on Thursday, August 1, with G. A. Thorpe, state potato club leader, present, and in charge of the discussion.

The Boyne City group met in the field owned by Robert Tainter and identified the few diseased hills found there, discussed the cultural methods used and other practices.

The East Jordan group met in the field of Rodney Rogers and conducted a similar demonstration. All of the 24 boys and girls engaged in this project are making very satisfactory progress in their work, and have some mighty fine fields of spuds to show for their efforts. In many cases their fields are located alongside of their fathers and we want to assure you they are running a merry race. Just wait for the final results and there will be several surprises.

One of the features of the demonstrations was the crops judging work that Mr. Thorpe conducted. He showed the young farmers how to judge and place samples of corn, beans, potatoes, and legumes.

These two clubs are actively sponsored by business men from the two cities, who financed the club project and agreed to visit their fields. Come on business men. See your junior partner. Many of you have forgotten to carry out this important feature. Lets have your co-operation.

HOGGING THE ROAD.

While without doubt trucks are indispensable in handling modern business and while because of the license they pay they are entitled to equal privileges on the road they should not because of their size assume the hogish attitude that so many of them have. Hardly a day passes but that complaints are registered at the filling stations, at the newspaper offices and at the tourist information bureaus regarding delays caused by the failure of trucks of various kinds to yield the necessary share of the road. While, as we have said, the trucks are entitled to the use of the road, their hogishness will result in but one thing and that is drastic regulation. Their owners and drivers must remember that the owners and drivers of smaller cars far outnumber them and that the voice of the majority will come very nearly representing "public opinion" to which an attentive ear is always turned by the lawmakers.

Courtesy on the road on the part of those who through size might dictate is a policy that will reap valuable rewards, but the arrogant attitude that is now apparent may bring about decided hardships.—Bemidji (Minn.) Sentinel.

FROM DOOR TO DOOR.

Door-to-door visitors in the old days generally asked for something to eat. Their requests were accompanied with hard luck tales calculated to break down any barrier and procure for them the things they wanted.

Nation-wide prosperity and a new generation of householders have about discouraged the old-time itinerant who tapped on the back door and said: "Laddy, can youse give a poor guy a bite to eat?" Today it is an exception to see one of their kind.

But we still have the "door-to-door" visitors. The new crop does not approach you with the plea of an empty stomach to be filled—but they are more dangerous to the household. They are sleek of hair, glib of tongue, and if you are not careful have a habit of tinking away with them much more than the price of a "handout."

They try to sell you everything from alk stockings to fur coats, which have been smuggled duty free across the border. Outside of possibly a few local canvassers the majority of them are frauds pure and simple. They misrepresent their goods, prey upon your gullibility, anything but your money.

Don't buy from them and you won't be disappointed. Your home town merchant can serve you best.

A LECTURE ENTITLED "CHRISTIAN SCIENCE"

thinking our way into the kingdom of heaven. We are not awaiting a final judgment-day, but our thinking is judged hourly by the standard of perfect God and perfect man. When the last mortal fault is destroyed in individual consciousness, then, for that one, will end forever the conflict between Spirit and the flesh, between real Mind and the counterfeit mortal mind, and he will find himself in the kingdom of heaven. That one has attained salvation, through experiencing in his thinking reconciliation to God through Christ.

This, my friends, is a glorious program of accomplishment; one to appeal to all that is right and just and noble in us. Mrs. Eddy tells us (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 118) that "the warfare with one's self is grand." We should keep in mind the promise, "He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son." In the words of an inspiring hymn (Hymnal, p. 14):

"Run the straight race through God's good grace,
Lift up thine eyes, and seek His face;
Life with its way before us lies,
Christ is the path, and Christ the prize."

"Spirit" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, August 11.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them" (Luke 4:40).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual life and its demonstration" (p. 241).

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Giving Washington a Bath.
The monument has been accumulating smoke and dirt and grime for three or four years. The treasury building and the patent building have year by year grown darker and darker under the foot of time. This has not seemed right and proper to such apostles of cleanliness as Col. U. S. Grant III, who is in charge of all public buildings at the capitol. An arduous task has gone forth to clean all of the public buildings and all of the monuments in the city. Even the iron horses that our brave Union heroes ride so permanently are to get a bath.

If the monument cannot take a plunge, then the plunge must be taken to the monument. Scalding steam and liquid soap, with probably a dash of acid, will be used for this monumental bath.

Now not any old soap will do to wash a monument. No harm must come to the monument; General Scott's horse must lose neither tail nor fetlock in his bath. So, Col. Grant has had the Bureau of Standards work out a formula which the cleaners will have to use. We cannot bathe without using the proper formula.

Air-minded Latin-America.
The air mail route from Chile to the United States is the longest in the world. Mail arrived by way of this route for the first time this week, having passed over 5,750 miles and crossed twelve countries in South and Central America. Its arrival also marked the completion of the first million miles of scheduled flying by the Pan-American system.

The development of airways in Latin America has been a remarkable phenomena. It is easy to fly in those regions than to travel by rail or pursue the few motor highways. So from one point in the Americas to another far-distant one, residents and tourists hourly wing their way in the most usual manner in the world.

Extension of the airway systems has been partly made with the cooperation of the United States. Contracts between our government and the Pan-American Airways have made possible the routes that sweep Mexico and all Central American republics down to the canal. The West India route to Cuba, Haiti, Santo Domingo and Porto Rico was so successful that within a fortnight after the first flight along that line, six planes a day were booked for two weeks ahead. Extension routes from both the West Indies and Panama along the northern coast of South America as far as Dutch Guiana are being organized. The Republic of Colombia alone has 17 new air ports, and the Colombian airway system reaches all cities of the Republic, provides for immediate connection.

Politics This Week.
The 1929 tariff situation was tragic from the beginning. What tariff fight isn't? Lately, however, it has assumed two relatively new aspects, we now venture to say that there has never been a battle so bitter or so comic. These characteristics go together, and they are unique in that they have sprung from the same source—the good old political pastime of statement-making.

The anti-protectionist faction began by shooting holes into high tariff complacency through the medium of pointed and lengthy statements from their senators. Protectionists poised began to waver (somewhat to the surprise of the attackers, we imagine) and then to give way altogether. Soon the latter group fired a series of acrimonious comebacks from their own Senators, and the battle of statements has been waging fiercely ever since. Therefrom radiate both the bitterness and the comedy.

It is tragically obvious, for one thing, that some of our dignified legislators have descended to the level of snarling. A deplorable result, but somehow funny. The fact that many of the attacks have been deliberate "teasing" for the sake of drawing fire and that much of the cavilling taken so seriously is delivered with ranting tongue in cheek, also makes matters more enjoyable. Best of all have been the attempts on both sides to "smoke out the President" for a statement. Feeling on this score run so high, in fact, that statements and gestures were kindly attributed to Mr. Hoover and duly reported to the press—only to be followed by prompt denials from the White House! President Hoover simply will not let his poise be devastated by and temptation to engage in the Sport of Statements.

Who Buys Our Exports?

The world's greatest source of sugar brought $155,383,000 worth of United States exports in 1928. It offered, a few months ago, to establish a preferential trade union with the United States which would aim to establish eventual free trade between the two countries. The United States turned the offer down rather indifferently, and now is proceeding to raise a tariff on sugar. Cuba is not so vociferous yet, but it, like the Philippines, depends on the United States tremendously, and a rebuff is not helpful.

Hoover Family Once "Huber."

"The typical Hoover is broad shouldered, thick-set, and of medium height, ranging from five feet, eight inches, to five feet, ten inches, weighing 175 pounds to 200 pounds and upward."

This description is given by Richard W. Staudt of the National Genealogical Society in a recent article on the Hoover ancestry. Mr. Staudt neglected to point out in detail the similarity, or dissimilarity, of the President to his typical forbears, but he does furnish many interesting sidelights on the Hoover origin. Herbert Hoover, for instance, is the first White House head who did not originate from the Dutch and British native stock. The President is of Swiss origin. Mr. Hoover himself recently confirmed this fact in a letter through his secretary to the director of the Swiss-American Historical Society.

The original family name was "Huber," later Anglicized in this country to the present form. Andreas Huber was the first of the family to arrive in America. His name appears among a list of emigrants of the ship "Twin Sisters" which landed in Philadelphia in 1738 or 1740. Andreas was the son of Jonas who was the son of Johann Heinrich Huber, citizen and linen weaver of Oberkum, in the Swiss canton of Aargau, formerly belonging to Bern. In about 1762, Andreas Huber moved with his family to North Carolina, and seemingly at the same time, he became Andrew Hoover. John Hoover, a direct descendant of Andrew, joined the Quaker migration to Ohio in 1802, and his son, Eli, born in 1820, was the grandfather of the present President. Jesse Clark Hoover, Herbert Hoover's father, was born in 1847. He died in 1880 and his wife died three years later, leaving the little Herbert an orphan at the age of eight.

Atlanta Suggests a Slogan.

The Atlanta Constitution suggests a winning slogan for the Democratic party, "Free Sugar on Every American Table!" There can be no doubt that if the Democratic party could make that slogan its own it would gain many adherents. But the revolt against the sugar tariff is not limited to Democrats or, indeed, to any particular section of the country. It is nation-wide and some of its leaders are as irreproachably Republican as Senator Capper of Kansas, who is going about the west telling the farmer what the sugar tariff is costing him in dollars and cents.

Senator Capper's attacks on the intrenched domestic sugar industry have struck consternation into the ranks of the beet barons who long have played a dominant role in Washington and Rocky Mountain politics. They are not so much disturbed at Senator Capper's telling audiences that the present unconscionably high sugar tariff exacts a tribute of $15 annually from every American family. That, with other aspects of the domestic sugar industry—its dependence upon Mexican peons, 3,000,000 of whom now live in the United States and constitute another racial problem; its forcing the American people to contribute $60,000,000 annually to the fabulously profitable sugar industries of Porto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippine Islands; its failure to live up to its responsibilities during the Great War; the enormous sums it has inveigled out of the treasury for irrigation projects, on which, according to ex-secretary Jardine, there is an outstanding unpaid balance of $79,000,000; the extravagant profits made during recent years by the intelligently located and managed beet-mills—these facts have all become public knowledge during the course of the recent House and Senate tariff hearings.

To repeat, it is not so much what arguments Senator Capper uses against the sugar tariff that worries the beet-sugar spokesmen. What has driven them into a bewildered huddle is the fact that he is attacking it. As expert politicians themselves they recognize the Kansas Senator's gift of political clairvoyance, his ability to foresee and get aboard political movements months before they acquire visible shape. With Senator Capper, political clairvoyant and wheel-horse of the Republican party, denouncing the sugar tariff raid, they foresee the end of a sin-eure which during the past generation has cost the American people a sum sufficient to build twenty Panama canals.

Soda Fountains Demanded Abroad.

American tourists abroad want their sodas in good old United States style. That desire is the basis of an important growth in one phase of our export trade, according to reports from the Department of Commerce. In the last five years, the report states, exports of soda fountains have almost tripled to shipments now valued at over a half-million dollars. Uncle Sam's nephews demanded the typically American drink in Canada, South America, Germany, Australia, and elsewhere on the globe, and the proprietors of confectionery and drug stores, with an eye to their all-important tourist trade, began to order the fountains from this country. The liking for sodas soon spread among the foreigners, and the result has been an increase in the value of soda fountain shipments from $189,797 to $537,814 since 1924.

BEWARE THESE FAKIRS.

This is written for the purpose of sounding a warning. Fake eye specialists are again operating in Michigan. A few days ago an old couple near Charlotte were persuaded to part with a thousand dollars after having been assured the operation was a success.

It is the lowest type of criminology that we know of. Their victims in almost every instance are old people with rapidly failing eyesight, who cling to the hope that they might be made to see again.

They work in pairs, one posing as a famed specialist from another state who happens to be in the vicinity on his vacation. Yes, he will perform the operation, but it must be kept a secret as he has no license to operate in the state.

Nothing is said about the cost until a fake operation has been performed, then a big fee is demanded, and they will take nothing but cash. The victim either has the cash in the bank, or disposes of some security. He pays them and they depart. When he discovers he has been victimized they are not to be found. Probably many are too proud to complain to the officers. There is no way of telling how many of these fake operations have taken place.

If a sleek stranger comes to your home and starts to talk about a friend of his who is a great eye specialist, pretend to be intensely interested in what he has to say, but in some manner notify your nearest officials. It will not take them long to expose the rascals and put them behind prison walls.

A FEAR DIES OUT.

Apparently the good old pastime of hunting for red radicals isn't quite as lucrative in this country as it was a few years ago.

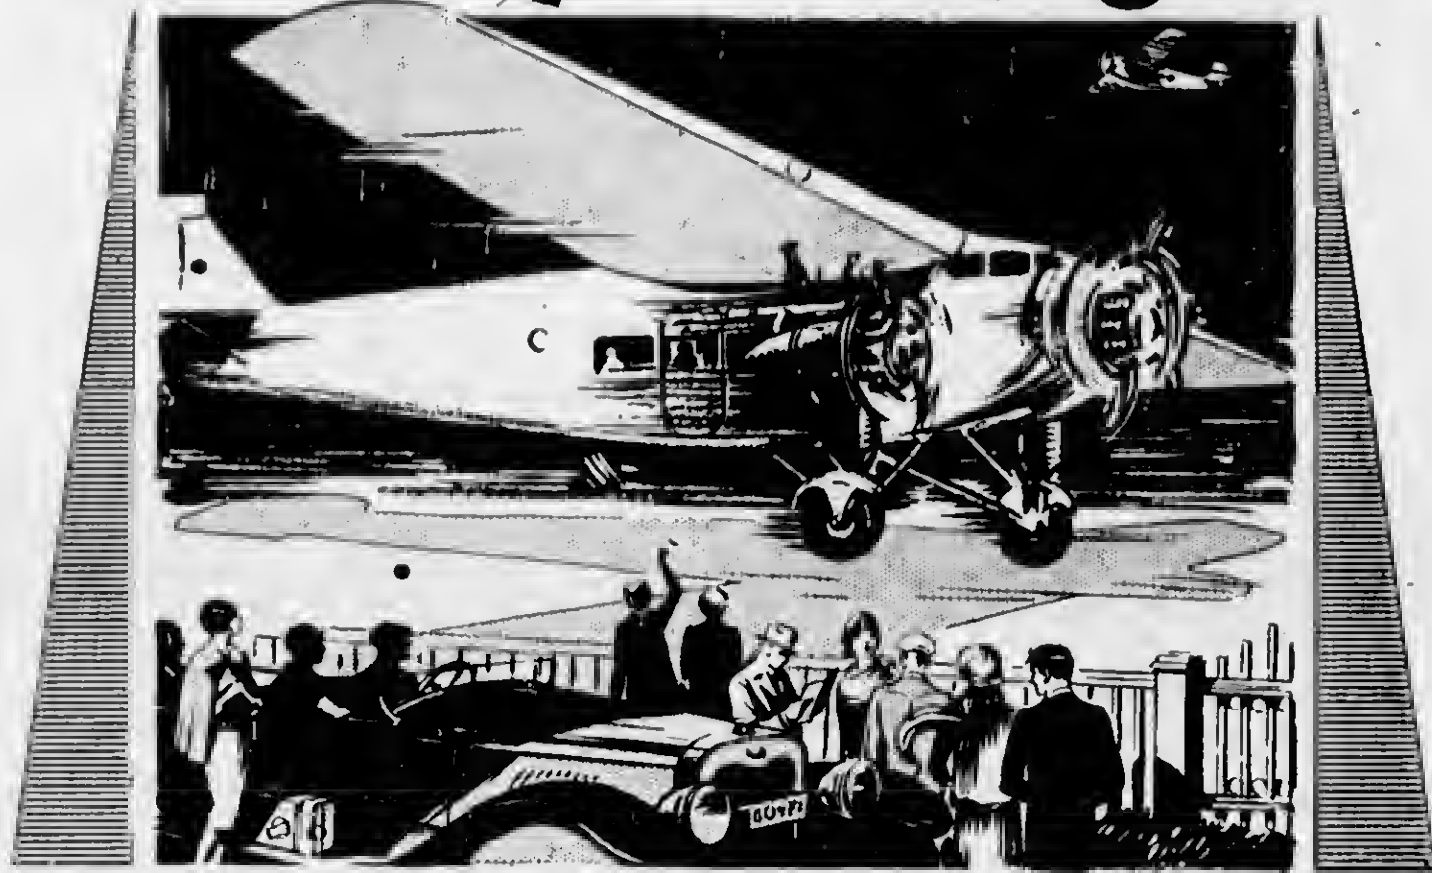

Fred P. Marvin, head of the Key Men of America, is finding that out. For a long time Marvin's organization has been issuing, to its subscribers, daily data sheets reporting "radical and subversive movements." No one could smell a Bolshevik as far off as Marvin. No one could so easily get in a panic over unsuspected dangers to the republic.

But now—alas!—the data sheets are being discontinued. This, Marvin explains, is due "to lack of financial support."

People are learning that getting scared of radicals is, for Americans, nothing less than silly. Mr. Marvin's downfall is a sign of our returning sanity.

when performance counts products of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are chosen. Their dependability is proved.

The planes of the Universal Aviation Corporation, as part of the new coast to coast air-rail passenger service, carry passengers and mail on regular schedule. The lubrication of their Wasp, Hornet and Wright Whirlwind engines is a vital matter—entrusted to this Company because it offers a Specialized Lubricating Service and a Quality of Oil unequalled.

Day in and day out, Stanolind Aviation products faithfully protect airplane engines of the Universal Aviation Corporation against friction.

Iso-Vis and Polarine

as faithfully protect automobile engines against friction. These two motor oils are unusually sturdy and unusually rich. They stand up under every strain of modern driving. They insure smooth performance and a long life for modern motors.

Iso-Vis is a newer motor oil—equally dependable. It represents a sensational advance in lubrication for it will not thin out. Motorists drive for 1000 or 2000 miles without draining Iso-Vis.

Polarine has been kept abreast of developments. It is a modern oil for modern engines—with the reputation of years of satisfactory service behind it. Drain Polarine every 500 miles and you'll have no lubrication worries.

If the performance of your car counts—and if you'd like to keep the engine young and healthy—use Iso-Vis or Polarine of the grade manufactured for your car.

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

EDITED BY R. B. THOMAS

At the end of the season many awards are given. The "C" awards are given for fourfold efficiency, in woodcraft, athletics, handicraft, and art (dramatics and music). General conduct and thoughtfulness also enters into the winning of this much-devoted emblem. There are four different "C's" that may be earned, the Indians', the Braves', the Warriors', and the Young Chiefs'. The boys are all earnestly working towards the winning of one of these.

In light of the fact that the woodcraft department wishes to check up on the proficiency of the campers in more than just the morning groups and camping trips, each year is held a woodcraft meet. In this, the boys' skill is tested in a series of contests. The winners and those that place are given points towards their woodcraft emblems. This meet was held Thursday.

The results of the events are as follows: William Van Every, first; Robert Warfield, second; and Parker, Neerken, Shepard and Jones, tied for fourth in the Scout pace (the half walking and half running of a mile in as near 12 minutes as is possible); Morris Winborn, first; Merritt Stone, second; and Bud Parker, third, in tree identification; Jack Wood and Dwight Thompson, first; John Wilson and Ralph Thomas, second; and Robert Utter and Walter Hoyt third, for the teams entered in the contest to build a cooking fire the quickest; Robert Warfield, first; Kenyon Brigham, second; and Merritt Stone, third, in the observation competition; Robert Reid and Henry Lord, first; and Gahn Kinnison and Howard Olson, second, in the setting up of a tent; David Laing, first, and Charles Clarke, second, in bed making; and Jack Wood and Dwight Thompson, first; Ralph Thomas and John Wilson, second; and Walter Hoyt and Robert Utter, third, in the cooking of a meal.

Thursday's meet was brought to a close by the running of a series of relay races. Each section chose two teams which ran against each other. The winning senior team was composed of Howard Olson, Robert Evans, Bert Reedy and John Browne. The first intermediate quartet to cross the line had as its members Howard Wolfe, Junior Neerken, Howard McGregor and Winship Todd. The junior team whose runners were Frederick Shepherd, John Bagby, Frank Starr and John Foote won the event for their section.

Saturday afternoon the Varsity and Yammigan baseball teams traveled to Camp Algonquin to play the return games for the previous Saturday.

day. The Varsity is made up of the baseball players among the older boys. The members of the Yammigan team must be under 12.

Inability to hit brought defeat upon the Varsity. Seiman kept the ball away from them from the third to the eighth inning, when the locals rallied for four runs.

After the home team had several runs lead early in the game the Yammigans settled down and defeated the Algonquin boys 22-16. Robinson and Woodfield starred.

Wednesday morning the Camp Charlevoix tennis team hid itself to Sequanota Club and there met defeat. Schuman, ranking player of the opposing team defeated Fred Harlow, the camp's No. 1 man, 6-3, 6-2. Bryan, of Sequanota, defeated Thomas 6-4, 6-2. Bryan, the younger, defeated Browne, of the camp, 6-2, 6-1. To make the victory absolutely complete for the camp Thompson was taken over the hurdles by Lamp to the tune of 6-1.

Saturday morning a swimming meet was held for the boys who did not make the trip to Algonquin. There were three divisions in the meet, junior, intermediate and senior. The results for the senior events were: Connable, first, and Thomas and Utter tied for second in the diving; Thomas, first, Utter, second, and Connable, third, in the 25-yard free style; Thomas first, Reedy second, and Stone third in the 25-yard side stroke; Utter first, Olson second, and Kinnison third in the 25-yard back stroke.

The intermediates had but three events. The outcome of these were: Parker first, Burnham second, and Neerken third in the 25-yard free style; Parker first, and Neerken and Burnham tied for third in the 25-yard side stroke; Parker first, Owens second, and Neerken third in the 25-yard back stroke.

The juniors in their two events placed thusly: Birch first, Slack second in the free style; Owens first, Slack second and Birch third in a special race for those who have but recently passed their beginners' test. There was an unusual treat for the boys on Monday evening of this week. Don McHugh and son, Don, Jr., brought the famous McHugh pack of dogs out to camp. Simi, a remarkable canine, was put through his paces, so to speak, and Mr. McHugh told about the training of dogs. He elaborated on the Eskimau husky with which he has had much experience.

Sunday the entire camp spent the afternoon and early evening at "The Limberlost," the new home of Camp Charlevoix for 1930. They there inspected the new equipment and saw a cabin completely furnished in the rustic manner as all the cabins will be next year. A picnic supper was enjoyed.

INDIAN CAMP MEETING AT GREENSKY HILL AUG. 18-25

Next Sunday begins a week of special meetings on the camp grounds of the Greensky Hill Methodist church. The program for Sunday follows:

Sunrise service at 6:30 led by Rev. Amos Kahgee.

Lovefeast and preaching service at 10:00 a. m. led by Rev. Wm. Shaw.

Sacramental service at 3:00 p. m. conducted by Dr. J. O. Randall.

Evangelistic service at 7:30 led by Rev. Frank Pequette.

Daily meetings are 9:30 prayer meetings; 2:30 Bible hours and 7:30 evangelistic meetings.

Rev. Kahgee and Rev. Shaw are Indian preachers from the Indian reservation on Walpole Island, Ontario, and Rev. F. Pequette, Indian pastor of unusual ability from Orr, Minn., and these will be assisted by Dr. Lindquist, missionary to the Indians and sent by the office at Philadelphia, with Dr. J. O. Randall, the district superintendent, and the Rev. J. E. Lockyer. Free will offerings will be taken. A cordial welcome is extended to the public.

The camp grounds are on US-31 three miles east of Charlevoix.

SWIMMING CHAMP- IONSHIPS SUNDAY

EIGHT EVENTS ARE SCHEDULED AND OPEN TO ALL.

Contests Commence at 2:00 P. M. At City Docks in Round Lake—
Entries Are Now Open.

Charlevoix's annual swimming meet, sponsored by the city council, is scheduled for Sunday of this week in charge of "Coach" Olmstead, who has a tutoring class among boys of summer residents. The contests will be staged at the city docks in Round Lake, at the foot of Antrim street, commencing at 2:00 o'clock.

Following are the events listed:
100-yard dash for boys over 16 years.
50-yard dash for girls 16 years and under.

Diving contest for men over 14 years.

Diving contest for women over 14 years.

50-yard dash for boys over 16.

100-yard dash for girls over 16.

Greasy pole contest—open to all.

Free-for-all mile swim.

Contestants are requested to make their entry at once at the Association of Commerce information bureau in the city park on Bridge street. All entries must be in by Saturday noon.

Suitable prizes, which are now on display at Fessenden's drug store, are posted for the winners.

The Michigan Riviera meet which just closed will go down in history as the greatest tennis event ever held at Charlevoix. From a standpoint of notable entries, it was the best on record, and even eclipsed the Western championships held at Chicago. A prominent Chicagoan, who has been in attendance at every tournament in Charlevoix for the past five years was heard to remark: "If Charlevoix continues to gain popularity with tennis fans at its present rate, The Inn will have to build additional courts and enlarge its hotel facilities."

The tournament this year saw many new faces, people who were visiting Charlevoix for the first time. It is gratifying to know that our fair city made the same impression upon them as it has those who have been regular attendants. The tennis contingent were lavish in their praise of The Inn and its management, and of the fine manner in which the tournament was conducted, thanks for which is due Walter T. Hayes of Chicago, tournament referee, and Jerry Ash, recreational director at The Inn. From the above observations, we can gather that Charlevoix has a promising future as a tennis resort.

Mr. Morris is director of music and religious activities at Camp Charlevoix.

Following the program, the guests were served light refreshments and were invited to inspect the grounds. George Swain, who with Mrs. Swain, are directing Kamp Kairphree, took two photographs of the gathering, one inside and another outside view.

In the course of his remarks during the afternoon, Mr. Reimann told his audience that "The Limberlost" was being built to become a permanent institution on its new site, which should indeed be gratifying news to this entire region. The camp will accommodate 120 boys and 40 staff members. The boys will be divided into three divisions, junior, intermediate and senior and will be housed in log cabins, seven in a group.

The camp equipment includes log cabins, clubhouse, athletic field, handicraft shop, stables, dispensary, rifle range, sailing, motor and canoe equipment, docks, etc. All furniture will be rustic and this work is being carried out throughout the grounds, and is evident from the time one enters the gate from the main highway until the camp site is reached.

"The Limberlost" is destined to be one of the beauty spots of this Northern Michigan region and will be a great asset from a material and financial standpoint.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday morning service at 10:30. Sunday school at 11:30 a. m.

Rev. Ralph T. Andem, executive secretary of the Michigan Baptist convention, will speak at the morning service.

The evening service and B. Y. P. U. will be omitted on account of the dedication service. A large delegation from Charlevoix is expected at Eastport.

GOLF TOURNAMENT OPENS WEDNESDAY

COUNTRY'S FOREMOST PLAYERS TO COMPETE HERE.

Amateur-Pro Best Ball Tourney Set for Wednesday — 72 Holes Medal Play Thursday and Friday.

Michigan's major golfing event, the Great Lakes Open Championship, which marks Charlevoix's first bid as a golfing resort, will be played on the Belvedere and Charlevoix golf club courses on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

Outstanding among the pros coming for the tournament is Walter Hagen of Detroit, British open champion. Hagen will arrive here Monday in time for a couple of days of practice, and outside of Emmet French, is the only one of the visiting delegation who has had previous play on the two Charlevoix courses. Others who have already signed are Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo.; MacDonald Smith, Lakeview, L. I., who just recently won the Long Island open; Al Espinoza and Abe Espinoza, Chicago; Emmet French, Youngstown, O.; Tom Kerrigan, Sivanoy, N. Y.; Gene Sarasin, Fresh Meadows, L. I.; Pat Doyle, Hackensack, N. J.; John Golden, Patterson, N. J., recent winner of the New Jersey open; William Mehlhorn, New York, N. Y.; James Barclay, Flint, Mich.; William Hutchinson, Big Rapids, Mich.; D. N. Herbert, Battle Creek, Mich.; George L. Welsh, Pontiac, Mich.; Tommy Armour, Detroit; James Sutherland, Detroit; Al Larue, Saginaw, Mich.; Wilfred Reid, Orion, Mich.; Phillip G. and James Dufina, Mackinac Island, Mich.; Pat G. Ennis, Alpena, Mich.; John Kanary, Bay City, Mich.; Dave Spittall, Toronto, Canada.

Amateur entries are Dave Ward and John Bergelin, Big Rapids, Mich.; William O'Brien, Orion, Mich.; J. P. Wilson, Jr., Chicago; Harry Baker, Pontiac, Mich.; R. Yates, Edward Yates, Joe Yates, Dwight Edwards, Neil Fitzgerald, John Murphy, II, H. Webster and M. T. Cummings, all of Detroit. Other entries from both pros and amateurs are coming in daily and it is expected a field of over one hundred will compete. Many will come here direct from the Western open at Milwaukee, according to latest word.

At a meeting held Wednesday morning, the Great Lakes Golf association was formed and the following officers elected: President, Howard L. McGregor, Detroit; treasurer, Archie L. Livingston, Charlevoix; secretary, John R. Bowker, Pinehurst and Southern Pines, N. C. The association members are Andrew I. Creamer, Howard L. McGregor, Archie L. Livingston, J. W. Fristoe and John R. Bowker. The association was formed to promote as an annual event the Great Lakes Open tournament.

The big event opens Wednesday, August 28th, with an Amateur-Pro best ball tournament. First and second prizes of $100 and $50 are posted for the winners. First prize for amateurs will be the Dudley H. Waters trophy, and also a second prize.

Charlevoix hotel interests, the city, chamber of commerce and the local golf clubs have contributed to the prize fund. On August 29 and 30 there will be 72 holes of medal play, 18 holes on each course each day. The prizes are: first, $750.00; second, $500.00; third, $300.00; fourth, $200.00; fifth, $100.00; sixth, $75.00; seventh, $75.00; eighth, $50.00. Two prizes will be given the amateurs making the lowest scores, and each day there will be one $50 prize for low medal 18 holes on each course—four prizes in all.

On the evening of August 29, a tournament ball will be given at the Belvedere casino, and the following evening, Friday, a banquet for tournament contestants at The Inn.

Charlevoix has a wonderful setting for a championship tournament. This city is the only resort center in Northern Michigan with two 18-hole courses, and they have been proclaimed by critics as being second to none in the country. Many have compared the Belvedere course with those at Pebble Beach, Bald Pete, Lake Winnebago, National Links and the course at Victoria, British Columbia. The courses are in excellent shape and it will not be surprising if a new record for low score for 72 holes is made. The fairways are in wonderful condition and the greens cannot be improved upon.

The golf tournament is put on largely to advertise Charlevoix as a golfing resort—in other words to advertise to the world the two wonderful golf courses here. It is the hope of the committee in charge to raise sufficient money this year so that when expenses are paid, there will be a nice fund left over as a nucleus for next year's event. Daily admission tickets are on sale at all hotels and golf clubs. Charlevoix local and summer people are urged to buy tickets whether they can attend or not.

It is safe to say that from an advertising standpoint, the golf tournament will bring to this city more publicity than any previous event ever staged here.

TORCH LAKE RESORT HOTEL WAS DESTROYED

Fire which is believed to have started from a defective chimney, destroyed the Majestic hotel at Torch Lake Tuesday night about 11:30. Eleven guests were caused to flee in their nightclothes from the burning structure. The hotel was owned by Detroit interests and the loss is estimated between $30,000 and $40,000. The main building was the oldest in Torch Lake, being built 47 years ago. Three or four years ago the Majestic corporation of Detroit purchased the property and erected the hotel.

FIVE ST. LOUIS GOLFERS WINNERS

WERE FLIGHT CHAMPIONS OF BELVEDERE ANNUAL TOURNEY

Two Other Flights Go to Indianapolis, Ind. Players—Tournament Drew Large Entry.

St. Louis, Mo., had five flight winners in the annual Belvedere handicap golf tournament which closed Sunday afternoon with the final match on the Belvedere course.

Qualifying rounds were played Monday and Tuesday of last week, but rainy weather held up play until Thursday. The entry was the largest in any tourney of previous years and forty qualifiers started the elimination process.

Richard Clark of St. Louis, won the championship round. He defeated W. R. Muckerman, a fellow-townsmen, four and three. Clark was a member last year of the Princeton college freshman golf team.

J. M. Travis, another St. Louisan, defeated Neil Barber of Detroit, to win the class A division. The match ended on the 17th green with Travis two up and one to play.

R. E. Lortz of St. Louis, defeated Walter D. Randall of Indianapolis, Ind., to win class B flight. The score was not posted.

In the class C flight, which was completed Sunday afternoon, J. N. Rarick of St. Louis, Mo., defeated W. N. Bemis of the same city. The match was even up at the 17th green. Both lay off the green of the 18th hole, but Bemis' approach fell short and he took a seven, while Rarick's six won him the match.

Charles Roemler of Indianapolis, Ind., won the class D flight by defeating Joseph E. Muckerman of St. Louis, Mo., five and four.

The championship round for women went to Mrs. W. D. Kinnaird of Indianapolis, Ind., who defeated Sallie Jones of St. Louis, Mo., five and four.

In the women's class A flight, Doris O'Neil of St. Louis, Mo., defeated Mrs. J. R. Leatherman of Memphis, Tenn., four and three.

SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION WAS CARRIED

Nine Districts to Join with East Jordan City Schools.

The proposition to consolidate the nine rural schools adjacent to East Jordan with the public schools of East Jordan was carried at the election held Tuesday, August 13.

East Jordan voted practically unanimously for the proposition, the vote being 160 for and 8 against. In the nine rural districts which were combined and the election held at the South Arm township hall, the vote was remarkably close, carrying by five majority. The total vote was Yes 117, No 112. Considerable interest was manifest at this election and at the close of the polls the hall was filled with electors anxious to learn the result of the election.

The nine districts which voted to consolidate with East Jordan are as follows: Chestonia, Vance, Rock Elm, Three Bells, Mountain, Severance, Miles, Chaddock, Star.

WATER CONTESTS VERY SUCCESSFUL

PROGRAM ENTERTAINED LARGE CROWD LAST SUNDAY.

Byrnece Lamphar Was Only Local Winner—Other Prizes Went to Visiting Summer Resorters.

The program of aquatic sports sponsored by the city council and directed by Coach Lloyd Oimstead last Sunday at the city docks on Round Lake proved an excellent entertainment feature and was witnessed by a large crowd of both local and summer people.

Judging from the interest shown by members of the summer colony, it is quite apparent that events of this nature could be staged three or four times during the summer season with equal success. The program carried through without a hitch and during intermissions, the city band furnished music.

Following are the contestants and winners:

Fifty-yard dash for boys under 16—first, Frisbee Mullins, St. Louis, Mo.; second, Stanley Bush, East Jordan; third, William Richmond, Huntington, L. I. There were 15 entries in this event, calling for two heats and a final for qualifiers.

Fifty-yard dash for girls under 16 years—first, Byrnece Lamphar, Charlevoix; second, Madeline Gatti, Miami, Fla.; third, Ruth Richmond, Huntington, L. I.

One hundred-yard dash for men—first, Allan Seagar, Ann Arbor, member U. of M. swimming team; second, Pete Wolf, New Orleans; third, John Batterson, St. Louis, Mo.

Free-for-all mile swim—first, Rudy Montgela, Grand Rapids; second, Tom Mettsker, Vincennes, Ind.; third, Angus Bolton, Detroit. This event drew seven entries and all finished.

Diving contest—first, Harris Pilkington, address unknown, 54 points; second, Stanley Bush, East Jordan, 53 1-3 points; third, John Batterson, St. Louis, Mo., 48 2-3 points.

Harry Hooker, Clair Webster and Perry Thomas, assisted Coach Lloyd Oimstead in conducting events. Mr. Moses, north side summer resort, gave the use of his boats to carry contestants to the starting barge and the springboard used was donated by Will Bellinger. Coast guards under Captain Oscar Smith patrolled the course during the races.

Considerable amusement resulted from the greasy pole contest. One dollar bills were fastened at the end of the pole over the water and it was some time before the youthful contestants were able to reach the coveted reward.

ANNUAL BELVEDERE TENNIS TOURNEY ON

Play Started Tuesday with Good Entry in All Events.

The annual Belvedere tennis tournament for club members, guests of members and hotel guests opened on Tuesday of this week at the Belvedere courts.

While the entry is small, the event is attracting a great deal of interest. Events include men's singles, women's singles, girls' and boys' singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles.

First round matches in each division were played Tuesday and finals will probably take place Saturday.

CHARLEVOIX OPEN HAS LARGE ENTRY

FULL BRACKET OF THIRTY-TWO IN MEN'S SINGLES.

N. E. Steenrod of Dayton, Ohio, Heads Seed—Sutter and Hume, Southern Champs, Entered.

The annual Charlevoix open tennis tournament got under way at The Inn clay courts Tuesday afternoon with an excellent entry in every division.

A full bracket of 32 players complete the men's singles event. Heading the seed is N. E. Steenrod of Dayton, Ohio, who was the junior champion last year. Others in order are: Edward Sutter and Charles Hume of New Orleans, southern junior doubles champions, and winners of the Michigan Riviera junior doubles crown last week. Sutter is also the Michigan Riviera junior champion for 1929, succeeding "Bill" Irwin of Grand Rapids. The fourth member of the seed is George Sturman of Chicago.

Miss Esther Chichester of Petoskey, heads the top bracket in both the women's singles and girls' singles divisions. Miss Chichester was last year's Charlevoix open girls' champion, and was runner-up in the women's singles event. There are eight entries in the women's singles, and four in the girls' singles.

The junior singles bracket has sixteen players. Edward Sutter of New Orleans, heads the seed. Others in order are Charles Hume, New Orleans; Walker Sullivan, Detroit; and Harry Begley of Chicago.

In the boys' singles, another full bracket of sixteen have entered. Gerald Steinberg of Detroit, heads the list and others are Tommy Loeb, Chicago, and Jack Turney, Detroit.

Following are Tuesday's results: Men's singles, first round: N. E. Steenrod, Dayton, O., d. James Platt, Cincinnati, O., 2-6, 6-2, 6-0; G. Brown, Chicago, d. V. Y. Tuttle, Grand Rapids, 8-6, 4-6, 6-1; Paul Houston, University of Indiana, d. Robert Bennett, St. Louis, Mo., 6-2, 6-3; A. H. Wagner, Detroit, d. Austin Leland, St. Louis, Mo., 3-6, 6-4, 6-1; Edward Sutter, New Orleans, d. George Sturman, Cincinnati, O., 7-5, 6-0.

Women's singles, first round: Lucille Newman, Chicago, d. Miss Badger, Detroit, default; Esther Chichester, Petoskey, d. Caroline Smith, Chicago, 5-7, 6-1, 6-2; Ruth Armstrong, Birmingham, d. Edith Schlesinger, Detroit, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Junior singles, first round—Chas. Hume, New Orleans, d. Francis Preet, 6-1, 6-0.

BAND CONCERT AT AUTO PARK SUNDAY

Thursday Evening Concert to Be Given on North Bridge St.

The Charlevoix city band will play their regular Thursday evening concert this week at the north end of Bridge street, instead of at the park as on former nights. Another concert will be given Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the city auto park on Lake Michigan.

Following is the program for Thursday evening: March, "Under the Double Eagle." Overture, operatic, "Mingle." Concert solo, "Gayety Polka." Selection of Irish melodies. March, "The Roaring Lion." Overture, "Unique." March, "Flag of Humanity."

SURPRISE PARTY FOR ESTHER CASE

Her Birthday Occasion a Delightful Affair.

On Friday evening, August 16, Mrs. Ernest Staley gave a surprise party for her daughter, Esther, the occasion being her birthday.

The young people enjoyed the evening by playing games, performing stunts and with music and dancing.

Miss Harriett Christoe won first prize for composing the best poem about the party, and Billy O'Neil won second prize. In the guessing contest Esther Brady won first prize and Mary Lavin second.

Refreshments were served at 12:00 o'clock. There were two cakes decorated with 17 candles, one being made and presented to Miss Esther by Miss Mary Lavin.

Those present were the Misses Esther and Hilda Brady, Mary and Ann Lavin, and Harriett Christoe and Messrs. Floyd King, Billy O'Neil, Franklin Ross and Bill Brown.

Miss Esther received many beautiful gifts and the young people departed at a late hour wishing her many more happy birthdays.

SENTENCED FRIDAY BY JUDGE J. E. PARKER OF FLINT.

Wm. Glasgow Must Serve from 3 to 10 Years at Jackson for Felonious Assault—Others Sentenced.

George A. Roderick, former clerk of Charlevoix county, was sentenced last Friday by Judge James E. Parker of Flint, who is presiding over the August term of circuit court for Judge Farm C. Gilbert of Traverse City, to serve from one to five years at Jackson prison.

Roderick had formerly pleaded guilty to embezzlement of $2,040 of state conservation department fish and game license money, and it was upon this charge that he was sentenced. It is understood there were other shortages in both county and federal funds handled through the office and that measures either had been or were to be taken to refund the amounts misappropriated. Roderick has been in Sheriff Dave Vaughan's custody at the county jail since sentence was passed and will soon be taken to Jackson to serve out the term. The court recommended one year.

Amos John, local Indian lad, was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 for statutory rape, and was placed on probation for a period of three years.

John Graham of Flint, who was jailed recently for transporting liquor, was found guilty by a jury. His companion, William Powell, also of Flint, pleaded guilty to a similar charge and both will probably be sentenced this week.

William Glasgow, 60-year-old local resident, was found guilty by a jury of felonious assault. The jury was out but a few minutes. Judge Parker sentenced Glasgow to serve from 3 to 10 years at Jackson prison, recommending the minimum term.

The case of Donald T. McHugh vs. May P. Knight, assumpsit, was dismissed without coming to trial, and court adjourned until Tuesday of this week.

MRS. NELLIE MARCH DIED SATURDAY

Funeral and Interment Sunday, Aug. 18th—Was Active Church Worker.

Funeral services for Mrs. Nellie B. March, well known local resident who died Saturday at the Charlevoix hospital following a lingering illness, were held Sunday, with Rev. Ethel Barnett officiating.

Nellie M. Bird was born December 12, 1892, in Eveline township, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Bird. She attended school at Ironton and East Jordan, and in September, 1914, was united in marriage to Ernest March. The couple made their residence in Ovid until five years ago and since that time Mrs. March has resided in this city.

Mrs. March was an active worker in the First Spiritualist church, of which organization she was secretary. Interment was in Brookside cemetery.

ACCIDENT ENDED LEGION MAIN GO

KNOCK-OUT AND SMELLING SALTS MERANDA'S UNDOING.

Second Spilled Reviving Potion in His Eyes Following Knock-Out at End of Sixth Round.

Fistic fans went home disappointed from the American Legion boxing show staged at the high school gymnasium last Thursday evening.

They were not in the least disappointed with the quality of the program—just didn't like to see a good fight end the way it did.

The main 10-round bout between Battling Shaw, San Antonio Mexican, and Teddy Meranda of Grand Rapids, better known as the Wolverine Wildcat, was a wow, even if it was called at the end of the sixth round by a peculiar accident which no one anticipated or could have prevented. From the time the gong sounded for the first round, it was apparent both boys were trying desperately for a knock-out. In the third, Meranda floored Shaw with a hard right to the jaw. The Mexican went down hurt, but after taking advantage of a short count, was on his feet again. Every wallop carried the sleep potion and if they had landed would have ended the fight right there. It looked bad for Shaw on several occasions when Meranda rushed him to the ropes, but the crafty Mexican wormed his way out of every furious onslaught without any serious damage.

The bout came to an unexpected close at the end of the sixth round. In a furious mix-up, Shaw caught Meranda with a terrific punch to the stomach, followed by a right and left to the jaw. The Grand Rapids boy went down and was as good as out just as the bell sounded. His second carried him to his corner, and in an effort to revive him, spilled smelling salts in his eyes. Dr. F. F. McMillan was called from the ringside and after examination, declared Meranda unfit to continue.

In view of McMillan's statement, Referee Walter Stanley of Grand Rapids, was unable to make a decision, and this did not please the fans much. Stanley's score card gave Shaw four out of the six rounds and there was no doubt about Meranda being out at the end of the sixth. It was a tough break for Shaw.

The semi-final between Sailor Deshane of Saginaw, and Joe LaDrig of Detroit, who substituted for Ken Reitzel of Traverse City, was a great running race. Deshane chased LaDrig all over the ring for eight rounds and hit him with everything but the gong. In spite of this fact, however, many believe that had LaDrig possessed sufficient nerve, he could have given Deshane a good fight.

In the six-rounder, Kid Adams, a team mate of Shaw's, won a decision over Young Doby of Bay City. Adams, who is a counterpart of Shaw in coolness and ring generalship, won five out of the six rounds. He is a neat little scrapper and a good attraction in any ring.

Cecil Yettaw of Charlevoix, and Midget Mike O'Farrell of Bay City, fought to a draw in the curtain-opener. The two youngsters are willing mixers and were given a big hand.

Although the crowd was larger than at the previous show, the fight was another financial flop. Whether the bout set for the 19th will be carried out is still unknown. It probably won't unless the boys get better support than heretofore.

FLOWER-TAG DRIVE A GREAT SUCCESS

Total Collected Last Saturday Was $222.75—Express Thanks.

The committee in charge of the flower-tag drive to benefit the Sunnycrest School and Home for Girls last Saturday are desirous of expressing their thanks for the splendid cooperation and generosity shown by Charlevoix local and summer people.

The total collected by children selling tags was $222.75. The prize winners were: Margaret Hull, first, $21.48; Jane Brady, second, $20.61; Helen Loskot, Evelyn Seymour, Emil Quack, George Kolderhouse, Anna Bell Reinhardt and Ruth Archer.

The Charlevoix banks, merchants and the Palace Theatre donated the articles given as prizes to the tag sellers.

"NEW KONJOLA PROVED ITS MERIT TO ME"

Just Another Instance Of How This New Medicine Has Won Widespread Fame.

MR. C. W. ANDERSON

"I was stiff and sore all over," said Mr. C. W. Anderson, 319 Pasadena avenue, Highland Park, Detroit, Mich. "I was told that my kidneys were out of order, but no one seemed to be able to give me anything to make them better. I was weak and rundown; tired out all the time.

"Oh, the suffering and expense I could have saved had I known of this wonderful medicine, Konjola, years ago. Konjola went right to the seat of my trouble. A full treatment—six bottles—and I am a well man; better than I ever expected to be. Believe me when I say 'no one needs be in doubt about Konjola's merits'; I speak from experience."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

There are a number of summer visitors here at present.

A. G. Tillotson is remodeling the inside of his rooms at the store.

AGRICULTURAL HAPPENINGS

By B. C. Mellenkamp

Charlevoix County Picnic.

The annual County picnic at Whiting Park under the auspices of farmers and merchants association of the county will be held September 2.

A meeting of the park board was recently held and the usual permission was cheerfully granted the association to make use of the park on the coming occasion.

Each of the three cities in the county have a committee headed by a chairman that will look after the representation in their portion of the territory. It is proposed to have a band of music, base ball game, a tug of war, quilt pitching contest, running races for all ages, a greased pig, sack race, three legged race, a greased pole, all with prizes which are open to residents of the county. There will be coffee and doughnuts served free, tables will be provided for those who bring their dinners in baskets.

This annual picnic is county wide, held in the County (Whiting) Park, on the south shore of the lake, one of the pleasantest locations in the state, endowed with natural beauty and improved amazingly for the past several years. It has a lake side drive and swimming beach, a flowing well of purest water, improved drive ways and an observation fire tower owned by the state in charge of a watchful custodian who may allow you to climb up and view the beautiful surroundings.

Everybody in the county is invited to come with their friends and celebrate Labor day together. There will be no charges of any kind.

METHODIST CHURCH.

The guest preacher for Sunday morning is the Rev. H. Addis Leeson D. D. of Detroit. Dr. Leeson is one of the capable leaders of the Detroit conference and is a minister of wide and varied experience.

Church school will meet for one more Sunday at 9:30 and September 1st will resume the 12:00 noon sessions.

Epworth League will meet two more weeks at 8:30 and September 8th will resume its 6:30 service. Last week was a good service with a fine big group. Let us do it often.

The pastor preaches at 7:30. The evangelistic message is characteristic of the evening hour. "Come apart and rest awhile" in the sanctuary of God.

No mid-week service until after conference.

The Michigan Annual Conference this year is at Kalamazoo on September 11 to 16.

Greensky Hill Indian Mission.

Services all this week at 9:30 a. m., 3:00 and 7:30 p. m. Rev. William Shaw, Indian orator of Walpole Island, Ont., and Dr. J. E. Lindquist, missionary to the Indians, will be the evening speakers. English and Indian preaching at the 7:30 hour. Take U. S. 31 east for three miles and turn east through the field at top of Greensky Hill. A big day is planned for next Sunday at the open air camp site.

"NELLIE."

Nellie, the hour came

The hour we've awaited so long

For the angels to open the door

Through the sky

That your spirit may break its prison and try

Your voice is an infinite song

Now as the slumbers of night

Have come over you with peace-giving breath.

And the curtain has lifted revealing to you

That Kingdom of Light

That borders the river of death.

A vision solemn and sweet

Bringing gleams of a morning-lit land.

I saw the white shore where the pale waters beat.

And I heard the low lull as they broke at your feet

As you walk in that beautiful land.

And I wonder why spirits should cling.

To their clay with struggle and sigh

When life's autumn is better than spring

And the soul flies away like a sparrow to sing

In a climate where leaves never die.

I thank the Great Father for this

That our love is not lavished in vain.

Each germ in the future that will blossom to bliss

And the forms we love and the forms we miss

Never shrink at the shadow of pain.

It would be pleasant to stay

And walk by your side to the last

But the land breeze of heaven is beginning to play.

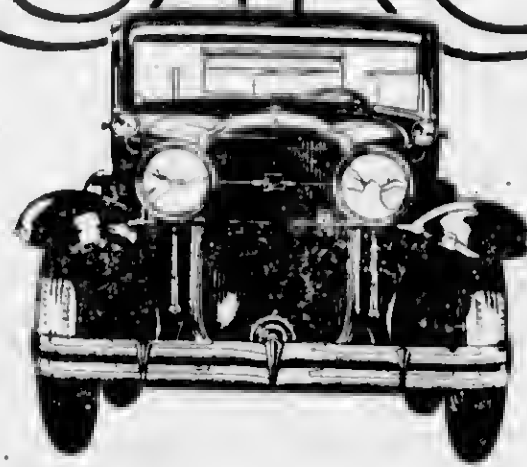

Lives shadows are meeting eternity's day

And its tumult is hushed in the past.

So, Nellie, goodbye, remember to bring us messages from that summer land so fair.

Rev. Dr. Clara E. Barnett.—Adv. 3411.

THE New BUICK

The Greatest success in all Buick history

More people have purchased New Buicks during the past two weeks than in any similar period of any previous year

The New Buick with Body by Fisher has met with a veritable landslide of public demand. Many purchased before ever seeing the car—many thousands of others placed their orders the first few days it was on display—other thousands have been taking demonstrations and then making Buick their choice.

More Buick owners have entered orders—more men and women who owned other cars have turned to Buick—more people who formerly paid from $1000 to $2000 higher for their automobiles have purchased Buicks—than ever before during a similar period in Buick's twenty-six year history.

The total demand during these two weeks is from three to five times as great as that for any other automobile priced above $1200.

Popularity so overwhelming carries an unmistakable message to every prospective motor car buyer: See the new Buick—drive it—compare it—and you'll quickly discover that it's the greatest dollar-for-dollar value in the entire quality field.

FOR SAFETY IN SWIMMING.

If you are able to do any swimming this summer—and what able-bodied American isn't?—it might be a good thing for you to give a little thought to the remarks of Health Commissioner Shirley Wynne of New York about the dangers of swimming. Examining the nation's statistics on swimming fatalities, the commissioner discovers that more than 8,000 Americans were drowned at bathing beaches and swimming holes last summer. Oddly enough most of the victims could swim.

The use of ordinary care and common sense is recommended by Commissioner Wynne as the best way of cutting down this toll.

"One must learn how long he can remain in the water without becoming chilled, how many times he can dive and how far he can swim without becoming exhausted," says the commissioner. "Exhaustion at any time is dangerous."

"Everyone should know how to swim. If you do not know how, learn now. It is not enough to know how to swim a few strokes. One must be able to swim a good distance without becoming unduly fatigued, and every person should be able to swim a few minutes while fully clothed.

"Absolute self-control is necessary when one is in the water. If one loses that self-control, a single convulsive breath may mean death. When water touches the opening of the windpipe it may cause a spasm of that pipe and a drawing of water into the lungs.

"If you are in danger of drowning, try not to struggle. Turn on your back, kick your legs and float until you become quiet and have regained self-control. Persons subject to fainting or epilepsy should never enter the water; those suffering kidney or heart disease or high blood pressure should enter the water solely on the advice of their physicians." Those suggestions are not hard to remember. Properly heeded, they could save many lives.

CONFIDENCE PRICELESS ASSET.

The most important constructive factor in our business life is confidence.

A man once boarded a street car, gave the conductor a dollar bill, and upon receiving his change in nickels and dimes, put it into his pocket without counting it.

"Hold on!" said the conductor. "How do you know that I gave you the right change?"

"Oh!" replied the passenger. "How do you know that I did not give you a counterfeit bill?"

This same type of mutual confidence between a merchant and his customer is invaluable. Once a consumer has attained perfect confidence in your business you are not likely to lose his trade. But until he becomes imbued with confidence in your business dealings, he cannot be rightfully listed as a regular customer.

How can a merchant or business man instill confidence in his customers? This valued confidence may be built through giving your buyers the same excellent service and high quality merchandise when they order by phone or through their children, that you give them when they shop in person; through selling them exactly what they want without substitution; through avoiding exaggeration and misstatements, and through weighing goods accurately and delivering them promptly.

Confidence thus gained is not easily lost, but once lost, can hardly be reclaimed. — Storm Lake (Iowa) Pilot-Tribune.

THE TOURIST FLIGHT.

Some folks say that there are more tourists this year than ever before. Some say the number is fewer.

The tourist flock is very much like the flight of ducks. Sometimes they come in bunches and the number seems very large. Sometimes they just come along in a steady fashion and the flight does not seem as large.

The tourist season always seems slow to open. It appears to be getting later each year. Some try to account for this by various reasons.

Doubtless the most important element is the closing of the schools. The children get home or finish up their work in June. Their clothes must be prepared. The relatives who come to visit in June must go home. The weather stays fairly cool and the family is slow to move. Some stay at home until late in June and then decide to remain over the Fourth.

And the schools close up the season. The streets of Vacationland will be crowded with strange cars the last week in August and in the first week in September they will be deserted.

No matter how and when they come the tourists are welcome.

THE WORLD MOVES, AND HELL IS COOLING OFF.

William Allen White, editor of the Emporia (Kans.) Gazette, is sure hell is vanishing, and says:

"An old-fashioned hell sermon has not been preached in this locality for two years. As man becomes richer he sloughs off his belief in hell. Hell is needed by the poor as a place for the rich to fry in. Lazarus in the bosom of Abraham needed hell for Dives. Prof. George H. Butts, of Northwestern university, a good Methodist college, has finished the tabulation of 700 questionnaires, 500 answers by Protestant pastors and 200 others answered by students in divinity schools. Only 53 per cent of the ministers confessed the belief in hell as an actual place. The students were still more hell-less, for only 11 per cent of them asserted an affirmative. In ten years more hell will freeze over, and by 1950 hell will pass out of theology in this country as completely as hate has passed out of religion. As religion becomes more and more the yearning in man's heart for self-respect and a desire to live honestly and kindly and even more nobly, hell—the fear motive in religion—will disappear. Hell cools as justice broadens the earth."

WEALTH.

The farmers are wealthier as a result of rising prices for their products. The holders of some of the railroad stocks are 50 per cent better off as a result of the rise in prices since the O'Fallon decision.

Those who held on to certain automobile stocks are 500 per cent to 1,000 per cent wealthier because of the rise in stocks of this class over the last ten or fifteen years.

Holders of some of the oil shares are 100 per cent to 500 per cent richer than ten years ago.

Many holders of utility stocks are 1,000 per cent to several thousand per cent wealthier than a decade or so ago.

Holders of some of the electric manufacturing stocks are many times wealthier than ten to 15 years ago, and so on down the line.

This increase in what the people possess is one of the basic reasons for the big stock market we have been having and general prosperity of the people.—From the Wall Street Journal.

HOSS POWER.

There have been several arguments on the subject of automobile horsepower, due to whether it was power developed by the engine or power shown in performance on the road. Now it seems there can be an argument about horsepower developed by horses. In a contest at St. Johns, a team of horses exerted 18.9 horsepower, which is more than nine horsepower per horse.

Maybe the person who first gave definition to "horse power" was not acquainted with Michigan horses, and based his unit on the showing made by an inferior breed. Maybe the experts are right when they say a good horse, a one-horsepower horse, has a lot of reserve energy which he shows in an emergency, becoming, as it were, five or six horses in a pinch—a sort of superhorse.

But we are inclined to believe that a good Michigan horse is so far better than the average that no question should arise as to the validity of the horsepower as a unit of force, and that the test at St. Johns proved it.—Detroit News.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Feminism Gains in Poultry World.

Last reported on the list of emancipated femininity is the hen. Only 43 per cent of all chickens that emerge from the shell are hatched by their feathered mothers, says the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the remaining 57 per cent being incubator born. Even more scandalizing to the woman's place-is-the-home adherents must be the news that 23 per cent of these hatchlings are commercial, so the chick not only must claim a mere machine for its parent, but even the warm home surroundings are denied him at birth.

Farm hatching of chicks in incubators is most popular in the north central states, while the old-fashioned setting hen holds her own in the south Atlantic states from Virginia to Florida, and in the south central states.

Manual for Housewives Published.

Recognition of the American housewife as the dominant factor in a forty-four billion dollar industry is made by William H. Baldwin in The Shopping Book which is published today by The Macmillan Co. Mr. Baldwin contends that running homes is the greatest single business in the United States, but he points out that the freedom from drudgery, which the housewife has won through her ability to buy most of the things once made at home, has been purchased at a tremendous cost.

The price of this freedom, he says, is loss of all first-hand knowledge of the materials and workmanship of the many items which go to make up the modern shopping list. To make good this loss he describes the factors making for value in furniture, china and glassware, rugs, textiles, package groceries, leather goods, etc., and gives practical hints for judging merchandise.

Business-Like Diplomacy.

"If you would be a Diplomat, be a business man first," seems to be the new command of our state department. The appointments in the state department and foreign service under this administration may be accidental in this respect, but they have a significance to close observers that can hardly be overlooked.

General Charles Dawes in Great Britain, Dwight Morrow in Mexico, and John W. Garrett, soon to take his post in Rome, are all bankers. Senator Walter Edge of New Jersey will go as Ambassador to France, completing the list of men in our diplomatic corps who emerged from the business world. Secretary Stimson himself has many business connections, and Under-Secretary of State Cotton has sponsored several recent mergers.

This is, of course, as it should be. The post-war development of new markets abroad and the export of American capital are recognized as corollaries to the nation's economic health. Every industry established by Americans on foreign soil is a strong potential customer of American made goods. These enterprises also strengthen the buying power of the nations in which they are established and in this way help the growth of our all-important foreign markets.

Mr. Hoover, as Secretary of Commerce, developed the belief that more commercial international contacts will lead to a better world. Perhaps the day will come when the domestic investor abroad will be as dear to American politics as the domestic producer is today.

No Card Games in White House.

Press correspondents who cover the White House have been deprived of their card games in the press room while waiting for news breaks. Ever since the first press room of the White House was established under President Roosevelt, reporters have indulged themselves harmlessly in a round of bridge or a few hands of "coon can"—anything, in fact, that did not require the use of ships. President Coolidge sometimes watched the games over players' shoulders and even vouchsafed an occasional remark. The callers on President Hoover, however, have been unable to reconcile their notions of Presidential surroundings with the atmosphere of the press room which is next to the callers' room, and last week the games were stopped by request. It was indicated that when the executive wing of the White House has been enlarged card tables hidden from public gaze might be set up for the benefit of bored newspapermen.

American-Cuban Trade Immense.

American owned corporations are carrying on a business in Cuba in which there is employed American capital to the extent of approximately $1,500,000,000. It is estimated that about $800,000,000 of American money is invested in the Cuban sugar industry. A great part of this capital has been invested since the day of Cuban independence when the political and commercial relations between the United States and Cuba were established by the Permanent Treaty and the Treaty of Commercial Reciprocity. These American investments in the Cuban sugar industry have been made in reliance upon the integrity of these relations and the protection which would be afforded to this capital by the policy of the United States as interpreted and announced by McKinley, Roosevelt, Taft and Root. The creation of this enormous industry in Cuba has resulted in the development of many correlated American owned industrial enterprises and has been the cause of a very large trade between Cuba and the United States. Because of this industry largely developed by American capital and enterprise, Cuba has been a market for many hundred millions of American products, both from the farm and factory.

In view of the foregoing, it is difficult to understand why the American Congress should not be solicitous in safeguarding and protecting this very large American investment and American industry, and why it should suggest a duty almost twice as large as its own fact-finding commission has recommended.

Do Not Wash Your Currency.

The treasury department earnestly requests that you do not launder your money. If you do, you will likely experience the fate of a Texan who recently sent his shirt to the laundry with a brand new five-dollar greenback in it and got it back with its complexion so altered that he was nearly arrested for a counterfeit when he tried to spend it.

About ten years ago, the department tried to prolong the life of its currency by investing largely in a special type of machinery that would clean notes in circulation. At approximately the same time, the Bureau of Efficiency took a hand and announced that the ink used for printing the notes was too expensive, and they recommended economy in form of a cheaper brand. That sounded sensible enough, so the government prepared for a double saving on its currency that would cut a nice slice out of expenditures. The laundry powder, however, refused to play with the new ink, and the resulting color schemes kept secret service agents guessing for some time over the expert counterfeiting that suddenly became rampant in the country. A careful search through the pockets of laundry-bound shirts might save inconvenience and embarrassment later on.

Politics This Week.

Our tariff barometer registers increasing cloudiness in the protectionist sections with better prospects for fair weather in the consumer regions. For this we give thanks. It is in happy contrast to the scene, commonplace atmosphere that marked the proceedings of the Ways and Means committee only a few months ago. Then the lustily howling infant industries already had their hands in the tariff grab-bag and it looked like smooth sailing for sky-limited revision.

Without attempting to explain the changed direction of the winds, we are content to point out various trends in the Senate Finance Committee. Some schedules have been shoved up; that was to be expected. But others have been taken down a peg or two. The tariff on building materials that caused so many lips to curl scornfully at the very mention of "farm relief" has been taken off. Indefensible duties on tomatoes, peas and beans have been modified so that they do not operate during the winter months when we must have fresh vegetables from Mexico,

Cuba and other tropical countries. And it is being prophesied in Washington that sugar will almost certainly not emerge from the committee with the tax imposed by the House. No less a political commentator than Mark Sullivan has remarked in his discussion of the sugar schedule that "A final possibility, reduction of the present rate, is by no means to be ignored."

Winged Postman Increasingly Popular.

The amount of mail that flies from the nation's capital to all parts of the country is four times as large as it was one year ago. Furthermore, the bulging pouches of mail grow more numerous and bulging every month. In round statistics, mail planes now fly 50,000 miles daily across 41 states and into Canada, Mexico and Central America. These figures, given by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, of course, represent air ports all over the United States, which alone has 30,000 miles of airways.

A reduction in the air postal rate from five to two cents has been suggested even though the deficit in the post office department was largely attributed to loss of money on air mail. The reduction has been suggested as a sure means of increasing the air mail business to the point where the government will find it profitable to make contracts with air companies on the basis of space used as is done in the case of railroads. This would mean no loss of revenue to Uncle Sam as well as a nice slice of cake for grateful subjects.

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

EDITED BY R. B. THOMAS

The outstanding event of the season at Camp Charlevoix is the Hiawatha Pageant. It was planned for Saturday afternoon. Owing, however, to rainy weather, it was decided to postpone it to Sunday. The pageant was under the direction of Professor J. Raleigh Nelson of the University of Michigan. The entire camp, boys and counselors, practiced every afternoon for two weeks preceding the event. The principal roles are: Louis C. Reimann as Iago; Reed Dingman as Hiawatha; Miss Dickinson of Sequanota, as Minnehaha; Miss Sprague of Ironton, as Nokomis; Dodd Herbert as the youthful Hiawatha; Donald Warfield as the young Hiawatha and George Wahl as Father Marquette.

The pageant opens with the five tribes winding their way upon the stage. Two tribes come on foot, two by canoe, and one on horseback. The chiefs then had their tribes bury their weapons and smoke their pipe of peace.

The following three scenes depicted the infant life, the child life, and the youth of Hiawatha.

Throughout the production Professor J. Raleigh Nelson of the University of Michigan, read Longfellow's, "Hiawatha." At various times Fred Morris and Miss Olson sang, accompanied by Mrs. Reimann and Bower, a violinist from the Belvedere orchestra. The play was brought to a close by Hiawatha's wooing and wedding feast. Father Marquette appeared in the midst of the festivities. Hiawatha took his canoe and paddled to the lands far away.

The poem is an allegory, and Hiawatha's departure signifies the perpetual attempt to stay beyond the white man's influence.

There was a large crowd. Those who have seen this previous years said that this year's production far surpassed the previous ones despite the fact that the wind blew the reading of the poem and the singing into the forest.

Wednesday morning was held the annual Camp Charlevoix inter-cottage track meet. For the senior section the event was won by Al Heldman's cottage; for the intermediates Miller's cottage; for the juniors Smith's cottage.

High-point men were: for the juniors, Bagby; for the intermediates, Hinkley; for the seniors, Thomas. Senior events were: high jump, four-forty yard dash, shot-put, 50-yard dash, pole vault, 880-yard run, broad jump and 880-yard relay. Intermediate events were: 50-yard dash; shot put, high jump, 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, broad jump and 880-yard relay.

Juniors participated in a baseball throw, 50-yard dash, high jump, 220-yard dash, broad jump and 880-yard relay.

Not to be outdone, on Thursday evening the counselors held a Septathlon. Max Welch was the high point man.

Events were: 220-yard dash, pole vault, discus, high jump, shot-put, broad jump and 50-yard dash. Results were: Welch, 14; Oldham, 17; Heldman, 24; White, 32; Felsom, 43; Dubpernell, 48; Danberg, 53; Hogan, 57; Neal, 58; Smith, 69; Wahl, 71; Beck, 81; North, 81; Dean, 83.

It is obvious that the high scores went to the lesser athletes.

Camp closes Monday morning. Activities as a whole camp cease on Saturday evening with the close of the final banquet. This last week is a week of trips. The senior section is to go by foot and horseback to "the stone cabin" at the headwaters of the Jordan river. The intermediate section is to go to Beaver Island. While the juniors are staying in camp and are to have a number of overnight hikes.

Saturday evening because of the postponement of the Hiawatha Pageant and because none of the boys were prepared to do anything the staff took upon itself the entertainment of the boys and visitors. They presented "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" in pantomime while the poem was read by Jack Hogan. "The Road to Mandalay" was sung in delightful manner. Fred Morris brought the evening to a close by giving a hilariously funny take-off of a country fiddler.

Previous years whenever a camper had a birthday during the season he was given a cake for his table. This year it was thought that there was too large a number for this custom to be continued. Instead a birthday party was held Sunday noon for those who were born during the season. They ate at one table, had a huge cake, and were recipients of gifts both practical and humorous.

FIREWORKS FEATURE OF MICHIGAN FAIR

Gorgeous Display Nightly From September 1 to 7.

Trees that grow in a second and die in a minute—palm trees studded with gems—will be part of the spectacular aerial fireworks display to be staged nightly at the Michigan State Fair's 18th annual exposition, September 1 to 7. It will be the first time this type of fireworks will be seen in this part of the country. They will be one of the main events of the nightly grandstand show to be made up of the Wild West rodeo, the type made famous at Pendleton, Ore.; Cheyenne, Wyo.; and Calgary, Alberta; 15 vaudeville acts, and a concert by Al Sweet's band in cowboy costume. The renowned 91st Highlanders' "Kiltie" band of Canada will be heard each evening at the horse show in the coliseum.

The palm trees seen in the display are "Jewelled Palms." Huge bombshells, exploding high in the air, release lines of green color which look like the fronds of palm trees. Along the fronds and at their tips are tiny brightly colored globes which give the trees a gem-studded appearance.

"The Photographer's Nightmare" is another mystifying effect. A huge shell releases more than 5,000 tiny particles, brilliant and white, which flash intermittently, each like the bright illumination of a flashlight charge, and lighting up the firing ground and the entire surroundings.

Other unusual effects are "The Flight of the Glow Worms," made of thousands of tiny globes that flash on and off in the air like fireflies; the "Screeching Geysers" producing showers of steaming silver color belched into the air with screaming sounds; the "All Star," brilliant fiery stars of many colors and sizes that chase each other about the sky and fall gracefully to the ground, and "Aerial Searchlights," duplicates of those used to light "No Man's Land" during the war. The most awe-inspiring is said to be the display, "The Union Screen," an immense battery of mammoth golden showers cascading in the air.

You can save a pile of money at Campbell's Shoe Sale.—Adv. 34t1.

SPARKS CIRCUS TO SHOW AT PETOSKEY

Coming There Next Monday, August 26th—Varied Program.

The circus, the name of which is a household word in the United States and Canada, and now the largest giving a daily street parade, will exhibit in Petoskey on Monday, August 26. Its Sparks Circus, one of the oldest and best. Enlarged in every department this season, carrying 800 people, 500 horses, and the largest collection of trained wild animals in the world it will surely exhibit in the above city on the above date. Among the outstanding features of Sparks Circus this season is the Nelson family, the world's premier acrobats, seven in number.

The three herds of elephants include a group of baby elephants, all being handled by ladies, under the careful guidance of their trainer, Walter McLain. Sixty laugh producers headed by America's foremost clown, Paul Wenzel, will see that you have plenty of laughs during the performance.

Other sensational features include among the many, Mlle. Rosina, the world's most daring high wire artist; Madame Harriette Guilfoyle and her leopards and Franz Woska and his tigers. Flora Bedini and the Walter Guice troupe of riders furnish the sensational riding acts. Carlos and Etta Carreon handle the mnage and high school horses, and the Sparks' rotation horses, 16 in number. The performance concludes with a gorgeous spectacle, "Lily of the Nile," featuring Alice Sohn, prima donna, and George Sohn, concert tenor.

Don't forget the date, Monday, August 26, at Petoskey.

PLAN AN ADDITION TO PRESENT GOLF LINKS

Cheboygan Country Club Sponsoring Added Nine Holes.

Plans were adopted at the annual meeting of the Cheboygan Golf and Country club last Thursday night to investigate the feasibility of constructing an additional nine holes at the local course. An outline of the plan for the positions of the additional nine holes was advanced by M. D. Olds, and after considerable discussion by members of the club, a committee was appointed to make a survey of the course and submit a recommendation to the board of directors, who, if the plan proves to be practical, will order the construction of the additional nine holes.

Following the close of the club's affairs for the past year, the election of officers and directors took place with the following result:

President—G. A. Thompson.
Vice-president—C. A. Weaver.
Secretary—W. H. Conboy.
Three new directors to be elected were: C. A. Weaver, V. D. Sprague and G. A. Thompson.

"---as advertised"

How many times you see those two words in the course of a day's shopping: "This article for sale—as advertised."

And those two words are as welcome as they are familiar, for they form a band of confidence between the merchant and yourself. They are his guarantee to you of worth and value.

Here is an article that has been described in your newspaper. Its merits have been told; possibly, too, its price. You know exactly what you will get when you buy it. You know its quality, its utility; you know it fits into your needs. And when you buy it you know you are getting not some unproved substitute, but the specified article—as represented.

It is easy to understand why that phrase, "as advertised," creates a feeling of confidence. You have learned to depend upon consistently advertised products. You know that the maker has confidence in them, else he would not spend money calling your attention to them day after day, and month after month. You know that they have been approved by the most critical of investigators—the buying public. And above all, you know from experience that buying goods "as advertised" is the best investment you can make.

HABITUAL CRIMINAL SENTENCED TO LIFE

First Sentence of Kind Meted Out in Antrim County.

At the special session of circuit court last Tuesday, Judge Farm C. Gilbert passed his first life sentence in Antrim county, made necessary by the recently enacted law of life imprisonment for fourth offense.

Ralph McDonald, alias James Hawkins, who pleaded guilty to forgery at the regular term last week and also pleaded guilty to attempted robbery and two other charges at this session, was given life sentence, it being fourth offense. He was sentenced to Jackson state prison.

AT THE MOVIES

"Broadway Babies" Shows Life of Chorus Girls.

What kind of people are chorus girls, anyway? It's a question that has been asked for years, ever since "The Black Crook" startled the natives of New York with wide expanses of stocking clad limbs—the first time such indiscretions had been permitted in a reputable theatre.

Alice White, who plays a show girl in her latest First National-Vitaphone picture, "Broadway Babies," coming to the Palace Theatre Friday, says they are just like ordinary folks who don't happen to live and move and have their being in the glare of the footlights and in the glitter and glamor of the theatrical world.

Director Burns Ship and Stages Wreck at Sea in Keaton Film.

Burning a ship to get a laugh, and staging a wreck at sea, all for the sake of hilarity, are some of the lengths to which Buster Keaton goes to make audiences roar. In his new sound synchronized Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, "Spite Marriage," which will be at the Palace Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

The new story is a hilarious comedy of backstage theatrical life, in which an actress marries Buster in order to spite a former lover. Both Buster and his bride are then plunged into a series of hilarious troubles and thrills. Edward Sedgwick, who directed "The Cameraman," directed the new picture, with Dorothy Sebastian as the actress heroine and a notable cast that includes Leila Hyams, Edward Earle, William Bechtel, John Byron and many others of note.

The story is an original by Lew Lipton, scenarized by Ernest S. Pagano.

"The Trial of Mary Dugan" Triumphs Again as Talking Film. "The Trial of Mary Dugan," Bayard Veiller's all-talking picturization of the stage success of the same name, will begin an engagement at the Palace Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Bayard Veiller, author of the stage play, went to Hollywood under a special agreement with the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to direct the screen adaptation. Veiller, whose earlier plays include "Within the Law" and "The Thirteenth Chair," recently sailed for England and plans to produce his next piece abroad.

HANDSOME PRIZES AT GAYLORD SHOW

AWARDS TOTALLING $1,800 ARE LISTED THIS YEAR.

Top O'Michigan Potato and Apple Show Oct. 30 to Nov. 1 to Be Greatest in History.

The premiums to be offered at the Seventh Annual Top O'Michigan Potato and Apple Show at Gaylord, October 30 to November 1, will be the greatest in the history of the show, according to A. C. Lytle, secretary. Last year the premiums and prizes totaled over $1,600. This year additional premiums and prizes will make the amount paid out to exhibitors and contestants nearly $1,800.

The principal change allows for a first, second and third prize of $5.00, $3.00 and $2.00 respectively for each county in the association, provided there are three or more exhibits worthy of such a prize. In the past there has been only one prize of $5.00 for the best exhibit from each county. This change alone raises the premium list $60.00.

The other important addition to the prize list is the awarding of $100 to the leading potato grower of Michigan for a trip to Prince Edward Island next summer. This prize is awarded upon several factors, with 25 per cent allowed for yield, 25 per cent for quality, 25 per cent for ability to grade and 25 per cent for ability to pick an exhibit of 32 potatoes.

There have been no changes in the amount of money to be paid in the apple classes. A total of $385 is the same as was paid last year.

In the Boys' and Girls' Club classes there are no changes in the money paid out, but the students of the Smith-Hughes Vocational Agricultural Schools will compete with the Boys' and Girls' Clubs.

The grading contest, apple pie baking contest, and potato paring contest will receive the same awards as last year. The annual Top O'Michigan town and country choir singing contest will be held as usual.

The premium books, which are now ready to go to press, will be available for distribution September 1, and will be sent to all on regular mailing list. Those who are not on regular mailing list may request copy from their county agricultural agent, or write direct to A. C. Lytle, secretary, Top O'Michigan Potato and Apple Show, Gaylord.

Entertained Thursday in Honor of Mrs. Hubert E. Paddock.

Mrs. Robert W. Paddock entertained thirty ladies at luncheon and bridge last Thursday afternoon, August 15th, in compliment to her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Hubert E. Paddock.

Luncheon was served at the home of Mrs. Dow, Sunset View Farm, the guests later motoring to the summer home of Mrs. Paddock in East Jordan, where the remainder of the afternoon was enjoyably spent in playing bridge.

LOCAL MOTORISTS NARROWLY ESCAPE INJURY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graves and a friend, Mrs. Brown, fortunately escaped injury Sunday, when Mr. Graves' dodge coupe backed down the large hill east of Phelps and over the embankment into a mud-hole. When nearly up the hill, Mr. Graves stalled his engine while shifting gears. The clay surface of the incline was slippery and his brakes failed to hold. Although the machine slid the whole length of the hill, it did not overturn and no one was injured.

Final Notice!

To owners and operators of motor vehicles of every kind:

The Board of Trustees of Belvedere Club requests all operators of motor vehicles to obey the 20-mile speed limit fixed by the trustees.

Our streets are narrow and there are many small children on the grounds. We must use every possible care to avoid accidents.

Owners of cars are requested to insist that their drivers observe the speed limit.

Anyone who continues to violate this regulation after receiving this notice will forfeit the privilege of driving on the streets of Belvedere Club during the remainder of the season.

Board of Trustees of Belvedere Club. By R. Vernon Clark, president.—Adv. 34t1.

LEONA SMITH INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP

Run Down by Youthful Driver at Corner State and Mason Streets.

Miss Leona Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Swain Smith, was badly bruised and received a cut over her right eye requiring two stitches shortly after noon Wednesday when she was struck by a Ford touring car driven by Lester Clarence Hemingway, age 14.

The accident occurred at the corner of State and Mason streets. Hemingway was going west on Mason and was about to turn to the left onto State when Miss Smith stepped into the street. Hemingway lost his head, for the tire marks show that he chased the girl almost to the left curb before striking her and then ran up over the sidewalk into the porch of the Ward residence.

Leona was taken to the hospital, where her wounds were dressed before going home. It was very fortunate that the consequences were not more serious.

It is understood Hemingway's parents are resorting at Walloon Lake, although this information is not verified.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

Governor Fred W. Green's message to the home folks may never become a historic state document, but it does reveal the sincerity with which he is going about the state's business. By refusing to allow political expediency, or political ambitions, to be injected into his work as governor at the present time he has served notice that until the proper time arrives the work of the present administration must be allowed to proceed without interruption.

His position should meet with general approval. The people of Michigan are more interested in the great institutional-building program, now well under way, than they are in a gubernatorial nomination and election more than a year distant.

Governor Green rightly assumes that the governorship is a work of trust. He is devoting his entire time to the affairs of state, and whatever else may be said of him, honesty and economy are synonymous with his work as the state's chief executive. Mistakes may be made, but they will be of the head and not of the heart, for Fred Green is actuated by a consuming desire to serve well in this high position.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX ACTIVITIES CLOSE

FINAL BANQUET WAS EVENT
LAST SATURDAY EVENING.

Awards for Meritorious Work During Season Presented to Boys by Various Division Leaders.

By RALPH THOMAS.
Camp Charlevoix's third season came to a formal close at a banquet held Saturday evening in the dining hall. The boys and counselors did not leave immediately. They began to leave Sunday morning and the departures continued until late Monday. Work is already under way for the transfer of all equipment to the new home, "The Lumberlost." There will be men at work there all winter on the buildings and rustic furniture.

The banquet itself was a delicious meal prepared by Mrs. Bridge, the camp cook, and her staff. John Browne, of Akron, Ohio, chairman of the banquet committee, after commending Morris Winborn, Birmingham, and Kenyon Brigham, Ann Arbor, for their work as chairmen on decorations and headwaiter respectively, introduced the toastmaster, Lewis C. Reimann, camp director. Mr. Reimann in a few introductory remarks said farewell until next year and praised the results accomplished by the boys and counselors this summer.

The one comical trophy of the summer was then awarded. "Gumperts" is a drink made by mixing an extract of grape with sugar and water. It is used extensively throughout the summer on hikes and picnics. The boy who has the greatest and most lasting thirst for this preparation is awarded the trophy, a can of "Gumperts," and is given the title of "Gumperts' King." This year the lucky boy was Edward Owens. Geo. Miller, Detroit public schools, made the presentation speech.

The awards of the tribe of Charlevoix had been given out the night before at the council ring. Three boys were absent on that occasion. They were given their insignia at the banquet. Howard Olson received an "arrow C." Roland McLaughlin and Howard McGregor received the "C" that designates them as Indians.

That afternoon a swimming meet was held. Earl S. Oldham, head swimming instructor, gave out the ribbons. The results will be found in another column. Also, as head counselor of the senior section, he gave out felt pine trees to those in his section who had successfully completed the "Pine Tree" hike. Next, Harold White head counselor of the intermediate section, presented felt ship silhouettes to all those who made the trip to Beaver Island. These ships, like the pine trees, are designed to be worn on the jersey.

Those boys who prove themselves leaders, are well developed in all branches of camp activity, lend a helping hand where it is needed, and have attended camp for at least 16 weeks are made "Young Chiefs." This ceremony was performed the night before. Only two boys were thought worthy of the honor this year, Walter Hoyt and Robert Utter. Mr. Reimann made a formal announcement at the banquet that this distinction had been conferred on them. The Indian names that they took were "Unselfish Server" and "Stillwater" respectively.

This year there was a contest to see who could make the best album of camp photographs. The winner to have the price of the album refunded. John Hinckley's work was far outstanding. Clarence Beckwith, the judge, announced his decision.

There are trophies presented at Camp Charlevoix in all four of the channels in which work is divided. Walter North, head of the art department, presented the trophies. These awards were given to the camp by Max Ramm, Detroit, and are beautiful silver plaques. In the senior section the boy thought to have done the most along this line was Merritt Stone. Merritt was given keen competition by Walter Hoyt. In the intermediate section Dave Lning was head and shoulders above all others. The juniors had two boys practically on the same plane in this field, Ralph Slack and Donald Warfield. After much deliberation, Slack was decided to have a slight edge on Warfield and consequently the former was given the plaque for his section.

The next awards to be presented were those of the athletic department. John Heldman, an eight letter man from Oberlin, director of athletics at the camp, presented these. They were given to the camp by the Petoskey Chamber of Commerce and were silver trophies showing a track man. In the senior section Dade Winhorn was the outstanding athlete. Ralph Thomas was runner-up. The intermediate boy who got the cup for his section was Louis Greenman. Henry Lord and Howard Wolfe tied as runners-up. There was a very keen competition in the junior section and especially between Glenn Robinson and John Bagby. It was a difficult decision but Bagby, holding eight out of nine possible track records, was given the cup. These awards were not only presented on the basis of ability, but also on the basis of enthusiasm and good sportsmanship.

Handicraft awards were given out by Robert Van Sickle. Harold Conable received the senior prize with Merritt Stone as a close second. Intermediate winner was Robert King. Dave Lning managed to be very close behind him. Donald "Punky" Warfield, one of the very youngest boys in camp, has taken a remarkable interest in leathercraft and was given the junior award. James Ramm was not far behind. These prizes, hand axes in leather guards, were given by the Marble Arms company, Gladstone, Michigan.

SEVENTH ANNUAL COUNTY PICNIC

AT WHITING-PARK LABOR DAY,
SEPTEMBER 2ND.

Full Day of Field Sports, Baseball, Speeches and Music Has Been Arranged for Entertainment.

By B. C. MELLENCAMP.
Great plans have been made for your entertainment on Labor Day at Whiting Park, when the business and rural interests of Charlevoix county unite in putting on the Seventh Annual County Picnic.

Nothing has been left undone to make this day one that will never be forgotten. There will be something doing every minute of the day.

Sports that will make your blood run wild, speeches that will hold your rapt attention, music that will thrill, and above all two real baseball games. Then don't forget the picnic dinner at noon. Food will never taste better than in this beautiful site located near the shoreline of Lake Charlevoix where the atmosphere is perfect and the spring water is 100 per cent pure.

Throw away your cares and troubles, pack up the old lunch basket and bring the family for the big occasion.

Music for the day will be furnished by the Boyne City band.

Doughnuts, coffee, cream, and sugar will be furnished free of charge. Come and help yourself. Then the several Legion Posts in the county will have stands to quench your thirst and satisfy your appetite.

The sports will start at 10:30 with running races for the children and men, a potato race, sack race, and tug-of-war between the city men and country men. Basket dinner at noon. The speaking program begins at 1:30 o'clock featured by the appearance of L. L. Drake, District Extension Agent from the Michigan State College. Other speakers of local reputation will also appear on the program.

At 2:15 the first baseball game starts between the business men of Charlevoix and East Jordan. You didn't know that these business men were old time ball players did you, well come and see.

At 3:30 the big game between Mancelona Independents and Charlevoix County's Best will take the field and put the big league to shame. This will be a hot game as Mancelona has a good team and is primed for battle.

Space does not permit giving any more details but come and enjoy the day at Whiting Park on Labor Day, September 2.

THE INN CHILDREN'S PARTY A FINE AFFAIR

A delightful affair at The Inn ball room last Monday evening was the annual dancing party and program given for the children of hotel guests. Miss Harriett Blood, popular social hostess at The Inn, had charge of the affair.

A number of delightful special entertainment features won the admiration of a large audience, while favors of colored balloons and noisemakers added to the delight of the children.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPEN SEPT. 9TH

NEW COURSES OFFERED AND IMPROVEMENTS MADE.

Several New Instructors Will Begin
First Year Here—Anticipate Larger Enrollment.

Charlevoix public schools will open for the 1929-30 terms on Monday, September 9, according to an announcement made today by Superintendent M. Otterbein.

Several new courses will be offered and a somewhat increased enrollment is anticipated.

The new subjects to be offered Charlevoix high school students this year include "Civics for Citizenship," Without this subject it is surprising how few students can quote one line from our Constitution at a time when special emphasis is being placed on the need of a better understanding of that famous instrument. Botany will be offered the second semester and will materially strengthen the course in biology. Public speaking, debating and parliamentary law will be offered to those desiring the subjects as extra curricular and parts of regular class work.

Several excellent new standard reference books have been purchased to encourage and give opportunity for special study of subjects in the different departments.

The seating arrangement has been changed in several of the rooms and new shades purchased for the central and high school buildings. The most marked change will be noticed in the absence of the old bell at the central building. In its place will be a gong. Pupils of the new building have already had one year of experience with a gong as a final call to school.

Several new teachers will appear on the faculty for the first time. Mrs. Ethel McKee of Hillsdale, will have charge of music and art; Miss Agnes Anderson of Negaunee, succeeds Miss Thomas as head of the commercial department, and Miss Helen Butten succeeds Miss Hood in the domestic science department. In the junior high, Miss Floranz Milner of the sixth grade replaces Miss Struthers and Miss Mildred Bodfish of Mt. Pleasant, succeeds Miss Milner in the sixth grade. The first grade teacher may not be secured for a few days.

The faculty, with the exception of the first grade, is as follows:

Grades.

Kindergarten, Helen French; 2nd grade, Florence Little; 3rd grade, Ethel Melline; 4th grade, Sophia Manson; 5th grade, Juanita Secord; 6th grade, Mildred Bodfish.

County Normal.

Principal, Miss Pearl C. Biggie; training teacher, Mrs. Gertrude Dick. Junior High.

Principal, Walter Alexander; English, Floranz Milner; history and geography, Harry E. Bingham. Senior High.

Principal, O. P. North; English, Leona McKinley; history, Valera Kellar; Latin and French, Margaret Towar; mathematics, Ray Kipke; general science and civics, S. Coleman; domestic science, Helen S. Butten; commercial, Agnes Anderson; music and art, Mrs. Ethel McKee.

Superintendent Otterbein will be at his office from 10 to 12 mornings and 2 to 4 afternoons on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week to classify students, and consult with those who wish to see him on school matters and to sell books.

CHAS. HUME WINS CHARLEVOIX OPEN

DEFEATED EDW. SUTTER FOR MEN'S TITLE SUNDAY.

Esther Chichester, Petoskey, Won
Women's and Girls' Crowns—Jack
Turney, St. Louis, Boy Champ.

Two New Orleans, La., boys, Edward Sutter and Charles Hume, Southern Junior doubles champions and the former Michigan Riviera junior title holder, ended two and one-half months of tennis harnstorming here Sunday, and in four terrific sets fought it out for the men's singles title of the annual Charlevoix open at The Inn courts. The match marked their fifth meeting as finalists during that period and Hume's victory Sunday gave him three wins to Sutter's two.

The duel was a spectacular one throughout. Greatly hampered by a strong wind, the players resorted to a chop-stroke game, of which both are masters, and the scores of 3-6, 6-2, 7-5, 6-3, is a fair indication of the closeness of the struggle. All but three of the nine games in the first set went to deuce, and the remainder of the contest was a repetition of the first canto. While Sutter displayed his best game from the back line, he fell down on close to the net play and by capitalizing on this weakness, Hume was able to draw his opponent out of position and score needed points.

Sutter and Hume were to have met for the junior singles title also, but both were so fatigued from the first match, that after gaining the consent of local tournament officials, decided to play off the junior titles after reaching their home in New Orleans.

Miss Esther Ann Chichester of Petoskey, carried off two handsome tennis trophy cups from the Charlevoix open. She won the girls' singles on Saturday afternoon and on Sunday, in a much harder battle won the women's singles title. After winning her matches handily throughout the week, Miss Chichester disposed of Millie Montesanti, of Southern Pines, N. C., in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1, for the girls' singles crown. This match was held Saturday afternoon, and Sunday she won by straight sets over Ann Boleck of Detroit. The score of Sunday's match was 6-3, 6-3.

Miss Chichester won one trophy here last season and also has been winning quite regularly at the big Bay View annual resort tennis tournament at Bay View, Petoskey.

Jack Turney of St. Louis, Mo., a summer resorter at the Belvedere club, is Charlevoix's new boy's singles champ. In the finals Sunday afternoon he disposed of William Tulmon of Detroit, in two straight sets, 6-3, 6-3.

The Charlevoix open drew an excellent entry, mostly from among our summer people and hotel guests. It was a fine entertainment feature and the matches were watched daily by a large number. The meet was staged under the auspices of The Inn and Charlevoix Tennis Club, and was directed by Gerald Ash.

Thieves Steal Fishing Tackle.

Sheriff Dave Vaughan made a business trip to East Jordan Saturday afternoon. He was called there to investigate the theft of a quantity of fishing tackle from Charlevoix resorters who fished the Jordan river Friday. Their paraphernalia was stolen from an automobile as they were lunching in a restaurant.

FAREWELL PARTY WAS GIVEN MYRTLE O'NEIL

Friends Gather at Clair Webster
Home for Occasion.

Miss Myrtle O'Neil was pleasantly entertained by a number of her girl friends last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Clair Webster at a farewell party given prior to her departure for Harper hospital, Detroit, where she enters as a student nurse.

The evening was spent in playing buncos. First prize went to Miss Dorothy Withers and consolation to Arylene Supernaw and Nellie Smith. A delightful feature of the evening was when Miss O'Neil was made to follow a red string leading all through the house and finally ending at a big suit case filled with gifts from her friends.

Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess and the guests declared their pleasure for being so pleasantly entertained, and Miss O'Neil received the best wishes of her friends for her future success.

Those present were the Misses Helen Mary Campbell, Bonita Higgins, Dorothy Withers, Edna Brown, Arylene Supernaw, Nellie Smith, Esther Goldstick, Doris Solomon, Clara Kelderhouse, Fern Crandall.

INSURANCE MEN'S CONVENTION HERE

ONE HUNDRED TWENTY AT THE INN FOR OUTING.

Accompanied by Families, Delegates Are Having Wonderful Time Enjoying Second Annual Meeting.

The Inn is entertaining their third convention of the summer this week. Sixty-one all-star salesmen of the Business Men's Assurance Co., Kansas City, Mo., together with their families, are here on their second annual summer outing, a reward for insurance sales over a minimum amount as set by the company.

At the opening business session at The Inn Monday morning, Charlevoix's welcome to the visiting delegation was given by Mayor Arthur Bergeson, who, in a short and appropriate address, told the insurance men and their wives a few reasons why they could not pick a better spot than Charlevoix for a summer outing. In closing he turned the keys to the city over to them and gave assurance that every measure possible would be taken to make their stay an enjoyable one.

Along with their regular business sessions and "booster" meetings, the conventionists are having a wonderful time. Each afternoon is being devoted to entertainment features of some sort and capable committees are handling the affairs planned. A golf tournament, tennis tournament, swimming contests, horseback riding and motor trips are among the pleasurable things on the program.

The convention officially closes Wednesday night with a banquet, at which time prizes to winners of the various contests will be awarded. A playlet entitled, "Dr. Plan A. Day," is another feature of the evening program.

W. T. Grunt of Kansas City, Mo., is president of the Business Men's Assurance Co., and it is through his courtesy that the outing is being given. W. J. Pierce of Oklahoma, is the 1929 president of the 1000 Club, name adopted by the all-star salesmen, and A. T. Dahlke of Detroit, is vice-president.

The visitors have been very lavish in their praises of Charlevoix and the wonderful treatment that has been accorded them at The Inn. While some will leave Thursday, many are planning to stay over for the final day of the Great Lakes open golf championship.

LARGE PLANTING OF RAINBOWS IS MADE

Fifty Thousand Fingerlings Transferred to Lake Charlevoix.

Over 50,000 rainbow fingerlings, the hatch from eggs taken in Boyne river early this spring by Superintendent Hoofnagle and members of the crew at the U. S. Hatchery here, were planted in various parts of Lake Charlevoix last Friday afternoon.

The fingerlings were transferred from the hatchery by Wood Brothers' truck and others by P. D. Campbell's boat. Charlevoix sportsmen greatly appreciate this fine co-operation along conservation lines by Supt. Hoofnagle and foresee even greater possibilities in future years.

GREAT LAKES OPEN DRAWS GREAT ENTRY

COUNTRY'S TEN LEADING PROS ON HAND FOR EVENT.

Amateur-Pro Best Ball Tourney Opened Play Today — Medal
Rounds Thursday and Friday.

History in Charlevoix golfing circles is in the making this week. An Amateur-Pro best ball tourney over the rugged and scenic Belvedere course, got under way Wednesday morning and is the prelude to the Great Lakes Open championship, which is Charlevoix's first bid for fame as a golfing resort and is a tournament destined to put this city before the eyes of the entire country.

John R. Bowker, tournament secretary, has gathered a surprising array of golfing talent for this inaugural event. Numbered among the field of 120 wielders of the wood and iron are ten of the country's foremost professionals. Included in the list is Walter Hagen, British open champion; Tommy Armour, Western open champion; Horton Smith, Abe and Al Espinoza, Emmet French, Jack Hutchinson, Al Watrous, Michigan open champion; Tom Karrison, Joe Kirkwood and others. Although lacking of nationally recognized talent, the amateur entry is a strong one.

Hagen, Smith, French and Abe Espinoza arrived in Charlevoix early for the big event. With the exception of Hagen, all were out for practice rounds Tuesday. Horton Smith turned in two rounds of 74 and 71, Espinoza scores of 70 and 73, while Emmet French cracked the difficult Belvedere course in the afternoon for a 68, four below par and two better than the former course record of 70 held by himself.

For the Amateur-Pro tournament Wednesday, the field was split, part playing in the morning and the balance in the afternoon. First and second prizes of $100 and $50 go to the professionals and the Dudley H. Waters trophy and a second prize to the two best amateurs.

Medal play starts Thursday morning, with 18 holes or each of the two courses. The following day, Friday, those pros within 20 strokes of Thursday's low score and all amateurs, will play 36 holes at the Belvedere course for the championship title and prize money.

From a publicity standpoint, Charlevoix will derive more from this golfing event than any other attractions ever staged here. Harry Salsinger from the Detroit News, and McDonald, sports writer for the Detroit Times, are covering the tournament for their papers, while the Detroit Free Press, Associated Press and other leading dailies are being covered by local press representatives.

One very noticeable item is the lavish praise that is being bestowed upon Charlevoix's two 18-hole golf courses by the visiting professionals and amateurs. They have acclaimed the scenic beauty and wonderful condition of both, and especially the Belvedere course. Their good will means a lot to Charlevoix's future tournament possibilities and, properly exploited, the Great Lakes Open championship can become one of the great golfing events in the country.

John R. Bowker is being ably assisted by local committees in the conduct of the tournament, which is under way as we go to press today.

LANSING MAN LOSES LIFE BY DROWNING

Body Found in Little Traverse Bay
Saturday Morning.

Carl Messenger, Lansing automobile salesman, was drowned in Little Traverse Bay, near Menominee Beach Friday evening, his body being recovered Saturday morning after an all night search. He was 28 years of age and single.

Messenger, who was employed by the Olds Motor Company, and another employee, were in Petoskey on a week's vacation trip. In company with two other friends they arranged a "Weenie" roast on the lake shore that evening and later the two men took a swim. Messenger did not come in when his companion dressed, and after repeatedly calling to him, the party started a search which lasted unsuccessfully until early Saturday morning.

His body was found near the bench by passing boys.

Suffered From Nervous Fits—All Rundown—New Medicine Scored Fine Victory.

MRS. ANNA BUCK.

"I was sick, worn out and run-down all over," said Mrs. Anna Buck, 89 West Forest street, Detroit, Mich. "I was intensely nervous, had frequent dizzy spells, sharp pains across the back, had to get up time after time every night, and my indignation was just about everything it should not be. My system was filled with poisons.

"Konjola came as a blessing into my life. Six bottles in six weeks made a new person out of me. I can eat and digest any food; gone are the terrible neuritis and the kidney pains across my back. I do not have to get up any more at night, and my general health has improved so that I feel as though I never had a sick day in my life. Konjola is simply marvelous."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix at F. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

School soon starts. Get the children shoes at low prices at Campbell's Sale.—Adv. 3511.

CENTRAL LAKE.

School begins September 9th, J. L. Kraft again superintendent.

Mrs. Vera Carpenter begins school at Bay View September 2nd.

Mrs. Lorena Alberts began teaching in the Eseltine school east of town last week.

Former County Agent Leon Drake of Mancelona was over this way the first of the week.

Many of our people are planning to attend the Traverse City fair and many will take exhibits.

Cecil Blakely and family of Grand Rapids, who have been resorting at the Versile Gates cottage at Eastport, leave for home this week.

Raymond Lamereaux of Philadelphia, left for his boat at that place last week, after a two weeks' stay at the Arnold home. He is sailing in the U. S. Navy.

Miss Margaret Watson will teach the Lake View school north of town, and J. W. Morse Grand View, west of town. The former has taught 17 years, the latter 38.

There were 25 people in attendance at Sunday school at Bay View last Sunday. Miss Albertha Mudge of Detroit, and Charles Peet of Grand Rapids were visitors.

Interesting meetings are being held at Bellaire which began last Wednesday, in charge of Evangelist Myers. Milan Greenman and family from this place attended last Sunday evening.

Charles Peet and family of Grand Rapids has been visiting at the Abe Arnold and Lambert DeVries homes the past week. They were formerly old acquaintances at Jamestown, Michigan.

Word comes from Orange, Calif., that Mrs. J. O. McEwan, a former resident here, is very low with cancer. She is stopping with her son, Montford Harvey, formerly of this place, also.

Guy McPherson and family leave this week on their return trip to Phoenix, Arizona. They go by auto. They have wintered there the past two years on account of Mrs. McPherson's health.

Rev. G. A. Weaver, wife and sister of Petoskey, called here last week on their way home from Jordan River, where they held services. He has sold most of his manual training work which he had on exhibit at the Cedar River picnic.

Mrs. Charles Ohman was up from Deming, N. M., for a short visit. They have been there for 25 years and think it a wonderful climate for one suffering with lung trouble. It gets rather hot sometimes, and there are a good many Mexicans.

Men from Charlevoix have been moving the old Congregational church at Eastport for Frank Hooper. He is setting it back about 50 feet to make way for the widening of M-31. He has not divulged his plans, but it is thought that he will likely move his restaurant fixtures there from where they are now located.

There was quite a large crowd at the Bay View Gleaners' picnic week before last. The Gidley ice cream from East Jordan was in evidence. There were a number of foot races for the young people. Greswell and Central Lake played ball in the forenoon and Central Lake and Bellaire in the afternoon. Central Lake was victorious in both games. This picnic affords a chance for the old settlers to meet each other. George Sanford and wife of Lansing were among those from a distance who attended. Lois Blakely, daughter of E. V. Blakely of the West Michigan Development Bureau of Grand Rapids, was among those present.

The dedication of the Eastport Baptist church last week at Eastport, was a very successful meeting. About a dozen former pastors were present. Rev. Andem, one of the state workers from Lansing, gave a fine address, and Rev. H. V. Gould, Baptist pastor 21 years ago, preached an excellent sermon on the general trend of religious activities. Charlevoix choir, and Eastport choir furnished singing for the occasion. The church is now about completed. A new furnace has been installed, and electric lights put in. It is regrettable that Rev. Burns, who at first started the project, could not be present. Rev. Roache and wife who fill the present pastorate are very popular, and the sermons and their singing is very much enjoyed.

"In the plant of the Plymouth Motor Corporation at Detroit, ten miles of conveyors are used to carry raw materials into the plant for manufacturing and machining operations, and to carry the various parts to the assembly line where they are used in assembling the cars," according to P. C. Sauerbrey, operating manager.

The largest single floor structure in the country is located at Detroit. It is the plant of the Plymouth Motor corporation. Averaging 400 feet wide, it is nearly a half mile long and is so laid out and constructed that the whole plant is but one mammoth room.

Every 30 seconds a completed car rolls off the final assembly line in the plant of the Plymouth Motor Corporation at Detroit.

OVER THE HILLS.

When Will Carlton wrote his famous poem, "Over the Hills to the Poorhouse," there was much to call forth his poetic protest against our treatment of the unfortunate. Fifty years ago into these desolate refuges our scraps of society were thrown—the homeless, aged, and the orphan child, the lame, the halt, and the blind, the chronic insane, the idiotic and, frequently the delinquent. With that oftentimes brutal treatment and miserly sustenance. Fifty years ago these places were indeed the most desolate spots in our entire social system.

Much of that picture has been changed in recent years. We have abolished most of the disgrace and misery which accompanied that bleak trip to the county infirmary, with its indictment against civilized communities. We have taken away the orphaned and unfit, placing them in homes where they may have an opportunity to re-enter and become a helpful part of society. We have segregated the mentally unfit; we have tried to correct the lame and halt.

Now we find that modern life is being extended into longer years—more people are living to ripe old age. Until the story of preparing for old age—before the evil days come—has been driven home, or until old age pensions are provided, we will have this problem with us. Soers may point warning fingers, but improvidence and misfortune will continue to take their toll.

Meanwhile a great reform is going on. We no longer refer to these havens of rest and security as the poorhouse. Though one may be broken on the wheel, he is no longer an object of contempt, to be mistreated and ill kept. The whole attitude of society has changed. We now have county hospitals, peopled by patients instead of inmates, where kindly treatment and adequate care prevails. We do not need to hang our heads in shame when some unfortunate enters. We have taken down from its portals "Abandon hope, all ye who enter here," and in its place is emblazoned a message of peace, hope, comfort and contentment. It is better thus.

A DOCTOR ADVISES.

"Forget the names of disease for a minute," writes a well known physician-author, "while I make a general statement which applies to all diseases: By keeping your body well nourished and avoiding habits that may lower the resistance, you are pretty safe against all diseases."

To have a well nourished body, he says, you must eat good food and balance your meals properly. You must breathe deeply, get into the fresh air and light, sleep enough in a well-ventilated room, and keep busy at some agreeable occupation. You must be happy and not worry. You must take recreation and have entertainment. You must cultivate good friends. If in this way you order your life according to what hygiene has taught, the doctor promises powers of resistance against all diseases.

His suggestions are sane and sensible, and obviously worth serious thought. Identical in content to them is the message that tuberculosis societies have been broadening for years in their campaign against the Great White Plague, and similar is the advice given for the prevention of heart disease, the illness that now stands out as the principal cause of death in the United States.

If you would live three score and ten years, and be healthy through them all, we advocate modelling your way of living according to the doctor's suggestions. No expensive medicines, muscle exercises, tonics, or other paraphernalia are necessary. Required only is the will to do, and perseverance enough to keep to a routine for year after year.

Like business good will or standing in the community, good health cannot be gained in a day or a month. It is a lifelong quest but it gives bountiful results in every day happiness and usefulness.

THE FUTURE BRIGHT.

I think the future outlook of affairs is very encouraging, and one of the reasons for that is the confidence that the railroads have in their future prosperity.

That is due in part to the encouragement they received from the decision in the O'Fallen case. That made it evident they were to have a fair consideration in the treatment they were to receive from the government.

The railroads are so important an industry in this country that when they are prosperous they carry prosperity to many other allied industries. They are a basic industry, almost as basic as agriculture and manufacturing.—Calvin Coolidge.

CHICAGOAN WAS WINNER OF BELVEDERE TOURNAMENT

Defeated Charles Fox in Finals Last Friday Afternoon.

A. C. Neilson of Chicago, won the men's singles crown in the annual Belvedere tennis tournament last Friday. He defeated Charles Fox of St. Louis, Mo., in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3. The Belvedere tournament is closed to members and guests of the club, which is made up largely of St. Louis, Mo., people, and Neilson was one of the few entrants not hailing from the Missouri city.

Jack Turney of St. Louis, won the boys' singles title after two hard-fought sets from W. C. Connett, a fellow-townsmen. The score was 9-7, 6-4. W. C. Connett of St. Louis, and John Todd of Kalamazoo, Michigan, won the boys' doubles finals from John Wallis of Lansdale, N. Y., and Jack Turney of St. Louis, by a score of 6-2, 6-1. The women's singles title went to Jane Wallis of Lansdale, N. Y., who defeated Jane Connett of St. Louis, 3-6, 8-6, 6-2.

WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNAMENT STARTED MONDAY

The annual women's golf tournament at the Chicago Club of Charlevoix for club members and guests got under way this week with quite a representative field. Play is for a trophy presented by Mrs. Robert Stuart, prominent matron at the club.

The tournament is a handicap affair and qualifying rounds were played Monday. Matches will continue throughout the week with finals on Sunday. Among the entrants are Mrs. O. W. Johnson, Mrs. C. I. Pierce, Mrs. D. McDougall, Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. B. H. Brewster, Mrs. Langdon Hubbard, Ellen Douglas, Mrs. D. H. Burnham, Ellen Stuart, Barbara Douglas, Elizabeth Warren, Mrs. John Coleman, Alice Babst.

JAMES BIRD, PIONEER, DIED LAST SUNDAY

Stricken With Heart Attack In Traverse City Barber Shop.

James Bird, age 73, pioneer resident of Boyne City and Charlevoix county, and father of Frank F. Bird of this city, died Saturday while in a barber shop at Traverse City, where he had been visiting his son, H. Bird. Deceased was very well known in Charlevoix, where he had made extended stays with his son on various occasions. He is survived by five sons, Frank of Charlevoix; Hazel of Traverse City; Elmer of Boyne City; Robert and Roy of Pontiac.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Presbyterian church of Boyne City.

DR. VERNARD MILLER GOES TO BIG RAPIDS

Purchased Dental Office in That City and Left Wednesday.

Dr. Vernard Miller, who for the past year or more has been practicing dentistry in the office of Dr. W. W. Mitchell in the Priest building, has announced the purchase of an office at Big Rapids, Michigan.

Dr. Miller left for his new location on Wednesday of this week. Prior to practicing in Charlevoix, he had a summer office at Bellaire, and during his stay in Northern Michigan has won a large following of friends, who, while wishing him success in his new field, will regret his departure from our midst.

Kentucky has led all the states in tobacco production ever since the Civil War.

ALBERT V. MILES A PIONEER OF COUNTY

Died Last Week at the Home of His Daughter in East Jordan.

Albert V. Miles was born in Homer, New York, March 5, 1868 and passed away August 18, 1929, after a lingering illness of three years, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clyde Strong of East Jordan.

He came to Michigan at the age of ten years with his parents, Levi and Alvira Miles, and located on the farm in South Arm township, which has ever since been his home.

He was united in marriage August 12, 1889 to Mattie D. Holben. Four children were born to this union. Besides the wife, he is survived by three children; Eugene of Ellsworth; Xelle of Lansing, and Mrs. Clyde Strong of East Jordan. Also two grandchildren, Donald and Madelon Miles of Lansing. He also leaves a host of friends and other relatives to mourn their loss.

He served for many years as a member of the Miles District School Board, and Board of Supervisors in a faithful and efficient manner.

The community has lost a loyal citizen and a kind neighbor.

"He lived in a house by the side of the road and was a friend to man."

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2:00 o'clock from the home of the daughter, conducted by Rev. Leonard Dudley. Interment at the Jones cemetery.

PLAN GRAND RAPIDS-ST. IGNACE AIR LINE

Furniture Capitol Air Service Is Sponsoring the Project.

C. Wagemar of the Furniture Capitol Air Service, Grand Rapids, was in Charlevoix the early part of this week making preliminary arrangements for the establishment of an air line from Grand Rapids to St. Ignace.

Present plans are to inaugurate the service as soon as possible. On his trip through this territory, Mr. Wagemar solicited the attitude of business interest in the towns he visited on the proposition, and has met with wonderful response. The itinerary of the service include west Michigan cities from Grand Rapids north.

It is planned to carry passengers and express and bids will also be made for an air mail route. A 12-passenger Ford all-metal cabin plane will be used and one round trip each day made, with around an hour and a half flying time from here to Grand Rapids. Charlevoix business interests greet the proposition with enthusiasm and are lending every possible co-operation.

CHILDREN GIVE RED CROSS BENEFIT DAY

Delightful Entertainment at Joseph Foster Cottage Last Friday.

Friday, August 23, children summing at the Joseph Foster cottage gave a play for the benefit of the Red Cross. The amount taken in, $10.00, was given to Mrs. E. E. Cross, head of the organization in Charlevoix.

The play was conducted by Miss Millie Dreelin and Miss Helen Miller. There were two plays presented: "Kiddies Cabaret" and "Painted Dolls." Helen Trounstein of Cincinnati, and chorus, gave the latter. Other selections were: Scottish dances presented by P. R. Ross and his granddaughter, Betty. Miss Marion Tuhy did the Charleston. The musical program was presented by Miss Mary Margaret Orlovski, Morris and Jack Foster gave recitations. The program was greatly enjoyed.

PLAN BENEFIT FOR EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Annual Masquerade at Chicago Club to Be Given Friday Night.

Members of the Chicago Club of Charlevoix are preparing the program for their third annual masquerade party to be given Friday evening at the ballroom for the benefit of the First Episcopal church organ fund.

Many diversified and entertaining features are being arranged. The Misses Barbara and Ellen Douglas have the committee in charge of the affair. Another affair in which great interest is being manifest is the final dancing party of the summer season, which will be an event of Saturday evening.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to neighbors and friends for their kindness and beautiful floral offerings sent during my recent illness.

BELVEDERE CABARET SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

Given Wednesday Evening to Raise Money for Improvements.

One of the delightful social events of the summer season at the Belvedere Club was a cabaret party Wednesday evening given to raise funds to cover the expense of recent improvements at the casino.

The evening was replete with entertainment features. Miss Jane Sliter of Grand Rapids, an instructor in the Calla Travis Dancing School, that city, who has just finished the season at Knapp Kairphree, delighted the assemblage with her dancing numbers, which included tups, lyric scarf dance, French toe ballet and jazz toe. Murray Horton's orchestra provided many special features which won hearty applause, as did the other entertainers on the program.

George Trammel of Chicago, acted as auctioneer of the food prizes. Miss Calla Travis had charge of the entertainment numbers, and on other committee prominent in sponsoring the affair were Mrs. George Schwab, Mrs. Ben Tait, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bemis, Mr. and Mrs. Wallis, Mr. and Mrs. Logan Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. R. Vernon Clark.

Improvements at the casino were completed this week by workmen under R. J. Madill. The dance floor has been decreased in size by building removable lattice partitions on the north, south and west sides. The orchestra platform has been moved over to the south wall and in case of capacity crowds, the partitions may be removed. The color scheme carried out in new curtains, lighting fixtures and on the partitions is very attractive.

Big Shoe Sale now on at Campbell's. Opposite Palace Theatre.—Adv. 3511.

TOURNAMENT DANCE THURSDAY EVENING

Benefit Affair for Golf Tournament at Belvedere Casino.

Two outstanding entertainment features are being given this week for the visiting golfers who are competing in the Great Lakes open championship.

Thursday evening a tournament hall will be held at the Belvedere Casino. The Courier wishes to call attention to this event. While primarily sponsored for the entertainment of the golfing delegation, it is also designed to raise funds to cover tournament expenses. The dance is open to the public and everyone should attend. Murray Horton's Belvedere orchestra is furnishing the music and will put on special features. Other specialty numbers are under the direction of Miss Calla Travis, and the affair promises to be an enjoyable and colorful one.

Friday evening, The Ian will give a tournament banquet at the hotel for the visiting stars.

WAS NOT OBEYING LAWS—NO REDRESS WHEN KILLED

At a session of probate court held in Bellaire on Monday, August 12, testimony was taken in the case of Thomas Morris before Judge Pratt of Traverse City. After consideration of evidence given, the case was dismissed. Thomas Morris, in driving an auto several weeks ago, struck and killed Charles Kentfield and the horse he was riding. The judge held that Mr. Kentfield should have carried a light as stated in the law.

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX
NEWS COLUMN

EDITED BY R. B. THOMAS

Four days of the last week in camp were taken up by trips in the senior and intermediate sections. The juniors remained in camp and went out on several overnight hikes.

Each year the senior section makes a 70-mile hike to the headwaters of the Jordan river. They there used a stone cabin, owned by the grandfather of one of the boys in camp, as their quarters. To every boy who completes this hike there is given a pine tree emblem for wear on his camp jersey. This year the horses were used. Turns were taken riding.

The group started out Monday morning. They lunched at a school house and then pushed on to a previously determined camping spot where their baggage had been brought by truck.

The stone cabin was reached the next day after a long morning's trek. The afternoon was spent in cleaning up the cabin and in preparing a delectable evening meal.

The journey back was begun next day. Monday's camp was reached mid about that time the real blisters began to develop.

Thursday was the hardest day as the boys were beginning to get very tired. The south arm of Lake Charlevoix was reached for luncheon and all went in for a swim. In the afternoon an attempt was made to reach the Ironton ferry by pursuing the shoreline. The going was tough and to top it off it developed into a race to see who could reach camp first. Al Heldman, a counselor, and Morris Winborn of Birmingham were the first to cross the line.

"The trip was great sport. It tested the endurance and disposition of the boys and showed conclusively that the summer's outing had put the boys in fine physical condition and had taught them to take care of themselves in the woods."

The intermediate section left Monday morning at 8:00 for a four-day trip to Beaver Island. After an enjoyable ride of three and one-half hours the boat docked at St. James and all the boys piled off and mingled in the small crowd which always greets the only boat that makes a regular trip to the island. Camp was set up in "The Birchies," a most enchanting spot on the bay and in the outskirts of the town of St. James.

From "The Birchies" several excursions and trips were made by the campers. There was the ride to the south end of the island where the boys saw a dense stand of virgin hemlock, and an eagle's nest built some one hundred and twenty-five feet from the ground in an old and rugged pine tree. Then there were trips on the fish boats and the boys learned how whitefish and trout are caught in nets set at about 15 fathoms and strung for miles through the water.

The fair weather which aided the beginning of the trip to Beaver Island and provided a successful start remained on hand throughout the stay on the island and even accompanied the James E. Sanford when she brought the boys back to Charlevoix. The stay on Beaver Island is now a pleasant memory.

While the two older sections were rushing all over the countryside the juniors remained in camp and made a very enjoyable time of it. On Monday morning they split and some went to the shop to finish projects while others took out the boats and the canoes.

Tuesday the entire junior section spent the whole day on the shore of Lake Michigan. They went surf bathing several times. In the afternoon they ascended Mt. McSweeney.

Wednesday the cottages went on individual trips. The Forestry Tower, Boyne City tannery, and the Isle of Pines were the various objectives.

Thursday the other sections returned to camp late in the afternoon and the usual program was resumed. However, in the morning the boys took a camera hike and those that did not have cameras were given the opportunity to use the boats. After luncheon baseball prowess was fiercely contested on the diamond.

Despite the fact that they made no long trips the juniors are all certain that they had a very pleasant four days and that their beds were much softer than those of the "voyageurs."

The camp has purchased a 20-foot launch. It will be used for lake trips and for water sports. In the new camp it is planned to make much of oating.

Cottages winning inspection for the last three weeks of camp were Al Heldman's, Clarence Beckwith's, and Layton Smith's. It was planned that they should go to the Indian Pow-wow at Cross Village Sunday last, but, however, to the postponement of the Hinwatha Pageant that is impossible. So Friday evening the return of the various groups and the members of those cottages winning inspection were taken to Charlevoix to see a movie. When they returned to camp they were given refreshments.

Each year at Camp Charlevoix one day during the last week is set aside as "Camper's Day." That means certain boys are elected to take the parts of members of the staff and that the counselors receive the status of boys. This year Friday was the day set aside.

In the morning there were baseball games in the various sections. The afternoon beheld a counselors' swimming meet. In the 25-yard free style Heldman was first, Dingman second, and Morris third. In the 25-yard breast stroke Oldham was first, White second and North third. In the 25-yard sidestroke Heldman was first, Oldham second, and Dingman third. Some fine diving was exhibited. Duhberg took first, Oldham second, and Dingman third.

At dinner John Heldman gave the ribbons out for the track meet and counselors' Septathlon that was held week before last.

Friday evening was one of the most important in the boys' life in camp. It was then that he learns how much he had accomplished during the summer. Only two times during the season is the council ring used. The first is to welcome the boys to camp. The second is for the ceremony of welcoming them into the tribe, if they make good, either as Indians, Braves, or Warriors. Those who have been at the camp at least one previous season and are deserving of high reward because of their work and spirit are then made "young chiefs." Each of the four above degrees has a certain insignia that may be worn on a jersey. The "young chiefs" wear the silhouette of an Indian head over an "arrow C." The warriors may wear a large "C," while the Indians have a small "C." These, with the exception of the Indian silhouette which is grey, are made of green flannel.

Walter Hoyt and Robert Utter, because of the qualities of leadership, the fine sportsmanship, and ability along the various lines of camp work that they displayed during the season were made "Young Chiefs."

Those who were honored with the title of Warrior were: Glenn Robinson, Merritt Stone, Ernie Evans, Harold Connible, John Wilson, Dade Winborn, Ralph Thomas, John Browne, Ken Brigham, Richard Risbee, Bud Parker, Lewis Greenman, Robert King, Bryson Burnham, Henry Lord and Jack Wood.

Friday evening's council fire made the following Braves: William Patton, Howard Wolfe, Charles Clark, Paul Hoyt, Junior Neerken, Winship Todd, David Laing, Cholet Griswold, Robert Reid, Robert Warfield, Richard Woodfield, Ralph Slack, Robert Birch, John Bagby, Robert Shepherd, Hugh Nichols, Jack Foote, Donald Warfield, Fred Warner, William Thompson, Thomas Stillwell, Arvid Lundell, (with special mention for courage and disposition), Dod Herbert, Ted Friedlander, William Reid, Bill Pratt, Bert Reedy, Fred Harlow, Robert Slater, Robert Evans, Jesse Olson, William Van Every, Gahm Kinnison, Jerome Fayrman, Dwight Thompson, and Howard Olson.

The final athletic event of the season was a swimming meet. Due to the fact that the diving equipment was being dismantled the only events were swims. In the senior section Connable placed first, Thompson second, and Evans third in the 25-yard free style. In the breast stroke Thompson took first, Utter second, and Kinnison third. The side stroke was won by Connable. Thompson took second place, and Kinnison third.

There was some fine swimming in the intermediate section. In the free style race Bryson Burnham crossed the line first, Louis Greenman second, and Winship Todd third. The beginners, those who just learned to swim this season, had a race all for themselves. In this event Fred Meyers was first, Roland Starr second, and Martin Owens third. The intermediate also swam a 25-yard side stroke in which Greenman was winner, Burnham second and Todd third.

The junior meet was run off in fine style. The boys showed surprising ability when their average age is taken into consideration. It is eleven. The free style was taken by Bagby with Slack and Robinson respectively second and third. There was a beginners' race in this section too. Hearty, Osburne and Grey placed in the order named. The sidestroke was captured by Slack. Bagby and Robinson made a close second and third.

This year there were classes in American Red Cross life saving. Fred Harlow and Ralph Thomas passed the senior tests. Merritt Stone, Kenyon Brigham and Gahm Kinnison passed the junior tests.

WASHINGTON NEWS
LETTER

Modern Diplomats Wins Plaudits of Californians.

Old World diplomacy, with a lifetime spent in intrigue and manipulation of war and peace in deepest secrecy, has just received a shock. Hollywood has cheered and feted an ambassador.

The ambassador was Don Carlos G. Davila of Chile, former newspaper editor, who has spent the past two years in Washington shining as an example of the new diplomacy.

Among the outstanding results he has accomplished are the settlement of the 50-year-old Tacna-Arica dispute between Chile and Peru. President Hoover's good-will tour of South America, and the compulsory instruction of English in Chilean public schools.

Recently Los Angeles took one look at the small, debonair, energetic young man, and gave him the keys to the city. Hollywood raved over him. San Francisco followed suit.

His receipt for this popularity? "I'm not a diplomat," says Ambassador Davila. "I'm only a newspaper man."

Bigger and Better Bird's Eye Views.

"What's good on the earth is just as good in the air" seems to be a slogan in this aerial age. The United States Army Air Corps at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, just completed tests on the world's largest aerial camera, known as the K-7A. This camera, developed to obtain large ground details from high altitudes, weighs 130 pounds and takes pictures 9 by 18 inches. It is fully automatic and is electrically heated so that it will function at the below-zero temperatures of the highest altitudes.

And even the colored movies are going skyward. The first successful colored motion pictures taken from the air resulted after considerable testing when Captain Albert W. Stevens, recently took a moving picture aloft and came down with photographs which, upon development, proved to be clear and in full color.

This Flivverized World.

A new production record for Model A Ford cars was reached by the Ford Motor company a few minutes before 5:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, July 24th, when engine No. 2,000,000 came off the assembly line at the Rouge plant of the company in Dearborn. The engine was taken to the car assembly line and assembled in a convertible cabriolet.

The second million Model A Ford cars were produced in the period of five months and 20 days. The first Model A was assembled on October 20, 1927, and the first million was reached on February 4, this year. Early production of the Model T Ford cars, predecessor of the present car, forms striking contrast with the efficiency of modern mass production. The first Model T was built on October 1, 1908. It was seven years later, December 10, 1915, before the first million had been attained, and 18 months later, June 14, 1917, before the second million was produced.

Against The Mexican Beet Farmer. The New York Evening World has stepped vigorously into the fight against higher tariff on sugar with a series of articles the first of which appeared on August 12th. Says Robert Barry, the World's correspondent:

"With all he has to do, it seems an injustice to press Smoot for facts about the downtrodden American sugar beet farmers he champions" and under the subhead, Horrors of the Sugar Field, the writer gives "on basis of what has been stated officially" the following facts:

"The 'downtrodden farmers' in the sugar beet fields are Mexican women and children for the most part.

"Work in the beet fields is such back-breaking slavery Americans will not undertake it.

"Mexican women and children obtained by unscrupulous labor agents do the job.

"Children as young as six years of age are so employed.

"Boys and girls ten to thirteen work fourteen to sixteen hours daily under a broiling sun in the early part of the season; when harvesting comes they labor in mud, which oozes through their scant and shabby cotton clothing, and eases on their bodies or in the sudden snow flurries of freezing temperatures of Colorado their hands crack and bleed and their thin garments are frozen to their bodies.

"Nursing mothers, working in the beet fields, have 'dog houses' in which they park their newly born babies so as to have them within reach at feeding time.

"From three to seven persons sleep in every room of the two-room shacks provided for the field laborers and one little boy told Federal inspectors everybody could not sleep at the same time so they had to sleep in shifts."

Mr. Barry quotes the departments of agriculture and labor in contrast to statements made by Charles B. Timberlake, Colorado congressman and beet grower who was chairman of the sub-committee of the House Ways and Means committee which wrote the sugar schedule.

Illuminated Movie Programs.

It took the English to solve the last problem in movie going. Programs have heretofore been unreadable in the darkness of movie houses, but London reports that the problem has been solved by a new paper and ink now under practical trial. The letters are white and printed on a black background so the program looks much the same as a photographic negative.

The white ink, however, contains a trace of radio-active element which makes the letters luminous on the black background even in the darkest room. Another chemical is used in the ink which shines in the dark when acted on by rays emitted by the radio-active element.

No doubt the same principle will soon appear in American theatres.

Politics This Week.

After hot days and hotter words the Tariff bill has gone through the Senate Finance Committee. Chairman Smoot getting increased rates on sugar and Senator Reed getting all he wanted for the steel industry.

Two days after Labor Day it will be laid before the Senate. Then the fates of the American consumer, the Republican Congress of 1930 and the Hoover administration will be decided by the anticipated battle of regular Republicans and the insurgent Republican-Democratic combination.

The fight on the floor is expected to be bitter. President Hoover successfully maintains his policy of keeping his fingers out of the tariff pile—whether it will be pie for a dozen already prosperous beneficiaries or for the millions of consumers remains to be seen.

Progress in the Nation's Capital.

Workmen are busy tearing down the war hotels located between the Capitol and the Union station. When they are cleared away the land will be converted into a beautiful plaza, which was the original intention, when it was purchased.

This is the beginning of the re-

4,000 ton tube which will form a link in the Detroit and Canada tunnel, being towed from Ojibway, Canada, to its final resting place. The Detroit skyline shows in the background.

ney General Mitchell has an 11 story office building to house his staff, and it is cramped.

That Coveted Foot O' The Line.

R. Canturrana, Cuban sugar planter with a home at 140 East 46th street, has grabbed the envied last name position in the New York City directory by adding "Zzyzz" to his name, thus usurping the place formerly held by an author named Brown, who had previously added "Zzyz" to his name.

Times of Cuba comments:

"Some other bug (Zzyzz sounds like a mosquito, anyway) will probably cull himself 'Zzyz'."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.

Subject: "Christ Jesus."

Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Mind" was the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, August 25.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-lesson was the following from the Bible: "Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? Let him show out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom" (James 3:13).

The lesson-lesson also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit diversifies, classifies, and individualizes all thoughts, which are as eternal as the Mind conceiving them; but the intelligence, existence, and continuity of all individuality remain in God, who is the divinely creative Principle thereof" (p.513).

"The Plymouth Motor Corporation is organizing its service stations to operate on a standard maintenance system. This system will assure Plymouth owners of quality maintenance of their cars at standard prices. The Plymouth owner who leaves his car at the Plymouth service station for repairs will know the amount he will have to pay before the job is started," according to H. E. Heath, Plymouth service manager.

Several small trains of six cars travel through the plant of the Plymouth Motor Corporation at Detroit each day at noon carrying lunches to the thousands of men employed throughout that huge factory.

Richard Johnson, driving a truck for the Petoskey Ice Cream company, narrowly escaped death Saturday forenoon when the truck was struck by a Pennsylvania Lines train on the Michigan street crossing. One freight train had just passed and, believing this the only one, the driver sent his machine on its way across the tracks just in time to be hit by the engine of the second train. The truck was just about completely demolished but the driver escaped with a shock, cuts and bruises.

HOLD CAR CRASH WAS UNAVOIDABLE

Coroner at Elk Rapids Finds Accident Was at Unmarked Curve.

A coroner's jury last Friday held that the accident in which three youths and two girls were killed Thursday night while riding in a rumble-seat roadster was unavoidable.

The small machine, bearing five youths and two girls, crashed into a tree when it left the road at an unmarked curve north of Elk Rapids.

Ray Miller, 17, and James Paige, 17, both of Detroit, and Charles Anderson, a farmer, testified at the inquest. Miller and Paige were the only survivors of the fatal mishap. Anderson witnessed it.

The jury included a request to the Antrim county road commission for the immediate removal of the curve in their verdict.

13 TROUT WEIGH NINETY POUNDS

W. A. Johns of Chicago Can Claim Any Angling Championship.

W. A. Johns, president of the W. A. Johns Paper company of Chicago, is hereby authorized to boast the best catch of Mackinaw trout reported in local waters up to and including August 22.

Yesterday, with his father-in-law and with Tony Klassen of Traverse City, Mr. Johns cruised off Northport in Lake Michigan to catch 13 Mackinaws weighing a total of 90 pounds. The catch was divided about equally between the morning when the lake was rough, and the afternoon when it was comparatively calm. The party put out in Mr. Klassen's cruiser about eight o'clock and, coming ashore for lunch, remained out until about four in the afternoon, trolling most of the time about six miles out in the lake.

A number of good catches have been reported in the bay and the lake during the summer but this is the best 1929 catch on record by several fish and many pounds.

The best Mackinaw trout fishing is yet to come, late September always proving the season when they bite most hungrily.—Traverse City Record Eagle.

Under State Supervision

Service and the Small Accounts

This bank is a service institution organized to meet financial requirements of our depositors. The amount of service often depends on the bank balance each customer carries.

We must at all times carefully protect your funds. Money can be loaned only when we feel sure that it is safe. When you maintain a reasonably large, steady balance, it is an indication to us that you know how to use money wisely. It gives us a reason to believe that you are a good credit risk—that money loaned to you will be safe.

That is one reason why depositors who maintain large balances get better service from this bank. They are entitled to it.

whatever the road or weather

One of the outstanding advantages of the Dodge Six is the sense of security it brings to driver and passengers. No matter what the road or traffic condition, this sturdy car insures maximum safety and protection with a body of typical Dodge strength and rigidity. This body is built inflexibly onto the chassis in such a way that the center of gravity is exceptionally low. And also you always have the complete security of Dodge Six 4-wheel hydraulic brakes—positively equalized—internal-expanding—absolutely weatherproof.

"---as advertised"

How many times you see those two words in the course of a day's shopping: "This article for sale—as advertised."

And those two words are as welcome as they are familiar, for they form a band of confidence between the merchant and yourself. They are his guarantee to you of worth and value.

Here is an article that has been described in your newspaper. Its merits have been told; possibly, too, its price. You know exactly what you will get when you buy it. You know its quality, its utility; you know it fits into your needs. And when you buy it you know you are getting not some unproved substitute, but the specified article—as represented.

It is easy to understand why that phrase, "as advertised," creates a feeling of confidence. You have learned to depend upon consistently advertised products. You know that the maker has confidence in them, else he would not spend money calling your attention to them day after day, and month after month. You know that they have been approved by the most critical of investigators—the buying public. And above all, you know from experience that buying goods "as advertised" is the best investment you can make.

IT PAYS TO READ THE ADVERTISEMENTS!

There were six guests of honor at the banquet: Miss Sprague of Ironton, Miss Dickinson of Sequim, both of whom took part in the Hiawatha Pageant; Prof. and Mrs. J. Raleigh Nelson, and Dr. and Mrs. Winder. Dr. Winder, president of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, spoke in behalf of the organization. He told of the importance of Camp Charlevoix to the nearby city. He lauded the chances for development offered to the boy in a summer camp and stressed the outdoor life as a necessity for clean living.

Professor Nelson was called upon to speak next. His summer home is near here and he spoke for the entire neighborhood in saying that the change in sites was going to be a distinct and heartfelt loss to those who live in the immediate vicinity. Professor Nelson was the director of the Hiawatha Pageant.

Roy Dahlberg, director of activities, was next. Unfortunately, Mr. Dahlberg will be in the business world next summer and unable to participate in camp work. His talk was in the nature of a farewell. He advised the boys to project their camp experience into life. His speech was merely five sentences, but he got across as many points. He closed by saying, "I expect every man, and I expect every boy to have that kick behind him which typifies a Camp Charlevoix person."

of Camp Charlevoix and that they should act accordingly. He repeated that he considered this the finest season in the history of Camp Charlevoix, and that if it were possible, he hoped to make the next year even better.

"Taps" were sung to end the program.

M. G. M. Designer Fashions Charming Frocks for Norma Shearer.

No longer do the ladies answer to the nickname of "Pnl" for now they are sweet young things who blush and flirt behind their fans.

Although Norma Shearer, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star whose second talking picture, and latest starring vehicle, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," will be seen Saturday and Sunday at the Palace Theatre, does not resort to these feminine tricks in the picture—she does allow the hero to kiss the hem of her frock.

A descendant of the first Spanish rulers of California plays an important part in the Palace Theatre's all-talking feature picture, "River of Romance" which will show there Monday and Tuesday.

The scion of early American landed gentry is Natalie Kingston, and she plays the role of Mexico, the beautiful octaroon companion of General Orlando Jackson (Wallace Beery), in the gambling house sequences of the production.

Miss Kingston's great-grandfather was General Vallejo, California's first governor. She was educated in San Rafael and San Francisco. A year on the stage in the Bay city and in Los Angeles helped her to break into the films. After a training period in the Mack Sennett studios she appeared in "Miss Brewster's Millions," "The Cat's Pajamas" and "Wet Paint" for Paramount.

She was cast in the role of Mexico after competitive tests had been made with 35 other eligible brunettes at the Hollywood studios.

Lewis Stone Has Another Great Role in M.G.-M's "Wonder of Women."

Lewis Stone, famous in "Madame X," "The Trial of Mary Dugan," and other outstanding play successes, enacts a German musical composer in his latest role, in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Wonder of Women," which comes next Wednesday to the Palace Theatre, with dialogue and soul. It is a Clarence Brown production, based on Hermann Sudermann's "The Wife of Stephen Tromholt," with Stone, Peggy Wood, the New York stage star, Lella Hyams, Harry Myers, George Fawcett, Sarah Padden and others of note in the cast. Stone speaks German lines in the picture—and it is said that the last time he spoke German was in France, when as a major in the American army, he interviewed prisoners.

Five Had Miraculous Escape From Death Sunday Evening.

Five youthful occupants of a large sedan narrowly escaped possible death or serious injury Sunday evening at around 9:00 o'clock when their machine collided with another and turned turtle twice.

Two of the passengers were thrown through the roof of the sedan, and the driver, Harley Heaton, Jr., of Boyne City, through the window. No one was even seriously injured.

The mishap occurred on U. S. 31 between the Ray and Guy Pearl farms near Greensky hill. According to information available, Heaton's machine side-swiped a Ford sedan, and then careened into the ditch. The Ford was turned completely around and shoved sideways nearly 15 feet. Damage to the Ford amounted to around $50, while the Buick was almost a complete wreck.

YOU need no longer make the slightest allowances in listening. You need no longer think—"This is the music . . . and that is the noise in the set." For in Atwater Kent Screen-Grid Radio there is no operating sound! If the broadcasting station is silent for a moment—then the set is silent. So silent you need the tiny light behind the dial to tell you that it's on!

It's hard to believe. But come in and listen—and you'll prove it to yourself. And while you're here, try the power and selectivity that bring distant stations right up to your door. Look inside and see the workmanship that makes these remarkable qualities possible and permanent. That's Atwater Kent workmanship. That's your assurance that every dollar you spend for this set will bring you the most in radio enjoyment.

ANTRIM IRON CO. BUILDS ADDITION TO SAWMILL

An addition is being built on the south side of the Antrim Iron Company's snowmill at Mnneclona for better handling of the square stock they are making from the slabs. The addition is 70 feet long, 42 feet being 12 feet wide and 28 feet being 22 feet wide.

The company have been making squares from the good timber in the slabs for four or five years. They have been making 2x2, 1½x1½, 1¼x1¼ and 1x1-inch squares which are sold to make chair stock—spindles, legs, etc. Now they are making wider piece a nn inch in thickness for porch-chairs, etc.

The slabs are being slit on a lath machine, but additional and better machinery is being figured on.

COURIER, CHARLEVOIX, MICH., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1929

PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

SUMMER SEASON BEST IN YEARS

HEAVY RESORT BUSINESS EVI-DENT FROM EVERY QUARTER.

The Inn Closed Wednesday After Record Season—Other Hostleries
Have Wonderful Summer.

The curtain for the final act of Charlevoix's 1929 summer season will be drawn this week, marking the close of one of the most successful vacation periods this city has ever experienced.

Care-free vacation days are over for many. The younger folks are hustling off to college and prep schools, while others go back to the routine of office work. Many pleasant memories will follow them, of course, for the season has been practically without a dull day.

The Inn closed Wednesday afternoon of this week after one of the most successful summers in recent years. From the opening of the convention of the Michigan State Bankers' association late in June, this hotel, with the possible exception of a couple weeks in July, has been taxed to capacity. August was one of the best months on record. There were many days when large parties of guests arriving in the morning could not be given rooms until others had checked out in the evening.

The Inn entertained two conventions other than the Michigan bankers. Central and Southern Freight associations, with delegates numbering well over three hundred, enjoyed their annual summer outing at The Inn, and the Business Men's Assurance Co., of Kansas City, Mo., convened there with over one hundred delegates late in August.

While the miniature golf course, the bathing pier and other entertainment features provided by this hostelry were ever popular, the battery of five tennis courts were never idle.
The Michigan Riviera tennis tournament, which this year eclipsed events of previous summers, was the high spot of entertainment, and a large number of golfers here for the Great Lakes open championship made The Inn their headquarters last week.

In keeping with their usual custom,
the Belvedere and Charlevoix Beach, the two Hallett hotels and others of the city's smaller hostleries will remain open well into the month of September. August has been a very busy month for all of them and they are still enjoying a liberal patronage.
The Belvedere, which is under the efficient management of Mrs. Franklin Sears, has had a peak season. The hotel was booked solid throughout August and previous weeks were far ahead of recent years. At the Chicago Club of Charlevoix, the clubhouse erected for capacity crowds during the month of August and, in fact, we believe every hotel in the city has had a wonderful season.

While a large number of resorters have returned home, many cottagers are staying on through the month of September, and to them will be the pleasure of seeing this region at a season of the year when it is the most beautiful.

Experiences of the past summer should be a good lesson for officials of our city. There has never been a time that such an elaborate program of entertainment features has been sponsored, and the reward is an ever increasing popularity for Charlevoix as a summer resort. That we must provide entertainment to attract tourists to our city is a foregone conclusion and Charlevoix can keep head and shoulders above others as a resort center if the present program is continued and magnified.

SCHOOL EXHIBITION THE BEST IN YEARS

Charlevoix Schools Awarded $50
Prize at East Jordan.

The Educational building at the Fair was replete with exhibits of work from schools in all parts of Charlevoix county. One of the features was some saw scroll work from the Ironton school that attracted considerable attention.

East Jordan city schools was awarded $67.50 for its exhibit;
Boone Falls, $50; Charlevoix $50.
Boone City schools were not represented.

Following were the rural schools exhibiting and the monies awarded:

Claude Pearsall, Leslie Hancy and Albert Chak, Cedar Valley, third,
$2.00.

More Paving on U. S. 31.
Construction of a slightly less than three and a half miles of 20-foot concrete on U. S. 31, between Bay Shore and Petoskey, was placed in the hands of Alex Jeffery of Saginaw one day last week at a session of the highway committee of the State Administrative Board at Lansing. Jeffery's bid of $150,811 was low. The above stretch starts at the end of the present concrete east of Bay Shore and runs to the west of the new concrete.

FAIR ANGLER HAS BEST BROOK TROUT

TWENTY-OUNCE SPECIMEN WON
WOOD BROTHERS' CONTEST.

Bass, Pike, Rainbow and Mackinaw
Trout Divisions Are Still Open—
Contest Closes October 1.

The brook trout division of Wood Brothers' fish contest, which was sponsored locally and in co-operation with the Shakespeare Bait company national contest, closed September 1, the final day of the season.

An angler of the fairer sex, Mrs.
Harrison Trimble of this city, carries off the first prize, a Shakespeare automatic reel. Her twenty-ounce trout, taken from Monroe creek, headed the entries.

The contest brought out many fine entries, although catches made earlier in the season were by far the best.
The contest was unique in one respect—that every entry was given a prize whether it was a winner or not.
As a result, many local sportsmen received a Shakespeare mouse or flutter lure for their entries, and both have proved good fish-getters.

The bass, mackinaw trout, pike and rainbow divisions are still open and do not close until October 1.
Harry Walstead leads the bass fishermen with a 4 pound, 2 ounce large mouth. Clarence Withers' 5-pound rainbow is the best of that species brought in to date, and a mackinaw trout weighing better than 20 pounds will probably give Bert Beaudoin first prize in that division.

It is not safe at all for those fellows to feel too secure, however.
With the busy summer days now practically over, many of the local fikes are going to make up for some lost time and there will be a lot of fishing going on. September is one of the best months of the year for pike and bass, and the usual fall run of steelhead will be on before the contest closes better than three weeks away. It is hardly probable that anyone will get a bigger mackinaw trout than Beaudoin's, but it's almost dead certain that larger bass and steelhead will be brought in.

The writer was edged out of the brook trout competition by the narrow margin of two ounces after leading throughout the season, and if there can be any consolation from getting in on the other awards, it's just going to be "too bad" for someone.

FAMILY REUNION AT COOK HOME FRIDAY

Out-of-Town and Local Relatives Gathered for Occasion.

The home of Mrs. John Cook on Mason street was the scene of a very enjoyable family reunion last Friday evening as relatives gathered for a delicious dinner prepared by the hostess.

The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Arba Cameron and son of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Campbell and two children of Jackson;
Mr. and Mrs. DeForest Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Don Campbell, Mrs. P. D.
Campbell and Mrs. Alex Cameron of Charlevoix.

WALTER HAGEN WON GREAT LAKES OPEN

BRITISH OPEN CHAMP OVERCOME SIX STROKE LEAD TO DEFEAT BRILLIANT FIELD IN FINAL ROUNDS FRIDAY.

Brilliant Scores of 68 Morning and Afternoon Were Both Four Strokes Below Par—Danny Schutte, Canton, Ohio, and Joe Kirkwood, Chicago, Tied for Second.

Walter Hagen is still king of them all. He proved himself the champion that he is last Friday by overcoming a six-stroke lead to win the first annual Great Lakes Open championship. His brilliant round of 68 in the morning on the Belvedere 18 put him within three of the leader, and a similar score in the afternoon made a total of 277, two better than Danny Schutte, of Canton, Ohio, and Joe Kirkwood of Chicago, who tied for second place with 279 each.

Walter was never over par during the four rounds of medal play. After shooting a 65 and establishing a new Belvedere course record on Wednesday to win the $100 pro-amateur first prize, the Haig sizzled around the Charlevoix eighteen in the first round Thursday for a 69, two better than par.

Thursday afternoon's 72, his poorest round, was par for the Belvedere and two 68's Friday gave him a total of 10 under perfect figures. Following is his card for the last two rounds:

Morning out 433.354.523—32
Par 444.355.435—36
In 544.435.434—36—68
Par 544.435.543—36—72
Afternoon out 344.354.434—34
Par 444.354.435—36
In 544.435.435—68
Par 544.435.434—36—72
Two Victories Net $850.

Hagen had a golf club in his hand for the first time in three weeks Wednesday. He had been on a fishing trip, and said that casting a fish bait had loosened up his arm and put him in excellent form. Hagen's victory netted him $750 in addition to $100 first prize for winning the pro-amateur best ball.

Joe Kirkwood, the Chicago trick shot artist, lost his chance to win first money by a poor round of 73
Friday afternoon. Following a brilliant game and end of 70 in the morning, which put him two strokes in front of the field, Kirkwood's putter failed and lost him the championship. He split $800 second and third money with Danny Schutte, Canton, Ohio, pro, whose 67 Friday afternoon was low medal and carried $50 additional.

Tied at 280, Al Watrous of Detroit, and Horton Smith, the sensational and gallery favorite from Joplin, Mo., divide $300. Horton won low medal on the Belvedere eighteen Friday afternoon. "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn of New York was sixth, and besides $75 prize money, his 66 on the Charlevoix course Thursday won him $50 for low medal.

Tommy Armour, western open champion, who led the field at the half-way mark, finished in seventh place with 284. Tommy's 66, one above Hagen's course record of 65, was low medal on the Belvedere
Thursday. In eighth place, with 288, was Jack Hutchinson of Chicago.

Charlie Kocsis, former Redford high school star golfer, and now playing from Wise's public links at Detroit, carried off the low amateur prize with a score of 295. In second place with 296 was Richard Martin, Chicago, captain-elect of the University of Illinois golf team.

The tournament concluded Friday with a banquet at The Inn, which has been headquarters for the golf stars during the meet. Following are the scores for the 72 holes of medal play:

R. Martin, Chicago 150-72-74—296
S. Barnard, Detroit 75-75—150-74-76—300
Danny Schutte, Canton, Ohio 70-71—141-67-71—279

POPULAR COUPLE MARRIED MONDAY

Miss Mable Turpin Becomes Bride of Ray Kipke of School Faculty.

Miss Mabel Turpin, popular in the Charlevoix younger set, and Ray Kipke of Lansing, Charlevoix high school athletic coach, stole the march on their friends and were married Monday at the groom's home in Lansing. As the happy couple are now on a honeymoon trip to Manistique, home of the bride's parents, details of the event are lacking.

The former Miss Turpin has been employed at the Charlevoix State Savings bank for several years and has a large following of local friends.
Mr. Kipke is entering upon his second year as coach at Charlevoix high school and is equally well and favorably known. Both have the heartiest congratulations of Charlevoix friends.

There will be a dance at the Maple
Groove Grange hall, September 6, Friday evening. Everybody welcome.—Adv. 3611.

MYERS-BRODERICK NUPTIALS SATURDAY

Miss Marjorie Myers Becomes Bride of Mt. Clemens Young Man.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Myers on Park avenue was the scene of a very pretty wedding at two o'clock last Saturday afternoon when their daughter, Marjorie, was united in marriage to Norman Broderick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Broderick of Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Rev. Bernard G. Mattson of the Congregational church performed the ceremony, using the ring service.
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Paulson of Cadillac attended the bridal couple. The bride was very pretty in a gown of brown transparent velvet, while her bridesmaid wore a gown of blue georgette. Both carried beautiful bouquets of roses.

Following the ceremony, delightful refreshments were served the wedding party. Those from out of town present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Broderick, the groom's parents, also his sister, Helen Broderick, all of Mt.
Clemens, and Mrs. Katherine Wilkerson and Miss Hilda Myers of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Broderick are now motoring through the east on their honeymoon and will be at home at Detroit in two weeks. The Courier joins others in extending congratulations.

ANNUAL CADDY EX- CURSION SATURDAY

BOYS GO TO MACKINAW ISLAND
ON STR. MANITOU.

Club-Toters Tournament Is Well Under Way—Qualifying Rounds Held Monday and Tuesday.

The present week will see the close of activities at the Charlevoix Golf Club. School opens next Monday, September 9th, and the care-free life of the caddies will be replaced by school books, school rules and studies.

The closing week will be one of enjoyment for the caddy boys, however. The youthful club-toters are to reap a reward for their arduous summer's labors and a series of events, which are now annual affairs are being sponsored and financed by members of the club.

On Monday and Tuesday of this week the qualifying rounds of the annual caddy tournament were held, and first round play has been started as this edition goes to press. Around 40 boys played on the opening days, and from this number two flights, with those under a maximum score, will fight it out during the balance of the week. Arthur Krulik and Franklin Curtis are the defending champions of the first and second flight respectively, and, unless upsets occur, they should repeat again this year. Cash prizes of $10 and $5 go to the winners, and prizes of $5 and $3 to the runners-up.

Saturday noon the boys leave on their annual excursion. They are going to Mackinac Island again this year on the Str. Manitou and will be under the direction of Caddy Master Roe and others chosen as his assistants. They will remain over night at the island and return Sunday. It is expected about 60 will go, this number being made up of those caddies who have records for meritorious service during the summer. For this reason each young lad extended the honor has more than usual satisfaction from being chosen among the lucky-number.

Efficiency and conduct prizes will be awarded the five caddies maintaining the highest standard of work and behavior during the summer. In addition a considerable sum of money is given by the club to those caddies presenting their bank pass books to the caddy master at the end of the season. Ten per cent is added to their savings. This has been a yearly custom for some time and is an inducement for the boys to save their earnings.

FORMER RESIDENTS GREET HOME FOLKS

CHARLES H. EMREY LAUDS OUR SUMMER ACTIVITIES.

Lou E. See Tells of Fishing and Other Outdoor Opportunities
Out in Oregon.

The Courier this week is in receipt of two very interesting letters from former local residents and, knowing that word from former townspeople is always welcomed, we are publishing both for our readers.

The first communication is from Charles H. Emrey, former Charlevoix county clerk, who is now residing at San Diego, Calif., with his family, and the second from L. E.
See of Wernersburg, Oregon. Mr.
Emrey's letter reads in part:

"Charlevoix Courier,
Dear Sirs:

Herewith find check for the Courier. Expected to visit the home town this summer, but business kept me tied down. Happy to know that the cement factory is a sure thing and that the summer business is holding up so well. Your summer sports activities are certainly well advertised and the very thing Charlevoix needs.

Have not decided to remain in California for all time, but do know that a climatic change is good for everyone.

Yours truly,
Charles H. Emrey."

The following letter is from Mr.

See:
"Mr. A. J. Usher,
Charlevoix, Mich.
Dear Mr. Usher:

I am enclosing check for $2.00 in payment of subscription as per bill rendered. I am still interested in the Courier and enjoy reading it but in the past year or two have noticed a lot of pages that are strange to me. However, that is only natural as some of the "Old Timers" are leaving and new ones coming in to take their places. I am hoping it will be possible for me to stop in for a visit some time within the next year, but I expect if I don't get there before long, I will have the same experience that Rip VanWinkle had when he returned.

"I met a great many Mexican people and about a year ago while in Portland, Ore. I met with three salesmen and the subject of birthplace came up. We were all born in Michigan and one man, about my own age whose name is Fish, was born in Charlevoix down below the hill near where Clarence Bartlett used to live, back of Grandmother See's place on the north side. Naturally, it was quite a surprise to me as I thought I knew everyone who lived in Charlevoix while I was there but his people moved to Petoskey when he was quite young. I presume Clarence Bartlett would remember him.

"Have had plenty of hot weather this summer and it is staying with us. Temperatures of 100 to 110 have not been unusual and from the way it feels now, imagine it will run close to 100 today.

"Have had a lot of good fishing this year, that is, from the middle April until the first of July, after that until the middle of September, the weather is too warm. Everyone had good luck and the fish were the largest I have ever seen taken out of the Deschutes river. In about another month we will have our choice of good Quail and Pheasant shooting or good fishing. Yes, and three or four hours drive south of us, there are plenty of deer. Better come out and have some fun.

"Hope this finds you and yours in good health and with kind regards,
I am,

Sincerely yours,
L. E. See."

Mr. Emrey sent us a clipping on the Michigan Riviera tennis tournament recently, taken from a San Diego newspaper. It is sufficient proof that our summer activities are receiving wide-spread attention. We are sure Mr. Emrey and his family will be more than welcome any time they make up their minds to return to their former home.

Sort of wish we were out there with Lou for a little of that fishing and hunting, and as this is being written the thermometer hovering around 90 in the shade, we can appreciate that heat he speaks about.

If troubled with headache, dizziness, nervousness, indigestion, or any other symptoms of eye strain, consult Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, at the Hotel Charlevoix, Wednesday,
September 11.—Adv. 3611.

"I Tried Everything, But New Medicine Gave Me First and Only Relief."

MR. A. J. ROOT

"For twenty years my stomach was so bad that absolutely nothing gave me relief from indigestion," said Mr. A. J. Root, 210 N. First St., Ann Arbor, Mich. "After every meal gas formed and bloating and pain followed. Then my kidneys began to fail. At night I had to rise frequently. But I kept on doctoring trying this and that and I always met with failure."

"A friend told me by all means to give Konjola a trial. Four weeks on Konjola and all my health problems were solved. Today I can eat anything I like; my stomach is working as it should and kidney trouble is at an end. I am amazed that any one medicine could bring such results in so short a time. Whoever called Konjola the master medicine knew what he was talking about."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at P. J. Fessenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Mr. and Mrs. Harland and Mr. and Mrs. Harlebus of Indiana, with their brother, Dr. Vernard Miller of Big Rapids, were guests here Sunday of their grandmother, Mrs. Loretta Webster.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hass and family called Monday at the home of their brother, J. C. Hass, while enroute from their summer home near Curtis, U. P., to their home in South Bend, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Greenhoe, Mr. and Mrs. Von Moll and two children, Mr. and Mrs. D. McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Colden were among the Clarion people who attended the East Jordan fair on Thursday.

ANTRIM CITY.

George Post left for Detroit Saturday with his mother and aunt.

Mrs. Wm. Knight and Mrs. C. Stott are owners of new Home Comfort ranges.

Lester Brooks, C. Stott and George Post were business callers in Petoskey, Monday.

Grace Brooks left for the southern part of the state, where she will teach school this year.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simon and family of Pontiac, spent a few days of last week at the Stott home.

Mass Coloring New Object of Builders

American commercial and domestic life is within its grasp in buildings with its own individuality, says Harvey Wiley Corbett, nationally known architect and authority on construction.

Every form of architecture the world has known, Mr. Corbett points out, has resulted from two factors: The needs of the people, and the materials available. But it was the skill with which materials were used to meet the needs, which reflected the art and the ingenuity of the period.

With the development of this new type, Mr. Corbett says, the trend will be more and more away from petty decorative details, and toward the skillful distribution of masses, and the use of color. In fact of minute and purposeless ornamentation, obviously superfluous upon a building, color will be applied liberally, over large areas, as an integral feature of the terra cotta, or other facing materials.

The distribution of masses, Mr. Corbett declares, will meet the needs of the building's occupants, with as much beauty as is possible.

Urges Clean Homes

It is full, as important to render the home safe from fire and the depreciation of the elements as it is to make it colorful and cheerful for its occupants. The mission of the fall clean-up campaign is to achieve both of these highly desirable and essential ends.

Each year larger numbers of communities are recognizing the perils of the winter months and are holding a clean-up campaign in the fall as well as in the spring in order to safeguard themselves at both times of the year.

City Planning Pays

The present haphazard growth without planning for the future which most American cities experience now involves an annual loss of more than a billion dollars, John Nolen, landscape architect and city planner of Cambridge, Mass., declared before a convention of the International City Managers' association.

More than 200 American cities now have such plans, Mr. Nolen declared, while zoning ordinances have been adopted by 750 cities and planning commissions established by 587.

Game Clubs Are Planting

Towns and cities are doing their part in creating community forests on their idle lands and on the watershed of their reservoirs. Wise farmers are setting starker acres to work growing wood crops, says the American Tree association. Fish and game clubs are planting acres to serve as sanctuaries and to protect the streams. Land owners are beautifying and making more valuable nonworking acres.

MORE OF EVERYTHING.

We hear much about the good old days and the present high cost of living.

The other day we saw a copy of a bill which had been rendered by a merchant to his customers. Fifty years ago kerosene was 80 cents a gallon. Most people used candles. Consider for a minute how much more light the nation gets for 80 cents than it received a generation ago.

A few years ago a few wealthy people wore silk stockings. Those privileged persons were referred to in the politics of their days as the "silk-stockinged aristocracy." Now the percentage of the people which does not wear silk stockings is doubtless about the same as that which once wore them.

We hear about food and food costs money. Nevertheless you may go to the grocery store and buy things today that were once unknown. You may buy a can of vegetable soup, for instance. It contains a dozen different vegetables brought from all parts of the nation; the can is made of tin and iron, covered with a label printed in four colors. This can of soup is shipped to the grocer, delivered to your home and charged to your account—all for about a shilling. This is modern merchandising.

Amusement used to be both scarce and expensive. If our fathers and mothers wished to hear a famous singer they traveled far and paid a good price. Today you may buy, by radio, the yearly cost of which is small or an ingenious boy will make, for a few dollars, a device which brings the great music of the world to the home.

A generation ago a few families in every town had a team of horses and a carriage. A fair team of horses and a surry might have been worth $500. Only the affluent had such a possession. It is not necessary to point out what transportation may be purchased for a few hundred dollars today. One person out of every five in the United States has an automobile. Most every family has a car and some families have two or more. The whole nation is riding about on rubber tires and we probably ride a million miles to grandfather's one.

It is probably beyond dispute that a dollar in money or a day of labor buys more today than these things ever purchased.

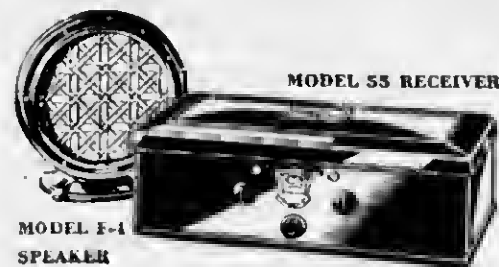

Of course, most of us do not have much money but there is a reason for that. Our dollars buy more, but there is so much more to buy. The coach and four was a luxury. The automobile is very close to a necessity. Our scale of wages and living is based upon its possession.

At the same time the opportunity to save was never better. People who wish to deny themselves some of the modern things may save money rapidly, or at least much more rapidly than did their fathers. Many are saving and that is the reason that stocks and securities sell for high prices—millions wish to buy them.

Every individual, every industry, and every community has its problems. But fundamentally there is no justified complaint that the modern dollar does not do its duty.—Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald Review.

SAFETY.

Much has already been accomplished by the organized efforts to promote human safety. This work should be unremitting, and it will be increasingly effective as these educational campaigns bear their fruit of accumulated knowledge of the avoidable hazards of life and the best means to safeguard against them.—Herbert Hoover.

AT THE MOVIES

South Sea Natives Are Charmed by Star's Singing Voice.

Ramon Novarro's voice, destined for Grand Opera, in which he is scheduled to make his debut in Berlin this summer, charmed natives in the South Seas, while the star was in the tropics to film his latest starring vehicle for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, "The Pagan," a vivid drama which comes to the Palace Theatre next Monday and Tuesday as a sound synchronized film with singing sequences.

On his arrival, Novarro, W. S. Van Dyke, the director, Renee Adoree and the rest of the cast, were guests of honor at a native feast. In return Novarro, as a courtesy, sang several opera aires and some Mexican folk-songs for the delighted natives.

The new picture is based on John Russell's vivid novel of the South Seas, torn between the loves of a white chieftain, played by Miss Adoree, and a native girl, a role on loan to Dorothy Janis. Donald Crisp plays the "heavy" role, a cruel itinerant white trader, who tries to separate Novarro and his native sweetheart. The company penetrated jungles where white men had never been before, camping there to complete the vivid scenes of the new romance.

Novarro gives several renditions of "Pagan Love Song," the theme song of the production, being the first time his voice has been heard on the vocal screen.

Thrilling Scenes Make Rail Drama Exciting.

Huge locomotives rushing at breakneck speed to the rescue of victims in the Mississippi flood area, the construction of an entire locomotive in the great shops of the Chicago Northwestern line, Lon Chaney, as a veteran engineer, driving a locomotive more than 600 miles in filming the picture—these are some of the thrills in "Thunder," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer epic railroad drama synchronized with sound, which is coming next Wednesday and Thursday to the Palace Theatre.

The new picture, directed by William Nigh, is a thrilling and intimate story of railroad life, an original by Byron Morgan. Phyllis Haver, James Murray, George Durvay, Wally Albright, Jr., Frances Morris, and others of note are among the players in the new production. Most of it was filmed on the Chicago Northwestern trains and in the flood area. Chaney is seen in a role vastly different from his usual ones. It lacks the element of the bizarre but is intensely human. As an old engineer, past 70, but still the driver of a crack Limited, he has ample opportunity to embellish his role with glamour and adventure.

Artists' Colony Shown Vividly in Garbo Hit.

San Francisco's famous Telegraph Hill artists' colony was reproduced in all its picturesque atmosphere at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio when "The Single Standard," which opens Saturday at the Palace Theatre, with sound synchronization, was filmed as Greta Garbo's new starring feature.

Plymouth automobiles that are built for shipment to foreign countries, are completely assembled and tested at the factory in Detroit before being shipped. After inspection and test, the cars are taken apart, crated and are then on their way.

With the school days coming, it is wise to have the children start the long grind of daily attendance in the best possible health. If they have had a chance to become healthfully tanned by the sun, if they have been playing out-of-doors, and if they have been eating a quantity of fruits and vegetables, they ought to be in excellent physical condition. It is not enough, however, to think this may be so. Healthfulness is an asset, and assurance should be made doubly sure by having the children visit the doctor and dentist for an inspection and for taking care of any minor ailments or irregularities in their teeth, so that the school term may not be interrupted by enforced absences after instruction has begun.

AUTOS AND BETTER HOMES.

The automobile is usually given the credit—or the blame—for helping to disintegrate the American home. You often read that people do not care as much for their home life as they used to, because they rely on the auto to take them away from it; that home is simply a place to sleep, and that the auto is the chief cause. Albert R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker Corporation, however, sees otherwise. In his opinion the automobile is contributing more and more each year to make the country a country of home-lovers.

This rather novel theory is presented by him in an article in the current issue of the North American Review. He sets it forth with an argument that runs something like this:

People who care for homes are rapidly moving from congested city districts into the suburbs and into the outlying open country, where they can rear their children in healthy, out-of-doors surroundings. Census figures show that the percentage of all of our big cities is rapidly increasing, while the strictly urban population, in many cases, is actually on the decline.

This is made possible by the automobile. The automobile permits the family man to live as far as ten miles away from his work, maintaining a home in the place he chooses and rearing his family where he desires; but 20 years ago the ordinary, middle class city dweller had either to crowd his family into an apartment or go childless—and many took the latter course. Mr. Erskine points out that in some suburbs—notably Oak Park and Evanston, Chicago suburbs—the birth rate is far above the ordinary city rate. The suburbs are the home of men who want families and children; and the automobile has made them practical.

RICH IN RUSSIA.

If you think you need farm relief—consider the Russians. There are millions of people in Russia who have never seen a railway train—an automobile. They never heard a phonograph—do not know what the radio is and never saw a pair of silk stockings. There are three classes of farmers in Russia. The richest is called a "kulak." To be a kulak one must own two cows and a horse. If a man has much more than this—the tax collector might take it away. Not very many are kulaks. The vast majority are much poorer.

COTTON BLOSSOM SINGERS COMING

A Colored Quartet at the M. E. Church Monday.

The city is to be visited again by the Cotton Blossom Singers—a colored quartet of young folks from Piney Woods, Miss., who will give a program of negro spirituals and folk songs. A large audience heard them last year and very much enjoyed it. They are touring the country for funds to carry on this Industrial School for negro youth. The offering goes to the school and not to the singers themselves. This is a philanthropy to a non-sectarian but christian school which deserves our support. It is not a Methodist institution, therefore makes its appeal to all classes. Monday at 8:00 o'clock p. m. Free will offering only.

METHODIST CHURCH.

THREE INJURED IN ACCIDENTS TUESDAY

Victims Treated at Charlevoix Hospital by Dr. R. B. Armstrong.

Three quite serious accidents, all requiring hospital attention, occurred Tuesday and were reported today.

Lou Sturcke of Ossing, N. Y., Harvard student summering at the Ayres Boni farm between Charlevoix and Boyne City, had his hand badly mangled in a corn shredder. He was taken to the hospital and, unless complications set in, it is believed his hand will be saved.

June Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Simpson, St. Louis, Mo., cottagers at the Belvedere Club, nearly severed the large toe on her left foot when she stepped onto a tin can while bathing in Lake Charlevoix. After her injury was treated at the hospital she was returned home.

George West, chauffeur for Joseph Block, Cincinnati summer resort, had his shoulder fractured in an automobile accident on the Charlevoix-East Jordan road near Monroe creek. His machine overturned after the steering gear became locked in some manner. Other occupants of the car were badly shaken up.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Miss Virginia Solomon left Thursday of last week for Baltimore, Maryland, where she has accepted a position as nurse in the family of Mrs. Miller, who spent the summer season with her family in Charlevoix. She expects to be in Baltimore until some time in December.

Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Horlebaus and Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Harlan of Fort Wayne, Ind., also Dr. Vernard Miller of Big Rapids, spent last week end as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Harrington at their home on Clinton street. Mesdames Horlebaus and Harlan were formerly Valda and Vera Miller.

Clothes Line Inflicts Injury

Frank Noble experienced a painful injury last Friday evening. While walking across his yard at dusk, he ran into a wire clothes line, which inflicted a cut over his eye requiring three stitches. Dr. F. F. McMillan dressed the wound.

On account of so many school children being in need of glasses, Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be at the Hotel Charlevoix Wednesday, September 11th.—Adv. 3611.

FIRE MENACE IS BAD IN NORTH

Woods and Fields Are Unusually Dry, Says State Director.

Another warning calling upon all field men of the department of conservation to stand ready to do special duty in case of serious forest fire outbreaks was sent out Friday by Conservation Director George R. Hogarth. Similar instructions were sent out earlier in the week.

The first forest fire to reach serious proportions in the state this season was reported Thursday from Harrison, where it is estimated that more than 800 acres of 15-year-old second growth were destroyed. The conflagration was reported under control Thursday night and will continue so unless high winds prevail Friday.

The situation was described as "potentially serious" by Chief Fire Warden Andrews, who returned Friday morning from an inspection tour of four districts in northeastern lower Michigan. Weather reports hold out little hope of rain in the near future, it is stated.

PERE MARQUETTE TO CONTINUE LATÉ

Post Season Service Is Announced for Month of September.

The Pere Marquette Railway company has announced a special post season tourist train service from Petoskey to Chicago and Detroit. This run will be identical with the Resort Special and will leave here on September 18, 22 and 29 to care for the tourists and cottagers who desire to enjoy the beautiful September weather and late summering doings of Northern Michigan resorts.

The train will run on the regular schedule time of the Resort Special and carry complete equipment to Chicago, St. Louis, Grand Rapids and Cincinnati.

The regular daily run of these trains will end on September 15. These special runs also will bring into the region many who want to come up for the late part of the season.

Charlevoix Public Schools

Welcome Rural Students

THE time has come when boys and girls from rural districts must decide where they are to attend school during the coming year. Charlevoix Public Schools have become more and more popular with the rural students of Charlevoix county as demonstrated by the fact that over 25 per cent of the students in High School are from outside districts. There is that about the Charlevoix school spirit that makes the rural student feel that there is a place for him or her in every school activity. This friendly spirit together with the complete courses of study offered, the excellent corps of teachers which is employed, the standing of the Charlevoix Schools with the University of Michigan and other colleges, their strong athletic teams, all combine to make Charlevoix the best school for the boys and girls from the rural schools of Charlevoix county.

STANDING OF THE SCHOOL

The Charlevoix High School has been on the University Accredited List for about a quarter of century. During this time the high educational standards of the Charlevoix Schools have constantly been maintained. For over 25 years Charlevoix graduates have been admitted to Universities and Colleges without examination.

In addition to this the Charlevoix High School is a member of the North Central Association of High Schools and Colleges. This Association has ten standards which every high school must meet in order to be a member. Charlevoix High School has been a member of this Association since 1927. Only graduates of Colleges which are members of The North Central Association are permitted to teach in the Charlevoix High School.

Those outside of Charlevoix who are expecting to attend High School this fall should remember that no High School in this part of the state has a better reputation either as a school preparing for life work or for college and university.

TEACHING STAFF

Nearly all of last year's teaching staff is returning this year. The new members of the staff have excellent qualifications and come very highly recommended. Every effort is being made to maintain the standards of the Charlevoix teaching staff.

TUITION

Our rate of tuition for the High School is the same as last year and is the lowest rate found in the state. The rates in the state vary from $60 to $100. Our rate is $50.

ATHLETICS

Perhaps one of the most interesting factor to the student, though not always to the parents, is the ranking of the school in athletics.

Charlevoix has not always won all the games but it has turned out championship teams in basketball and in football in recent years. We do aim to teach true sportsmanship and develop true character through sports and these are the highest aims of athletics—even higher than winning pennants.

Mr. Kipke, an experienced and expert coach, a graduate of Michigan State College, will again have charge of athletics this year.

COUNTY NORMAL

Charlevoix County Normal has almost reached its limit of students for next year. There is room however for a few with good recommendations. Almost a year's credit at the State Normal Colleges is given for the County Normal work.

REGISTRATION

Superintendent Otterbein will be at his office from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week to enroll students and to outline their work for them.

How Could a Farmer Harvest --- without first planting his crop and then consistently cultivating it? The same principle applies to financial success. No one can expect to reap a fortune unless he first "plants" a few dollars regularly and "grows" a fund for future "cultivation."

Why not "sow the seeds" of steady financial progress by opening a Savings Account today—and cultivate your "crop" with regular deposits? This bank will welcome your account—and pay you 4 per cent compound interest to swell the size of your harvest.

Service and the Small Accounts

This bank is a service institution organized to meet financial requirements of our depositors. The amount of service often depends on the bank balance each customer carries.

We must at all times carefully protect your funds. Money can be loaned only when we feel sure that it is safe. When you maintain a reasonably large, steady balance, it is an indication to us that you know how to use money wisely. It gives us a reason to believe that you are a good credit risk—that money loaned to you will be safe.

That is one reason why depositors who maintain large balances get better service from their bank. They are entitled to it.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Where Will Queen Victoria Hang?

What will be done with Queen Victoria's portrait when the British Ambassador and his family move into their magnificent new home on Massachusetts avenue? The portrait, an immense work of art, now hangs at the head of the stairs in the present Embassy on Connecticut avenue and N street, and it need not be disturbed for another season — not until moving day, in fact. At that time, however, it will either have to be returned to England or squeezed into the new home somehow.

When plans were made for the new Embassy, space was carefully allotted for the furniture in the present home, but the portrait was forgotten. It is too large to be placed just anywhere, and the likelihood is that a smaller one will have to be obtained in its place.

What the Editorial Writers Say.

The difference between the Hawley bill and the bill written by the Senate Finance committee, states the New York World, is the difference between "a big swindle and a somewhat smaller swindle." The swindle, it is explained, is against the farmer and every consumer in the land because it makes them pay more for food without any particular benefit except to certain groups. A slight lowering of the rates by the Senate Finance committee, in the writer's opinion, due only to public protest.

The housewife is receiving her deserved share of attention also. The Journal of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, makes a brief but ominous comment that "Now that women have learned to vote, if those tariff tinkers want to stay in Congress they had better go slow on the sugar schedule." That particular schedule, incidentally, has called forth more wrathful adjectives than any other item of the entire bill has.

"Revision a la Smoot" is the title of an editorial in the Baltimore Sun that lists the articles restored to the free list and then comments ironically:

"If he (the consumer) can live in a shingle house, decorated with Gobelin tapestries; dress himself in garments of waste rope, adorn himself with uncut diamonds, subsist on truffles, protect himself with his trusty muzzle loader, and amuse himself with playing on an ancient double bass, he will find the bill eminently satisfactory. If, however, he is bound by the necessities which attend life in the United States in 1929 for most people, he will find that the G. O. P.'s Senate bill does little to correct the abuses of the notorious Hawley bill."

Woman Workers in Spain.

A pretty picture of Spanish femininity is given by Miss Elizabeth Shirley who recently represented the United States Department of Labor at the Seville Exposition. The picturesque lace mantillas, silk shawls, and high combs long associated with Spanish beauty and romance have not been entirely abandoned by the women of Spain, Miss Shirley says, although modern progress is prevalent.

The exhibit of the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor attracted much attention. Miss Shirley was especially gratified with the intelligent comments and questions from delegates. All classes of people from the King and Queen, who commended this exhibit highly, to the laboring people were enthusiastic in their exclamations over the seven miniature stage sets showing the American woman at work in agriculture, manufacturing, trade, transportation, and in domestic, clerical, and professional service. A motion picture, "The Woman Worker Past and Present," was another feature of the exhibit which attracted pleased attention.

Working girls in Spain, according to Miss Shirley, dress much like their American sisters. Their bobbed hair can be cleverly manipulated to carry the high comb on holidays and for festive occasions. They, also, work side by side with the men in all kinds of professions and in the fields, factories, stores, and offices.

Higher Cost of Health and Sickness.
Careless Senators are taking away our vitamins by making tomatoes a luxury. They propose also to increase the cost of sickness through high duties on X-ray apparatus.

The importance of the vitamin and the value of X-ray treatments are factors in health that medical science has stressed during recent years. Doctors have pointed out that tomatoes are especially rich in the vitamin used to combat rickets, scurvy and similar diseases. Tomatoes are essentially necessary in the diet of invalids and children. We obtain a plentiful, cheap supply of tomatoes from Cuba and other tropical countries during the winter months when they cannot be grown in abundance here. The 400 per cent increase in duty proposed by the Senate Finance committee, if passed, will make these vegetables practically prohibitive except to the very wealthy.

X-ray tubes are now imported free, but the X-ray examinations are even at present an expensive burden to the average person. A 30 per cent ad valorem duty has been recommended by the Finance committee. Unless our protectionists are stopped, the importation of tubes will be almost impossible, and specialists have testified as to the inferiority of American-made tubes.

A House rate of 70 per cent on surgical instruments aroused such indignation that it was reduced to 40 per cent by the Senate committee. A bombardment of seething comment against the tomato and X-ray schedules, it is hoped, will bring even better results in the case of these two most outrageous and unjustifiable items of tariff tinkering.

Stately Sights of Washington Daze

Tourists.
It is recorded that two men, in a car bearing a New York license plate, pulled up before the great terraces of the never-to-be-forgotten dignity of the Capitol; one hailed a policeman and inquired, with a jerk of the thumb:

"Hey, buddy! What's that joint?"
Washington is the mecca of tourists, but also their downfall. The city itself is a veritable museum of tradition and history. But there is too much to see!

The Lincoln Memorial, the stately dome of the Capitol, the massive pillars fronting the White House, the tall needle of the Washington monument, the grave of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington and picturesque Mount Vernon make a medley of "places of interest."

The Capitol is two miles distant from the White House, yet one woman, descending from a sightseeing bus, was heard to argue that the two were "right across the street from each other."

Politics This Week.

The Senate tariff battle will be exciting even to the man on the street. The once dull subject in the world has aroused enough comment this year to intrigue the interest of anyone with a normal interest in his living costs. While waiting for the bell to ring for the second round of the bout, it is interesting to take note of the personalities involved.

Senator Smoot would seem the logical person to lead the protectionists with Senator Simmons of North Carolina in direct opposition, and no doubt they will play highly important parts. It is expected, however, that Senator Reed of Pennsylvania will be most active in the fray, since he is a more aggressive debater than the Senator from Utah, while the quiet Finance minority leader may yield somewhat to Pat Harrison, whose satirical tongue makes him a colorful figure in any argument. "Jim" Watson and "Joe" Robinson, Republican and Democratic leaders of the Senate, respectively, have a heavy responsibility.

Senator Thomas of Oklahoma plans to fight for limitation of revision to agricultural schedules, and Borah, who first advocated such limitation, will probably make an excellent leader for the farm relief group. Other Progressives—Brookhart, Norris, Nye, Frazier, etc.—are certain to be to the fore. Reports that the Tennessee seat left vacant by Senator Tyson's death may be filled by Representative Cordell Hull, a learned and able opponent of high tariff, are cheering.

The more evenly divided opposition and defense in the Senate will make for a far more intensive fight than was waged in the House.

Brilliant Speakers Heard At Political Institute.

The important place occupied at present by the problem of law enforcement in this country was emphasized by its prominence in the discussions at the Institute of Public Affairs of the University of Virginia. The sessions of this Institute might be called barometers of public opinion, so definitely do they reflect the relative importance of public questions before the nation.

At the sessions of this Institute which just closed, law enforcement took first place among the seven Round Tables, with the major discussions on prohibition. Such headlines as Governor Ritchie of Maryland, and Commissioner Doran, of the Prohibition Bureau, discussed their respective view-points in an open forum, as well as in special addresses. "Democracy as Operative in America," was another of the important Round Table discussions this year.

The leader, Dr. Thomas R. Reed, brought together a group of speakers who presented the virtues and virtues of democracy as a system of government from every point of view. This is the first time that democracy per se has been brought out into the open and studied dispassionately by political scientists, and the printed proceedings of the Round Table will constitute a valuable contribution to political science.

Horticulture Notes

You cannot make a success of apple growing without good spraying.

Black raspberries, unlike most of the other cultivated raspberries, do very well indeed where some shade is given.

Arsenate of lead, and lime-sulphur are offered for sale in either the liquid or dry form, with directions for use printed on each package or container.

Some of the best pruning you can do on young trees is to rub off the buds that come in wrong places for buds. You can shape up the trees at way with very little cutting.

Throughout the year the orchard should be kept free from pruning, dropped apples, cornstalks and other rubbish which may act as shelter or protection for the worms.

When the lime-sulphur was first used, many growers made it themselves, but of late the commercial product is used. No doubt it can be made cheaper but it is dirty work.

Do not spray at all unless you are going to try to do it well. It will not pay.

Spraying takes some time and trouble but it is great satisfaction at picking time to have fruits that are practically free of insect damage, and no waste.

A tower, even with a spray gun, is a great help. Often it will suffice to stand on the tank. A sawhorse type of support along the center of the tank is a safeguard against falling off.

Billions Spent Yearly for Automobile Service

Motorists of the nation spend over $5,000,000,000 annually with service stations and repair shops, according to Richard Harfst, manager of the Detroit Automobile club.

Mr. Harfst backs his statement on figures furnished by the research department of the American Automobile association, which show that in 1927 more than $5,250,000,000 was spent with service stations and repair shops by automobile owners.

"This staggering sum," Mr. Harfst points out, "was divided as follows: Parts and service supplies, $950,000,000; tires for replacement, $925,000,000; fuels and lubricants, $2,350,000,000; and service labor, $1,025,000,000. In 1928 the total amount spent was $2,125,000,000, while in 1929 it had increased to $4,815,000,000."

Hoover is the engineer, but the Senate wants to act as conductor.

Community Building

House Owner Profits by Regular Painting

Too often painting is of a trial and error process. It takes us once to learn how, and experience is, in this case, a costly teacher. Yet there are other equally effective ways of learning. Inform yourself of the facts before you plunge ahead. Incidentally, informing yourself of the facts will not mean delay and prolonged deliberation, but on the contrary, earlier painting than you had probably planned. For if you will investigate appraisal statistics you will find an amazing difference between the relative values of regularly painted and partially neglected houses. Paint prevents weathering of wood and corrosion of metal, and in doing so maintains property values. The economical time to repaint a frame house, under average weather conditions, is every three to five years.

Regular painting alone does not mean the best that can be had in economy. A good job is likewise a requisite. The first requisite for a good job is good paint. And the second is good workmanship.

Interior paint covers less surface and for this reason alone equals or even exceeds the cost of good paint—that is, if you are considering cost per square foot rather than cost per gallon. Interior paint will probably require renewal in two years or less, whereas four years would otherwise have been the interval. When it is remembered that the cost of application is usually about three times the cost of the paint itself, the importance of this factor may be thoroughly appreciated. In addition to being of good quality, paint should be used only for the purpose for which it is intended—for exteriors, exterior paint only, and so on.

Home Ownership First Basis of Prosperity

Home ownership—as the best road to the prosperity of the individual and the country was the keynote of a conference of representative retail lumber dealers from various sections of the United States, held recently at Chicago.

Organization of a council whose object will be to help home builders build better and more livable homes was the outcome of the gathering. The lumbermen met primarily to discuss many of their merchandising problems, but the home ownership theme was injected into the conference.

"The soundest thing in America today is absolute home ownership," said one speaker. "It is the keynote to the real prosperity of the individual. People should own a home before they own an automobile or a radio."

"A man who owns a home is a better citizen and a better influence for the community in which he lives."

Good Paint Pays

When painting your house, it pays to get a good job, one which will leave a foundation of sound paint for the next time the work has to be done. It will pay you in dollars and cents when it comes time to repaint your house again, for instance. The cost of painting materials after all is small compared to the cost of the painter's time. When that time has to be spent laboriously removing scaled and cracked paint before the repair job can even be commenced, the expense is high.

Paint authorities have estimated that 82 per cent of the paint used is applied to old surfaces. Therefore, the importance of a good surface for repainting can be seen.

Architectural Expression

Committees built to look like "peas in a pod" have aroused the American Institute of Architects into developing a plan for a revival of effort in the arts of designing. C. Herrick Hummell, president of the Institute, announced.

The movement would bring about collaboration among architects, sculptors, mural painters, landscape designers and craftsmen in creating a new mode of architectural expression, Mr. Hummell said.

The Institute's committee on allied art, headed by J. Monroe Hewlett of New York, will direct the movement.

It would provide plenty of happier space to give each chick a chance to eat. If the chicks are raised with hens there should be a foot coop that the large chickens cannot get into.

ONE of the most discussed and least understood questions regarding the farmer's problems is the part the bank has played, or is to play, in financing the farmer. The basis of co-operation between the two, however, is a very simple one.

Both sides are subject to criticism for the condition that exists today. The major share of the blame rests on those banks that have failed through disregarding fundamental principles in loaning other people's money, that have encouraged the farmer to expect bank loans without first putting his business on the earning basis which would justify a bank to lend him money.

One of the underlying reasons for the failure of so many country banks has been the existence of too many banks. With the limited business of the community divided among too many banks it was impossible for them to make enough money to justify the employment of officers with the proper ability to manage the bank successfully. Then the scramble for business was so hard that good judgment and foresight were forgotten in granting loans, with the resultant failure of the weaker institutions.

In the future, banks are not going to loan the money of their depositors without the kind of security that can be immediately realized upon in case the loan is not paid, or unless the applicant presents a sound and successful record of business operation—whether that business be manufacturing, merchandising, or farming.

Farming-Banking Interdependent

This is a perfectly obvious attitude, because country banking cannot be successfully and profitably carried on unless farming is successfully and profitably operated—the two businesses are dependent upon each other. There is no longer any question that the time has arrived for these interdependent businesses to reach a common ground of understanding of the requirements that both must meet for their mutual welfare.

There is no doubt but what the future prosperity of the farmer and the basis of cooperation between banker and farmer is the intelligent diversification of crops. It is necessary, however, to have the right conception of diversification.

The mistake that many farmers have made in attempting to diversify has been to invest too much money, time and land in a new and untried crop—sometimes a hazardous crop, or one for which no immediate market has been developed, resulting in a loss of the initial effort and discouragement of future efforts on a more conservative basis.

Disregarding the primary and essential principle of farming—namely, increasing earnings by decreasing the cost of production through the practice of building up soil by crop rotation and intensive cultivation, is responsible for a large share of the farmers' trouble today.

As An Agriculturalist Sees Farm Board's Job

The new Agricultural Marketing Act approaches farm relief from a materially different point of view from that of former bills before Congress in recent years, says Dean H. L. Russell of Wisconsin University College of Agriculture in the American Bankers Association Journal.

"It contains a new idea, fraught with the greatest possibilities—the organization of a Federal Farm Board," he says. "It has been possible for farm cooperatives to borrow from Federal aided institutions before, and at a materially lower rate than city business men had to pay for working capital, but this is the first step made by the government in which a commission has been entrusted with an effort to solve the problems of a farm group."

"It is hard to conceive of a higher degree of responsibility than must be assumed by this commission. No board ever created by congressional action has been clothed with as wide plenary powers. It is authorized not only to advise but to execute, to plan and put its plans into effective action, to buy and hold, to dump, to dip into the Federal treasury to accomplish its ends with what would be almost unlimited resources to any private commercial concern. The board's only job is to succeed, and no governmental agency even during the war time emergency had a wider latitude."

"Many will think the farm relief program will be universally applicable to the individual land owner or operator. Such procedure is far from the case. Ayl is to be extended through cooperative organizations by making it possible for such groups to obtain cash advances to hold crops so as to permit of more orderly marketing."

"While the primary relation is with cooperatives, the individual or unorganized farmer will also profit by the activities of his organized fellows. If a stabilized program of merchandising is able to eliminate the surpluses that exert such depressing influence on prices the general price relation should be improved. If this occurs the individual farmer should also benefit."

"It is here that the government is proposing a novel attempt in economics. Through stabilization corporations for each commodity it is proposed to make possible the handling of the surplus so as to lessen its disturbing influence on prices. With non-perishable products such a program is, of wonders what would happen if a stabilization corporation had to handle a perishable crop in great quantities.

"Is it going to be possible for a stabilization corporation to stabilize? It would be one thing if it had merely to stabilize the American situation, but often that situation is complicated with world conditions. Perhaps the very fact that such a stabilization corporation is in position to function may have a steadying effect on the market."

"Markets respond to psychological stimuli as do individuals. The very fact that the government has now definitely stepped into the breach with all of its resources available to make the new plan work will exert undoubtedly a strong stabilizing effect."

"It would be presumptuous to forecast what the ultimate effect of this new act will be. It can, however, be definitely stated that in the present plan much of the philosophy that had been so drastically criticized as economically unsound has been eliminated. The existing plan is worth trying. It will undoubtedly cost the Federal treasury no inconsiderable amounts of money, but if it produces the hoped-for result it will have been well worth while."

BANKING FINDS THE WAY TO SAFER ERA

By FRANK W. SIMMONDS,
American Bankers Association

In considering the banking situation throughout the country, the fact should be kept in mind that while one bank in ten failed during the past eight years, it is far more important that nine banks out of ten, operating in the same general field, serving the same communities and meeting almost identically the same problems, weathered the economic storm of readjustment successfully. This achievement cannot be ascribed to any element of luck, but rather to consistent adherence to sound banking principles and profitable practices. Through worthy and efficient management they met the issues and problems confronting them, squarely and successfully.

Banking is regarded as the keystone of our entire business structure, hence bank failures are rightly regarded as intolerable public calamities that must absolutely be prevented. The three major objectives of all inter-bank organizations, whether local, county, district, state or national, are to make banking safer for all concerned and, through increased efficiency in bank management and supervision, to lessen or eliminate all forms of losses so that greater rewards may accrue to banking and better service to the public. There is definite evidence, throughout the country of a strong and growing spirit of cooperation among bankers and banking organizations, which is resulting more and more in strengthening the work of all.

Clearinghouse associations among banks in city, county or district groups undoubtedly constitute the chief line of defense against bad banking practices. They have demonstrated that they are the principal factor in bringing about reduction in banking regulations, improvements in banking methods and the observance of sound banking principles. For many years the primary purpose of a clearinghouse association was the clearance of checks, but today it is the clearance of banking ideas and the solution of banking problems. Clearinghouses supply the local machinery essential for setting up and putting in practice necessary standards and uniformities. There are now 425 clearinghouse associations in cities, towns, counties and groups of counties in the United States.

Men today are more intelligently group-minded than ever before. Banking is combining the best elements of competition with sound group action. By virtue of this combination, individual thought has much wider possibilities of expression. In general, group action has not stifled but has stimulated individual thinking and initiative. Better inter-bank organization and relationships afforded by clearinghouses would have undoubtedly saved many institutions that have suffered failure in the past. The clearinghouse activities of the American Bankers Association are conducted for the purpose of encouraging ever widening cooperation along fundamental principles and practices among banks through clearinghouse associations. Bankers to every city, county or district can, through the agency of a clearinghouse, promote better, safer and more profitable banking and also serve their communities better.

There never was a time when successful bankers were so alert to the value of team work for putting the entire banking structure in prime condition. Sound bank management is the order of the day. Constructive cooperation is more than a sentiment. It is an economic necessity, a matter of enlightened self-interest, and successful bankers more and more are utilizing the agency of constructive group action in developing and establishing necessary standards and uniformities in banking practices. Each year banking is becoming more of a science and attaining higher professional standards.

Adjust Steering Column to Suit Whole Family

New cars that have the advantage of adjustable steering columns are falling into the hands of thousands of untouchable buyers at this season. If more than one member of the family is to drive the car, it is an excellent idea to have the steering wheel set at an average adjustment, usually the middle position of the three available. Here it will be found to be approximately right for the smallest as well as the tallest member of the family driving force.

Pumpkins Useful as Cow Feed During the Winter

Where pumpkins are extensively grown they are used for cow feed in the winter months. Possibly they could be kept all winter under proper conditions of cold storage, but they are such a bulky food that a large place is required to store enough of them to last a large herd through the winter months. They are not only hollow inside, but their shape makes them space consumers in storage. The pumpkin is nearly equivalent to silage for feed, but when we have the problem of feeding many cows, it is much easier to build a silo than to build a receptacle for several tons of pumpkins. Moreover, the pumpkins, must be cold enough to prevent them from decaying, for the air will get into any receptacle in which they can be placed. With silage, the temperature makes little difference if it does not reach the point where it freezes. In the feeding of pumpkins about 40 pounds per day per cow may be fed to advantage, and with some cows the milk production will be greatly increased. With some cows, however, the effect of feeding pumpkins is to cause the cow to lay on fat and decrease their milk production.

Dairy Hints

Culves should have fresh water even though they are receiving milk.

Dairy barns need good floors. Concrete is a fine material for this purpose.

To insure fall freshening get cows with calf between December 1 and March 1.

Cows that are given a rest of from six to eight weeks and liberally fed before calving usually produce more milk during the succeeding lactation period than cows that calve in thin condition.

Most cream separators will do a much better job of skimming the milk when it is warm.

Drinking cups in the barn are a good investment for most dairymen. Cows need lots of water and it should be supplied liberally.

Select a bull of good individuality. A bull should be equal to, or better in every regard, than the cows he is bred to, or his offspring will be bred down and not up.

Horticulture Squibs

Use only the spray materials recommended in the spray calendar.

The peach appears to be directly benefited by applications of limestone.

The best materials to use in spraying fruits is arsenate of lead and blue-slur.

Crown gall may be easily recognized by very rough black enlargements on the crown, roots or main stem of the tree.

It is all right to set raspberries between the trees providing they are not allowed to interfere with the growth of the trees for a few years.

Do not spray when it happens to be convenient, but spray at the times the spray calendar says. The time of spraying is of vast importance and the times given in the spray calendar are based on years of study.

In the North, where seasons are not so long, there are not so many broods of insects, so a less number of times spraying answers the same purpose as a greater number does farther South.

"---as advertised"

How many times you see those two words in the course of a day's shopping: "This article for sale—as advertised."

And those two words are as welcome as they are familiar, for they form a band of confidence between the merchant and yourself. They are his guarantee to you of worth and value.

Here is an article that has been described in your newspaper. Its merits have been told; possibly, too, its price. You know exactly what you will get when you buy it. You know its quality, its utility; you know it fits into your needs. And when you buy it you know you are getting not some unproved substitute, but the specified article—as represented.

It is easy to understand why that phrase, "as advertised," creates a feeling of confidence. You have learned to depend upon consistently advertised products. You know that the maker has confidence in them, else he would not spend money calling your attention to them day after day, and month after month. You know that they have been approved by the most critical of investigators—the buying public. And above all, you know from experience that buying goods "as advertised" is the best investment you can make.

GOLF TOURNEY PREMIER EVENT

HAS GIVEN CHARLEVOIX NA-TION-WIDE PUBLICITY.

John R. Bowker, Who Fathered the Event, Will Be At Helm of 1930 Great Lakes Open.

The Great Lakes Open golf championship, Northern Michigan's greatest sporting event, has gone down on the records of this resort as the premier attraction of recent years. Success of the tournament was phenomenal and it is destined to become even more important in future years.

To John R. Bowker of Southern Pines and Pinehurst, North Carolina, goes the credit for the management of the Great Lakes Open. His purpose in coming to Charlevoix was to build a miniature golf course at The Inn. While here he saw the wonderful possibilities of the Belvedere golf course as a championship tournament site and went after the event.

Members of the Belvedere Golf Club raised the nucleus of the tournament prize money. This fund was augmented by subscriptions from the city of Charlevoix. The Inn, John Koch, Charlevoix Beach Hotel, Chicago Club of Charlevoix and Charlevoix Association of Commerce.

With prize money guaranteed, Mr. Bowker went to the Canadian Open at Montreal, Canada, to sign up golf stars. The mighty Walter Hagen, British open champion, and Horton Smith, sensational star from Joplin, Mo., were first entrants. He also made trips to Glen Falls, N. Y., and to the Western open at Milwaukee, and, before the opening day of the tournament such great stars as Abe Espinoza, Tommy Armour, Al Watrous, Jack Hutchinson, "Wild" Bill Mehlhorn, Joe Kirkwood and others had been signed. In fact, the field contained all but a very few of the leading professionals in the world.

When news that such noted stars were to compete here, leading daily papers of the country began to take notice. As a result, Harry Salsinger, nationally known sports writer from the Detroit News came over to cover the meet, also Leo McDonnell, golf editor of the Detroit Times. Value of publicity received is inestimable. Visiting golfers were lavish in their praise of the Belvedere course, designed, laid out and under management of Wm. Watson, professional at the two Charlevoix courses. Walter Hagen acclaimed it the best resort course he had ever seen, and this same opinion was expressed by Horton Smith, Tommy Armour, Abe Espinoza and others. Jack Hutchinson of Chicago, who has played tournaments over the entire country, made the statement that if this eighteen was more extensively trapped, it would be one of the three great championship courses in the world, and that for scenic beauty, sky lines, well grassed fairways and perfect putting greens, it could not be beaten anywhere. The pros are bound to pass this word along, and there are thousands of golfers who will be attracted here in future years.

At a recent meeting of the newly-organized Great Lakes Golf Association, which has Howard McGregor of Detroit as president; Archie L. Livingston as treasurer; John R. Bowker as executive secretary and Andrew I. Creamer and J. W. Fristoe as trustees, it was decided to hold the event next summer. The Belvedere Golf Club will apply for membership in the United States Golf Association, and have appointed Mr. Bowker as their representative at the annual meeting. First prize of $1,000 and handsome awards for the amateurs are suggested, and plans call for the tournament being held in July, so that it will not interfere with other meets sanctioned by the U. S. association. Mr. Bowker, who so successfully promoted and managed the tournament last week, will again be at the helm, he tells us.

BRIDGE SWEEPED OFF YACHT DECK WORKS

Considerable Damage Done to Yacht
Sylvia Last Thursday Night.

Considerable damage to the Sylvia, painted yacht owned by Logan Thompson, Cincinnati summer resort, resulted last Thursday evening at 8:45 when the swing bridge closed and swept the boat's upper deck as it was going through the channel from Lake Michigan into Round lake.

All rail posts on the left side of the boat, three davits and the spar were taken off. A deck box and yawl were smashed and other damage done. Luckily the bridge missed the pilot house or lives might have been lost.

According to Captain Roy Ranger, the Sylvia blew for entrance and was answered. As the boat drew up opposite the bridge, Elmer Johnson, the tender, started closing. The boat was reversed, but not in time to avert the crash. As the Sylvia proceeded again, the bridge tender started once more to close and this time took off the flag pole. Johnson was evidently confused and may have been misled by a small sail boat which preceded the Sylvia through the channel.

Johnson has been removed from his position while the state is making an investigation of the accident.

FLINT MATRON ENTER- TAINED HOUSE PARTY

Week End Pleasant One at Home of Mrs. Alice Parmelee.

Mrs. Alice Parmelee of Flint, Michigan, who is vacationing at her cottage on Park avenue, gave a very pleasant house party to a large number of out-of-town guests over last week end.

One of the enjoyable affairs was a picnic dinner in the city park on Lake Michigan Sunday. The following people were guests: Ruth Parmelee, Gene Proctor, Verna Brown, Charles Parks, Charles Chase, Fred Hill, Mrs. Edith Parmelee, Mr. and Mrs. William Carr and daughter, Marion, and Horatio Parmelee of Flint, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kephart and three children of Traverse City; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bergeon and son and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bergeon and son, Ormiston, all of Charlevoix.

Some of the out-of-town guests left Monday, while others remained over until Tuesday. The affair was a very delightful one.

Each of Switzerland's 24 cantons voted against a prohibition law recently submitted.

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.
Subject: "Man."
Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.
Reading room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 1.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive forevermore, Amen" (Rev. 1:18).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus was the highest human concept of the perfect man. He was inseparable from Christ, the Messiah, the divine idea of God outside the flesh. This enabled Jesus to demonstrate his control over matter" (p. 482).

IDEAL WEATHER FOR FAIR WEEK

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND EX-HIBITIONS AT EAST JORDAN.

Horse Races and Other Features
Were Best in Recent Years—
New Directors Elected.

The Charlevoix County Fair Association was again fortunate in getting ideal weather, the result being an attendance equal to that of a year ago which was considered exceptionally good.

Owing to the late spring, the exhibit of vegetables and fruits was not as good as heretofore. The canned fruit exhibit was this year placed in the former dining hall and a large number attending the Fair failed to see this excellent showing owing to lack of a sign on the outside of the building. In this building was also a fine showing of fresh fruit from the Eveline Orchards.

Other exhibits in the various division were on a par with those shown in the past years.

Good band music was provided all three days by the three high school bands of the county—Boys' City playing on Wednesday, East Jordan Thursday and Charlevoix, Friday.

The LaSere free attractions were good and the midway well filled.

Prize Winners at the Fair.

Mrs. C. H. Pray of East Jordan won the major prize at the Charlevoix County Fair, a Plymouth Coach given away to the lucky ticket holder Friday afternoon.

Other winners during the three days are as follows:

Mrs. McKenzie of Boyne City—heifer.

Silas Doctör of Ellsworth—Dur-

Mrs. George Brown, R. 4, East

Jordan—heifer.

Mrs. Newville, Boyne City—sheep.

INFORMATION BUREAU BUSY PLACE

ASST. SECRETARY'S REPORT SHOWS BUSINESS VOLUME.

Bureau Has Bees of Inestimable Value During Past Three Months—Report Sites Several Needs.

Frederick V. Tyler, assistant secretary of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce in charge of the information bureau, has submitted a report and review of the season's activities.

It is very evident that the scope of accomplishment has been enormous. Records prove much. It is also the general consensus of opinion that the bureau has never before attained such a degree of efficiency in any previous year. The location is ideal and management very satisfactory. Mr. Tyler has given the office his undivided attention, in fact has gone much further with the work than was fondly anticipated.

In his report, Mr. Tyler has cited the great many inquiries for bath house facilities and small cabins. The former deficiency could easily be taken care of and should not be overlooked another year. The second is a problem, although not impossible to provide.

William "Billy" Cowan, who is the caretaker of the Bridge street park and rest rooms, has rendered invaluable service and is deserving of due credit. He has kept the place in wonderful shape and in addition has found time to render a service to tourists and yachting parties alike.

Following is Mr. Tyler's report: "The tourist information bureau, located in the city band house on Bridge street, will close next Saturday night with a record of accomplishment that should establish it as a valuable, permanent institution in Charlevoix.

"Between four and five thousand people entered the bureau during the summer and the general comment was that the location was ideal for the purpose and that Charlevoix is fortunate in having so attractive a place to receive the traveller, easy of access and equipped to furnish almost any information likely to be sought.

"The bureau was opened in the Benjamin Brown snackbar on June 20th and removed to its present location on July 8th. The highest number of personal inquiries on any day of the period from June 20th to July 8th, inclusive, was five. On July 9th, the day after removal to the new location, 21 personal inquiries were received and this figure rapidly mounted to a daily average of 29 personal inquiries, the high water mark being reached on August 26th, when 61 people made inquiry at the bureau.

"Data records, kept by the assistant secretary in charge of the bureau, show the following figures for the period of June 20th to September 7th, inclusive:

"Inquiries answered personally at bureau, 1,623; inquiries answered by letter, 133; inquiries answered by telephone, 46; making a total of 1,802 inquiries. Number of telephone calls in, 106; number of telephone calls out, 448; names of prospects telephoned or listed to hotels, 87; total number of letters written, 212; copies of letters and lists made, 22; total postage used, $14.65; supplies purchased, under $15.00.

"Besides the usual inquiries about condition of roads, best routes, hotels and boarding houses and their rates, restaurants, places of interest, etc., the questions, "Where can we get a short boat trip on the lakes?" "Where can I get a furnished cabin, near the lake shore, for the night?" and "Where can we find a beach with bath houses?" were perhaps the most frequent. The first requirement was ably met, though late in the season, but Charlevoix is still shy the cabins and the bath houses. It is a little "steep" to ask the passing tourist, who has a few hours to spend in town and would like to swim in our lakes, to hire a hotel room in which to change his clothing. Adequate bath houses should be provided at every beach in town. The nearest accommodations of this sort are located at Young's State Park, 14 miles from here around Lake Charlevoix. Many who made this request would have stayed longer in Charlevoix had they found what they wanted.

"It can be safely estimated that 50 per cent of our visitors would have gone on to other towns, stopping but long enough, perhaps, to buy ice cream cones, had they not been directed to various places of interest about town or to comfortable lodgings for the night. About a dozen families were placed in cottages on Lake Charlevoix and in town for periods ranging from a night to two weeks. Several parties of tourists, who discovered that there were too many interesting spots around Charlevoix to be comfortably covered in an hour or two, decided to stay overnight and look around a bit. Many, especially those coming in from the south, asked rather disdainfully on beholding Round Lake, "So this is the Lake Charlevoix we've heard so much about?" or (in tone of surprise), "Is this Lake Charlevoix?" and livened up considerably when they found they still had a treat coming.

"The visitors registered from points as far separated as Los Angeles and Aberdeen, Scotland; North Bay, Canada and Mobile, Alabama. Detroit and Chicago seem to have discovered us for the first time this summer. The quotas of the Automobile and Windy Cities easily led the field. The smaller cities of southern Michigan turned out a remarkable contingent. Illinois, from districts outside of her metropolis, was heavily represented. Indiana sent many of her prosperous habitants rolling northward on Michigan's pine girt trails and Kansas and Oklahoma, (Continued on page 2.)

Arthur Krulik, youthful club-toter at the Charlevoix Golf Club, annexed his second title last week by copping the first flight of the annual caddy golf tournament. Krulik won a year ago, and two years ago was runner-up.

The champion defeated Stan Smith 5 and 4 in the first round, Charles Krulik 8 and 6 in the second round, and then disposed of Bill Novak in the finals 2 and 1. It was a good match and by no means a walk-away. Krulik won $10, the first prize, while Novak received $5 as runner-up.

Carlton Ikens succeeds Franklin Curtis, last year's champion of the second flight. He defeated Clare Ecklund 4 and 3, Otto Yemmans by forfeit and in the finals was 4 up and 2 to go in his match with Victor McSaubia. To the winner and runner-up go $5 and $3, the first and second prizes.

On account of such a large number of entries, a third flight was instituted this year. Fred McSaubia was the winner of that division and Charles Keiter the runner-up. The two lads were both given cash prizes of $2 and $1 respectively.

Clare Ecklund received the first prize of $10 given by the Club to the caddy with the best season's record of efficiency and conduct. Julius McSaubia won the $5 second prize and Drew Young the third award of $3.

The sum of $311.17 was paid by the Club on savings account pass books turned in by the caddies, ten per cent being added. The amount presented was distributed among approximately 60 boys, making an average of $5.18 each. In all, these 60 lads had in the bank at the end of the season over $3,000, or an average of over $50 each. Not a bad record at all. It certainly is commendable that the Club members take this means of inducing the boys to save their earnings.

The annual caddy excursion is over and was an enjoyable event. The club-toters, accompanied by Caddy Master Roy, Bill Suppaw, assistant to Mr. Watson, and Howard Bursheimer, a resorter, made the week end trip to Mackinac Island on the Str. Manitou. They took in the shows and all the sights and had a wonderful time. Sixty boys made the trip.

The golf club will be open several weeks yet. Quite a large number are playing daily and the only handicap is lack of caddies. Mr. Roe will remain here until Sunday before going to Ypsilanti, where he will attend school part time and teach the balance. William Watson, professional in charge of the Charlevoix and Belvedere golf clubs, will remain here until October 1st.

The season about to close has been a very successful one, with a large increase in players and financial returns.

Fowler's Office Robbed. Around $12 in cash was stolen from the safe in the office of the Charlevoix-Petoskey bus line, owned and operated by H. R. Fowler, last Thursday night. The culprits gained entrance through the rear door of the garage.

NOVELTY PARTY AT MOONLIGHT GARDENS

Something New in Dancing Program Is Promised Those Attending.

A "Kiss-Proof" party, sponsored by the Kissproof Co., Inc., of Chicago, will be held at the Moonlight Gardens Saturday night, according to A. T. Jeffery, owner and manager. A dainty little beauty packet will be given to each lady present. During the evening a "Kiss-Proof" girl will be chosen, and she will be given a grand prize.

Mr. Jeffery is giving the party as a special feature of his fall and winter schedule of dances, which will be held every Wednesday and Saturday nights. He promises an enjoyable evening to all those who attend.

R. T. Davis, county road superintendent, has purchased the Edward Smith property on U. S. 31.

DUCK SEASON TO OPEN ON MONDAY

NEW REGULATION COVERING BLINDS IS IN FORCE.

Open Water Shooting Under Cover Eliminated and Is Forward Step for Conservation.

Next Monday morning, September 15th, the duck hunting season opens up and "blind" hunters will be greeted with a new regulation that will curtail their kills yet serve as a means of keeping the birds in Michigan waters longer than has usually been the case.

Beginning this year no duck blind can be built or anchored more than 100 feet off from any point or patch of well-defined emergent aquatic vegetation. This entirely eliminates open water shooting from a duck blind and will give the birds a chance to alight in open water without being greeted by shot from some reed-concealed gunner.

This regulation is one that Michigan should have had years ago. Ducks have had little or no chance to get away from hunters under the old regulations. They were chased out of the marshes at daybreak, pounded heavily along shore reed beds; driven out to open water where they were again greeted with shot and finally had to seek rest far out in the Great Lakes or keep flying until they hit some refuge where guns were missing.

Holding duck blinds to the 100-foot limit will give the harried birds a chance to rest and feed in shallow stretches of open water with the result that they won't be driven out of the State a few days after the season opens as has been the case in the past.

Of greatest interest to the trappers will be the privilege granted them to take muskrats, our most prolific and profitable fur-bearer. From Nov. 1 to 30 in upper Michigan; from Nov. 15 to Dec. 15 north of township 20 and west of Saginaw Bay and from Dec. 1 to Dec. 31 south of township 20 and east of Saginaw. This will give muskrat trappers two full months of trapping if they care to move around.

On the list of unprotected furbearers (those that can be taken at any time of year) will be found wolves, coyotes, foxes, mink, skunk, weasels, wildcats, woodchucks and lynx.

For those who own coon dogs the news is broadcast that an open season on raccoons has been set. This runs from Nov. 1 to 30 in lower Michigan and is entirely closed above the Straits. This is for hunting only. When it comes to trapping coons, the same season prevails as for muskrats under the zoning regulation, but the upper peninsula is eliminated. Michigan's raccoon habitat is confined almost entirely to the southern half of the lower peninsula and investigation has revealed that they are plentiful enough to stand 30 days' hunting.

No bag limits have been placed upon any of our furbearers. As many may be captured as the hunter or trapper desires but the seasons are restricted sufficiently to warrant the retention of hold-over breeding stock.

Representing the local Dodge car and truck agency, Benjamin Brown and brother, George Brown, returned Monday from Evansville, Ind., with two large Dodge school buses to be used in connection with the consolidation of rural and city schools at East Jordan.

LOCAL RACE DRIVER SERIOUSLY INJURED

Trampled by Horse at Emmet County Race Track Friday.

J. C. Thomas, local race horse owner and driver, was seriously injured in the last heat of the final race Friday afternoon at the Emmet county fair, when his sulky locked wheels with that of Fred Seifert when the horses came thundering into the stretch at the east end of the track. Thomas was thrown clear of his rig and is believed to have been caught beneath the hoofs of Alcona M., driven by Scotty McLeod, Cheboygan. The horses were bunched and coming at a fast pace when the accident happened.

Thomas had one eye cut in two and his chest badly crushed, probably from the horse's hoofs. He was taken to Petoskey hospital and Dr. John Reycraft took charge of the case, clearing the wounds and giving him every possible surgical and medical care.

Mr. Thomas, who is employed by Frank Welsh as an instructor, has been coming to Charlevoix several years. Latest reports are that his condition is greatly improved and that he has an excellent chance for recovery unless unforeseen complications set in.

TWO LOSE LIVES IN ROUND LAKE

EDWARD GREINER AND JOHN KERCHAK THE VICTIMS.

Drowned After Being Thrown From Outboard Motor Boat, Which Was Thought to Have Struck Them.

The waters of Round lake claimed two victims late Sunday afternoon. They were Edward Greiner, age 26, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Greiner of Marion township, and John Kerchak, age 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kerchak, who live south of Charlevoix on U. S. 31.

The two young men were running around the lake in an outboard motor boat. Although opinions differ somewhat, it is believed they were contemplating changing positions at the engine when the mishap occurred off Thompson's dock. Both were at the extreme rear, where Greiner had been operating the boat and was seen to be giving Kerchak instructions about handling the motor. It is thought one or the other must have slipped in such a way as to swing the propeller over, for the boat suddenly swerved, throwing them both into the water, and marks on their faces would indicate that, as the craft swung around, it struck them.

According to witnesses, Greiner made an effort to save himself, but was pulled down by Kerchak, who clung to him. A ring life buoy was thrown to them, but neither saw it in their struggle. The boat also contained two life belts, which the young men had been using for cushions to sit upon.

Many people witnessed the tragedy and within a very few minutes help was on hand, but too late to save them. Coast guards recovered both within about half an hour after the accident, but after working nearly two hours over the lifeless bodies, were forced to give up.

Greiner had been employed by Hamilton & Son in their shipyard for five years, and was well known by nearly everyone in the city. Besides his parents, he is survived by seven brothers and sisters. Kerchak had been employed as truck driver for the Charlevoix Co-operative Association for some time and is survived by his parents and several brothers and sisters.

Funeral services for Greiner were held Wednesday morning at 10:00 o'clock from the Church of God, and for Kerchak the same afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the residence.

MULLET LAKE RESORT TO HAVE GOLF COURSE

Mullet lake, north of Petoskey, is to have a new golf course. The Dodge's Point Community Club will open the course. The ground was completely surveyed, the work being completed Monday. The surveying was done by Royal A. Fultz, chief engineer at Cheboygan. In all it probably will be a nine-hole course. This is the second course in this region and it will add to the many courses in Northern Michigan which are so greatly in demand during the summer season. There is another course at Mackinaw City that will be ready for use next season.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPENED MONDAY

ENROLLMENT OVER 600—LESS THAN LAST YEAR.

Big Increase Shown by Freshmen and Sophomores, While Two Upper Classes Show Decline.

School bells Monday morning sounded the knell of vacation-time for 1929 as more than 600 public school children reluctantly bunt their steps in the direction of their studies.

The public and parochial schools of Charlevoix opened on that day. Sessions were on the short period basis as the children reported to be assigned to classes and to learn the program that they will follow day in and day out until Thanksgiving vacation.

Contrary to early expectations, the enrollment this year has failed to show any increase, in fact, it has dropped off a trifle. The high school grades, from ninth to twelfth, have held even with 194 for both years. In the grades from kindergarten to and including the sixth, there is an enrollment of 308, compared with 311 in 1928. Last year there were 419 junior high students, and this year 118, a decrease of one. The county normal has an enrollment of 15, the same as 1928.

Following is a comparison of the two years:

Grades.	1929	1928
Kindergarten	38	36
First grade	37	37
Second grade	54	41
Third grade	35	43
Fourth grade	34	36
Fifth grade	45	44
Sixth grade	35	44
	308	311
Junior High.
Seventh grade	62	55
Eighth grade	57	63
	119	118
High School.
Ninth grade	72	67
Tenth grade	30	38
Eleventh grade	35	49
Twelfth grade	20	40
	194	194

It may be seen that the most appreciable loss is in the junior and senior classes, while the freshman and sophomore enrollment have made up the difference. Last year's graduating class, by the way, was one of the largest in the history of the school.

It is interesting to note the students' choice of subjects. There seems to be a general tendency for popularity of the old academic subjects, while the new, more modern additions to the curriculum are in less favor. For instance, there are 31 taking French I, while in the commercial arithmetic class, which was added this year, there are only four.

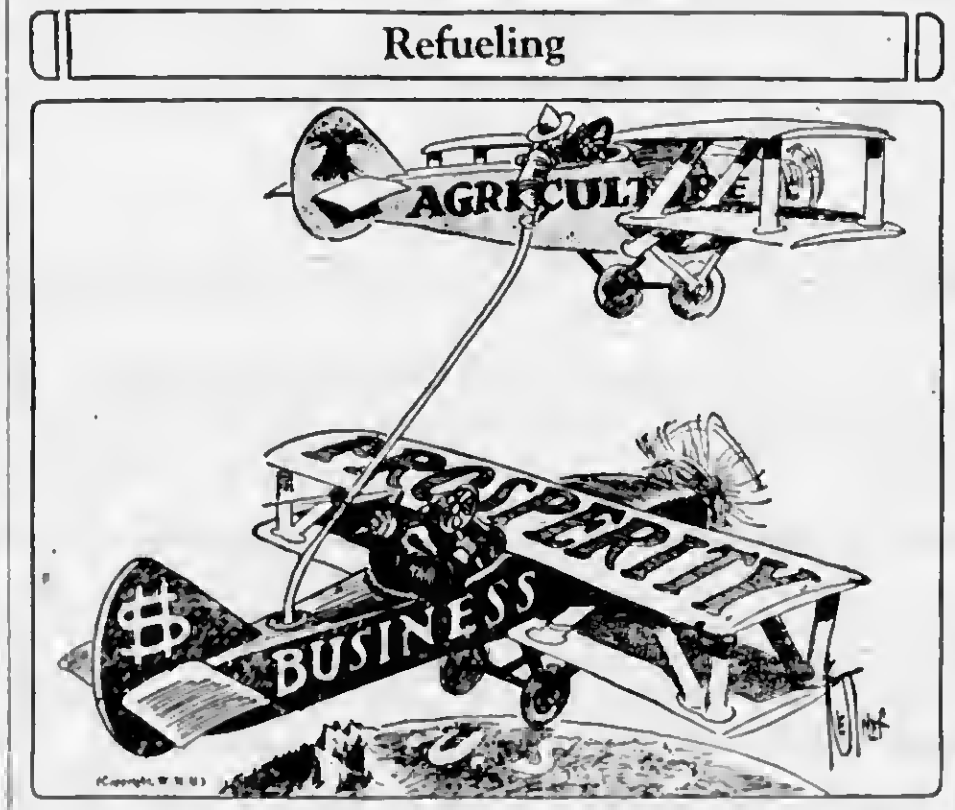

In the domestic science department, which two years ago had two full classes of 18 each, this year has only seven. It dropped off to 18 a year ago and is still on the decline. Looks sort of had for those young men inclined toward matrimony. They are apparently destined to a canned diet unless the girls look upon cooking more favorably. General science, which is a smattering of all the sciences, is seemingly popular. It appears as though the students would rather take this means of getting a general knowledge of science, rather than take the full or half-term subjects offered in this department.

Following are the high school subjects offered and the enrollment in each class: American history, 46; modern history, 38; ancient history, 63; English I, 69; English II, 52; English III, 32; English IV, 28; French I, 31; French II, 8; Latin I, 55; Latin II, 20; home economics, 7; general science, 40; biology, 13; chemistry, 25; physics, 21; algebra, 70; economics, 24; shorthand I, 12; bookkeeping, 22; typewriting, 40.

ANTRIM COUNTY IS CLOSED TO DEER HUNTING

Antrim county was closed to deer hunting for a period of two years from November 15, 1929, by the recent action of the Conservation Commission at its August meeting. This order was prompted by the action of the county board of supervisors of Antrim county in requesting conservation authorities to provide a two-year period of protection to the white-tailed deer in that territory.

The Congregational ladies will give their annual harvest supper Wednesday, September 25th.—Adv.

CORRESPONDENCE

NORWOOD.

Traffic on U. S. 31 has become lighter since school started. Myron Brown of Detroit, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Alward called on Alfred Van Dusen and daughter, near Charlevoix, Sunday.

Several families in this locality have made trips north to gather blackberries and report a fine crop of them.

No doubt the autumn colors of foliage will appear earlier this season than last year, on account of the early rains throughout the state.

There will be no church services at the M. E. church in Norwood Sunday, on account of the annual conference to be held at Kalamazoo.

Miss Dorothy Hull, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Holecheck of Cadillac for the past two weeks, returned to her home Sunday.

EVELINE NEWS.

Mrs. Darbee and Howard were in Petoskey last Friday.

Robert Sherman bought a horse at the sale last Thursday.

Edna and Douglas Knudsen started school at Charlevoix Monday.

Mrs. N. P. Griffen and children visited Mrs. Cooper last Thursday.

A. L. Darbee and family are moving back to East Jordan this week.

Miner Vandermade of Petoskey, was a caller at the Robert Sherman home Saturday evening.

The Eveline Orchard company loaded and shipped three car loads of Duches apples the past week.

Adam Boyer has been in the Charlevoix hospital a few days the past week. He had his tonsils and adenoids removed by Dr. Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman, Minor and Bruce Vandermade, and Sherman Thomas, attended the Labor Day picnic at Whiting Park, Monday.

Mrs. Nina Kiser returned from a ten-day visit in Detroit last Wednesday. Mrs. Max Harnden came up with her for a short visit with relatives in East Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lutterl of Muskegon, are the parents of a baby girl, born August 31st. Mrs. Lutterl was Miss Blanche Kemp, who is staying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kemp, for a short time.

School started last Tuesday with Mrs. Harold Stueck of East Jordan as teacher. The school house has all been redecorated on the inside and they are now painting the outside, and the yard is being made into a better play ground, which is a great improvement for the children and teacher.

ANTRIM CITY.

Mrs. F. Brooks was a visitor at the Stott home Saturday.

Some Antrim City people went blackberrying last Sunday.

Mrs. C. Stott and children, Viola and Edith, were callers at the Slate home Tuesday.

The Antrim City school opened Monday with Margaret Mitchell of Buckley as teacher.

George Slate, who is working at the gravel pit near Charlevoix, fell and hurt his back one day last week.

Guy Sutter and children, Delia and Leonard, and Mr. and Mrs. Wetzel of Gaylord, spent a few minutes at the Stott home Sunday.

Mobile, Appalachicola, Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth and Austin answered present at roll call and Boston, Providence and New York City dropped in to see if we really had anything worth seeing up here in the "sticks."

"Much favorable comment was aroused by the completeness of the material provided at the bureau for the tourist's information and guidance. Thirty-four varieties of literature were carried during the height of the season on the display table having to do with steamship lines, railroads, bus lines, side trips, nearby resorts, etc., as well as several of the best road maps published. Besides these, a full line of Canadian resort literature and time tables, with complete sectional maps of the various provinces, were available. Weekly bulletins from the state gave up to date advice on road conditions in Michigan and rooms, cottages, boarding houses, garages, places to get fish bait and situations and help wanted ads were cond catalogued."

"KONJOLA ONLY MEDICINE THAT BENEFITED ME"

Ten Terrible Years Of Suffering
Speedily Ended By
This New and Different Medicine.

MRS. HURL AIKENS

"I had suffered ten long years with stomach trouble and weak kidneys," said Mrs. Hurl Aikens, 35 Pare street, Detroit. "Even the lightest foods caused distress, and whatever I ate laid like a sodden mass in my stomach. There it fermented and caused gas, bloating and heart palpitation. As my kidneys did not function properly my system filled with poisons."

"I heard so many fine endorsements of Konjola that I decided to give it a trial. Just four and a half bottles and my digestion was restored, and I can eat and enjoy a hearty meal. The kidney trouble is practically gone. To Konjola goes all the credit for my new health, and I recommend it to everyone who suffered as I did."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Fossenden's drug store and by all the best druggists in the towns throughout this entire section.

BOVINE AND HUMAN TUBERCULOSIS.

The rapidity with which Michigan is stamping out tuberculosis among its cows is a credit to the intelligence and good sense of its officials and voters. Without exception, each of Michigan's 83 counties has appropriated funds for the work of testing and as a result, Michigan today leads the important dairy states of the country in the eradication campaign. Sixty-eight counties are listed as modified accredited areas at present and the remainder are well on the way to a similar rating.

The primary reason for this campaign rests on the fact that some human tuberculosis has its origin in the bovine type. The Michigan Tuberculosis Association estimates that from six to ten per cent of all kinds of tuberculosis is due to bovine infection. Yet, that economic reasons have been of greatest influence in many counties in hurrying the work of testing and ridding herds of cows found to be tuberculous, cannot be doubted. When Detroit, Chicago, and other large cities banned all milk save that coming from counties where herds had been tested, it became obvious that farmers living in counties where testing was not in progress would soon be hard put to find a market for their milk.

Even without the economic motive, it is likely that in most sections of the state the work of testing and eliminating unfit cows eventually would have been carried on with nearly the same degree of thoroughness. State and county officials, and the people who elect them have shown within recent years a highly cooperative attitude toward anti-tuberculosis work of every type. Eleven Michigan counties, for instance, last year voted funds to be used for the purpose of subsidizing the free chest clinics conducted by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

The interesting of county, as well as state and national governments, in anti-tuberculosis activities, is a step of major importance in the campaign against the disease. Cooperation such as this cannot help but prove vastly significant in outlawing tuberculosis as a major cause of death.

VACATION DAYS OVER.

With the coming of September and the opening of schools and colleges the summer vacation period is declared officially ended, although it is said that hundreds are forming the habit of remaining until late September or early October when the resort country is most beautiful.

The resort sections report the most successful season in years, especially during August when the hot dry days drove thousands from the cities to seek the cool shady spots of Michigan, rapidly becoming the summer playground of the nation.

Although the capacities of those catering to the tourist trade were taxed to the limit, very few complaints were heard by visitors complaining of poor treatment. They are evidently finding in Michigan the spirit of hospitality that will make them want to come back again next year. A satisfied vacationist is an asset. They always induce others to accompany them the following season.

We doubt if the possibilities of Michigan as a summer resort state have yet been visualized. Each year 500 miles of new paved highway opens new vistas, new places to visit, new charms to be enjoyed. Another decade and the summer resort business will rank close to that of industry. Already it has surpassed the old lumbering days in amount of money spent, and it is virtually in its infancy. Each succeeding year should establish a new high mark. It is a business in which every part of the state has a share—we are wise to devote our best efforts in giving it encouragement.

ROOM FOR THE LAWLESS.

The United States is starting out on a jail building campaign.

Both the federal and the state prisons are over-crowded. Leavenworth has a capacity of 2,000 prisoners and has 3,700 inmates. Practically all of the state prisons are filled beyond capacity, the only exception being Maine which has room for some more folks in jail.

The jails are full because crime has been increasing. Some of you say—prohibition. That is not the case. A third of the federal prisoners are those who have violated the narcotics acts. Only 14 per cent are liquor law offenders.

Shortage of jails makes federal judges slow to send prisoners to them. In 1929 there were 5,210 convicted under the drug acts, 1,540 people went to jail. In the same year there were 37,018 liquor law convictions with 765 jail sentences.

By all means let us have some jails. Let us start out on a substantial building program. It is no reflection upon a nation to have ample capacity to take care of its law-breakers. It is a worse criterion to have the lawless at large.

DRY LAW EFFECTS.

The Womens Organization for National Prohibition Reform is undertaking an investigation that ought to shed new light on the liquor problem. It plans to study the opinions of workingmen's wives regarding prohibition and its effects; to make a comprehensive survey of speak-easies in towns of various sizes all over the country, as compared with the number of saloons in former days; to look into the conditions prevailing in high school and other educational institutions, and the general effects of the Volstead Act on American youth.

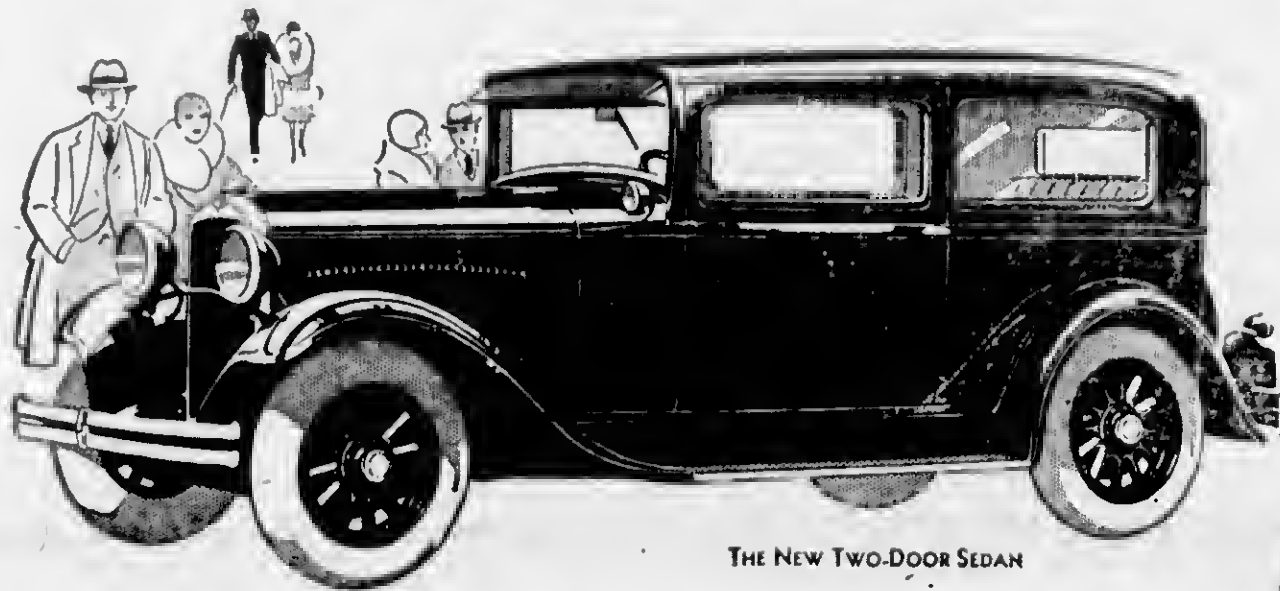

This looks like business. Honestly and energetically conducted, such an inquiry should bring light on the most vital subject in our natural life. The most interesting, and perhaps the most strategic, of these lines of inquiry is the questioning of workingmen's wives. They have been too much neglected in such researches. What they have to say about the effect of prohibition on their husbands, families and home life should be as important as what anybody has to say.

THE BABY DRIVER.

We have a suspicion that, if an examination was held, Michigan would find a surprising number of cases in which the whole family thinks it has an automobile driver's license just because Dad has one. Oftentimes children of the tender age of eleven to twelve years may be seen driving big cars. If such a child secured a license properly then someone should be separated from his job. If the child had no license, then there is something wrong with our whole license system. In fact it requires no great powers of discernment to reach that conclusion. The State law permits the issuance of a driver's license only to persons of or over fourteen years of age. The family which permits a child under that age to drive a car is not only violating the law but is endangering the safety of other drivers. There is no available machinery for checking up this feature of automobile regulations, but that is not saying that there should not be.—Pontiac Daily Press.

A DANGEROUS MIXTURE.

Boys will be boys, and only a prude would say all character is ruined or chances for success destroyed by little offenses against the conventions of society. But there is one thing the present generation should try to learn: Booze and gasoline will not mix. In this day of congested traffic automobile drivers need the use of every faculty, and the public is rightly incensed by the slightest haziness that may be created by "moonshine" or kindred heverings. Drinking, in itself, is neither particularly shocking nor important, but when human life is endangered because of it, then it becomes both dangerous and a vital concern of society.

STATE OFFICIALS INSPECT FERRIES

PLAN TO PUT UPPER DECKS ON TWO OTHER BOATS.

Make Their Trip a General Inspection
Cruise and Plan Extensive Improvements.

That the tremendous increase in motor traffic at the Straits of Mackinac is not only taxing the capacity of the state ferry service and docking facilities at Mackinaw City and St. Ignace, but is proving the service inadequate to the demand made upon it, thus making imperative extensive additions and improvements, is the opinion of State Highway Commissioner Grover C. Dillman, following an inspection trip to those points, on which he was accompanied by Fred W. Green and John S. Haggerty, chairman of the Road Committee of the State Administrative Board.

Governor Green and Mr. Haggerty met Mr. Dillman at St. Ignace where they spent the day with Capt. G. E. Stufflebeam, superintendent of state ferries, in going over the situation carefully. They inspected the present docks, proposed dock sites, the ferries, noted the improvement effected by the extension of the upper deck on the ferry Straits of Mackinac, noted the number of cars remaining on the docks at all times after the departing ferry had been loaded to capacity, and at the conclusion of the inspection the conditions were so obvious that both the Governor and Mr. Haggerty concurred in Mr. Dillman's opinion.

Following the inspection Mr. Dillman made certain recommendations for improvement of the service, these recommendations to be formally presented to the State Administrative Board for their consideration in the near future.

It is proposed to extend the present dock at Mackinaw City so that as many as two or three boats can load or unload at the same time, thus eliminating the wait at the docks and making motor traffic a continuous flow across the Straits. At the present time there is only room for one of the ferries to load or unload at a time, making an hour schedule necessary and forcing the second ferry to wait outside, should it arrive ahead of schedule, until the one at the dock has discharged its load and loaded for the return trip. With better docking facilities the ferries could be put on a much shorter schedule and round trips made as rapidly as cargoes could be discharged and taken on, due to elimination of the forced wait.

Docking facilities at the other terminal, St. Ignace, would be improved also, allowing for the same speed at that end. The dock at this point, though given temporary repairs this spring, has shifted during the summer and, in addition to being inadequate has not the margin of safety deemed advisable.

It is also proposed to extend the upper decks of the other two ferries in the same manner as that of the Straits of Mackinac. The carrying capacity of the Straits has been increased approximately 40 per cent by addition of this upper deck, and by placing the same improvement on the remaining two, the total carrying capacity of the fleet would be increased in like proportion.

The increased carrying capacity effected by additional decks, as proved this season by the Straits of Mackinac plus the anticipated saving in time effected by improved docking facilities will, it is estimated, increase the capacity of the state ferry service by at least a total of 50 per cent.

If the increase in traffic is as great next season as it has been during the past season, even with these improvements the ferry service will be taxed to the limit of its capacity to handle the constant stream of traffic crossing this mythical strip of Michigan highway. Without these improvements the service would be hopelessly inadequate.

At times, and during the past season particularly, the sentiment has been voiced that fares for crossing the Straits on the state ferries should be eliminated or at least reduced. Advocates of this move point to the total income from this source and make the claim that the service is being maintained as a profit-making business of the state.

It is pointed out by Commissioner Dillman that for the period from 1923, when the state ferry service was established, to the beginning of the present season a total amount of $282,672.34 has been spent for this service in excess of the total gross income from this source.

It is further pointed out that the Special Act of 1923 which created the ferry service provided that rates be sufficiently high to cover costs, interest on investment and depreciation. Up to the beginning of this season interest on investment and depreciation have not been figured.

Mr. Dillman states that he is not only opposed to establishment of free service but he is also opposed to reduction of fares at the present time. It is his desire to first put the ferry service on a paying basis, comply with the provisions of the act and by returning the yearly income from fares to the ferry service in needed improvements, make this service as nearly as possible, in convenience and time, the equal of a broad ribbon of paved highway from Mackinaw City in the lower peninsula to St. Ignace in the upper peninsula.

He believes the possibilities of service to be rendered in this respect are of greater importance to the people of the state than reduction or elimination of the nominal fares being charged at the present time.—Cheboygan Democrat.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

Traveling School Trains Service Men.

"The automobile service man should be as well informed in his particular line of work as is the lawyer, the surgeon, or any man who is considered a specialist," according to H. E. Heath, service manager of the Plymouth Motor Corporation.

"The day of the back-alley mechanic, who picked up here and there a slight knowledge of the automobile, is passed. In his place has appeared the service mechanic who is a specialist—trained for the particular work that he does, and capable of efficiently handling any phase of automobile maintenance.

"One of the principal factors behind the development of the modern automobile service department of the successful automobile dealer has been the Chrysler Institute for Service Education—a school maintained by Chrysler Motors for the purpose of training Plymouth, De Soto, Dodge and Chrysler dealers and service men in the proper maintenance of Chrysler Motors automobiles," declared Mr. Heath.

Plymouth dealers and their service men are taking a keen interest in this service school. Hundreds of them have journeyed to Detroit from all parts of the country and have gone back to their home cities as capable, efficient, and expert Plymouth service mechanics.

"At the present time," Mr. Heath continued, "the school is making a tour of the country going to the dealers rather than bringing the dealers and their service men to the school in Detroit. In this way the facilities of the school will be available to many who could not make the trip to Detroit.

"Trained engineers, men who have had the actual experience of designing and building Chrysler Motors automobiles are the instructors. The students are given a thorough training in the administrative, as well as the mechanical end of the service department. The school is visiting the important cities throughout the country and from the surrounding territories around each of these cities, hundreds of dealers and service men are taking advantage of this opportunity to gain first hand knowledge of the products they represent."

"The school remains in each city four days," according to Mr. Heath, "and reports reaching the offices of the Plymouth Motor Corporation at Detroit indicate that in each city where the school has been conducted, it has found unusual interest among Plymouth as well as other Chrysler Motors dealers."

Shipments of Hudson and Essex cars up to September 1st of this year are announced as 267,341 as against 230,019 in the same period of 1928, a gain of 16.2 per cent. This is the best eight month's record Hudson has ever known, leaving less than 15,000 Hudson and Essex cars to equal shipping record of 282,204 for the entire year of 1928.

To assure a steady seasonal reduction of car stocks in the hands of its distributing organization, Hudson is shipping at the rate of around 85 per cent of present retail sales as reported weekly to the factory by distributors and dealers. On this basis August shipments were 17,309.

OFFICERS HAVE AN ACTIVE WEEK

BEAVER ISLAND SETTING FOR CHECK ON LAW VIOLATIONS.

Dog Tax Dodgers Pay Their Tax Plus Fine and Costs—Others Haled Into Court for Infractions.

Beaver Island was the scene of considerable activity for Charlevoix county officers during the past week. They took care of charges ranging from breaking and entering to prohibition violations and dog tax collections.

Leroy Sendenberg and James Hunt, after being arraigned for breaking and entering, were released under bond to appear at the next term of court. While under the influence of liquor, they forced entrance to a residence on the island and in the fracas resulting, did considerable property damage.

Sendenberg and Hunt implicated Joseph Edward Burke as the man who furnished them with liquor and signed affidavits to that effect. Burke was arrested and is being held in jail until he furnishes $2,000 bond to appear at the October term of court for trial.

Last Friday, Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis, Sheriff Dave Vaughan and Justice Robert Withers went to the island armed with a bunch of warrants for delinquent dog taxes. They rounded up 16 violators and collected the dog tax, together with a penalty of $2 and costs of $4 each in addition.

While there they collected $50 from Charles Martin, which sum was a fine of $25 and costs in the same amount for a fish-law violation in 1928. Many violations of the au-mobile laws were also found on the island, and all aggressors were required to comply with the law at once. Many claimed to have paid their fees to George A. Roderick, former county clerk, and gave that as the reason they were delinquent.

It might also be timely to state that warrants have been issued for some 60 other dog tax law violators in the county, and that the sheriff will commence serving the same on Friday of this week. It is well for dog owners to keep in mind that taxes are due and payable March 1, and can be paid as early as December 1st. Prosecutor Lewis intends that the law shall be enforced and every public spirited person should commend him for his efforts in this direction. Laws were made to obey and officers who insist and see that they are should have every possible cooperation and encouragement.

HUNTING LICENSES ARE NOW AVAILABLE

Those nimrods who nrely are afflicted with the hunting fever are informed that licenses are now available at the county clerk's office. A consignment of 200 were received early this week and are now ready for distribution. Branches will also be established in East Jordan and Boyne City.

T. L. PEARL BOUGHT ASHDON BARBER SHOP

T. L. Pearl is back at the barber business again. He has purchased the Harley Ashdon shop opposite the postoffice and has converged his tonsorial duties with those of salesman of Airway vacuum cleaners, working part time on both jobs.

Sheriff Dave Vaughan is in Charlevoix as we go to press. He made the trip after Ivan Castle, who is charged with having committed the crime of statutory rape at East Jordan on the 27th of August. Castle was arrested by Charlevoix officers and was held for local authorities.

PLAN WORKING "BEE" AT CAMP CHARLEVOIX

Business and Professional Men to Don Gloves and Dig In.

Business and professional men of Charlevoix will join in a volunteer working bee at Camp Charlevoix on Oyster Bay next Tuesday, September 17, and arrangements are now being made by an Association of Commerce committee.

The day will commence at 8:00 a. m., and will be spent in helping Director Lewis C. Reimann clear brush, level ground, move sod and other necessary work. Lunch will be served at noon.

Considerable progress has been made at the new camp site. The clubhouse and 14 cabins have been erected. Several more buildings are to be put up.

Men who cannot spend the whole day are urged by the committee to spend at least part of the day. A stout pair of canvas gloves are recommended for hands unaccustomed to rough work. A large number of volunteers should assist in this work at Camp Charlevoix, which means so much to local business interests.

Those intending to participate at the "bee" are asked to inform Dr. C. J. Winder or George Beehan of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce.

RECENT WEDDING OF INTEREST LOCALLY

Mrs. Constance Iddings Gaskin Wed August 29 in Toledo, Ohio.

A recent wedding of interest to residents of this city was solemnized in Toledo, Ohio, August 29, at the Collingwood Presbyterian church, the Rev. R. Lincoln Long officiating.

The bride will be remembered as the former Mrs. Constance Iddings Gaskin, whose girlhood home was in Charlevoix. The groom is George B. Hills of Detroit, a member of the technical staff of the Ford Motor Co.

Present at the ceremony were the bride's mother, Mrs. Nellie G. Iddings, the bride's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Clark of Toledo, and daughter Georgiana. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the Park Lane hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Hills will remain for several days in Toledo as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clark, after which they will make their home at 1981 Glendale avenue, Detroit.

EAST JORDAN PIONEER PASSES AWAY

John Lewis Heller Sr., passed away at his farm home north of East Jordan in South Arm township, Sunday, September 1, 1929, following an illness of some duration from hardening of the arteries.

Mr. Heller was among the early settlers of this section. Born at Macklenberg, Germany in 1859, his parents being John and Christinn Heller, he came to the United States in 1868 and the year following, in 1869, 60 years ago, came to what is now East Jordan, where he has since continued to reside, following the occupation of farming.

On March 31, 1887, he was united in marriage to Elvena Cook at East Jordan. Deceased is survived by the wife and two sons, Clifton Heller of Charlevoix, and Karl Heller of Elk Rapids. A daughter, Eva M. Heller, died in May 1929. He is also survived by two brothers, Fred Heller of Sparta, and Lewis Heller of Dutton, and a sister, Mrs. Harlow Sweet of Advance.

Funeral services were held from his late home Wednesday, September 4, conducted by Rev. C. W. Sidebottom, pastor of the Presbyterian church of East Jordan. Interment at Sunset Hill.—East Jordan Herald.

* CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH *

At the morning service, 10:30, the pastor will deliver the first of a series of three sermons on "The Cultural Values of the Bible." These sermons will aim to show the influence the Bible has had and still has in moulding the finer qualities in human life and should be enjoyed by teachers, high school students, parents and citizens generally.

The Sunday school changes its schedule back to the fall and winter meeting time of 12:00 o'clock. The Endeavor meeting is called for 6:00 p. m., to give time for a business meeting before the devotional hour.

The mid-week meeting for Thursday, September 12, will be a basket supper at 6:00 o'clock, directed by the Sunday school staff. All officers, teachers and adult class members are expected and any others who are interested are heartily invited.

* METHODIST CHURCH *

Sunday morning at 10:30. Rev. Wayne Womer, Methodist church, subject, "Keeping The Son in Sunday."

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Capital Anticipates British Premier.
The very announcement of Premier Ramsey MacDonald's intended visit to America this fall has set the Capitol agog with anticipation and questions. Where will he stay? Who will entertain for him? Who, by the way, is privileged to entertain for him? And who will be invited?

The Premier will probably stay at the British Embassy, though that has not been definitely settled. Details of his entertainment will be subject to an informal conference between the Embassy and the State Department. First on the program will undoubtedly be a formal dinner at the White House. Then there will probably be a large dinner at the Embassy, followed by a larger reception, with all of diplomacy and officialdom represented. The only other persons in Washington who rank high enough to entertain in the Premier's honor are Secretary of State and Mrs. Stimson, the Minister of Canada, and the Ministers of the Irish Free State and of British South Africa.

Clothes By Children.
Clothes designed by children for children will be shown in the leading New York stores this fall, according to an item in a leading trade journal. They are all prints on pongees, tubs, and chiffon, and are prize winning specimens from thousands of print designs submitted for the Robert Schwartzbach Award last spring. Designs were sent in from every state in the Union, and prizes amounting to $2,500 were awarded.

A surprising element of smartness and sophistication, often lacking in the adult-designed frocks, is said to be present in these little dresses. The floral designs predominate, and the formal note is accentuated, although there are many charming dancing motifs. The fabrics have been dyed with care in the darker shades that do not show so easily.

It is thought that the unique idea of presenting dresses for children that have been created by the prospective wearers themselves will attract much attention and make the print fabrics known in every corner of the land.

Little Boys' Knives and Little Girls' Dolls.

There isn't any Santa Claus on the House Ways and Means or the Senate Finance committees. If there were, the calamity that has occurred in toydom might have been averted. Maybe some human Senators with kids of their own will do something about it yet.

Everyone knows that a boy just can't get along in this world without a knife—not a large, expensive blade, but just a small, sturdy knife that can be used a hundred times a day. This kind of knife is fairly cheap right now, and practically every boy has one. But the House boosted the rates on three-cent knives and four-cent knives made abroad, and the Senate Finance committee has made them still higher, so that if the present bill goes through, little boys may have to learn to struggle along without any knives at all. And that isn't all. Dolls, the absolutely necessary accompaniment to little-girlhood, have been taxed in the proposed bill to the extent of nearly doubling their price. A doll formerly costing one dollar, for instance, would be priced at one dollar and ninety cents.

"Polly" Pines for General Dawes.

Now that Colonel Stimson's feathered counsellor of state from the palace in Manila, the "Old Soak," has come to occupy a place in the news, here comes another political parrot on the scene, this time in still higher international circles. We hear on the best of authority that one "Polly," left at home in Chicago with General Dawes left for his high post in London, is pining away from loneliness. The same high authority does not state if General Dawes is also pining for his genial companion and counsellor, but we expect to hear any day that "Polly" is sailing to join the Embassy staff. With the "Old Soak" in the State Department, "Polly" in the London Embassy, and the two well-known feathered counsellors of the Pan American Union always on duty, this administration bids fair to go down in ornithological history as the consulship of the parrot.

Politics This Week.

Labor Day over and the Senate reconvened in Washington. "Sweet summer's gone away."

The first thing on the program is the resolution of Senator Elmer Thomas, Democrat of Oklahoma, to limit tariff revision chiefly to agricultural rates. It is whispered in political circles that some Democrats are likely to help defeat the resolution so that the Republicans must continue to hold the hot cake we know now as the Republican Senate bill. On the other hand some Republicans show an inclination to drop the unpleasant thing, and these may rejoice to see the resolution passed. Certainly if the resolution passes, the G. O. P. may say, "We have kept our promise to Agriculture," and the Democrats may pridefully point out to the western voters that they have defeated certain greedy tariff hogs. This would seem to leave no one very disappointed.

Whether sugar senators have the political strength to retain the obnoxious sugar schedule in a purely agricultural bill is questionable.

Topics of the Day from Mercurio, Cuban Daily.

Some esteemed colleagues have "sounded the loud trumpet" on account of the recent agreement of the finance committee of the North American senate, which fixes at 2.20 the duty which every pound of raw sugar will have to pay on entry, and some have gone so far as to consider it a formal "declaration of war."

Not so much, dear colleagues! The matter is as yet in the stage of "let us see about it," and, moreover, one must be logical. If we have and exercise the inalienable right to change our tariffs, how can we deny that right to the United States?

Of course it is plain that the increase above the present rates is not pleasing to us nor does it seem to us justified, but not for that reason would we consider it a deliberate act of provocation.

On the contrary, we hold as dogma the immortal phrase of that great Mexican president: "Respect for the rights of others is Peace."

On the other hand, we should recognize the fact that the North American Congress is proceeding, in this sugar question, at least with evident psychological sagacity.

The House of Representatives raised the projected duty as high as Heaven, but the Senate presently put it down, generously, to only as high as the moon. One must be grateful.

An eminent French surgeon, when he had to perform an operation, no matter how simple a one, exhibited to the "cuse" all the terrifying surgical tools, saws, knives, scalpels, etc. If afterward he didn't use them all, the frightened patient didn't notice the pain, and was profoundly grateful, and even happy!

And in this case, the real patient—and so much of a one!—is the American consumer.

Foreigners Like Our Brushes.

When Columbus sought a new route to India for the sake of European-coveted spices and stumbled upon America, little did he dream that the prosaic brush would some day form one of the commercial bonds between the new continent and the land he sought.

According to the Department of Commerce "Total brush exports from the United States in 1928 were valued at $1,188,000, of which more than $133,000 represented shipments to the Indian market." Fully 98 per cent of the brushes bought by India are tooth brushes and toilet brushes. European and American residents of course, purchase the greater part of these, but their sale among Hindus, Parsees and Mohammedans is rising steadily.

Other foreigners who like our brushes are residents of Latin-American countries. Our paint brushes are so good that, although those imported from other countries are usually cheaper, the Latin-Americans in many sections buy more of the United States product. Our exports of brushes have increased 35 per cent in six years.

Old Virginia Settlement Interesting.

"Old Rag," Virginia, has been put upon the head-line map of the United States. As probably one of the most backward and retrograded settlements of the United States, one of the most conspicuous points brought out by the articles recently written about it by a student of psychology, is that it is almost within sight of the Capitol of the United States. Tucked away in a tiny "holler" in the near-by Virginia mountains, close to the summer camp of President Hoover, the little settlement is one of those that probably owes its origin to a few families who had joined the western trek across the Alleghenies, but because of death, illness, or the hardships of the road, dropped out to creep into hidden valleys. There they have vegetated and retrograded, until, according to reports, few in the valley have ever seen an American flag.

MICHIGAN'S NEW STATE CHAMPIONBAY CITY GIRL DRIVES LOCAL BOAT TO WIN.M. Roy Brady of Charlevoix Makes a State Champion Out of Green Driver.

Bay City, Aug. 25.—Miss Hilda Mueller of Bay City, who had never even driven an outboard boat before, listened to instructions and took her craft over the line ahead by a very comfortable margin.

Miss Loretta Fillian of Lansing, who has been a very successful driver and winner of nearly every event in which she entered this summer issued a challenge to all women drivers for a race to decide the state championship. Bay City officials immediately provided a cup for a special race for women drivers only and proceeded to try to interest enough ladies so that Miss Fillian would have some competition. There was great rivalry among the fair sex as to who might be able to get the fastest outfit and the day before the race there were three entries.

Fortunately the judges were not closing the lists for this race until the last possible moment and when Roy Brady arrived in town someone asked him to get a woman driver for his outfit. Choosing from the many who were more than anxious to try was no easy matter and when his choice finally settled on Miss Hilda Mueller with absolutely no previous experience there was much shaking of heads and much disappointment.

However, Miss Mueller more than justified his choice when with knees badly battered from an unfortunate accident just before the race she took her small craft over the finish line in the third of three exciting heats a quarter mile in the lead.

The Lansing girl had all the advantage in scoring up the first time and got away to a nice lead at the start which she was able to keep throughout by her superior knowledge of the handling of her craft and at every buoy was able to beat back what she lost on the straightaway. However, Miss Mueller proved herself an apt pupil and took the second heat through confidence gained in the first one. The third heat was without a doubt the most thrilling race ever staged for the many thousands of spectators lining the shores as each girl having one heat was determined to get the final one, but this time Hilda was so confident and so determined that she simply opened wide and without a doubt drove the boat better than the average man driver would have in similar circumstances as she knew no fear.

It took courage to keep Hilda on her knees throughout those three heats but that was her instruction and she certainly deserves a lot of credit. Coming to the dock the first time out to try the boat she was unable to stop, owing to the failure of the stop button to operate and so crashed into the dock, smashing the bow of the boat quite badly and throwing Hilda clear of the boat onto the dock on her knees, still grasping the steering wheel which had torn out entirely. Fast work on the part of Mr. Brady and several of the racing boys patched the bow and installed a wheel taken out of another boat just in time for her to score up for the first heat.

The boat was the small Brady Vamp, built by the Brady Boat Co. at Charlevoix, and the motor a Caille Flash, a combination that has proved to be a fast one all summer. Brady has promised Miss Mueller the use of an outfit with which to defend her title next year, but in all probability she will have her own outfit early in the spring as she is now a real convert. It is to be hoped that more of the fair sex will take up the sport and that the staging of races entirely for women drivers will be a regular part of every regatta in the near future.

So far as we know this is the first race entirely for women drivers in the outboard records at least for the state of Michigan, though we may be mistaken, but at least they have never come to light.

Scientific Method of Crime Detection in "Black Waters."

Scientific methods of detecting crime have been popular with writers of fiction since the creation of Sherlock Holmes, but very little use of these modern devices have been made on the screen. With the development of the radio, however, there was born something that gave scenarists the opportunity to create new situations. In "Black Waters" an all-talking picture laid on the waterfront of San Francisco, which comes to the Palace Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, both the radio and the dictaphone are used to create a thrill and confound the villainous Captain Larabee, who has planted a bomb on a ship to blow all the characters to death.

One of the characters, a newspaper reporter, has smuggled a dictaphone on board. Learning that they are standing over an explosive and on the brink of eternity, he attaches the dictaphone to a portable radio, and carries it about the vessel until the ticking of the bomb is heard over the radio. By this means the bomb is located in time to save their lives.

NEW DRY LAW IS NOW EFFECTIVE

PRISON DOORS ARE OPEN FOR THE BOOTLEGGERS.

Provides Long Prison Terms and Heavy Fines for Violators of Prohibition Laws.

Michigan's "Jones Law" providing mandatory prison sentences for commercial bootleggers went into effect last week Wednesday, and steps up the penalty for liquor sale to a term of from one to four years for the first offense with the additional penalty of a $2,000 fine possible.

For the non-commercial violators of the act, which includes possession charges, the penalty is advanced from a maximum of six months and $200 for the first offense to two years and $2,000.

Placing the act in effect brings to completion the outstanding dry victory during the 1929 legislature, a victory which more than counteracts that claimed by more liberal members when they secured an amendment of the state's criminal code which exempts prohibition law violators from the fourth-felony life term provisions.

The act was brought onto the floor of the house by Representative Alex. Cuthbertson of Flint, at the insistence of Rev. R. N. Holsapple, of the state Anti-Saloon League. In its original form it carried a maximum sentence of five years for all violations of the prohibition laws and was designed to bring liquor convictions back under the life term provisions of the code as amended.

Somewhat modified, it was passed by the house, but was approved in the senate only after it had been entirely revamped. In the new form the house turned down the bill and the present act was the result of the labors of a conference committee.

Aside from the alterations in the penalty, the outstanding feature of the act is that it places the legislature on record for the first time as discriminating between the "casual" and professional violator. The act contains a clause taken from the national Jones "five and ten" law which reads that "It is the intent of the legislature that the court, in imposing sentence under this act, should discriminate between casual or slight violations and the habitual sales of intoxicating liquor, or attempts to commercialize violations of the law."

As the amended liquor law will be applied to the commercial runner under the altered criminal code, the following penalties will be meted:

Second offense—two to six years and not to exceed a $3,000 fine.

Third offense—four to eight years and a fine of not to exceed $4,000.

Fourth offense—seven and a half to fifteen years.

 OF INTEREST TO FARMERS ***
By B. C. Mellencamp

"Visit the 'Ram Truck'."
All sheep owners are cordially invited and urged to attend the "Ram Truck" demonstrations to be held on Friday, September 13.

The first demonstration will be held at the farm of Louis Shapton on Friday forenoon at 10:00 o'clock fast time located on the Barnard road south of Charlevoix. The second will be held at the farm of Mrs. Henry Timmer on Friday afternoon, September 13, at 2:30 fast time, located at Afton on Deer lake road.

On the "Ram Truck" you will see representatives of the Oxford, Hampshire, Shropshire, Southdown, and fine wool breeds of sheep. Mr. V. A. Freeman, who you all know will be present and will show how to select the proper type of ram to best serve your needs. See for yourself and learn what you should consider in choosing a good ram.

Several rams will be brought on the truck that will be for sale at prices ranging from $30.00 to $50.00 and of all the breeds. If you are in the market to buy by all means come to one of the demonstrations and see what is on the truck. In all cases you will be better satisfied if you see the ram you buy.

This is your opportunity to learn the points to look at in selecting a ram and by buying a good type ram right here in the county.

The Convenient Kitchen.

How many steps does one take in making a cup of tea? It may be done in five or it may take 25. If one remembers that making tea is only one of 25 to 100 tasks which are done in the kitchen every day and some three times a day, she can realize something of the time and labor wasted in a poorly arranged kitchen. Very often much time can be saved with just a better arrangement of the furniture and equipment in the kitchen which may require no expenditure of money.

The convenient kitchen is the subject to be considered by the home management groups in Charlevoix county this year.

The purpose of this project is to check on the housewife as well as the kitchen to find out if she is crowding out vital things and if there are possible ways of cutting down the time required to do one's work. Time is required for many of the desirable things not included in the daily round of housework if the high goal of our home life is to be reached. It is one of the homemakers' most important problems to so manage her work that the necessary time may be available for these things. However, the kitchen is a good place to begin as generally more time is spent in this room than any other room in the house.

The modern housewife, though, is not only considering the convenience of the arrangement, she is also wanting to make her kitchen as attractive as any room in the house. She is asking how to treat the walls to have them good looking and yet easy to clean. Shall the walls be painted or covered? If the floors must be comfortable, durable, not injured by grease or water and attractive in color and appearance, what can be done to make them so?

Shall one have curtains in the kitchen or not?

These are some of the points to be discussed in the project for this county this year.

The first local leader training meeting was held at Boyne City on Wednesday, September 11, at 10:00 a. m.

If you would be interested in organizing your community to take advantage of this valuable project, or would act as a leader to secure this useful information get in touch with County Agent Mellencamp at once. It is not too late if you act right away.

SHOOT PARTRIDGE AND PRAIRIE CHICKEN

Legal to Hunt Them Between October 16 and 20.

Hunters will have a chance to try their skill on partridge and prairie chickens in the lower peninsula this fall for a period of five days, extending from October 16 to 20, inclusive, as a result of the recent action of the Conservation Commission.

Recent reports of the scarcity of the partridge have come largely from the upper peninsula and the southern part of the lower peninsula, while reports of abundance have come mostly from the extensive partridge cover areas in the northern half of the lower peninsula, and indicate that the birds have "come back" in many places, according to reports received during the past year by the game division.

Prairie chickens are found in 55 counties of the state, but they occur in considerable numbers only in the larger marsh and brush areas such as are located just west of Saginaw bay. It is generally believed that the five-day shooting period will not prove to be a serious handicap to these birds because of the comparative difficulty in bagging them during a late season.

The bag limit regulations provide that not more than five partridge or prairie chickens shall be taken in any one day, and no more than ten of either shall be possessed at one time, or taken during the entire season.

"Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 8.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone; and not in another" (Gal. 6:4). The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man's genuine selfhood is recognizable only in what is good and true. Man is neither self-made nor made by mortals. God created man" (P. 294).

Mr. Neville of Harmony Grange gave a brief talk of his recent trip and at its close gave a recitation.

The last number on the program was the Memorial Exercises.

There were ten granges represented, an attendance of 105. The degree team gave the initiatory work to five members. Many thanks to Deer Lake for a most enjoyable day.

The next Pomona meeting will be held at Peninsular Grange hall on Saturday, October 5, 1929, at 2:00 o'clock fast time.

Grange closed with the chaplain invoking divine blessing on the entire order.

ELLSWORTH FARM HOME IS BURNED

Fire from Unknown Origin Destroys Drenth Home.

Last Saturday at about 3:00 p. m., fire of an unknown origin destroyed the house of the Wm. Drenth's farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boss and family.

Mr. Boss was away at the time, to Atwood on business, and Mr. Aardema was on the roof of the barn putting on new shingles when Mrs. Boss ran out to give the alarm, as she had noticed the beiling in the kitchen burning. With their combined efforts it was possible to save a few pieces of furniture and roll out kerosene and gasoline containers, the fire having quite a start when discovered. With the exception of these few pieces saved, the house and contents were a complete loss, the house we understand, was insured, but not the contents, which is a severe loss to the Boss family.

After giving the alarm, the Ellsworth fire equipment was prompt in answering the call for help, closely followed by the East Jordan fire department. Both were powerless to save the house which was one sheet of flame, but did noble work in saving surrounding buildings. William Smith was busy putting out fires started by sparks in the swamp of the Tilleson farm.—Ellsworth Tradesman.

RESCIND ORDER FOR LAKE TROLLING

All Lakes of Michigan Now Open for the Trollers.

Michigan fishermen who are interested in the sport of trolling will be interested to know that the order prohibiting trolling from motor driven boats in certain of the inland waters of this state, was rescinded at the August meeting of the State Conservation department. The rescinding order reads:

"An order was issued by the Conservation Commission on the fifth day of April, 1929, making it unlawful for any person to troll for any kind of fish from a boat propelled by gas, naphtha, or any other motive power, excepting sail, on inland lakes for a period of one year from the first day of May, 1929.

"It now appears after a thorough investigation by the Director of Conservation of the conditions prevailing that the order should be rescinded.

"Therefore, the provisions of the above mentioned order prohibiting trolling are hereby rescinded."

PARTRIDGES ON SCHEDULE NOW

FOR FIRST TIME IN YEARS THEY ARE ON OFFICIAL LIST.

Sunrise and Sunset Table Makes Easy Compliance With Michigan Duck Hunting Regulations.

Many inquiries regarding latest changes in the game laws have recently been made of this office and we are now able to answer them authoritatively.

Game Seasons.

A 30-day hunting season for raccoons in the lower peninsula of Michigan, beginning November 1, and 15, and 30-day open raccoon seasons for trappers in two areas of the southern peninsula have been announced by the department of conservation in a season schedule that will be issued with every small game license.

Thirty-day muskrat seasons are provided for the lower peninsula, divided as to time, east and west of Saginaw Bay and north and south of townline 16. West of Saginaw Bay and north of townline 16, the open season will be from November 15 to December 15. East of that line and south of townline 16 it will be from December 1 to December 31. The upper peninsula season is November 1 to 30 inclusive.

The upper peninsula is closed to both raccoon hunting and trapping.

The open partridge season, for the first time in years, is listed on an official game season schedule. The open season for partridge for the lower peninsula will be October 16 to 20 inclusive. The season will remain closed in the upper peninsula.

A card, containing official data concerning game seasons for 1929-30, will be distributed with each small game license instead of the game law digest pamphlets which will appear later.

The schedule follows:

Duck, Wilson snipe (Jack-snipe) geese and brant, coots—September 16 to December 31, inclusive.

Pheasant (male), fox squirrel—October 25 to October 31, inclusive.

Partridge, prairie chicken—lower peninsula, October 16 to 20, inclusive.

Woodcock, October 15 to 31, inclusive.

Florida gallinules and rails—October 1 to November 30, inclusive.

Deer and bear—November 15 to 30, inclusive.

Cottontail rabbits, varying hare (snowshoe and jackrabbit) October 1 to January 31 in upper peninsula, October 15 to January 1 in lower peninsula, inclusive.

Muskrats—upper peninsula, November 1 to 30. Lower peninsula, north of townline 16 and west of Saginaw Bay, November 15 to December 15. South of townline 16 and east of Saginaw Bay, December 1 to 31, inclusive.

Raccoon—closed in upper peninsula. Lower peninsula, open for hunting November 1 to 30. Lower peninsula, open for trapping north of townline 16 and west of Saginaw Bay, November 15 to December 15; south of townline 16 and east of Saginaw Bay, December 1 to 15, inclusive.

May be killed at any time—coyote, wolf, lynx, wildcat, fox, weasels, skunk, mink, woodchuck, owls, crows, and starling.

Season is closed on the following: Moose, elk, caribou, mourning dove, wood-duck, black bellied and golden plover, yellowlegs, swan, eider duck, and Hungarian partridge.

Licenses.

You must be a citizen of the United States. Costs remain the same—small game, $1.25; deer, $2.50 ($10 and $50 for non-residents). Muskrat trapping costs residents a dollar for 20 traps. Residents and their children and employees need pay no small game license or muskrat trapping fees on their own enclosed lands, where they live.

Digest Coming.

The digest of game laws to be issued in about a month will contain a revised list of sections of the state in which special game laws will prevail.

Pheasant Season.

Noon of October 25th marks the opening of the 1929 pheasant season in Michigan. This complies with the petitions of sportsmen, who claimed that, under the old daylight opening plan, most of the birds were shot early the first day and had no chance to scatter through the hunting districts.

Duck Hunting.

The season opens September 16.

Hunting may begin a half hour before sunrise. The sunrise and sunset table which follows gives a consecutive change of ten minutes each eight days for the opening time. Sunsets, in actuality, do not proceed as regularly and, to avoid odd minutes, several 15 minute shifts are necessary. Most shifts are of ten minutes in the sunset table, however, the same as in sunrise tables.

The table follows:

	1/2 hr. before Sunrise	Sunset
Sept. 16 to 21 (inc.)	4:50	6:50
Sept. 22 to 29 (inc.)	5:00	6:35
Sept. 30 to Oct. 7 (inc.)	5:10	6:20
Oct. 8 to 15 (inc.)	5:20	6:10
Oct. 16 to 23 (inc.)	5:30	6:00
Oct. 24 to 31 (inc.)	5:40	5:45
Nov. 1 to 8 (inc.)	5:50	4:30
Nov. 9 to 16 (inc.)	6:00	4:20
Nov. 17 to 24 (inc.)	6:10	4:10
Nov. 25 to Dec. 2 (inc.)	6:20	4:00
Dec. 3 to 10 (inc.)	6:30	4:00
Dec. 11 to 18 (inc.)	6:40	4:00
Dec. 19 to 26 (inc.)	6:50	4:10
Dec. 27 to 31 (inc.)	7:00	4:10

Note This.

Attention of hunters has been called to the fact that the gallinules and rail does not open with ducks this year, but opens October 1 and closes November 30.

SETTLE DOWN TO REAL WORK

SCHOOLS GETTING INTO THEIR STRIDE IN SECOND WEEK.

Enrollment Larger This Year Than Ever Before—Latest Count Has Just Disclosed.

Well, 1929 school days to the number of ten have passed into history and the youngsters are getting down to business in dead earnest, the excitement of exploring new text books and discussing the relative virtues of their various instructors having subsided. The streets that erstwhile blossomed with snappily gowned resorters, white clad nursemaids and their charges, jaunty yachtmen, dusky retainers of plutocratic households, Rolis Royces, Packards and Pierce Arrows now stream with herds of the rising generation, bearing books and all talking at once. Children seem to have sprung up overnight out of the ground like the armed warriors in the legend of the Golden Fleece. One marvels as to where they have been keeping themselves all summer. And what do they find to jabber about so earnestly and continuously, one wonders.

Will Divide Grade.

Oh, for instance, the second grade is to have a new teacher. There are 58 pupils in the grade this year, and the school board has decided that this means too much work for Miss Florence Little, who now has charge of the grade, so they are going to give her an assistant and split the classes up. This will doubtless make for efficient handling of the grade and more individual attention to each pupil.

Miss Lydin Phillips of Kalamazoo has been employed to teach the first grade and will take charge of her classes on Monday of next week.

Over at the high school building, history students are getting acquainted with Miss B. Ferneau of Sparta, Michigan, who arrived in the city Monday evening to take the place of Miss Valeria Keller, resigned. Miss Keller left the evening of the opening.

HAYES FARMER IS AGAIN APPREHENDED

Delos Ostrom Faces Serious Liquor Charge for Second Time.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Marshall, last Friday night, picked up Delos Ostrom, a farmer of Hayes township, aged 50, on a charge of manufacturing liquor.

A search of Ostrom's premises unearthed gallons of hooch, 80 gallons of mash ready to run and a 20-gallon still, all of which was seized and destroyed.

This is Ostrom's second offense and it is likely to go hard with him. He served six months in Ionia in 1925 for a similar violation of the prohibition law.

He waived examination in Justice Withers' court and was held for the October term of circuit court in the sum of $2,500 bail, an amount which he had not been able to raise at the date of going to press.

NEWAYGO PLANT IN BIG MERGER

CEMENT CONCERN LINKED UP WITH OHIO COMPANY.

Medusa Portland Cement Company Has Five Mills and Several Packing Plants in Operation.

Further assurance that Charlevoix is to have a cement manufacturing plant of the first class is contained in the recent announcement of the Newaygo Portland Cement Company's merger plans made by the company's treasurer, W. A. Ansoorge, on Thursday of last week.

It seems that the Michigan corporation and its subsidiary, the Manitowoc Portland Cement Company, are to be merged with the Medusa Portland Cement Company of Cleveland, Ohio, 95 per cent of the Newaygo company's stockholders having already turned over to the Old Kent corporation, depository, their stock, in exchange for which they will receive one and by an issue of six per cent Medusa stock for each common share of the Michigan company. Medusa common stock has been paying dividends of $6 per share, annually, with an occasional extra dividend in cash or stock, and Newaygo common $8 per share.

Personnel.

The actual transfer, it is announced, will be made this month. An issue of six per cent preferred stock will be made by the Medusa company, which has heretofore had no preferred stock, to take up the outstanding seven per cent preferred stock of the Newaygo company. The plants will be operated under the present names and put out their product under present brands for the time being, and it is presumed, in the absence of advice to the contrary, that the general sales offices at Grand Rapids will be continued, at least for a while. Clay H. Hollister of Grand Rapids, president of the Newaygo company, L. E. Geer of Chicago, its vice president, and Charles C. West of Manitowoc, Wis., one of its directors, will become directors of the Medusa company. J. B. John, vice president and general manager of the Newaygo company, was elected president and general manager and a member of the board of the Medusa company some time ago, before the merger was projected. Mr. John is one of the greatest cement authorities in the United States.

Output.

The Newaygo Portland Cement company, capitalized at $1,750,000 and organized in 1899, has an output of approximately 1,000,000 barrels per year, and its subsidiary, the Manitowoc Portland Cement company, 1,250,000 barrels annually. The new concern resulting from the merger will have seven production plants, with a total output of 8,000,000 barrels annually. The present Medusa plants are located at Bay Bridge and Toledo, Ohio; York and Pittsburgh, Pa., and La Salle, Ill. It also has several packing plants to which the cement is forwarded in bulk for sacking and distribution. The new company will thus have a wide distribution in northwestern United States.

According to Mr. Ansoorge, the Charlevoix plant, which is likely to be built within the next year, may later displace the plant at Newaygo.

FRANK BEHLING OWNS HIGH HERD

ACCORDING TO MONTHLY REPORT OF CO. COW TESTER.

Charlevoix County D. H. I. A. Activities Covered in Monthly Report by Eddie Mortimore.

The high herd for the month was owned by Frank Behling of Boyne City. His herd of four purebred Holsteins averaged 36.3 pounds of butterfat and 1,067 pounds of milk. The second high herd was owned by Jim Rice of East Jordan. His seven purebred Guernseys produced an average of 36.2 pounds of butterfat and 649 pounds of milk. Third high herd was owned by John Seiler, also of East Jordan. His nine mixed cows produced an average of 32.6 pounds of butterfat and 646 pounds of milk.

The high two-year old for the month was owned by Irving Crawford of East Jordan. His purebred Guernsey produced 45.6 pounds of butterfat and 877 pounds of milk. George Meggison of Charlevoix, ranks next with a purebred Jersey that produced 38.8 pounds of butterfat and 791 pounds of milk. The third was owned by R. V. Liskum of East Jordan. She, a purebred Guernsey, produced 31.6 pounds of butterfat and 1,020 pounds of milk.

R. V. Liskum also is the owner of the high three-year old for the month. She, also a purebred Guernsey, produced 58.5 pounds of butterfat and 1,125 pounds of milk. The second high three-year old, a grade Guernsey, was owned by Edd Potter of Charlevoix, and produced 44.6 pounds of butterfat and 1,240 pounds of milk. Walter Heilmann of East Jordan, owns the third high cow in this class. She, a purebred Guernsey, produced for her owner 45.1 pounds of butterfat and 868 pounds of milk.

George Meggison has a purebred Jersey that ranks first in the four-year old class with a record of 48.6 pounds of butterfat and 1,056 pounds of milk. A purebred Holstein owned by the Breezy Point Farm of Ironton, holds second place with a record of 43.2 pounds of butterfat and 1,271 pounds of milk. R. V. Liskum owns the second high cow in this class, a purebred Guernsey, which produced 37.8 pounds of butterfat and 899 pounds of milk.

In the mature cow class, Floyd Black of Charlevoix, ranks first with a grade Guernsey that produced 54.9 pounds of butterfat and 1,144 pounds of milk. The Breezy Point Farm is second with a purebred Holstein that produced 51.5 pounds of butterfat and 1,376 pounds of milk. Jim Rice ranks third with a purebred Guernsey that produced 49.6 pounds of butterfat and 856 pounds of milk.

Others who own cows that made 1,250 pounds of milk or over—50 or more pounds of butterfat, are as follows:

Ecklund Brothers of Charlevoix, four purebred Holsteins that produced respectively: 49.4 pounds of butterfat and 1,454 pounds of milk, 40.4 pounds of butterfat and 1,345 pounds of milk, 37.2 pounds of butterfat and 1,330 pounds of milk, 40.4 pounds of butterfat and 1,401 pounds of milk.

Edd Potter—one grade Guernsey that produced 44.3 pounds of butterfat and 1,339 pounds of milk.

Breezy Point Farm—one purebred Holstein that produced 40.5 pounds of butterfat and 1,348 pounds of milk.

There were 263 cows on test, 18 of which were dry.

Out of the 20 herds tested 18 were feeding grain and four were weighing the milk.

Out of the 15 separators tested only one was losing money for its owner.

The average milk per cow was 603 pounds.

The average butterfat per cow was 24.6 pounds.

CANADIAN CRUISE IS NIPPED IN THE BUD

Zenith's Master Turns Back at Straits to Avoid Storm.

The severe weather of last week abruptly terminated at least one Canadian cruise.

Five guests of Arthur Kitsinger of Chicago, who as members of a party of eight shipped aboard the yacht, Zenith, which Mr. Kitsinger had chartered from its owner, Charles Webber, for a cruise in Canadian waters, left the vessel at Charlevoix and returned by train.

The yacht was left moored to the city dock in Round lake until the weather should moderate sufficiently to permit her to continue her journey southward. She had reached the straits but it was decided to be the part of wisdom to turn back at that point.

THEY WERE BIG HELP TO LOUIE

STALWART BAND OF AMATEUR WOODSMEN DID GOOD JOB.

Though Arnie and Court Plaster Sales Soared, They Are To Try It Again Soon.

If you noticed an unusual number of cripples around town Wednesday morning—emaciated looking fellows slyly reaching a hand around to the small of their backs or surreptitiously rubbing an elbow or knee—don't be alarmed over a possible epidemic of rheumatism or epizootis, it's only the hardy survivors of "Louie" Reiman's work bee out at the new Camp Charlevoix, limbering up. Another bee is planned in the near future and, we understand, there has already commenced a terrific run on the newstands for copies of Physical Culture.

However, joking aside, Mr. Reiman wishes to express through these columns his sincere appreciation of the kindness and helpful work of clearing an almost virgin wilderness. Good work was done, Tuesday, by the volunteer woodsmen, many of whom were unaccustomed to such vigorous exercise and far from skillful at their job. Mr. Reiman says: "Any doubt I may have had about Charlevoix people being interested in the camp has been thoroughly dispelled."

Nineteen Charlevoixians took part in the "bee" and enjoyed a fine dinner prepared by Mrs. Ernest Reiman and Mrs. Ray O'Brien. They were as follows: Dr. B. G. Mattson, Dr. C. J. Winder, Robert Bridge, George Beeman, F. C. Friend, Charles Gale, Clarence Wood, John Nasson, Meyer Levinson, George Burns, George O'Brien, Albert O'Brien, W. E. Parmelee. Those who sent out a man to work were: A. J. Usher, Dr. C. J. Winder, F. J. Fessenden, Martin Block, Charlevoix State Savings Bank, A. & P. store, A. E. Bridge furnished a team.

Of course, there were some casualties—Charley Gale sprained his ankle, Rev. Dr. Mattson blistered his thumb and Meyer Levinson complained of a lame back.

COUNTY CLERK BULOW NOW HAPPY BENEDICT

Miss Ruth E. Hamilton of Detroit Is Local Official's Bride.

Miss Ruth E. Hamilton of Detroit, and Fenton R. Bulow of East Jordan, clerk of the county of Charlevoix, were married Saturday evening at "Cloverlawn," home of the bride's parents in Detroit. They were attended by Alfred T. Thorsen of East Jordan and Miss Norabelle Wilcox of Tustin, Michigan.

The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony on a honeymoon trip to eastern points. They will be at home to their friends, after October 1st, at the Anna McCann residence on South State street.

The Courier joins the many friends of the newlyweds in sincere wishes for their future happiness and prosperity.

There will be a dance at Maple Grove Grange hall, Friday evening, September 20. Everybody welcome. —Adv. 3811.

JEWISH BOYS TO HAVE OWN CAMP

DETROIT CONTRACTOR OWNS CAMP CHARLEVOIX SITE.

Buildings Vacated This Season To Be Remodeled To Take Care Of 70 Youngsters.

Only a few weeks after the dedication ceremonies of the new Camp Charlevoix, comes the announcement that the former site of the camp at Ironton is to be developed into a summer camp for Jewish lads.

G. D'Amico, wealthy Detroit contractor and builder, has purchased the 78 acres comprised in what was formerly the holdings of the old iron company and that later became the original site of Camp Charlevoix, and will start early next spring with a gang of 15 or 20 men to put the present buildings in shape and landscape and otherwise develop the 3,400 feet of lake frontage and the acres behind it. It is estimated that the work will consume about two months and that the new camp will be ready for operation for the season of 1930. Mr. D'Amico plans to make some 150 to 200 photographs of the property, take them back to Detroit and spend the winter carefully studying the layout of the grounds and planning his improvements. Just now, he is occupying one of the cottages on the camp property, "roughing it," as he expresses it and looking the place over at first hand for a couple of weeks. He is expecting some friends from Detroit to visit him shortly. "The real work," he said to a Courier representative the other day, "will start next spring. It should not take long, as we are accustomed to do things fast in Detroit and one can accomplish much in two months time."

Mr. D'Amico says he first learned of the Ironton property through a broker in Detroit. As he had this camp project in mind and was casting about him to find a suitable location for it, at the time, the next thing to do, naturally, was to have a look at the place. He came up to Charlevoix for a couple of days in July and was much impressed with what he found. He has been at Ironton since last Thursday and is confirmed in his belief that the place has remarkable possibilities, but is not yet ready to give out any detailed statement of what he is going to do until he has studied the situation thoroughly and formulated his plans. So far, he is alone in the venture, though he did not deny the possibility that later on some outside assistance might be requisitioned.

Mr. D'Amico said the camp would be for Jewish boys of the ages of 7 to 17, and run on practically the same lines as the present Camp Charlevoix. No new buildings, he stated, would be erected for a while, but those now on the property are to be remodeled so as to give the camp a capacity of about 70. In the course of his remarks, he expressed the hope that the electric power and light line might soon be extended to the camp so that it might be available before the opening of the 1930 season.

FISH PATROL VESSEL HAS NEW NET LIFTER

Patent Device Has Banished Danger Of Work In Rough Seas.

The rolicky gray craft which loy at the city dock, back of the band stand, Friday afternoon and Saturday morning of last week was the new Patrol Boat No. 1 of the Michigan Conservation Department, now guarding the commercial fish industry in Michigan waters.

The No. 1, which was recently launched at Bay City, has a gross tonnage of 80 and is 74 feet long and has a 17-foot beam. The speed of this craft is about 18 miles per hour, developed by a late type oil engine and a five-foot propeller. The hull is constructed of white oak and is solidly handeled with steel to withstand the impact of ice and heavy seas. She is manned by a small crew, commanded by Captain Charles Albers of Cheboygan and Beaver Island. In emergencies, the arrangement of controls in the pilot house make it possible for one man handle the vessel.

The big feature of the new patrol boat is the net lifting device by which any nets set in lake waters may be lifted for examination at any time, without the danger that invariably attended such an operation in rough weather under former methods.

EDITORIALS.

LONGER LIFE.

It is something of a disagreeable shock to our self-complacency to find, as has been proved recently by a reputable research worker, that persons 45 years of age and older in this country have a lesser life expectancy than at any other time on record. The idea does not accord in the slightest with the popular notion that, because people today are living under better conditions than ever before, their life expectancy for all ages is therefore much greater.

Although the general belief holds that there has been a drop in the death hazard all along the line, we find as a matter of fact that the reductions have been concentrated largely in the childhood years of life. There they have been truly marvelous, for statistics from representative American cities show that decreases as high as 250 per cent have been effected in the number of infant deaths within the past half century. But these decreases do not alter the truth that today people past the middle age of life have less chances of living than at any other recorded time.

Science certainly will not be satisfied until it has done for the latter years of life at least as much as it has done for the early years. The unrelenting search medical men are conducting into the causes and cure of cancer illustrates their determination to loosen the hold of a disease that ranks as a principal death cause after the age forty. The announced intention of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association to institute a campaign against heart disease, at such a time as some of its energies can be diverted from the anti-tuberculosis crusade is also encouraging. The Association's educational health machinery can well be adopted to a work that of necessity must be largely educational in nature.

To reduce the number of deaths from heart disease, cancer, nephritis, and apoplexy as reductions have been effected in the case of diphtheria, smallpox, typhoid fever, and tuberculosis, probably will not be an easy task, but its difficulty will make eventual success so much sweeter.

GUARANTEED BANK DEPOSITS.

The recent failures of many Florida banks has revived the agitation in all parts of the country for a system of guaranteed bank deposits, not so much here in Michigan where we have only an occasional bank failure, but more particularly in other states where local conditions have resulted in wholesale closing of financial institutions. In an editorial, "Can Bank Deposits be Guaranteed," the Manufacturer's Record says:

Many efforts have been made to safeguard bank deposits, but no system yet devised has been satisfactory. However, the question is one which, by reason of many bank failures in recent years, demands the most careful consideration by the people of the country.

Bankers hold a peculiar relation to a community. Other business concerns make their profit, if any, out of the use of their own capital. Banks, on the contrary, make their profits on the use of deposits, which in most cases many times exceed their capital. Because of overhead expense, few, if any, banks could operate successfully on their own capital. A bank, therefore, becomes the trustee of its depositors and of the country in which it operates. Its suspension or failure entails extreme hardship, even if the suspension be only temporary. When it is permanent it means a heavy loss to innocent people who in no way whatever were connected with the bank's management.

In lending money to borrowers, bankers often require that a considerable proportion of the money thus borrowed shall remain in the banks, which largely increases the actual cost of interest to the borrower. State inspection of state chartered banks and national inspection of national banks are intended to safeguard their depositors by keeping a careful watch on the actions of bankers, but it often happens that not a hint of an unsafe condition is heard until the bank doors are closed. Often these suspensions are as sudden as the story of the old negro woman who was handed a check to be cashed when the window was instantly closed and the curtain drawn. Turning to a bystander, she asked what had happened. His reply was, "The bank has busted: Did you never hear of a bank busting?" "Yes," said she, "but I never had one bust in my face before." The "busting" of a bank comes with an equal shock to every depositor whose money has been placed in the bank by reason of faith in its officers and lessens the public confidence in all banks and all business interests.

Conservative bankers are opposed to bank guarantees on the ground that that encourages wildcat banking methods. Indeed, guarantees have in many cases proved disastrous and in nearly all cases unavailing for the quick payment to the depositors. Nevertheless, some method must be devised to safeguard deposits in banks, in order that the money of an individual or community shall not be tied up temporarily or permanently by bank suspensions or failures. There must be some remedy and to the solution of this problem the best banking thought in America must give attention, for otherwise people will hoard their money instead of putting it on deposit where its use is good for the whole community. The subject cannot be ignored.

TEETH AND HEALTH.

How much is a good set of teeth worth?

Insurance companies estimate that each sound tooth has a value of $1,000. To one rich New Yorker, who recently had a difficult bit of removable bridgework made, his teeth were important enough to cause him to pay without protest the $36,000 he was charged for the job. To most of us, the simple term "priceless" would best describe the regard we hold for them.

As dental and medical experts investigate further into the structure of the teeth, their relation to the rest of the body, and the causes of decay, they find that the precautions commonly taken in the past, and deemed fully satisfactory, are not by any means adequate. Daily use of a toothbrush, for instance, alone is not enough to combat the dangers facing the teeth. The Michigan Tuberculosis Association, which is keenly concerned with the problem of mouth hygiene because of the influence diseased teeth may exert in preparing the way for tuberculosis, advises two other important precautions.

The diet should be checked to make certain that lime, which is es-

Now-- We Can Supply You with Purina Chows!

The Profit Building Feeds in Checkerboard Bags

FEEDERS of poultry and live stock around Charlevoix will be glad to know that they can now find the complete line of the well-known Purina Chows in our store. For some time we have been investigating various lines of commercial feeds. We have become a local authorized Purina distributor because we are convinced that Purina Chows will make more money for you who feed farm animals.

For 35 years Purina Chows have been lowering feeding costs—increasing egg production—putting more milk into the pail—putting more weight on hogs and steers and sheep in quicker time—keeping horses and mules in finest condition for hard work. What Purina has done elsewhere it can do right around here.

A COMPLETE Line—For All Feeding Needs

NO MATTER what you're feeding—or how—you'll find that Purina Chows will fit your needs. If you want a hog ration to make your corn worth more—there's Pig Chow and Hog Chow. If you have no home grains and need a complete hog feed—there's Hog Fatena. So, too, dairymen can get just the right Purina mixture to go with alfalfa hay or mixed hay—or whatever they may have. And poultry raisers will find here the proper feed for chicks, for growing pullets and laying hens. Steer feeders, sheep men, horse and mule owners—all

MARQUETTE ROTARY CHASSIS EXPECTED HERE SOON

Of considerable interest to the automotive public is this unusual exhibit of a Marquette rotary cut-away chassis, which is touring Western Michigan under the auspices of the Buick Motor Company, Grand Rapids Zone.

The chassis, which is mounted on a huge trailer, is complete in every detail and embodies the latest refinements in light car design. The chassis is cutaway, that is, exterior of such parts as the crankcase, water jacket, cylinder head, transmission and differential housing, etc., are partially cut away to reveal the operating units within. The entire mechanism of the chassis is set in slow motion by a small concealed electric motor, thus showing each part in motion and its relation to every other part of the mechanism. This enables the watcher to grasp all the inter-related movements of the engine. The whole chassis is mounted on two supports, one at each end, and is revolved so that not only the upper, but the lower parts of the chassis may be seen as it rotates. In this way pistons, crankshaft, camshaft, valve assembly, oil, water and fuel pumps, and even the generator, can be seen performing their respective operations very plainly.

The engine consists of a six-cylinder L-head type motor of 67 horsepower and 212 cubic inches displacement. Crankshaft is counterbalanced and has tapered bearings, a new feature in motor engineering. The clutch is single plate, the drive is Hotchkiss and the whole chassis is mounted on semi-elliptical springs.

This exhibit should be of interest to every automobile owner since it makes clear many of the principles underlying all motor car design as well as the refinements incorporated in this new light car. The chassis is the only one of its kind in the United States. The public is cordially invited to view this chassis while it is here.

sential to the teeth and lack of which hastens decay, is secured in sufficient quantity. Foods rich in lime content include, milk, cheese, egg yolk, cauliflower, cabbage, carrots, turnips, dried beans, and wheat bran. Secondly, adults are advised to visit the dentist at least once a year, and children once every six months or oftener, depending upon the condition of the teeth. In addition to cleaning and reaching spots that the ordinary toothbrush motion does not touch the dentist can detect and correct at these times the tiny cavities that if left alone, will develop into large decayed areas.

Teeth are too precious for trifling. Take care of yours, for no artificial set will serve you as well as those provided by nature.

CHAIN BANKING.

The smaller communities of Michigan should be more than interested in the recent invasion of the outstate banking field by Detroit and Eastern banking interests. In the larger cities mergers of big banking houses have been under way for some time. Now the rural banking field is engaging their attention.

Whether our banking needs can better be served by these huge combinations, than through the present system of locally owned banks, we are not prepared to discuss, but it would seem that a departure of such a radical nature should be entered into slowly and with great caution. To adequately meet local needs banks should be closely identified with the communities they serve. Removal of our banking to the financial centers is bound to be met with apprehension by the people. To eliminate this suspicion will take a great deal of enlightenment.

The chain idea of selling groceries and other merchandise may not be as successful when applied to banking. There should be no antagonism to banking mergers in the industrial centers. They promise sound, strong banks. That is good. But before the plan becomes more widespread the public should rightfully ask questions. Will the control of these new banking institutions always rest in the bankers and commercial interests of Michigan?

Will such a plan weaken confidence in or retard the proper growth of local, independent banks? The time to determine these things is now—not later.

THE EASY MONEY BOYS.

They come at you from every angle—we mean the easy money boys in the big cities who are so anxious to help you invest your surplus earnings in sure-fire investment propositions. They are willing to give you expert financial advice "without charge unless you realize a profit on our recommendation."

Nothing is said about good losses sustained by suckers who bite on the worthless stocks they are out to peddle. The sensible man will not be caught by any such drivel. There is plenty of money where these fellows operate to take care of every legiti-mate enterprise, only the shady and most times worthless issues being pushed outside the financial centers of the country.

It is a wise man who makes it a hard and fast rule to consult his banker before making an investment of any kind. You'll get advice that is sound. You will find that many an alluring proposition, promising big dividends, don't look so good after it has passed under the scrutinizing eye of your banker. He is your best friend when you have money to invest. Do not hesitate to seek his advice.

SUCCESS NO EASY MATTER.

Without work no amount of talent, no amount of influence, will carry a man very far in this world. I am amazed at the point of view of some modern young men. They look at the successful men of the day as if they supposed success to be an easy matter—giving rich gifts and requiring little in return. I wonder what they would think if they could see the average day's program of one of the men they envy. Theodore Roosevelt left a correspondence that of itself involved more work than the average man does in his active life. Yet it represented only a small part of his activities.

The higher men climb, the longer their working day. And any young man with a streak of idleness in him might better make up his mind at the beginning that mediocrity is to be his lot. Without immense, sustained effort he will not climb high.

And even though fortune or chance were to lift him high he would not stay there. For to keep at the top is harder, almost, than to get there. There are no office hours for leaders.—Cardinal Gibbons.

CURING SOCIAL ILLS.

Michigan now has the most drastic liquor laws of any state. The Cuthbertson law, which went into effect during the closing days of August, provides penalties so severe for violation of the prohibition laws that it would seem the most daring would hesitate to violate them.

There also seems a disposition on the part of the enforcement machinery of the state to impose these penalties without fear or favor, so for the first time we will have an opportunity to find out just how much social reformation can be accomplished by legislation. The outcome will be watched with more than passing interest.

A KILLER OF WILD LIFE.

Those who have charge of our wild life affairs are greatly concerned over the enormous kill of wild life caused by automobiles and fear that it will become the one big factor to be combated in attempting to maintain a healthy supply of desirable forms of game and birds and animals and fur-bearers. This killing persists 365 days in each year and many are inclined to believe this slaughter far greater than the annual bag of hunters and trappers combined.

J. M. Terwilliger of Detroit, writes that on a trip to Grand Rapids last week over U. S. 16 he saw evidence of wild life killed by passing automobiles that would average one specimen to each mile. "There were rabbits, skunk, squirrels, muskrats, song birds, turtle, and one beaver, not to mention chickens and cats," says Mr. Terwilliger.

Every highway tells a similar story but throughout the north country, if anything, the kill is heavier and more serious, for wild life is more numerous, and deer have been found to be among the greatest sufferers. None of this killing is intentional and most of it takes place at night, often endangering the life of the motorist. It is not unusual to have a motorist wreck his car by striking a deer and it was only a few weeks ago that a moose caused a serious accident by colliding with a speeding car in Lapeer county.

There apparently is no remedy for this unfortunate slaughter. Wild life crossing highways is always certain to become confused when confronted with the glare of headlights and a motorist can't drive at night unless they are in use. During the daytime there is nothing that will speed up a roadcrossing turtle or stop birds from flying against radiators or windshield. —Detroit News.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

It is none too early to prepare for suitable observance of "Fire Prevention Week," which has been set for the week of October 6-12. Throughout the entire country various organizations will again attempt to train the public in offsetting the greatest menace in the United States today. Our people will do well to learn and profit by example.

The tragedy of fire is that it is almost entirely preventable. There are, of course, natural causes for conflagrations that cannot be helped, but these are a very small percentage of the total. The greatest damage is caused by carelessness and ignorance. Billions of dollars are wasted and destroyed each year by a few people's carelessness. It would not be so reprehensible if the loss were borne by them alone. It must be shared, directly or indirectly, by every citizen and taxpayer.

It is the duty of every citizen to cooperate in the observance of Fire Prevention Week. And it should be his pleasure. Fire loss can be stopped. And in a single week, if every one will observe and learn, a great deal may be accomplished in the way of reducing it.

FINANCING RUM CARS.

There seems to be a growing suspicion among law enforcement officials in several sections of the state that finance corporations are being formed in some of the larger cities for the sole purpose of financing automobiles used in the rum running business. The higher-ups in the liquor business are charged with being back of the movement.

It is no uncommon thing, officials declare, for a sheriff in a rural county to confiscate a bootlegger's car, only to have a representative of one of these companies turn up later with a mortgage on the car and recover it from the sheriff.

It is charged that through these companies the bootlegger makes a small down payment, with monthly payments on a similar basis. If the car is seized the supposed owner steps out of the picture leaving it to the finance corporation holding the mortgage to put the car back into circulation again.

Remedial legislation, compelling finance companies when financing a car to demand a bond from the purchaser that the car will not be used for illegal purposes, will probably be asked from the next legislature, although it is doubtful if such a plan could be worked out without causing embarrassment and loss of business to responsible finance institutions. The man buying a car through a finance company for legitimate purposes, would certainly resent being compelled to furnish a bond attesting his honesty. And there is the possibility that such a law would be translated as being class legislation by the higher courts.

THE DAYS OF SPORT.

As cool autumn days grow more frequent, the football star begins to go into the limelight. Pivots replace tennis and baseball, and ambitious school youngsters throughout the nation begin the running, punting, and passing practice that produces sterling players and trained teams.

The natural urge to activity and athletic action that Young America expresses in its games and contests is not to be disparaged in the slightest. There probably is no more encouraging symptom of the physical and mental well being of youths than participation in sports such as football, basketball, track and baseball. Rather the hope is to be expressed that an even larger number of students, including particularly children whose physical development has been backward, will take part in competitive athletics.

A note of warning is to be sounded, however. Before adolescent youth are permitted to try for athletic teams, each should be given a thorough medical examination to insure bodily competency, for life long ill health or premature death are likely to be the consequences of unsupervised participation. Tuberculosis is just one of the diseases that frequently follows in the wake of athletic activity carried on without reckoning upon the capacity of the body. Yet the history of sport is sprinkled with the names of great players, such as Christy Mathewson, Hughie Jennings, Urban Shocker, and Joe Gans, who broke down from this disease. Similarly numerous are the untimely deaths among athletes caused by other preventable illness. Long training seasons, undue exertion, and a continued strain upon body and mind are sufficient to weaken the strongest of bodies belonging to the greatest of athletes.

When fully developed professional athletes die from a cause directly attributable to disregard of the laws of health, how much more likely it is that adolescent youths, taking part in athletics without supervision or restriction, will suffer a breakdown. Mere appearance cannot be taken as an accurate yardstick whereby to measure physical fitness. Distressing heart and lung conditions have frequently been found by members of the medical staff of the Michigan Tuberculosis association in examination of children whose health, from outside appearances, apparently was of the soundest.

Athletic competition, to be sure, is highly commendable and worthwhile, but it should be undertaken only with the guarantee that the delicate human machine will not be shattered. A thorough medical inspection will provide the necessary safeguards.

CONSTITUTION WEEK.

The week of September 15-21 has been designated as "Constitution Week," important to every American citizen. It is a good time to stop and take inventory of all the wonderful blessings that have come to the United States under this document, this great bill of rights of human liberty.

It is less than a century and a half since its completion and adoption, yet we have progressed more since that time than the world had advanced in all the centuries previous to that time. This is a week in which to renew our love and respect—a week in which to re-determine our allegiance.

There will be a dance at Maple Grove Grange hall, Friday evening, September 20. Everybody welcome. —Adv. 381t.

Big Ones! Yum Yum!

Reports from those who have been over there recently indicate that the blackberry crop on Beaver Island will be a bumper one this year. The berries are large, juicy and as sweet as sugar, according to enthusiastic witnesses. One woman picked 43 quarts in five hours time, it is claimed, and got nearly a quart from one bush.

MRS. STEPHEN SMITH DIES AT SIXTY-EIGHT

Was Daughter of Charlevoix's First Jeweler, S. S. Liscomb.

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Stephen H. Smith, of 401 Antrim street, were deeply shocked and grieved to learn of her sudden passing from this life on Saturday of last week, September 14th. She was a woman of fine Christian character, a kindly soul much beloved by all who knew her. A heart affliction of long standing was the cause of her death.

Hattie V. Liscomb was born in Iowa, February 13, 1861, came to Michigan at about the age of three years and moved to Charlevoix with her parents in 1869. Her father, Sylvester S. Liscomb, was the first jeweler to open a shop in Charlevoix. On the 29th of November, 1877, she was married to Stephen H. Smith of this city and the couple had made their home here continuously since that time, with the exception of two and a half years spent in Detroit and a year in Durand. Four children were born to this union. The oldest, a daughter, Mrs. Otto Powers of Muskegon, died last February at the age of 50 and was brought to this city for interment. The second child, a daughter, died at the age of 21 months, of diphtheria. The third child, a son, died at the age of 23. She is survived by her husband and her youngest child, now the wife of Arthur Staley of this city; also two sisters, Mrs. Etta Hanshaw of Charlevoix and Mrs. A. D. Goddard of Healdsburg, Calif.

The funeral was held from the home of the deceased on Monday afternoon at two o'clock. Mrs. Smith was an ardent Christian Scientist and the funeral service was conducted by Dr. Frank H. Wilkinson, a member of that communion. Many beautiful floral gifts attested the esteem and affection which the many friends of the deceased felt for her.

Out-of-town relatives and friends that attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Valjeaux, Detroit; Justin Hanshaw, Grand Rapids; Mrs. Ward Bennett and son, Kentner, Grand Haven; Carl and Mary Powers, Muskegon; Mrs. Ida M. Puleipher, daughter, Bernice, and a granddaughter, Traverse City; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and daughter, Bertha, Bellaire.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Ray Hamilton, accompanied by Carl Bogren of Petoskey, left last Wednesday night for Parry Sound, Canada, to bring back to Charlevoix the motor yacht, Dacia, owned by Mr. Johnson of Kansas City. They arrived here with the yacht Monday.

Mrs. Ira Adams, who left by automobile last week for New York City, accompanied by Vincent Madison, William Callen and Gilbert Saltonstall, reports by wire that the trip was safely made. Messrs. Madison and Callen are attending Columbia University. Gilbert Saltonstall will return with Mrs. Adams.

Professor Perry Mason of the University of Michigan, formerly a resident of this city, writes that he and Mrs. Mason were in New York City last week, attending the International Congress on Accounting. A prize essay contest was held in connection with the Congress and Professor Mason's paper on Depreciation won the first prize of $500.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Usher and daughters, Ardis and Mary Jane, left Saturday morning, driving through to Grand Rapids and Muskegon, where they will visit Mr. Usher's brother, Harold and family, Mr. and Mrs. Guy King and other relatives. They were accompanied on the trip by Miss Lucille Usher, who will visit relatives in Grand Rapids for a few days before re-entering Cleary Business College at Ypsilanti.

UPPER MICHIGAN BANKERS MET AT TRAVERSE CITY

A. G. Chapman, cashier of the People's Savings bank at Cadillac, was elected chairman of the Northwestern Michigan group of the State Bankers' association at the recent Traverse City meeting. C. E. Hale, Traverse City, was re-elected secretary-treasurer. The directors are: H. A. Stevens, Central Lake; L. O. Bloomer, Kalkaska; H. B. Woodward, Beulah; L. P. Kalahar, Traverse City; Ellsworth Billman, Kaleva; J. J. Veldman, Cadillac; George Johnson, Empire; T. Chalmers Curtis, Petoskey; Robert Bridge, Charlevoix; and Carl M. Iverson, Edmonston. The group No. 2 of the state association, will hold its next annual meeting at Frankfort.

HE DISAPPEARED IN MYSTERIOUS FASHION

Police Net and Broadcast Fail to Disclose Lundbom's Whereabouts.

Oscar F. Lundbom of Bay City, who has been spending the summer months at the home of his uncle, Principal Oscar North of the Charlevoix high school, left the North home on East Lincoln avenue at an unusually early hour a week ago Wednesday morning, and, although private detectives employed by his uncle and his mother in Bay City have been hot on his trail for several days and announcement of his disappearance has been made by means of the radio, his whereabouts is still unknown. He had been planning to go to Manistee and from there back to his home in Bay City, but inquiry at both places has met with no success.

It is thought by his relatives here that he has secured work in some part of the state, incognito, and is enjoying that temporary freedom from the supervision of his elders that most boys eagerly anticipate at some stage of their adolescent period.

An Old-Time Spirit That Never Changes

What the years will bring us, none can say.

But one thing we know. If we were to become as big as the Bank of England, the old-time spirit here would remain the same—the friendly spirit of fairness and co-operation which has been our guiding principle from the beginning.

This bank places friendliness on a footing with service.

FULL SIZE PLYMOUTH ROADSTER, $675
(with rumble seat)

The Smartest Roadster of Low Price

The snappy Chrysler-styled Plymouth Roadster is all the vogue today. Among low-priced roadsters it easily cuts the smartest figure in appearance, just as it leads them all with its typical Chrysler performance.

Here is a roadster that is man-size, not boy-size—full-size, not toy-size. It has that length of hood and expanse of rear deck which go to make a roadster truly graceful.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

Hoover Excels As Guest.

"Hoover Hospitality" may be as much a byword as "Coolidge Economy" a few years from now. So thoroughly does the President enjoy the friendly flow of conversation at the luncheon and dinner table that the White House grocery bill has increased enormously since March 4. Washington butchers, bakers, and candlestick makers report a tangible increase in prosperity resulting from the President's cordiality, for the White House pantry must be replenished daily in wholesale quantities. Incidentally, the expenses of this sort of entertainment are paid by Mr. Hoover himself.

After dinner, Mrs. Hoover usually gathers the ladies in one of her drawing rooms, while the President entertains the men in his private study. A great deal of presidential business is said to be transacted in this friendly after-dinner interchange of views.

Capital Not All Politics.

Outsiders are in the habit of regarding Washington as an area of land covered by a White House, a Capitol, a Senate, a House of Representatives and a respectable number of government departments. They forget that the city, apart from its political features, is a metropolis unto itself. Facts and figures set forth by the Washington Board of Trade throw some light on the non-political Washington.

During the past five years, there has been enough residential construction to house 130,000 people, the population of Albany, New York. Approximately 400 national organizations maintain headquarters here; the city has six universities, 12 colleges, 13 seminaries for women, and 200 libraries. One person out of every three owns an automobile, although the ratio for the country is only one to five. Most astonishing of all, 55,000 persons are engaged in manufacturing and 29,000 in transportation, while the number of Federal employees is only 62,140. So the populace isn't all government clerks and politicians, after all.

Politics This Week.

It will be amusing some months hence to re-read the columns of predictions that have been written since the beginning of the 1929 Congressional bout over tariff. A moderate bill, a good bill, a monstrous bill, no bill at all—so the prophecies run from day to day.

At least one thing is certain. It will not be the bill that the House passed nor anything like it. A certain smugness inspired by the easy victory of the protectionists in the House has wavered before steady shooting, and the ammunition seems inexhaustible. September 4th found the opposition on the spot geared for action, and their method of pitching into the fray within an hour after the bill was reported was a noble sight. The consumer can do very little but stand on the sidelines and cheer—but no one is going to be allowed to forget that he is there!

Even Official Flowers Follow Set Precedent.

Official precedence, which ever since the advent of this administration has been keeping high officials and diplomats in Washington awake nights, has just been discovered to have botanical ramifications. Luxuriant specimens of the sunflower, state flower of the reigning vice president, have for the first time been planted in the flower beds around the Capitol, and we observe that they have been carefully placed on the right-hand side of that edifice, thus following strictly other official precedents relating to our Kansas vice president.

"Latin-America" Misleading Term.

"Let us all with one accord" take a vow to abolish from the written word the expression "Latin-America." The lumping together of 20 nations, differing in history, traditions, climate, and even in languages, in this catch-all designation has done much as any one thing to hinder inter-American understanding. A man goes to Venezuela, let us say. He returns to the United States, and talks about the customs of life in "Latin-America," and if he happens to be convincing enough, none of his friends can be sure that such customs of life do not prevail in Argentina. We know enough not to talk about life in Europe: we say in Italy, or France, or Germany. From now on let's make our travelling friends and ourselves talk of what we know of Cuba, of Brazil, of Peru, or whatever have you, but delete "Latin-America" from our ideas as well as your vocabularies.

Dobbin Popular in Washington.

If Washingtonians were forced to rely upon Dobbin for their transportation, they would feel badly inconvenienced. But putting Dobbin in the class of diversions—ah, that is a different thing! Approximately 500 horses are kept in Washington for riding purposes. Three hundred of these are privately owned.

Seventy miles of bridge paths wander through beautiful, cool Rock Creek Park by the side of small streams and falls and through a maze of tall trees just now beginning to don their autumnal colors. Here rider encounters rider, and echo of galloping hooves is always in the air. It is estimated that 1,000 people daily enjoy the recreation of horseback riding, and the demand for saddle horses has exceeded the supply this year.

"Citizen" a Significant Signature.

All the verbal battles in Washington aren't fought in Congress. Newspapers of the Capitol afford an interesting study in national politics as seen through the eyes of "Citizen," "Vox Populi" or plain John Smith and Mary Jones. Women may not have much opportunity to express themselves in the forums of legislative halls, but it isn't hard for them to start a real battle in "Letters to the Editor" and "People's Forum" columns of the newspapers. The answers and arguments that fly back and forth between citizens who have never seen each other claim as many readers as the editorials or funnies.

A case in point is that of a letter published recently in a Washington daily protesting the proposed sugar tax. It was signed "Citizen." Immediately the secretary of the Beet Sugar association girded on his armor and set forth to do battle. He wrote a long, argumentative and somewhat argumentative and somewhat bitter epistle protesting the protest. Then "Housewife and Consumer" got on the job and pointed out the fallacies in the secretary's letter. She quoted a respectable list of figures and facts to prove that a higher duty on Cuban sugar would subsidize a small class of planters at the expense of more than 120,000,000 citizens.

These letters contain a human interest hardly found elsewhere in the entire paper. As a means of ascertaining the contents of Mr. Voter's mind, they are unique barometers. We are willing to wager that they are more respected and widely read than is generally admitted.

"Cure Alls" Vanish From Market.

Twenty-two years ago, one could buy a single bottle of medicine designed to cure any and every ill that possessed him. Since then, 208 of these miraculous fluids have vanished from the market, yet the world moves on more smoothly, according to the Food, Drug and Insecticide Administration at Washington.

Such things as "Curative Marvel," "Olive Branch," and "Swayne's Pinacea" were once very popular. It was far easier for the poor man to put a few cents and an enormous faith into curing himself than to pay for scientific treatments. Food and drug officials were hard put to stop interstate traffic in fake cures, but unremitting enforcement of the Federal food and drugs act did the work. The pressure became so strong that the drugs not forcibly removed from the market by official action were often withdrawn voluntarily by their concerns.

Three Women Hunt One Cockroach.

ing its hands at "things women do nowadays." So nobody gasped loudly when three women started out recently to hunt a cockroach—but it's safe to say that many wondered. These women—Miss Marjory Ford of Ottawa, Miss B. Hamilton, lecturer at Toronto University, and Miss Abidith, student of Toronto University—are looking for the grylloblatta, great-great-great grandfather of cockroaches and crickets. When they find him, they will put him under a glass in a museum.

The grylloblatta is a hardy insect in any climate. He has existed for ages at the foot of glaciers, and Moraines lake, Canada is his present home. He is not hardy at all in warmer climates, however, and a temperature of over ten degrees will kill him. His southern grandchildren can live in refrigerators and have been known to thrive in a temperature of 100 degrees in the shade. Still other descendants can resist every climate. So there is no hope that the entire grylloblatta family will become extinct through exposure to heat—much as the average housewife might welcome such an occurrence.

From "The Evening News."
(An English Daily printed in Havana.)

An item of interest to Americans in Cuba is in a Paris dispatch to papers in the United States. It will be remembered that the "typical American girl" mentioned, Miss Edna Peters, was a guest of the National Tourist commission in Havana last spring, and she was also a resident of Cuba in her childhood, her father having been engaged in an extensive tomato production in the Guines section about 20 years ago. The dispatch reads:

"The winner of the typical American girl contest Edna Peters, of Miami, Florida, has contributed the $5,000 prize which she won, to save the family home which was sold for taxes when her father was forced into bankruptcy in the Florida boom. 'Miss Peters told interviewers here today that the reward had come just in time to make the tax payments within the two year limit set by law.'"

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY FARM LAND.

Good farm land can be bought now for fewer dollars per acre than when live-stock, dairy products and poultry products were worth only one-third as much as they command now. It can be bought for fewer dollars per acre than when grains were worth half their current price. The purchase can be financed now at less cost than then. If these things are true why isn't good land a good buy? It is, for the right man—the man who knows how to use land, who is industrious and careful, who wants a home of his own enough to work and sacrifice for it, who has a wife with the same ideas about it. For such persons good land is a sound investment right now. For such persons it will make money, not only by operation but by increase in market value.

DROUGHT HURT
MICHIGAN CROPSPRACTICALLY NO RAINFALL IN SOUTH FOR SEVEN WEEKS.All Late Crops Have Suffered From Lack of Moisture—Local Conditions Good.

A shortage of three and one-fourth inches of moisture during the three summer months and almost no rainfall during the last seven weeks has created a drought that has not been equalled in severity since that of 1894. As a result, all of the late season crops have suffered greater declines in condition than in any recent year according to the September report issued September 11 by Herbert E. Powell, commissioner of agriculture, and Verne H. Church, agricultural statistician. Local conditions, however, are far above the state average.

The corn crop was estimated on September 1st at 36,984,000 bushels, a cut of nine and one-half millions during the month of August, and the smallest production since 1902. Many fields have set no ears and most of the others show decided drought effects with poorly filled and shortened ears.

The average yield of oats was reported at 29.5 bushels per acre which indicates a production of 44,309,000 bushels. The ten-year average yield is 32.2 bushels. Last year's production amounted to 58,461,000 bushels. Barley also yielded below the average, the average as reported to date and assure successful growth next spring!

FALL is the ideal time to plant nearly all varieties of trees and shrubs. Then plants are dormant, the soil workable and the ample fall rains pack the earth firmly about the roots so they are ready to respond to the first growing urge of spring.

To delay planting until next spring may mean the loss of a fall season—plant this fall!

We will be glad to help you select exactly the right varieties to give the effect you desire. Call, phone or write—our advice is free.

being 23.5 bushels in comparison with the ten-year average of 25.1 bushels. The crop is estimated at 6,016 bushels.

Michigan's bean crop is now estimated at 5,523,000 bushels, a drop of nearly 1,100,000 bushels since the previous month's estimate. Notwithstanding the fact that 20 per cent more acres were planted this year than were harvested last year, the present outlook is for a crop 400,000 bushels under last year's production. Drought and extreme heat blasted many of the pods and changed the situation from one of excellent prospects to one with the smallest yield per acre since 1917 except that of 1927.

Drought also played its part in reducing the potato prospects from 29,273,000 to 23,783,000 bushels between August 1st and September 1st. The late crop might have been improved if rains had arrived before Sept. 10, but, as the drought has not been materially relieved to date, it is doubtful if more than slight gains can be made in the late fields. The estimated United States production declined about 24 million bushels since last month's report indicating that the drought has been widespread in its effects.

The tame hay crop shows a decrease of 244,000 tons from last month's indicated production although the prospects still stand for the largest crop on record. The alfalfa crop is estimated at 1,119,000 tons or 130,000 tons more than the average crop of the past five years. The average yield per acre of sweet clover hay was reported at 2.00 tons per acre; that of timothy at 1.45 tons, and clover and timothy mixed, 1.55 tons. The condition of the alfalfa seed crop is 68 per cent, that of red and alsike clover seed 76 per cent, and timothy seed 82 per cent.

Among the fruits, pears declined ten per cent and peaches and apples six per cent each in estimated production since August 1. The present forecasts are: apples, total, 6,118,000 bushels; apples, commercial, 1,052,000 barrels; peaches, 765,000 bushels; pears, 472,000 bushels; and grapes, 64,000 tons.

This condition and probable yield of spring wheat as reported this month indicate an average yield for the state of 19.0 bushels per acre. This gives a forecasted production of 76,000 bushels or 14,000 bushels smaller than last year's crop.

The condition of the Michigan buckwheat crop declined 21 points during August which places this month's forecast 21,000 bushels below that of last year in spite of the fact that this year's planted acreage is 21 per cent greater than that of 1928.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp
Six Club Members Attend State Fair at Detroit.

The trip that all club members strive for and the biggest feature of boys' and girls' club work in Michigan is the trip to the Michigan State Fair, which is made possible by the fair management.

This year Charlevoix county had the honor and pleasure of having six club members selected to receive this high award. These awards were given at the recent Gaylord camp for club members in Northern Michigan. At this camp the various contests were put on for each project that club members belonged to, such as judging and demonstration teams. This year this county had 35 boys and girls in attendance which is the best showing thus far.

In addition to winning trips to Detroit we carried away first prizes in the singing contest and in the stunt night program.

The following boys and girls made the trip: Katherine Wageman, East Jordan and Doris Russell, East Jordan, in the judging contest for canning club members; Carlton Smith, Charlevoix, Warren Shapton, Charlevoix, and James Block, Charlevoix, in dairy judging.

In addition James Block and Carlton Smith were also on a demonstration team that won at Gaylord and thus won the trip for the second time. They demonstrated the fitting and showing of dairy calves in preparation for exhibits. Dick Struv, Charlevoix, had his transportation paid as the leader of the Barnard Junior Dairyman and accompanied his members.

The party left for Detroit on Wednesday afternoon and returned early Sunday morning. While there considerable time was spent in visiting all the interesting exhibits at the Fair and in seeing the sights of Detroit. Probably the most enjoyable features were the trips to Belle Isle, and seeing a big league ball game, and in seeing two of the most beautiful theatres in Detroit.

Needless to say a very happy but tired group was the result.

In view of the fact that Charlevoix county had 23 different clubs, in 1929 had 35 members in attendance at the Gaylord club camp, won three trips to the state fair and won first in stunts and music contest at Gaylord, we feel that boys and girls club work has progressed wonderfully in this county and is accomplishing a great deal toward the development of individuals and in the prosperity of agriculture.

Six Purebred Rams Purchased from Ram Truck.

In all livestock breeding operations the sire at the head of the herd or flock is responsible for over half what the future improvements will be. Therefore, whenever several new sires are purchased by farmers to head their livestock you can be sure that the future will look brighter.

As a result of the visit of the "Ram Truck" last week we are glad to state that six purebred rams were purchased by Charlevoix county farmers. Not only that but they were the highest priced and best type rams that were on the truck and will surely make their presence felt in the future.

Louis Shapton, Charlevoix, and Carl Stevens, Walloon Lake, bought Shropshires; E. J. Edwards, Charlevoix, Robert Barrette, East Jordan, and Henry Korhose, Boyne City, are the new owners of Hampshires. Last year 13 purebred rams were delivered from the truck on a similar visit. With 19 new rams in the last two years a decided improvement in sheep can be noted. Don't worry about the future of agriculture, but like these men who are starting right, go ye and do likewise.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday service, 10:45 a. m.
Subject: "Matter."
Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.
Reading room: Tuesdays and Saturdays, 3 to 5 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to attend our services and use our reading room.
"Substance" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, September 15.

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you" (Luke 24:36).
The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "To show that the substance of himself was Spirit and the body no more perfect because of death and no less material until the ascension (his further spiritual exaltation), Jesus waited until the mortal or fleshly sense had relinquished the belief of substance-matter, and spiritual sense had quenched all earthly yearnings" (p. 313).

CHURCH OF GOD
Rev. J. T. Mark, Pastor

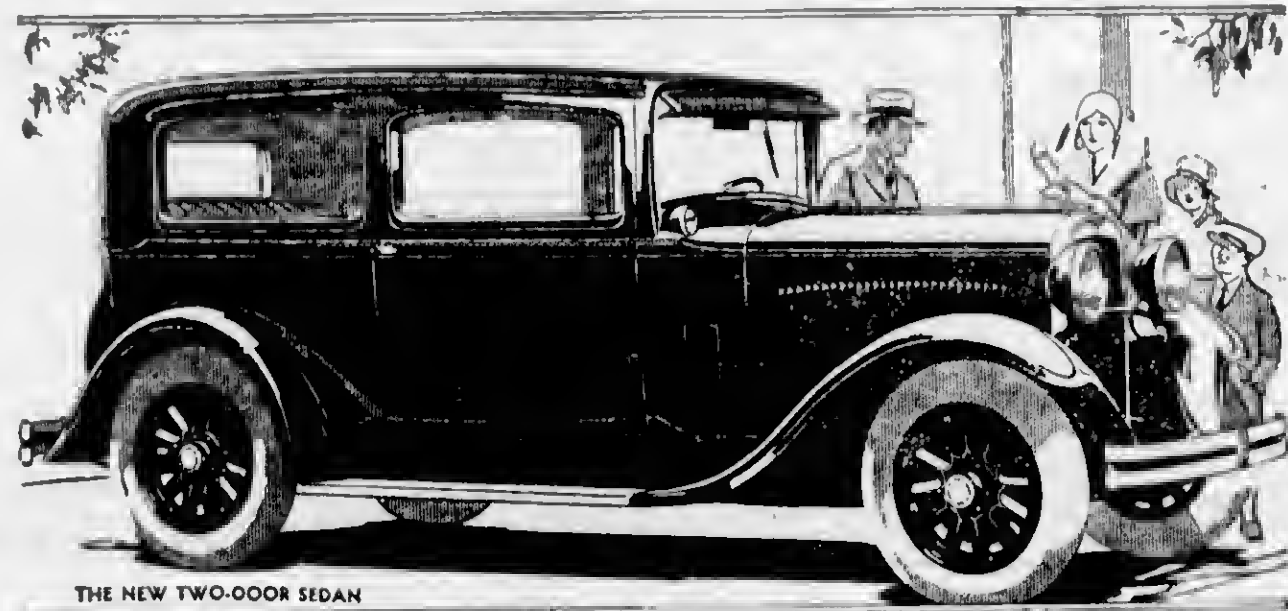

The Church of God is putting forth every effort to bring new members into the Sunday school.

Brother Palmer will have charge of the boys from 8 to 13, and will be glad to have all boys of that age and other ages that are not in the habit of going to Sunday school. Mrs. Earl Van Zant will have charge of the girls of the same ages. There will be a surprise for the little children.

Sunday school starts at 10:00 o'clock, church at 11:00 o'clock.

Essex Wins Belgian Body Trophies.

Hudson Motor Car company officials have been notified that Essex-Challenger has been awarded two first prizes by the Belgian Chamber of Commerce of Body Manufacturers and Allied Industries which organization held its annual Salon at Ostend recently. This salon is the most important of its kind held in Belgium and annually attracts the newest and most exclusive body exhibits from American as well as Continental manufacturers.

Essex has won two awards in the two-place vehicle and the sport classifications. Both bodies were standard and were produced in the Hudson-Essex ten million dollar body plant in Detroit.

Essex has created an enviable record on the continent this year, having won the Auslido trophy, most coveted prize in the annual reliability tour organized by the Motor Club of France, the Lyonnais Cup, the Prymnes Cup, the Atlantic Cup, the Cup of Brittany and the Cup of the North. These contests attracted the largest entries in their respective histories.

AT THE MOVIES.

"Piccadilly"—Here is a super-film, a talking, sound, music production. It is the greatest picture to be imported from abroad according to American and London critics, and one of the finest ever produced, at Palace Theatre next Saturday and Sunday. Arnold Bennett, the famous author, wrote it directly for the screen. It sweeps from the Piccadilly Circus, the London Kialto, the hub of London, and the gayest night club district of the world, patronized by royalty, nobility and the wealth of Europe and America to the picturesque of Limehouse, where forgotten the characters from the ends of the earth.

Bennett has made a story, simple, lucid, but he has drawn his characters true, realistic, raw, stark, berserk. They are not pieces of fiction. They live and breathe on the screen. There is the fire of life in every character he has drawn.

TRANSPORTATION.

You can scarcely think of human activity affected by or dependent upon transportation. And yet this fact is but vaguely realized.

We are indebted more than we know to transportation and as a matter of justice and common sense we ought to recognize and pay the debt in our human relations.—Dr. J. G. Bowman, Chancellor, University of Pittsburgh.

AVERAGE FINE $19.95 FOR GAME VIOLATIONS

State Violations Number 380 With $7,210.24 in Fines.

The average fine imposed by Michigan judges and justice on game and fish law violators during the month of July was $19.95, according to figures obtained from the law enforcement division of the department of conservation.

The figures, taken from reports of 380 law violation cases, show a total of $7,210.24 in fines and court costs. Included in the sentences, taken as an aggregate, were jail sentences of 100 days.

The highest individual fine was paid by William Ross, Jr., Jackson county, convicted of dynamiting fish. Ross paid a fine and costs totalling $108.75. A fish spear was confiscated from him. G. E. Frost, Ingham county, convicted of possessing a net on an inland lake, paid a fine and costs of $108.50. The net was also confiscated.

At least one violation of practically every game and fish law was reported for the month. These included apprehension of a man who shot and killed a bald eagle; two men who defaced trees on state property; a Benzie county man who killed a swan; an Ogemaw county man who used perch for bait; and of a man, who refused to be searched by the conservation officers when he was apprehended.

Arthur Smith, Lapeer county, convicted of killing a bald eagle, was fined, which with court costs amounted to $104.50. Smith was arrested after he had submitted the eagle to a taxidermist for mounting. The mounted bird, about a two-year old, was confiscated.

STOLLARD FARM HOME BURNS TO GROUND

Fire Started in Clothes Closet Where Children Were Playing.

The farm house of Ed. Stollard just south of Star school was completely destroyed by fire about noon Sunday, September 1.

The fire started in a clothes press presumably by little folks playing with matches. Mrs. Stollard discovered it before it got much start but by the time she got the two little folks down stairs and got back up it had too much start to be stopped. Neighbors quickly gathered and got out what was down stairs and kept the other buildings from catching fire.

The East Jordan fire department was called and made the run way around by Advance and still farther around by the Pine Lake golf course and by the time they got there the whole structure was gone and they did not stay to do anything. If the neighbors had not stayed the barn would also have been burned as a whirlwind caught the fire and carried it directly to the other buildings. There did not seem to be much wind but Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Faust, who had been in their bean patch about two miles away and did not know there had been a fire, found burned shingles and paper in their field which looked as if they must have been on fire when they struck the ground, when they went to the house for dinner.

The property was pretty well covered by insurance. Mr. Stollard plans to build again immediately. — B. yne Citizen.

PRIMARY FUND NOW READY FOR COUNTIES

Charlevoix Will Receive Pay on Basis of 4,457 Children.

Charlevoix county will receive $69,974 from the state primary school fund, according to the figure provided by the department of public instruction to Auditor General O. C. Fuller. The latter is on the total number of school children in the county, which the last census showed at 4,457. The sum per child is $15.70. Charlevoix also may share in the poorer counties refund $2,090,000 which has been set aside for the districts with high school tax costs.

Following is a partial list of the counties, their school population and the amount they will receive:

Neighboring counties receive these sums: Alpena county, 6,381 children, $100,181; Antrim county, 3,250 children, $51,025; Emmet county, 4,546 children, $71,372; Cheboygan county, 4,228 children, $66,159; Grand Traverse county, 5,082 children, $79,787; Kalkaska county, 1,464 children, $22,984; Mackinac county, 2,915 children, $45,765; Wexford county, 5,183 children, $81,373; Manistee county, 5,414 children, $84,999; Otsego county, 1,888 children, $29,641. Wayne county has 440,928 children and receives $6,921,664. Kent county is next highest with 63,493 children, $996,840. Oakland county is not far behind with 50,531 children and $793,096.

SCHOOLS SENDING IN WEEKLY LETTERS

Items of Interest to School Patrons of County Solicited by Courier.

The first news letters from schools of the county, were received last week. Schools that have been in the habit of sending in weekly news letters of doings of the school, have found that school interest has been increased, and patrons take a better interest in the work of their children.

As in the past the Courier solicits these letters from each and every school in the county, for we know of their interest to our readers in that district. All we ask of the teachers of the school is to see to the correct spelling of names and legibility, and that we may receive them not later than Tuesday morning of each week. This means that they will have to be mailed early Monday in time for the rural carriers in the county.

Give us the news of your school, the honor students and those who do some piece of work that deserves mention. Their parents will enjoy it as will their friends, and inspire other students to do equally as well. Aside from this every teacher will have a direct contact with the patrons, thereby gaining a better understanding of the problems incident with school children.

P. M. STARTS ON ITS FALL SCHEDULE

Leaving Time of Southbound Train Changes to Afternoon.

Starting with Thursday morning the Pere Marquette railway will inaugurate its fall schedule of passenger and mail trains out of Charlevoix.

Train No. 6, which during the summer left Charlevoix at 8:41 a. m., has been changed to 2:20 p. m., and will be the one and only regular mail and passenger train out of Charlevoix southbound.

The north bound train will arrive in Charlevoix at 4:24, practically the same running schedule as during the summer months.

Mail service will be immediately resumed between Charlevoix and Petoskey via Fowler's bus line, thus giving us our mail from the south over the Pennsylvania lines. The bus will arrive in Charlevoix about 9:00 a. m. each day. In all, the schedule is about the same as we had last winter.

FURTHER CONSERVA- TION ON BEAVERS

Three Pair Racoon Taken There by Boat Last Week.

Three pairs of racoon were taken to Beaver Island last week by Gus Mielke, island conservation officer. They were the present of Harry K. Lundy of Detroit, who owns a summer home near St. James.

Mr. Bundy was the instigator of the Beaver Island Protective association, and sponsor of a move which has given the island a fine herd of deer, pheasants, muskrats and other species of wild game life. It is also planned to take several pairs of beaver to one of the island streams.

Several years ago Beaver Island was almost denude of any game life. Today it abounds in deer, pheasants, rabbits, etc., and while at the present hunting is forbidden, it will be a real hunters' paradise in years to come. Beaver Island presents a real example of what conservation will do.

LOOKS LIKE GOOD FOOTBALL SEASON

Plenty of Material and Excellent Fighting Spirit On Tap.

The outlook for a winning football team at Charlevoix high was never better, provided the candidates continue to display the same pep and enthusiasm that they have shown in the last few workouts on the south field. Thirty-seven men turned out to practice the other night and that is a record number.

Coach Kipke has a colossal job on his hands, for while his available material looks excellent, he has only four veterans to form the core of his team. Of the 1928 eleven, seven men graduated last year.

Following is a tentative line-up, based on what recent workouts have disclosed: Ends, William Clark, Bob Foster, Joe Smith, Robert McCall, Stanley Cartier, Tackles: Swanson, Kelderhouse, Floyd King, R. Dagwell. Guards: Joe Stutzman, Victor McSauban, David Coulter, Homer Struthers. Center: Bill Foster, Joe Smith, Devere Bird, Backs: Billy Novak, Rex Supernaw, Joe Arvilla, Oscar Stroud, George LaBlanc, Junior Supernaw, Julius McSauban, Charles Novotney, Norman Anee. These are the most likely looking candidates for the positions indicated. Center will probably be the hardest job to fill.

The team plays its first game Saturday with Onaway, there, at 2:45 p. m., standard time. The week following, it is to meet Boyne City on the latter's home field. It may be remembered that Boyne City trounced us neatly last year. The first home game of the season is with East Jordan on October 5th.

ing day and Miss Vera Beese of Petoskey, has been supplying as history instructor until the arrival of Miss Ferneau. The latter comes very highly recommended.

Mrs. Clinton Cooper has been re-appointed attendance officer this year. She has proven very efficient and by tact and good sense has been able to correct many adverse conditions in the homes of delinquent pupils. Truancy in Charlevoix seems to be on the wane and the few cases that crop up occasionally are due more to sickness or financial distress in the home rather than to any wilful indifference or negligence.

A strong debating team is predicted for this year and other forms of public speaking, as well as the study of parliamentary law, will be provided for in the near future. Four books on parliamentary law for beginners have already been ordered.

New Equipment.

The school board has purchased new laboratory supplies for physics and chemistry work, a new piano for the elementary building and a Soudation phone (giant horn) for the high school band. A new floor is being laid in the high school gymnasium. The original floor was not well laid. Considerable of the original flooring is, however, being used in the work of replacement. Charlevoix carpenters are doing the work.

Enrollment in the high school is 204, this fall, ten more than last year. This is the largest enrollment for any year in the history of the school. The students are entering upon their work with extraordinary enthusiasm and spirit and there are very few absentees in either high school or grades.

Go Tell the Duke.

Deputy State Game Warden Henry Fike of Charlevoix, recently trapped two bears in one night at Hubbard Brothers bee yard, Boyne Falls. What, don't you remember that story? Get some old timer around Central Lake to tell you about the Duke's tame bear hunt.

COURIER, CHARLEVOIX, MICH., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1929

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCT. 6-12

CAMPAIGN THIS YEAR EXTENDED TO RURAL DISTRICTS.

Farmers Asked to Fill Out Blanks to Be Given Children Through Schools, and Return Them.

Fire Prevention week for 1929 has been set for October 6-12, inclusive, at which time everyone is expected to take active part in making properties safe from fire destruction, through the removal of fire hazards and a general clean-up of conditions which are responsible for the great unnecessary fire waste.

These activities have been quite generally carried out in the cities and villages through the officers of such municipalities, fire chiefs and firemen, civic societies, churches and schools, with telling effect, thus materially reducing fire losses, even in the face of changed conditions bringing about new and additional fire hazards.

Only in a few isolated sections has there been any attention towards extending this great work in the rural districts, where its need is far greater than in the areas having organized fire fighting apparatus, manned with experienced fire fighters and ample equipment.

A request was recently made to Gov. F. W. Green, to incorporate in his Fire Prevention Week Proclamation, an appeal to the rural people to take active part in this laudable undertaking, to which he expressed himself as in full accord.

It would be utterly impossible for the farmers of this state to devote a week to this splendid movement, but it is unanimously agreed that they could give at least part of one day of that week towards the inspection of their property and making it safe, and that they would gladly take part in making the undertaking a success.

Upon the suggestion incorporated in the Governor's Proclamation, a meeting was held at the office of the State Fire Marshal, Lansing, at which was present Assistant Fire Marshal, Charles V. Lane; Webster Pearce, Superintendent of Public Instructions; James Slocum, Publisher of Farm Fire Prevention, Detroit; Milo A. White, President of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Companies; Bert Wertheim, editor of the Michigan Farmer, Detroit; and George A. Malban, secretary of the Michigan Association of Mutual Insurance Companies.

The manner in which the work should be carried on in the rural districts was discussed and it was mutually agreed that the undertaking would bring the best results by being carried out as follows:

Superintendent of Public Instructions, Mr. Pearce, will place in the hands of every county school superintendent in Michigan, information covering every source of fire prevention on the farm, which the rural school teacher will read to the pupils on Friday, October 11, and with the children visualize the various phases of preventing fires and what is best to do in case of fires, and the greater danger of fires as effecting the loss of life and property. It is expected that this session of the school will be one of the most beneficial and instructive of the whole school year. It should create lasting impressions which will follow the growing minds through all their future years, causing them to quickly observe fire hazards and to see that they are removed.

At the close of this session one pupil from each family represented will be handed an inspection report blank by the teacher, which will be used in the following manner, the following day, Saturday, October 12.

The parents of the pupil, together with all of the children of the family, will read each section of the inspection blank, and make a thorough examination of that part of the property indicated; for instance, the "CHIMNEY." First look at the foundation of the chimney. Is it in good condition and not settling? Are the brick openings well lined with mortar, with no loose bricks? The chimney should be examined all the way through the building, including the attic and above the roof. Stove-pipes comes next, and so on down the line of the inspection blank.

In every square, AFTER YOU HAVE MADE THE EXAMINATION, place an (X) in the space provided for that purpose. Don't mark (X) until each section is completed.

The parents and children are expected to join together in making this inspection. The parents should talk with the children while making this inspection, as to making the property safe and say how and when it will be done. The inspection will not be a success unless there is co-operation between the parents and the children. Every parent can give the time necessary to make this inspection, Saturday, October 12.

The inspection blank will be signed by the parent or parents, and the child who brought it home, will take it back to the teacher, Monday, October 14. The teacher will insist on the inspection blanks, completed, being in her hands not later than October 15, at which time she will mail (Continued on page 8.)

OPPORTUNITY IS KNOCKING

CHANCE TO SECURE PERMANENT SECRETARY AT HAND.

Revenues From Sale of Automobile Licenses Might Be Used to Apply On His Salary.

The unprecedented resort business of last summer and the approach of a period when Charlevoix will take on the character of an industrial town, lends urgency to the project which has been discussed off and on since spring—that of employing a paid secretary to handle Association of Commerce matters throughout the year, similar to the practice of Petoskey, Traverse City and other resort communities.

At the present time, a recent change in the regulations of the Secretary of State's office at Lansing gives Charlevoix a golden opportunity to pay a man to take care of the increasing business of its commercial body without drawing heavily on its citizens either by taxation or solicitation of subscriptions. This new regulation stipulates that the automobile license plates for Michigan shall be issued from the county seat in each county and also from other cities in the county whose population has reached a certain prescribed figure. As neither Boyne City nor East Jordan has anywhere near the prescribed population, the plates, therefore, by law must come to Charlevoix. It has been the custom to assign the handling of these plates to some county official. It is estimated that, in Charlevoix county, these fees annually approximate $800.

The Secretary of State has been petitioned by the Association of Commerce, and this petition seconded by the Mayor and Common Council of Charlevoix, that the sale of license plates in Charlevoix county be awarded to the Association of Commerce. This secured, the fees from the sale of the plates will be applied to the salary of a permanent secretary of the Association, whose duty it will be to issue the plates and possibly other licenses, take care of the ever-growing correspondence of the Association, assist in some of the municipal work and take care of the tourist information bureau during the summer.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED SATURDAY

Relatives and Friends Surprise Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brown were pleasantly surprised last Saturday evening when about 40 Charlevoix, Mancelona and East Jordan friends and relatives dropped in upon them unexpectedly.

The occasion was their 25th wedding anniversary and they were totally unaware of the enjoyable surprise the group had planned for them. A very pleasant evening was spent in visiting. Refreshments, with a huge cake as one of the features, were had, and Mr. and Mrs. Brown were the recipients of numerous beautiful gifts from the visitors.

TOWN-BOOSTING CAMPAIGN STARTS

CHARLEVOIX BUSINESS INTERESTS JOIN IN COMMON CAUSE.

Local Merchants Band Together to Put Our Town On Civic and Progress Map.

On page three of this issue, the business and professional interests of our city launch their campaign to build Charlevoix into a model town. Deeply interested in the welfare of our home town, these men have had prepared a series of twelve community-boosting advertisements, one to appear every month.

Charlevoix has many splendid advantages which makes it a wonderful home town and a city of opportunity. Patriotic citizens have handed together in order that the town's advantages may be more strongly advertised and better understood—not only by our own citizens, but by those outside our borders.

The first plea is for Town Fellowship.

Fellowship is the first requisite for community success. In order for our citizens to progress and the town to grow, there must be an atmosphere of peace and contentment.

Fellowship is good cheer and friendliness—the willingness to lend a helping hand—to share your neighbor's joy and sorrows.

There is a story about a wise old Hebrew father. Feeling that his life on this earth was not long, he gathered his five sons together that he might impart his fatherly advice to them.

He pleaded with them for undying unity and brotherhood. And to illustrate the strength of unity, he had ten sticks. Taking up one stick, he broke it with his hands—very easily. He broke four more in the same way saying "Boys, you see how easily I can break these sticks when I break them one by one, but—"

Then, taking the other five sticks, he put them together and tried to break the whole five at one time. But the sticks resisted his efforts.

"You see, boys," he admonished "that is the way it will be with you. If you separate and work selfishly for your own interests, you will not have the strength as individuals that you will have if you combine your hearts and efforts as I have combined these sticks."

And the old father spoke wise words. It's the same with our community. If we all get together and work hand in hand, heart to heart with each other, we can collectively accomplish a wonderful lot of good for Charlevoix.

First of all, let's be friends with everybody in the town. Friendliness is something that doesn't cost a red cent, yet it pays handsome dividends. People like to associate and do business with people of good cheer. And they hate a grouchy. There is enough real trouble in this world without our manufacturing more ill will through a lack of fellowship.

Read the first campaign announcement thoroughly and watch for the succeeding announcements. Enter into the spirit of this campaign as our business people are doing and it won't be long before we and the outside world will note a wonderful change in Charlevoix spirit and progress.

PLANE SERVICE TO START SOON

YEAR AROUND SCHEDULE FOR NORTH MICHIGAN CITIES.

Two Stinson Planes to Be Used in Planned, With Two Journeys Each Way Daily.

Year around airplane service between Grand Rapids and Petoskey, with two round trips daily, will be inaugurated by the Furniture Capital Air Service by November 1. Cornelius Wagner, representative of Jack Byrne, president of the company, informs the Courier. The intervening stops will be Big Rapids, Cadillac, Traverse City and Charlevoix, he said.

Tentative plans for the airline were made public by Mr. Byrne through the Courier August 28, when he said that definite announcement would probably follow within three weeks, depending upon the result of a survey then being made by Mr. Wagner and upon whether the line could be fully financed. Mr. Wagner's announcement now is that the line is financed and that the survey showed the feasibility of two trips daily instead of the one then contemplated, if the cost could be held down. Accordingly the company has abandoned its plan to purchase a single Ford tri-motor and is ordering two eight-place Stinson cabin planes. The Stinsons, powered adequately with Wasp motors, are better able to use the comparatively small fields on the proposed route and their combined cost is no greater than the cost of one of the Fords.

The planes will be capable of a cruising speed of 125 miles an hour and a top speed of 140 miles. In the winter they will be equipped with a combination ski and wheel landing gear. Mr. Wagner points to the record of the Stinson company that its planes have never had a structural failure. Mr. Wagner says that if the traffic is sufficient a tri-motor will be placed in service later but this is obviously remote.

The following schedule is being considered:

Leave Grand Rapids 8:15 a. m.	12:00 noon; arrive Charlevoix 8:00 a. m.	1:45 p. m.; arrive Petoskey 8:15 a. m.	2:00 p. m.
Leave Petoskey 8:45 a. m.	2:30 p. m.; arrive Charlevoix 8:55 a. m.	2:40 p. m.; arrive Grand Rapids 10:45 a. m.	4:30 p. m.

This schedule will provide excellent connections in Grand Rapids with trains for Detroit and the east and for Chicago and the west. Michigan Central trains for Detroit now stop at the Grand Rapids airport. The line will carry passengers and express and doubtless mail. The mail contract is now being sought in Washington. The probable passenger fare between Charlevoix and Grand Rapids will be $16.50.

Harold Jones enters photography business. Will open new studio at Rogers City next Monday.

Harold Jones, local young man who has learned the photography game under the tutelage of George W. Priest, leaves the latter part of this week for Rogers City, where he will open a studio and enter business for himself.

Harold has set the opening date of his studio for Monday, September 30th. The best wishes of his many Charlevoix friends go with him in his new venture.

AGED EAST JORDAN MAN BADLY INJURED

Was With His Wife on Way to Shelby to Attend a Funeral.

E. A. Clark, aged 82 years, of the west side of this city, was thrown from an auto while near Honor last Saturday and received a dislocated collar bone and other serious injuries. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were on their way to Shelby, Mich., to attend the funeral of Mrs. Clark's sister-in-law. They left East Jordan Saturday morning with Mrs. Russell Thomas and son of Eveline township who were motoring to visit relatives at Pennville, and while driving near Honor, a door of the car became unfastened and Mr. Clark reached to close it. A strong wind wrenched the door open, throwing him into the pavement and he was dragged some distance. He was taken to a physician at Honor, where it was found that a collar bone was dislocated, his right arm and other parts of his body badly bruised and cut. He was later taken to Traverse City. His son, Earl, and daughter, Miss Bertha, were notified and drove to Traverse City and brought him and Mrs. Clark to their home here, where he will be confined to his bed for some time.—East Jordan Herald.

MEET TO HONOR LOCAL PYTHIAN

A. L. FITCH PRESENTED LAST THURSDAY NIGHT.

Grand Lodge Officers, Visiting and Local Members Pay Compliment To Retiring Grand Chancellor.

A group of Charlevoix and Charlevoix Pythians, together with several Grand Lodge officers, gathered at the local K. of P. hall last Thursday evening for a testimonial meeting in honor of Arthur L. Fitch, whose term as Grand Chancellor of the Michigan grand lodge terminated recently.

Of the Grand Lodge officers present were B. C. Swift of Middleville, Mich., who succeeded Mr. Fitch; Past Grand Chancellor Thomas P. McKinney of South Haven, and William E. Hampton of Ann Arbor, who is Grand Keeper of Records and Seal of the Order.

The meeting was marked by a deep feeling of fellowship between those present, and before the close Mr. Fitch was presented with a $100 Hamilton watch as a testimonial of appreciation of his services as Grand Chancellor of the Grand Lodge of Michigan.

Charlevoix Pythians are justly proud of the record of their fellow member during his regime as head of the Grand Lodge. Mr. Fitch is the author of one of the most striking innovations in the way of creating a benevolent fund that has ever been adopted by any fraternity organization. The Knights of Pythias formerly depended on donations and a 20 per cent per capita tax for their benevolent fund. This system was in force for 15 years. In that time, about $100,000 was accumulated. This sum is inadequate for the program planned by the Knights and, under present regulations, could not be used for anything except the specific purpose of relieving actual distress. Mr. Fitch conceived the idea of enlarging this fund and broadening the scope of its use, making it available for other purposes. One of the projects which he contemplates is to purchase a large tract of land, say, some 15,000 acres, and create a Pythian playground, which will be used to give poor children and orphans an outdoor camp year. Instead of the former homes, or institutions for the care of the aged and infirm, which, as a matter of fact, are merely glorified poor houses, such cases will be cared for by a pension system in their own homes. Already, some 20 old people and orphans are being cared for in this way.

The money to be employed in this work is to be raised by endowment, the fund being known as the Greater Pythian Foundation. Members may endow the work in sums of $10, $25, $100, $1,000, or whatever they feel like giving. The attractive and novel feature of the proposition is that the Foundation will accept not only permanent endowments, but life endowments. These life endowments are divided up into five year payments and, at the death of the donor, the money he has paid in will be returned to his estate or to the beneficiary or beneficiaries named in the endowment. The Pythians will thus be enabled to place in the hands of five trustees a sum of money which will be used for charitable, benevolent and other Pythian purposes, the latter being left to the discretion of the trustees. Mr. Fitch has set the mark at a million dollars, which will mean, on the average, only $30 or $40 a year from each member. The interest on this sum, which would amount to $50,000 or $60,000 a year, would be used to carry out the benevolent projects above mentioned.

The trustees met a week or ten days ago and appointed Fitch a state or general director, charged with the work of raising this money.

According to Will E. Hampton, Grand Keeper of the Records and Seal, who has been very close to Mr. Fitch in the work of the lodge and who is, as well, a personal friend of long standing, no more energetic or capable Grand Chancellor has ever occupied that office than Mr. Fitch. The latter, in addition to his main scheme, has promulgated and put into operation several other ideas that are bound, in Mr. Hampton's opinion, to increase the efficiency of operation of the local lodges and help to build up the organization.

A banker suggests that the way to prevent suckers is to educate them. Well, is not that what we are doing? It's a dear school.

RED AND WHITE SWAMPED ONAWAY

BURIED UP-STATE ELEVEN UNDER 55 TO 0 SCORE.

Team Meets Real Test in Contest Next Saturday at Boyne City—Large Delegation to Make Trip.

Coach Ray Kipke's Red and White football eleven opened their bid for Northern Michigan honors last Saturday by swamping a heavy, but inexperienced Onaway team under a 55 to 0 score at Onaway.

It was Charlevoix's initial game of the season and showed them a potential threat in the upper Michigan scramble for football laurels. Kipke took 30 men to Onaway, which, by the way, is the largest football aggregation to leave Charlevoix in many years. The coach found a place for most of them, too, using 24 players during the contest.

Although Onaway put a weighty team on the field, the up-state lads were no match for the Charlevoix machine. The game was a run-away from the start. Onaway's advances were stopped dead by the heavy local forward wall, while Bill Novak piloted his backfield on long gains around the opponent's end and through the line almost at will. Charlevoix piled up a 42 to 0 lead in the opening quarter and then the first squad turned the situation over to the reserves. Onaway's strength can be well judged from the fact that the second squad held them scoreless while piling up 17 more points for Charlevoix during the last three periods.

While the Onaway tilt was a good conditioner for the local eleven, it should not, by any means, be taken as an indication of the strength of Kipke's team. It is well to remember how a year ago Charlevoix swamped her opponent by an overwhelming score in the opening game, and then took a number of setbacks in subsequent contests.

However, there is one outstanding factor which speaks well for the team's success this year. This writer has watched the squad in practice at the south side field on several occasions this week, and was very much impressed by the determination and spirit manifest by every lad in uniform. CORRESPONDENCE

NORWOOD.

Rev. Stanford is our minister again for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Plenny Genett visited at the Charles Macey home in Petoskey, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hallett of Charlevoix, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Plenny Genett Sunday evening.

Born, September 18, to Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Holecbeck of Cadillac, a daughter. Both Mr. and Mrs. Holecbeck were formerly Norwood young folks.

Mrs. E. R. Jones, accompanied by her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heise and daughter, Beth, visited Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Holecbeck in Cadillac, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hansel entertained several children Saturday at luncheon, honoring their daughter, Mildred's, seventh birthday. Mildred's grandfather and also her uncle from Chicago were also present.

Marion See attended the funeral services of his uncle, Lavance Bence at Torch Lake, Sunday afternoon. Mr. Bence died very suddenly while going out to get into a car with his son, for a drive to Central Lake. He was 70 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Ise Alward of Ellsworth, entertained 24 relatives at their country home last Sunday. The house was decorated with garden flowers and a fine pot-luck dinner was served. In the afternoon the younger set of boys enjoyed a ball game with the middle aged men. The younger set were a little faster on foot, but the middle aged ones were right there at the bat and pitching. During the game the ladies enjoyed holding and the beautiful outdoor scenery. Those present from Norwood were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greeley and Mrs. J. R. and Mrs. William Alward, Mr. and Mrs. Ygma, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Dine and Sam Alward.

BARNARD.

Hurry Webster is in the neighborhood filling silos this week.

Miss Margaret Gornell spent the first of the week at home.

Quite a few of our citizens attended the Traverse City fair last week, and report a fine exhibit in every line, also many new attractions.

Some of our new students are: Allen and Albert Webster of Lansing, George Smith of Alden, Sophia, Katherine Christian, Agnes and Lilly Kerebak, Steve Sarna, Robert and Herbert Wiley.

We are having a neatness contest. The side which loses will give a party for the school on Friday, October 11. Several of the children attended the fair at Traverse City with their parents.

Some of the poems we have learned this month are: "September," in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades; "Stars and Daisies," in the second grade; "The Raggedy Man," in the third grade; and "The Friendly Cow," in the first grade.

Three young men who were going up the Johnson hill did not quite make it, Saturday night, and backed down and went off the bank and broke the top of their car and jammed it up quite badly. The men were shaken up and one is believed to have broken his ribs or bruised them considerably. Luckily there was no one killed.

COULD NOT WORK; KONJOLA SCORES QUICK TRIUMPH

Modern Compound Proves More Than a Medicine—A Body-Building Tonic.

MRS. ERNEST HALE

"I had stomach trouble so long that my general health was depleted and undermined," said Mrs. Ernest Hale, 14943 Strathmore avenue, Detroit, Mich. "I finally became so low in vitality that I could not attend to my household duties. I lost in weight, too, and was completely discouraged over the outlook.

"Konjola was strongly recommended to me and I decided to give it a trial. Day after day the improvement was more marked and when I had completed the twelfth bottle I was not only completely well, but had gained weight and strength. Konjola not only restored my health, but built up my sadly worn down system. Now I can put in a good day's work around the house and still not feel run down and tired in the evening. Konjola is certainly a wonderful medicine and I praise it highly."

Konjola is sold in Charlevoix, Mich., at F. J. Fessenden's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

"The Plymouth Motor Car Corporation recently celebrated its first birthday. During the first year of its manufacture more than one hundred thousand Plymouth cars were built and sold," says A. van Der Zee, Plymouth general sales manager.

AT THE MOVIES.

Lon Chaney Thrills in Role of Animal Trapper.

Lon Chaney, in one of his most fantastic, and certainly one of his most thrilling roles of the screen, comes Saturday to the Palace Theatre in "Where East Is East," vivid sound synchronized drama of the Siamese jungles, in which he stages desperate battles with wild animals and other thrills as a side issue in one of his most amazing characterizations.

The story, an original by Tod Browning, who directed it, and who has directed Chaney in the past in such successes as "The Unholy Three," "The Road to Mandalay," "West of Zanzibar" and others, deals with a strange trapper of wild animals in an Oriental jungle, and the amazing vicissitudes of fate which ensnare him in a grim and fantastic plot.

The cast is a notable one, with Lupe Velez, fiery little heroine of "The Gusher" as his half-native daughter, Estelle Taylor as a sinuous charmer of the Orient, and Lloyd Hughes as the romantic lead, a young American showman seeking animals at the trapper's camp.

"Every motor that is constructed in the plant of the Plymouth Motor Corporation in Detroit is tested for two hours and 15 minutes before it is put into the chassis," according to H. E. Henth, service manager.
